CHAP. X.

6 Iehu cauſeth the ſeuentie ſonnes of Ahab to bee ſlaine, 14 and after that fourtie and two of Ahaziahs brethren. 25 He killeth alſo all the Prieſts of Baal. 35 After his death his ſonne reigneth in his ſtead.

AHab had now ſeuentie a ſonnes in Samaria. And Iehu wrote letters, ‡ ſent to Samaria vnto the rulers of Iſreel, and to the Elders, and to the bringers vp of Ahabs children, to this effect,

2 Now when this letter commeth to you, (for yee haue with you your maſters ſonnes, yee haue with you both charets and horſes, and a defenced citie, and armour)

3 Conſider therefore which of your maſters ſonnes is beſt and moſt meete, and b ſet him on his fathers throne, and fight for your maſters houſe.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and ſayd, Behold, two kings could not ſtand before him, how ſhall we then ſtand?

5 And hee that was gouernour of Ahabs houſe, and hee that ruled the citie, and the Elders, and the bringers vp of the children ſent to Iehu, ſaying, Wee are thy ſeruants, and will doe all that thou ſhalt bid vs: wee will make no king: doe what ſeemeth good to thee.

6 ¶ Then hee wrote another letter to them, ſaying, If yee be mine, and will obey my voyce, c take the heads of the men that are your maſters ſonnes, and come to me to Iſreel by to morow this time. (Now the Kings ſonnes, euen ſeuentie perſons, were with d great men of the citie, which brought them vp)

7 And when the letter came to them, they tooke the kings ſonnes, and ſlew the ſeuentie perſons, and laid their heads in baſkets, and ſent them vnto him to Iſreel.

8 ¶ Then there came a meſſenger, and tolde him, ſaying, They haue brought the heads of the kings ſonnes. And he ſayd, Let them lay them on two heapes at the entring in e of the gate vntill the morning.

9 And when it was day, hee went out, and ſtoode and ſayd to all the people, Ye be f righteous: behold, I conſpired againſt my maſter, and ſlewe him: but who ſlewe all theſe?

10 Knowe now that there ſhall fall vnto the earth nothing of the worde of the Lord, which the Lord ſpake concerning the houſe of Ahab: for the Lord hath brought to paſſe the things that hee ſpake ‡ by his ſeruant * Eliiah.

11 So Iehu ſlew all that remained of the houſe of Ahab in Iſreel, and all that were great with him, and his familiars, and his g priests, ſo that he let none of his remaine.

12 ¶ And hee arose, and departed, and came to Samaria. And as Iehu was in the way by an houſe where the ſhepheards did ſhere, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziah King of Iudah, and ſayd, Who are yee? And they anſwered, Wee are the brethren of Ahaziah, and goe downe to ſalute the children of the King, and the children of the Queene.

14 And he ſayd, Take them aliue. And they tooke them aliue, and ſlew them at the well beſide the houſe where the ſheepe are ſhorne, euen two and fourtie men, and hee h left not one of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, hee mette with Iehonadab the ſonne of Rechab comming to meete him, and he i bleſſed him, and ſayd to him, Is thine heart vpright, as mine heart is toward thine? And Iehonadab anſwered, Yea, doubteleſſe. Then giue me thine hand. And when he had giuen him his hand, hee tooke him vp to him into the charet.

16 And he ſayd, Come with me, and ſee the zeale that I haue for the Lord: ſo they made him ride in his charet.

17 And when he came to Samaria, hee ſlew all that remained vnto Ahab in Samaria, till he had deſtroyed him, according to the worde of the Lord, which hee ſpake to Eliiah.

18 Then Iehu aſſembled all the people, and ſayd vnto them, Ahab ſerued k Baal a little, but Iehu ſhall ſerue him much more.

19 Now therefore call vnto mee all the prophets of Baal, all his ſeruants, and all his prieſtes, and let not a man bee lacking: for I haue a great ſacrifice for Baal: whoſoeuer is lacking, he ſhall not liue. But Iehu did it by a ſubtilty to deſtroy the ſeruants of Baal.

20 And Iehu ſayde, ‡ Proclaime a ſolemne aſſembly for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 So Iehu ſent vnto all Iſrael, and all the ſeruants of Baal came, and there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the houſe of Baal, and the houſe of Baal was full from ende to ende.

22 Then hee ſaid vnto him that had the charge of the veſtry, Bring forth veſtiments for all the ſeruants of Baal. And he brought them out veſtiments.

23 And when Iehu went, and Iehonadab the ſonne of Rechab into the houſe of Baal, hee ſayd vnto the ſeruants of Baal, Search diligently, and looke, leſt there bee here with you any of the l ſeruants of the Lord, but the ſeruants of Baal onely.

24 And when they went in to make ſacrifice and burnt offering, Iehu appointed foureſcore men without, and ſayd, ‖ If any of the men whom I haue brought into your handes, eſcape, this ſoule ſhall bee for his ſoule.

25 And when hee had made an ende of the burnt offering, Iehu ſayd to the garde, and to the captaines, Goe in, ſlay them, let not a man come out. And they ſmote them with the edge of the ſworde. And the garde,

CHAP. XI.

1 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings sonnes, except Ioash the son of Ahaziah. 4 Ioash is appointed king. 15 Iehoiada causeth Athaliah to be slaine. 17 Hee maketh a couenant betweene God and the people. 18 Baal and his Priests are destroyed.

THen [a] Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah when shee saw that her sonne was dead, she arose, and destroyed all the [b] kings seede.

2 But Iehosheba the daughter of king Ioram, and sister to Ahaziah, [c] tooke Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah, and stale him from among the kings sonnes that should bee slaine, both him and his nourse, keeping them in the [d] bed chamber, and they hid him from Athaliah, so that he was not slaine.

3 And hee was with her hid in the house of the Lord fiue yeere: and Athaliah did reigne ouer the land.

4 ¶ [e] And the seuenth yeere [f] Iehoiada sent and tooke the captaines ouer hundreths with other captaines, and them of the garde, and caused them to come vnto him into the house of the Lord, and made a couenant with them, and tooke an othe of them in the house of the Lord, & shewed them the kings sonne.

5 And he commanded them, saying, This is it that ye must do, The third part of [e] you, that commeth on the Sabbath, shall [f] ward toward the kings house.

6 And another third part in the gate of [g] Sur: and another third part in the gate behinde them of the garde: and ye shall keepe watch [h] in the house of Massah.

7 And two parts of you, that is, all that [h] goe out on the Sabbath day, shall keepe the watch of the house of the Lord about the king.

8 And yee shall compasse the king round about euery man with his weapon in his hand, and whosoeuer commeth within the ranges, let him bee slaine: bee you with the king, as he goeth out and in.

9 ¶ And the captaines of the hundreths did according to all that Iehoiada the Priest cõmanded, & they tooke euery man his men that entred in to their charge on the [i] Sabbath, with them that went out of it on the Sabbath, and came to Iehoiada the Priest.

10 And the [k] Priest gaue to the captaines of hundreths the speares and the shields that were King Dauids, and were in the house of the Lord.

11 And the garde stoode euery man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side, about the altar and about the house, round about the King.

12 Then he brought out the [l] Kings sonne, and put the crowne vpon him, and gaue him [m] the testimonie, and they made him King: also they anoynted him, & clapt their hands, and sayd, God saue the King.

13 ¶ And when Athaliah heard the noise of the running of the people, she came in to the people in the house of the Lord.

14 And when she looked, behold, the king stood by a [n] pillar, as the maner was, and the Princes and the Trumpetters by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew with trumpets. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and cried, Treason, treason.

15 But Iehoiada the Priest commanded the captaines of the hundreths that had the rule of the hoste, and sayd vnto them, Haue her [o] footh of the ranges, and he that [p] followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had sayd, Let her not be slaine in the house of the Lord.

16 Then they layd hands on her, and she went by the way, by the which the horses go to the house of the King, and there was shee slaine.

17 And Iehoiada made a couenant betweene the Lorde, and the [q] King and the people, that they should be the Lordes people: likewise betweene the [r] King and the people.

18 Then all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and destroyed it with his altars, and his images brake they down couragiously, and slew Mattan the priest of Baal before the [s] altars: and the [t] Priest set a garde ouer the house of the Lord.

6 Iehoash maketh prouision for the repairing of the Temple. 16 Hee playeth the king of Syria by a present from comming against Ierusalem. 20 He is killed by two of his seruants.

2.Chron.24.1.

IN the seuenth yeere of Iehu, Iehoash began to reigne, and reigned fourtie yeeres in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Iehoash did that which was good in the sight of the Lord all his time that a Iehoiada the Priest taught him.

a So long as rulers giue eare to the true ministers of God, they prosper.

3 But b the high places were not taken away: for the people offered yet and burnt incense in the high places.

b So hard a thing it is for them that are in authoritie, to be brought to the perfite obedience of God.

4 ¶ And Iehoash sayd to the Priestes, All the siluer of dedicate things that bee brought to the house of the Lord, that is, the money of them that are vnder the c count, the money that euery man is set at, and all the money that one offereth willingly, and bringeth into the house of the Lord, c That is, the money of redemption, Exod. 30.12: also the money which the Priest valued the vowes at, Leuit. 27.2 and their free liberalitie.

5 Let the Priestes take it to them, euery man of his acquaintance: and they shall repaire the d broken places of the house, wheresoeuer any decay is found.

d For the Temple which was built an hundreth fiftie and fiue yeeres before, had many things decayed in it, both by the negligence of the kings his predecessors, and also by the wickednesse of the idolaters.

6 ¶ Yet in the three and twentieth yeere of king Iehoash, the Priestes had not mended that which was decayed in the temple.

7 Then king Iehoash called for Iehoiada the Priest, and the other Priests, & said vnto them, Why repaire yee not the ruines of the Temple? Nowe therefore e receiue no more money of your acquaintance, except ye deliuer it to repaire the ruines of the Temple.

e He taketh from them the ordering of the money, because of their negligence.

8 So the Priests consented to receiue no more money of the people, neither to repaire the decayed places of the Temple.

9 Then Iehoiada the Priest tooke a chest, & bored an hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the f right side, as euery man commeth into the temple of the Lord. And the Priestes that kept the g doore, put therein all the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

12 And to the masons and hewers of stone, and to buy timber and hewen stone, to repaire that was decayed in the house of the Lord, and for all that which was laid out for the reparation of the Temple.

13 Howbeit there was h not made for the house of the Lord bowles of siluer, instruments of musicke, basins, trumpets, nor any vessels of gold, or vessels of siluer, of the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

h For these men had onely the charge of the reparation of the Temple, and the rest of the money was brought to the king, who caused these afterward, to be made, 2.Chron. 24.14.

14 But they gaue it to the workemen, which repaired therewith the house of the Lord.

15 Moreouer, they reckoned not with the men, into whose hands they deliuered that money to bee bestowed on workemen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The money of the trespasse offering, and the money of the sinne offrings was not brought into the house of the Lord: for it was the Priests.

children of Israel d dwelt in their tents as t before time.

6 Neuerthelesse they departed not from the sinnes of the house of Ieroboam which made Israel sinne, but walked in them: euen the e groue also remained still in Samaria).

7 For hee had left of the people to Iehoahaz but fiftie horsemen, e ten charets, and ten thousand footemen, because the king f of Aram had destroyed them, and made them like dust beaten to powder.

8 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoahaz, and all that he did, and his valiant deedes, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

9 And Iehoahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Ioash his sonne reigned in his stead.

10 ¶ In the seuen and thirtieth yeere of Ioash king g of Iudah began Iehoash the sonne of Iehoahaz to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, and reigned sixteene yeere, 11 And did euill in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat that made Israel to sinne, but he walked therein.

12 Concerning the rest of the acts of Ioash, and all that he did, g his valiant deedes, and how he fought against Amaziah king of Iudah, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

13 And Ioash slept with his fathers, and Ieroboam sate vpon his seate: and Ioash was buried in Samaria among the kings of Israel.

14 ¶ When Elisha fell sicke of his sicknesse whereof hee died, Ioash the king of Israel came downe vnto him, and wept vpon his face, and sayd, h O my father, my father, the charet of Israel, and the horsemen of the same.

15 Then Elisha sayd vnto him, Take a bowe and arrowes. And he tooke vnto him bowe and arrowes.

16 And he sayd to the king of Israel, Put thine hand vpon the bowe. And hee put his hand vpon it. And Elisha put his hands vpon the kings hands, 17 And sayd, Open the windowe i Eastward. And when hee had opened it, Elisha sayd, Shoote. And he shot. And he sayd, Behold the arrowe of the Lordes deliuerance, and the arrow of deliuerance against Aram: for thou shalt smite the Aramites in Aphek, till thou hast consumed them.

18 Againe hee sayd, Take the arrowes. And he tooke them. And hee sayd vnto the king of Israel, Smite the ground. And he smote thrise, and ceased.

19 Then the man of God was k angrie with him, and sayd, Thou shouldest haue smitten fiue or sixe times, so thou shouldest haue smitten Aram, till thou hadst consumed it, where nowe thou shalt smite Aram but thrise.

20 ¶ So Elisha died, and they buried him. And certaine bandes of the Moabites came into the land that yeere.

21 And as they were burying a man, behold, they sawe the souldiers: therefore they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elisha. And when the man was downe, and touched the bones of Elisha, l hee reuiued and stoode vpon his feete.

22 ¶ But Hazael king of Aram vexed Israel all the dayes of Iehoahaz.

23 Therfore the Lord had mercy on them, and pitied them, and had respect vnto them because of his couenant with Abraham, Isahak, and Iaakob, & would not destroy them, neither cast he them from him as m yet.

24 So Hazael the king of Aram died: & Ben-hadad his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 Therefore Iehoash the sonne of Iehoahaz returned, and tooke out of the hand of Ben-hadad the sonne of Hazael the cities which hee had taken away by warre out of the hande of Iehoahaz his father: foure times did Ioash beate him, and restored the cities vnto Israel.

l By this miracle God confirmed the authoritie of Elisha, whose doctrine in his life they contemned, that at this sight they might returne & imbrace the same doctrine.

m That is, vntill their sinnes were come to a full measure, & there was no more hope of amendement.

IN the twelfth yeere of Ahaz king of Iudah began Hoshea the sonne of Elah to reigne in Samaria ouer Israel, and reigned nine yeeres.

2 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, a but not as the kings of Israel, that were before him.

3 And Shalmaneser king of Asshur came vp against him, and Hoshea became his seruant, and gaue him presents.

4 And the king of Asshur found treason in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present vnto the king of Asshur, b as he had done yeerely: therefore the king of Asshur shut him vp, and put him in prison.

16 Finally, they left all the commaundements of the Lorde their God, and made them molten images, * euen two calues, and made a grone, and worshipped all the † hoste of heauen, and serued Baal.

17 And they made their sonnes, and their daughters ᵇ passe thorow the fire, and vsed witchcraft and enchantments, yea, ⁱ solde themselues to doe euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

18 Therefore ᵏ Lord was exceeding wroth with Israel, & put them out of his sight, and none was left but the tribe of Iudah ˡ only.

19 Yet Iudah kept not the commaundements of the Lorde their God, but walked according to the fashion of Israel, which they vsed.

20 Therefore the Lord cast off all the seed of Israel, and afflicted them, and deliuered them into the handes of spoylers, vntill hee had cast them out of his ⁱ sight.

21 ᵐ For he cut off Israel from the house of Dauid, and they made Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, king: and Ieroboam draue Israel away from following the Lorde, and made them sinne a great sinne.

22 For the children of Israel walked in all the sinnes of Ieroboam, which hee did, and departed not therefrom, 23 Until the Lord put Israel away out of his sight, as hee had sayde: by all his seruants the * Prophets, & caried Israel away out of their land to Assur vnto this day.

24 And the king of Assur brought folke from Babel, and from ᵒ Cuthah, and from Ana, and from Hamath, and from Sepharuaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in stead of the children of Israel: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 ¶ And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they * feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent lions among them, which slew them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the king of Assur, saying, The nations which thou hast remooued, and placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the maner of the God of the lande: therefore hee hath sent lions among them, and beholde, they slay them, because they knowe not the maner of the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Assur commaunded, saying, Cary thither one of the Priests, whom yee brought thence, & let him goe and dwell there, and teach them the maner of the God ᵖ of the countrey.

28 So one of the Priestes, which they had caried from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them howe they should feare the Lord.

29 Howbeit, euery nation made their gods, & put them in the house of the hie places, which the Samaritans had made euery nation in their cities, wherin they dwelt.

30 For the men of Babel made ᵠ Succoth-Benoth: & the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Ashima, 31 And the Auims made Nibhaz, and Tartak: and the Sepharuims burnt their children in the fire to Adrammelech, and Anammelech the gods of Sepharuaim.

32 Thus they feared the Lorde, and appoynted out Priestes out of themselues for the hie places, who prepared for them sacrifices in the houses of the hie places.

33 * They ʳ feared the Lorde, but serued their gods after the manner of the nations whom they caried thence.

34 Vnto this day they doe after the olde maner: they neither feare God, neither doe after their ˢ ordinances, nor after their customes, nor after the Law, nor after the commandement, which the Lorde commaunded the children of Iaakob, * whome hee named Israel,

35 And with whome the Lord had made couenant, & charged them, saying, * Feare none other gods, nor bowe your selues to them, nor serue them, nor sacrifice to them:

36 But feare the Lord which brought you out of the land of Egypt with great power, and a stretched out arme: him feare ye, and worship him, and sacrifice to him.

37 Also keepe yee diligently the statutes and the ordinances, and the Lawe, and the commandement, which hee wrote for you, that ye doe them continually, and feare not other gods.

38 And forget not the couenant that I haue made with you, neither feare ye other gods, 39 But feare the Lord your God, and he will deliuer you out of the hands of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit, they obeyed not, but did after their olde custome.

41 So these ᵗ nations feared the Lorde, and serued their images also: so did their children, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, so do they vnto this day.

ᵗ That is, these strangers, which were sent into Samaria by the Assyrians.

5 He trusted in the Lord God of Israel: so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Iudah, neither were there any such before him.

6 For he claue to the Lorde, and departed not from him, but kept his commaundements, which the Lord had commaunded Moses.

7 So the Lorde was with him, and he prospered in all things, which hee tooke in hande: also hee rebelled against the king of Asshur, and serued him not.

8 He smote the Philistims vnto Azzah, and the coastes thereof, * from the watch tower vnto the defenced citie.

9 ¶ * And in the fourth yeere of king Hezekiah, (which was the seuenth yeere of Hoshea sonne of Elah king of Israel) Shalmaneser king of Asshur came vp against Samaria, and besieged it.

10 And after three yeeres they tooke it, euen in the sixth yeere of Hezekiah: that is, * the ninth yeere of Hoshea king of Israel was Samaria taken.

11 Then the king of Asshur did carie away Israel vnto Asshur, and put them in Halah, and in Habor, by the riuer of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes, 12 Because they would not obey the voyce of the Lorde their God, but transgressed his couenant: that is, all that Moses the seruant of the Lorde had commaunded, and would neither obey nor do them.

13 ¶ * Moreouer, in the fourteenth yeere of king Hezekiah, Sanherib king of Asshur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

14 Then Hezekiah king of Iudah sent vnto the king of Asshur to Lachish, saying, ‡ I haue offended: depart from me, & what thou layest vpon me, I wil beare it. And the king of Asshur appointed vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah three hundreth talents of siluer, and thirtie talents of golde.

15 Therefore Hezekiah gaue all the siluer that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the kings house.

16 At the same season did Hezekiah pull off the plates of the doores of the Temple of the Lorde, and the pillars (which the sayde Hezekiah king of Iudah had couered ouer) and gaue them to the king of Ashur.

17 ¶ And the king of Asshur sent * Tartan and Rab-saris, and Rabshakeh from Lachish to king Hezekiah with a great host against Ierusalem. And they went vp, and came to Ierusalem, and when they were come vp, they stoode by the conduit of the vpper poole, which is by the path of the fullers field.

18 And called to the king. Then came out to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, and Shebnah the chauncellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the ‖ recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh said vnto them, Tell ye Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayeth the great King, euen the great king of Asshur, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I haue ‡ eloquence, that counsell and strength are for the warre. On whome then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Loe, thou trustest nowe in this broken staffe of reed, to wit, on s Egypt, on which if a man leane, it will goe into his hande, and pearce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if yee say vnto mee, Wee trust in the Lorde our God, is not that he whose the places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath h taken away, and hath said to Iudah and Ierusalem, Yee shall worship before this altar in Ierusalem?

23 Nowe therefore giue i hostages to my lord the king of Asshur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set riders vpon them.

24 For howe canst thou despise any captaine of the least of my masters seruants, and put thy trust on Egypt for charets and horsemen?

25 Am I nowe come vp without the k Lorde to this place, to destroy it? the Lord sayde to mee, Goe vp against this land, and destroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, and Shebnah, and Ioah sayde vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the ‖ Aramites language, for wee vnderstand it, and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshakeh sayd vnto them, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men which sit on the wall, that they may eate their owne doung, and drinke ‡ their owne pisse with you?

28 So Rabshakeh stoode and cried with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, and spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great king, of the king of Asshur.

29 Thus sayeth the king, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shall not bee able to deliuer you ‖ out of mine hand.

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliuer vs, and this city shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Asshur.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus sayeth the king of Asshur, Make ‡ appointment with mee, and come out to mee, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figge tree, and drinke euery man of the water of his owne well, 32 Till I come, and bring you to a land like your owne lande, euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, a land of oliues oyle, and hony, that yee may liue and not die: and obey not Hezekiah, for he deceiueth you, saying, The Lord wil deliuer vs.

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Asshur?

34 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah? how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

AND * when King Hezekiah heard it, hee rent his clothes, and put on ſackecloth, and came into the houſe of the Lord,

2 And ſent Eliakim which was the ſteward of the houſe & Shebnah the Chancellor, and the Elders of the Prieſtes clothed in ſackecloth a to Iſaiah the Prophet, the ſonne of Amoz.

3 And they ſayd vnto him, Thus ſayth Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation, and of rebuke and blaſphemie: for the children are come to b the birth, and there is no ſtrength to bring foorth.

4 If ſo be the Lord thy God hath heard all the wordes of Rabſhakeh, whome the king of Aſſhur his maſter hath ſente to raile on the liuing God, and to reproche him with words which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou vp thy prayer for the c remnant that are left.

5 ¶ So the ſeruants of King Hezekiah came to Iſaiah.

6 And Iſaiah ſayd vnto them, So ſhall ye ſay to your maſter, Thus ſayth the Lord, Be not afraid of the words which thou haſt heard, wherewith the ſeruants of the king of Aſſhur hath blaſphemed me.

7 Behold, I will ſend a blaſt d vpon him, and he ſhall heare a noyſe, and returne to his owne lande: and I will cauſe him to fall by the ſworde in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabſhakeh returned, and found the king of Aſſhur fighting againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.

9 e Hee heard alſo men ſay of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, f Behold, he is come out to fight againſt thee: hee therefore departed and ſent other meſſengers vnto Hezekiah, ſaying, 10 Thus ſhal ye ſpeake to Hezekiah king of Iudah, and ſay, Let not thy g God deceiue thee in whom thou truſteſt, ſaying, Ieruſalem ſhall not bee deliuered into the hande of the king of Aſſhur.

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the meſſengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went vp into the houſe of the Lorde, and Hezekiah ſpread it before the h Lord.

15 And Hezekiah i prayed before the Lord, and ſayde, O Lord God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt betweene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou haſt made the heauen and the earth.

16 Lord, k bowe downe thine eare, and heare: Lord open thine eyes & behold, and heare the wordes of Sancherib, who hath ſent to blaſpheme the l liuing God.

17 Trueth it is, Lorde, that the kings of Aſſhur haue deſtroyed the nations and their lands, 19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beſeech thee, ſaue thou vs out of his hande, that all the m kingdomes of the earth may know, that thou, O Lord, art onely God.

20 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſent to Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſayeth the Lorde God of Iſrael, I haue heard that which thou haſt prayed me, concerning Sancherib king of Aſſhur.

21 This is the word that the Lorde hath ſpoken againſt him, O n virgin, daughter of Zion, he hath deſpiſed thee, and laughed thee to ſcorne: O daughter of Ieruſalem, he hath ſhaken his head at thee.

4 ¶ And afore Isaiah was gone out into the middle of the court, the worde of the Lord came to him, saying,

8 ¶ For Hezekiah had sayd vnto Isaiah, What shall bee the signe that the Lord will heale mee, and that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

9 And Isaiah answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lorde will doe that hee hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadow goe forward ten degrees, or * goe backe ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to passe forwarde ten degrees: not so then, but let the shadow s goe backe ten degrees.

11 And Isaiah the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he brought againe the shadow ten degrees backe by the degrees whereby it had gone downe in the h diall of Ahaz.

12 ¶ * The same season Berodach Baladan the sonne of Baladan king of Babel, sent letters and a i present to Hezekiah: for he had heard how that Hezekiah was sicke.

15 Then sayd hee, What haue they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

4 Iosiah repaireth the Temple. 8 Hilkiah findeth the booke of the Law, and causeth it to be presented to Iosiah, 12 Who sendeth to Huldah the Prophetesse to enquire the Lords will.

IOsiah was * eight yeere olde when he beganne to reigne, and he reigned one and thirtie yeere in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Iedidah the daughter of Adaiah of Boscath.

2.Chron.34.1. a His zeale was prophesied of, & his name mentioned by Iaddo the Prophet, more then 300. yeeres before, 1.king.13.2. and being but eight yere old, he sought the God of his father Dauid, 2.Chro.34.3.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and a walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

a Or, erred, as verse 9.

3 ¶ And in the eighteenth yeere of King Iosiah, the king sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, the sonne of Meshullam the chancellor, to the house of the Lord, saying,

4 Goe vp to Hilkiah the hie Priest, that he may ‖ summe the siluer which is brought into the house of the Lord, which the keepers of the ‖ b doore haue gathered of the people.

‖ Or, cause it to be summed. b Custome of the Priests were appointed to this office, 2.chap.12.9.

e From the time of Ioash for the space of 224. yeres the Temple remained without reparation through the negligence of the priests. This declareth that they that haue a charge, and execute it not, ought to haue it taken from them.

d So God prouided him of faithfull seruants, seeing he went about so zealously to set forth the worke of God.

e This was the copie that Moses left them, as appeareth, 2. Chro. 34. 14. which either by the negligence of the priests had bene lost, or els by the wickednes of idolatrous kings had bene abolished.

i Meaning, that he did repent, as they that doe not repent, are said to harden their heart, Psal. 95. 8.

5 And let them e deliuer it into the hand of them that doe the worke, and haue the ouersight of the house of the Lord: let them giue it to them that worke in the house of the Lord, to repayre the decayed places of the house:

6 To wit, vnto the artificers and carpenters and masons, and to buy timber, and hewen stone to repaire the house.

7 Howbeit let no reckoning bee made with them of the money, that is deliuered into their hand: for they deale d faithfully.

8 And Hilkiah the high Priest said vnto Shaphan the chancellor, I haue found the e booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan, and he read it.

9 So Shaphan the chancellor came to the king, and brought him word againe, and sayde, Thy seruantes haue ‡ gathered the money, that was found in the house, and haue deliuered it vnto the handes of them that doe the worke, and haue the ouersight of the house of the Lord.

10 Also Shaphan the chancellor shewed the king, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath deliuered mee a booke. And Shaphan read it before the King.

11 And when ‡ king had heard the words of the booke of the Law, he rent his clothes.

12 Therefore the king commanded Hilkiah the Priest, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Achbor the sonne of Michaiah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asaiah the kings seruant, saying,

13 Go ye and f enquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lorde that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this booke, to doe according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

14 ¶ So Hilkiah the Priest, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Asaiah went vnto Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tikuah, the sonne of Harhas keeper of the wardrope: (and shee dwelt in Ierusalem in the g College) and they commuued with her.

15 And shee answered them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,

16 Thus sayeth the Lorde Beholde, I will bring euill vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, euen all the wordes of the booke which the King of Iudah hath read, 17 Because they haue forsaken mee, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the h workes of their handes: my wrath also shall bee kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched.

18 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of the Lorde, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, the wordes that thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

19 But because thine heart did i melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it should be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue also heard it, sayth the Lord.

20 Beholde therefore, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in k peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place. Thus they brought the King word againe.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Iosiah readeth the Law before the people. 3 He maketh a couenant with the Lord. 4 Hee putteth downe the idoles after hee had killed their Priests. 22 Hee keepeth Passouer. 24 He destroyeth the coniurers. 29 He was killed at Megiddo. 30 And his sonne Iehoahaz reigneth in his stead. 33 After he was taken, his sonne Iehoiakim was made king.

THen ‡ the King sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudah and of Ierusalem.

2 And the king went vp into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iudah and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with him, and the Priestes and Prophets, and all the people both small and great: and he read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant, which was found in the house of the Lord.

3 And the King stoode by b the pillar, and made a c couenant before the Lorde, that they should walke after the Lord, and keepe his commandements, and his testimonies, and his statutes with all their heart, and with all their soule, that they might accomplish the words of this couenant written in this booke. And all the people stoode to the couenant.

4 Then the King commanded Hilkiah the hie Priest and the d Priestes of the second order, and the keepers of the doore to bring out of the Temple of the Lorde all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grone, and for all the hoste of heauen, and hee burnt them without Ierusalem in the fieldes of Kedron, and carried e the powder of them into Beth-el.

5 And he put downe the f Chemarims, whom the kings of Iudah had founded to burne incense in the hie places, and in the cities of Iudah, and about Ierusalem, and also them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the sunne and to the moone, and to the planets, and to all the hoste of heauen.

6 And he brought out the g grone from the Temple of the Lorde without Ierusalem vnto the valley Kedron, and burnt it in the valley Kedron, and stampt it to powder, and cast the dust thereof vpon the h graues of the children of the people.

7 And he brake downe the houses of the Sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the grone.

9 Neuertheless the Priestes of the hie places a came not vp to the altar of the Lord in Ierusalem, saue onely they did eate of the vnleauened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also b Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man should make his sonne or his daughter passe through the fire to Molech.

11 Hee put downe also the c horses that the kings of Iudah had giuen to the sunne at the entring in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethan-melech the eunuch, which was ruler of the suburbes, and burnt the charets of the sunne with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Iudah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courtes of the house of the Lord, did the King breake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the d brooke Kedron.

13 Moreouer the king defiled the hie places that were before Ierusalem and on the right hand of the e mount of corruption (which f Salomon the King of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the idole of the Zidonians, and for Chemosh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchom the abomination of the children of Ammon)

14 And hee brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore g the altar that was at Beth-el, and the hie place made by Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, both this altar, and also the hie place brake he downe, and burnt the hie place, and stampt it to powder and burnt the grone.

16 And as Iosiah turned himselfe, hee spied the graues, that were in the mount, and sent & tooke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar, and polluted it, according to the word of the Lord that the h man of God preached which cried the same words.

17 Then he said, What title is that which I see? And the men of the citie spake vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudah, and told of these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-el.

18 Then sayd he, Let him alone: let none remoeue his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the i Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also tooke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to anger the Lord, and did to them according to all the factes that he had done in Beth-el.

20 And he sacrificed all the Priests of the hie places, that were there, vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalem.

21 ¶ Then the King commanded all the people, saying, k Keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord your God, l as it is written in the booke of this couenant.

22 And there was no Passeouer holden like that from the dayes of the Iudges that iudged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Israel, and of the Kings of Iudah.

23 And in the eighteenth yeere of King Iosiah was this Passeouer celebrated to the Lord in Ierusalem.

24 Iosiah also tooke away them that had familiar spirits, and the soothsayers, and the images, and the idoles, and all the abominations that were espied in the land of Iudah and in Ierusalem, to performe the wordes of the m Lawe, which were written in the booke that Hilkiah the Priest found in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, and with all his might, according to all the n lawe of Moses, neither after him arose there any like him.

26 Notwithstanding the Lord turned not from the o fiercenesse of his great wrath wherewith hee was angry against Iudah, because of all the prouocations wherewith Manasseh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord sayd, I will put Iudah also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israel, and will cast off this citie Ierusalem, which I haue chosen, and the house whereof I said, p My Name shall be there.

28 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iosiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Iewes comprehend both these bookes in one, which the Grecians because of the length diuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those bookes of Chronicles, which are so often mentioned in the bookes of the Kings of Iudah and Israel, which did at large set forth the storie of both the kingdoms, and afterward perished in the captiuitie: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon. This first booke

‖ Or, he that saw the halfe, because the prince ought to ouersee his subiects.

53 And the families of Kiriath-iearim were the Ithrites, and the Puthites, and the Shumathites, and the Mishraites: of them came the Zarrathites, and the Eshtaulites.

54 The sonnes of Salma of Beth-lehem, and the Netophathite, the a crownes of the house of Ioab, and ‖ halfe the Manahthites and the Zorites.

‖ Or, the Zorites, the halfe of the Manahthites.

55 And the families of the o Scribes dwelling at Iabes, the Tirathites, the Shimmeathites, the Shuchathites, which are the p Kenites, that came of Hammath the father of the house of Rechab.

o Which were men learned and expert in the law. p Reade Numb. 10.29. and Iudg.1.16.

CHAP. III.

1 The genealogie of Dauid, and of his posteritie vnto the sonnes of Iosiah.

THese also were the sonnes of a Dauid, which were borne vnto him in Hebron: the eldest Amnon of Ahinoam the Iezreelitesse: the second b Daniel of Abigail the Carmelitesse.

a He returneth to the genealogie of Dauid, to shew that Christ came of his stocke.

b Which 2. Sam. 3.3. is called Chileab, borne of her that was Nabals wife the Carmelite.

2 The third Absalom the sonne of Maachah daughter of Talmai King of Geshur: The fourth Adonijah the sonne of Haggith:

3 The fifth Shephatiah of Abital: the sixt Ithream by Eglah his wife.

4 These sixe were borne vnto him in Hebron: and there he reigned seuen yeere and sixe moneths: and in Ierusalem hee reigned three and thirtie yeere.

5 And these foure were borne vnto him in Ierusalem, Shimea, and Shobab, and Nathan, and Salomon of c Bathshua the daughter of Ammiel:

c Called also Bathsheba the daughter of Eliam: so they gaue them diuers names.

d Elishama, or Elishua, 2. Sam. 5.15. and Elipheleted, and Dauid named those sonnes, which were next borne by the same names: in the booke of Kings his children are mentioned which were aliue, & here both they ‖ were aliue and dead.

e So called because he was preferred to the dignitie royall before his brother Iehoiakim, which was the elder.

6 Ibhar also, and d Elishama, and Eliphelet,

7 And Nogah, and Nepheg, & Iaphia,

8 And Elishama, and Eliada, and Eliphelet, nine in number.

9 These are all the sonnes of Dauid, besides the sonnes of the concubines, & Thamar their sister.

10 ¶ And Salomons sonne was Rehoboam, whose sonne was Abiah, and Asa his sonne, and Iehoshaphat his sonne, 11 And Iehoram his sonne, and Ahaziah his sonne, and Ioash his sonne, 12 And Amaziah his sonne, and Azariah his sonne, and Iotham his sonne, 13 And Ahaz his sonne, and Hezekiah his sonne, and Manasseh his sonne, 14 And Amon his sonne, and Iosiah his sonne.

15 ¶ And of the sonnes of Iosiah, the eldest was ‖ e Johanan, the second Iehoiakim, the third Zedekiah, and the fourth Shallum.

Or, Iehoahaz, 2. King. 23.30.

16 And the sonnes of Iehoiakim were Iechoniah his sonne, and Zedekiah his sonne.

17 And the sonnes of Iechoniah, Assir, and Shealtiel his sonne:

18 Malchiram also and Pedaiah, and Shenazar, Iecamiah, Hoshama, and Nedabiah.

19 And the sonnes of Pedaiah were f Zerubbabel, and Shimmei: and the sonnes of Zerubbabel were Meshullam, and Hananiah, and Shelomith their sister, f S. Matthewe saith that Zorobabel was sonne of Zalathiel, meaning that he was his nephewe according to the Ebrew speech: for he was Pedaiahs sonne.

20 And Hashubah, and Ohel, and Berechiah, and Hasadiah, and Iushabhesed, fiue in number.

21 And the sonnes of Hananiah were Pelatiah, and Jesaiah: the sonnes of Rephaiah, the sonnes of Arnan, the sonnes of Obadiah, the sonnes of Shechaniah.

22 And the sonne of Shechaniah was Shemaiah: and the sonnes of Shemaiah were Hattush, and Igeal, and Bariah, and Neariah, and Shaphat, 6 fyue.

g So that Shemaiah was Shechaniahs naturall sonne, and the other fiue his nephewes, and in all were sixe.

23 And the sonnes of Neariah were Elioenai, and Hezekiah, and Azrikam, three.

24 And the sonnes of Elioenai were Hodaiah and Eliashib, and Pelaiah, and Akkub, and Johanan, and Delaiah, and Anani, seuen.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The genealogie of the sonnes of Iudah, 5 Of Ashur, 9 Of Iabez and his prayer, 11 Of Chelub, 24 And Simeon: their habitations, 38 and conquests.

THe a sonnes of Iudah were b Pharez, Hezron, & Carmi, and Hur, & Shobal.

a Meaning, they came of Iudah, as nephewes and kinsmen: for onely Pharez was his naturall sonne.

b The first borne of his mother, and not the eldest sonne of his father.

2 And Reaiah the sonne of Shobal begate Jahath, and Jahath begate Ahumai, and Lahad: these are the families of the Zoreathites.

3 And these were of the father of Etam, Jezreel, and Ishma, and Idbash: & the name of their sister was Hazelelponi.

4 And Penuel was the father of Gedor, and Ezer the father of Hushah: these are the sonnes of Hur the c eldest sonne of Ephratah, the father of Beth-lehem.

c The first borne of his mother, and not the eldest sonne of his father.

5 But Ashur the father of Tekoa had two wiues, Helah, and Naarah.

6 And Naarah bare him Ahuzam, and Hepher, and Temeni, and Haahtari: these were the sonnes of Naarah.

7 And the sonnes of Helah were Zereth, Jezoar and Ethnan.

8 Also Coz begate Anub, and Zobebah, and the families of Aharhel the sonne of Harum.

9 But Jabez was more honourable then his brethren: and his mother called his name d Jabez, saying, Because I bare him in sorow.

d Otherwise called Othniel, Iudg.1.13.

10 And Jabez called on the God of Israel, saying, If thou wilt blesse me in deede, and enlarge my coastes, and that thine hande bee with mee, and thou wilt cause me to be deliuered from euill, that I bee not hurt. And God granted the thing that hee asked.

e It is to be vnderstood, that then he would accomplish his vowe which he made.

11 ¶ And Chelub the brother of Shuah begate Mehir, which was the father of Eshton.

12 And

12 And Eshton begate Beth-rapha, and Paseah, & Tehinnah, the father of the citie of Nahash: these are the men of Rechah.

13 ¶ And the sonnes of Kenaz were Othniel and Seraiah, and the sonne of Othniel, Hathath.

14 And Meonothai begat Ophrah. And Seraiah begate Joab the * father of the valley of craftsmen: for they were craftesmen.

15 ¶ And the sonnes of Caleb the sonne of f Jephunneh were Iru, Elah, and Naam. And the sonne of Elah was Kenaz.

16 And the sonnes of Jehaleel were Ziph, and Ziphah, Tiria, and Asareel.

17 And the sonnes of Ezrah were Jether, and Mered, & Epher, and Jalon, & he begat Miriam, and Shammai, and Ishbah the father of Eshtemoa.

18 Also his ‖ wife Jehudiah bare Jered the father of Gedor, and Heber the father of Socho, and Jekuthiel the father of Zanoah: and these are the sonnes of Bithiah the daughter of Pharaoh, ‖ which Mered tooke.

19 And the sonnes of the wife of Hodiah the sister of Naham the father of Keilah were the Garmites, and Eshtemoa the Maachathite.

20 And the sonnes of Shimon were Amnon and Rinnah, Ben-hanam and Tilon. And the sonnes of Ishi were Zoheth, and Ben-Zoheth.

21 ¶ * The sonnes of Shelah, the sonne of Judah were Er the father of Lecah, and Laadah the father of Mareshah, and the families of p houholds of them that wrought fine linnen in the house of Ashbea.

22 And Jokim and the men of Chozeba and Joash, and Saraph, which had the dominion in Moab, & ‖ Jashubi Lehem. These also are auncient things.

23 These were potters, & dwelt among plants and hedges: & there they dwelt with the king for his worke.

24 ¶ * The sonnes of Simeon were Nemuel, and Jamin, Jarib, Zerah, & h Shaul.

25 Whole sonne was Shallum, and his sonne Mibsam, and his sonne Mishma.

26 And the sonnes of Mishma, Hamuel was his sonne, Zacchur his sonne, & Shimei his sonne.

27 And Shimei had sixteene sonnes, and sixe daughters, but his brethren had not many children, neither was all their familie like to the children of Judah in multitude.

28 And they dwelt at i Beer-sheba, and at Moladah, and at Hazar Shual, 29 And at Bilhah, and at Ezem, and at Tolad,

30 And at Bethuel, and at Hormah, & at Ziklag,

31 And at Beth-marcaboth, and at Hazar Susim, at Beth-birei, & at Shaaraim: these were their cities vnto the reigne of k Dauid.

32 And their townes were Etam, and Ain, Rimmon, and Tochen, and Ashan, fiue cities.

33 And all their townes that were round about these cities vnto Baal. These are their habitations, and the declaration of their genealogie.

34 And Meshobab & Jamlech, & Joshah the sonne of Amaziah, 35 And Joel and Jehu the sonne of Joshibiah, the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Asiel, 36 And Elioenai, and Jaakobah, and Jeshohaiah, & Asaiah, and Adiel, and Jesimiel, and Benaiah, 37 And Ziza the sonne of Shiphei, the sonne of Allon, the sonne of Iedaiah, the sonne of Shimri, the sonne of Shemaiah.

38 These were famous Princes in their families, and increased greatly their fathers houses.

39 And they l went to the entring in of Gedor, euen vnto the Eastside of the valley, to seeke pasture for their sheepe.

40 And they found fatte pasture & good, and a wide land, both quiet & fruitfull: for they of Ham had dwelt there before.

41 And these described by name, came in the dayes of Hezekiah King of Judah, and smote their tents, and the inhabitants that were found there, and destroyed them vtterly vnto this day, and dwelt in their roome, because there was pasture there for their sheepe.

42 And besides these, fiue hundreth men of the sonnes of Simeon went to mount Seir, and Pelatiah, and Neariah, and Rophaiah, and Vzziel the sonnes of Ishi were their captaines, 43 And they smote the rest of Amalek that had m escaped, and they dwelt there vnto this day.

c To wit, in the time of Vzziah King of Israel, 2 Kings 15.29.

d These places were beyond Iorden toward the East in the land giuen to the Reubenites.

9 Also eastward hee inhabited vnto the entring in of the wildernesse from the riuer ‖ Perath: for they had much cattell in the land of Gilead.

10 And in the dayes of Saul they warred with the * Hagarims, which fell by their hands: and they dwelt in their tents in all the East parts of Gilead.

11 ¶ And the children of Gad dwelt ouer against them in the lande of Bashan, vnto Salchah.

12 Joel was the chiefest, and Shapham the second, but Jaanai and Shaphat were in Bashan.

13 And their brethren of the house of their fathers were Michael, and Meshullam, and Sheba, and Sorai, and Jacan, and Zia, and Eber, seuen.

14 These are the children of Abihail, the sonne of Huri, the sonne of Jaroah, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Michael, the sonne of Jeshishai, the sonne of Jahdo, the sonne of Buz.

15 Ahi, the sonne of Abdiel, the sonne of Guni was chiefe of the houshold of their fathers.

16 And they dwelt in Gilead in f Bashan, and in the townes thereof, and in all the suburbs of Sharon, by their borders.

17 All these were reckoned by genealogies in the dayes of Jotham king of Judah, and in the dayes of Jeroboam king of Israel.

18 ¶ The sonnes of Reuben and of Gad, and of halfe the tribe of Manasseh of those that were valiant men, able to beare shield and sworde, and to drawe a bowe, exercised in warre, were fourre and fourtie thousand, seuen hundreth and threescore, that went out to the warre.

19 And they made warre with the Hagarims, with g Jetur, and Naphish, and Nodab.

20 And they were h holpen against them, and the Hagarims were deliuered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cryed to God in the battel, and hee hearde them, because they trusted in him.

21 And they led away their cattell, euen their camels fiftie thousand, and two hundreth and fiftie thousand sheepe, and two thousand asses, and of ‡ persons an hundreth thousand.

22 For many fell downe wounded, because the warre was of God. And they dwelt in their steads vntill the i captiuitie.

23 And the children of the halfe tribe of Manasseh dwelt in the land, from Baashan vnto k Baal Hermon, and Senir, and vnto mount Hermon: for they increased.

24 And these were the heads of the houses of their fathers, euen Epher and Ishi, and Eliel and Azriel, and Jeremiah, and Hodauiah, and Jahdiel, strong men, valiant and famous, heades of the houses of their fathers.

25 But they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the lande, whome God had destroyed before them.

26 And the God of Israel l stirred vp the spirit of Pul king of Ashur and the spirite of Tilgath Pilneser king of Ashur, and he caried them away: euen the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, and brought them vnto * Halah, and Habor, and Hara, and to the riuer Gozan, vnto this day.

28 And the ſonnes of Shemuel, the eldeſt [c] Uathni, then Abiah.
29 ¶ The ſonnes of Merari were Mahli, Libni his ſonne, Shimei his ſonne, Uzzah his ſonne, 30 Shimea his ſonne, Haggiah his ſonne, Aſaiah his ſonne.
31 And theſe be they whome Dauid ſet for to ſing in the houſe of the Lorde, after that the Arke had [f] reſt.
32 And they miniſtred before the Tabernacle, euen the tabernacle of the Congregation with [g] ſinging, vntill Salomon had built the houſe of the Lorde in Ieruſalem: then they continued in their office, according to their cuſtome.
33 And theſe miniſtred with their children: of the ſonnes of Kohath, Heman a ſinger, the ſonne of Joel, the ſonne of Shemuel, 34 The ſonne of Elkanah, the ſonne of Ieroham, the ſonne of Eliel, the ſonne of Toah, 38 The ſonne of Izhar, the ſonne of Kohath, the ſonne of Leui, the ſonne of Iſrael.

39 And his ‖ brother [h] Aſaph ſtoode on his right hand: and Aſaph was the ſonne of Berechiah, the ſonne of Shemea, 40 The ſonne of Michael, the ſonne of Baaſeiah, the ſonne of Malchiah, 41 The ſonne of Ethni, the ſonne of Zerah, the ſonne of Adaiah, 42 The ſonne of Ethan, the ſonne of Zimmah, the ſonne of Shimei, 43 The ſonne of Jahath, the ſonne of Gerſhom, the ſonne of Leui.
44 And their brethren the ſonnes of Merari were on the left hand, euen Ethan the ſonne of Kiſhi, the ſonne of Abdi, the ſonne of Malluch, 45 The ſonne of Hashabiah, the ſonne of Amaziah, the ſonne of Hilkiah, 46 The ſonne of Amzi, the ſonne of Bani, the ſonne of Shamer, 47 The ſonne of Mahli, the ſonne of Muſhi, the ſonne of Merari, the ſonne of Leui.
48 ¶ And their [i] brethren the Leuites were [k] appointed vnto all the ſeruice of the Tabernacle of the houſe of God, 49 But Aaron and his ſonnes burnt incenſe vpon the altar of burnt offering, and on the altar of incenſe, for all that was to doe in the moſt holy place, and to make an atonement for Iſrael, according to all that Moſes the ſeruant of God had commanded.
50 Theſe are alſo the ſonnes of Aaron, Eleazar his ſonne, Phinehas his ſonne, Abihua his ſonne, 51 Bukki his ſonne, Uzzi his ſonne, Zerahiah his ſonne, 52 Meraioth his ſonne, Amariah his ſonne, Ahitub his ſonne, 53 Zadok his ſonne, and Ahimaaz his ſonne.
54 ¶ And theſe are the [l] dwelling places of them throughout their townes & coaſtes, euen of the ſonnes of Aaron for the familie of the Kohathites, for the [m] lot was theirs.
55 So they gaue them [n] Hebron in the land of Judah, and the ſuburbes thereof rounde about it:
56 But the fielde of the citie, and the villages thereof they gaue to Caleb the ſonne of Iephunneh.
57 And to the ſonnes of Aaron they gaue the cities of Iudah for [o] refuge, euen Hebron and Libna with their ſuburbes, and Jattir, and Eſhtemoa with their ſuburbes,

CHAP. VII.

1 The genealogie of Iſſachar, 6 Beniamin, 13 Naphtali, 14 Manaſſeh, 20 Ephraim, 30 and Aſher.

NOw the ſonnes of Iſſachar were Tola and ‖ Puah, [a] Iaſhub, and Shimron, foure,

2 And the ſonnes of Tola, Uzzi, and Rephaiah, and Ieriel, and Iahmai, and Ibſam, and Shemuel, heads in the houſholds of their fathers. Of Tola were valiant men of warre in their generations, [b] whoſe number was in the dayes of Dauid two [c] twenty thouſand, and fiue hundreth.

3 And the ſonne of Uzzi was Izrahaiah, and the ſonnes of Izrahaiah, Michael, and Obadiah, and Ioel, and Iſhiah, [c] fiue men all princes.

4 And with them in their generations after the houſholde of their fathers were bands of men of warre for battell, ſixe and thirtie thouſand: for they had many wiues and children.

5 And their ‖ brethren among all the families of Iſſachar were valiant men of warre, reckoned in all by their genealogies fourteſcore and ſeuen thouſand.

6 ¶ The ſonnes of Beniamin were Bela, and Becher, and [d] Iediael, [e] three.

7 And the ſonnes of Bela, Ezbon, [f] Uzzi, and Uzziel, and Ierimoth, and Iri, fiue heads of the houſholdes of their fathers, valiant men of warre, and were reckoned by their genealogies, two and twentie thouſand and thirtie and foure.

8 And the ſonnes of Becher, Zemirah, and Ioaſh, and Eliezer, and Elioenai, and Omri, and Ierimoth, and Abiah, and Anathoth, and Alameth: all theſe were the ſonnes of Becher.

9 And they were numbred by their genealogies according to their generations, and the chiefe of the houſes of their fathers, valiant men of warre, twentie thouſand and two hundreth.

10 And the ſonne of Iediael was Bilhan, and the ſonnes of Bilhan, Ieuſh, and Beniamin, and Ehud, and Chenaanah, and Zethan, and Tharſhiſh, and Ahiſhahar.

11 All theſe were the ſonnes of Iediael, chiefe of the fathers, valiant men of warre, ſeuenteene thouſand & two hundreth, marching in battell aray to the warre.

12 And Shuppim, and Huppim were the ſonnes of ‖ Ir, but Huſhim was the ſonne [f] of ‖ another.

13 ¶ The ſonnes of Naphtali, Iahziel, and Guni, and Iezer, and ‖ Shallum [g] of the ſonnes of Bilhah.

14 The ſonne of Manaſſeh, was Aſhriel, whom ſhe bare vnto him, but his concubine of Aram bare Machir the * father of Gilead.

15 And Machir tooke to wife the ſiſter of Huppim and Shuppim, and the name of their ſiſter was Maachah. And the name of the ſecond ſonne was Zelophehad, and Zelophehad had daughters.

16 And Maachah the wife of Machir bare a ſonne, and called his name ‖ Pereſh, and the name of his brother was Shereſh: and his ſonnes were Ulam and Rakem.

17 And the ſonne of Ulam was Bedan. Theſe were the ſonnes of Gilead the ſonne of Machir, the ſonne of Manaſſeh.

18 And [h] his ſiſter Molecheth bare Iſhod, and Abiezer, and Mahalah.

19 And the ſonnes of Shemida were Ahian, and Shechem, and Likhi, and Aniam.

20 ¶ The ſonnes alſo of Ephraim were Shuthelah, and Bered his ſonne, and Tahath his ſonne, and his ſonne Elidah, and Tahath his ſonne, 21 And Zabad his ſonne, and Shuthelah his ſonne, and Ezer, and Elead: & the men of [i] Gath that were borne in the land, ſlewe them, becauſe they came downe to take away their cattell.

22 Therefore Ephraim their father mourned many dayes, and his ‖ brethren came to comfort him.

23 And when he went in to his wife, ſhe conceiued, and bare him a ſonne, and he called his name Beriah, becauſe affliction was in his houſe.

24 And his ‖ daughter was Sherah, which built Beth-horon the nether, and the vpper, and Uzzen Sheerah.

25 And Rephah was his [k] ſonne, and Reſheph, and Telah his ſonne, and Tahan his ſonne, 26 Laadan his ſonne, Ammihud his ſonne, Eliſhama his ſonne, 27 Non his ſonne, Iehoſhua his ſonne.

7 And of the ſonnes of Beniamin, Salu, the ſonne of Meſhullam, the ſonne of Hodauiah, the ſonne of Haſſenuah, 8 And Ibneiah the ſonne of Ieroham, & Elah the ſonne of Uzzi, the ſonne of Michri, and Meſhullam the ſonne of Shephatiah, the ſonne of Reuel, the ſonne of Ibnijah.

9 And their brethren according to their generations nine hundreth, fifty and ſixe, all theſe men were ‖ chiefe fathers in the houſeholds of their fathers.

‖Or, chiefe of the families.

10 ¶ And of the Prieſtes, Iedaiah, and Iehoiarib, and Iachin, 11 And Azariah the ſonne of Hilkiah, the ſonne of Meſhullam, the ſonne of Zadok, the ſonne of Meraioth, the ſonne of Ahitub the e chiefe of the houſe of God, e That is, he was the hie Priest.

12 And Adaiah the ſonne of Ieroham, the ſonne of Pashhur, the ſonne of Malchiah, & Maasai the ſonne of Adiel, the ſonne of Jahzerah, the ſonne of Meſhullam, the ſonne of Meſhillemith, the ſonne of Immer.

13 And their brethren the chiefe of the houſholds of their fathers a thouſand ſeuen hundreth and threeſcore valiant men, for the d worke of the ſeruice of the houſe of God.

d To serue in the Temple, euery one according to his office.

14 ¶ And of the Leuites, Shemaiah the ſonne of Haſſhub, the ſonne of Azrikam, the ſonne of Haſhabiah of the ſonnes of Merari,

15 And Bakbakkar, Hereth, and Galal, and Mattaniah the ſonne of Micha, the ſonne of Zichri, the ſonne of Aſaph, 16 And Obadiah the ſonne of Shemaiah, the ſonne of Galal, the ſonne of Jeduthun, and Berechiah the ſonne of Aſa, the ſonne of Elkanah, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.

17 ¶ And the porters were Shallum, and Akkub, and Talmon, and Ahiman, & their brethren: Shallum was the chiefe.

18 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Leui vnto the e kings gate Eaſtward.

e So called, because the king came into the Temple thereby, and not the common people.

19 And Shallum the ſonne of Kore the ſonne of Ebiaſaph the ſonne of Korah, and his brethren the Korathites (of the houſe of their father) were ouer the worke, & office to keepe the gates of the f Tabernacle: ſo their fathers were ouer the hoſt of the Lord, keeping the entrie.

f Their charge was, that non should enter into those places which were only appointed for the Priests to minister in.

20 And Phinehas the ſonne of Eleazar was their guide, & the Lord was with him.

21 Zechariah the ſonne of Meſhelemiah was the porter of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

22 All theſe were choſen for porters of the gates, two hundreth and twelue, which were numbred according to their geneſalogies by their townes. Dauid eſtabliſhed theſe and Samuel the Seer ‖ in their perpetuall office.

‖Or, for their fidelitie.

23 So they and their children had the ouerſight of the gates of the houſe of the Lord, euen of the houſe of the Tabernacle by wardes.

24 The porters were in foure quarters, Eaſtward, Weſtward, Northward, and Southward.

25 And their brethren which were in their townes, came at ſ ſeuen dayes from time to time with them.

g They serued weekely, 2. Ezr. 4.10.

26 For theſe foure chiefe porters were in perpetuall office, & were of the Leuites, and had charge of the ‖ chambers, & of the treaſures in the houſe of God.

‖Or, opening the doores.

27 And they lay round about the houſe of God, becauſe the charge was theirs, and they cauſed it to be opened euery morning.

28 And certaine of them had the rule of the miniſtring veſſels: for they brought them in by tale, and brought them out by tale.

29 Some of them alſo were appointed ouer the inſtruments, and ouer all the veſſels of the Sanctuary, and of the h floure, and the wine, and the oyle, and the incenſe, and the ſweet odours.

h Wheof the meate offering was made, Leuit. 2.1.

30 And certain of the ſonnes of ỹ Prieſts made ointments of ſweet odours.

31 And Mattithiah one of the Leuites which was the eldeſt ſonne of Shallum the Korhite, had the charge of the things that were made in the frying pan.

32 And other of their brethren the ſonnes of Kohath had the ouerſight of the * ſhewbread to prepare it euery Sabbath.

* Exod. 25.30.

33 And theſe are the ſingers, the chiefe fathers of the Leuites, which dwelt in the chambers, i and had none other charge: for they had to do in that buſineſſe day and night.

i But were continually occupied in ſinging praiſes to God.

34 Theſe were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites according to their generations, and the principall which dwelt at Ieruſalem.

35 * And in Gibeon dwelt ‖ the father of Gibeon, Ieiel, and the name of his wife was Maachah.

* Chap. 8.29. ‖Or, Abigibeon.

36 And his eldeſt ſonne was Abdon, then Zur, and Kiſh, and Baal, and Ner, and Nadab, 37 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 And Mikloth begate Shimeam: they alſo dwelt with their brethren at Ieruſalem, euen by their brethren.

39 And * Ner begate Kiſh, and Kiſh begate Saul, and Saul begate Ionathan, and Malchiſhua, and Abinadab, and Eſhbaal.

* 1. Sam. 14.51. chap. 8.33.

40 And the ſonne of Jonathan was Merib-baal: and Merib-baal begate Micah.

41 And the ſonnes of Micah were Pithon, and Melech, and Tahrea.

42 And Ahaz begate k Jarah, and Jarah begate Alemeth, and Azmaueth, and Zimri, and Zimri begate Moza.

k Who was alſo called Iehoadah, Chap. 8.36.

43 And Moza begat Binea, whoſe ſonne was Rephaiah, and his ſonne was Eleaſah, and his ſonne Azel.

44 And Azel had ſix ſonnes, whoſe names are theſe, Azrikam, Bocheru, & Iſmael, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanan: theſe are the ſonnes of Azel.

slaine in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philistims pursued after Saul and after his sonnes, and the Philistims slewe Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchishua the sonnes of Saul.

3 And the battell was sore against Saul, and the archers ‡ hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

‡ Hebr. found.

4 Then saide Saul to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy sword, and thrust mee throughe therewith, lest these vncircumcised come and mocke at me: but his armour bearer would not, for he was sore afraid: therefore Saul tooke the sword and fell vpon it.

5 And when his armour bearer saw that Saul was dead, hee fell likewise vpon the sword, and dyed.

6 So Saul dyed and his three sonnes, and all his house, they dyed together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsooke their cities, and fled away, and the Philistims came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morrowe when the Philistims came to spoyle them that were slaine, they found Saul and his sonnes ‡ lying in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they layde vp his armoure in the house of their God, and set vp his head in the house of * Dagon.

* Which was the idole of the Philistims, and from the belly downeward had the forme of a fish, and vpward of a man.

11 ¶ When all they of Jabesh Gilead heard all that the Philistims had done to Saul, 12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and tooke the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, and brought them to Jabesh, and buried the bones of them vnder an Okr in Jabesh, and fasted seuen dayes.

1. Sam. 15. 23.

13 So Saul dyed for his transgression, that he committed against the Lord, * euen against the word of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that he sought and asked counsell of a ‖ * familiar spirit,

‖ Or, witch, and sorceresse.

14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdome vnto Dauid the sonne of Jshai.

CHAP. XI.

3 After the death of Saul is Dauid anoynted in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites reball against Dauid, from whom he taketh the tower of Zion. 6 Ioab is made captaine. 10 His valiant men.

2. Sam. 5. 1.

THen * all Israel gathered themselues to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

a This was after the death of Ishbosheth Sauls sonne, when Dauid had reigned ouer Iudah seuen yeeres and sixe moneths in Hebron, 2. Sam. 5. 5.

2 And in time past, euen when Saul was King, thou ledst Israel out and in: and the Lorde thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt bee captaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebron, before the Lord. And they anoynted Dauid king ouer Israel, * according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Samuel.

1. Sam. 16. 13.

4 ¶ And Dauid and all Israel went to Jerusalem, which is Jebus, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus sayd to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuertheless, Dauid tooke the tower of Zion, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid sayde, * Whosoeuer smiteth the Iebusites first, shalbe the chiefe and captaine. So Joab the sonne of Zeruiah went first vp, and was captaine.

2. Sam. 5. 8.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And hee built the citie on euery side, from Millo euen round about: and Joab repayred the rest of the citie.

2. Sam. 5. 9.

9 And Dauid prospered, and grew; for the Lord of hostes was with him.

10 ¶ * These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with Dauid, and tooned their force with him in his kingdome with all Israel, to make him king ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord.

2. Sam. 23. 8.

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whom Dauid had, Jashobeam the sonne of Hachmoni, the b chiefe among thirty: he lift vp his speare against three hundreth, whom he slew at one time.

b Meaning the most excellent and best esteemed for his valiantnesse: some reade, the chiefe of the Princes.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of ‖ Dodo the Ahohite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 Hee was with Dauid at Pas dammim, and there the Philistims were gathered together to battell: and there was a parcell of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And they stoode in the middes of the fielde, and c saued it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victorie.

c This act is referred to Shammah, 2. Sam 23. 11. which seemeth was the chiefest of these.

15 ¶ And three of the d thirtie captaines went to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullam. And the army of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

d That is, Eleazar and his two companions. 2. Sam. 23. 25.

16 And when Dauid was in the hold, the Philistims garrison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And Dauid longed, and sayde, * Oh, that one would giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

18 Then these three brake throwe the hoste of the Philistims, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke it, and brought it to Dauid: but Dauid would not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord,

19 And sayde, Let not my God suffer me to do this: should I drinke the * blood of these mens liues? for they haue brought it with the ieopardie of their liues: therefore hee would not drinke it. These things did these three mighties men.

e That is, this water for the which they ventured their blood.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Joab, he was chiefe of the three, and he lift vp his speare against three hundreth, & slew them, and had the name among the three.

21 Among the three hee was more honourable then the two, and hee was their captaine: * but he attained not vnto the first three.

2. Sam. 23. 19.

22 Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada (the ſonne of a valiant man) which had done many actes, and was of Kabzeel, he ſlewe two ‖ ſtrong men of Moab: he went downe alſo and ſlewe a Lion in the middes of a pit in time of ſnowe.

‖ Or, Lions.

23 And hee ſlewe an Egyptian, a man of great ſtature, euen fiue cubites long, and in the Egyptians hand was a ſpeare like a weauers beame: and hee went downe to him with a ſtaffe, and plucked the ſpeare out of the Egyptians hande, and ſlew him with his owne ſpeare.

24 Theſe things did Benaiah the ſonne of Iehoiada, and had the name among the three worthies.

25 Beholde, he was honourable among thirtie, but he attained not vnto the f firſt three. * And Dauid made him of his counſell.

f Meaning, thoſe three which brought the water to Dauid. 2.Sam.23.23.

26 ¶ Theſe alſo were valiant men of warre, Aſahel the brother of Ioab, Elhanan the ſonne of Dodo of Beth-lehem, 27 g Shammoth the Harodite, Helez the Pelonite,

28 Ira the ſonne of Ikkeſh the Tekoite, Abiezer the Anethite, 29 h Sibbecai the Huſathite, Ilai the Ahohite,

30 Maharai the Netophathite, Heled the ſonne of Baanah the Netophathite, 31 Ithai the ſonne of Ribai of Gibeah, of the children of Beniamin, Benaiah the Pirathonite, 32 Hurai of the riuers of Gaaſh, Abiel the Arbathite,

33 Azmaueth the Baharumite, Eliahba the Shaalbonite,

34 The ſonnes of Haſhem the Gizonite, Ionathan the ſonne of Shagee the Hararite, 35 Ahiam the ſonne of Sacar the Hararite, Eliphal the ſonne of Ur, 36 Hepher the Mecherathite, Ahiah the Pelonite,

37 Hezro the Carmelite, Naarai the ſonne of Ezbai,

38 Ioel the brother of Nathan, Mibhar the ſonne of Haggeri, 39 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Berothite, the armour bearer of Ioab, the ſonne of Zeruiah, 40 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,

41 Uriah the Hittite, Zabad the ſonne of Ahlai,

42 Adina the ſonne of Shiza the Reubenite, a captaine of the Reubenites, and thirtie with him,

43 Hanan the ſon of Maacha, and Iehaphat the Mithnite,

44 Uzia the Aſhterathite, Shama and Ieiel the ſonnes of Hotham the Aroerite, 45 Iediael the ſonne of Shimri, and Joha his brother the Tizite, 46 Eliel the Mahauite, and Ieribai and Joſhauiah the ſonnes of Elnaam, and Ithmah the Moabite, 47 Eliel and Obed, and Iaaſiel the Mezobaite.

CHAP. XII.

1 Who they were that went with Dauid when he fled from Saul. 14 Their valiantneſſe. 23 They that came vnto him vnto Hebron out of euery tribe to make him king.

Theſe alſo are they that came to Dauid to a Ziklag, while he was yet kept cloſe, because of Saul the ſonne of Kish: and they were among the valiant and helpers of the battell.

a To take his part against Saul who perſecuted him.

2 They were weaponed with bowes, and could vſe the right and the left hand with ſtones and with arrowes and with bowes, and were of Sauls b brethren, euen of Beniamin.

b That is, of the tribe of Beniamin, whereof Saul was, and wherein were excellent throwers with ſlings, Iudges 20.16.

3 The chiefe were Ahiezer, and Ioash the ſonnes of Shemaah a Gibeathite, and Ieziel, and Pelet the ſonnes of Azmaueth, Berachah and Iehu the Antothite,

4 And Ismaiah the Gibeonite, a valiant man among thirtie, and aboue the thirtie, and Ieremiah, and Iahaziel, and Iohanan, and Iozabad the Gederathite,

5 Eluzai, and Ierimoth, and Bealiah, and Shemariah, and Shephatiah the Harephite,

6 Elkanah, and Iſſiah, and Azareel, and Ioezer, and Iashobeam of Korhites,

7 And Ioelah, and Zebadiah, the ſonnes of Ieroham of ‖ Gedor.

‖ Or, Godua.

8 And of the Gadites there ſeparated themſelues vnto Dauid into the holde of the wildernesſe, valiant men of warre, and men of armes, and apt for battel, which could handle ‖ ſpeare and ſhielde, and their faces were like the faces of c Lions, and were like the Roes in the mountaines in ſwiftneſſe,

c Meaning, fierce and terrible.

9 Ezer the chiefe, Obadiah the ſecond, Eliab the third,

10 ‖ Mishmannah the fourth, Ieremiah the fift,

‖ Or, Moſhmannah.

11 Attai the ſixt, Eliel the ſeuenth,

12 Iohanan the eight, Elzabad the ninth,

13 Ieremiah the tenth, Machbanni the eleuenth.

14 Theſe were the ſonnes of Gad, Captaines of the hoſte: one of the leaſt could reſiſt an hundreth, and the greateſt a thouſand.

15 Theſe are they that went ouer Iorden in the d firſt moneth when he had filled ouer all his bankes, and put to flight all them of the valley, toward the Eaſt and the Weſt.

d Which the Ebrewes called Nisan or Abib, conteining halfe March and halfe April, when Iorden was wont to ouerflow his bankes, reade Iosh.3.15.

16 And there came of the children of Beniamin, and Iudah to the holde vnto Dauid, 17 And Dauid went out to meete them, and answered, and ſayd vnto them, If yee be come peaceably vnto mee to helpe mee, mine heart ſhall be knit vnto you, but if you come to betray me to mine aduerſaries, ſeeing there is no wickednesſe in mine handes, the God of our fathers beholde it, and reduke it.

18 And the e ſpirite came vpon Amaſai, which was the chiefe of thirtie, and he ſayd, Thine are we, Dauid, and with thee, O ſonne of Iſhai. Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace be vnto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Then Dauid receiued them, and made them captaines of the garison.

e The ſpirit of boldnes and courage moued him to ſpeake thus.

19 And

19 ¶ And of Manasseh some fell to Dauid, when hee came with the Philistims against Saul to battell, but they helped them not: for the Princes of the Philistims *by aduisement sent him away, saying, Hee will fall to his Master Saul ‖to our heads.

20 As he went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manasseh, Adnah, and Iozabad, and Iediael, and Michael, and Iozabad, and Elihu, and Zilthai, heads of the thousands that were of Manasseh.

21 And they helped Dauid against ‖ that band: for they were all valiant men, ‖ were captaines in the hoste.

22 For at that time day by day there came to Dauid to helpe him, vntill it was a great hoste, like the hoste of h God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captaines that were armed to battell, and came to Dauid to Hebron to turne the kingdome of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Iudah that bare shield and ‖ speare, were five thousand ‖ eight hundreth armed to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of warre, seuen thousand ‖ an hundreth.

26 Of the children of Leui, foure thousand and five hundreth.

27 And Iehoiada was the chiefe of them of i Aaron: and with him three thousand and seuen hundreth.

28 And Zadok a yong man very valiant, and of his fathers houshold came two and twentie captaines.

29 And of the children of Beniamin the brethren of Saul three thousand: for a great part of them vnto that time k kept the ward of the house of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim twentie thousand, and eight hundred valiant men and famous men in the houshold of their fathers.

31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasseh eighteene thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make Dauid king.

32 And of the children of Issachar, which were men that had vnderstanding of the l times, to know what Israel ought to doe: the heads of them were two hundreth, and all their brethren were at their commaundement.

33 Of Zebulun that went out to battell, expert in warre, and in all instruments of warre, fifty thousand ‖ which could set the battell in aray: they were not of a ‖ double heart.

34 And of Naphtali a thousande captaines, and with them with shielde ‖ speare seuen and thirtie thousand.

35 And of Dan expert in battell, eight and twentie thousand and five hundreth.

36 And of Asher that went out to the battel and were trained in the warres, fourty thousand.

37 And of the other side of Iorden of the Reubenites, and of the Gadites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasseh with all ‖ instruments of warre to fight with, an hundreth and twentie thousand.

38 m All these men ‖ warres ‖ could leade an army, came with a perfect heart to Hebron to make Dauid king ouer all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make Dauid king.

39 And there they were with Dauid three dayes, eating and drinking: for their ‖ brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreouer, they that were neere them vntill Issachar, and Zebulun, and Naphtali brought bread vpon asses, and on camels, and on mules, ‖ on oxen, meate, meate, flour, figs, and resins, and wine and oyle, and beeues and sheep abundantly: for there was ioy in Israel.

CHAP. XIII.

7 The Arke is brought from Kiriath Iearim to Ierusalem. 9 Vzza is stricken because hee touched it.

AND Dauid counselled with the captaines of thousands and of hundreths, and with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid said to all the Congregation of ‖ Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it proceedeth of the Lord our God, we will send to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priestes and the Leuites in the cities and their ‖ suburbes) that they may assemble themselues vnto vs.

3 And wee will bring againe the n Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs doe so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ¶ o So Dauid gathered all Israel together from ‖ Shihor in Egypt, euen vnto the entring of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from p Kiriath-iearim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to ‖ Baalath, to Kiriath-iearim, that was in ‖ Iudah, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betweene the Cherubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they carried the Arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Vzza and Ahio q guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before r God with all their might, both with songs and with harpes, and with violes, and with timbrels and with cymbalts, and with trumpets.

9 ¶ And when they came vnto the threshing floore of s Chidon, Vzza put forth his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzza, and he smote him, because he laid his hand vpon the Arke: so he died there ‖ before God.

11 And Dauid was angry, because the Lord had make a breach in Vzza, and he called the name of that place Perez-Vzza vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God that day, saying, How shall I bring in to me the Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not the Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but caused

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Hiram sendeth wood & workemen to Dauid, 4 The names of his children. 8. 13 By the counsell of God hee goeth against the Philistims, and ouercommeth them. 15 God fighteth for him.

THen * sent Hiram the King of ‡ Tyrus messengers to Dauid, and cedar trees, with masons and carpenters to build him an house.

2 Therefore Dauid knew that the LORD had confirmed him king ouer Israel, and that his kingdome was lift vp on hie, because of his ‖ people Israel.

3 ¶ Also Dauid tooke moe wines at Ierusalem, and Dauid begate moe sonnes and daughters.

4 And these are the names of the children which hee had at Ierusalem, Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Salomon,

5 And Ibhar, and Elishua, & ‖ Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, & Nepheg, and Iaphia,

7 And Elishama, and ‖ Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

8 But when the Philistims heard that Dauid was anoynted King ouer Israel, all the Philistims came vp to seeke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, hee went out against them.

9 And the Philistims came and spred themselues in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I goe vp against the Philistims, and wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the LORD said vnto him, Goe vp: for I will deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came vp to Baal-perazim, and Dauid smote them there: and Dauid sayd, God hath diuided mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are diuided: therefore they called the name of ỹ place, ‖ Baal-perazim.

12 And there they had left their gods: & Dauid said, Let them euen be burnt vp with fire.

13 Againe the Philistims came and spred themselues in the valley.

14 And when Dauid asked againe counsell at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go vp after them, but turne away frō them, that thou mayest come vpon them ouer against the mulberie trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noyse of one going in the tops of the mulberie trees, then go out to battell: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite ỹ hoste of ỹ Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeon euen to Gezer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands, and the LORD brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

1 Dauid prepareth an house for the Arke. 4 The number and order of the Leuites. 16 The singers are chosen out among them. 25 They bring vp into the Arke without. 29 Dauid dancing before it, is despised of his wife Michal.

AND Dauid made him houses in the * citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid sayde, * None ought to carry the Arke of God but the Leuites: for the LORD hath chosen them to beare the Arke of the LORD, and to minister vnto him for euer.

3 ¶ And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Ierusalem to bring vp the ‖ Arke of the LORD vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

4 And Dauid assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath, Uriel the chiefe, and his ‖ brethren fiue score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiah the chiefe, and his brethren two hundreth and twentie.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershom, Joel the chiefe, and his brethren an hundreth and thirtie.

8 Of the sonnes of ‖ Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chiefe, & his brethren two hundreth.

9 Of the sonnes of ‖ Hebron, Eliel the chiefe, and his brethren foure score.

10 Of the sonnes of Uzziel, Amminadab the chiefe, and his brethren an hundreth and twelue.

11 ¶ And Dauid called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Leuites, Uriel, Asaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab:

12 And hee sayd vnto them, Yee are the chiefe fathers of the Leuites: * sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the LORD God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For * because yee were not there at the first, the LORD our God made a breach among vs: for wee sought him not after due order.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified themselues to bring vp the Arke of the LORD God of Israel.

15 ¶ And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulders with the barres, as Moses had commanded, * according to the word of the LORD.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe of the Leuites, that they should appoynt certaine of their brethren to sing with * instruments of musicke, with viols and harpes, and cymbales, that they might make a sound, and lift vp their voyce with ioy.

17 So the Leuites appoynted Heman the sonne of Joel, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, and of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Kushaiah, 18 And with them their brethren in the ‖ second degree, Zechariah, Ben, & Jaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, & Benaiah, and Maaseiah, & Mattithiah, and Eliphalehu, and Mikneiah, and Obed Edom, and Jeiel the porters.

19 So Heman, Asaph and Ethan were ‖ appointed to make a sound with cymbales of brasse, 20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, 22 But Chenaniah the chiefe of the Le-uites l had the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were porters for the Arke.

24 And Shecaniah, & Jehoshaphat, and Nethaneel, and Amasai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the Priests did blow with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obed Edom and Jehiah were porters for the Arke.

25 m So Dauid and the Elders of Israel and the captains of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde from the house of Obed Edom with ioy.

26 And because that God n helped the Le-uites that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, they offered o seuen bullocks and seuen rammes.

27 And Dauid had on him a linnen garment, as all the Leuites that bare the Arke, and the singers, and Chenaniah that had the chiefe charge of the singers: and vpon Dauid was a linnen p Ephod.

28 Thus all Israel brought vp the Arke of the Lordes couenant with shouting, and sound of cornet, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, making a sound with violes and with harpes.

29 And when the Arke of the q Covenant of the Lorde came into the citie of Da-uid, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out at a window, and saw king Dauid dancing and playing, and r she despised him in her heart.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The Arke being placed, they offer sacrifices.
4 Dauid ordaineth Asaph and his brethren to ministers before the Lord. 8 Hee appointeth a notable Psalme to be sung in prayse of the Lord.

SO s they brought in the Arke of God, and set it in the midst of the Tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it, and they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.

2 And when Dauid had made an end of offring the burnt offering and the peace offerings, hee t blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

3 And hee dealt to euery one of Israel both man and woman, to euery one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottle of wine.

4 And he appointed certaine of the Le-uites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and to u rehearse and to thanke and prayse
the Lord God of Israel:

5 Asaph the chiefe, and next vnto him Zechariah, Jeiel, and Shemiramoth, and Je-hiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed Edom, euen Jeiel with instruments, violes and harpes, and Asaph, to make a sound with cymbales,

6 And Benaiah and Jahaziel Priestes, with trumpets continually before the Arke of the couenant of God.

7 Then at that time Dauid did x appoint at the beginning to giue thanks to the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

8 y Praise the Lord, & call vpon his Name:
declare his z workes among the people.

9 Sing vnto him, sing prayse vnto him,

2 Then Nathan ſaid to Dauid, Do c all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

c As yet God had not reuealed to the Prophet what he purpoſed concerning Dauid: therefore ſeeing God fauoured Dauid, he ſpake what he thought.

3 And the ſame d night came the word of God vnto Nathan, ſaying, d After that Nathan had ſpoken to Dauid.

4 Go, and tell Dauid my ſeruant, Thus ſayth the Lord, Thou ſhalt not build me an houſe to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no houſe, ſince the day that I brought out the children of Iſrael vnto this day, but I haue bene from e tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

e That is, in a tent which remoued to and fro.

6 Whereſoeuer I haue f walked with all Iſrael, ſpake I one worde to any of the Iudges of Iſrael (whom I commanded to feede my people) ſaying, Why haue ye not built me an houſe of cedar trees?

f Meaning, wherſoeuer his Arke went, which was a ſigne of his preſence.

7 Now therefore thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto my ſeruant Dauid, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, I tooke thee from the ſheepecoate g and from following the ſheepe, that thou ſhouldeſt bee a prince ouer my people Iſrael.

g Of a ſhepheard of ſheepe I made thee a ſhepheard of men, ſo that thou canſt not to this dignitie through thine owne merits, but by my pure grace.

16 ¶ And Dauid the King p went in, and ‖ ſate before the Lorde, and ſayde, Who am I, O Lorde God, and what is mine houſe, that thou haſt brought me q hitherto?

q Meaning, to this kingly eſtate.
r Thou haſt promiſed a kingdom that ſhall continue to me and my poſteritie, and that Chriſt ſhall proceede of me.

18 What can Dauid deſire more of thee for the honour of thy ſeruant? for thou knoweſt thy ſeruant.

19 O Lorde, for thy ſeruants ſake, euen according to thine s heart haſt thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

s Freely, and according to the purpoſe of thy will, without any deſeruing.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God beſides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

22 For thou t ordeined thy people Iſrael to bee thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

t Freely, and according to the purpoſe of thy will, without any deſerning.

23 Therefore now Lorde, let the thing that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy ſeruant and concerning his houſe, bee confirmed for euer, and doe as thou haſt ſayd,

24 And let thy Name bee ſtable and magnified for euer, that it may bee ſayde, The Lorde of hoſtes, God of Iſrael, is the CHAP. XVIII.

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistims, 2 and against Moab, 3 Zobah, 5 Aram, 12 and Edom.

AND after this Dauid smote the Philistims, and subdued them, and tooke u Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And he smote Moab, & the Moabites became Dauids seruantes, and x brought giftes.

3 ¶ And Dauid smote Hadarezer King of Zobah vnto Hamath, as he went to stablish his border by the riuer y Perath.

4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand charets, and seuen thousand horsemen, and twentie thousand footmen, and z destroyed all the charets, but he reserued of them an hundreth charets.

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer king of Zobah, but Dauid slewe of the Aramites two and twentie thousand.

6 And Dauid put a garison in Aram of Damascus, and the Aramites became Dauids seruants, and brought giftes: and the Lord a preserued Dauid where soeuer he went.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of golde that were of the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Ierusalem.

8 And from b Tibhath, and from Chun (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Salomon made the brasen c Sea, and the pillars and the vessels of brasse.

9 ¶ Then Tou King of Hamath heard how Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadarezer King of Zobah:

10 Therefore hee sent d Hadoram his sonne to King Dauid to salute him, and to reioyce with him, because hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him (for Tou had warre with Hadarezer) who brought all vessels of golde, and siluer, and brasse.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord, with the siluer and golde that he brought from all the nations, from e Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistims, and from Amalek.

12 ¶ And Abishai the sonne of Zeruiah smote of Edom in the salt valley f fourteene thousand.

13 And he put a garison in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruantes: and the Lord preserued Dauid where soeuer he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.

15 And Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the hoste, and Iehoshaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder.

16 And Zadok the sonne of Ahitub, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the Priests, and Shausha the Scribe, 17 And Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada was ouer the Cherethites and the Pelethites: and the sonnes of Dauid were chiefe about the King.

CHAP. XIX.

4 Hanun King of the children of Ammon doeth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid. 6 He prepareth an armie against Dauid. 15 and is ouercome.

AFterthis also g Nahash the King of the children of Ammon died, and his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And Dauid said, I will shewe kindnesse vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahash, because his father shewed kindnesse vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of Dauid came into the lande of the children of Ammon to Hanun to comfort him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon said vnto Hanun, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to h search, to seeke and to spie out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauids seruants, and i shaued them, and cut off k their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine and told Dauid concerning the men: and hee sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King sayde, Tary at Iericho, vntil your beards be growen: then returne.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammon sawe that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, then sent Hanun and the children of Ammon a thousand talents of siluer to hire them charets and horsemen out of Aram Naharaim, and out Aram Maacah, and out of l Zobah.

7 And they hired them two and thirtie thousand charets, and the king of Maachah and his people, which came and pitched before m Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselues together from their cities, and came to the battell.

8 ¶ And when Dauid heard, he sent Ioab and all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battell in aray at the gate of the citie. And the kings that were come, were by themselues in the field.

10 When Ioab sawe that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, then hee chose out of all the chosis of Israel, and set himselfe in aray to meete the Aramites.

g Because Nahash receiued Dauid and his company, when Saul persecuted him, he would now shew pleasure to his sonne for the same.

h Thus the malicious euer interprete the purpole of the godly in the worst sense.

i They shaued off the halfe of their beards, 2. Sam. 10.4.

k To put them to shame and villenie, whereas the embassadours ought to haue bene honoured: and because the Iewes vied to were side garments & beards, they thus disfigured them to make them odious to others.

l Or, had made themselues to be abhorred of Dauid, 2. Sam. 10.6, 8.

m Which were fiue in all.

n Which was a citie of the tribe of Reuben beyond Iorden.

11 And the rest of the people he deliuered vnto the hand of Abishai his brother, and they put themselues in aray against the children of Ammon.

12 And he sayde, If Aram be too strong for me, then thou shalt succour me: and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, then I will succour thee.

13 Be strong, and let vs shewe our selues valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Ioab and the people that was with him, came nere before the Aramites vnto the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishai his brother, and entred into the citie: so Ioab came to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ And when the Aramites sawe that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyonde the [b] riuer: and Shophach the captaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was shewed Dauid, he gathered all Israel, and went ouer Iorden, and came vnto them, and put himselfe in aray against them: and when Dauid had put himselfe in battell aray to meete the Aramites, they fought with him.

18 But the Aramites fled before Israel, and Dauid destroyed of the Aramites [i] seuen thousand charets, and fourty thousand footmen, and killed Shophach the captaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer saw that they fell before Israel, they made peace with Dauid, and serued him. And the Aramites wolde no more succour the children of Ammon.

1 Rabbah destroyed. 3 The Ammonites tormented. 4 The Philistims are thrise ouercome with their gyants.

AND [a] when the yeere was expired, in the time that Kings goe out a warfare, Ioab caried out the strength of the armie, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came and besieged [b] Rabbah (but Dauid tarried at Ierusalem) and Ioab smote Rabbah and destroyed it.

2 [c] Then Dauid tooke the crowne of their King from off his heade, and founde it the weight of a [d] talent of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Dauids head, and he brought away the spoyle of the citie exceeding much.

3 And he caried away the people that were in it, and put them with sawes, and with harrowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ierusalem.

4 ¶ [e] And after this also, there arose warre at [f] Gezer with the Philistims: then Sibbechai the Hushathite slewe [g] Sippai, of the children of [h] Raraphah, and they were vbdued.

5 And there was yet another battell with the Philistims: and Elhanan the sonne of Iair slewe [i] Lahmi, the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose speare staffe was like a weauers beame.

6 And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by [k] sixes, euen fourre and twentie, and was also the sonne of Raraphah.

7 And when he reuiled Israel, Ionathan the sonne of Shimea Dauids brother did slay him.

8 These were borne vnto Raraphah at Gath, and fell by the hand of Dauid, and by the hands of his seruants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid commaundeth the people to be numbred, 14 and there die seuenty thousand men of the pestilence.

AND [a] Satan stood vp against Israel, and prouoked Dauid to number Israel.

2 Therefore Dauid sayde to Ioab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe, and number Israel from [b] Beer-sheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Ioab answered, The Lorde encrease his people an hundred times so many as they be. O my lord the king: are they not all my lords seruantes? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why should he be a cause of [c] trespasse to Israel?

4 Neuertheless the kings worde preuailed against Ioab. And Ioab departed and went thorow all Israel, and returned to Ierusalem.

5 And Ioab gaue the number & summe of the people vnto Dauid: & all Israel were [d] eleuen hundred thousande men that drewe sworde: and Iudah was [e] foure hundreth and threttie thousande men that drewe sworde.

6 But the Leuites & Beniamin counted he not among them: for the kings worde was abominable to Ioab.

7 ¶ And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israel.

8 Then Dauid sayde vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now I beseech thee, remoue the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto God Dauids [f] Seer, saying,

10 Goe and tell Dauid, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde, I offer thee three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may doe it vnto thee.

11 So God came to Dauid, and sayd vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thee

12 Either three yeeres famine, or three moneths to bee destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sworde of thine enemies [g] to take thee, or els the sworde of the Lorde and pestilence in the lande three dayes, that the Angell of the Lorde may destroy throughout all the coastes of Israel.

13 And Dauid sayd vnto God, I am in a wonderfull straite: let me nowe fall into the hand of the LORD: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the LORD sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seuentie thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroy it. And as he was destroying, the LORD beheld, and repented of the euill, and sayde to the Angel that destroyed, It is nowe enough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the LORD stoode by the threshing floore of ‖ Ornan the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the LORD stand betweene the earth and the heauen with his sword drawen in his hand, and stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israel, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid sayd vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euill, but these sheepe, what haue they done? O LORD my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on mee, and on my fathers house, and not on [a] thy people for their destruction.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the LORD commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should goe vp, and set vp an altar vnto the LORD in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the Name of the LORD.

20 And Ornan turned about, and sawe the Angel, & his foure sonnes that were with him, [b] hid themselues, and Ornan threshed wheate.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and sawe Dauid, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid sayd to Ornan, Giue me the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an [c] altar therein vnto the LORD: giue it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be staied from the people.

23 Then Ornan said vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king doe that which seemeth him good: loe, I giue thee bullocks for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheate for meate offering, I giue it all.

24 And king Dauid said to Ornan, Not so: but I will buy it for sufficient money: for I will not take that which is thine for the LORD, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place [d] six hundreth shekels of golde by weight.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the LORD, & offered burnt offrings and peace offerings, and called vpon the LORD, and he [e] answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the LORD had spoken to the Angel, he put vp his sword againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when Dauid saw that the LORD had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite, then he sacrificed there.

29 (But the tabernacle of the LORD which Moses had made in the wilderneſſe, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the hie place at Gibeon.

1 Dauid prepareth things necessarie for the building of the Temple. 6 His commandement to his sonne Salomon to build the Temple of the Lorde, which thing he himselfe was forbidden to doe. 9 Vnder the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

AND Dauid sayde, This is the [a] house of the LORD God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the [b] strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

3 Dauid also prepared much yron for the nailes of the doores and of the gates, and for the ioynings, & abundance of braſſe passing weight,

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus brought much Cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid sayde, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and wee must builde an house for the LORD, magnificall, excellent, and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreys. I will therefore nowe prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the LORD God of Israel.

7 And Dauid sayde to Salomon, [c] My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to builde an house to the Name of the LORD my God,

8 But the word of the LORD came to me, saying, [d] Thou hast shed much blood, and hast made great battels: thou shalt not builde an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

† Dauid being old, ordaineth Salomon king. 3 He causeth the Leuites to be numbred, 4 and appointeth them to their offices. 13 Leuites and the sonnes are for the hie Priest. 14 The sonnes of Moses.

SO when Dauid was old and full of dates, * hee made Salomon his sonne king ouer Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priestes and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirtie yeere and aboue, and their number according to their ‖ nimme was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set † to aduance the worke of the house of the Lord, and fiue thousand were ouerseers and Iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, and foure thousand praised the Lord with instruments which ‡ he made to praise the Lord.

6 * So Dauid deuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leui, to * Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershonites were ‖ Laadan and Shimei.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Iehiel, and Zetham, and Ioel, three.

9 The sonnes of Shimei, Shelomith and Haziel, and Haram, three: these were the chiefe fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimei were Iahath, Zina, Ieush, and Beriah: these foure were the sonnes of Shimei.

11 And Iahath was the chiefe, and Izhah the second, but Ieush and Beriah had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Vzziel, foure.

13 * The sonnes of Amram, Aaron, and Moses: and Aaron was separated to * sanctifie the most holy place, hee and his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for euer.

14 ¶ Moses also the man of God, and his children were named with the b tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moses were Gershom, and Eliezer.

16 Of the sonnes of * Gershom was Shebuel the chiefe.

17 And the sonne of Eliezer was Rehabiah the chiefe: for Eliezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiah were very many.

18 The sonne of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Ieriah the first, Amariah ‖ second, Iahaziel the third, and Iekameam the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Micah the first, and Iishiah the second.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sonnes, but daughters, ‖ their † brethren the sonnes of Kish tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ieremoth, three.

24 These were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names and their summe that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord from the age of twentie yeeres and aboue.

25 For Dauid sayde, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Ierusalem for euer.

26 And also the Leuites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last words of Dauid, the Leuites were numbred from twentie yeere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lorde in the courtes, and chambers, ‖ in the † purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God, Dauid assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

THese are also the [a] deuisions of the sonnes of Aaron. The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died [a] before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar, and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

3 And Dauid distributed them, euen Zadok of the [‖] sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministration.

4 And there were found mo of the sonnes of Eleazar by the [‡] number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar, and they diuided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixteene heads, according to the houshold of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the houshold of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuary, and the rulers of the house of God, were of the sonnes of Eleazar, and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the sonne of Nethaneel the Scribe of the Leuites, wrote them before the King and the Princes, and Zadok the priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, and before the chiefe fathers of the priests and of the Leuites, one family being reserued for Eleazar, and another reserued for Ithamar.

7 And the first [b] lot fell to Iehoiarib, and the second to Iedaiah,

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchiah, the sixt to Miamin,

10 The seuenth to Hakkoz, the eight to [c] Abiah,

18 The three and twentie to Delaiah, the four and twenty to Maaziah.

19 These were their orders according to their offices, when they entred into the house of the Lord according to their custome vnder the [d] hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commaunded him.

20 ¶ And of the sonnes of Leui that remained of the sonnes of Amram, was Shubael, of the sonnes of Shubael, Iehedeiah.

21 Of Rehabiah, euen of the sonnes of Rehabiah, the first Isshiah.

22 Of Izhari, Shelomoth, of the sonnes of Shelomoth, Iahath, 23 And his sonnes Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the third, and Iekameam the fourth, 24 The sonne of Vzziel, was Michah, the sonne of Michah was Shamir.

25 The brother of Michah, was Isshiah, the sonne of Isshiah, Zechariah, 26 The sonnes of Merari, were Mahli, and Mushi, the sonne of Iaaziah, was Beno, 27 The sonnes of Merari, of Iahaziah were Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ibri.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, which had no sonnes.

29 Of Kish the sonne of Kish was Ierahmeel,

30 And the sonnes of [e] Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth: these were sonnes of the Leuites after the houshold of their fathers.

31 And these also cast [f] lots with their brethren the sonnes of Aaron before King Dauid, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chiefe fathers of the Priestes, and of the Leuites, euen the chiefe of the families against their yonger brethren.

COncerning the ‖ diuisions of the porters, of the Korhites, Meshelemiah the sonne of Kore of the sonnes of a Asaph.

a This Asaph was not the notable musitian, but another of that name, called also Ebiasaph, Chap. 6. 33, 37 and 6. 39 and also Iasaph.

2 And the sonnes of Meshelemiah, Zechariah the eldest, Iadiael the second, Zebadiah the third, Iathniel the fourth,

3 Elam the fift, Iehohanan the sixt, and Eliehoenai the seuenth.

4 And of the sonnes of Obed Edom, Shemaiah the eldest, Iehozabad the second, Ioah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nethaneel the fift, 5 Ammiel the sixt, Issachar the seuenth, Peulthai ✣ eight: for God had b blessed him.

b In giuing him many children.

6 And to Shemaiah his sonne, were sonnes borne that c ruled in the house of their father: for they were men of might.

c Or, like their fathers house, meaning, worthy men and valiant.

7 The sonnes of Shemaiah were Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad and his brethren strong men: Eliu also, and Semachiah.

8 All these were of the ‖ sonnes of Obed Edom, they and their sonnes and their brethren mighty ✣ d strong to serue, euen three score and two of Obed Edom.

‖Or, Nephewes.

d And meete to serue in the office of the porter-ship.

9 And of Meshelemiah sonnes and brethren, eighteene mighty men.

10 And of Hosah of the sonnes of Merari, the sonnes were Shuri the chiefe, and (though he was not the eldest, yet his father made him the chiefe)

11 Helkiah ‖ second, Tebaliah the third, and Zechariah the fourth: all the sonnes and the brethren of Hosah were thirteene.

‖Or, cousin.

12 Of these were the ‖ diuisions of the porters of the chiefe men, hauing the charge e against their brethren, to serue in the house of the Lord.

‖Or, courses.

e According to their turnes, aswell the one as the other.

13 And they cast lottes both small and great for the house of their fathers, for euery gate.

14 And the lot on the Eastside fell to ‖ Shelemiah: then they cast lots for Zechariah his sonne, f a wise counseller, and his lot came out Northward:

‖Or, Meshelemiah.

f One expert and meete to keepe that gate,

15 To Obed Edom Southward, and to his sonnes the house of g Asuppim:

g This was an house, where they vsed to resort to consult of things concerning the Temple, as a Conuocation house.

16 To Shuppim, and to Hosah Westward with the gate h of Shallecheth by the paued streete that goeth vpward, ward ouer against ward.

h Where they vsed to cast out the filth of the citie.

17 Eastwarde were sixe Leuites, and Northward foure a day, and Southwarde foure a day, and toward Asuppim, i two and two.

i Meaning, two one day, and two another,

18 In k Parbar toward the West were foure by the paued streete, and two in Parbar.

k Which was an house wherein they kept the instruments of the Temple.

19 These are the diuisions of the Porters of the sonnes of Kore, and of the sonnes of Merari.

20 ¶ And of the Leuites Ahiah was ouer the treasures of the house of God, and ouer the treasures of the dedicate things.

21 Of the sonnes of Laadan the sonnes of the Gershumites descending of Laadan, the chiefe fathers of Laadan were Gershunni and Iehieli.

22 The sonnes of Iehieli were Zetham and Joel his brother appointed ouer the treasures of the house of the Lord.

23 Of the l Amramites, of the Izharites, of the Hebronites, and of the Uzielites.

l These also had charge ouer the treasures.

24 And Shebuel the son of Gershom the sonne of Moses, a ruler ouer the treasures.

25 And of his ‖ brethren, which came of Eliezer, was Rehabiah his sonne, and Iesaiah ‖Or, cosins.

Iehdiah his sonne, and Iozam his sonne, and Zichri his sonne, and Shelomith his sonne.

26 Which Shelomith and his brethren were ouer all the treasures of the dedicate things, which Dauid the king, and the chiefe fathers, the captains ouer thousands & hundreths, and the captaines of the army had dedicated.

27 (For of the battels and of the spoyles they did dedicate to maintaine the house of the Lord)

28 And all that Samuel the Seer had dedicate, and Saul the sonne of Kish, & Abner the sonne of Ner, and Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah, and whosoeuer had dedicate any thing, it was vnder the hand of Shelomith, and his brethren.

29 Of the Izharites was Chenaniah and his sonnes, for the businesse without ouer Israel, for officers and for iudges.

30 Of the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brethren, men of actiuitie, a thousand, and seuen hundreth were officers for Israel beyond Iorden Westward, in all the businesse of the Lord, & for the seruice of the king.

31 Among the Hebronites was Ieriah the chiefest, euen the Hebronites, by his generations according to the families. And in the fourtieth yeere of the reigne of Dauid they were sought for: and there were found among them men of actiuitie at Iazer in Gilead.

32 And his brethren men of activity, two thousand and seuen hundreth chiefe fathers, whom king Dauid made rulers ouer the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, for euery matter pertaining to God, and for the kings businesse.

a According as the Lord commanded, Num. 31.28.

2 Ouer the first course for the first moneth was Iashobeam the sonne of Zabdiel: & in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

3 Of the sonnes of Perez was the chiefe ouer all the princes of the armies for the first moneth.

4 And ouer the course of the second moneth was Dodai, an Ahohite, and this was his course, and Mikloth was a captaine, and in his course were foure & twenty thousand.

h That is, Dodai lieutenant.

5 The captaine of the third hoste for the third moneth was Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada the chiefe Priest: & in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

i 2 Sam. 23.20. 1 Chron. 11.22.

6 This Benaiah was mightie among thirty & aboue the thirtie, and in his course was Ammizabad his sonne.

7 The fourth for the fourth moneth was Asahel the brother of Ioab, & Zebadiah his sonne after him: and in his course were foure and twenty thousand.

8 The fift for the fift moneth was prince Shamhuth the Izrahite: and in his course foure and twenty thousand.

9 The sixt for the sixt moneth was Ira the sonne of Ikkesh the Tekoite: and in his course foure and twenty thousand.

10 The seuenth for the seuenth moneth was Helez the Pelonite, of the sonnes of Ephraim: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

11 The eight for the eight moneth was Sibbecai the Hushathite of the Zarhites: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

12 The ninth for the ninth moneth was Abiezer the Anethothite of the sonnes of Ieremini: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

k Or, Benjamin.

13 The tenth for the tenth moneth was Maharai, the Netophathite of the Zarhites: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

14 The eleuenth for the eleuenth moneth was Benaiah the Piratonite of the sonnes of Ephraim: & in his course foure and twenty thousand.

15 The twelfe for the twelfe moneth was Heldai the Netophathite, of Othniel: and in his course foure and twenty thousand.

16 Moreouer the rulers ouer the tribes of Israel were these: ouer the Reubenites was ruler, Eliezer the sonne of Zichri: ouer the Shimeonites, Shephatiah the sonne of Maachah:

l Meaning, beside these twelue captaines.

17 Ouer the Leuites, Hashabiah the sonne of Kemuel: ouer them of Aharon, and Zadok:

18 Ouer Iudah, Elihu of the brethren of Dauid: ouer Issachar, Omri the sonne of Michael:

19 Ouer Zebulun, Ishmaiah the sonne of Obadiah: ouer Naphtali, Ieremoth the sonne of Azriel:

20 Ouer the sonnes of Ephraim, Hoshea the sonne of Azaziah: ouer the halfe tribe of Manasseh, Ioel the sonne of Pedaiah:

21 Ouer the other halfe of Manasseh in Gilead, Iddo the sonne of Zechariah: ouer Beniamin, Iaasiel the sonne of Abner:

m Which is beyond Iorden in respect of Iudah: also one captaine was ouer the Reubenites and the Gadites. Chap.21.7.

22 Ouer Dan, Azareel the sonne of Ieroham: these are the princes of the tribes of Israel.

n And the commandement of the king was abominable to Ioab, 21.6.

23 But Dauid tooke not the number of them from twenty yeere olde and vnder, because the Lord had sayd that he would increase Israel like vnto the starres of the heauens.

o The Ebrewes make both these bookes of Chronicles but one, and at this verse make the ende of the booke, as touching the number of verses, 24 And Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah began to number: but he finished it not, because there came wrath for it against Israel, neither was the number put into the Chronicles of king Dauid.

25 And ouer the Kings treasures was Azmaueth the sonne of Adiel: and ouer the treasures in the fieldes, in the cities and in the villages and in the towers was Ieho-Jehonatham the sonne of Uzziah.

26 And ouer the workemen in the field that tilled the ground, was Ezri the sonne of Chelub:

27 And ouer them that dressed the vines, was Shimei the Ramathite: and ouer that which appertained to the vines, and ouer the store of the wine was Sabdi the Shiphmite:

28 And ouer the olive trees and mulbery trees that were in the valleys, was Baal Hanan the Gederite: and ouer the store of the oyle was Joash:

29 And ouer the oxen that fed in Sharon, was Shetrai the Sharonite: and ouer the oxen in the valleys was Shaphat the sonne of Adlai:

30 And ouer the camels was Obil the Ishmaelite: and ouer the asses was Jehediah the Meronothite:

31 And ouer the sheepe was Jaziz, the Hagarite: all these were the rulers of the substance that was king Dauids.

32 And Jehonathan Dauids vncle a man of counsel and of understanding (for he was a scribe) and Jehiel the sonne of Hachmoni were with the kings [h] sonnes.

33 And Ahitophel was the kings counseller, & Hushai the Archite the kings friend.

34 And [i] after Ahitophel was Jehoiada the sonne of Benaiah & Abiathar: and captaine of the kings army was Joab.

g That is, a man learned in the word of God.
h To be their schoolemasters and teachers.
i After that Ahitophel had hanged himselfe, 2. Sam. 17.23. Iehoiada was made counseller.

CHAP. XXVIII.

3 Because Dauid was forbidden to build the temple, he willeth Salomon and the people to performe it, 8 Exhorting him to feare the Lord.

NOw Dauid assembled all the princes of Israel: the princes of the tribes, and the captaines of the bands that serued the king, and the captaines of thousands, and the captaines of hundreths, and the rulers of all the substance and possession of the king, & of his sonnes, with the [*] Eunuches, and the mighty and all the men of power, vnto Jerusalem.

2 And king Dauid stoode vp vpon his feet, and said, Heare me, my brethren & my people: I purposed to haue built an house of [a] rest for the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and for a [*] footestoole of our God, and haue made readie for the building,

3 But God said vnto me, [*] Thou shalt not build an house for my Name, because thou hast bene a man of warre, and hast shed blood.

4 Yet as the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be King ouer Israel for euer (for in Iudah would he chuse a prince, and of the house of [b] Iudah is the house of my father, & among the sonnes of my father he delited in me to make me king ouer all Israel)

5 [*] Of all my sonnes (for the Lord hath giuen me many sonnes) he hath euen chosen Salomon my sonne to sit vpon the throne of the kingdome of [†] Lord ouer Israel.

6 And he said vnto me, Salomon thy sonne, he shall build mine house & my courts: for I haue chosen him to be my sonne, and I will be his father.

7 I will stablish therefore his kingdome for euer, if he endeuour himselfe to doe my commaundements, and my iudgements, as this day.

8 Now therefore in the sight of all Israel the Congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keepe and seeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that ye may possesse this [d] good land, & leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you [e] for euer.

9 And thou, Salomon my sonne, know thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a perfite heart, & with a willing mind; [*] For the Lord searcheth all hearts, and vnderstandeth all [f] imaginations of thoughts: if thou seeke him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.

10 Take heed now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build [g] the house of the Sanctuarie: be strong therefore, and [h] doe it.

11 ¶ Then Dauid gaue to Salomon his sonne the paterne of the porche and of the houses thereof, and of the closets thereof, and of the galeries thereof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, & of the house of the Mercy seate,

12 And the paterne of all that [i] he had in his mind for the courtes of the house of the Lord, and for all the chambers round about, for the treasures of the house of God, and for the treasures of the dedicate things,

13 And for the courses of the Priests, and of the Leuites, and for all the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord, and for all the vessels of the ministerie of the house of the Lord.

14 Hee gaue [k] golde by weight, for the vessels of golde, for all the vessels of all maner of seruice, and all the vessels of siluer by weight, for all maner vessels of all maner of seruice.

15 The weight also of gold for the [l] candlesticks, and gold for their lamps, with the weight for euery candlestick, and for the lampes thereof, and for the candlesticks of siluer by the weight of the candlestick, and the lamps thereof, according to the vse of euery candlestick,

16 And the weight of the gold for the tables of the shewbread, for euery table, and siluer for the tables of siluer,

17 And pure gold for the fleshhookes, and the bowles, and [j] plates, and for basins, gold in weight for euery basin, & for siluer basins, by weight for euery basin,

18 And for the altar of incense pure gold by weight, and gold for the paterne of [*] the charet of the Cherubes that spread themselues, and couered the Arke of the couenant of the Lord.

19 All, said he, by writing sent to me [k] by the hand of the Lord, which made mee vnderstand all the workemanship of the paterne.

20 And Dauid sayde to Salomon his sonne, Be strong, and of a valiant courage & doe it: feare not, nor be afraid: for the Lord God, euen my God is with thee: he will not leaue thee nor forsake thee, till thou haue finished all the worke for the seruice of the house

CHAP. XXIX.

2 The offering of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid giueth thanks to the Lord. 20 Hee exhorteth the people to doe the same. 22 Salomon is created king. 28 Dauid dieth, and Salomon his sonne reigneth in his stead.

MOreouer Dauid the king sayde vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne yong and tender, and the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the [a] Lord God.

2 Nowe I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasse for things of brasse, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and Onix stones, and stones to bee set, and carbuncle stones, and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones, in abundance.

3 Moreouer, because I haue [b] delight in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuarie,

4 Euen * three thousand talents of golde of the golde of Ophir, and seuen thousand talentes of fined siluer to ouerlay the walles of the houses,

5 The golde for the things of golde, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the handes of artificers: and who is [d] willing ‖ to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaines of thousands and of hundreths, with the rulers of the kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God fiue thousand talents of golde, and ten thousand pieces, and ten thousande talents of siluer, and eighteene thousande talents of brasse, and one hundreth thousande talentes of yron.

8 And they with whome precious stones were [e] found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Iehiel the Gershunnite.

9 And the people reioyced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a [f] perfect heart. And Dauid the King also [g] reioyced with great ioy.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and Dauid sayd, Blessed bee thou, O Lorde God of [h] Israel our father, for euermore and euer.

11 Thine O Lord, is greatnesse, & power, and glory, and victorie, and prayse: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lorde, and thou exceltest as head ouer all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 Now therefore our God we thanke thee, and prayse thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we should bee able to offer willingly after this sort? for all things [k] come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

15 For we are [l] strangers before thee, and sojourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadow vpon the earth, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lorde our God all this abundance that we haue prepared to builde thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine hand, and all is thine.

17 I know also, my God, that thou * triest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousnes: I haue offered willingly in the vprightnesse of mine heart all these things: now also haue I seene thy people which are found here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioy.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Isaak and Israel our fathers, keepe this for euer in the [m] purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

19 And giue vnto Salomon my sonne a perfite heart to keepe thy commandements, thy testimonies and thy statutes, and to doe all things, and to builde the house which I haue prepared.

20 ¶ And Dauid said to all the Congregation, Nowe blesse the Lorde your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lorde God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lorde, and the [n] king.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lorde, and on the morowe after that day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand yong bullockes, a thousande rammes, and a thousand sheepe, with their * drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eate, and drinke, before the Lorde the same day with great ioy. And they made Salomon the sonne of Dauid king the seconde time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the hie Priest.

23 So Salomon sate on the * throne of the Lorde, as king in stead of Dauid his father, and prospered: & all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes & men of power, and all the sonnes of king Dauid ‡ submitted themselues vnder king Salomon.

25 And the Lorde magnified Salomon in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no king had before him in Israel.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis second booke conteineth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, & the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First, that the godly Kings, when they saw the plagues of God prepared against their countrey for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remooued. The second, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him and professe his religion, should ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers euer loued the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set foorth his religion throughout al their dominions, & contrariwise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and set the true religion and word of God, set vp idolatrie, & serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we hither to the chief actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Darius, and contains in the whole three thousand fiue hundreth, threescore and eighteene yeres, and fiue moneths.

CHAP. I.

6 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdome. 11 Which he giueth him and more. 14 The number of his chariots and horse, 15 And of his riches.

[1] THen Salomon the sonne of Dauid was confirmed in his kingdome: and the LORD his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

2 And Salomon * spake vnto al Israel, to the captaines of thousands, and of hundreths, and to the iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israel, euen the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the high place that was at b Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle c of the Congregation of God which Moses the seruant of the LORDE had made in the wildernesse.

4 But the Arke of GOD had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-iearim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

5 Moreouer the d brasen altar * that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the LORDE: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offered there before the LORDE vpon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: * euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

7 ¶ The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, and sayde vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon sayd vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Nowe therefore, O LORDE God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be true: for thou hast made me king ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me nowe wisedome and knowledge, that I may f goe out and goe in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God sayde to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures, nor honour, nor the g liues of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisedome and knowledge, that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee king,

12 Wisedome and knowledge is graunted vnto thee, and I will giue thee riches, and treasures and honour, so that there hath not beene the like among the kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the hie place that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 * And Salomon gathered the charets and horsemen: and hee had a thousande and foure hundreth charettes, and twelue thousande horsemen, whome hee placed in the h charet cities, and with the king at Ierusalem.

15 And the king gaue siluer and gold at Ierusalem as i stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figge trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt and * fine linnen: k the kings merchants receiued the fine linnen for a price.

17 They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some charet, foorth sixe hundreth shekels of siluer, that is, an horse for an hundreth and fifete: and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites, and to the kings of Aram by their * meanes.

2 The number of Salomons workemen to build the Temple. 3 Salomon sendeth to Huram the king of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

THen Salomon determined to build an house for the Name of the Lord, and an ‖house for his kingdome.

2 And Salomon tolde out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, and fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and a fyue hundred to ouersee them.

3 And Salomon sent to ‖Huram the king of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and diddest * send him Cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

4 Beholde, I builde an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shewbread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning, and euening, on the Sabbath dayes, and in the new moneths, and in the solemne feastes of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is hee then that can bee able to build him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens can not containe him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I doe it to burne incense before him.

7 Send mee nowe therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, in siluer, and in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and ‖crimosin, & blue silke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with mee in Iudah and in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send me also Cedar trees, fyre trees and * ‖Algummim trees from Lebanon: for I knowe that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and beholde, my seruants shalbe with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I doe build, is great and wonderfull.

10 And beholde, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timber, twentie thousand ✣ measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand baths of wine, and twentie ✣ thousand baths of oyle.

11 Then Huram king of Tyrus answered in writing which hee sent to Salomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, hee hath made thee king ouer them.

12 Huram sayd moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the king a * wise sonne that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to builde an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Nowe therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hurams, 14 The sonne of a woman of the ‖ daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, and he can skill to worke in gold, in siluer, in brasse, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue silke, and in fine linnen, and in crimosin, and can graue in all grauen workes, and broider in all broidered worke that shall bee giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Nowe therefore the wheate and the barley, the oyle, and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And wee will cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in ‖ rafts by the sea to ‖Iapho, so thou mayest carie them to Ierusalem.

17 ¶ And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbring that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundreth and three and fiftie thousand, and fyue hundreth.

18 And he set seuentie thousand of them to the burden, and fourescore thousand to hew stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and fyue hundreth ouerseers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

1 The Temple of the Lord, and the porch are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

THen * Salomon began to build the house of the Lord in Ierusalem, in Mount a Moriah which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of * Ornan the Iebusite.

2 And hee began to build in the second moneth and the second day, in the fourth yere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures whereon Salomon grounded to build the house of God: the length of cubites after the first ‖ measure was three score cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites:

4 And the porch, that was before the length in the front * of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an ✣ hundreth and twentie, and he ouerlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater house hee sieled with firre tree which hee ouerlayd with good gold, and grauen therein palme trees and chaines.

6 And hee ouerlayd the house with precious stone for beautie: and the golde was gold of ‖ Paruaim.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles therof, and the doores therof ouerlayd hee with golde, and grauen Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ Hee made also the house of the most holy place: the length therof was in the front of the breadth of the house twentie cubites, and the breadth therof twentie cubites: and hee ouerlaid it with the best gold, of fyue hundreth talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie shekels of gold, and hee ouerlaid the chambers with gold.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, joyning to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twentie cubites: they stoode on their feete, and their faces were towarde the house.

14 ¶ Hee made also [e] the vaile of blue silke, and purple, and crimosin, and fine linnen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 ¶ And hee made before the house two pillars [f] of five and thirtie cubites hie: and the chapiter that was upon the top of eche of them, was five cubites.

16 Hee made also chaines for the Oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an [h] hundred pomegranates, and put them among the chaines.

17 And hee set up the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Jachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

1 The altar of brasse. 2 The molten Sea. 6 The caldrons. 7 The candlesticks, &c.

AND he made an altar of brasse twenty cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites high.

2 And hee made a molten [a] Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, round in compasse, and five cubites high: and a line of thirtie cubites did compasse it about.

3 And under [b] it was the fashion of oxen, which did compasse it round about, [c] ten in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stoode upon the twelve oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, and three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stoode above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickenesse thereof was an hand breadth, and the brimme thereof was like the worke of a brimme of a cup, with floures of [i] Lilies: it contained [d] three thousand baths.

6 ¶ He made also ten calvpons, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them, and to clense in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 ¶ And hee made ten candlesticks of golde, (according to [e] their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 ¶ And hee made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and hee made an hundreth basons of gold.

9 And he made the court of the Priests, and the great [f] Court, and doores for the Court, and overlayed the doores thereof with brasse.

10 And hee set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made [j] pots, and besoms, and basens, and Huram finished the worke that hee should make for king Salomon for the house of God,

12 To wit, two pillars, and the bowels and the chapiters on the top of the two pillars, & two grates to couer the two bowels of the chapiters, which were vpon the top of the pillars:

13 And foure hundreth pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for every grate to couer the two bowels of the chapiters, which were vpon the pillars.

14 Hee made also bases, and made caldrons vpon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelue bulles vnder it:

16 Pots also and besoms, and fleshhookes, and all these vessels made Huram his [g] father to king Salomon for the house of the Lord, of shining brasse.

17 In the plaine of Jorden did the king cast them in clay betweene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasse could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also & the tables, whereon the [h] shewbread stood.

20 Moreouer the candlesticks, with their lamps to burne them after the maner, before the Oracle, of pure gold:

21 And the flowres, and the lampes, and the snuffers of gold, which was fine gold:

22 And the [j] bookes, and the basens, and the spoones, and the [k] pans of pure golde: the entrie also of the house and doores thereof within, euen of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were [l] of golde.

4 And all the elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the Arke.

5 And they carted vp the Arke, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: & all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests & Leuites bring vp.

6 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering sheepe and bullockes, which could not be told nor numbred for multitude.

7 So the Priestes brought the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the most holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubins.

8 For the Cherubins stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubins couered the Arke, & the barres thereof aboue.

9 And they drewe out the barres, that the endes of the barres might bee seene out of the arke before the Oracle, but they were not seene ‖ without: and there they are vnto this day.

12 And the Leuites ‖ singers of all sorts, as of Asaph, of Heman, of Iedithum, and of their sonnes & of their brethren, being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, and with viols and harpes at the East ende of the altar, and with them an hundred and twentie priests blowing with trumpets:

‖Or, singers.

13 And they were f as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to be heard in praysing and thanking the Lorde, and when they lift vp their voice with trumpets and with cymbals, and with instruments of musicke, and when they praised the Lord, singing, g For he is good, because his mercy lasteth for euer: then the house, euen the house of the Lorde was filled with a cloud, f They agreed all in one tune.

14 So that the priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomon blesseth the people. 4 He praiseth the Lord. 14 He prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

1. King 8. 12.

THen h Salomon i sayd, The Lord hath sayd, that he would dwell in the darke cloud:

h After that he had seene the glory of the Lord in the cloud.

2 And I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for euer.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel, (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there.)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his ‖ hand fulfilled it, saying,

‖Or, power.

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israel to build an ‖house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel:

‖Or, Temple.

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 * And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

2. Sam. 7. 3.

8 But the Lord said to Dauid my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou didst well that ‡thou wast so minded.

‡Ebr. that it was in thine heart.

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne which shall come out of thy loines, he shall build an house vnto my Name.

10 And k the Lord hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen vp in k roume of Dauid my father, and am set on k throne of Israel, as the Lorde promised, and haue built an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the l Couenant of the Lord, that hee made with the children of Israel.

l Meaning, the two Tables, wherein is conteined the effect of the couenant, that God made with our fathers.

12 ¶ And the king m stood before the altar of the Lord in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands, m On a scaffold that was made for that purpose, that he praying for the whole people might be heard of all, as 1. King. 8. 22.

13 (For Salomon had made a brasen scaffold and set it in the mids of the court, of fiue cubites long, and fiue cubites broad, and three cubites of height, and vpon it he stood, and kneeled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, & stretched out his hands toward heauen)

14 And sayd, O Lorde God of Israel, n there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepest couenaunt, and mercy vnto thy seruaunts, that walke before thee with all their heart.

n Both to giue thankes for the great benefits of God bestowed vpon him, and also to pray for the perseuerance and prosperitie of his people.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

2. Mac. 2. 8.

16 Therefore nowe Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruaunt Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou ‡ shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that thy sonnes take heed to their wayes, to walke in my Lawe, as thou hast walked before me.

‖Or, in effect, or by thy power.

‡Ebr. a man shall not be cut off.

17 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let thy word be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (Is it true in deed that God will dwel with man on earth? Behold, the o heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to conteine thee: how much more vnable is this house, which I haue built?)

1. King. 8. 27.

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruaunt, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the cry and prayer which thy ſeruant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine eyes may be open toward this houſe day and night, euen toward the place, whereof thou haſt ſaid, that thou woulde ſt put thy Name there, that thou mayeſt hearken vnto the prayer, which thy ſeruaunt prayeth in this place.

21 Heare thou therefore the ſupplication of thy ſeruaunt, and of thy people Iſrael, which they pray in this place: & heare thou in the place of thine habitation, euen in heauen, and when thou heareſt, be mercifull.

22 ¶ *When a man ſhall ſinne againſt his neighbour, and he lay vpon him an othe to cauſe him to ſweare, & the ‡ ſwearer ſhall come before thine altar in this houſe,

23 Then heare thou in heauen, and doe, and iudge thy ſeruants, in recompenſing the wicked to bring his way vpon his head, & in iuſtifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteouſneſſe.

24 ¶ And when thy people Iſrael ſhall be ouerthrowen before the enemie, becauſe they haue ſinned againſt thee, and turne againe and ‖ confeſſe thy Name, and pray, and make ſupplication before thee in this houſe, 25 Then heare thou in heauen, and bee mercifull vnto the ſinne of thy people Iſrael, and bring them againe vnto the lande which thou gaueſt to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen ſhall be ſhut vp, & there ſhall be no raine, becauſe they haue ſinned againſt thee, and ſhall pray in this place, and confeſſe thy Name, and ‖ turne from their ſinne, when thou doeſt afflict them,

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and pardon the ſinne of thy ſeruants, & of thy people Iſrael (when thou haſt taught them y good way wherein they may walke) & giue raine vpon thy land, which thou haſt giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ *When there ſhall be famine in the land, when there ſhalbe peſtilence, blaſting, or mildewe, whē there ſhalbe graſhopper, or caterpiller, when their enemie ſhall beſiege them ‡ in y cities of their land, or any plague or any ſickneſſe,

29 Then what prayer and ſupplication ſoeuer ſhall be made of any man, or of all thy people Iſrael, when euery one ſhall knowe his owne plague, and his owne diſeaſe, and ſhall ſtretch foorth his handes toward this houſe,

30 Heare thou then in heauen, thy dwelling place, and bee mercifull, and giue euery man according vnto all his wayes, as thou doeſt know his ‖ heart (for thou onely knoweſt the hearts of the children of men)

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gaueſt vnto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreouer, as touching the ſtranger which is not of thy people Iſrael, who ſhall come out of a farre countrey for thy great Names ſake, and thy mightie hand, and thy ſtretched out arme: when they ſhal come and i pray in this houſe,

33 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may know thy Name, and feare thee like thy people Iſrael, and that they may know, that thy Name is called vpon in this houſe which I haue built.

34 ¶ When thy people ſhall goe out to battel againſt their enemies, by the way that k thou ſhalt ſend them, and they pray to thee, ‖ in the way toward this citie, which thou haſt choſen, and toward the houſe which I haue built to thy Name,

35 Then heare thou in heauen their prayer and their ſupplication, and iudge their cauſe.

36 If they ſinne againſt thee (* for there is no man that ſinneth not) and thou be angry with them and deliuer them vnto the enemies, and they take them and carie them away captiue vnto a land farre or neere,

37 If they ‖ turne againe to their heart in the land whither they bee caried in captiues, and turne and pray vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie, ſaying, We haue ſinned, we haue trauigreſſed and haue done wickedly,

38 If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their ſoule in the land of their captiuitie, whither they haue caried them captiues, and pray toward their land, which thou gaueſt vnto their fathers, and toward the citie which thou haſt choſen, and toward the houſe which I haue built for thy Name,

39 Then heare thou in heauen, in the place of thine habitation their prayer and their ſupplication, and ‖ iudge their cauſe, and be merciful vnto thy people, which haue ſinned againſt thee.

40 Nowe my God, I beſeech thee, let thine eyes bee open, and thine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 * Now therefore ariſe, O Lord God, to come into thy l reſt, thou, and the Arke of thy ſtrength: O Lord God, let thy Prieſts bee clothed with m ſaluation, and let thy Saints reioyce in goodneſſe.

sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And king Salomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullockes, and an hundreth and twentie thousand sheepe. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priestes waited on their offices, and the Leuites with the instruments of musike of the Lord, which king Dauid had made to praise the Lord, Because his mercy lasteth for euer: when Dauid praysed God ‡ by them, the Priestes also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7 Moreouer Salomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offrings, because the brasen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receiue the burnt offering, and the meate offering, and the fat.

8 And Salomon made ᵇ a feast at that time of seuen dayes, ‡ all Israel with him, a very great congregation, from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

b The feast of the Tabernacles which was kept in the seuenth moneth.

9 And in the eight day they ᶜ made a solemne assembly: for they had made the dedication of the altar seuen dayes, and the feast seuen dayes.

c They assembled to heare the word of God after that they had remained seuen dayes in the boothes or Tabernacles.

10 And the ᵈ three and twentieth day of the seuenth moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, ioyous and with glad heart because of the goodnesse that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

d They had leaue to depart the two and twentieth day, 1. King. 8 66. but they went not away till the next day.

11 ¶ So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart, to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the Lord * appeared to Salomon by night, and said to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

* 1. King. 9. 1. Numb. 12. 6.

14 If my people, among whom my Name is called vpon, doe humble themselues and pray, and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen, and bee mercifull to their sinne, and will ‡ heale their land:

‡ I will cause the pestilence to cease and destroy the beasts that hurt the fruits of the earth, and send raine in due season.

15 Then mine eyes shalbe open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before mee, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe according vnto all that I haue commaunded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements, 18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

* Chap. 6. 16.

19 But if yee turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commandements which I haue set before you, and shall goe and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then will I plucke them vp out of my land which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue ‡ sanctified for my Name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to bee a prouerbe and a common talke among all people.

‡ Which thing declareth that God had more respect to their saluation, then to the aduancement of his owne glory: and whereas men abuse those things, which God hath appointed to set foorth his praise, he doeth withdraw his graces thence.

21 And this house which is most hie, shall be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by it, so that hee shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobah, and ouercame it.

c Meaning, of munitions and treasures for the warre.

5 And he built ᵈ Beth-horon the vpper, and Beth-horon the nether, cities defenced with walles, gates and barres:

d That is, he repaired and fortified them: for they were built long before by Sherah a noble woman of the tribe of Ephraim, 1. Chron. 6. 68. and 7. 24.

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of store that Salomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to builde in Ierusalem, and in * Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

‡ Ebr. to come vp to tribute.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes, and the captaines of his charets and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, euen ᶠ two hundreth and fiftie that bare rule ouer the people.

f For in all there were 3300 but here he meaneth of them that had the principall charge, as 1. King. 9. 23.

11 ¶ Then Salomon brought vp the daughter of Pharaoh out of the citie of Dauid, into the house that hee had built for her: for hee said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid King of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 ¶ Then Salomon offred burnt offrings vnto the Lord, on the * altar of the Lord which he had built before the porch, 13 To * offer according to the commandement of Moses ‖ euery day, in the Sabbaths, and in the newe moones, and in the solemne feastes, 2 three times in the yeere, that is, in the feast of the vnleauened bread, and in the feast of the weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacles.

14 And he set the courses of the Priests to their offices, according to the order of Dauid his father, and the Leuites in their wardes, for to prayse and minister before the Priests euery day, and the porters by * their courses, at euery gate: for so was the commandement of Dauid the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commaundement of the King, concerning the Priests and the Leuites, touching al things, and touching the treasures.

16 ¶ Nowe Salomon had made prouision for all the [h] worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, vntill it was finished: so the house of the Lord was perfite.

17 Then went Salomon to Ezion-geber, and to Eloth by the [i] sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Huram sent him by the hands of his seruants, shippes, and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence [k] foure hundreth and fiftie talents of golde, and brought them to king Salomon.

CHAP. IX.

1. 9 The Queene of Sheba commeth to see Salomon, and bringeth gifts. 13 His yeerely reuennes. 30 The time of his reigne. 31 His death.

AND * when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, shee came to a proue Salomon with hard questions at Ierusalem with a very great traine, and camels that bare sweete odours, and much golde, and precious stones: and when shee came to Salomon, shee communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was [b] nothing hid from Salomon, which he declared not vnto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba sawe the wisedome of Salomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the order of his waiters, and their apparell, and his butlers, and their apparell, and his ‖ burnt offrings, which hee offered in the house of the Lord, and she was ‡ greatly astonied.

5 And shee said to the King, It was a true word which I heard in mine owne land of thy ‖ sayings, and of thy wisedome:

6 Howbeit I beleeued not their reports, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy great wisdome was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants, which stand before thee alway and heare thy wisedome.

8 Blessed bee the Lorde thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on his * throne as King, in the steade of the Lorde thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to establish it for euer, therefore hath hee made thee king ouer them, to execute iudgement and iustice.

9 Then shee gaue the King fiscore talents of gold, ℥ of sweete odours exceeding much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweet odours since as the Queene of Sheba gaue vnto king Salomon.

10 And the seruants also of Huram, and the seruaunts of Salomon which brought golde from Ophir, brought [d] Algummim wood and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algummim wood * staires in the house of the Lorde, and in the Kings house, and harpes and violes for singers: and there was no such seene before in the land of Iudah.

12 And King Salomon gaue to the Queene of Sheba, euery pleasant thing that shee asked, [f] besides for that which shee had brought vnto the king: so she returned and went to her owne countrey, both she, and her seruants.

13 ¶ Also the weight of golde that came to Salomon in one yeere, was sixe hundreth, threescore and sixe talents of Gold, 14 Besides that which chapmen and merchants brought: and all the Kings of Arabia, and the princes of the countrey brought gold and siluer to Salomon.

15 And King Salomon made two hundreth targets of beaten golde, and [g] sixe hundreth shekels of beaten golde went to one target, 16 And three hundreth shields of beaten golde: three hundreth [h] shekels of golde went to one shielde, and the King put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the king made a great throne of yuorie, and ouerlaydit with pure golde.

18 And the throne had sixe steppes, with a footestoole of gold [i] fastened to the throne, and stayes on either side on the place of the seate, and two lyons standing by the [k] stayes.

19 And twelue lions stood there on the sixe steppes on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

20 And all King Salomons drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure gold: for siluer was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tarshish with the seruaunts of Huram, euery three yeere once came the ships of [l] Tarshish, and brought golde, and siluer, purple and apes, and peacockes.

22 So King Salomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisedome.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Salomon, to heare his wisedome that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of gold, and raiment, armour, and sweete odours, horses, and mules from yeere to yeere.

4. 14 The riger of Rehoboam. 13 He followeth lewd counsell. 16 The people rebell.

THen [1] Rehoboam [a] went to Shechem: for to Shechem came all Israel to make him king.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat heard it, (which was in Egypt, whither hee had fled from the presence of Salomon the king) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father [b] made our yoke grieuous: now therefore make thou the grieuous seruitude of thy father, and his sore yoke that he put vpon vs, lighter, ‡ we will serue thee.

5 And he said to them, Depart yet three dayes, then come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam tooke counsell with the olde men that had stood before Salomon his father, while he yet liued, saying, What counsell giue yee that I may answere this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and please them and speake louing words to them, they wil be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the yong men that were brought vp with him, and [c] waited on him.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsell giue yee, that we may answere this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the yong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My [d] least part shal be bigger then my fathers loynes.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grieuous yoke, I will yet increase your yoke: my father hath chastised you with rodes, but I will correct you with ‖scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the King had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the king answered them sharply: and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men, 14 And spake to them after the counsell of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with rods, but I wil correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the [e] ordinance of God, that the Lorde might perfourme his saying, which he had spoken ‡ by Ahijah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, [f] What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Iishai. O Israel, euery man to your tents: now see to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tents.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel, that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram that was ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he died: then king Rehoboam ‡ made speede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Ierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

14 For the Leuites left their ſuburbes, and their poſſeſſion, and came to Iudah and to Ieruſalem: * for Ieroboam & his ſonnes had caſt them out from miniſtring in the Prieſts office vnto the Lord.
15 * And he ordeined him prieſtes for the hie places, and for the d deuils, and for the calues which he had made.
16 And after the Leuites there came to Ieruſalem of all the tribes of Iſrael, ſuch as ſet their e hearts to ſeeke the Lorde God of Iſrael, to offer vnto the Lorde God of their fathers.
17 So they ſtrengthened the kingdome of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the ſonne of Salomon mighty, three yeere long: for three yere they f walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.
18 ¶ And Rehoboam tooke him Mahalath the daughter of Ierimoth the ſonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the ſonne of Iſhai,

AND when ‖ Rehoboam had eſtabliſhed the kingdome and made it ſtrong, hee forſooke the Law of the Lord, and a all Iſrael with him.
2 Therefore in the firſt yeere of king Rehoboam, Shiſhak the king of Egypt came vp againſt Ieruſalem (becauſe they had tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord), 6 Then the princes of Iſrael, and the King humbled themſelues, and ſayd, The Lord is d iuſt.

In the eighteenth yere of King Ieroboam, began Abiiah to reigne ouer a Iudah.
2 He reigned three yeere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was b Michaiah the daughter of c Uuiel of Gibea) and there was warre betweene Abiiah and Ieroboam.
3 And Abiiah set the battel in aray with the armie of valiant men of war, euen foure hundreth thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battell in aray against him with eight hundreth thousand chosen men, which were strong and valiant.
4 And Abiiah stood vp vpon mount d Zemaraim, which is in mour Ephraim, & said, O Ieroboam, and all Israel, heare you me,
5 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdom ouer Israel to e Dauid for euer, euen to him and to his sonnes by a couenant ‡ of salt?
6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, & hath h rebelled against his lord:
7 And there are gathered to him i vaine men & ‡ wicked, & made themselues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was k but a child and ‡ tender hearted, and could not resist them.
8 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdom of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, and the golden calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.
9 l Haue ye not driuen away the Priests of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, & haue made you priests like the people of other countreys? whosoeuer commeth to ‡ consecrate with a m yong bullocke and seuen rammes, the same may be a priest of the that are no gods.
10 But wee belong vnto the Lorde our God, & haue not forsaken him, & the Priests the sonnes of Aarō minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office.
11 And they burne vnto the Lord euery morning and euery euening burnt offrings and sweete incense, and the bread is set in order vpon the pure table, and the candlesticke of golde with the lampes thereof, to burne euery euening: for wee keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but yee haue forsaken him.
12 And behold, this God i is with vs as a captaine, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to cry an alarme against you. O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for yee shall not prosper.
13 ¶ But Ieroboam caused an ambushment n to compasse, and come behinde them, when they were before Iudah, and the ambushment behinde them.
14 Then Iudah looked, and behold, the battel was before and behinde them, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the Priestes blewe with the trumpets, 15 And the men of Iudah gaue a shoute: and euen as the men of Iudah shouted, God ‡ smote Ieroboam and also Israel before Abiiah and Iudah.
16 And o children of Israel fled before Iudah, & God deliuered them into their hand.
17 And Abiiah & his people slew a great slaughter of them, so that there fell downe wounded of Israel fiue hundreth thousand chosen men.
18 So p children of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the children of Iudah preuailed, q because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.
19 And Abiiah pursued after Ieroboam, and tooke cities from him, euen Beth-el, and the ‡ villages thereof, and Iesanah with her villages, and Ephron with her villages.
20 And Ieroboam recouered no strength againe in the dayes of Abiiah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.
21 So Abiiah waxed mightie, and maried fourteene wiues, and begate two and twentie sonnes, and sixteene daughters.
22 The rest of the acts of Abiiah, & his maners and his sayings are written in the storie of the Prophet Iddo.

3 Asa destroyeth idolatry, and commandeth his people to serue the true God. 11 He prayeth vnto God when he should goe to fight. 13 He obteineth the victory.

SO r Abiiah slept with his fathers, & they buried him in the citie of Dauid, and Asa his sonne reigned in his stead: in whose dayes the land was quiet ten yeere.
2 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.
3 For hee tooke away the altars of the strange gods & the hie places, & brake downe the images, and cut downe the s groues,
4 And commanded Iudah to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the Law and the commandement.
5 And he tooke away out of all the cities of Iudah the hie places, & the images: therefore the kingdome was t quiet before him.
6 Hee built also strong cities in Iudah, because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.
7 Therefore he sayd to Iudah, Let vs build these cities & make walles about, and towres, gates, and barres, whiles the land is u before vs: because wee haue sought the Lord our God, we haue sought him, and hee hath giuen vs rest on euery side: so they built and prospered.
8 And Asa had an armie of Iudah that bare shieldes & speares, three hundreth thousand, and of Beniamin that bare shieldes and drew bowes, two hundred & fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.
9 ¶ And there came out against them x Zerah y of Ethiopia with an host of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred charets, and came vnto z Mareshah.
10 Then Asa went out before him, and they set the battell in aray in the valley of Zephathah beside Mareshah.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Asa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians hoste was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lorde, and before his hoste: and they caried away a mighty great spoyle.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the g feare of the Lorde came vpon them, and they spoyled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoyle in them.

8 ¶ And when Asa heard these words, and the prophesie of Obed the Prophet, hee was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Judah, and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renued the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, & the strangers w them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was w him.

IN the fiue and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Asa came a * Baasha king of Israel vp against Judah, and built b Ramah to let none passe out or goe in to Asa king of Judah.

2 Then Asa brought out siluer and gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the kings house, and sent to Ben-hadad king of Aram that dwelt at ‖ Damascus, saying,

3 There is a couenant betweene me and thee, and betweene my father, and thy father: beholde, I haue sent thee siluer and golde: come, c breake thy league with Baasha king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

4 And Ben-hadad hearkened vnto king Asa, and sent the captaines of the armies which he had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Ijon, and Dan, & Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baasha heard it, hee left building of Ramah, and let his worke cease.

5 Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 Hee abolisheth idolatrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught. 11 Hee receiueth tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions, and men of warre.

AND Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And he put garrisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the land of Iudah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because he walked in the a first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not b Baalim, 4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the ‡ trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdome in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that hee had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee c lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and moreouer he put the high places and the groues out of Iudah.

7 ¶ And in the third yeere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nethaneel, and Michaiah, that they should * teach in the cities of Iudah.

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehonathan, and Adoniiah, and Tobiiah, & Tob-adoniiah, Leuites, and with them Elishama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands that were round about Iudah, and they * fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 And some of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphat gifts, & tribute siluer, and the Arabians brought him flockes, seuen thousand and seuen hundred rammes, and seuen thousand and seuen hundred hee goates.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grew vp on hie: and he built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

people as thy people, and we will ioyne with thee in the warre.

4 And Iehoſhaphat ſayd vnto the king of Iſrael, Aske counſell, I pray thee, at the [d] word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Iſrael gathered of [e] Prophets foure hundred men, and ſayd vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battel, or ſhall I ceaſe? And they ſaid, Goe vp: for God ſhall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iehoſhaphat ſayd, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehoſhaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may aske counſell of the Lord, but I hate him: for hee doeth not prophecie good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the ſonne of Imla. Then Iehoſhaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay ſo.

8 And the king of Iſrael called an eunuch, and ſayd, Call quickly Michaiah the ſonne of Imla.

9 ¶ And the king of Iſrael, and Iehoſhaphat king of Iudah ſate either of them on his throne clothed in their [h] apparel: they ſate euen in the threſhing floore at the entring in of the gate of Samaria: and all the prophets prophecied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the ſonne of Chenaanah made him [i] hornes of yron, and ſayd, Thus ſayeth the Lord, With theſe ſhalt thou puſh the Aramites, vntill thou haſt conſumed them.

11 And all the prophets prophecied ſo, ſaying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and proſper: for the Lord ſhall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 ¶ And the meſſenger that went to call Michaiah, ſpake to him, ſaying, Behold, the wordes of the Prophets declare good to the king with one [k] accorde: let thy worde therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and ſpeake thou good.

13 And Michaiah ſayd, As the Lord liueth, whatſoeuer my God ſayeth, that will I ſpeake.

14 ¶ So hee came to the King, and the King ſayd vnto him, Michaiah, ſhall wee goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or ſhall I leaue off? And hee ſayd, [l] Goe yee vp, and proſper, and they ſhalbe deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king ſayde to him, How oft ſhal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothing but the trueth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he ſaid, I ſaw all Iſrael ſcattered in the mountaines, as ſheepe that haue no ſhepheard: and the Lord ſayd, [m] These haue no maſter: let them returne euery man to his houſe in peace.

17 And the king of Iſrael ſayd to Iehoſhaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophecie good vnto me, but euil?

18 Againe he ſaid, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I ſaw the Lord ſit vpon his throne, and all the [n] hoſte of heauen ſtanding at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord ſayd, Who ſhall [o] perſwade Ahab king of Iſrael, that he may goe vp and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one ſpake and ſayd thus, and another ſayd that.

20 Then there came forth a ſpirit, and ſtoode before the Lorde, and ſayde, I will perſwade him. And the Lord ſaid vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he ſayd, I will goe out, and be a falſe ſpirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And [p] hee ſayde, Thou ſhalt perſwade, and ſhalt alſo preuaile: goe forth and doe ſo.

22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a [q] falſe ſpirit in the mouth of theſe thy prophets, and the Lorde hath determined euill againſt thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the ſonne of Chenaanah came neere, and ſmote Michaiah vpon the [r] cheeke, and ſayd, By what way went the Spirit of the Lorde from mee, to ſpeake with thee?

24 And Michaiah ſayde, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee that day, when thou ſhalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the king of Iſrael ſayd, Take ye Michaiah, and cary him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Ioaſh the kings ſonne, 26 And ſay, Thus ſayth the king, Put this man in the priſon houſe, and feede him with bread of [s] affliction, and with water of affliction, vntill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah ſaid, If thou returne in peace, the Lorde hath not ſpoken by mee. And he ſaid, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the king of Iſrael, and Iehoſhaphat the king of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehoſhaphat, I will [t] change my ſelfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparel. So the king of Iſrael changed him ſelfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the king of Aram had commanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, ſaying, Fight you not with ſmall nor great, but againſt the king of Iſrael onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charets ſaw Iehoſhaphat, they ſayd, It is the king of Iſrael: and they compaſſed about him to fight. But Iehoſhaphat [u] cryed, and the Lord helped him, and moued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charets ſaw that he was not the king of Iſrael, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man drewe a bowe [x] mightily, and ſmote the king of Iſrael betweene the ioynts [y] of his brigandine: therefore he ſayd to his charetman, Turne thine hand, and cary me out of the hoſte: for I am hurt.

34 And the battell increaſed that day: and the king of Iſrael [z] ſtood ſtill in his charet againſt the Aramites vntill euen, and died at the time of the ſunne going downe.

Iehoshaphat and the people pray vnto the Lord. 22 The marueilous victory that the Lord gaue him against his enemies. 30 His reigne and acts.

AFter this also came the children of Moab and the children of Ammon, and with them of the * Ammonites against Iehoshaphat to battell.

2 Then there came that tolde Iehoshaphat, saying, There commeth a great multitude against thee from beyond the p Sea, out of Aram: and behold, they bee in Hazzan Tamar, which is En-gedi.

3 And Iehoshaphat feared, and set himselfe q to seeke the Lord, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Iudah.

4 And Iudah gathered themselues together to aske counsell of the Lord: they came euen out of all the cities of Iudah to enquire of the Lord.

5 And Iehoshaphat stood in the Congregation of Iudah and Ierusalem in the house of the Lord before the new court,

6 And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, and none is able to withstand thee.

7 Diddest not thou, our God, cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and r gauest it to the seede of Abraham thy friend for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue built thee a Sanctuarie therein for thy Name, saying,

9 If euill come vpon vs, as the * sword of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine, wee will stand before this house and in thy presence, (for thy Name s is in this house) and will cry vnto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

10 And now behold, the children of * Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whom thou wouldest not let Israel goe, when they came out of the lande of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them not:

11 Behold, I say, they reward vs, in comming to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherite.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs to stand before this great multitude that commeth against vs, neither doe wee know what to doe: but our eyes t are toward thee.

13 And all Iudah stood u before the Lord with their yong ones, their wiues, and their children.

14 And Iahaziel the sonne of Zechariah the sonne of Benaiah, the sonne of Ieiel, the sonne of Mattaniah, a Leuite of the sonnes of Asaph was there, vpon whom came x the Spirit of the Lord, in the midst of the Congregation.

15 And he sayd, Hearken yee, all Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem, and thou, King Iehoshaphat: thus saith the Lord vnto you, Feare you not, neither be afraid for this great multitude: for the y battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morowe goe yee downe against them: behold, they come vp by the cleft of Ziz, and yee shall finde them at the ende of the brooke before the wildernesse of Ieruel.

17 Yee shall not needs to fight in this battell: z stand still, moue not, and behold the saluation of the Lord toward you: O Iudah, and Ierusalem, feare yee not, neither be afraid: to morowe goe out against them, and the Lord will be with you.

b Called the dead sea, where God destroyed the fiue cities for sinne.

c This declareth what the feare of the godly is, which is as a pricke to stirre them to prayer, and to depend on the Lord, whereas it moueth the wicked either to seeke after worldly meanes and policies, or els to fall into despaire.

18 Then Iehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites, & of the children of the Korhites stoode vp to prayse the Lord God of Israel with a loud voyce on high.

20 And when they arose earely in the morning, they went forth to the wildernesse of Tekoa: and as they departed, Iehoshaphat stoode and sayde, Heare me me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lorde your God, and ye shall be assured: beleeue his [m] Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appointed singers vnto the Lorde, and them that should prayse him that is in the beautifull Sanctuarie, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, [n] prayse ye the Lorde, for his mercie lasteth for euer, 22 And when they began to shoute and to prayse, the Lorde layde ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and [o] Mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon, and Moab rose against the inhabitants of Mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an ende of the inhabitants of Seir, euery one helped [p] to destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wildernesse, they looked vnto the multitude: and beholde, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoyle of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they tooke for themselues, till they could carry no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoyle, for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they [q] assembled themselues in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then euery man of Iudah and Ierusalem returned with Iehoshaphat their head, to goe againe to Ierusalem with ioy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols, and with harpes, and with trumpets, euen vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the [r] feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdome of Iehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest on euery side.

31 ¶ And [s] Iehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was fiue and thirtie yeere olde, when he began to reigne: and reigned fiue and twentie yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the [t] way of Asa his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the hie places were not [u] taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoshaphat first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ Hereafter this did Iehoshaphat king of Iudah ioyne himselfe with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was giuen to doe euill.

36 And hee ioyned with him to [x] make ships to goe to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the sonne of Dodauah of Mareshah prophesied against Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast [y] ioyned thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy workes: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tarshish.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hande of Iudah vnto this day. Then did e Libnah rebell at the same time from vnder his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreouer, he made hie places in the mountaines of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit f fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from g Eliah the Prophet, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa King of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to goe a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill h thy bowels fall out for thy disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lord stirred vp against Iehoram the spirite of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the i Ethiopians.

17 And they came vp into Iudah, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was founde in the Kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wiues, so that there was not a sonne left him, saue k Iehoahaz, the youngest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in processe of time, euen after the ende of two yeeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he died of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yeere olde, and reigned in Ierusalem eight yeere, l and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigneth after Iehoram. 9 Iehu king of Israel killeth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings linage. 11 Ioash is saued.

AND a the inhabitants of Ierusalem made Ahaziah his yongest sonne King in his stead: for the armie that came with b the Arabians to the campe, had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and c fourtie yeere old was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, and hee reigned d one yeere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter e of Omri.

3 Hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counselled him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore hee did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like the house of Ahab: for they were his f counsellers after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsel, and went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

6 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Iezreel, because of the woundes where with they had wounded him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Aram. Now Azariah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Iezreel, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah g came of God in that he went to Ioram: for when he was come, hee went forth with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of h Nimshi, i whome the Lorde had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Iehu k executed iudgment vpon the house of Ahab, and founde the princes of Iudah and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that wayted on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

9 And he sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where he was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slewe him, and buried him, because, sayde they, hee is the sonne of l Iehoshaphat, which sought the Lorde with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retaine the kingdome.

10 ¶ m Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and n destroyed all the kings seede of the house of Iudah.

11 But Iehoshabeath the daughter of the king, tooke Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah, and stale him from among the kings sonnes, that should be slaine, and put him and his nurse in the bed chamber: so Iehoshabeath the daughter of king Iehoram the wife of Iehoiada the Priest (for shee was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so shee slew him not.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

kings Scribe (and one appointed by the high Priest) came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and carried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

12 And the king & Iehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hired Masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workers of yron and brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke ‖ amended through their handes: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the siluer before the king and Iehoiada, and he made thereof ‖ vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister, both mortars and incense cups, and vessels of gold and of siluer: and they offred burnt offrings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Iehoiada.

15 ¶ But Iehoiada waxed old, and was full of dayes, and dyed. An hundreth and thirtie yeere olde was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the citie of Dauid with the ‖ Kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiada, came the ‖ princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lorde God of their Fathers, & serued groues and ‖ idoles: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespasse.

19 And God sent prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lorde: and they ‖ made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Iehoiada the Priest which stoode ‖ aboue the people, and sayde vnto them, Thus sayeth God, Why transgresse ye the commandements of the Lord? surely yee shall not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lord, he also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the ‖ commandement of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioash the king remembred not the kindenesse which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but slewe his sonne. And when he died, he sayde, The Lord ‖ looke vpon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the host of Aram came vp against him, & they came against Iudah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king of Damascus.

24 Though the army of Aram came with a small company of men, yet the Lord deliuered a very great army into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lorde God of their fathers: and they ‖ gaue sentence against Ioash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him for the blood of the ‖ children of Iehoiada the Priest, and slewe him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabad the sonne of Shimrath an Ammonitesse, and Iehozabad the sonne of Shimrith a Moabitesse.

27 But ‖ his sonnes, and the summe of the tare gathered by him, and the ‖ foundation of the house of God, beholde, they are written in the storie of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 Amaziah putteth them to death which slewe his father. 10 Hee sendeth backe them of Israel. 11 He ouercommeth the Edomites. 14 He falleth to idolatrie. 17 And Ioash King of Israel ouercommeth Amaziah. 27 Hee is slaine by a conspiracie.

AMaziah was fiue and twentie yeere old, when he began to reigne, and he reigned nine and twentie yeere in ‖ Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Iehoaddan, of Ierusalem.

2 And hee did ‖ vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfite heart.

3 And when the kingdome was ‖ stablished vnto him, he slew his seruants that had slaine the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the Law, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, ‖ The fathers shal not die for the ‖ children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Iudah, and made them captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their Fathers, throughout all Iudah and Beniamin: and he numbred them from ‖ twentie yeere old & aboue, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men to goe forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 Hee hired also an hundreth thousand valiant men ‖ out of Israel for an hundreth talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O king, let not the armie of Israel goe with thee: for the Lord is not ‖ with Israel, neither with all the ‖ sonnes of Ephraim.

8 If not, goe thou on, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shal make thee fall before the enemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of h Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Iudah take aliue, and caried them to the top of a i rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst to pieces.

13 But the men of the k army, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Bethhoron, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 Nowe after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought the gods of the children of Seir, l set them vp to be his gods, and m worshipped them and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which sayde vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to n deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, o he sayd vnto him, Haue they made thee the kings counseller? cease thou: why should they p smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Iudah tooke counsell, and sent to Ioath the sonne of Iehoahaz, the sonne of Iehu king of Israel, saying, Come, q let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Ioath king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Iudah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the Cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, r Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon, went & trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: loe, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to brag: abide now at home: why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Iudah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for s it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hande, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Ioath the king of Israel went vp: and hee, and Amaziah king of Iudah, saw one another in the face at Bethshemesh, which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tents.

23 But Ioath the king of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Iudah, the sonne of Ioash, the sonne of Iehoahaz in Bethshemesh, and brought him to Ierusalem, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundreth cubites.

24 And he tooke all the gold and the siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with t Obed Edom, and in the treasures of the kings house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the sonne of Ioash king of Iudah liued after the death of Ioash sonne of Iehoahaz king of Israel, fifteene yeere.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel?

27 Nowe after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lorde, * they wrought treason against him in Ierusalem: and when he was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and slew him there.

28 And they brought him vpon horses, and buried him with his fathers in the citie of Iudah.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites arose, ‖Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Ioel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Iehalelel: and of the Gershonites, Ioah the sonne of Zimmah, and Eden the sonne of Ioah:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Ieduthun, Shemaiah, and Vzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselues, and came according to the commandement of the king, and ‖ by the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the vncleannesse that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to carrie it out into the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the ‖ first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and sayd, Wee haue cleansed all the house of the Lord, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the ‖ shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which king Ahaz had cast aside when hee reigned, and transgressed, haue wee prepared and sanctified: and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king h rose early, and gathered the Princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen bullocks, and seuen rammes, and seuen lambes, and seuen he goates, for a k sinne offering for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuarie, and for Iudah. And hee commaunded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slewe the bullockes, and the Priests receiued the blood, and ‖ sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rammes and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slew the lambes, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goates for the sinne offering before the King and the Congregation, l and they laid their handes vpon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the king had commanded for all Israel the burnt offring and the sinne offering.

25 Hee appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with violes, and with harpes, * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the ‖ commaundement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Leuites stoode with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commaunded to offer the burnt offering vpon the Altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the = Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments * of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an ende of offering, the king and all that were present with him, bowed themselues, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the King and the princes commaunded the Leuites to praise the Lord with the * words of Dauid, and of Asaph the Seer: so they prayed with ioy, and they bowed themselues and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and sayd, Now yee haue † consecrate your selues to the Lord: come neere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of prayse into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of prayses, and euery man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the congregation brought, was seuentie bullocks, an hundreth rammes, and two hundreth lambes: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for p sanctification sixe hundreth bullocks, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were too fewe, and were not able to flay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill other Priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were ‖ more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselues, then the Priests.

1. 13 The keeping of the Passeouer by the kings commandement. 6 He exhorteth Israel to turne to the Lord. 18 He prayeth for the people. 24 His oblation and the princes. 27 The Leuites blesse the people.

AND Hezekiah sent to all Israel, and Iudah, and also wrote letters to a Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Ierusalem, to keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king and his princes, and all the congregation had taken counsell in Ierusalem to keepe the Passeouer in the b second moneth.

3 For they could not keepe it at that time, because there were not Priests enowe sanctified, neither was the people gathered to Ierusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from c Beer-sheba euen to Dan, that they should come to keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, d as it was written.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commission of the king and his princes, throughout all Israel and Iudah, and with the commandement of the king, saying, Yee children of Israel, turne again vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaak, and Israel, and e he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hands of the kings of Assyr.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, & like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate as ye see.

8 Be not ye now stiffnecked like your fathers, but f giue the hand to the Lord, and come into his Sanctuarie, which hee hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shall g returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶ So the posts went from citie to citie throughout the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they h laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheless, diuers of Asher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun submitted themselues, and came to Ierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that hee gaue them one i heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the vnleauened bread in the second moneth, a very great assembly.

14 ¶ And they arose, and tooke away the k altars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slewe the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priestes and Leuites were l ashamed, and sanctified themselues, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stoode in their place after their maner, according to the Lawe of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the m blood, receiued of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Because there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passeouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleansed themselues, yet did eate the Passeouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The n good Lord be mercifull to ward him, 19 That prepareth his whole heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed, according to the purification of the Sanctuarie.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and o healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Ierusalem, kept the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes with great ioy, and the Leuites, and the Priests prayed the Lord day by day, singing with loud instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah p spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feast seuen dayes, and offered peace offrings, and prayed the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to keepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah king of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a q thousand bullocks, and seuen thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, and ten thousand sheepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priestes and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioy in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel, there was not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites arose, and r blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiah and the Princes came and saw the heapes, they h blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

h They praysed the Lord, and prayed for all prosperitie to his people.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priestes and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and sayde, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we haue eaten and haue bene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lorde hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Iudah, and did well and vprightly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the seruice of the house of God, both in the Law and in the commandements, to seeke his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

the riuer that ranne thorowe the middes of the countrey, saying, Why should the Kings of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And ‡ hee tooke courage, and builte all the broken wall, and made vp the towres, and another wall without, and repayred a Millo in the b citie of Dauid, and made many c darts and shields.

6 And hee set captaines of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and ‡ spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not, neither bee afraide for the King of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: d for there be moe with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an d arme of flesh, but with vs is the e Lorde our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah king of Iudah.

9 f After this did Sancherib king of Asshur send his seruants to Jerusalem (while he was f against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah and vnto all Iudah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus sayeth Sancherib the king of Asshur, Wherein doe ye trust, that ye will remaine in Jerusalem, during the siege?

11 Doth not Hezekiah entise you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lorde our God shall deliuer vs out of the hande of the King of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places and his g altars, and commanded Iudah and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreys? Were the gods of the nations of other landes able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is hee of all the h gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hand, that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor entice you after this sort, neither beleeue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of i mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: k how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruantes spake yet more against the Lorde God, and against his seruant Hezekiah.

17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lorde God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreys could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shal not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they l cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to affraime them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Jerusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the m workes of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the king, and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz n prayed against this, and cryed to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the pallant men, and the princes and o captaines of the hoste of the king of Asshur: so hee returned ‡ with shame to his owne land. And when hee was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his p owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saued Hezekiah and the inhabitaunts of Jerusalem from the hand of Sancherib king of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, and q maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Jerusalem, and precious to Hezekiah king of Iudah, so that he was r magnified in the sight of all nations from thence forth.

24 s In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him t a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the rewarde bestowed vpon him: for his heart u was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Jerusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) hee and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so the wrath of the Lorde came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had x exceeding much riches and honour, and hee gat him treasures of siluer and of golde, and of precious stones, and of sweete odours, and of shieldes, and of all pleasant vessels.

28 And of store houses for the increase of wheate and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beastes, and y cotes for the cattles.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and beeues in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water spring of z Gihon, and led them streight vnderneath toward the citie of Dauid westward. So Hezekiah prospered in all his workes.

31 But because of the ambassadours of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to a trie him, and to know all that was in his heart.

Prophet, the sonne of Amoz, in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasseth his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Manasseh an idolater. 9 He causeth Iudah to erre. 11 Hee is led away prisoner into Babylon. 12 He prayeth to the Lord and is deliuered. 14 He abolisheth idolatrie. 18 and setteth vp true religion. 20 He dieth, and Amon his sonne succeedeth. 23 whom his owne seruants slay.

MAnasseth was twelue yeere olde, * when he began to reigne, and he reigned fiue and fiftie yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For hee went backe and built the high places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and hee set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he built altars in the house of the Lorde, whereof the Lord had sayd, * In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And he built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 * And hee caused his sonnes to passe thorowe the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gaue himselfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to sorcerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: he did very much euil in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 Hee put also the carued image which hee had made, in the house of God, whereof God had said to Dauid, and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer,

8 Neither will * I make the foote of Israel to remoue any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heede, and doe all that I haue commanded them, according to the Lawe and statutes and iudgements by the * hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseth made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whome the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake * to Manasseth and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lorde brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur, which tooke Manasseth and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

12 And when hee was in tribulation, hee prayed to the Lord his God, & humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him: and God was * entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasseth knewe that the Lord was God.

14 Nowe after this he built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the Westside of * Gihon in the valley, euen at the entrie of the fishgate, and compassed about * Ophel, and raised it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And hee tooke awey the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that hee had built in the mount of the house of the Lorde, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

16 Also hee prepared the * altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offrings, and * thankes, and commanded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Neuertheless, the people did sacrifice still in the hie places, but vnto the * Lord their God.

18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseth, and his * prayer vnto his God, and the wordes of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lorde God of Israel, behold, they are written in the bookes of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, and how God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespasse, and the places wherein hee built hie places, and set groues and images (before he was humbled) behold, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasseth slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his owne * house, and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twentie yeere olde, when hee began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 But hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseth his father: for Amon sacrificed to al the images, which Manasseth his father had made, and serued them.

23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseth his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants * conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the lande slewe all them that had conspired against king Amon: and the people of the lande made Iosiah his sonne king in his stead.

a He followed Dauid in all points that hee followed the Lord.

(when hee was yet a [b] childe) hee beganne to seeke after the God of Dauid his father and in the twelfe yeere he beganne to purge Iudah, and Ierusalem from the high places, and the groues, and the carued images and molten images.

4 And they brake downe [c] in his sight the altars of Baalim, and hee caused to cut downe the images that were on hie vpon them: hee brake also the groues, and the carued images, and the molten images, and stampt them to powder, & strawed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the [d] bones of the priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their mattes they brake all round about.

7 And when he had [e] destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and hewen downe all the idoles throughout all the lande of Israel, he returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eighteenth yeere of his reigne when he had purged the lande and the Temple, hee sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the Gouernour of the citie, and Ioah the sonne of Ioahaz the Recorder, to repaire the house of the Lorde his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Beniamin, and [f] of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 And they put it in the handes of them that should doe the worke, and had the ouersight in the house of the Lorde: and they gaue it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repaire and amend the house.

11 Euen to the workemen and to the builders gaue they it, to buy hewed stone and timber for couples and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Iudah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke [g] faithfully, and the ouerseers of them were Iahath and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdens, & them that set forward all the workemen in euery worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the [h] booke of the Law of the Lord giuen by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered, and said to Shaphan the chancellor, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan caried the booke to the King, and brought the King word againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerseers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 And Shaphan the chancellor declared to the king, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke: and Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And when the king had heard the words of the Law, he [k] rare his clothes.

20 And the king commaunded Hilkiah and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asaiah the kings seruant, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israel and Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the worde of the Lorde, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tokhath, the sonne of [l] Hasrah keeper of the [m] wardrobe (and she dwelt in Ierusalem within the [n] colledge) and they communed hereof with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye [o] the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euen all the curses that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Iudah:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the workes of their [p] hands, therefore shall my wrath fall vpon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The wordes which thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

27 [q] But because thine heart did melt, and thou didst humble thy self before God, when thou heardst his wordes against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, & humbledst thy selfe before mee and rentest thy clothes, and weptest before mee, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt bee put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euil which I will bring vpon this [r] place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the king word againe.

29 ¶ Then the king sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudah and Ierusalem.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Iosiah keepeth the Passeouer. 3 He setteth forth Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dieth. 24 The people bewaile him.

MOreouer * Iosiah kept a Passeouer vnto the Lord in Jerusalem, and they slew the a Passeouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and incouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And bes sayde vnto the Leuites that b taught all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lorde, Put the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shalbe no moze a c burden vpon your shoulders: serue now the Lord your God and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as d Dauid the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the diuision of the families of your brethren e the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kill the Passeouer, & sacrifice your selues, and f prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the wordes of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the ‡people sheepe, lambes and kids, all for the Passeouer, euen to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, & three thousand bullocks: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his Princes offred willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Passeouer, euen two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, and three hundred bullockes.

9 * Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Nethaneel his brethren, and Hashabiah and Ieiel, and Iozabad, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Passeouer, fiue thousand sheepe, and fiue hundred bullocks.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stoode in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the Kings commandement:

11 And they slew the Passeouer, and the Priestes f sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites flayed them.

12 And they tooke away from thē g burnt offring to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullocks.

13 And * they rosted the Passeouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pans, and caldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselues & for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offring of burnt offrings * and the fat vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sonnes of Asaph stood in their standing * according to y commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Heman, and Ieduthun the kings * Seer: and the porters at euery gate, who might not depart from their seruice: therfore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So all the seruice of the Lorde was prepared the same day, to keepe the Passeouer, & to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of King Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer kept like that in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet: neither did all the kings of Israel keepe such a Passeouer as Iosiah kept and the Priests & the Leuites, and all Iudah, and Israel that were ‡ present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 This Passeouer was kept in i the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosiah.

20 ¶ * After all this, when Iosiah had prepared y Temple, Necho king of Egypt came vp to fight against k Carchemish by ‖ Perath, and Iosiah went out against him.

21 But hee sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, thou king of Iudah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house ‡ of mine enemie, and God commaunded mee to make haste: leaue off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Iosiah would not turne his face from him, but l changed his apparell to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

1 After Iosiah, reigneth Iehoahaz. 4 After Iehoahaz, Iehoiakim. 8 After him Iehoiachin. 11 After him Zedekiah, 14. 17 in whose time all the people were caried away to Babel, for contemning the admonitions of the Prophets, 22 and were restored againe the seuentieth yere after by king Cyrus.

THen * the people of the land tooke Iehoahaz the sonne of Iosiah, and made him king in his fathers stead in Ierusalem.

2 Iehoahaz was three and twenty yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned three [a] moneths in Ierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt tooke him away at Ierusalem, and condemned the land in an [b] hundreth talents of siluer, and a talent of gold.

4 ¶ And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother King ouer Iudah and Ierusalem, and turned his name to Iehoiakim: and Necho tooke Iehoahaz his brother, and caried him to Egypt.

5 Iehoiakim was fiue and twentie yeere olde when hee began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeere in Ierusalem, and did [c] euil in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came vp Nebucad-nezzar king of Babel, and bound him with chaines to cary him to Babel.

7 Nebuchad-nezzar also [d] caried of the vessels of the house of the Lorde to Babel, and put them in his temple at Babel.

8 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iehoiakim, and his abominations which hee did, and [d] that which was found vpon him, beholde, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iudah: and Iehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 ¶ Iehoiachin was [e] eight yere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned three moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the yeere was out, King Nebuchad-nezzar sent and brought him to Babel with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and he made Zedekiah his brother king ouer Iudah and Ierusalem.

11 Zedekiah was one and twentie yere old when he began to reigne, and reigned eleuen yeere in Ierusalem.

12 * And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himselfe before Ieremiah the Prophet at the commandement of the Lord.

13 But he rebelled moreouer against Nebuchad-nezzar, which had caused him to sweare by God: and he hardened his necke and made his heart obstinate that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefe of the Priests also, and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which hee had sanctified in Ierusalem.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them † by his messengers, [f] rising early and sending: for hee had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his wordes, and misused his Prophets, vntill the wrath of the Lorde arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 For hee brought vpon them the king of the Caldeans, who slew their young men with the sword [h] in the house of their Sanctuarie, and spared neither young man, nor virgine, ancient, nor aged: God [i] gaue all into his hand.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes: all these caried hee to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, & all the precious vessels thereof, to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sword, caried he away to Babel, and they were seruants to him and to his sonnes, vntill the kingdome of the [k] Persians had rule, 21 To fulfill the word of the Lord by the [l] mouth of Ieremiah, vntill the land had her fill of her Sabbaths: for all the dayes that she lay desolate, she kept Sabbath, to fulfill seuentie yeeres.

22 ¶ * Vnto the [m] first yeere of Cyrus king of Persia (when the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah, was finished) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, and he made a Proclamation throgh out all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying,

23 Thus sayth Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdoms of the earth hath the Lord God of heauen giuen me, and he hath [n] commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, that is in Iudah. Who is among you of all his people, with whom the Lorde his God be: let him go vp.

¶ The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Hebrew, but is translated out of the Greke.

OLord Almightie, God of our Fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen & earth with all their ornament, which hast bounde the sea by the word of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the deepe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all doe feare and tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angrie threatning toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is vnmeasurable & vnsearchable. For thou art ỹ most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, & repentest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lorde, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised a repentance and forgiuenesse to them that sinne against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art ỹ God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto mee, that am a sinner: for I haue sinned aboue the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde and see the height of the heauens, for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnesse. I am bowed downe vp many yron bandes, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath, and done euill before thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commaundements. I haue set vp abominations, & haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bowe the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgiue mee, O Lord, forgiue me, & destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for euer by reserving euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnesse: for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life. For all the power of the heauens praise thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer. Amen.

a Thou hast promised that repentance shall be the way for them to returne to thee.

b He speaketh this in comparison of himselfe, and calleth their sinnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteousnesse.

Ezra.

THE ARGVMENT.

AS the Lord is euer mercifull vnto his Church and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, and bee exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world, and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeeres in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembred his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pitie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding least they should grow into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which indeuour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by litle and litle till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest and Scribe of the Law, as Chap. 7.6. He returned to Ierusalem the sixt yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. He brought with him a great company, and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should be necessary for the Temple: and at his comming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

CHAP. I.

1 Cyrus sendeth against the people that was in captiuity, 8 and restoreth them their holy vessels.

NOwe * in the a first yeere of Cyrus king of Persia (that the word of the Lord, spoken by the b mouth of Ieremiah, might bee accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the c spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying,

2 Thus sayeth Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me d all the kingdomes of the earth, and hee hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

3 Who is he among you of all his people with whome his God is? let him goe vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudah, and builde the house of the Lord God of Israel: hee is the God which is in Ierusalem.

4 And euery one that remayneth in any place (where he sojourneth) e let the men of his place relieue him with siluer and with golde, and with substance, and with cattell, f and with a willing offring, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

5 Then the chiefe fathers of Iudah and Beniamin, and the Priestes and Leuites rose vp, with all them whose spirit God had raysed to goe vp to builde the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

1 They builde the altar of God. 6 They offer to the Lord. 7 They prepare for the Temple. 11 And ſing vnto the Lord.

AND [a] when the [b] ſeuenth moneth was come, and the children of Iſrael were in their cities, the people aſſembled themſelues as one man vnto Jeruſalem.
2 Then roode vp Jeſhua the ſonne of Jozadak, and his brethren the Prieſts, and Zerubbabel the [c] ſonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Iſrael, to offer burnt offrings thereon, as it is written in the Law of Moſes, the man of God,
3 And they ſet the altar vpon [d] his baſes (for feare was among them, becauſe of the people of thoſe countreys) therefore they offered burnt offrings thereon vnto the Lord, euen burnt offerings in the morning, and at euen.
4 They kept alſo the feaſt of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and they burnt offering [e] dayly, by number according to the cuſtome day by day,
5 And afterward [f] the continuall burnt offering, both in the newe moneths and in all the feaſt dayes that were conſecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offered vnto the Lord.
6 From the firſt day of the ſeuenth moneth began they to offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not layd.
7 They gaue money alſo vnto the maſons, and to the workemen, and meate and drinke and oyle vnto them of Sidon and of Tyrus to bring them Cedar wood from Lebanon to the ſea vnto | Japhe, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus King of Perſia.
8 ¶ And in the ſecond yeere of their comming vnto the houſe of God in Jeruſalem in the [g] ſecond moneth began Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua the ſonne of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Prieſtes and the Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Jeruſalem, and appointed the Leuites from twentie yeere old and aboue, to ſet forward the worke of the houſe of the Lord.
9 And Jeſhua [h] ſtoode with his ſonnes, and his brethren, and Kadmiel with his ſonnes, and the ſonnes of Judah together to ſet forwarde the workemen in the houſe of God, and the ſonnes of Henadad with their ſonnes, and their brethren the Leuites.
10 And when the builders layde the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Prieſtes in their apparell with trumpets, and the Leuites the ſonnes of Aſaph with Cymbals, to praiſe the Lord, [i] after the ordinance of Dauid King of Iſrael.
11 Thus they ſang when they gaue praiſe, and when they gaue thankes vnto the Lord, For he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer towarde Iſrael. And all the people ſhouted with a great ſhoute, when they praiſed the Lorde, becauſe the foundation of the houſe of the Lord was layd.

CHAP. IIII.

2 The building of the Temple is hindered, and how. 11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the answere.

NOw a the aduersaries of Iudah and Beniamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, & to the chiefe fathers, and said vnto them, Wee will build with you: for we seeke the Lord your God, as ye doe, and we haue sacrificed vnto him, since the time of Esar Haddon king of Assur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, said vnto them, It is not for you, but for vs to build the house vnto our God: b for we our selues together will build it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Therefore the people of the land ‡ discouraged the people of Iudah, and troubled them in building,

5 And they c hired counsellers against them, to hinder their deuice, all the dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, euen vntill the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of d Ahashuerosh (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudah and Ierusalem.

7 And in the dayes of e Artahshashte, Mithredath, Tabeel, & the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahshashte king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the ‖ chancellor, and Shimshai the Scribe wrote a letter against Ierusalem to Artahshashte the king, in this sort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the Scribe, and their companions, f Dinaie, and Apharsathcaie, Tarpelaie, Apharsaie, Archeuaie, Babilaie, Shushanchaie, Dehaue, Elmaie,

10 And the rest of the people whome the great and noble g Asnapper brought ouer and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the h River and i Cheeneth.

11 ¶ This is the copie of the letter that they sent vnto King Artahshashte, THY SERVANTS the men beyond the River and Cheeneth, salute thee.

a Meaning, the inhabitants of Samaria, whom the King of Assyria had placed in the stead of the ten tribes, 2. king. 17. 24. and 19. 37. these professed God, but worshipped idols also, and therefore were the greatest enemies to the true seruants of God.

b For they perceiued what their pretence was, to wit, to erect idolatrie in stead of true religion.

c They bribed ‖ gouernors vnder the King to hinder their worke. Thus they ‡ halt, cannot abide that God should be purely serued.

d He was also called Artaxerxes, which is a Persian name. Some thinke it was Cambyses Cyrus sonne, or Darius, as vers. 5.

e Called Artaxerxes, which signifieth in the Persian tongue, an excellent warrier. ‖ Or, counseller.

f These were certaine people which the Assyrians placed in Samaria in stead of the ten tribes.

g Some thinke it was Sancherib, but rather Salmanasar. h To wit, Euphrates, & he meaneth in respect of Babel that they dwelt beyond it. i Which were a certaine people that ennied the Iewes.

12 Be it known vnto the king, that the Iewes which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the walles, and haue ioyned the foundations.

13 Be it known now vnto the king, that if this citie be built, and the foundations of the walles layd, they will not giue tolle, tribute, nor k custome: so shalt thou hinder the kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because ‡ we haue bene brought vp in the kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent & certified the king,

15 That one may search in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this city is rebellious and noysome vnto kings and prouinces, and that they haue mooued sedition of olde time, for the which cause this citie was destroyed.

16 We certifie the king therefore, that if this citie be builded, and the foundation of the walles layde, by this meanes the portion beyond the River shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The King sent an answere vnto Rehum the chauncellour, and Shimshai the Scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the River, ‖ Shelam, and m Cheeth.

18 ¶ The letter which ye sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me, 19 And I haue commaunded and they haue searched, and found, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the River, and tolle, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the citie bee not built till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heed now that ye faile not to do this: why should domage grow to hurt the King?

23 When the copie of King Artahshashtes letter was read before Rehum & Shimshai the Scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then n ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yeere of Darius king of Persia.

1 Haggai and Zechariah do prophesie. 3 The work of the Temple goeth forward contrary to the minde of Tatnai. 6 His letters to Darius.

THen a Haggai a Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudah, and Ierusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, euen vnto them.

2 Then Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Iozadak arose, arose and began to build the house of God at Jerusalem, & with them were the Prophets of God, which * helped them.

f Which encouraged them to go forward, and accused them that they were more carefull to build their owne houses, then zealous to build the Temple of God.

3 ¶ At that same time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyond the River, and Shether-bozenai and their companions, & sayd thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, & to lay the foundations of these walls?

4 Then sayd wee vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that build this building?

b That is, the enemies asked this, as verse 10.

5 But the * eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

c His fauour and the spirite of strength.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beyond the River, and Shetherbozenai and his companions, Apharsechaie, (which were beyond the River) sente vnto king Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIVS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the King, that wee went into the Prouince of Iudea, to ỹ house of the great God, which is builded with ‖great stones, and beames are layde in the wals, and this worke is wrought spedily, and prospereth in their hands.

‖Or, marble.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walls?

10 We asked their names also, that wee might certifie thee, and that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and sayd, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of olde and many yeeres agoe, which a * great King of Israel * builded, and founded it.

d To wit, Salomon. 1. King. 6.2. 2. Chron. 3.2. 2. King. 24.12, and 25.9.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and laid the foundation of the house of God, which is in Jerusalem, and since that time euen vntill now, hath it bene in building, yet it is not finished.

17 Nowe therefore if it please the King, let there bee search made in the house of the Kings * treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to build this house of God in Jerusalem, and let the King sende his mind concerning this.

3 IN THE FIRST yeere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Jerusalem, Let the house be built, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the wals thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be threescore cubites, and the breadth thereof threescore cubites, 13 ¶ Then Tatnai the captaine beyond the riuer, & Shethar Boznai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the Elders of the Jewes builded, & they prospered by the prophesying of f Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded and finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commandement of Cyrus and Darius, and Artahshashte king of Persia.

CHAP. VII.

1 By the commandement of the king, Ezra and his companions come to Ierusalem. 27 Hee giueth thankes to God.

NOwe after these things in the reigne of a Artahshashte king of Persia, was Ezra the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Hilkiah, a The Ebrewes write that diuers of the Kings of Persia were called by this name, as Pharaoh was a common name to the kings of Egypt, and Cesar to the Emperors of Rome.

2 The sonne of Shallum, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

3 The sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Azariah the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zerahiah, the sonne of Uzzi, the sonne of Bukki,

5 The sonne of Abishua, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of n Aaron, the chiefe Priest.

6 This Ezra came vp from Babel, and was a o Scribe prompt in the lawe of Moses, which the Lorde God of Israel had giuen, and the king gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lorde his God which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, & of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters, & the Nethinims vnto Jerusalem, in the seuenth yere of king Artahshashte.

8 And he came to Jerusalem in the p fift moneth, which was in the seuenth yeere q of the King.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth began he to goe vp from Babel, and on the first day of the fift moneth came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hande of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the Law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

21 And there at the Riuer, by Ahava, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selues, before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.
f Hee sheweth that the ende of fasting is to humble the body to the spirit, which must proceede of the heart liuely touched, or els it is but hypocrisie.
22 For I was x ashamed to require of the king an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemie in the way, because wee had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.
g He thought it better to commit himselfe to the protection of God, then by seeking their ordinarie meanes to giue occasion to others to thinke that he did doubt of Gods power.
23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.
24 Then I seperated twelue of the chiefe of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

26 And I weighed vnto their hand fiue hundreth and fifte [h] talents of siluer, and in siluer vessell, an hundreth talents, and in gold, an hundreth talents:

i Reade Chap. 2.69.

27 And twentie basins of golde, of a thousand [i] drammes, and two vessels of shining wasse very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶ And I sayd vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lorde, and the vessels are consecrate, and the golde and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lorde God of your fathers.

29 Watch yee, and keepe them vntill yee weigh them before the chiefe Priestes and the Leuites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Leuites receiued the weight of the siluer, and of the gold, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then wee departed from the riuer of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to goe vnto Ierusalem, and the hande of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemie, and of such as layde [k] waite by the way.

k This declared that their iourney was full of danger, and yet God deliuered them according to their prayer.

32 And wee came to Ierusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the golde and the vessell in the house of our God by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabad, the sonne of Iehua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnui the [l] Leuites, l This was a token of a good conscience and of his integritie, that he would haue witnesses of his fidelitie.

34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, ninetie and fiue rammes, seuentie and seuen lambes, and twelue hee goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the kings commission vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the riuer: and they promoted the people and the house of God.

a From the time they came home vnder Zerubbabel vntill the comming of Ezra, they had degenerate contrary to the Law of God, and maried where it was not lawfull, Deut. 7.3.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselues, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seede with the people of the landes, and the hand of the [b] princes and rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespasse.

b That is, the gouernours are the chiefe beginners hereof.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and sate downe [c] astonied.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the wordes of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sate downe astonied vntill the [*] euening sacrifice.

5 And at the euening sacrifice I arose vp from mine heauinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and spread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And sayd, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee, my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer [d] our head, and our trespasse is growen vp into [e] the heauen.

d That is, we are drowned in sinne.

e They so exceed, that they cannot grow greater.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we beene in a great trespasse vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue wee, our kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the lands, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space, grace hath beene shewed from the Lorde our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs a [f] naile in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a little reuiuing in our seruitude.

f In giuing vs a resting place. It is a similitude taken of them that remaine stillin a place, which fmite nailes to hang things vpon, Isa. 22.23.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath inclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of the kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to repaire the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shall we say after this? for we haue forsaken our commandements, 11 Which thou hast commaunded by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, * The land whereunto yee goe to possesse it, it is an vncleane land, because of the filthinesse of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, & by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

Exod. 23.32. and 34.12, 15, 16. deut. 7.23.

12 Now therefore shall yee not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall yee take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their * peace and wealth for euer, that ye may be strong and eate the goodnesse of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

Deut. 23.6.

13 And after that all is come vpon vs for our euil deedes, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed vs from being beneath [g] for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance) g Hast not vtterly cast vs downe and destroyed vs for our sinnes, Deut. 28.13.

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldest not thou bee angrie toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping.

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art iust, for we b He sheweth that God is iust in punishing his people, and yet mercifull in reserving a residue to whom hee sheweth fauour, we haue bene b reserued to escape, as appeareth this day: beholde, we are before thee in our trespasse: therefore we cannot stand before thee because of it.

k They went to the chiefe cities to sit on this matter, which was three moneths in finishing.

15 Then were appointed Jonathan the sonne of Asah-el, and Jahaziah the sonne of Tikuah ouer this matter, and ‖Meshullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so and l departed, euen Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the family of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wiues.

Nehemiah.

THE ARGVMENT.

GOD doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthy persons for the commoditie and profit of his Church, as nowe within the compasse of seuentie yeeres hee raised vp diuers excellent men for the preseruation of his people, after their returne from Babylon: as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captaine to bring them home, and prouided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their maners, and planted religion: and the third builded vp the wals, deliuered the people from oppression, and prouided that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalem. 5 Hee confesseth the sinnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

[a] Which containeth part of Nouember and part of December, and was their ninth moneth. [b] A Iewe as I was.

THe words of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. In the moneth [a] Chisleu, in the twentieth yeere, as I was in the palace of Shushan, 2 Came Hanani one of my [b] brethren, he and the men of Iudah: and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.
3 And they sayd vnto mee, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the [c] prouince, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.
4 And when I heard these words, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,
5 And said, [d] O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth couenant and mercy for them that loue him, and obserue his commandements,
6 I pray thee, let thine eares bee attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daily, day and night for the children of Israel thy seruants, and confesse the sinnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers houle haue sinned:
7 Wee haue [e] grieuously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the commandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.
8 I beseech thee, remember the word that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye will transgresse, and I will scatter you abroad among the people.
9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, and doe them, though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen, to place my Name there.
10 Nowe these are thy seruants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mightie hand.
11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eare nowe bearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to [f] feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of [g] this man: for I was the kings butler.

[c] Meaning in Iudea.

[d] That is, to worship thee.

[e] To wit, the King Artahshahte.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, 11 Hee came to Hierusalem, 17 And builded the wals.

NOw in the moneth [a] Nisan in the twentieth yeere of King [b] Artahshahte, the wine stoode before him, and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the king. Nowe I was not beforetime sad in his presence.
2 And the King sayd vnto mee, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing but sorowe of heart. Then was I sore afraid.
3 And I sayd to the King, God saue the King for euer: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie and houle of the sepulchres of my fathers lieth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?
4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I prayed [c] to the God of heauen.
5 And sayd vnto the King, If it please the king, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.
6 And the king said vnto me (the Queene also sitting by him) How long shall thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.
7 After I said vnto the king, If it please the king, let them giue me letters to the captaines beyond the [*] Riuer, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iudah,

[a] Which was the first moneth of the yeere, and conteineth part of March, and part of April. [b] Who is also called Darius: reade Ezra 7. 1. and was the sonne of Hystaspis.

[c] I desired God in mine heart to prosper mine enterprise.

8 And

8 And letters vnto Asaph the keeper of the Kings ‖ parke, that he may giue me timber to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) and for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gaue me according to d the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 ¶ Then came I to the captaines beyond the riuer, & gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captains of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But e Sanballat the Horonite, & Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieued them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, & was there three dayes.

12 And I arose in the night, I, and a few men with me: for I told no man what God had put in mine heart to doe at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with me, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the Dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the wals of Ierusalem, how they were broken down, and the ports thereof deuoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the ‖ fountaine, and to the Kings fishpoole, and there was no roome for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and comming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I sayd vnto them, Ye see the miserie that we are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more a f reproch.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God (which was good ouer me) and also of the Kings wordes, that he had spoken vnto me. And they sayde, Let vs rise, and build. So they g strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and h Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and sayd, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye i rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and sayd to them, The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, & we his seruants will rise vp and build: but as for you, yee haue no portion nor right, nor k memoriall in Ierusalem.

CHAP. III.

The number of them that builded the walles.

THen arose Eliashib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests, and they built the sheepe gate: they l repaired it, and set vp the doores thereof: euen vnto the tower of Meah repaired they it, and vnto the tower of Hananeel.

2 And next vnto him builded the men of Iericho, and beside him Zaccur the sonne of Imri.

3 But the fish port did the sonnes of Senaah build, which also laide the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next vnto them fortified Meremoth, the sonne of Uriah, the sonne of Hakkoz: and next vnto them fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Meshezabeel: and next vnto them fortified Zadok, the sonne of Baana:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great men of them m put not their necks to the worke of their lords.

6 And the gate of the n olde fishpoole fortified Iehoiada the sonne of Paseah, & Meshullam the sonne of Besodeiah: they layed the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, and the lockes thereof, & the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Iadon the Meronothite, men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, vnto the o throne of the Duke, which was beyond the Riuer.

8 Next vnto him fortified Uzziel the sonne of Harhohiah ‖ of the goldsmiths: next vnto him also fortified Hananiah, the sonne ‖ of Harakkahim, and they repaired Ierusalem vnto the broad wall.

9 Also next vnto them fortified Rephaiah, the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem.

10 And next vnto him fortified Iedaiah the sonne of Harumaph, euen ouer against his house: and next vnto him fortified Hattush, the sonne of Hashabniah.

11 Malchiah the sonne of Harim, and Hashub the sonne of Pahath Moab fortified the second ‖portion, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 Next vnto him also fortified Shallum, the sonne of Hallohesh, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem, he, and his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah: they built it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubites on the wall vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Malchiah the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of p fourth part of Beth-haccarem: he built it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallum, the sonne of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mizpah: he builded it, and couered it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, & the barres thereof, and the wal vnto the fishpoole of q Shelah by the kings garden, and vnto the steps that goe downe from the citie of Dauid.

16 After him fortified Nehemiah the sonne of Azbuk, the ruler of the halfe part of Beth-zur, vnto till the other side ouer against the 28 From aboue the horse gate fortified the Priests, euery one ouer against his house.

29 After them fortified Zadok the sonne of Immer ouer against his house: and after him fortified Shemaiah, the sonne of Shechaniah the keeper of the East gate.

30 After him fortified Hananiah, the sonne of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sonne of Zalaph, the [g] sixt, another portion: after him fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah ouer against his chamber.

g Meaning, the sixt of his sonnes.

31 After him fortified Malchiah the goldsmiths sonne, vntill the house of the Nethinims, and of the marchants ouer against the gate [h] Miphkad, and to the chamber in the corner.

h Which was the place of iudgement, or execution.

32 And betweene the chamber of the corner vnto the sheepe gate, fortified the goldsmiths and the marchants.

CHAP. IIII.

7 The building of Ierusalem is hindred, 15 But God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes build with one hand, and hold them weapons in the other.

BVt when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, then was he wroth and sore grieued, and mocked the Iewes,

2 And spake before his [a] brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus he spake, What doe these [b] weake Iewes? will they fortifie themselues? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stones whole againe out of the heapes of dust, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and spake, Although they build, yet if a fore goe vp, he shall euen breake downe their stony wall.

4 [c] Heare, O our God (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, & giue them vnto a praye [d] in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their [e] iniquitie, neither let their sinne be put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked vs before the builders.

6 So we built the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the [‡] halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 ¶ But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come and to fight against Ierusalem, and to [‡] hinder them.

9 Then wee prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them day & night, because of them.

10 And Iudah sayd, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had sayd, They shall not know, neither see, till we come into the midst of them and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they told vs [‡] ten times, [g] From all places whence ye shal returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall vpon the tops of the stones, and placed the people by their families with their swordes, their speares, and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and said vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Bee not afrayde of them: [h] remember the great Lord, and fearefull, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowen vnto vs, then God brought their counsell to nought, and wee turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shields, and bowes, and habergins: and the rulers stood [i] behind all the house of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wall, & they that c This is the remedie that the children of God haue against the derision & threatnings of their enemies, to flee to God by prayer.

d Let them be spoiled and led away captiue.

e Let thy plagues declare to the world, that they set themselues against thee, and against thy Church: thus he prayeth, only hauing respect to Gods glory, and not for any priuate affection or grudge.

that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders had his sword girded on his loynes, and so builded: and he that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then sayde I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore yee heare the sound of the trumpet, k resort ye thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

k Meaning, to resist their enemies, if neede required.

21 So wee laboured in the worke, and halfe of them held the speares from the appearing of the morning, till the starres came foorth.

22 And at the same time sayd I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Jerusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruaunts, nor the men of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, saue euery one put them off l for washing.

CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppressed and in necessitie. 6 Nehemiah remedieth it. 14 He tooke not the portion of others that had ruled before, lest he should greeue the people.

NOwe there was a great crie of the people, and of their wiues a against their brethren the Iewes.

a Against the rich, which oppressed them.

2 For there were that sayd, Wee, our sonnes and our daughters are many, therefore wee take vp b corne, that we may eate and liue.

b This is the complaint of the people, shewing to what extremitie they were brought vnto.

3 And there were that sayd, Wee must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that sayd, Wee haue borowed money for the Kings c tribute vpon our lands and our vineyards.

c To pay our tribute to the king of the Persians, which was exacted, yeerely of vs,

5 And nowe our flesh is as d the flesh of our brethren, and our sonnes as their sonnes: and loe, wee bring into subiection our sonnes and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters nowe in subiection, and there is no power e in our hands: for other men haue our lands and our vineyards.

d By nature the rich is no better then the poore.

e We are not able to redeeme them, but for pouertie are constrained to hire them to others.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their crie and these words.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the Princes, and the rulers, and sayde vnto them, Ye lay f burdens euery one vpon his brethren: and I set a great g assembly against them, f You presse them with vsurie, and seeke how to bring all things into your hands.

8 And I said vnto them, We (according to our ability) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: and will ye sell your brethren againe, or shall they be h sold vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could not answere.

g Both because they should be moued with pitie, seeing howe many were by them oppressed, and also heare the iudgement of others, which should be as it were witnesses of their dealing toward their brethren.

h Seeing God hath once deliuered them from the bondage of the Heathen, shall wee make them our slaues?

9 i I sayd also, That which yee doe, is not good. Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the k reproch of the heathen our enemies?

i Meaning, Nehemiah.

k Who by this occasion will blaspheme the name of God, seeing that our acts are not better then theirs.

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my seruants doe lend them money and corne: I pray you, let vs leaue off this l burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their landes, their vineyardes, their olives, and their houses, and remit the hundreth part of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine and of the oyle l that yee exact of them.

l Which ye take of them for the loane.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: we will doe as thou hast sayd. Then I called the Priestes, and caused them to sweare, that they should doe according to this promise.

13 So I shooke my lap, and said, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue mee charge to be gouernour in the lande of Iudah from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artahshashte, that is, twelue yeere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the m bread of the gouernour.

m I receiued not that portion and diet, which the gouernours, that were before me, exacted, wherein he declareth that he rather sought the wealth of the people, then his owne commoditie.

15 For the former gouernours that were before mee, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fourtie shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule ouer the people: but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified n portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there were at my table an hundreth and fiftie of the Iewes, and Rulers which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared daily an oxe, and sixe chosen sheepe, and birds were prepared for me, and o within ten dayes wine for all p in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

o Or, once in ten dayes.

n Whereas at other times they had by measure, at this time they had most liberally.

19 Remember mee, O my God, in goodnesse, according to all that I haue done for this people.

1 Nehemiah answereth with great wisedome, and zeale to his aduersarie. 11 Hee is not discouraged by the false prophets.

AND when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Gesthem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no more q breaches therein (though at that time I had not set vp the doores vpon the gates)

q That is, that they were ioyned together, as Chap. 4. 6.

2 Then sent Sanballat and Gesthem vnto mee, saying, Come thou that wee may meete together in the villages in the plaine of of Dno: and they thought to dot me emil.

3 Therfoze I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I cannot come downe: b why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto me foure times after this sozt. And I answered them after the same maner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sozt vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and ‖ Gashmu hath sayd it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, foz the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt bee their King according to these c words.

7 Thou hast also ordeined d the Prophets to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There is a King in Iudah: and nowe according to these words it shal come to the Kings eares: come now therefoze, and let vs take counsell together.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these words that thou sayest: foz thou fainest them of thine owne heart.

9 Foz all they afrayed vs, saying, Their handes shall be weakened from the worke, and it shall not be done: now therefoze ‡ incourage thou me.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Shemaiah, the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Mehetabeel, and he was e shut vp, and he sayd, Let vs come together into the House of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doozes of the Temple: foz they will come to slay thee: yea, in the night will they come to kill thee.

11 Then I sayd, f Should such a man as I, flee? Who is hee, being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to liue? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that hee pronounced this prophesie against me: foz Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefoze was he hired that I might bee afraid, and doe thus, and sinne, and that they might haue an euill report that they might reproch me.

14 My God, remember thou Tobiah and Sanballat according vnto these their workes, and Noadiah the ‡ Prophetesse also, and the rest of the Prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 ¶ Notwithstanding the wall was finished on the fiue and twentieth day of h Elul, in two and fiftie dayes.

16 And when all their enemies heard thereof, euen all the heathen that were about vs, they were afraid, and their courage failed them: foz they knewe that this worke was wrought by our God.

17 And in these dayes were there many of the Princes of Iudah, whose k letters went vnto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came vnto them.

18 Foz there were many in Iudah, that were sworne vnto him: foz hee was the sonne in lawe of Shechaniah, the sonne of Arah: and his sonne Iehonathan had the daughter of Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah.

19 Yea, they spake in his prayse before me, and tolde him my words, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

CHAP. VII.

1 After the wall once builded, in the watch appointed. 6 They that returned from the captiuitie are numbered.

NOw * when the wall was builded, and I had set vp the doozes, and the porters and the singers and the Leuites were appointed, Eccles.49.13.

2 Then I commanded my brother Hanani and Hananiah the prince of the palace in Ierusalem (foz he was doubtlesse a faithfull man, and feared God about many)

3 And I sayde vnto them, Let not the gates of Ierusalem be opened, vntill a the heate of the sunne: and while they stand by, let them shut the doozes, and ‡ make them fast: and I appointed wardes of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, euery one in his warde, and euery one ouer against his house. a To wit, they that are mentioned, verse 2. ‡ Ebr. holde them, meaning, till the barres were put in.

4 Now the city was large and great, but the people were fewe therein, and the houses were not builded.

5 And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, and the people to count their genealogies: and I found a booke of the genealogie of them, which came vp at the first, and found written therein, Ezra 2.2.

6 These are the b sonnes of the prouince that came vp from the captiuitie that was caried away (whom Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had caried away) and they returned to Ierusalem and to Iudah euery one vnto his citie. b That is, the inhabitants of Iudah.

7 They which came with Zerubbabel, Iehuah, Nehemiah, c Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mozdecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Biguai, Nehum, Baanah. This is the nnmber of the men of the people of Israel. c Azariah in Ezra is called Seraiah: and Raamiah, Reeliah, Chap.2.2.

g Very griefe caused him to pray against such which vnder the pretence of being the ministers of God, were aduersaries to his glory, and went about to ouerthrowe his Church, declaring also hereby that where there is one true minister of God, the deuill hath a great sort of hirelings.

58 The sonnes of Iaala, the sonnes of Darkon, the sonnes of Giddel, 59 The sonnes of Shephatiah, the sonnes of Hattil, the sonnes of Pochereth of Zebaim, the sonnes of Amon.
60 All the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruaunts were three hundreth, ninetie and two.
61 ¶ And these came vp from Tel-melah, Tel-haresha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they could not shew their fathers house, nor their seede, or if they were of Israel.
62 The sonnes of Delaiah: the sonnes of Tobiah, the sonnes of Nekoda, six hundreth and two and fourty.
63 And of the Priests: the sonnes of Habaiah, the sonnes of Hakkoz, the sonnes of Barzillai, which tooke one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was named after their name.
64 These sought their writing in the genealogies, but it was not found: therefore they were put from the Priesthood.

i Which containeth part of September, and part of October.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 12 They reioyce in Iſrael for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keepe the feaſt of Tabernacles or boothes.

‡ Ebr. as one man.

AND all the people aſſembled themſelues ‡ together, in the ſtreete that was before the water gate, and they ſpake vnto Ezra the a Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Law of Moſes, which the Lorde had commaunded to Iſrael.

a Read Ezra 7.6.

2 And Ezra the Prieſt brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that b could heare and vnderſtand it, in the firſt day of the ſeuenth moneth,

b Which had age and diſcretion to vnderſtand

3 And he read therein in the ſtreete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the c midday) before men and women, and them that vnderſtood it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

c This declareth the great zeale that the people had to heare the word of God.

4 And Ezra the Scribe ſtoode vpon a pulpit of wood, which hee had made for the preaching, & beſide him ſtoode Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Uriiah, and Hilkiah, and Maaſeiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedaiah, and Miſhael, and Malchiah, and Haſhum, and Haſhbadana, Zechariah, and Meſhullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was d aboue all the people: and when he opened it, all the people ſtood vp.

d To the intent that his voyce might be the better heard,

6 And Ezra prayſed the Lord the great God, and all the people anſwered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: and they bowed themſelues, and worſhipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Alſo Ieſhua, and Bani, & Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiiah, Maaſeiah, Kelita, Azariah, Iozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites cauſed the people to vnderſtand the Law, and the people ſtood in their place.

e In conſidering their offences againſt the Law. Therfore the Leuites doe not reproue them for mourning, but aſſure them of Gods mercies forasmuch as they are repentant.

8 And they read in the booke of the Law of God diſtinctly, & gaue the ſenſe, and cauſed them to vnderſtand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirſhatha) and Ezra the Prieſt and Scribe, and the Leuites that inſtructed the people, ſaid vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people e wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He ſayd alſo vnto them, Go and eate of the fat, and drinke the ſweete, and ſend part vnto them, for whom none is f prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not ſorie therefore: for the g ioy of the Lord is your ſtrength.

f That is, remember the poore.

g Reioyce in the Lord, and he will giue you ſtrength.

11 And the Leuites made ſilence through out all the people, ſaying, Holde your peace: for the day is holy, be not ſad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to ſend a way part, & to make great ioy, becauſe they had vnderſtood the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the ſecond day, the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Prieſts and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the ſcribe, that he alſo might inſtruct them in the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Lawe, (that the Lord had commaunded by Moſes) that the children of Iſrael ſhould dwell in h boothes in the feaſt of the ſeuenth moneth, Leuit.23,34.

15 And that they ſhould cauſe it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ieruſalem, ſaying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring oliue branches, and pine branches, and branches of ‖ myrtus, & palme branches, & branches of thicke trees to make boothes, as it is written.

‖ Or, goodly branches, as Leuit.23, 40.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them boothes, euery one vpo the i roofe of his houſe, and in their courtes, and in the courts of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreete by the watergate, & in the ſtreet of the gate of Ephraim.

h For their houſes were made flat aboue, read Deut.22.8.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuity, made boothes, and ſate vnder the boothes: for ſince the k time of Ieſhua the ſonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo, and there was very great ioy.

i Which was almoſt a thouſand yeeres.

18 And he read in the booke of the Lawe of God euery day, from the firſt day vnto the laſt day. And they kept the feaſt ſeuen dayes, and on the eight day a ſolemne aſſembly, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forſake their ſtrange wiues. 5 The Leuites exhort them to praiſe God, 6 Declaring his wonders, 26 And their ingratitude, 30 And Gods great mercies towarde them.

IN the foure & twentieth day of this a moneth, the children of Iſrael were aſſembled with b faſting, and with ſackcloth, and earth vpon them.

a Meaning, the ſeuenth. 1. Eſdr.9.4.

3 And they ſtoode vp in their place and read in the booke of the Lawe of the Lorde their God foure times on the day, and they c confeſſed & worſhipped the Lord their God foure times.

b They made confeſſion of their ſinnes and vſed prayers.

4 Then ſtood vp vpon the ſtaires of the Leuites Ieſhua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani & Chenani, and cried with a loud voice vnto the Lord their God.

for euer and euer, and let them prayse thy glorious Name, O God, which exalteth aboue all thankesgiuing and prayse.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things, that are therein, the seas, & all that are in them, and thou preseruest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lorde, the God that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of * Vr in Chaldea, * and madest his name Abraham, 8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, * and madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the lande of the Cananites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites, and Girgashites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: therefore thou madest thee a name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou didst breake vp the sea, before them, and they went through the mids of the Sea on dry land: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottomes as a stone, in the mighty waters:

12 And * leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloud, and in the night with a pillar of fire to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 * Thou camest down also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, and true lawes, ordinances and good commaundements,

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, & commaundedst them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, * and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and * promisedst them that they should goe in, and take possession of the land, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaued themselues proudly, & hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commandements, 17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marueilous workes that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their necks, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and ful of compassion, of long suffering and of great mercie, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreouer, when they made them a molten calfe (and said, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies, 19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in the wildernesse: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shewe them light, and the way wherein they should goe.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & withheldest not thy MAN from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou didst also feede them fourtie yeeres in the wildernesse: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete * swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and * scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed * the land of Sihon and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the lande of Og king of Bashan.

23 And thou diddest multiplie their children like the starres of the heauen, & broughtest them into the land, whereof thou hadst spoken vnto their fathers, that they should goe, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the lande, that thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, euen the Cananites, and gauest them into their handes, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyards, and olives, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure through thy great goodnesse.

26 Yet they were disobedient, & rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behind their backes, and slew thy Prophets (which * protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hande of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them sauiours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had * rest, they returned to doe euill before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted and cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliuerdst them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protestedst among them that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Lawe: but they behaued themselues proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commaundements, but sinned against thy iudgements (* Which a man should do and liue in them) and * pulled away the shoulder, & were stiffenecked, and would not * heare.

30 Yet thou ‡ diddest forbeare them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by 31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Now therefore our God, thou great God mightie and terrible, that keepest couenant and [a] mercy, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a little before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our Princes, and to our Priestes, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the kings of [i] Assur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou hast dealt truely, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our Kings and our Princes, our Priests and our fathers haue not done thy Lawe, nor regarded thy commaundements nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast [l] protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou hewedst vnto them, and in the large and fatte land which thou viddest set before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill works.

36 Beholde, wee are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eate the [m] fruite thereof, and the goodnesse therof, beholde, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeeldeth much fruite vnto the Kings whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattel at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this wee make [n] a sure couenant, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites and our Priests seale vnto it.

CHAP. XI.

1 Who dwelled in Ierusalem after it was builded, 21 And who in the cities of Iudah.

AND the rulers of the people dwelt in Ierusalem: the other people also cast lots, [a] to bring one out of tenne, to dwell in Ierusalem the holy citie, and nine partes to be in the cities.

[a] Because their enemies dwelt round about them, they prouided that it might be replenished with men, and vsed this policie, because there were fewe that offred themselues willingly.

2 And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwell in Ierusalem.

3 These nowe are the chiefe of the prouince, that dwelt in Ierusalem, but in the cities of Iudah, euery one dwelt in his owne possession in their cities of Israel, the Priests, the Leuites, and the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruants.

4 And in Ierusalem dwelt certaine of the children of Iudah, and of the children of Beniamin. Of the sonnes of Iudah, Athaiah, the sonne of Vzziah, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Shephatiah, the sonne of Mahalaleel, of the sonnes of [b] Perez, [b] Which came of Perez the sonne of Iudah.

5 And Maaseiah the sonne of Baruch, the sonne of Col Hozeh, the sonne of Hazaiah, the sonne of Adaiah, the sonne of Ioiarib, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of [‖] Shiloni.

[‖] Or, of a Shelonite.

6 All the sonnes of Perez that dwelt at Ierusalem, were foure hundred threescore and eight valiant men.

7 These also are the sonnes of Beniamin, Sallu the sonne of Meshullam, the sonne of Ioed, the sonne of Pedaiah, the sonne of Kolaiah, the sonne of Maaseiah, the sonne of Ithiel, the sonne of Iesaiah.

8 And after him Gabai, Sallai, nine hundred and twentie and eight.

9 And Ioel the sonne of Zichri was gouernour ouer them: and Iudah the sonne of Senuah, was the second ouer the citie.

10 Of the Priests, Iedaiah, the sonne of Ioiarib, Iachin.

11 Seraiah, the sonne of Hilkiah, the sonne of Meshullam, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Meraioth, the sonne of Ahitub, [c] was chiefe of the house of God.

[c] That is, was the hie Priest.

12 And their brethren [d] that did the worke in the Temple, were eight hundred twentie and two: and Adaiah the sonne of Ieroham, the sonne of Pelaliah, the sonne of Amzi, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Pashur, the sonne of Malchiah:

[d] That serued and ministred in the Temple.

13 And his brethren, chiefe of the fathers two hundred and two and fourtie: and Amashai, the sonne of Azareel, the sonne of Ahazai, the sonne of Meshillemoth, the sonne of Immer:

14 And their brethren valiant men, an hundred & eight and twentie: and their ouerseer was Zabdiel the sonne of [‖] Hagedolim.

[‖] Or, of one of the great men.

15 And of the Leuites, Shemaiah the sonne of Hashub, the sonne of Azrikam, the sonne of Hashabiah, the sonne of Bunni.

16 And Shabbethai, and Iozabad of the chiefe of the Leuites were ouer the works of the house of God without.

17 And Mattaniah the sonne of Micha, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Asaph was the chiefe to [e] beginne the thanksgiuing and prayer: and Bakbukiah the second of his brethren, and Abda the sonne of Sammua, the sonne of Galal, the sonne of Ieduthun.

[e] That is, he began the Psalme, and was the Chaunter.

18 All the Leuites in the holy citie were two hundred fourescore and foure.

19 And the porters Akkub, Talmon and their brethren that kept the [f] gates, were an hundred twentie and two.

[f] Meaning, of the Temple.

20 And the [g] residue of Israel of the Priests, and of the Leuites dwelt in all the cities of Iudah, euery one in his inheritance.

[g] Of them, which dwelt not in Ierusalem.

21 And the Nethinims dwelt in the [‖] forteresse, and Ziha, and Gispa was ouer the Nethinims.

[‖] Or, Ophel.

22 And the ouerseer of the Leuites in Ierusalem was Vzzi [h] the sonne of Bani, the sonne of Hashabiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Micha: of the sonnes of Asaph singers were ouer the worke of the house of God.

23 For it was the kings commaundement concerning them, that faithfull prouision should be for the singers euery day.

24 And Pethahiah the sonne of Meshezabeel, of the sonnes of Zerah, the sonne of Iudah [i] was at the kings hand in all matters concerning the people.

[i] Was chiefe about the king for all his affaires.

25 And in the villages in their landes, some of the children of Iudah dwelt in Kiriath-arba, and in the villages thereof, and in Dibon, and in the villages thereof, and in Iecabzeel, and in the villages thereof,

26 And in Ieshua, and Moladah, and in Beth-palet,

27 And in Hazer-shual, and in Beer-sheba, and in the villages thereof,

28 And in Ziklag, and in Mechonah, and in the villages thereof,

29 And in En-rimmon, and in Zareah, and in Iarmuth,

30 Zanoah, Adullam, and in their villages, in Lachish, and in the fieldes thereof, at Azekah, and in the villages thereof: and they dwelt from Beer-sheba vnto the valley of Hinnom.

31 And the sonnes of Beniamin from Geba, in Michmash, and Aia, and Beth-el, and in the villages thereof,

32 Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,

33 Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim,

34 Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat,

35 Lod, & Ono, in the carpenters valley.

36 And of the Leuites were diuisions in Iudah and in Beniamin.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Priests and Leuites which came with Zerubbabel vnto Ierusalem, are numbred, 27 And the wall is dedicated.

THese also are the Priestes and the Leuites that [a] went vp with Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua: to wit, Seraia, Ieremiah, Ezra,

[a] From Babylon to Ierusalem.

2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,

3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abiah, 5 Miamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,
6 Shemaiah, and Ioiarib, Iedaiah,
7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Iedaiah: these were the b chiefe of the Priests, and of their brethren in the dayes of Ieshua.
8 And the Leuites, Iesh̃ua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Iudah, Mattaniah, c were ouer the thankesgiuings, he, and his brethren.
9 And Bakbukiah and Unni, and their brethren were about them in the d watches.
10 And Iehua begate Ioiakim: Ioiakim also begate Eliashib, and Eliashib begate Ioiada.
11 And Ioiada begate Ionathan, and Ionathan begate Iaddua.
12 And in the dayes of Ioiakim were these the chiefe fathers of the Priestes: vnder e Seraiah was Meraiah, vnder Ieremiah, Hananiah, 13 Vnder Ezra, Meshullam, vnder Amariah, Iehohanan, 14 Vnder Melicu, Ionathan, vnder Shebaniah, Ioseph, 15 Vnder Harim, Adna, vnder Meraioth, Helkai, 16 Vnder Iddo, Zechariah, vnder Ginnethon, Meshullam, 17 Vnder f Abiah, Zichri, vnder Miamin, and vnder Moadiah, Piltai, 18 Vnder Bilgah, Shammua, vnder Shemaiah, Iehonathan, 19 Vnder Ioiarib, Mattenai, vnder Iedaiah, Vzzi, 20 Vnder Sallai, Kallai, vnder Amok, Eber, 21 Vnder Hilkiah, Hashabiah, vnder Iedaiah, Nethaneel.
22 In the dayes of Eliashib, Ioiada, and Iohanan, & Iaddua were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites written, and the Priestes in the reigne of Darius the Persian.
23 The sonnes of Leui, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen vnto the dayes of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib.
24 And the chiefe of the Leuites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, & Iesh̃ua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to giue praise and thankes, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, ward ouer g against ward.
25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholdes of the gates.
26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakim the sonne of Iesh̃ua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and scribe.
27 And in the dedication of the wall at Ierusalem they sought the Leuites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalem to keepe their dedication and gladnesse, both with thankesgiuings and with songs, cymbals, violes, and with harpes.
28 Then the ‡ singers gathered themselues together both from the plaine countrey about Ierusalem, and from the villages of h Netophathi, 29 And from the house of Galgal, and out of the countrey of Geba, and Azmaueth: for the singers had built them villages round about Ierusalem.
30 And the Priestes and Leuites were purified, and clensed the people, and the gates, and the wall.
31 And i I brought vp the princes of Iudah vpon the wall, and appointed two great companies to giue thankes, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.
32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and halfe of the princes of Iudah, 33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam,
34 Iudah, Beniamin, and Shemaiah, and Ieremiah,
35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.
36 And k his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Iudah, Hanani, with the musicall instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Ezra the scribe went before them.
37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them went they vp by l the staires of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto the water gate Eastward.
38 And the second company of them that gaue thankes, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the towre of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall, 39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the olde gate, and vpon the fish gate, and the towre Hananeel, and the towre of Mead, euen vnto the sheepegate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.
40 So stood the two companies (of them that gaue thankes) in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.
41 The Priestes also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Vzzi, and Iehohanan, and Malchiah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the singers ‡ sang loud, having Izrahiah which was the ouerseer.
43 And the same day they offerred great sacrifices and reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioy, so that both the women and the children were ioyfull: and the ioy of Ierusalem was heard farre off.
44 And at the same time were men appointed m ouer the chambers of the store for the offerings (for the first fruites, and for the tithes) to gather in to them out of the fieldes of the cities the portions of the Law for the Priests and the Leuites: for Iudah reioyced for the Priests and for the Leuites, that serued.
45 And both the singers and the Leuites kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, according to the commandement of Dauid, and Salomon his sonne.

1 The Law is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reproueth them that breake the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

ON that day did they read in the booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite, [a] should not enter into the Congregation of God.

Deut. 23. 3.

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Lawe, they separated from Israel [a] all those that were mixed.

a That is, al such which had ioined in vnlawfull mariage, and also those with whom God had forbidden them to haue societie.

4 ¶ And before [b] this had the priest Eliashib the ouerseer of the chamber of the house of our God, being [c] kinsman to Tobiah:

5 And he had made him a great chamber, [d] there had they afore time laid the offrings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oile (appointed for the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters) and the offrings of the Priests.

b Or, at the yeeres end.

c Thus we see to what inconueniences the people fall into, when they are destitute of one that hath the feare of God, seeing that their chiefe gouernour was but a while absent, and yet they fel into such grose absurdities: as appeareth also, Exod. 32. 1.

d Hee protesteth that he did his dutie with a good conscience, yet he doth not iustifie himselfe herein, but desireth God to fauour him, and to be merciful vnto him for his owne goodnes sake, as wee 22, and 31.

6 But in all this time was not I in Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yeere [e] of Artahshahte King of Babel, came I vnto the King, and [f] after certaine dayes I obtained of the King.

e Called also Darius, Ezra 7. 1.

f Hee protesteth that he did his dutie with a good conscience, yet he doth not iustifie himselfe herein, but desireth God to fauour him, and to be merciful vnto him for his owne goodnes sake, as wee 22, and 31.

7 And when I was come to Jerusalem, I vnderstood [g] the euill that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God, g I declared vnto them, that God would not suffer such transgressors of his law to be vnpunished.

8 And it grieued me sore: therefore I cast foorth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither broughte I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offring and the incense.

10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, [h] that euery one was fled to his lande, euen the Leuites and singers that executed the worke.

h Was not this a great cause why God plagued vs in times past? meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague should be greater.

11 Then reproued I the rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then broughte all Juhad the tithes of corne and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the Scribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaiah, [i] vnder their hande Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

i About the time that the Sunne were downe: for the Sabbath lasted from Sunne going downe of the one day, to the Sunne setting of the other.

14 Remember me, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my [k] kindnesse that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the k Meaning, of the Temple, that none that was vncleane, should enter.

15 In those dayes saw I in Judah them that trode wine presses on the Sabbath, and that brought in sheaues, and which lade asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burthens, and brought them into Jerusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and [l] I protested to them in the day that they solde victuales.

l I declared vnto them, that God would not suffer such transgressors of his law to be vnpunished.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish and all wares, [m] solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Judah euen in Jerusalem.

m Which is a great euill thing in Judah, and say vnto them, What euill thing is this that yee do, and breake the Sabbath day?

17 Then reproued I the rulers of Judah, and 18 Did not your fathers [n] thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? yet yee increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

n Was not this a great cause why God plagued vs in times past? meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague should be greater.

19 And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be [o] dark before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there should no burde be brought in on the Sabbath day.

o Which was a citie of the Philistims, & they had maried wiues thereof, and so had corrupted their speech and religion.

20 So the chapmen and merchants of all merchandize remained once or twice all night without Jerusalem.

21 And I protested among them and said vnto them, Why tarie ye all night about the wall? If ye doe it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I said vnto the Leuites that they should cleanse themselues, and that they should come and keepe the [p] gates to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercy.

p Meaning, of the Temple, that none that was vncleane, should enter.

23 In those daies also I saw Jewes that maried wiues of [q] Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

q Which was a citie of the Philistims, & they had maried wiues thereof, and so had corrupted their speech and religion.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speake in the Jewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and [r] cursed them, and smote certaine of them and pulled off their haire, and tooke an oth of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall yee take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

r That is, I did excommunicate them, and driue them out of the Congregation.

26 [s] Did not Salomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him: for he was [t] beloued of his God, & God had made him king ouer Israel: [u] yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to doe all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marrie strange wiues?

28 And one of the sonnes of Joiada the sonne of Eliashib the high Priest was the sonne in law of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

THE ARGVMENT.

BEcause of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supputation of yeres, wherein the Ebrewes & the Grecians do vary, diuers authors write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerosh, but it seemeth, Dan. 6. 1. and 9. 1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahashuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercy of God toward his Church, who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly help fayleth, he euer stirreth vp some by whom he sendeth comfort and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride, and cruelty of the wicked, when they come to honour, & their sudden fall when they are at highest: and how God preserueth and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

NOw in the dayes of a Ahashuerosh (this is Ahashuerosh that reigned from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an b hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces)

2 In those dayes when the King Ahashuerosh c sate on his throne, which was in the palace of d Shushan,

3 In the third yere of his reigne he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the captaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That he might shew the riches & glory of his kingdom, & the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundred and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast vnto all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great & small seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, greene, and blew clothes, fastened with cordes of fine linnen and purple, in siluer rings, and pillars of marble: the d beds were of gold, and of siluer vpon a paument of porphyrie, and marble and alablaster, and blew colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of gold, and changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in aboundance according to the e power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might f compel: for so the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they shoulde doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 ¶ The queene Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royall house of king Ahashuerosh.

10 Vpon the g seuenth day, when the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen eunuches, (that serued in the presence of king Ahashuerosh)

11 To bring Queene Vashti before the king with the crowne royall, that hee might shew the people and the princes her beautie: for she was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Vashti refused to come at the kings word, ‡ which hee had giuen in charge to the eunuches: therefore the king was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the King sayd to the wise men, h that knew the times (for so was the kings maner towards all that knew the lawe and the iudgement:

h That had experience of things as they had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time.

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena and Memucan the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which saw the i kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

i Which were his chiefe counsellers, that might haue alwaies accesse to him.

15 What shall we doe vnto the Queene Vashti according to the law, because she did not according to k word of the king Ahashuerosh by the commission of the eunuches?

k By her disobedience she hath giuen an example to all women to doe the like to their husbands.

16 Then Memucan answered before the King and the princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done l euill against the king, but against all the princes, and against al the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahashuerosh.

l That is, her disobedience.

17 For the l act of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shall say, The king Ahashuerosh commanded Vashti the Queene to bee brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the m princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings princes, when they heare of the act of the Queene: thus shall there bee much despitefulnesse and wrath.

m Meaning, that they would take first occasion hereof to doe the like, and that the rest of women would by continuance doe the same.

19 If it please the king, let a royal decree proceed from him, & let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not bee transgressed) that Vashti come no more before king Ahashuerosh: & let the king giue her royall estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

n Let her be diuorced, and an other made Queene.

20 And when ‡ decree of the king which shall be made, shall bee published throughout all his kingdom (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbands honor both great and small.

o For he had vnder him an hundreth twentie and seuen countries.

21 And this saying pleased the King and the the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memucan.

22 For he sent letters into all the prouinces of the king, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and to euery people, after their language, that euery man should p beare rule in his owne house, and that hee should publish it in the language of the same people.

p That is, that the wife should be subiect to the husband, and at his commandement.

CHAP. II.

1 After the Queene is put away, certaine young maydes are brought to the king. 17 Ester pleaseth the king, and is made Queene. 22 Mordecai discloseth vnto the king those that would betray him.

AFter these things, when the wrath of King Ahashuerosh was appeased, hee q remembred Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed r against her.

q That is, hee called the matter againe into communication.
r By the seuen wise men of his counsell,

2 And the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, sayd, Let them seeke for the king beautifull young virgins,

3 And let the King appoynt officers through all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautifull young virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women, vnder the hand of Hege the kings eunuch s keeper of the women, to giue them their things t for purification.

s The abuse of these countreys was so great, that they inuented many meanes to serue the lusts of princes, and therefore, as they ordeined wicked lawes, that the king might haue whose daughters he would, so they had diuers houses appointed, as one for them whiles they were virgins, another when they were concubines, and for the Queenes another.
t Reade what this purification was verse 12. 2. King. 24, 15.

4 And the mayd that shal please the king, let her reigne in the stead of Vashti. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shushan, there was a certaine Iewe, whose name was Mordecai the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Shimei, the sonne of Kish a man of Iemini,

6 Which had beene caryed away from Ierusalem u with the captiuitie that was caryed away with Iechoniah King of Iudah (whome Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had caried away)

u Or, Hegai.

7 And hee nourished Hadassah, that is Ester, his vncles daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the mayde was faire, and beautifull to looke on: and after the death of her father & her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the kings commandement and his decree was published, and many maydes were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hande of Hege, Ester was brought also vnto the Kings house vnder the hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the mayde pleased him, and shee found fauour in his sight: therefore hee caused her things for purification to be giuen her speedily, and her ‡ state, and seuen comely maydes to bee giuen her out of the kings house, and hee gaue change to her and to her maydes of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Ester shewed not her people and her kinred: for Mordecai had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked x euery day before the court of the womens house, to know if Ester did well, and what should be done with her.

x For though she was taken away by a cruell law, yet he ceased not to haue a fatherly care ouer her, and therefore did oftentimes resort to haue of her.

12 And when the course of euery mayde came, to goe in to king Ahashuerosh, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, fiue moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and fiue moneths with sweete odours, and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the mayde vnto the king) whatsoeuer she required, was y giuen her, to go with her out of the womens house vnto the kings house.

y What apparell she asked of the Eunuch, that was he bound to giue her, 14 In the euening shee went, and on the morow she returned into the second house of the women vnder the hande of Shaashgaz the kings eunuch, which kept z concubines: she came in to the king no more, except shee pleased the king, and that she were called by name.

z Which contained part of December and part of Ianuarie, 15 Nowe when the course of Ester the daughter of Abihail the vncle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that she should goe in to the king, shee desired nothing, but what a Hege the kings eunuch the keeper of the women a laid: and Ester found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

a Or, Hegai.

16 ¶ So Ester was taken vnto king Ahashuerosh into his house royall in the tenth moneth, which is the b moneth Tebeth, in the seuenth yeere of his reigne.

b That is, made for her sake.

17 And the king loued Ester aboue all the women, and she found grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that he set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Vashti.

18 Then the king made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruants, which was c the feast of Ester, and gaue rest d vnto the prouinces, and gaue gifts, according to e the power of a king.

c He released their tribute.
d That is, great and magnificall.
e That is, at the marriage of Ester, which was the second marriage of the king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the f second time, then Mordecai sate in the kings gate.

f Meaning, to kill him.

20 Ester had not yet shewed her kinred, nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Ester did after the word of Mordecai, as when she was nourished with him.

21 ¶ In those dayes when Mordecai sate in the kings gate, two of the kings eunuchs, Bigthan, and Teresh, which kept the doore, were wroth, and sought to lay g hand on the king Ahashuerosh.

g Meaning, to kill him.

22 And the thing was knowen to Mordecai, and he told it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the king thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the bookes of the h Chronicles before the King.

h In the Chronicles of the Medes and Persians, as Chap. 10. 2.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman after he was exalted, obtained of the king, that al the Iewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

AFter these things did king Ahashuerosh promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seate aboue all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the kings seruants that were at the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the king had so commaunded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

3 Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, sayne vnto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the kings commandement?

4 And albeit they spake dayly vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they tolde Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for he had tolde them, that he was a Iewe.

5 And when Haman sawe that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Nowe he ‡ thought it too little to lay handes onely on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Iewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahashuerosh, euen the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth yeere of King Ahashuerosh, they cast Pur (that is a lot) before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth Adar.

8 Then Haman said vnto king Ahashuerosh, There is a people scattered, and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the kings lawes: therefore it is not the kings profite to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents of siluer by the handes of them that bare the charge of this busines to bring it into the kings treasurie.

10 Then the king tooke his ring from his hand and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Iewes aduersaries.

11 And the king sayd vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commaunded) vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of king Ahashuerosh was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent ‡ by postes into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroy all the Iewes, both yong and old, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should be giuen a commaundement in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should bee readie against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the kings commaundement went forth, and the commaundement was giuen in Shushan the palace: and the king and Haman sate drinking, but the citty of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIII.

Mordecai giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

NOw when Mordecai perceiued all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackecloth and ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, and cryed with a great cry and a bitter.

2 And hee came euen before the kings gate, but hee might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackecloth.

3 And in euery prouince, and place, whither the kings charge and his commission came, there was a great sorowe among the Iewes, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackecloth and ashes.

4 Then Esters maids and her eunuches came and tolde it her: therefore the Queene was very heaue, and shee sent rayment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackecloth from him, but he receiued it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the kings eunuches, whom he had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a commaundement vnto Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai vnto the streete of the citie, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the kings treasurers, because of the Iewes for to destroy them.

8 And he gaue him the copy of the writing & commission that was giuen at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might shew it vnto Ester, and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she should go in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 So when Hatach came, he tolde Ester the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester sayd vnto Hatach, and commanded him to say vnto Mordecai, 11 All the kings seruants and the people of the kings prouinces doe know, that whosoeuer, man or woman, that commeth to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not beene called to come vnto the king these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters words.

13 And Mordecai sayd, that they should answere Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe, that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliuerance shall appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall perish: and a The Persians maner was to kneele downe and reuerence their King, and such as he appointed in chiefe authoritie, which Mordecai would not doe to this ambitious and proud man.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entreth in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 14 Haman prepareth a gallowes for Mordecai.

AND on the third [a] day Ester put on her royall apparell, and stoode in the court of the kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the king sate vpon his royal throne in the kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, she found fauour in his sight: and the King [b] held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew neere, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then sayd the King vnto her, What wilt thou Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall bee euen giuen [c] thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then sayd Ester, If it please the king, let the King and Haman come this day vnto the banket, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king sayd, Cause Haman to make haste that hee may doe as Ester hath sayd. So the king and Haman came to the banket that Ester had prepared.

6 And the king sayd vnto Ester, at the banket of [d] wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen bee performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and sayd, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue mee my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banket that I shall prepare for them, and I will doe to morow according to the kings [e] saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and with a glad heart. But when Haman sawe Mordecai in the kings gate, that hee stoode not vp, nor mooued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Neuertheless Haman refrained himselfe: and when he came home, he sent and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had [f] promoted him, and howe that he had set him aboue the princes and seruants of the king.

12 Haman said moreouer, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the king to the banket that shee had prepared, saue me: and to morowe am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaile me, as long as I see Mordecai the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of fiftie cubites hie, and to morow speake thou vnto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou go ioyfully with the king vnto the banket. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

a To wit, after that the Iewes had begun to fast.

b Which was a signe that her comming was agreeable vnto him, as Chap. 4. 11.

CHAP. VI.

1 The king turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai, 10 And commandeth Haman to cause Mordecai to bee had in honour.

THe same night [a] the king slept not, and hee commanded to bring the booke of the Records and the Chronicles: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai [b] had told of Bigtana, and Teresh two of the kings eunuches, keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the king Ahashuerosh.

3 Then the king said, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai [c] for this? And the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, sayd, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in the court? (Howe Haman was come into the inner court of the kings house, that hee might speake vnto the king to [d] hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king said vnto him, What shall be done vnto the man, whom the king will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king do honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the king, The man whom the king would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparell, which the king vseth to weare, and the [e] horse that the king rideth vpon, & that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horse bee deliuered by the hand of one of the kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the king will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man, whom the king will honour.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horse as thou hast said, and do so vnto Mordecai the Iew, that sitteth at the kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment and the horse, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it bee done to the man whom the king will honour.

CHAP. VII.

3 The Queene biddeth the king and Haman againe, and prayeth for her ſelfe and her people. 6 Shee accuſeth Haman, and hee is hanged on the gallowes which he had prepared for Mordecai.

SO the King and Haman came to banket with the Queene Ester.

2 And the King ſayd againe vnto Ester on the ſecond day at the banket of [a] wine, What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may bee giuen thee? and what is thy requeſt? It ſhall be euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the Queene anſwered, and ſayd, If I haue found fauour in thy ſight, O King, and if it pleaſe the King, let my life bee giuen me at my petition, and my people at my requeſt.

4 For we are ſolde, I, and my people, to be deſtroyed, to be ſlaine and to periſh: but if wee were ſold for ſeruants, and for bandmaydes, I would haue held my tongue: although the aduerſarie could not [b] recompence the Kings loſſe.

5 Then King Ahaſhuerosh anſwered, and ſayd vnto the Queene Ester, Who is hee? and where is hee that [‡] preſumeth to doe thus?

6 And Ester ſayd, The aduerſarie and enemie is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the King and the Queene.

7 And the King arose from the banket of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman ſtoode vp, to make requeſt for his life to the Queene Ester: for he ſaw that there was a [c] miſchiefe prepared for him of the king.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the houſe where they dranke wine, Haman was [d] fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester ſate: therefore the king ſaid, Will he force the Queene alſo before me in the houſe? As the word went out of the kings mouth, they [e] couered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonah one of the eunuches ſayde in the preſence of the King, Beholde, there ſtandeth yet the tree in Hamans houſe fifty cubites hie, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that ſpake [f] good for the King. Then the King ſayd, Hang him thereon.

THe ſame day did king Ahaſhuerosh giue the houſe of Haman the aduerſarie of the Iewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai [a] came before the King: for Ester told what he was [b] vnto her.

2 And the king tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester ſet Mordecai ouer the houſe of Haman.

3 And Ester ſpake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his feete weeping, and beſought him that hee would put away the [c] wickednes of Haman the Agagite, and his deuiſe that he had imagined againſt the Iewes.

4 And the king helde out the golden [d] ſcepter toward Ester. Then aroſe Ester, and ſtoode before the king,

5 And ſaid, If it pleaſe the king, and if I haue found fauour in his ſight, and the thing be acceptable before the king, and I pleaſe him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuiſe of Haman the ſonne of Ammedatha the Agagite, may be called againe, which he wrote to deſtroy the Iewes, that are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I ſuffer and ſee the euill, that ſhall come vnto my people? Or howe can I ſuffer and ſee the deſtruction of my kinred?

7 And the king Ahaſhuerosh ſaid vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the houſe of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon the tree becauſe he [‖] laid hand vpon the Iewes.

day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth [i] Adar.

13 The copy of the writting was, how there should be a commandement giuen in all and euery prouince, published among all the people, and that the Iewes should bee ready against that day to [k] auenge themselues on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beasts of price, and dromedaries, & went forth with speed, to execute the Kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royall apparell of blue & white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the city of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come [l] light and ioy and gladnesse, and honour.

17 And in all and euery prouince, and in all and euery city & place, where the kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land [m] became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the king the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

NOw in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings commandement and his decree drewe neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it [a] turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered themselues together into their cities, throughout all the prouinces of the king Ahashuerosh, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt, & no man could withstand them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the king [b] exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their [c] enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, & did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace [d] slew the Iewes and destroyed five hundred men,

7 And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaizatha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersary of the Iewes slew they: but they laid not their hands [e] on the spoile.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slaine, vnto the palace of Shushan before the king.

12 And the King sayd vnto the Queene Ester, The Iewes haue slaine in Shushan the palace and destroyed fiue hundreth men, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may bee giuen thee? or what is thy request moreouer, that it may bee performed?

13 Then said Ester, If it please the king, let it bee graunted also to morrow to the Iewes that are in Shushan, to doe according [f] vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans tenne sonnes.

14 And the King charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushan assembled themselues vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, & slew three hundreth men in Shushan, but on the spoile they laid not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the kings prouinces assembled themselues and stood for [g] their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that [h] hated them, seuentie and fiue thousand: but they layd not the hand on the spoyle.

17 This they did on the [i] thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushan assembled themselues on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled townes, [k] kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, euen a ioyfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote [l] these words, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the king Ahashuerosh, both neere and farre, 21 Inioyning them that they should keepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euery yeere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth, which was turned vnto them from sorow to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting and ioy, and [m] to send presents euery man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite all the Iewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Iewes, to destroy them, and had [n] cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

CHAP. X.

The estimation and authoritie of Mordecai.

AND the king Ahasuerosh layd a tribute vpon the land, and vpon the yles of the sea.

2 And all the actes of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the dignitie of Mordecai, where with the king magnified him, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the king of Media and Persia?

3 For Mordecai the Iewe was the second vnto King Ahasuerosh, and great among the Iewes, and t accepted among the multitude of his brethren, who procured the wealth of his people, and spake peaceably to all his seede.

t These three points are here set foorth as commendable, and necessary for him that is in authoritie: to haue the fauour of the people, to procure their wealth, and to be gentle and louing toward them,

Iob.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his mind and conscience, by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chiefe friends: which by their vehement wordes, and subtill disputations brought him almost to despaire: for they set foorth God as a seuere Iudge, and mortall enemie vnto him, which had cast him off, therefore in vaine hee should seeke vnto him for succour. These friendes came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this storie we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euill: againe, his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defend it craftily. For Iob held that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that hee had secrete iudgements, whereof man knewe not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreouer, hee was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments and affliction, he brasteth foorth into many inconueniences both of wordes and sentences, and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handle well. Againe, the aduersaries maintaine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespasse, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iustice, and mans sinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despaire, and so they maintaine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezekiel 14.14. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iames 5.11.

were gone about, Iob sent, and [f] sanctified them, and rose vp earely in the morning, and [g] offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may bee that my sonnes haue sinned, and [h] blaspheamed God in their hearts: thus did Iob [i] euery day.

6 ¶ Nowe on a day when the [k] children of God came and stoode [l] before the Lorde, Satan [m] came also among them.

7 Then the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, Whence [n] commest thou? And Satan answered the Lorde, saying, [o] From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, howe none is like him in the earth, an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, [p] escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, Doeth Iob feare God for [q] nought?

10 Hast thou not made an [r] hedge about him and about his house, and about all that hee hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out nowe thine hand, and [s] touch all that he hath, to see if hee will not blaspheme thee to [t] thy face.

12 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Lo, all that he hath is in [u] thine hand: onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the [x] presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating, and drinking, wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, and sayd, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the [y] Sabeans came violently, and tooke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sworde: but I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And while hee was yet speaking, an other came, and sayde, The [z] fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured

m This declareth that although Satan bee aduersarie to God, yet hee is compelled to obey him, and to doe without whose permission and appoyntment hee can doe nothing.

n This question is asked for our infirmitie: for God knewe whence hee came.

o Herein is described the nature of Satan, which is euer raging for his pray, 1. Peter 5.8.

p Hee feareth thee not for thine owne sake, but for the commoditie that hee receiueth by thee.

q Meaning, the grace of God, which seemed Iob, as a rampart against all tentations.

r This signifieth that Satan is not able to touch vs, but it is God that must doe it.

s Satan noteth the vice, whereunto men are commonly subiect, that is, to hide their rebellion, and to bee couetous with God in the time of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed in the time of their aduersitie.

t God giueth not Satan power ouer man to tempte him, but to declare that hee hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him.

u That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to doe: for els hee can neuer goe out of Gods presence.

x That is, the Arabians.

y Which thing was also done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Iob the more grieuously, for as much as he might see, that not onely men were his enemies, but that God made warre against him.

them: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and sayde, The Caldeans set out three bands, and fell vpon the Camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sworde: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, and sayd, Thy [a] sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house, 19 And behold, there came a great winde from beyond the wildernesse, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and [b] rent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And sayde, [c] Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne [d] thither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: [e] blessed bee the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God [f] foolishly.

a This last plague declareth, that when one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send vs another farre more grieuous, to tie vs, and teach them obedience.

b Which came not of impatiencie, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blocks, but that in their patience they feele affliction, and griefe of mind: yet they keepe a meane herein, and rebell not against God, as the wicked doe. Eccles 5.14. 2. tim. 6.7.

c That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all.

d Hereby he confesseth that God is iust, and good, although his hand be sore vpon him.

e But declared that God did all things according to iustice and equitie.

CHAP. II.

1 Satan hath permission to assault Iob. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visite him.

AGain on a day the [a] children of God came and stood before the Lord, and [b] Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lord.

2 Then the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, Whence commest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, [c] From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth, [d] an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill? for yet hee continueth in his [e] vprightnesse, [f] although thou mouedst me against him, to destroy him [g] without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and said, [h] Skinne for skinne, and all that euer a man hath, will he giue for his life.

5 But stretch now out thine hand, and touch his [i] bones, and his flesh, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Lo, he is in thine hand, but [k] saue his life.

7 ¶ So Satan departed from [l] the presence of the Lord, [m] and smote Iob with sore [n] boyles, a That is, the Angels, as chap. 1. 6. b Reade Chap. 1. 6. Ezek. 14. 14. chap. 1. 1.

c He prouoketh Iobs integritie by this, that he ceased not to feare God when his plagues were grieuously vpon him.

d That is, when thou hadst nought against him, or why thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to passe.

e Hereby hee meant that a mans owne skin is dearer vnto him then another mans.

f Meaning his owne person.

g Thus Satan can goe no further in punishing, then God hath limited him.

h This sore was most vehement, wherewith also God plagued the Egyptians. Exod. 9. 9. and threateneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28. 27. So that this tentation was most grieuous: for if Iob had measured Gods fauour by the vehemency of his disease, he might haue thought that God had cast him off.

from the sole of his foote vnto his crowne.

8 And he tooke a [i] potsheard to scrape him, and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 Then sayd his [k] wife vnto him, Doest thou [l] continue yet in thine vprightnesse? [m] Blaspheme God, and die.

10 But he sayd vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shall we receiue good at the hand of God, and not [n] receiue euill? In all this did not Iob sinne with his [o] lips.

11 Nowe when Iobs three [p] friendes heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, & Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes afarre off, they knewe him not: therefore they lift vp their voyces & wept, and euery one of them rent his garment, and sprinkled [q] dust vpon their heads towarde the heauen.

13 So they sate by him vpon the ground seuen dayes, and seuen nights, and none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe, that the griefe was very great.

i As destitute of all other helpe and meanes, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorow of his disease.

k Satan vseth the same instrument against Iob, as he did against Adam.

l Meaning, what gaineth thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee, as though he were thine enemie?

m This is the most grieuous tentation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perswade them, that they trust in God in vaine.

n For death was appointed to the blasphemer, & so she meant that he should be soone rid out of his paine.

o That is, to bee patient in aduersitie, as we reioyce when he sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust.

p Which were men of authoritie, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they saw how he was visited, they conceiued an euill opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, & so iustly plagued of God for his sinnes.

q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in those countreys, as the rending of their clothes in signe of sorow, &c.

r And therefore thought that he would not haue hearkened to their counsell.

CHAP. III.

1 Iob complaineth & curseth the day of his birth.
11 He desireth to liue, as though death were the end of all mans miserie.

AFterward [a] Iob opened his mouth, and [b] cursed his day.

2 And Iob cryed out, and sayd,

3 Let the day [c] perish, wherein I was borne, and the night when it was sayde, There is a man childe conceiued.

4 Let that day be darkenesse, let not God [d] regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it,

5 But let darkenesse, and the [e] shadow of death staine it: let the cloud remaine vpon it, & let them make it fearefull as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenesse possesse that night, let it not be ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

7 Yea, desolate be that night, and let no ioy be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being [f] readie to renue their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight bee dimme throughe darkenesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none; neither let it [g] see ‡ the dawning of the day,

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe: nor hid sorowe from mine eyes.

11 [h] Why died I not in the birth? or why died I not, when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees preuent me? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For so should I nowe haue [i] lyen and bene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest,

14 With the kings and counsellers of the earth, which haue builded themselues [k] desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had gold, and haue filled their houses with siluer.

16 Or why was I not hid, as an vntimely birth, either as infants, which haue not seene the light?

17 The wicked [l] haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at rest.

18 The [m] prisoners rest together, & heare not the voyce of the oppressour.

19 There are small & great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in misery? and [n] life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would rather search it more then treasures:

22 Which ioy for gladnesse, and reioyce when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose way is [o] hidde, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing commeth before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I feared, is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afraid of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, neither had I quietnes, neither had I rest, [p] yet trouble is come.

a The seuen daies ended, chap. 2. 13.

b Here Iob beginneth to feele his great imperfection in this battell betweene the spirit and the flesh, Rom. 7. 18. and after a maner yeeldeth, yet in the ende hee getteth victorie, though he was in the meane time greatly wounded.

c Men ought not to bee wearie of their life, and curse it because of the infirmities that it is subiect vnto, but because they are giuen to sinne and rebellion against God.

d Let it be put out of the number of dayes, and let it not haue the light of the sunne to separate it from the night.

e That is, most obscure darkenesse, which maketh them afraid of death that are in it.

f Which curse the day of their birth, let them lay that curse vpon this night.

g Let it bee alwayes night, and neuer see day.

‡ Ebr. The eye lids of the morning.

h This and that which followeth, declareth that when man giueth place to his passions, he is not able to stay nor keepe measure, but runneth headlong into all euill, except God call him backe.

i The vehemencie of his afflictions made him to vtter these words, as though death were the end of all miseries, & as if there were no life after this, which he speaketh not as though it were so, but the infirmities of his flesh caused him to braste out into this errour of the wicked.

k He noteth the ambition of them, which for their pleasure, as it were change the order of nature, and build in most barren places, because they would here by make their names immortall.

l That is, by death the crueltie of the tyrants hath ceased.

m All they that susteine any kinde of calamitie and misery in this world: which he speaketh after the iudgement of the flesh.

n He sheweth that the benefites of God are not comfortable, except the heart be ioyfull, and the conscience quieted.

o That seeth not how to come out of his miseries, because he dependeth not on Gods prouidence.

p In my prosperitie I looked euer for a fall, as is come now to passe.

q The feare of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperitie to seeme to mee as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Eliphaz reprooued Iob of impatiencie. 7 And vniustly. 17 And of the prosecution of his owne righteousnesse.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered and sayd,

3 Behold, thou hast taught many, and a Seeing this impatiencie.

[b] hast

b Thou haſt comforted others in their afflictions, and canſt not now comfort thy ſelfe.

c Thus he concludeth that Iob was but an hypocrite, and had no true feare nor truſt in God.

d He concludeth that Iob was reprooued, ſeeing that God handled him ſo extremely, which is the argument that the carnall men make againſt the children of God.

e They that doe euill cannot but receiue euill.

f Hee ſheweth that God needeth no great preparation to deſtroy his enemies: for he can doe it with the blaſt of his mouth.

g Though men according to their office doe not puniſh tyrants (whom for their cruelrie he compareth to lions, and their children to their whelpes) yet God both is able, and his iuſtice will puniſh them.

b haſt ſtrengthened the weary hands.

4 Thy words haue confirmed him that was falling, and thou haſt ſtrengthened the weake knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, & thou art grieued: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy c feare, thy confidence, thy patience, and the vprightneſſe of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer periſhed being an d innocent? or where were the vpright deſtroyed?

8 As I haue ſeene, they that e plough iniquitie, and ſow wickednes, reape the ſame.

9 With the f blaſt of God they periſh, and with the breath of his noſtrels are they conſumed.

10 The roaring of the g Lion, and the voyce of the Lioneſſe, and the teeth of the Lions whelpes are broken.

11 The Lion periſheth for lacke of praie, and the Lions whelpes are ſcattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to mee h ſecretly, and mine eare hath receiued a little thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the viſions of the night, when ſleepe falleth on men, 14 Feare came vpon mee, & dread which made all my bones to i tremble.

15 And the wind paſſed before mee, and made the haires of my fleſh to ſtand vp.

16 Then ſtood one, and I knew not his face: an image was before mine eyes, and in k ſilence heard I a voice, ſaying, 17 Shall man bee more l iuſt then God? or ſhall a man bee more pure then his maker?

18 Behold, he found no ſtedfaſtnes in his ſeruants, and laid folly vpon his m Angels.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houſes of n clay, whoſe foundation is in the duſt, which ſhall be deſtroyed before the moth?

20 They be deſtroyed from the o morning vnto the euening: they periſh for euer p without regard.

21 Doeth not their dignitie go away with them? doe they not die, and that without q wiſedome?

h A thing that I knew not before, was declared vnto me by viſion: that is, that whoſoeuer thinketh himſelfe iuſt, ſhall be found a ſinner, when hee commeth before God.

i In theſe viſions which God ſheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioyned, that the authority thereof might be had in greater reuerence.

k When all things were quier, or when the feare was ſomewhat aſſwaged, as God appeared to Eliiah, 1. King. 19. 12.

l He prooueth that if God did puniſh the innocent, the creature ſhould be more iuſt then the Creator, which were a blaſphemie.

m If God find imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more ſhal he lay folly to mans charge, when he would iuſtifie himſelfe againſt God?

n That is, in this mortall body ſubiect to corruption, 2. Cor. 5. 1.

o They ſee death continually before their eyes, & daily approching toward them.

p No man for all this doeth conſider it.

q That is, before that any of them were ſo wiſe as to thinke on death.

CHAP. V.

1. 2 Eliphaz ſheweth the difference betweene the children of God and the wicked. 3 The fall of the wicked. 9 Gods power, who deſtroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth his.

CAll now, if any will a anſwere thee, and to which of the ſaints wilt thou turne?

2 Doubtles b anger killeth the foolish, and enuie ſlaieth the idiote.

3 I haue ſeene the c foolish well rooted, & ſuddenly I d curſed his habitation, ſaying,

4 His e children ſhall bee farre from ſaluation, & they ſhall be deſtroyed in the f gate, and none ſhall deliuer them.

5 The hunger ſhall eate vp his harueſt: yea, they ſhall take it from among g thornes, and the thirſtie ſhall winke vp their ſubſtance.

6 For miſerie commeth not forth of the duſt, h neither doeth affliction ſpring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto i trauaile, as the ſparkes flie vpward.

8 But I would enquire k at God, and turne my talke vnto God:

9 Which l doeth great things and vnſearchable, and marueilous things without number.

10 He m giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the ſtreets, 11 And ſetteth vp on hie them that bee lowe, that the lowſwull may bee exalted to ſaluation.

12 He ſcattereth the deuiſes of the crafty: ſo that their handes cannot accompliſh that which they doe enterpriſe.

13 * He taketh the wiſe in their craftines, & the counſell of the wicked is made fooliſh.

14 They meete with n darkeneſſe in the day time, and o grope at noone day, as in the night.

15 But hee ſaueth the p poore from the ſword, from their q mouth, & from the hande of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie ſhall r ſtop her mouth.

17 Behold, bleſſed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuſe not thou the chaſtiſing of the Almighty.

18 For hee maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp: hee ſmiteth, and his hands make whole.

19 He ſhall deliuer thee ſ in ſixe troubles, and in the ſeuenth the euill ſhall not touch thee.

20 In famine hee ſhall deliuer thee from death: and in battell from the power of the ſword.

21 Thou ſhalt be hid from the ſcourge of a Hee willeth Iob to conſider the example of all them that haue liued or doe liue godly, whether any of them be like vnto him in raging againſt God as hee doeth.

b Murmuring againſt God in afflictions, increaſeth the paine and vexeth mans folly.

c That is, the ſinner that hath not the feare of God.

d I was not moued with his proſperitie, but knew that God had curſed him and his.

e Though God ſometime ſuffer the fathers to paſſe in this world, yet his iudgements will light vpon their wicked children.

f By publique iudgement they ſhall bee condemned and none ſhall pitie them.

g Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet theſe ſhall be taken from him.

h That is, the earth is not the cauſe of barrenneſſe, and mans miſerie, but his owne ſinne.

l Which declareth that ſinne is euer in our corrupt nature: for before ſinne it was not ſubiect to paine and affliction.

k If I ſuffered as thou doeſt, I would ſeeke vnto God.

l Hee counſelleth Iob to humble himſelfe vnto God, to whom all creatures are ſubiect, and whoſe workes declare that man is inexcuſable, except hee glorifie God in all his workes.

m He ſheweth by particular examples what the workes of God are. 1. Cor. 3. 19.

n In things plaine and euident they ſhew themſelues fooles inſtead of wiſe men.

o This declareth that God puniſheth the worldly wiſe, as he threatned. Deut. 28. 29.

p That is, he humbleth himſelfe before God.

q He compareth the ſlander of the wicked to ſharpe ſwords.

r If the wicked be compelled as Gods works to ſtop their mouthes, much more they that profeſſe God.

ſ He will ſend trouble after trouble, that his children may not for one time but continually truſt in him: but they ſhal haue a comfortable iſſue, euen in the greateſt and the laſt, which is here called the ſeuenth.

the

t Whereas the wicked lamente in their troubles, thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce.
u When we are in Gods fauour, all creatures shall serue vs.
x God shall so bleſſe thee, that thou shalt haue occaſion to reioyce in all things, & not to be offended.
y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promiſe performed, yet God doeth recompenſe it otherwiſe to their aduantage.
z Wee haue learned theſe points by experience, that God puniſheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in juſtice with him, that the hypocrites ſhall not long proſper, and that the affliction which man ſuſtaineth, commeth for his owne ſinne, the tongue, and thou shalt not bee afraide of deſtruction when it commeth.

22 But thou shalt t laugh at deſtruction & dearth, and ſhalt not be afraid of the beaſt of the earth.
23 For the ſtones of the field u ſhall be in league with thee, and the beaſtes of the field ſhall be at peace with thee.
24 And thou ſhalt know, that peace ſhall be in thy tabernacle, & thou ſhalt viſite thine habitation, and ſhalt not x ſinne.
25 Thou ſhalt perceiue alſo, that thy ſeed ſhall be great, and thy poſteritie as the graſſe of the earth.
26 Thou ſhalt goe to thy graue in y a full age, as a ricke of corne commeth in due ſeaſon into the barne.
27 Lo, z thus haue we inquired of it, and ſo it is: heare this, and know it for thy ſelfe.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iob anſwereth, that his paine is more grieuous then his ſinne. 8 He wiſheth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

BVt Iob anſwered, and ſayd,
2 Oh that my griefe were wel weighed, and my miſeries were layed together in the a balance
3 For it would be nowe heauier then the ſand of the ſea: therefore my words are b ſwallowed vp.
4 For the arrowes of the Almighty are in me, the venime whereof doth drinke vp my ſpirit, & the terrors of God c fight againſt me.
5 Doeth the d wilde aſſe bray when hee hath graſſe? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?
6 That which is e vnſauorie, ſhall it be eaten without ſalt? or is there any taſte in the white of an egge?
7 Such thinges as my ſoule refuſed to touch, as were ſorowes, are my meate.
8 Oh that I might haue my f deſire, and that God would graut me the thing that I long for!
9 That is, that God would deſtroy me: that he would let his hand goe, and cut mee off.
10 Then ſhoulde I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with ſorrow, let him not ſpare) g becauſe I haue not denied the wordes of the Holy one.
11 What power haue I that I ſhould endure? or what is mine h end, if I ſhould prolong my life?
12 Is my ſtrength the ſtrength of ſtones? or is my fleſh of braſſe?
13 Is it not ſo, that there is in mee no i helpe? & that I ſtrength is taken from me?
14 He that is in miſerie ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forſaken the feare of the Almighty.
15 My brethren haue deceiued mee as a k brooke, and as the riuing of the riuers they paſſe away, 16 Which are blackiſh with ice, & wherein the ſnow is hid.
17 But in time they are dryed vp with heat, and are conſumed: and when it is hote, they faile out of their places.
18 Or they depart from their way & courſe, yea, they vaniſh and periſh.
19 They that goe to Tema, l conſidered them, and they that goe to Sheba, waited for them.
20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither and were aſhamed.
21 Surely now are ye like m vnto it: yee haue ſeene my fearefull plague, and are afrayd.
22 Was it becauſe I ſayd, Bring vnto me? or giue a reward to mee of your n ſubſtance?
23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ranſome me out of the hand of tyrants?
24 Teach me, & I will o hold my tongue: and cauſe me to vnderſtand wherein I haue erred.
25 How p ſtedfaſt are the words of righteouſneſſe? and what can any of you fully reprooue?
26 Doe ye imagine to reprooue q words, that the talke of the afflicted ſhould be as the wind?
27 Yee make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherleſſe, and dig a pit for your friend.
28 Nowe therefore bee content to r looke vpon me: for I will not lie before your face.
29 Turne, I pray you, let there bee none iniquitie: returne, I ſay, and yee ſhall ſee yet my righteouſneſſe in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth feele ſhowres?

a To know whether I complaine without iuſt cauſe.
b My griefe is ſo great, that I lacke words to expreſſe it.
c Which declareth that he was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conſcience, which is the greateſt battell that the faithfull can haue.
d Thinke you that I crie without cauſe, ſeeing that bruit beaſts doe not complaine when they haue what they would?
e Can a man taſte deſire in that that hath no ſauour? meaning that none take pleaſure in affliction, ſeeing they cannot away with things that are vnſauorie to the mouth.
f Herein he ſinneth double, both in wiſhing through impaciencie to die, & alſo in deſiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will.
g That is, let mee die at once, before I come to diſtruſt in Gods promiſe through mine impatiency.
h He feareth leaſt he ſhould be brought to inconueniences, if his ſorowes ſhould continue, i Haue I not ſought to helpe my ſelfe as much as was poſſible? Or, wiſedome, or lawe.
k He compareth thoſe friends which comfort vs not in miſerie, to a brooke which in ſommer when we neede waters, is drie, in winter is hard froſen, & in the time of raine, when we haue no need, ouerfloweth with water.
l They that paſſe thereby to goe into the hote countries of Arabia, thinke to find water there, to quench their thirſt, but they are deceiued.
m That is, like to this brooke, which deceiueth them that thinke to haue water there in their need, as I looked for conſolation at your hands.
n He toucheth the worldlings, which for no neceſſitie will giue part of their goods, and much more theſe men, which would not giue him comfortable words.
o Shew mee wherein I haue erred, and I will confeſſe my faulte.
p He that hath a good conſcience, doeth not ſhrinke at the ſharpe words or reaſonings of others, except they be able to perſwade him by reaſon.
q Do you cauill at my words, becauſe I ſhould be thought to ſpeake fooliſhly which am nowe in miſery?
r Conſider whether I ſpeak as one that is driuen to this impatiencie through very ſorow, or as an hypocrite as you condemne mee.

CHAP. VII.

1 Iob ſheweth the ſhortnes & miſery of mans life.

IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? & are not his dayes as the dayes of an s hireling?
2 As a ſeruant longeth for the ſhadowe, and as an hireling looketh for the ende of his worke,
3 So haue I had as an inheritance the t moneths of vanitie, and painefull nights haue bene appointed vnto me.
4 If I laied me downe, I ſayd, When ſhall

s Hath not an hired ſeruant ſome reſt & eaſe? then in this my continuall torment I am worſe then an hireling.
t My ſorrowe hath continued from moneth to moneth, and I haue looked for hope in vaine.

shall I arise? and measuring the euening, I am euen full with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is c clothed with wormes and filthinesse of the dust: my skinne is rent, and become horrible.

6 My dayes are swifter then a d weauers shuttle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.

8 The eye that hath seene me shall see me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shal be no longer.

9 e As the cloude vanisheth and goeth away, so hee that goeth downe to the graue, shall f come vp no more.

10 He shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not g spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirite, and muse in the bitternesse of my minde.

12 Am I a sea h or a whale fish, that thou keepest me in ward?

13 When I say, My couch shall relieue me, and my bed shal bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me i with dreames, and astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule k chuseth rather to be strangled and to die, then to be in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

17 What is man, that thou m dost magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heart vpon him?

18 And dost visite him euery morning, and tryest him euery moment?

19 Howe long will it be yer thou depart from me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallow my spittle.

20 I haue n sinned, what shal I doe vnto thee? O thou preseruer of men, why hast thou set me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

21 And why dost thou not pardon my trespasse? and take away mine iniquitie? for now shal I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me in the morning, I shal o not be found.

c This signifieth that his disease was rare and most horrible.

d Thus he speaketh in respect of the breuitie of mans life, which passeth without hope of returning: in consideration whereof, he desireth God to haue compassion on him.

e If thou behold me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.

f Shall no more enioy this mortall life.

g Seeing I can by none other meanes comfort my selfe, I will declare my griefe by wordes: and thus he speaketh as one ouercome with griefe of minde.

h Am not I a poore wretch? what needest thou then to lay so much paine on me?

i So that I can haue no rest, night nor day.

k He speaketh as one ouercome with sorow, and not of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith.

l Seeing my terme of life is so short, let me haue some rest and ease.

m Seeing that man of himselfe is so vile, why dost thou giue him that honour to contend against him? Iob vseth all kinds of perswasion with God, that he might stay his hand.

n After all temptations faith bursteth forth, and leadeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that hee could bridle himselfe from reasoning with God, because he still tried his faith.

o That is, I shall be dead.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and sayde,

2 Howe long wilt thou talke of these things? and how long shall the woords of thy mouth a be as a mightie winde?

3 Doth God peruert iudgement? or doth the Almightie subuert iustice?

4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, and he hath sent them into the place of their b iniquitie,

5 Yet if thou c wilt early seeke vnto God, and pray to the Almightie,

6 If thou be pure and vpright, then surely he will awake vp vnto thee, and hee will make the habitation of thy righteousnesse prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning d be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increase.

8 e Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.

9 (For we are but f of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow)

10 Shall not they teach thee and tell thee, and vtter the words of their heart?

11 Can a g rush grow without mire? or can the grasse grow without water?

12 Though it were in greene and not cut downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shalbe cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a h spider.

15 Hee shall leape vpon his house: but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 The i tree is greene before the sunne, and the branches spread ouer the garden thereof.

17 The roots thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are folden about the house of stones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it k deny, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Behold, it will reioyce l by this meanes, that it may grow in another molde.

20 Beholde, God will not cast away an vpright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till hee haue filled thy mouth with m laughter, and thy lips with ioy.

22 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

a He declareth that their words which would diminish any thing from the iustice of God, is but a puffe of winde that vanisheth away.

b That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquitie: meaning, that Iob ought to be warned by the example of his children, that he offend not God.

c That is, if thou turne betime, whiles God calleth thee to repentance.

d Though the beginnings be not so pleasant, as thou wouldest desire, yet in the end thou shalt haue sufficient occasion to content thy selfe.

e He willeth Iob to examine all antiquities, and he shall finde it true which he here saith.

f Meaning, that it is not enough to haue the experience of our selues, but to be confirmed by the examples of them that went before vs.

g As a rush can not grow without moysture, so cannot the hypocrite, because he hath not faith, which is moystned with Gods Spirit.

h Which is to day, and to morow swept away.

i Hee compareth the iust to a tree, which although it bee removed out of one place vnto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their profite.

k That is, so that there remaine nothing there to proove whether the tree had growen there or no.

l To be planted in another place, where it may grow at pleasure.

m If thou be godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousnesse is nothing.

THen Iob answered, and sayd,

2 I know verily that it is so: for how should man compared vnto God bee a iustified?

3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answere him one thing of a b thousand.

a Iob here answereth to that point of Eliphaz and Bildads oration touching the Iustice of God and his innocencie, confessing God to be infinite in iustice, and man to be nothing in respect.

b Of a thousand things, which God could lay to his charge, cannot answere him one.

4 Hee is wise in heart, and mightie in strength: who hath bene sterce against him and hath prospered?

5 Hee remooueth the mountaines, and they feele not when hee ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 Hee [c] remooueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe shake.

7 Hee commaundeth the sunne, and it riseth not; he closeth vp the starres as vnder a signet.

8 Hee himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 He maketh the starres [d] Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the clymates of the South.

10 He doeth great things, and vnsearchable: yea, marueilous things without number.

11 Loe, when he goeth [e] by me, I see him not: and when hee passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Behold, when he taketh a pray, [f] who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

13 God [g] will not withdraw his anger, and the most mightie helpes [h] doe stoupe vnder him.

14 How much lesse shall I answere him? or how should I finde out [i] my words with him?

15 For though I were [k] iust, yet coulde I not answere, but I would make supplication to my iudge.

16 If I [l] crie, and hee answere mee, yet would I not beleeue, that he heard my voice.

17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me [m] without cause.

18 Hee will not suffer mee to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.

19 If we speake of strength, behold, he is [n] strong: if wee speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to pleade?

20 If I [o] woulde iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne mee: [p] if I would be perfit, he shall iudge me wicked.

21 Though I were perfect, yet I knowe not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life.

22 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the [p] perfect and the wicked.

23 If the scourge should suddenly [q] slay, shoulde God [r] laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hande of the wicked: hee [s] couereth the faces of the Iudges thereof: if not, where [t] is hee? or who is he?

25 My dayes haue bene more swift then a poste: they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing.

26 They are passed [u] with the most swift shippes, and as the eagle that flieth to the pray.

27 If [x] I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me, 28 Then I am afrayd of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I bee wicked, why [y] labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I [z] wash my self with snow water, and purge mine hands most cleane, 31 Yet shalt thou plunge mee in the pit, and mine owne [a] clothes shall make mee filthie.

32 For hee is not a man as I am, that I should answere him, if wee come together to iudgement.

33 Neither is there any vmpire [b] that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

34 Let him take his rod away from mee, and let not his feare astonish me:

35 Then will I speake, and feare him not: [c] but because I am not so, I hold me still.

c He declareth what is the infirmitie of man by the mightie and incomprehensible power that is in God, shewing what he could doe, if he would set foorth his power.

d These are the names of certaine starres, whereby he meaneth, that all starres both knowen and vnknowen are at his appointment.

e I am not able to comprehend his works, which are common and daily before mine eyes, much lesse in those things which are hid and secret.

f He sheweth that when God doeth execute his power, he doeth it iustly, forasmuch as none can controle him.

g God will not be appeased for ought that man can say for himselfe for his iustification.

h That is, all the reasons that men can lay to approue their cause.

i How should I be able to answere him by eloquence? whereby hee noteth his friendes, that albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they felt not in heart that which they spake.

k Meaning, in his owne opinion, signifying that man will sometime flatter himselfe to be righteous, which before God is abomination.

l Whiles I am in my pangs, I cannot but burst foorth into many inconueniences, although I knowe still that God is iust.

m I am not able to feele my sins so great, as I feele the weight of his plagues: and this hee speaketh to condeme his dulnesse, and to iustifie God.

n After he hath accused his owne weakenesse, he continueth to iustifie God and his power.

o If I woulde stand in mine owne defence, yet God hath iust cause to condemne mee, if hee examine mine heart and conscience.

p If God punish according to his iustice, hee will destroy alwell them that are counted perfect, as them that are wicked.

q To wit, the wicked.

r This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though hee would say, If God destroy but the wicked, as Chap. 5.3. why should hee suffer the innocents to be long tormented by them?

s That they can not see to doe iustice.

t That can shew the contrary?

u I thinke not to fall into these affections, but my sorowes bring me to these manifold infirmities and my conscience condemneth me.

x Why doeth not God destroy me at once? thus he speaketh according to the infirmitie of the flesh.

y Though I seeme neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God.

z Whatsoeuer I would vse to couer my filthinesse with, shal disclose mee so much more.

a Which might make an accord betweene God and mee, speaking of impatiencie, and yet confessing God to be iust in punishing him.

b Signifying that Gods iudgements keepe him in awe.

CHAP. X.

1 Iob is weary of his life, and seeketh not his iustification before God. 20 Hee desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A description of death.

MY soule is cut off: though I liue: I will [a] leaue my [b] complaint vpon my selfe, and will speake in the bitternesse of my soule.

2 I will say vnto God, [c] Condemne me not: shewe mee, wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Thinkest thou it [d] good to oppresse me, and to cast off the [e] labour of thine handes, and to fauour the [f] counsell of the wicked?

4 Hast thou [g] carnall eyes? or doest thou see as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as mans [h] dayes? or thy yeeres, as the time of man,

6 That thou inquirest of mine iniquitie, and searchest out my sinne?

7 Thou knowest that I cannot do [i] wickedly: for none can deliuer mee out of thine hand.

8 Thine [k] handes haue made me, and fashioned mee whole round about, and wilt a I am more like to a dead man, then to one that liueth.

b I will make an ample declaration of my torments, accusing my selfe, and not God.

c He would not that God should proceede against him by his secret iustice, but by the ordinarie meanes that he punisheth others.

d Is it agreeable to thy iustice to doe me wrong?

e Wilt thou be without compassion? f Wilt thou gratifie the wicked and condemne me? g Doest thou this of ignorance? h Art thou inconstant and changeable, as the times, to day a friend, to morrow an enemie? i By affliction thou keepest me as in a prison, and restrainest mee from doing euill, neither can any set mee at libertie.

k In these eight verses following he describeth the mercy of God in the wonderfull creation of man: and thereon groundeth that God should not shew himselfe rigorous against him.

thou destroy me?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made mee as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred mee out as milke? and turned me to runne like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skinne and flesh, and ioyned mee together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, and grace: and thy visitation hath preserued my spirit.

13 Though thou hast hidde these things in thine heart, yet I know that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straitly looke vnto mee, and wilt not holde me guiltlesse of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, woe vnto mee: if I haue done righteously, I will not lift vp mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lion: returne and shewe thy selfe marueilous vpon me.

17 Thou renuest thy plagues against me, and thou increasest thy wrath against mee: changes and armies of sorowes are against mee.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had seene me.

19 And that I were as I had not beene, but brought from the wombe to the grane!

20 Are not my dayes few? let him cease, and leaue off from me, that I may take a little comfort,

21 Before I goe and shall not returne, euen to the land of darkenesse, and shadow of death:

22 Into a land, I say, darke as darkenesse it selfe, and into the shadow of death, where is none order, but the light is there as darkenes.

a As brittle as a pot of clay.

m That is, reason and vnderstanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.

n That is, thy fatherly care and prouidence, whereby thou preseruest me, & without which I should perish straightway.

o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confesse that it is so.

p I will alway walke in feare & humilitie knowing that none is iust before thee.

q Iob being sore assaulted in this battell betweene the flesh and the spirit, brasteth out into these affections, wishing rather short dayes then long paine.

r That is, diuersitie of diseases, & in great abundance, shewing that God hath infinite meanes to punish man.

s Hee wisheth that God would leaue off his affliction, considering his great miserie and the breuitie of his life.

t Hee speaketh this in the person of a sinner, that is ouercome with passions and with the feeling of Gods iudgements, and therefore cannot apprehend in that state the mercies of God and comfort of the resurrection.

u No distinction betweene light and darkenesse, but where all is very darkenesse it selfe.

CHAP. XI.

1 Iob is vniustly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 14 He is mercifull to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that liue godly.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and sayd,

2 Shoulde not the multitude of wordes be answered? or should a great talker be iustified?

3 Should men holde their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast sayde, My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh, that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That he might shew thee the secrets of wisedome, how thou hast deserued double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou finde out the Almightie to his perfection?

8 The heauens are hie, what canst thou doe? it is deeper then the hell, howe canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut off, and shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man new borne is like a wild asses colt.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy face without spot, and shalt bee stable, and shalt not feare, 16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt dig pits, and shalt lie downe safely.

19 For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afrayd: yea, many shal make suite vnto thee.

20 But the eies of the wicked shal faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shalbe sorow of minde.

b Should he perswade by his great talke, that he is iust?

c He chargeth Iob with this, that he should say, that the thing which he spake, was true, and that he was without sinne in the sight of God.

d That is, this perfection of God: and if a man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauen, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator?

e If God should turne the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controll him?

f That is, without vnderstanding: so that whatsoeuer gifts he hath afterward, come of God, & not of nature.

g If thou repent, I say vnto him.

h Renounce thine owne euill works, and see that they offend not God, ouer whom thou hast charge.

i He declareth what quietnesse of conscience and successe in all things such shall haue, which turne to God by true repentance. Leuit. 26. 5, 6.

k Hee sheweth that contrary things shall come vnto them that do not repent.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 How declareth the might and power of God, 17 and how he changeth the course of things.

THen Iob answered, and sayd,

2 In deed because that ye are the people onely, wisedome must die with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as you, and am not inferiour vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who called vpon God, and he heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.

5 He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the rich.

a Because you feele not that which you speak, you thinke the whole standeth in words, and so flatter your selues as though none knew any thing, or could know but you.

Pro. 14. 2. b Herein he reproueth these his friends of two faults: the one, that they thought they had better knowledge then indeed they had, and the other, that in stead of true consolation, they did deride and despise their friend in his aduersitie. c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in God fauour but he, because he hath all things that he desireth. d As the rich seeme not a light or torch, that goeth before, so is he despised that falleth from prosperity to aduersitie.

6 The tabernacles of robbers doe prosper, and they are in safetie, that provoke God, ‡ whom God hath enriched with his hand.

7 Aske now the beastes, e and they shall teach thee, and the foules of the heauen, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speake to the earth, and it shal shew thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doth not the eare f discerne words? and the mouth taste meat for it selfe?

12 Among the ancient is wisedome, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisedome and strength: he hath counsell and vnderstanding.

14 Beholde, hee will breake downe, and it cannot be built: he shutteth a man vp, and he cannot be loosed.

15 Beholde, hee withholdeth the waters, and they drie vp: but when he sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisedome: hee that is deceiued, and that h deceiueth, are his.

17 He causeth the counsellers to go as spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 i He looseth the k collar of kings, and girdeth their loynes with a girdle.

19 He leadeth away the princes, as a pray, and ouerthroweth the mightie.

20 Hee taketh away the speech from the l faithfull counsellers, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 He powreth contempt vpon princes, & maketh the strength of the mightie weake.

22 He discouereth the deepe places from their darkenesse, and bringeth foorth the shadow of death to light.

23 Hee m increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: he inlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

24 Hee taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wildernesse out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

e He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisdome is common to all, and such as the very brute beasts doe dayly teach.

f Or, flesh.

f He exhorteth them to be wise in iudging, and as well to know the right vse why God hath giuen them eares, as he hath done a mouth.

g Though men by age, and continuance of time attaine to wisedome, yet it is not comparable to God: wisedome, nor able to comprehend his iudgements, wherein he answereth to that, which was alledged, Chap 8.8.

h He sheweth that there is nothing done in this world without Gods will & ordinance for else he should not be almightie.

i He taketh wisedome from them.

k He abateth the honour of Princes, and bringeth them into the subiection of others.

l He casteth that their words haue no credite, which is, when he will punish sinne.

m In this discourse of Gods wonderfull workes, Iob sheweth that whatsoeuer is done in this world, both in the order, and change of things, is by Gods will and appointment: wherein hee declareth that he thinketh well of God, and is as able to set foorth his power in words, as they that reasoned against, were.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shall be saued, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

LOe, mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstood it.

2 I know also as much as you know: I am not inferiour vnto you.

3 But I will speake to the Almightie, and I desire n to dispute with God.

4 For indeed yee forge lies, and all you are o physicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might bee imputed to you for wisedome!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speake p wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will yee contend for God?

9 Is it well that he should seeke of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?

10 He will surely reproue you, if yee doe secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afrayd? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your q memorials may bee compared vnto ashes, and your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore do I r take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in mine hand?

15 Loe, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him, and I will approoue my wayes in his sight.

16 He shall bee my saluation also: for the s hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my words, and marke my talke.

18 Beholde now: if I prepare mee to iudgement, I know that I shall bee t iustified.

19 Who is he that will plead u with me? for if I now hold my tongue, I x die.

20 But do not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee:

21 y Withdraw thine hand from me, and let not thy feare make me afrayd.

22 Then call thou, and I will answere: or let me speake, and answere thou me.

23 How many are z mine iniquities and sinnes? shewe mee my rebellion, and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemie?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against mee, and makest mee to possesse a the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the b stockes, and lookest narrowly vnto all my pathes, and makest the print thereof in the ‡ heeles of my feete.

28 Such one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is moth eaten.

n For although he knewe that God had a iuster, which was manifest in his ordinary working, and another in his secret counsell, yet would he vtter his affection to God, because he was not able to vnderstand the cause why he did thus punish him.

o You doe not well apply your medicine to the disease.

p Hee condemneth their zeale which had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alwaygrated on Gods iustice, as though it was not euidently seene in Iob, except they had vnderstaken the probation thereof.

q Your fame shall come to nothing.

r Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I doe not complaine without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should teare mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?

s Whereby he declareth that he is not an hypocrite, as they charged him.

t That is, cleared, and not cast off for my sinnes, as you reason.

u To proue that God doeth thus punish me for my sinnes.

x If I defend not my cause, euery man will condemne mee.

y Hee sheweth what these two things are. z His pangs thus moone him to reason with God, not denying but that he had sinned: but he desired to vnderstand what were his great sinnes, that had deserued such rigour, wherein hee offended, that hee would knowe a cause of God why hee did punish him.

a Thou makest me thy prisoner, and doest so presse me that I cannot stirre hand nor foote. ‡ Ebr. rootes.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Iob describeth the shortnesse and misery of the life of man. 14 Hope sufficeth the godly. 21 The condition of mans life.

MAn a that is borne of woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble.

2 He shooteth forth as a flower, and is cut downe: he vanisheth also as a shadowe, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such b one, & causest mee to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 cWho can bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse? there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds, which he cannot passe.

6 Turne from him that he may cease vntil his desired day, d as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it bee cut downe, that it will yet spoute, and the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the root of it waxe old in the earth, and the stocke thereof bee dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughes like a plant.

10 e But man is sick, and dieth, and man perisheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp,

12 So man sleepeth and riseth not: for he shal not wake againe, nor be raised from his sleepe till the heauen be no more.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide mee in the graue, and keepe mee secret, vntill thy f wrath were past, and wouldest giue mee terme, and g remember me!

14 If a man die, shall he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I waite, till my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call mee, and I shall h answere thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne hands.

16 But nowe thou i numbrest my steps, and doest not delay my sinnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a bagge, and thou addest vnto my wickednesse.

18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, commeth to nought, and the k rock that is removed from his place:

19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that hee passeth away: thee changeth his face when thou casteth him away.

21 And hee knoweth not if his sonnes shall be honourable, neither shall hee vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall be of lowe degree:

22 But while his l flesh is vpon him, hee shall be sorowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth wisdome, and pureness to himselfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of the number.

THen answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and sayd,

2 Shall a wise man speake words of the a winde, and fill his belly b with the East winde?

3 Shal he dispute with words not comly? or with talke that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast cast off c feare, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen d the tongue of the crafty.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lips testifie against thee.

7 Art thou the e first man that was borne? and wast thou made before the hilles?

8 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God, and doest thou restraine wisdome to f thee?

9 What knowest thou that wee know not? and vnderstandest that is not in vs?

10 With vs are both ancient and very aged men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God small vnto thee? is this thing strange vnto thee?

12 Why doeth thine heart g take thee away, and what do thine eyes meane, 13 That thou answerest to God? & at thy pleasure, and bringest such wordes out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and hee that is borne of woman, that hee should be h iust?

15 Beholde, he found no stedfastnesse in his saints: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 Howe much more is man abominable, and filthy, which i drinketh iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee: heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wise men haue told, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:

19 To whom alone the land was k giuen, and no stranger passed thorow them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that trauaileth of childe, and the number of l yeres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 Hee beleeueth not to returne out of darkenes: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 He wandereth m to and fro for bread a Taking occasion of his aduersaries words, he describeth the state of mans life from his birth to his death. Chap.8.9. psal.144.4.

b His meaning is, that seeing that man is so fraile a creature, God should not handle him so extremely: wherein Iob sheweth the wickednes of the flesh, when it is not subiect to the Spirit. Psal.51.5.7.

c Vntil the time that thou hast appointed for him to die, which he desireth, as the hireling waiteth for the end of his labour to receiue his wages.

d He speaketh not here as though he had not hope of the immortalitie, but as a man in extreme paine, when reason is ouercome by affections and torments.

e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to die.

f That is, release my paines, and take mee to mercie.

g Meaning, vnto the day of the resurrection when he should be changed and reuiued.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall feele thy mercies, and answere when thou callest mee, Prouerb.5.21.

i Thou layest them all together, and sufferest none of my sinnes vnpunished.

k He murmureth through the impotencie of the flesh against God, as though he vsed as great seueritie against him as against the hard rockes, or waters that ouerflowe, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.

l Yet while he liueth, he shalbe in paine and miserie.

a That is, vaine words, and without consolation?

b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten aboone as they are vttered, as the East winde drieth vp the moisture assoone as it falleth.

c He chargeth Iob as though his talke caused men to cast off the feare of God and prayer.

d Thou speakest as doe the mockers and contemners of God.

e That is, the most ancient, and so by reason the most wise?

f Art thou onely wise?

g He accuseth Iobs pride, and ingratitude, that will not be conformed by God, nor by their counsell.

h Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceit?

i Ebr. in thy spirit.

k His purpose is to prooue that Iob as an vniust man and an hypocrite is punished for his sinnes, like as hee did before, Chap. 4.18.

l Which hath a desire to sinne, m To and fro, vp and downe, as he that is thirstie to drinke.

l Who by their wisdome so gouerned, that no stranger inuaded them, and so the land seemed to be giuen to them alone.

m The cruell man is euer in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience.

n Out of that miserie wherein he once falleth.

o God doeth not onely impouerish the wicked oft times: but euen in their prosperity he punisheth them with a gredinesse & vnmoderate desire to gather: which is as a beggerie.

C c ii. wherr

where hee may: hee knoweth that the day of darkenesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and anguish shall make him afraide: they shall prevaile against him as a king ready to the battel.

25 For hee hath stretched out his hand against God, and made himselfe strong against the Almighty.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shield.

27 Because he hath couered his face with q his fatnesse, and hath collops in his flanke.

28 Though hee dwel[r] in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes, 29 Hee shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the[s] perfection thereof in the earth.

30 Hee shall neuer depart out of darkenes: the flame shall dry vp his branches, and hee shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 Hee [t] beleeueth not that he erreth in vanitie: therefore vanitie shalbe his change.

32 His branch shal not be greene, but shal be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her vnripe [u] grape, and shall cast him off, as the olive doeth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shall be desolate, and fire shall deuoure the houses of [x] bribes.

35 For they [y] conceiue mischiefe, and bring foorth vanitie, and their belly hath prepared deceit.

p He sheweth what weapons God vseth, against the wicked which lift vp themselues against him, to wit, terrour of conscience, and outward afflictions.

q That is, he was so puft vp with great prosperitie and aboundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting, that Iob in his felicitie had not the true feare of God.

r Though he build and repaire ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to nought, and turne his great prosperitie into extreme misery.

s Meaning, that his sumptuous buildings should neuer come to perfection.

t Hee standeth so in his owne conceit, that he will giue no place to good counsell, therefore his owne pride shal bring him to destruction.

u As one that gathereth grapes before they bee ripe. x Which were built or maintained by powling and briberie. y And therefore all their vaine deuices shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Iob moued by the importunitie of his friends, 7 Counteth in vaine it extremitie he is, 19 And taketh God to witnesse of his innocencie.

Then Iob answered, and said,

2 I haue oft times heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there bee no ende of wordes of [a] winde? or what maketh thee bolde so to [b] answere?

4 I could also speake as yee doe: (but would God your [c] soule were in my soules stead) I could keepe you company in speaking, and could [d] shake mine head at you,

5 But I would strengthen you [e] with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips should asswage your sorow.

6 Though I speake, my sorow [f] cannot be asswaged: though I cease, what releefe haue I?

7 But now [g] he maketh mee weary: O God, thou hast made all my [h] congregation desolate, a Which serue for vaine ostentation, and for no true comfort.

b For Eliphaz did reply against Iobs answere.

c I would you felt that which I doe.

d That is, mocke at your miserie, as you doe at mine.

e If this were in my power, yet would I comfort you, and not doe as yee doe to mee.

f If they would say, Why doest thou not then comfort thy selfe? he answereth, that the iudgements of God are more heauie, then hee is able to asswage either by wordes or silence.

g Meaning God.

h That is, destroyed most of my family.

8 And hast made me full of [i] wrinckles, which is a witnesse thereof, and my leannesse riseth vp in mee, testifying the same in my face.

9 [k] His wrath hath torne mee, and he hateth mee, and gnasheth vpon mee with his teeth: mine enemie hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon mee, and smitten mee on the [l] cheeke in reproch: they gather themselues together against me.

11 God hath deliuered mee to the vniust, and hath made mee to turne out of the way by the [m] hands of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought mee to nought: hee hath taken mee by the necke, and beaten me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His [n] archers compasse mee round about: he cutteth my reines, and doeth not spare, and powreth my gall [o] vpon the ground.

14 Yet hath broken mee with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon mee like a giant.

15 I haue sowed a sackecloth vpon my skinne, and haue abased mine [p] horne vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, and the shadow of death is vpon mine eyes, 17 Though there bee no wickednesse in [q] mine hands, and my prayer [r] be pure.

18 O earth, couer not thou my [s] blood, and let my crying finde no place.

19 For lo, nowe my [t] witnesse is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

20 My friendes [u] speake eloquently against me: but mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

21 Oh that a man might [x] pleade with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For the yeres accounted come, and I shall go the way, whence I shal not returne.

i In tokenof sorow and griefe.

k That is, God by his wrath: and in this diuersitie of words and hie stile, he expresseth howe grieuous the hand of God was vpon him.

l That is, hath handled me most contemptuously: for so smiting on the cheeke, signified, 1. King. 22. 24. mar. 14. 65.

m They haue led me whither they would.

n His manifold afflictions.

o I am wounded to the heart.

p Meaning, his glory was brought low.

q Signifying, that he is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grieuous punishment.

r That is, vnfained, and without hypocrisie.

s Let my sinne be knowen, if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse mee, and let me finde no fauour.

t Though man condemne mee, yet God is witnesse of my cause.

u Vse painted words in stead of true consolation.

x Thus by his great torments he is caried away, and brasteth out into passions, and speaketh vnaduisedly, as though God should intreat man more gently, seeing hee hath but a short time here to liue.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob saith that he consumeth away, and yet doth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13 shewing that hee looketh but for death.

My breath is corrupt: my dayes are cut off, and the graue is ready for mee.

2 There are none but [a] mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in [b] their bitternesse.

3 [c] Lay downe now and put mee in suretie for thee: who is he, that will [d] touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast hidde their heart from [e] vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not let them vp on hie.

a In stead of comfort, being now at deaths doore, hee had but them that mocked at him, and discouraged him.

b I see still that they seeke but to vexeme.

c He reasoneth with God as a man beside himselfe, to the intent that his cause might bee brought to light.

d And answere for thee?

e That these mine afflictions are thy iust iudgements, though man know not the cause.

5 [f] For

f He that flatte-reth a man, and onely iudgeth him happie in his prosperitie, shall not himselfe onely, but in his posteritie be pu-nished.

g God hath made all the world to speake of me, be-cause of mine af-flictions.

h That is, as a continuall sound in their eares.

i To wit, when they see the godly punished: but in the end they shall come to vnderstan-ding, and know what shalbe the reward of the hypocrite, k That is, will not be discoura-ged, considering that the godly are punished as well as the wicked.

5 f For the eyes of his children shall faile, that speaketh flattery to his friends.

6 Hee hath also made me a s bywoorde of the people, and I am as a tabret h before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dimme for griefe, and all my strength is like a shadow.

8 The righteous shalbe astonied at i this, and the innocent shall be mooued against the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous will hold his k way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.

10 All l you therefore turne you, and come now, and I shall not finde one wise among you.

11 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart

12 Haue changed the m night for the day, and the light that approached, for darkenesse.

13 Though I hope, n yet the graue shall bee mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.

14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my o father, and to the wourne, Thou art my mother and my sister.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shall consider the thing, that I hoped for?

16 p They shall goe downe into the bot-tome of the pit: surely it shall lie together in the dust.

12 His strength shall be s famine: and destruction shall be ready at his side.

13 It shall deuoure the inner partes of his skinne, and the h first borne of death shall deuoure his strength.

14 His hope shall bee rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to goe to the i king of feare.

15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not k his) l and brimstone shall be scatte-red vpon his habitation.

16 His rootes shall be dried vp beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and hee shall haue no name in the streete.

18 They shall driue him out of the m light vnto darkenesse, and chase him out of the world.

19 Hee shall neither haue sonne nor ne-phewe among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.

20 The posteritie shall be astonied at his o day, and feare shall come vpon the aun-cient.

21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

g That which should nourish him shalbe con-sumed by famine.

h That is, some strong and vio-lent death shall consume his strength: or as the Ebrew word signifieth, his members or parts.

i That is, with most great feare.

k Meaning, not truely come by.

l Though all the world would fa-vour him, yet God would de-stroy him & his.

m He shall fall from prosperitie to aduersitie.

n When they shall see what came vnto him.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Iob reproueth his friends, 13 And reciteth his miseries and grieuous paines. 25 He asswageth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

1 Iob speaketh to them three, that came to comfort him. m That is, haue brought me sorowe in stead of com-fort. n Though I should hope to come from aduersitie to prospe-ritie as your discourse pretendeth. o I haue no more hope in fa-ther, mother, sister, or any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shall be to me in stead of them. p All worldly hope, and prosperitie faile, which you say, are onely signes of Gods fauour: but seeing that these things perish, I set mine hope in God, & in the life euerlasting.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Bildad reboraith the paines of the vnfaithfull and wicked.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and sayd,

2 When will a ye make an ende of your words? b cause vs to vnderstand, and then we will speake.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight?

4 Thou art c as one that teareth his soule in his anger. Shall the d earth bee forsaken for thy sake? or the rocke remooued out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be e quenched, and the sparke of his fire shal not shine.

6 The light shall be darke in his dwel-ling, & his candle shall be put out with him.

7 The steps of his strength shall bee re-strained, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.

8 For he is taken in the net by his feete, and he f walketh vpon the snares.

9 The greene shal take him by the heele, and the thiefe shall come vpon him.

10 A snare is layd for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Fearefulnesse shall make him afrayd on euery side, and shal driue him to his feete.

a Which count your selues iust? a Chap.12.4.

b Whom you take to be but beasts, as Chap. 12.7.

c That is, like a mad man.

d Shall God change the or-der of nature for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise then he doeth with all men?

e When the wicked is in his pro-speritie, then God chaungeth his state: and this is his ordinary wor-king for their sinnes.

f Meaning, that the wicked are in continuall danger.

2 How long will ye vexe my soule, and torment me with words?

3 Yee haue nowe a ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: yee are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had in deede erred, mine b errour remaineth with me.

5 But in deede if you will aduance your selues against mee, and rebuke me for my reproch,

6 Knowe nowe, that God hath c ouer-throwen mee, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Beholde, I cry out of violence, but I haue none answere: I crie, but there is no iudgement.

8 Hee hath hedged vp my way that I cannot d passe, and hee hath set darkenesse in my paths.

9 He hath spoiled me of mine honour, and taken the e crowne away from mine head.

10 Hee hath destroyed me on euery side, and I am gone: and he hath remoued mine hope like a f tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and counted me as one of his enemies.

12 His g armies came together, & made their way vpon mee, and camped about my tabernacle.

13 Hee hath removed my brethren farre from me, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 h They that dwell in mine house, and my maydes tooke mee for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I called my seruant, but he would not a That is, many times, as Nehe. 4.12.

b That is, I my selfe shalbe pu-nished for it, or you haue not yet confuted it.

c He brasteth out againe into his passions, and declareth still, that his affliction commeth of God, though he be not able to feele the cause in himselfe.

d Meaning, out of his afflictions.

e Meaning, his children, and whatsoeuer was deare vnto him in this world.

f Which is plucke vp, and hath no more hope to growe.

g His manifold afflictions.

h Mine house-hold seruants, by all these losses Iob sheweth, that touching the flesh he had great occasion to be moued.

i Which were hers and mine.
k Besides these great losses and most cruell vnkindnesse, he was touched in his owne person as followeth.
l All my flesh was consumed.
m Seeing I have these iust causes to complaine, condemne mee not as an hypocrite, specially ye which should comfort me. n Is it not ynough that God doth punish me, except you by reproches increase my sorow?
o To see my body punished, except ye trouble my mind?
p He protesteth that notwithstanding his sore passions, his religion is perfite, and that he is not a blasphemer, as they iudged him.

answere, though I prayed him with my mouth.
17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne body.
18 The wicked also despised me, and when I rose, they spake against me.
19 All my secret friendes abhorred mee, and they whom I loued, are turned against me.
20 My bone k cleaueth to my skinne, and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the l skinne of my teeth.
21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue m pitie vpon me, (O yee my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.
22 Why doe ye persecute me, as n God? and are not satisfied with my o flesh?
23 Oh that my wordes were nowe written? Oh that they were written euen in a booke!
24 And grauen with p an yron pen in lead, or in stone for euer!
25 For I am sure, that my q Redemer liueth, and he shal stand the last on the earth.
26 And though after my skinne wormes destroy this body, yet shall I see God r in my flesh.
27 Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall beholde, and none other for mee, though my reines are consumed within me.
28 But ye sayd, Why is hee persecuted? And there was s a deepe matter in me.
29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for y sword will be t auenged of wickednesse, that yee may know that there is a iudgement.

q I do not so iustifie my selfe before the world, but I know that I shall come before the great Iudge, who shall be my deliuerer and Sauiour. r Herein Iob declareth plainely that he had a full hope, that both the body and soule should enioy the presence of God in the last resurrection. s Though his friends thought that he was but persecuted of God for his sinnes, yet he declareth that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the triall of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for other. t God will be reuenged of this hastie iudgement, whereby you condemne me.

CHAP. XX.

Zophar sheweth that the wicked and the couetous shall haue a short ende, 22 Though for a time they flourish.

a He declareth that two things moued him to speake: to wit, because Iob seemed to touch him, and because he thought hee had knowledge sufficient to confute him.
b His purpose is to proue Iob to be a wicked man, & an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his prosperitie into aduersitie.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and sayd,
2 Doubtlesse my thoughts cause mee to answere, and therefore I make haste.
3 I haue heard the a correction of my reproch: therefore the spirite of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answere.
4 Knowest thou not this of olde? and since God placed man vpon the earth,
5 That the reioycing of the wicked is short, and that the ioy of hypocrites is but a moment?
6 Though b his excellencie mount vp to the heauen, and his head reach vnto the cloudes, 7 Yet shall hee perish for euer, like his dung, and they which haue seene him shall say, Where is he?
8 He shal flee away as a dreame, and they shall not finde him, and shall passe away as a vision of the night,
9 So that the eye which had seene him, shall doe so no more, and his place shall see him no more,
10 His children shall c flatter the poore, and his hands shall d restore his substance.
11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, and e it shall lie downe with him in the dust.
12 When wickednesse f was sweete in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue, 13 And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but keepe it close in his mouth, 14 Then his meate in his bowels was turned: the gall of Aspes was in the midst of him.
15 Hee hath deuoured substance, and hee shall vomite it: for God shall drawe it out of his belly.
16 He shall sucke the g gall of Aspes, and the vipers tongue shall slay him.
17 Hee shall not see the h riuers, nor the floods and streames of honie and butter.
18 He shal restore the labour, and shal deuoure no more: euen according to the substance shalbe his exchange, i and he shall enioy it no more.
19 For he hath vndone many: he hath forsaken the poore, and hath spoyled houses which he builded not.
20 Surely he shall feele no quietnesse in his body, neither shal he reserue of that which he desired.
21 There shal none of his k meat be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.
22 When he shall be filled with his abundance, he shall be in paine, and the hand l of all the wicked shall assaile him.
23 He shall be about to fill his belly, but God shall send vpon him his fierce wrath, m and shall cause to raine vpon him, euen vpon his meate.
24 He shall flee from the yron weapons, and the bow of steele shal strike him through.
25 The arrowe is drawen out, and commeth foorth of the n body, and shineth of his gall, so feare commeth vpon him.
26 o All darkenesse shall be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not p blowen, shall deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shall be destroyed.
27 The heauen shall declare his wickednesse, and the earth shall rise vp against him.
28 The q increase of his house shall goe away: it shall flowe away in the day of his wrath.
29 This is the portion of the wicked man from r God, and the heritage that hee shall haue of God for his s wordes.

c Whereas the father through ambition and tyrannie oppressed y poore, the children through pouertie and miserie shall seeke fauour at the poore.
d So that the thing, which he hath taken away by violence, shall be restored againe by force.
e Meaning, that he shall carry nothing away with him, but his sin.
f As poyson that is sweete in the mouth bringeth destruction, when it commeth into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.
g He compareth euil gotten goods to the venime of aspes, which serpent is most dangerous: noting that Iobs great riches were not truely come by, and therefore God did plague him iustly for the same.
h Though God giue to all other abundance of his blessings, yet he shall haue no part thereof.
i That is, these raueners and spoylers of the poore shall enioy their theft but for a time: for after, God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange. k He shall leaue nothing to his posteritie. l The wicked shall neuer be in rest: for one wicked man shall seeke to destroy another. m Some reade, vpon his flesh, alluding to Iob, whose flesh was smitten with a scab. n Some reade, of the quiuer. o All feare and sorowe shall light vpon him, when he thinketh to escape. p That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath. q Meaning, the children of the wicked shall flowe away like riuers, and bee dispersed in diuers places. r Thus God will plague the wicked. s Against God, thinking to excuse himselfe, and to escape Gods hand.

CHAP.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 15 Insomuch that they blaspheme God. 16 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

BVt Iob answered, and said,

2 Heare diligently my words, and this a shall be in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer mee that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I direct my talke to man? If it b were so, how should not my spirit bee troubled?

5 Marke me, and bee abashed, and lay your hand vpon your c mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraid, and feare taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefore doe the wicked d liue, and waxe olde, and grow in wealth?

8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendreth, and faileth not: their cowe calueth, and casteth not her calfe.

11 They send foorth their children e like sheepe, and their sonnes dance.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the organs.

13 They spend their dayes in wealth, and suddenly f they goe downe to the grane.

14 They say vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not the a knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serue him? and what profite should we haue, if we should pray vnto him?

16 Lo, their wealth is not in their h hand: therefore let the counsell of the wicked i bee farre from me.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked bee put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he will diuide their liues in his wrath.

18 They shall bee as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme carieth away.

19 God will lay vp the sorow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shall know it.

20 k His eyes shall see his destruction, and hee shall drinke of the wrath of the Almightie.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shall any teach l God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?

23 One m dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie, 24 His breasts are full of milke, and his bones run full of marow.

25 And another n dieth in the bitternesse of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleepe both in the o dust, and the wormes shall couer them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises, wherewith ye doe me wrong.

28 For ye say, Where is the princes p house? and where is the tabernacle of the wickeds dwelling?

29 Haue ye not q aske them that goe by the way? and ye cannot deny their tokens, 30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of r destruction, and they shall bee brought foorth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shall declare his way s to his face? and who shall reward him for that he hath done?

32 Yet shall he bee brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The t slime valley shalbe sweete vnto him, and euery man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How then comfort u ye mee in vaine, seeing in your answeres there remaine but lies?

a To wit, the godly.

b As concerning their bodies: and this he speaketh according to the common iudgements.

c Thus they called Iobs house in derision, concluding that it was destroied because he was wicked.

d Which through long traueling haue experience and tokens hereof, to wit, that the wicked doe prosper, and the godly liue in affliction.

e Though the wicked flourish here, yet God will punish him in the last day.

f Though men do flatter him, and none dare reproue him in this world, yet death is a token, that God will bring him to an account.

g He accuseth him of vnrighteousnesse, h He is glad to lie in a slimie pit, which before would not be content with a royall palace.

i Saying, that the iust in this world haue prosperitie, and the wicked aduersitie.

CHAP. XXII.

2 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6 He accuseth him of vnmercifulnesse, 13 And that he denied Gods prouidence. 21 Hee exhorteth them to repentance.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 May a man be a profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?

3 b Is it any thing to the Almightie, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vpright?

4 Is it for feare c of thee that he will accuse thee? or goe with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednesse great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the d pledge from thy brother for nought, & spoyled the clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were weary, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungry.

8 But the mightie man e had the earth, and he that was in authoritie, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes empty, and the armes of f the fatherlesse were broken.

10 Therfore snares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:

11 Or darknes that thou shouldest not see, and g abundance of waters shall couer thee.

12 Is not God on hie in the heauen? and a Though man were iust, yet God could haue no profite of this his iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne.

Chap.35.7.

b Lest thou shouldest reproue or harme him?

c Thou hast beene cruell and without crimitie, and wouldest do nothing for the poore, but loue thine owne aduantage.

d When thou wast in power & authoritie, thou this Iob sheweth his aduersaries that if they reason onely by ſ which is seene by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better delt withall, then they that loue him. h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them. i God keepe me from their prosperitie. k When God recompenseth his wickednesse, he shall know that his prosperitie was but vanitie. l Who iudgeth to the wicked prosperitie, and punisheth the godly, m Meaning, the wicked.

h That so much the more by that excellēt worke thou mayest feare God, and reuerence him.

i He reproueth Job as though he denied Gods prouidence, and that he could not see the things that were done in this world.

k How God hath punished them from the beginning?

l He prooueth Gods prouidence by the punishment of the wicked, whome he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.

m He answereth to that which Iob had sayd, Chap. 21. 7. that the wicked haue prosperitie in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of the like.

n The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth himselfe iudge of the world, and by this meanes continueth his honour and glory: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care ouer his, in that hee punisheth their enemies.

o That is, the state and preseruation of the godly is hid vnder Gods wings.

p Meaning, of the wicked.

q Hee exhorteth Iob to repentance, and to returne to God.

r God will restore vnto thee all thy substance.

s Which shalbe in abundance like dust.

t That is, the fauour of God.

u God will deliuer his, when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood, and in Sodome.

x God wil deliuer a whole countrey from perill, euen for the iust mans sake, beholde the height of the b starres howe hie they are.

13 But thou sayest, Howe should God i knowe? can hee iudge through the darke cloud?

14 The cloudes hide him that hee cannot see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.

15 Hast thou marked k way of the world, k wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were l cut downe before the time, whose foundation was a riuer that ouerflowed:

17 Which sayd vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almightie could doe for them.

18 Yet hee m filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked bee farre from me.

19 The righteous shall see them, and shal reioyce, n and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.

20 Surely o our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of p them.

21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, q with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the Lawe of his mouth, and lay vp his words in thine heart.

23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt be built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy Tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp gold for r dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flintes of the riuers.

25 Yea, the Almightie shalbe thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.

26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almightie, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shal establish it vnto thee, and the s light shal shine vpon thy wayes.

29 t When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shal saue the humble person.

30 The innocent shall deliuer the x yland, and it shall bee preserued by the pureness of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Job affirmeth that he hath knoweth & feareth the power and sentence of the Iudge, 10 And that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

BVt Job answered, and sayd,

2 Though my talke bee this day in a bitternesse, and my plague greater then my a He sheweth the iust cause of his complaining, and as touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, Chap. 22. 21. hee declareth that he desireth nothing more: but it seemeth that God would not be found of him, groning,

3 Would God yet I knew how to finde him, I would enter vnto his place.

4 I would pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would knowe the wordes, that hee would answere mee, and would vnderstand what he would say vnto me.

6 Would he b plead against me with his great power? No, but he would c put strength in me.

7 d There the righteous might reason with him, so I should bee deliuered for euer from my Iudge.

8 e Behold, if I go to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him:

9 If to the North where he worketh, yet I cannot see him: he wil hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

10 But he knoweth my f way, and trieth me, and I shall come forth like the gold.

11 My foote hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.

12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lips, & I haue g esteemed the words of his mouth more then mine appointed foode.

13 Yet hee is in one minde, and who can h turne him? yea, her doeth what his minde desireth.

14 For he wil performe that, which is decreed of me, and many i such things are with him.

15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afrayd of him.

16 For God k hath softened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me.

17 For I am not cut off in l darknesse, but he hath hid the darknesse from my face.

b Vsing his absolute power, and saying, Because I am God, I may doe what I will.

c Of his mercy he would giue me power to answere him.

d When he of his mercy hath giuen strength to maintaine their cause.

e Meaning, that if he consider Gods iustice, he is not able to comprehend his iudgements, on what side or part soeuer he turneth himselfe.

f God hath this preeminence aboue me, that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: he theweth also his confidence, that God doeth visite him for his profit.

g His wordes more precious vnto me, then the meate wherewith the body is sustained.

h Iob confesseth that at this present he felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good ende.

i In many points man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements.

k That I should not be without feare.

l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none ende, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Job describeth the wickednes of men, & sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked, 12 How all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence, 17 and the destruction of the wicked.

HOw should not the times bee a hid from the Almightie, seeing that they which know him, see not his b dayes?

a Thus Iob speaketh in his passions and after the iudgement of the flesh, that is, that he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar care ouer all, because he punisheth not the wicked, not reuengeth the 2 Some remoue the land markes, that rob the flocks, and feede thereof.

3 They leade away the asse of the fatherlesse, and take the widowes ore to pledge.

4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselues c together.

5 Behold, others as wilde asses in the wildernesse, goe forth to their businesse, and d rise early for a praie: the wildernesse

b When he punisheth the wicked, and rewardeth the good.

c And for crueltie and oppression dare not shew their faces.

d That is, spare no diligence.

e giueth

e He and his liue by robbing and murthering.
f Meaning, the poore mans.
g Signifying, that one wicked man will not spoyle another, but for necessitie.
h The poore are driuen by the wicked into rocks and holes, where they can not lie dry for the raine.
i That is, they so powle and pill the poore widow, that shee cannot haue to sustaine her selfe, that she may be able to giue her childe sucke.
k That is, his garment, wherewith he should be covered or clad.
l In such places, which are appointed for that purpose: meaning that those that labour for the wicked are pined for hunger.
m For the great oppression and extortion.
n Cry out & call for vengeance.
o God doth not condemne the wicked, but seemeth to passe ouer it by his long silence.
p That is, Gods worde, because they are reproued thereby.
q By these particular vices, and the licence thereunto, he would proue that God punisheth not the wicked, and rewardeth the iust.

* giueth him and his children foode.

6 They reape * his pronision in the field, but they gather the late * vintage of the wicked.

7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the colde.

8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains, [h] and they embrace the rocke for want of a couering.

9 They plucke the fatherlesse [i] from the breast, and take the pledge [k] of the poore.

10 They cause him to goe naked without clothing, and take the gleaning from the hungry.

11 They that make oyle [l] betweene their walles, and treade their wine presses, suffer thirst.

12 Men * cry out of the citie, & the soules of the slaine * cry out: yet God doeth * not charge them with folly.

13 These are they that abhorre the light: they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.

14 The murtherer riseth early, & killeth the poore and the needy: and in the night he is as a thiefe.

15 The eie also of the * adulterer watcheth for the twilight, and saith, None eye shal see me, and disguiseth his face.

16 They dig thorow houses in the darke, which they marked for themselues in the day: they know not the light.

17 But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one knowe them, they are in the terrours of the shadowe of death.

18 Ye is swift vpon the * waters: their * portion shall be cursed in the earth: he will not behold the way of the vineyards.

19 As the dry ground and heate consume the snow waters, so shall the graue * the sinners.

20 * The pitifull man shal forget him: the wormе shal feede his sweetenesse: he shal be no more remembred, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.

21 He * doeth euil entreat the barren, that doeth not beare, neither doeth her good to the widow.

22 Yet drawеth also the [y] mighty by his power, and when he riseth vp, none is sure of life.

23 Though men giue him assurance to be in safetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.

24 They are exalted for a litle, but they are gone, and are brought lowe as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the top of an eare of corne.

25 But if it be not * so, where is her? or who will proone me a liar, & make my words of no value?

r That is, they thinke that all the world is bent against them, and dare not goe by the hie way. s As the dry ground is neuer full with waters, so will they neuer cease sinning, till they come to the graue. t Though God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their ende shalbe most vile destruction, and in this point Iob commeth to himselfe, and sheweth his confidence. u He sheweth why the wicked shall not be lamented, because he did not pitie others. x That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a perfect reason of Gods iudgements, let mee be reproued.

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and sayd,

2 * Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.

3 Is there any number in his armies? and vpon whom [b] shall not his light arise?

4 And how may a man be * iustified with God? or how can he be cleane, that is borne of woman?

5 Beholde, her will giue no light to the moone, [d] and the starres are vncleane in his sight.

6 How much more man, a worme, euen the sonne of man, which is but a wormе?

y He and his like.
z That is, they are for a time in authoritie, but they are soone gone.
a His purpose is to proone, that albeit God try & afflict the iust, yet soone after he sendeth prosperitie, and because he did not so to Iob, he concludeth that he is wicked.
b Who can hide him from his presence?
c That is, be iust in respect of God?
d If God shew his power, the moone and starres cannot haue that light, which is giuen them, much lesse can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob sheweth that man cannot helpe God, and proueth it by his miracles.

BVt Iob answered, and sayd,

2 * Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power? sauest thou the arme that hath no strength?

3 Whom counsellest thou? him that hath no wisedome? thou [b] shewest right well as the thing is.

4 To whome doest thou declare these words? or whose spirit * cometh out of thee?

5 The [d] dead things are formed vnder the waters, and nerre vnto them.

6 The graue is * naked before him, and there is no couering for [f] destruction.

7 He stretcheth out the [g] North ouer the empty place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloud is not broken vnder them.

9 He holdeth back the face of his throne: [h] and spreadeth his cloud vpon it.

10 He hath set bounds about the waters, vntill the [i] day and night come to an end.

11 The [k] pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 The sea is calme by his power, and by his vnderstanding hee smiteth the pride thereof.

13 His Spirite hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath formed the crooked [l] serpent.

14 Loe, these are part of his wayes: but * how litle a portion heare wee of him? and a Thou concludest nothing: for neither thou helpest me, which am destitute of all helpe, neither yet speakest sufficiently on Gods behalfe, who hath no neede of thy defence.

b But thou doest not apply it to the purpose.
c That is, moueth thee to speake this?
d Iob beginneth to declare the force of Gods power & prouidence in the mines & mettals in the deepe places of the earth.
e There is nothing hid in the bottome of the earth, but hee seeth it.
f Meaning, the graue wherein things putrifie.
g Hee causeth the whole heauen to turne about the North pole.
h That is, he hideth the heauens, which are called his throne.
i So long as this world endureth.
k Not that heauen hath pillars to vphold it, but he speaketh by a similitude, as though he would say, The heauen it selfe is not able to abide his reproch.
l Which is a figure of starres fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednes.
m If these few things, which wee see dayly with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how much more would they appeare, if wee were able to comprehend all his workes?

who can vnderstand his fearefull power?

CHAP. XXVII.

3 The constancie and perfection of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

MOreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my [a] iudgement: for the Almightie hath put my soule in bitternesse.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrels, 4 My lippes surely shall speake no wickednesse, [b] and my tongue shall vtter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should [c] iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine [d] innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousnes, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reproue me of my [e] dayes.

7 Mine enemie shalbe as the wicked, and he that riseth against mee, as the vnrighteous.

8 For what [f] hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

9 Will God heare his cry, when trouble commeth vpon him?

10 Will he set his delite on the Almightie? will he call vpon God at all times?

11 I will teach you what is in the hand of [g] God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almightie.

12 Beholde, all ye your selues [h] haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish [i] in vanitie?

13 This is the [k] portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almightie.

14 If his children bee in great number, the sword shal destroy them, and his posterity shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widowes [l] shall not weepe.

16 Though hee should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shal deuide the siluer.

18 He buildeth his house as the [m] moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, [n] he shall not bee gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrours shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall cary him away by night.

21 The East wind shall take him away, and he shall depart: and it shal hurle him out of his place.

22 And God shall cast vpon him and not spare, though hee would fame flee out of his hand.

23 Euery man shal clap their hands at him, and hisse at him out of their place.

a He hath so sore afflicted me, that men cannot iudge of mine vprightnes: for they iudge onely by outward signes.
b Howsoeuer men iudge of me, yet will I not speake contrary to that which I haue sayd, and so doe wickedly in betraying the truth.
c Which condemne me as a wicked man, because the hand of God is vpon me.
d I will not confesse that God doeth thus punish me for my sinnes.
e Of my life past.
f What aduantage hath the dissembler to gaine neuer so much, seeing he shal lose his owne soule?
g That is, what God reserueth to himselfe, and whereof he giueth not the knowledge to all.
h That is, these secret iudgements of God, and yet doe not vnderstand them.
i Why maintaine you then their errour?
k Thus will God order the wicked, and punish them vnto his posteritie.
l None shall lament him.
m Which breedeth in another mans possession or garment, but is soone shaken out.
n He meaneth that the wicked tyrants shall not haue a quiet death, nor be buried honourably.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdom of God is vnsearchable.

THe siluer surely hath his veine, [a] and the golde his place, where they take it.

2 Irons taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to darknesse, [b] and he triedy the perfection of all things: he setteth a bond of darknesse, and of the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the [c] inhabitant, and the waters [d] forgotten of the foote, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth commeth [e] breed, and vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof are a place [f] of saphirs, and the dust of it is gold.

7 There is a path which no foule hath knowen, neither hath the kites eye seene it.

8 The lions whelps haue not walked it, nor the lion passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the [g] rocks, [h] ouerthroweth the mountains by the roots.

10 He breaketh riuers in the rocks, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they do not ouerflow, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdome found? [i] and where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not [k] the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth sayth, It is not in me: the sea also sayth, It is not with me.

15 [l] Gold shall not be giuen for it, neither shall siluer be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of gold of Ophir, nor with the precious onix, nor the saphir.

17 The gold nor the christal shalbe equall vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine gold.

18 No mention shall bee made of coxall, nor of the [m] gabish: for wisedom is more precious then pearles.

19 The topas of Ethiopia shall not be equall vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence then commeth wisdom? and where is the place of vnderstanding, 21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the [n] foules of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares:

23 But God vnderstandeth [o] the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of [p] the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen, 25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightening of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

a His purpose is to declare that man may attaine in this world to diuers secrets of nature, but man is neuer able to comprehend the wisdom of God.
b There is nothing but it is compassed within certain limites, & hath an ende, but Gods wisedome.
c Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby.
d Which a man cannot wade through.
e That is, corne, and vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easily conceiueth fire.
f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature which are vnder the earth, whereinto neither foules nor beasts can enter.
g After that he hath declared the wisdome of God in the secretes of nature, he describeth his power.
h Though Gods power and wisedome may be vnderstood in earthly things, yet his heauenly wisedome cannot be attained vnto.
i It is too hie a thing for man to attaine vnto in this world.
k It can neither be bought for gold nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.
l Which is thought to be a kind of precious stone.
m Meaning, that there is no natural means, whereby man might attaine to the heauenly wisedom: which he meaneth by the foules that flie hie.
n He maketh God onely the author of this wisedom, and the giuer thereof.

Prouerb.1.7.
o He declareth that man hath so much of this heauenly wisedome, as hee sheweth by fearing God, and departing from euill.

28 And vnto man he sayd, Beholde, * the o feare of the Lord is wisedome, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

CHHP XXIX.

1 Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past. 7 21 His authoritie, 12 Iustice and equitie.

SO Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 Oh that I were as ‡ in times past, when God preserued me!

3 When his a light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked thorow the b darkenesse,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when c Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almightie was yet with me, and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my pathes d with butter, and when the rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgement seate, and when I caused them to prepare my seate in the streete.

8 The yong men sawe me, e & hid themselues, and the aged arose, and stood vp.

9 The princes staied talke, and laid their hand on their f mouth.

10 The voyce of princes was hid, & their tongue cleaued to the roofe of their mouth.

11 And when the g eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye sawe me, it gaue witnesse to h me.

12 For I deliuered the i poore that cried, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 k The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon mee, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put l on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my m nest, and I shall multiply my dayes as the sand.

19 For my roote is n spread out by the water, and the dewe shall lie vpon my branch.

20 My glory shall renue to ward me, and my bow shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my words they replied not, and my talke o dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for mee, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth p as for the latter raine.

24 If I q laughed on them, they beleeued it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance r to fall.

25 I appointed out f their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a king in the armie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Iob complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 11.21 because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

BVT nowe they that are yonger then I, a mocke mee: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the b dogges of my flockes.

2 For whereto should the strength of their hands haue serued mee, seeing age c perished in them?

3 For pouertie and famine they were solitarie, fleeing into the wildernesse, which is darke, desolate and waste.

4 They cut vp ‖nettles by the bushes, and the iunipez roots was their meate.

5 They were d chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a theefe.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rocks.

7 They roared among the bushes, & vnder the thistles they gathered themselues.

8 They were the children of fooles, and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their e song, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre mee, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my f cord and humbled me, s they haue loosed the bridle before me.

12 The youth rise vp at my right hand: they haue pulled my feete, and haue trode on me as on the h paths of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none i helpe.

14 They came as a great breach of waters, and k vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon mee: and they pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloud.

16 Therefore my soule is now l powred out vpon mee, and the dayes of affliction haue taken holde on me.

17 m It pearceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compasseth mee about as the collar of my coat.

19 n Hee hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou doest not heare mee, neither regardest mee, when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy selfe o cruelly against mee, and art enemie vnto mee with the strength of thine hand.

22 Thou takest me vp and causest mee to ride vpon the p winde, and makest my c That is, seemed by euident tokens to be more present with me.

d By these similitudes he declareth the great prosperitie that he was in, so that he had none occasion to be such a sinner, as they accused him.
e Being ashamed of their lightnes, and afraid of my grauitie.
f Acknowledging my wisedome.
g All that heard me, praysed me.
h Testifying, ‖ I did good iustice.
i Because his aduersaries did so much charge him with wickednes, he is compelled to render a count of his life.
k That is, I did succour him that was in distresse, & so he had cause to praise me.
l I delited to doe iustice, as others did to weare costly apparell.
m That is, at home in my bed vvout all trouble, and vnquietnesse.
n My felicitie doeth increase.
o That is, was pleasant vnto them.
p As the dry ground thirsteth for the raine.
q That is, they thought it not to be a iest, or they thought not that I would condescend vnto them.
r They were afraid to offend me, and cause me to be angrie.
f I had them at commandement.

a That is, mine estate is changed, and whereas before the ancient men were glad to doe me reuerence, the yong men now contemne me.
b Meaning, to be my shepheards, or to keep my dogges.
c That is, their fathers died for famine before they came to age.
‖ Or, mallowes.
d Iob sheweth that these that mocked him in his affliction, were like to their fathers, wicked and lewde fellowes, such as he here describeth.
e They make songs of me, and mocke at my miserie.
f God hath taken from me the force, credite and authority, wherewith I kept them in subiection.
g He said that the yong men when they saw him, hid themselues, as Chap.29.8 and now in his miserie they were impudent and licentious.
h That is, they sought by all meanes how they might destroy me.
i They need none to helpe them.
k By my calamitie they tooke an occasion against me.
l My life faileth me, and I am as halfe dead.
m Meaning sorow.
n That is, God hath brought me into contempt.

p He compareth his affliction to a tempest or whirlwind.

strength

‖Or, wisdome, or law.
q None can deliuer me thence though they lamēt at my death.
r In stead of comforting, they mocked at me.
s Not delighting in any worldly thing, no not so much as in the vse of the sunne.
t Lamenting them that were in affliction, and mouing others to pitie them.
u I am like the wilde beastes that desire most solitarie places.
x With the heate of affliction.

a I kept mine eyes from all wanton lookes.
b Would not God then haue punished me?
c Iob declareth that the feare of God was a bridle to stay him from all wickednesse.
d He sheweth wherein his vprightnesse standeth, that is, in as much as he was blamelesse before men, and sinned not against the second table.
e That is, hath accomplished the lust of mine eye.

24 Doubtlesse none can stretch his hand q vnto the graue, though they cry in his destruction.
25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? was not my soule in heauinesse for the poore?
26 Yet when I looked for good, r euill came vnto me: & when I waited for light, there came darkenesse.
27 My bowels did boyle without ſ rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.
28 I went mourning without t sunne: I stood vp in the congregation t and cryed.
29 I am a brother to the u dragons, and a companion to the ostriches.
30 My skinne is blacke vpon me, and my bones are burnt with x heate.
31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organes into the voyce of them that weepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Iob reciteth the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faithfull.

I Made a couenant with mine a eyes: why then should I thinke on b a maide?
2 For what portion should I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the Almightie from on hie?
3 Is not destruction to the wicked, and strange punishment to c the workers of iniquitie?
4 Doeth not he beholde my wayes, and tell all my steps?
5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foote hath made haste to deceite,
6 Let God weigh me in the iust balance, and he shall know mine d vprightnesse.
7 If my step hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath e walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaued to mine handes,
8 Let me sowe, and let another f eate: yea, let my plants be rooted out.
9 If mine heart hath beene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue laide waite at the doore of my neighbour,
10 Let my wife g grinde vnto another man, and let other men bow vpō her:
11 For this is a wicked deede, and iniquity to be condemned:
12 Yea, this is a fire that shall deuoure h to destruction, and which shall roote out all mine increase.
13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my seruant, and of my i maide, when they did contend with me, 14 What then shall I doe when k God standeth vp? and when he shall visite me, what shall I answere?
15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath hee not made i him? hath not hee alone fashioned vs in the wombe?
16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widowe ‖ to faile, 17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof, 18 (For from my youth hee hath growen vp with me ‖ as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her) 19 If I haue seene any perish for want of clothing, or any poore without couering, 20 If his loynes haue not blessed mee, because hee was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe, 21 If I haue lift ‖ vp mine hand against the fatherlesse, when I sawe that I might helpe him in the gate, 22 Let mine x arme fall from my shoulder, & mine arme be broken from the bone.
23 For Gods punishment was q fearefull vnto mee, and I could not bee deliuered from his highnesse.
24 If I made golde mine hope, or haue sayde to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence, 25 If I reioyced because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,
26 If I did beholde the r Sunne, when it shined, or the moone walking in her brightnesse, 27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kisse mine ſ hand, 28 (This also had bene an iniquitie to bee condemned: for I had denied the God ‖ aboue)
29 If I reioyced at his destruction that hated me, or was moued to ioy when euill came vpon him, 30 Neither haue I suffered my mouth to sinne, by wishing a curse vnto his soule.
31 Did not the men of my ‖ tabernacle say, Who shall giue vs of his flesh? we can not be satisfied.
32 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my doores vnto him that went by the way.
33 If I haue hid ‖ my sinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my bosome, 34 Though I could haue made afraid a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did ſ feare me: so I kept ‖ silence, and went not out of the doore.
35 Oh that I had some to heare mee! beholde my ‖ signe that the Almighty will witnesse for me: though mine aduersarie should write a booke against me, 36 Would not I take it vpon my shoulder, and binde it as t a crowne vnto me?
37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a ‖ prince.
38 If my lande ‖ cry against mee, or the furrowes thereof complaine together, 39 If I haue eaten the fruites thereof

i When they thought themselues euill intreated by me.
k If I had oppressed others, how should I haue escaped Gods iudgement?
l He was moued to shew pitie vnto seruants, because they were Gods creatures as he was.
m By long waiting for her request.
n He nourished the fatherles, and mainteined the widowes cause.
o To oppresse him and doe him iniurie.
p Let me rot in pieces.
q I refrained not from sinning for feare of men, but because I feared God.
r If I was proud of my worldly prosperitie and felicitie, which is meant by the shining of the Sunne and brightnesse of the Moone.
ſ If mine owne doings delighted me. t By putting confidence in any thing, but in him alone.
u My seruants mooued me to be reuenged of mine enemie, yet did I neuer wish him hurt.
x And not confessed it freely: whereby it is euident that he iustified himselfe before men and not before God.
y That is, I reuerenced the most weake and contemned, and was afraid to offend them.
z I suffered them to speake euill of me, and went not out of my house to reuenge it.
a This is a sufficient token of my righteousnesse, that God is my witnesse and will iustifie my cause.
b Should not this booke of his accusations be a prayse and commendation to me?
c I will make him account of all my life without feare.
d As though I had withholden their wages that laboured in it.

THE WORDS OF IOB ARE ENDED.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu reprooueth them of folly. 8 A gouernour not a man wise, but the Spirit of God.

SO these three men ceased to answer Iob, because he a esteemed himselfe iust.
2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the b Buzite, of the family of b Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Iob, because he iustified himselfe c more then God.
3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not finde an answere, and yet condemned Iob.
4 (Now Elihu had waited till Iob had spoken: for d they were more ancient in yeres then he)
5 So when Elihu sawe that there was none answere in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.
6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, answered and sayde, I am yong in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraide to shewe you mine opinion.
7 For I sayde, The e dayes shall speake, and the multitude of yeeres shall teach wisedome.
8 Surely there is a spirite in man, f but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding.
9 Great men are not alway wise, neither doe the aged alway vnderstand iudgement.
10 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I will shew also mine opinion.
11 Behold, I did wait vpon your words, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you sought out g reasons.
12 Yea, when I had considered you, loe, there was none of you that conuinced Iob, nor answered his words:
13 Lest ye should say, We haue h found wisedome: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.
14 Yet hath i hee not directed his words to me, neither will I answere k him by your words.
15 Then they feared, answered no more, but left off their talke.
16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more) 17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.
18 For I am full of l matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.
19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the newe bottels that burst.
20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lips, and will answere.
21 I will not now accept the person of man, m neither will I giue titles to man.
22 For I may not giue e titles, lest my Maker should take me away suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 He sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct men and to draw him from sinne. 19, 29 He assisteth man, and suddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered, giueth thankes to God.

WHerefore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke, and hearken vnto all my wordes.
2 Behold now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth:
3 My wordes are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, and my lips shall speake pure knowledge.
4 The a Spirit of God hath made mee, and the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me life.
5 If thou canst giue me answere, prepare thy selfe, and stand before me.
6 Behold, I am according to thy wish in b Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.
7 Behold, my terrour shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand c be heauie vpon thee.
8 Doubtlesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes:
9 I am d cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquity in me.
10 Loe, hee hath found occasions against me, and counted me for his enemie.
11 Hee hath put my foote in the stockes, and looketh narrowly vnto all my pathes.
12 Behold, in this hast thou not done right: I will answere thee, that God is greater then man.
13 Why dost thou striue against him? for hee doeth not e giue accompt of all his matters.
14 For God speaketh f once or twise, and one regardeth it not.
15 In dreames and g visions of the night, when sleepe falleth vpon men, & they sleepe vpon their beds, 16 Then hee openeth the eares of men, euen by their corrections, which hee h had sealed,
17 That hee might cause man to turne away from his enterprise, and that hee might hide the i pride of man, 18 And keepe backe his soule from the pit, and that his life shoulde not passe by the sword.
19 Hee is also striken with sorrowe vpon his bed, and the griefe of his bones is sore, 20 So that his k life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule dainty meates.
21 His flesh fayleth that it cannot bee seene, and his bones which were not seene, clatter.
22 So his soule draweth to the graue, and his life l to the buriers.
23 If there bee a m messenger with him or a I confesse the power of God, and am one of his, therefore thou oughtest to heare me.

b Because Iob had wished to dispute his cause with God, Chap. 16.21. so that he might doe it without feare, Elihu sayth hee, will reason in Gods stead, whom he needeth nothe feare, because he is a man made of the same matter that he is.
c I will not handle thee so roughly as these others haue done.
d He repeateth Iobs wordes, whereby he protested his innocencie in diuers places, but specially in the 13.16. and 30. chapters.
e The cause of his iudgements is not alwaies declared to man.
f Though God by sundry examples of his iudgements speake vnto men, yet the reason thereof is not knowen: yea, and though God should speake, yet hee is not vnderstoode.
g God saith he, the cause of his an interpreter, one of a thousand a to declare vnto man his righteousnes, 24 Then will I haue b mercy vpon him, and will say, c Deliuer him, that he go not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliation.

25 Then shall his flesh bee d as fresh as a childes, and shall returne as in the dayes of his youth.

26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy: for hee will render vnto man his e righteousnes.

27 Hee looketh vpon men, and if one say, I haue sinned, and f peruerted righteousnes, and it did not profite g me, 28 h Hee will deliuer his soule from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

29 Loe, all these things will God worke i twise or thrise with a man, 30 That hee may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing.

31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare mee: keepe silence, and I will speake.

32 If there be k matter, answere mee, and speake: for I desire to l iustifie thee.

33 If thou hast not, heare mee: holde thy tongue, and I will teach thee wisedome.

a A singular man, and as one chosen out of a thousand, which is able to declare the great mercies of God vnto sinners: and where in mans righteousnesse standeth, which is through the iustice of Iesus Christ and faith therein.

o He sheweth that it is a sure token of Gods mercie toward sinners, when he causeth his word to be preached vnto them.

p That is, the minister shal by the preaching of the word pronounce vnto him the forgiuenesse of his sinnes.

q He shall feele Gods fauour & reioyce: declaring hereby, wherein standeth the true loy of the faithfull: and that God will restore him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing.

r God will forgiue his sinnes, and accept him as iust.

s That is, done wickedly.

t But my sinne hath bene the cause of Gods wrath toward me.

u God will forgiue the penitent sinner.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Elihu chargeth Iob, that hee called himselfe righteous. 12 Hee sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mighty. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

MOreouer Elihu answered, and sayd,

2 Heare my words, ye a wise men, and hearken vnto mee, yee that haue knowledge.

3 For the eare trieth the wordes, as the mouth tasteth meate.

4 Let vs seeke b iudgement among vs, and let vs know among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hath sayde, I am righteous, and God hath taken c away my iudgement.

6 Should I lie in my d right? my wound of the arrowe is e grieuous without my fault.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh f scornefulnesse like water?

8 Which goeth in the g company of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For hee hath said, h It profiteth a man nothing, that he should i walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, yee men of wisedome, God forbid that wickednesse should bee in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to find according to his way.

12 And certainely God will not doe wickedly, neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.

13 Whom k hath hee appointed ouer the earth besides himselfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If l hee set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto himselfe his spirit & his breath, 15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust.

16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this, and hearken to the m voice of my words.

17 Shall he that hateth iudgement, n gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a King, Thou art o wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 Howe much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his hands.

20 They shall die suddenly, p and the people shall be troubled at midnight, q and they shall passe foorth and take away the mightie without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenes nor shadow of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For hee will not lay on man so much, that hee should r enter into iudgement with God.

24 Hee shall breake the mighty without s seeking, and shal set vp other in their stead.

25 Therfore shal he declare their t workes: hee shall turne the night, and they shall bee destroyed.

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the u seers,

27 Because they had turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to x come vnto him, and hee hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when hee giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when hee hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the y hypocrite doth reigne, and because the people are snared.

31 Surely it appertaineth vnto God z to say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 a But if I see not, teach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will doe no more.

33 Will hee perfourme the thing thyough b thee? for thou hast reproued it, because b Which are esteemed wise of the world.

c Let vs examine the matter vprightly.

d That is, hath afflicted me without measure.

e Should I say, I am innocent?

f I am sorer punished, then my sinne deserueth.

g Which is compelled to receiue the reproch & scornes of many for his foolish words.

h Meaning, that Iob was like to the wicked, because hee seemed not to glorifie God and submit himselfe to his iudgements.

i That is, liue godly, as Gene. 5. 22.

Chap. 36. 23.

k To destroy him.

l The breath of life which hee gaue man,

m If God were not iust, howe could he gouerne the world?

n If man of nature feare to speake euill of such as haue power, then much more ought they to bee afraid to speake euill of God.

o When they looke not for it.

p The messengers or visitation that God shall send.

q God doth not afflict man about measure, so that he should haue occasion to contend with him.

r For all his creatures are at hand to serue him, so that he needeth not to seeke for any other army.

s Make them manifest that they are wicked.

t Declare the things that are hid.

u Meaning, openly in the sight of all men.

x By their cruelty and extortion.

y When tyrants sit in the throne of iustice, which vnder pretence of executing iustice, are but hypocrites and oppresse the people, it is a signe that God hath drawen back his countenance and fauour from that place.

z Onely it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man.

a Thus Elihu speaketh in the person of God, as it were mocking Iob, because he would be wiser then God.

b Will God vse thy counsell in doing his workes?

c Thus he speaketh in the person of God, as though Iob should chuse & refuse affliction at his pleasure, that that thou hast chosen, and not I: now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of understanding tel me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his wordes according to wisedome.

36 I desire that Iob may be [d] tried, vnto the ende touching the answeres for wicked men.

37 For he [e] addeth rebellion vnto his sin: he clappeth his hands among vs, and multiplieth his words against God.

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Neither doth godlinesse profit, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked crie vnto God, and are not heard.

ELihu spake moreouer, and sayd,

2 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast sayde, I am [a] more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast sayd, What profiteth it thee, and what auaileth it me, to purge mee from my sinne?

4 Therefore will I answere thee, and thy [b] companions with thee.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, and see, and behold the [c] clouds which are higher then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou [d] against him, yea, when thy sinnes bee many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiueth hee at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteousnesse may profite the sonne of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, [e] to crie, which crie out for the violence of the mightie.

10 But none sayeth, Where is God that made me, which giueth songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then the beasts of the earth, and giueth vs more wisedome then the fowles of the heauen.

12 Then they crie because of the violence of the wicked, but [f] he answereth not.

13 Surely God will not heare vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, [g] yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his angre hath not visited, nor called to count [h] exile with great extremitie, 16 Therefore Iob [i] openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 and his iustice: 9 And wherefore he punisheth, 13 The properties of the wicked.

ELihu also proceeded and sayd,

2 Suffer me a little, and I will instruct thee: for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I will fetch [a] my knowledge afarre off, and will attribute righteousnesse vnto my Maker.

4 For truly my words shall not be false, and he that is [b] perfit in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Behold, the mightie God casteth away none that is [c] mightie and valiant of courage.

6 [d] He maintaineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eies from the righteous, but they are with [e] Kings in the throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters and tied with the cords of affliction,

9 Then will he shew them their [f] worke and their sinnes, because they haue done proud.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

11 [g] If they obey and serue him, they shall end their dayes in prosperitie, and their yeres in pleasures.

12 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by the sword, and perish [h] without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites [i] of heart increase the wrath: for they [k] call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soule dieth in [l] youth, and their life among the whoremongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would he haue taken thee out of the strait place into a broad place and not shut vp beneath: and [m] that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of fat.

17 But thou art full of the [n] iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie maintaine all things.

18 [o] For Gods wrath is, lest he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 [p] Will he regard thy riches? hee regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 [q] Be not carefull in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heede: looke not to [r] iniquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

23 Beholde, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men beholde.

25 All men see it, and men beholde it [s] afarre off.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, [t] and we know him not, neither can the number of his yeres be searched out.

a Iob neuer spake these words: but because he maintained his innocency, it seemed as though he would say, that God tormented him without iust cause.

b Such as are in the like errour.

c If thou canst not controll the clouds, wilt thou presume to iudge God?

d Neither doth thy sin hurt God, nor thy iustice profit him: for he will be glorified without thee.

e The wicked may hurt man & cause him to cry, who if he sought to God, which sendeth comfort, should be deliuered.

f Because they pray not in faith as feeling Gods mercies.

g God is iust, howsoeuer thou iudgest of him.

h For if he did punish thee, as thou deseruest, thou shouldest not be able to open thy mouth, a He sheweth that when we speake of God, we must lift our spirits more hie then our naturall sense is able to reach, b Thou hast perceiue that I am a faithful instructer, and that I speake to thee in the name of God.

c Strong & constant, & of vnderstanding: for these are the gifts of God, & he loueth them in man: but forasmuch as God punished now Iob, it is a signe that these are not in him.

d Therefore he will not preserue the wicked: but to the humble & afflicted heart he will shew grace.

e He preserueth the godly to honour.

f He will moue their hearts to feele their sinnes, that they may come to him by repentance, as he did Manasseh. 2 Chro. 33. 19.

g That is, in their lolly or obstination, and so shall become of their own destruction.

h Which are maliciously bent against God, and flatter themselues in their vices.

i When they are in affliction they seeke not to God for succour, as Asa, 2 Chro. 16. 12. Reu. 16. 11.

k They die of some vile death, and that before they come to age.

l If thou hadst beene obedient to God, he would haue brought thee to libertie and wealth.

m Thou art altogether after the manner of the wicked: for thou doest murmure against the iustice of God.

n God doth punish thee, least thou shouldest forget God in thy wealth, and so perish.

o Bee not thou curious in seeking the cause of Gods iudgements, when hee destroyeth any.

p And so murmure against God through impatiencie.

q The workes of God are so manifest, that a man may see them afarre off, and know God by the same.

r Our infirmitie hindreth vs so, that we cannot attaine to the perfite knowledge of God.

f That is, the raine commeth of thoſe droppes of water, which hee keepeth in the clouds.
t Meaning, of the clouds, which hee calleth the Tabernacle of God.
u Vpon the cloud.
x That men can not come to the knowledge of the ſprings thereof.
y He ſheweth that the raine hath double vſe: the one that it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth ouerflow any places, and the other that it maketh the land fruitfull.
z That is, one cloud to daſh againſt another.
a The cold vapour ſheweth him: that is, the cloud of the hote exhalation, which being taken in the colde cloud, mounteth vp toward the place where the fire is, and ſo anger is ingendred: that is, noiſe and thunder claps.

27 When he reſtraineth the droppes of water, the raine powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the clouds do droppe and let fall abundantly vpon man.
29 Who can knowe the diuiſions of the clouds, and the thunders of his t tabernacle?
30 Beholde, he ſpreadeth his light vpon u it, and couereth the x bottome of the ſea.
31 For thereby heer iudgeth y the people, and giueth meat abundantly.
32 He couereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to go z againſt it.
33 a His companion ſheweth him thereof, and there is anger in riſing vp.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Elihu proueth that the vnſearchable wiſdome of God is manifeſt by his works: 4 as by the thunders, 6 the ſnow, 9 the whirlewinde, 11 and the raine.

AT this alſo my heart is a aſtonied, and is moued out of his place.
2 Heare the b ſound of his voyce, and the noiſe that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.
4 After it a noiſe ſoundeth: he thundreth with the voice of his maieſtie, and he will not ſtay c them when his voyce is heard.
5 God thundreth marueilouſly with his voyce: he worketh great things, which wee know not.
6 For he ſaith to the ſnow, Be thou vpon the earth: d likewiſe to the ſmall raine and to the great raine of his power.
7 With the ſeale thereof he e ſhutteth vp euery man, that all men may knowe his worke.
8 Then the beaſts goe into the den, and remaine in their places.
9 The whirlewinde commeth out of the South, and the cold from the f Northwind.
10 At the breath of God the froſt is giuen, and the breadth of the waters g is made narow.
11 He maketh alſo the clouds to h labour, to water the earth, and ſcattereth the cloud of i his light.
12 And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may do whatſoeuer he commandeth them vpon the whole world:
13 Whether it be for k puniſhment, or for his land, or of mercy, he cauſeth it to come.
14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: ſtand and conſider the wondrous works of God.
15 Doſt thou know when God diſpoſed them? and cauſed the l light of his cloud to ſhine?
16 Haſt thou knowen the m varietie of the cloud, and the wondrous works of him, that is perfit in knowledge?
17 Or how thy clothes are n warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through o South wind?
18 Haſt thou ſtretched out the heauens, which are ſtrong, and as a molten p glaſſe?
19 Tell vs what we ſhall ſay vnto him: for wee cannot diſpoſe our matter becauſe of q darkneſſe.
20 Shall it be r told him when I ſpeake? or ſhall man ſpeake when hee ſhall bee s deſtroyed?
21 And now men ſee not t light, t which ſhineth in the cloudes, but the wind paſſeth and cleanſeth them.
22 The u brightneſſe commeth out of the North: the praiſe thereof is to God, which is terrible.
23 It is the Almighty: we cannot find him out: hee is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iuſtice: he x afflicteth not.
24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wiſe in their owne conceit.

a At the marueiling of the thunder, and lightnings: whereby hee declareth that the faithfull are liuely touched with the maieſtie of God, when they behold his works.
b That is, the thunder, whereby he ſpeaketh to men to waken their dulneſſe, & to bring them to the conſideration of his works.
c Meaning, the raines and thunders.
d So that neither ſmall raine nor great, ſnow nor any thing els commeth without Gods appointment.
e By raines and thunders God cauſeth men to keepe themſelues within their houſes.
f That is, the lightening to breake foorth in the clouds?
g As though great ſea were as a little baſon in the hands of him to turne to and fro.
h That is, by decree and mandement. Pſal. 104. 10.

k Who haſteneth in the night time giuen to wickedneſſe, cannot abide the light, but hideth themſelues.
l The earth ſeemed in the night to haue ſome, by the ſhining of the ſea: as it were ſtretched anew, as things therin with new beginning.
m If thou art able to ſeeke the depth of the ſea, how much leſſe art thou able to comprehend the counſell of God.

b In Ebrew it is called the ſcattering winde, becauſe it driueth away the cloudes, and purgeth the aire.
g That is, frozen vp and dried.
h Gather the vapours and moue to & fro to water the earth.
i That is, the cloud that hath lightening in it.
k Raine, cold, heate, tempeſts and ſuch like are ſent of God, either to puniſh man, or to profit the earth, or to declare his fauour toward man, as Chap. 36. 31.

a That his words might haue greater maieſtie, and that Iob might knowe with whom he had to doe.
b Which by ſeeking out the ſecret counſell of God by mans reaſon, maketh it more obſcure, and ſheweth his owne folly.
c Becauſe he had wiſhed to diſpute with God, Chap. 13. 3. God reaſoneth with him to declare his raſhneſſe.
d Seeing he could not iudge of thoſe things, which were done ſo long before hee was borne, he was not able to comprehend all Gods works: much leſſe the ſecret cauſes of his iudgements.

11 And sayd, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no farther, and here h shall it stay thy proud waues,

12 Hast thou commanded the i morning since thy dates? hast thou caused the morning to know his place, 13 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might bee k shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, l and all stand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shall be taken away, & the hie arme shalbe broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the bottoms of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the m depth?

17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou seene the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou perceiued the breadth of the earth? tell if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkenesse, 20 That thou n shouldest receiue it in the bounds therof, and that thou shouldest know the pathes of the house therof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then borne, and because the number of thy dayes is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snowe? or hast thou seene the treasures of the haile, 23 Which I haue o hid against the time of trouble, against the day of warre and battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East winde vpon the earth?

25 Who hath deuided the spowtes for the raine? or the way for the lightning of the thunders, 26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wildernesse where there is no man?

27 To fulfill the wilde and waste place, and to cause the bud of the herbe to spring foorth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the droppes of the dewe?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath engendred the frost of the heauen?

30 The waters are hid p as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou restraine the sweete influences of q the Pleiades? or loose the bands of r Orion?

32 Canst thou bring foorth s Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide t Arcturus with his sonnes?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou set u the rule therof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift vp thy voyce to the cloudes, that the abundance of water may couer thee?

35 Canst thou sende the lightnings that they may walke, and say vnto thee, Lo, here we are?

36 Who hath put wisdome in the x reines? or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who can number the clouds by wisedome? or who can cause to cease the y bottels of heauen, 38 When the earth groweth into hardnesse, z and the clods are fast together?

y That is the cloudes wherein the water is conteined as in bottels.
z For when God doeth not open those bottels, the earth commeth to this inconuenience.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The bountie and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the yong rauens, giueth man full occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Iob confesseth and humbleth himselfe.

WIlt a thou hunt the pray for the Lyon? or fill the appetite for the lyons whelpes,

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the couert to lie in waite?

3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meat, when his birds b cry vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?

4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates hing foorth yong? or doest thou marke when the c hindes doe calue?

5 Canst thou number the moneths that they d fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

6 They bowe themselues: they e hast their yong and cast out their sorowes.

7 Yet their yong ware fat, and grow vp with corne: they goe foorth and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hath set ȝ wild asse at libertie? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde asse?

9 It is I which haue made the wildernesse his house, & the f salt places his dwellings.

10 He derideth the multitude of the citie: he heareth not the cry of the driuer.

11 Hee seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.

12 Will the Unicorne serue thee? or will he tary by thy crib?

13 Canst thou binde the Unicorne with his band to labour in the furrowe? or will he plowe the valleyes after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleeue him, that he wil bring home thy seed, and gather it vnto thy barne?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocks? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?

17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth, and maketh g them hote in the dust,

18 And forgetteth that the foote might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.

19 Hee sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he trauailed h in paine.

20 For God hath depriued him of i wisedome, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When k time is, hee mounteth on hie: he mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength? or a After he had declared Gods workes in the heauens, hee sheweth his marueilous prouidence in earth, euen toward the bruite beasts.

b Reade Psalme 147. 9.
c He chiefly maketh mention of wilde goates and hindes, because they bring foorth their yong with most difficultie.
d That is, how long they goe with yong?
e They bring foorth with great difficultie.
f That is, the barren ground where no good fruites grow.
g Is it possible to make the Unicorne tame? signifying that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoint the wisedome of God, whereby he gouerneth all the world.
h They write that the ostrich couereth her egges in the sand and because the countrey is hot, and the sunne still keepeth them warme, they are hatched.
i If he should take care for them.
k That is, to haue a care and naturall affection toward his yong.
l When the yong ostrich is growen vp, he outrunneth the horse, couered his necke with [a] neying?

23 Hast thou made him afraide as the grashopper? his strong neying is fearefull.

24 He [a] diggeth in the valley, and reioyceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meet the harnessed man.

25 He mocketh at feare, & is not afrayd, and turneth not backe from the sworde.

26 Though the quiuer rattle against him, the glittering speare and the shield.

27 He [a] swalloweth the ground for fiercenesse and rage, and he beleeueth not that it is the noyse of the trumpet.

28 Hee sayth among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he smelleth the battell afarre off, and the noyse of the captaines, and the shouting.

29 Shall the hauke flie by thy wisedome, stretching out his wings toward [p] South?

30 Doeth the eagle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on hie?

31 She abideth & remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, & the tower.

32 From thence she spieth for meate, and her eyes behold afarre off.

33 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: and where the slaine are, there is he.

34 Moreouer the Lord spake vnto Iob, and sayd,

35 Is this to [q] learne, to striue with the Almightie? he that reproueth God, let him answere to it.

36 ¶ Then Iob answered [r] Lord, saying,

37 Behold, I am [a] vile: what shall I answere thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answere no more, yea twise, but I will proceede no further.

CHAP. XL.

a How weake mans power is, being compared to the workes of God: 10 Whose power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great beasts.

AGaine, the Lorde answered Iob out of the [a] whirlewinde, and sayd,

2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

3 Wilt thou [a] disanull my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne mee, that thou mayest be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy selfe nowe with [b] maiestie and excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beautie and glory.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and beholde euery one that is proud, and abase him.

7 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and binde [c] their faces in a secret place.

9 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can [d] saue thee.

10 ¶ Behold now [e] Behemoth, (whom I made [f] with thee) which eateth [g] grasse as an ox.

11 Beholde nowe, his strength is in his loynes, & his force is in the nauil of his belly.

12 When he taketh pleasure, his taile is like a Cedar: the sinewes of his stones are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like staues of brasse, and his small bones like staues of yron.

14 [h] He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: he that made him, will make his sword to approch vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him forth grasse, where all the beasts of the field play.

16 Lieth he vnder the trees in the couert of the reede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadowe? or can the willowes of the riuer compasse him about?

18 Beholde, hee spoyleth the riuer, [k] and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, & thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him.

20 ¶ Canst thou draw out [l] Leuiathan with an hooke, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? canst thou pierce his iawes with an angle?

22 Will hee make many [m] prayers vnto thee, or speake thee faire?

23 Will he make a couenant with thee? and wilt thou take [n] him as a seruant for euer?

24 Wilt thou play with him, as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maides?

25 Shall the companions banquet with him? shall they deuide him among the marchants?

26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skinne? or the fish panier with his head?

27 Lay thine hand vpon him: remember [o] the battell, and doe no more so.

28 Behold, [p] his hope is in vaine: for shall not one perish euen at the sight of him?

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatnesse of this monster Leuiathan, God sheweth his greatnesse, and his power, which nothing can resist.

NOne is so fierce that dare stirre him vp. Who is he then [a] can stand before me?

2 Who hath preuented me that I should [b] make an end? All vnder heauen is mine.

3 I will not keepe silence concerning [c] his partes, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

4 Who can discouer the face [d] of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double [e] bridle?

5 Who shall [f] open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearefull round about.

6 The maiestie of his scales is like strong shields, and are fast sealed.

7 One is set to another, that no winde can come betweene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they sticke together, that they cannot be sundred.

9 His neesings [g] make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eye lids of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth goe lampes, and sparkes of fire leape out.

11 Out of his nostrils [h] commeth out smoke, as

---

[a] That is, giues him courage: which is meant by neying and shaking his mane: for with his breath he couereth his necke.

[a] He beateth with his hoofe.

[a] He so riddeth the ground, that it seemeth nothing vnder him.

[p] That is, when colde commeth, to flie into the warme countreys.

[q] Is this the way for a man that will learne, to striue with God? which thing he reproueth in Iob.

[r] Whereby he sheweth that he repented, and desired pardon for his faults.

Chap 38.1.

[a] Signifying, that they that iustifie themselues, condemne God as vniust.

[b] Meaning, that these were proper vnto God, and belonged to no man.

[c] Cause them to die if thou canst.

[d] Proouing hereby that whatsoeuer attributeth to himselfe power and abilitie to saue himselfe, maketh himselfe God.

[e] This beast is thought to be the elephant, or some other, which is vnknowen.

[f] Whom I made as well as thee.

[g] This commendeth the prouidence of God toward man, for if he were giuen to deuoure as a lyon, nothing were able to resist him or contend him.

[h] He is one of the chiefest workes of God among the beasts.

[i] Though man dare not come neere him, yet God can kill him.

[k] He drinketh at leasure, and feareth no body,

[l] Meaning, the whale.

[m] Because he feareth least thou shouldest take him.

[n] To doe thy businesse, and be at thy commandement?

[o] If thou once consider the danger, thou wilt not meddle with him.

[p] To wit, that trusteth to take him.

[a] If none dare stand against a whale, which is but a creature, who is able to compare with God § Creator?

[b] Who hath taught me to accomplish my worke?

[c] The parts and members of the whale.

[d] That is, who dare pull off his skinne?

[e] Who dare put a bridle in his mouth?

[f] Who dare look in his mouth?

[g] That is, casteth out flames of fire, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coales burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and [b] labour is vtterly before his face.

14 The members of his body are ioyned: they are strong in themselues, and cannot be moued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the nether milstone.

16 The mightie are afraide of his maiestie, and for feare they faint in themselues.

17 When the sword doeth touch him, hee will not rise vp, nor for the speare, dart nor habergion.

18 He esteemeth iron as straw, and hasse as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The darts are counted as straw: and he laugheth at the shaking of the speare.

21 Sharpe stones [i] are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the mire.

22 He maketh the depth to [k] boyle like a pot, & maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.

23 He maketh a path to [l] shine after him: one would thinke the depth as an hoare head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.

25 He beholdeth [m] all hie things: he is a King ouer all the children of pride.

b Nothing is painefull or hard vnto him, i Hisskin is so hard that he lieth with as great ease on the stones, as in the mire.

k Either he maketh the sea to seeme as it boiled by his wallowing, or els he spouteth water in such abundance, as it would seeme that the sea boiled.

l That is, a white froth and shining streame before him.

m He despiseth all other beasts and monsters, and is the proudest of all others.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 Hee prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are restored double vnto him. 13 His children, age, and death.

THen Iob answered the Lord, and said,

2 I knowe that thou canst doe all things, and that there is no [n] thought hid from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counsel without [o] knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstoode not, euen things too wonderfull for me, and which I knewe not.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, & I will speake: I will demaund of thee, [d] and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue [p] heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre [e] my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these words vnto Iob, the Lord also sayde vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friendes: for ye haue not spoken of mee the thing that is [q] right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you nowe seuen bullocks, and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruaunt Iob shall [r] pray for you: for I will accept him, least I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had sayd vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 Then the Lord turned the [s] captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise so much as hee had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his [t] brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, & did eate bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, and comforted him for all the euill, that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a [u] piece of money, and euery one an eare-ring of golde.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob more then the first: for he had [x] fourteene thousand sheepe, and sixe thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, & a thousand she asses.

13 Hee had also seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

14 And hee called the name of one [y] Iemimah, and the name of the second [z] Kezia, and the name of the third [a] Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundreth and fourty yeres, and saw his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.

17 So Iob died, being old, & full of dayes.

n No thought so secret, but thou doest see it, nor any thing that thou thinkest, but thou canst bring it to passe.

o Is there any but I? for this God layd to his charge, cha. 38. 2.

c I confesse herein mine ignorance, and that I spake I will not what.

d He sheweth that he will be Gods scholler to learne of him.

e I knew thee onely before by hearesay: but now thou hast caused me to feele what thou art to me, that I may resigne my selfe ouer vnto thee.

f You tooke in hand an euill cause, in that you condemned him by his outward afflictions, & not comforted him with my mercies.

g Who had a good cause, but handled it euill.

h When you haue reconciled your selues to him for the faults that you haue committed against him, hee shall pray for you, and I will heare him.

i He deliuered him out of the affliction wherein he was.

k That is, all his kindred, reade Chap. 19. 13.

p [Or, lambe, or money so marked.

l God made him twise so rich in cattell as he was afore, and gaue him as many children as he had taken from him.

m That is, of long life, or beautifull as the day.

n As pleasant as Cassia, or sweet spice.

o That is, the horne of beauty.

The * Psalmes of Dauid.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis booke of Psalmes is set foorth vnto vs by the holy Ghost, to be esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicity, aswell in this life present, as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenly wisedome are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great and high maiestie of God, heere we may see the brightnesse thereof shine most clearely. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdome, here is the schoole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bountie, and approch neere thereunto, and fill our hands with that treasure, heere wee may haue a most liuely and comfortable taste thereof. If wee would know wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life euerlasting, heere is Christ our onely Redeemer and Mediatour most cuidently described. The rich man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that will reioyce, shall knowe the true ioy, and how to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted

* Or, praises, according to the Hebrewes: and were chiefly instituted to praise and giue thanks to God for his benefits. They are called the Psalmes or Songs of Dauid, because the most part were made by him.

and oppresse I, shall see wherein standeth their comfort, and how they ought to praise God when hee sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shall see howe the hand of God is euer against them: and though hee suffer them to prosper for a while, yet hee brideleth them, in so much as they cannot touch an haire of ones head, except hee permit them, and how in the end their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here wee haue most present remedies against all temptations and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being well practised herein, we may be assured against al dangers in this life, liue in the true feare & loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of Glory, which is layed vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

PSAL. I.

Whether it was Esdras, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth hee did set this Psalme first in maner of a Preface, to exhort al godly men to study and meditate the heauenly wisdom. For the effect hereof is, 1 That they bee blessed, which giue themselues wholy al their life to the holy Scriptures: 4 And that the wicked contemners of God, though they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

a When a man hath giuen once place to euil counsel, or to his owne concupiscence, he beginneth to forget himselfe in his sinne, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the seate of the scorners. Deut.6.6.Ioſh.1.8.prou.6.20.

b In the holy Scriptures. Iere.17.8.

c Gods children are so moistened euer with his grace, that whatsoeuer commeth vnto them, tendeth to their saluation.

d Though the wicked seeme to beare the swing in this world, yet the Lorde driueth them downe that they shall not rise nor stand in the company of the righteous.

e But tremble when they feele Gods wrath.

f Doeth approue and prosper, like as not to know, is to reproue and reiect.

BLessed is the man that doeth not walke in the a counsell of the wicked, nor stande in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seate of the scornefull:

2 But his delight is in the b Law of the Lord, and in his b Lawe doeth he meditate day and night.

3 For he shall be like a c tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring forthher fruit in due season: whose leafe shal not fade: so c whatsoeuer he shall do, shall prosper.

4 d The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stande in the e iudgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lord f knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

PSAL. II.

1 The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God wil cõtinue his kingdom for euer, and aduance it euen to the ende of the world, 10 and therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselues vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Herein is figured Christes kingdome.

a The conspiracie of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the Iewes, and power of Kings cannot preuaile against Christ. Act.4.25.

Or, anointed.

b Thus the wicked say, that they will cast off the yoke of God, and of his Christ. Pro.1.26.

c Gods plagues will declare that in resisting his Christ, they fought against him.

WHy doe the a Heathen * rage, and the people murmure in vaine?

2 The Kings of the earth band themselues, & the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his ‖ Christ.

3 b Let vs breake their bandes, and cast their cords from vs.

4 *But he that dwelleth in the heauen, shal laugh: the Lord shall haue them in derision.

5 Then shal he speake vnto them in his wrath, & vexe them in his sore displeasure, saying,

6 Euen I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

7 I will declare the d decree: that is, the Lord hath sayd vnto mee, * Thou art my Sonne: this e day haue I begotten thee.

8 Aske of me, & I shal giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the f endes of the earth for thy possession.

9 * Thou shalt crush them with a sceptre of yron, and breake them in pieces like a potters vessell.

10 g Be wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare, & reioyce in trembling.

12 h Kisse the sonne, least he be angry, & ye i perish in the way, when his wrath shal suddenly burne: blessed are all that trust in him.

d To shew that my vocation to the kingdome is of God. Act.13.33. hebr.1.5.

c That is to say, as touching mans knowledge, because it was the first time that Dauid appeared to be elected of God. So it is applied to Christ in his first comming and manifestation to the Gentiles also.

on to the world.

f Not onely the Iewes, but Reuel.2.27.

g Hee exhorteth all rulers to repent in time.

h In signe of homage.

i When the wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to be but in the midde way of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come, 1.Thes.5.3.

PSAL. III.

1 Dauid driuen forth of his kingdome, was greatly tormented in minde for his sinnes against God: 4 And therefore calleth vpon God, and waxeth bolde through his promises against the great raisings and terrors of his enemies, yea against death it selfe, which he saw present before his eyes. 7 Finally, he reioyceth for the good successe that God gaue him, and all the Church.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

LOrd, how are mine aduersaries a increased? how many rise against me?

2 Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God. b Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for mee: my glory, and the lifter vp of mine head.

4 I did cal vnto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

5 I layd me downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord sustened me.

6 I wil not be afraid for c ten thousand of the people, that should beset me rounde about.

7 O Lord, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 d Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

a This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recourse to God.

b Selah here signifieth a lifting vp of the voice, to cause vs to consider the sentence as a thing of great importance.

c When he considered the trueth of Gods promise, and tried the same, his faith increased marueilously.

d Be the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God hath euer meanes to deliuer his.

PSAL. IIII.

1 When Saul persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, & therefore boldly reprooueth his enemies, who wilfully refished his dominion, 7 and finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

¶ To

a Among them that were appointed to ſing the Pſalmes, and to play on the inſtruments, one was appointed chiefe to ſet the tune, and to begin: who had the charge becauſe he was moſt excellent, and he beganne this Pſalme on the inſtrument called Negnoth, or in a tune ſo called.
b Thou that art the defender of my iuſt cauſe.
c Both of minde and body.
d Ye that thinke your ſelues noble in this world.
e Though your enterpriſes pleaſe you neuer ſo much, yet God will bring them to nought.
f A King that walketh in his vocation.
g For feare of Gods iudgements.
h Ceaſe your rage.
i Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies.
k The multitude ſeeke worldly wealth, but Dauid ſetteth his felicitie in Gods fauour.
l This worde in Ebrew may bee referred to God, as it is here tranſlated, or to Dauid, ſignifying, that he ſhould dwell as ioyfully alone, as if he had many about him, becauſe the Lord is with him.

To him that excelleth on Negnoth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

HEare mee when I call, b O God of my righteouſneſſe: thou haſt ſet me at libertie, when I was c in diſtreſſe: haue mercy vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O ye d ſonnes of men, how long will ye turne my glory into ſhame, e louing vanitie, and ſeeking lyes? Selah.

3 For be ye ſure that the Lord hath choſen to himſelfe f a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.

4 g Tremble, and ſinne not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be h ſtil. Selah.

5 i Offer the ſacrifices of righteouſneſſe, and truſt in the Lord.

6 Many ſay, Who will ſhewe vs any k good? but Lorde, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

1 When Dauid by his ſinnes had prouoked Gods wrath, and now felt not onely his hand againſt him, but alſo conceiued the horrors of death euerlaſting, he deſireth forgiuenes, 6 Bewayling that if God tooke him away in his indignation, hee ſhould lacke occaſion to praiſe him as he was wont to doe, whileſt he was among men. 9 Then ſuddenly feeling Gods mercie, he ſharpely rebuketh his enemies, which reioyced in his affliction.

PSAL. VIII.

1 The Prophet considering the excellent liberalitie and fatherly prouidence of God towards man, whom he made as it were a god ouer all his workes, doeth not onely giue great thankes, but is astonished with the admiration of the same, as one nothing able to compasse such great mercies.

5 For thou hast made him a little lower then c God, and crowned him with glory and worship.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the workes of thine hands: thou hast put all things vnder his feete:

7 All d sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beastes of the field:

2 I will be glad, and reioyce in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O most high,

3 For that mine enemies are turned backe: they shall fall, and perish at thy presence.

4 For b thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in the throne, and iudgest right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 c O enemie, destructions are come to a perpetuall ende, and thou hast destroyed the cities: their memoriall is perished with them.

PSAL. X.

1 He complaineth of the fraud, rapine, tyrannie, and all kinds of wrong, which worldly men vse, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldly prosperitie, and therefore setting apart all feare and reuerence towards God, thinke they may doe all things without controlling.
15 Therefore he calleth vpon God to send some remedie against these desperate euils, 16 and at length comforteth himselfe with hope of deliuerance.

a So soone as we enter into affliction, we thinke God should helpe vs, but that is not alwayes his due time.
b The wicked man reioyceth in his owne lust: he boasteth when he hath that he would: he braggeth of his wit & wealth, & blesseth himselfe, and thus blasphemeth the Lord.

g Therefore thou must needes punish this their blasphemie.

WHy standest thou farre off, O Lord, and hidest thee in a due time, euen in affliction?
2 The wicked with pride doth persecute the poore: let them be taken in the crafts that they haue imagined.
3 For the wicked hath b made boast of his owne hearts desire, and the couetous blesseth himselfe: he contemneth the Lord.
4 The wicked is so proud that he seeketh not for God: he thinketh alwayes, There is no God.
5 His wayes alway prosper: thy iudgements are high aboue his sight: therefore disdeth he all his enemies.
6 He sayeth in his heart, I shall ‖never be moued, c for I be in danger.
7 His mouth is full of cursing, and deceit, and fraud: vnder his tongue is mischefe and iniquitie.
8 d He lieth in wait in the villages: in the secret places doth he murther the innocent: his eyes are bent against the poore.
9 He lieth in waite secretly, euen as a lion in his den: hee lieth in waite to spoyle the poore: hee doeth spoyle the poore, when hee draweth him into his net.
10 Hee croucheth and boweth: therefore heapes of the poore doe fall by his might.
11 He hath sayd in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth away his face, and will neuer see.
12 e Arise, O Lord God: lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.
13 Wherefore doeth the wicked contemne God? he saieth in his heart, Thou wilt not s regard.
14 Yee thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest mischiefe and wrong, that thou mayest h take it into thine hands: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherlesse.
15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: search his wickednesse, and thou shalt finde i none.
16 The Lord is King for euer and euer: the k heathen are destroyed foorth of his land.
17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart: thou bendest thine eare to them, 18 l To iudge the fatherlesse and poore, that earthly man ‖ cause to feare no more.

i For thou hast vtterly destroyed him.
k The hypocrites, or such as liue not after Gods Law, shalbe destroyed.
l God helpeth when mans helpe ceaseth.
‖Or, destroy no more man vpon the earth.

PSAL. XI.

1 This Psalme containeth two parts. In the first Dauid sheweth how hard assaults of tentations he sustained; and in how great anguish of minde he was when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next he reioyceth that God sent him succour in his necessitie, declaring his iustice as well in gouerning the good, and the wicked men, as the whole world.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

IN the Lord I put my trust: howe say yee then to my soule, a Flee to your mountaine as a bird?
2 For loe, the wicked bend their bow, and make ready their arrowes vpon the string, that they may secretly shoote at them, which are vpright in heart.
3 For the b foundations are cast downe: what hath the c righteous done?
4 The Lord is in his holy palace: the Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes d will consider: his eye lids will trie the children of men.
5 The Lord will trie the righteous: but the wicked and him that loueth iniquitie, doeth his soule hate.
6 Vpon the wicked he shall raine snares, e fire, and brimstone, and stormie tempest: this is the f portion of their cup.
7 For the righteous Lord loueth righteousnesse: his countenance doeth behold the iust.

a This is the wicked counsell of his enemies to him and his companions, to driue him from the hope of Gods promise.
b All hope of succour is taken away.
c Yet am I innocent and my cause good.
d Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God will execute iudgement from heauen.
e As in the destruction of Sodome and Gomorrha.
f Which they shall drinke euen to the dregs. Ezek. 23. 34.

PSAL. XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succour to his children. 7 Then comforting himselfe and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, hee commendeth the constant veritie that God obserueth in keeping his promises.

To him that excelleth vpon the eight: tune. A Psalme of Dauid.

HElpe Lord, for there is not a a godly man left: for the faithfull are failed from among the children of men.
2 They speake deceitfully euery one with his neighbour, b flattering with their lips, and speake with a double heart.
3 The Lord cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:

a Which dare defend the truth, and shew mercy to the oppressed.
b He meaneth by flatterers of the court, which harm him more with their tongues then with their weapons.

e They thinke themselues able to perswade whatsoeuer they take in hand.
d The Lord is moued with the complaints of his, & deliuereth in the ende from all dangers.
e Because the Lords word and promise is true & vnchangeable, he will performe it.

4 Which haue sayd, e With our tongue will wee preuaile: our lips are our owne: who is Lord ouer vs?
5 d Now for the oppression of the needie, and for the sighs of the poore, I will vp, saith the LORD, and will e set at libertie him, whom the wicked hath snared.
6 The words of the LORD are pure words, as the siluer, tried in a fornace of earth, fined seuen fold.
7 Thou wilt keep them, O LORD: thou wilt preserue him from this generation for euer.
8 The wicked walke on euery side: when they are exalted, g it is a shame for the sonnes of men.

f That is, thine, though he were but one man. g For they suppresse the godly, and maintaine the wicked.

PSAL. XIII.

1 Dauid as it were ouercome with sundry & new afflictions, fleeth to God as his onely refuge, 3 and so at the length being encouraged through Gods promises, he conceiueth most sure confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

a He declareth that his afflictions lasted a long time, and that his faith fainted not.
b Changing my purpose as the sicke man doth his place.
c Which might turn to Gods dishonour, if he did not defend his.
d The mercy of God is the cause of our saluation.
e Both by the benefits past, and by others to come.

HOw long wilt thou forget me, O LORD, a for euer? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?
2 How long shall I take b counsell with in my selfe, hauing wearinesse daily in mine heart? how long shall mine enemie be exalted aboue me?
3 Beholde, and heare mee, O LORD my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death:
4 Lest mine enemie say, I haue c preuailed against him: and they that afflict me, reioyce when I slide.
5 But I trust in thy d mercy: mine heart shall reioyce in thy saluation: I will sing to the LORD, because he hath e dealt louingly with me.

PSAL. XIIII.

1 Hee describeth the peruerse nature of men, which were so growen to licentiousnesse, that God was brought to vtter contempt. 7 For the which thing although he was greatly grieued, yet being perswaded that God would send some present remedie, hee comforteth himselfe and others.

Psal 53.1.
a He sheweth that the cause of all wickednesse is to forget God.
b There is nothing but disorder and wickednesse among them.
c Dauid heere maketh comparison betweene the faithfull and the reprobate: but S. Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3. 10.

THe a foole hath said in his heart, a There is no God: they haue b corrupted, and done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.
2 The LORD looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke God.
3 c All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.
4 Doe not all the workers of iniquitie knowe that they eate vp my people, as they eate bread? they call not vpon the LORD.
5 d There they shall be taken with feare, because God is in the generation of the iust.
6 Ye haue made a mocke at the counsell of the poore, because the LORD is his trust.

Psalmes, the 59. of the Prophet Esaiah, and the 36. Psalme, and are alledged by S. Paul, and placed together in the 3. to the Romans.*

PSAL. XV.

1 This Psalme teacheth on what condition God did chuse the Iewes for his peculiar people, and wherefore hee placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing vprightly and godly, might witnesse that they were his speciall and holy people.

A Psalme of Dauid.

LOrd, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thine holy mountaine?
2 He that a walketh vprightly and worketh righteousnesse, and speaketh the truth in his heart.
3 Hee that slaundereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiueth a false report against his neighbour.
4 b In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoureth them that feare the LORD: hee that sweareth to his owne hinderance and changeth not.
5 Hee that c giueth not his money vnto vsurie, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doeth these things, d shall neuer bee moued.

a First God requireth vprightnesse of life, next doing well to others, and thirdly trueth and simplicity in our words.
b He that flattereth not the vngodly in their wickednesse.
c To the hinderance of his neighbour.
d That is, shall not be cast forth of the Church as hypocrites.

PSAL. XVI.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Pſalme is the firſt beginning of his gratulation, & thankſgiuing in the entring into his kingdome, wherein he extolleth and prayſeth moſt highly the marueilous mercies and graces of God, who hath thus preſerued and defended him. 32 Alſo hee ſeteth foorth the image of Chriſtes kingdome, that the faithfull may bee aſſured that Chriſt ſhall alwayes conquere and ouercome by the vnſpeakable power of his Father, though all the whole world ſhould ſtriue there-againſt.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid the ſeruant of the Lord, which ſpake vnto the Lord the wordes of this ſong (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, & from the hand of Saul) and ſayd,

I Will loue thee dearely, O Lorde my ſtrength.
2 a The Lord is my rocke, and my fortreſſe, and he that deliuereth mee, my God and my ſtrength: in him will I truſt, my ſhield, the horne alſo of my ſaluation, and my refuge.
3 I will call vpon the Lorde, which is worthy to be b prayſed: ſo ſhal I be ſafe from mine enemies.
4 The c ſorowes of death compaſſed me, and the floods of wickednes made mee afraid.
5 The ‖ ſorowes of the graue haue compaſſed mee about: the ſnares of death ouertooke me.
6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, & my cry did come before him, euen into his eares.
7 d Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations alſo of the mountaines moued and ſhooke, becauſe hee was angry.
8 Smoke went out at his noſtrels, and a e conſuming fire out of his mouth: coales were kindled thereat.
9 Hee bowed the heauens alſo and came downe, and f darkeneſſe was vnder his feete.
10 And he rode vpon g Cherub and did flie, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.
11 Hee made darkneſſe his h ſecret place, and his pauilion round about him, euen darkneſſe of waters, and cloudes of the ayre.
12 At the brightneſſe of his preſence his cloudes paſſed, haillſtones and coales of fire.
13 The Lord alſo thundred in the heauen, and the Higheſt gaue i his voyce, haillſtones and coales of fire.
14 Then hee ſent out k his arrowes and ſcattered them, and he increaſed lightenings and deſtroyed them.

a He vſeth this diuerſitie of names to ſhew that as the wicked haue many meanes to hurt, ſo God hath many wayes to helpe.
b For none can obtaine their requeſts of God, that ioyne not his glory with their petition.
c He ſpeaketh of the dangers and malice of his enemies, from the which God had deliuered him.
‖ Or, cordes, or, cables.
d A deſcription of the wrath of God againſt his enemies after he had heard his prayers.
e He ſheweth how horrible Gods iudgements ſhall be to the wicked.
f Darkeneſſe ſignifieth the wrath of God, as the cleare light ſignifieth Gods fauour.
g This is deſcribed at large, Pſal. 104.
h As a King angry with the people, wil not ſhew himſelfe vnto them.
i Thundred, lightned, & hailed.
k His lightnings.

15 And

15 And the chanels of waters were seene, and the [l] foundations of the world were discouered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrels.

16 He hath sent downe from aboue, and taken me: hee hath drawen me out of many [m] waters.

17 He hath deliuered me from my [n] strong enemie, and from them which hate me: for they were [o] too strong for me.

18 They preuented me in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He brought me foorth also into a large place: [p] he deliuered me, because he fauoured me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my [q] righteousnesse: according to the pureness of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his lawes were before me, and I did not cast away his [r] commandements from me.

23 I was vpright also with him, & haue kept me from my [s] wickednesse.

24. Therefore the Lord rewarded me according to my righteousnes, & according to the pureness of mine hands in his sight.

25 With the [t] godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thy self pure, and with the froward thou wilt shew thy selfe froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt [u] cast downe the proud lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenesse.

29 For by thee I haue [x] broken through an host, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The way of God is vncorrupt: the [y] word of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For whois God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my [z] way vpright.

33 He maketh my feete like Hindes feete, and setteth me vpon mine [a] high places.

34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of [b]steele is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giuen me the [b] shield of thy saluation, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy [c] louing kindnes hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and mine heeles haue not slid.

37 [d] I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallē vnder my feet.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battell: them, that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast [e] giuen mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They [f] cryed, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beate them small as the dust before the wind: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the [g] heathen: a people, whom I haue not [h] known, shall serue me.

44 As soone as they heare, they shal obey me: the strangers shall [i] bee in subiection to me.

45 Strangers shall [k] shrinke away, and feare in their priuie chambers.

46 Let the Lord liue, and blessed be my strength, and the God of my saluation bee exalted.

47 It is God that giueth me power to auenge me, & subdueth the people vnder me.

48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast set me vp from them, that rose against me: thou hast deliuered me from the [l] cruell man.

49 Therefore [m] I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.

50 Great deliuerances giueth he vnto his king, and sheweth mercy to his anointed, euen to Dauid, and to his [n] seede for euer.

l That is, the deepe bottoms were seene, when the red sea was diuided.
m Out of sundry and great dangers.
n To wit, Saul.
o Therefore God sent me succour.
p The cause of Gods deliuerance is his onely fauour and loue to vs.
q Dauid was sure of his righteous cause and good behauiour toward Saul and his enemies, and therefore was assured of Gods fauour and deliuerance.
r For all his dangers he exercised himselfe in the Law of God.

u When their sinne is come to the full measure.
x He attributeth it to God, that he both gaue the victorie in the field, and also destroyed the cities of his enemies.
y Be the dangers neuer so many or great, yet Gods promise must take effect.
z Hee giueth good successe to all mine enterprises.

b To defend me from dangers.
c He attributeth the beginning, continuance and increase in well doing onely to Gods fauour.
d Dauid declareth that he did nothing besides his vocation, but was stirred vp by Gods Spirit to execute his iudgements.
e Thou hast giuen them into mine hands to be slaine.
f They that reiect the crie of the afflicted, God will also reiect them, when they crie for helpe: for either paine or feare cause those hypocrites to crie.
g Which dwell round about me.
h The kingdome of Christ is in Dauids kingdome prefigured: who by the preaching of his worde bringeth all to his subiection.
i Or, lie: signifying a subiection constrained and not voluntarie.
k Feare shal cause them to be afraid and come forth of their secret holes and holdes to seeke pardon.
l That is, Saul who of malice persecuted him.
m This prophecie appertaineth to the kingdome of Christ, and vocation of the Gentiles, as Rom. 15. 9.
n This did not properly appertaine to Salomon, but to Iesus Christ.

PSAL. XIX.

1 To the intent hee might moue the faithfull to a deeper consideration of Gods glory, hee setteth before their eyes the most exquisite workemanship of the heauens with their proportion, and ornaments: 8 And afterward calleth them to the Law, wherein God hath reuealed himselfe more familiarly to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law, he setteth forth more at large.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe [a] heauens declare the glory of God, and the firmament shewth the worke of his hands.

2 [b] Day vnto day vttereth the same, and night vnto night teacheth knowledge.

3 There is no speach nor [c] language, where their voyce is not heard.

4 Their [d] line is gone forth through all the earth, and their words into the ends of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.

a He reprocheth vnto man his ingratitude, seeing the heauens, which are dumbe creatures, set foorth Gods glory.
b The continuall succesle of the day and night is sufficient to declare Gods power and goodnesse.
c The heauens are a Schoolemaster to all nations, be they neuer so barbarous.
d The heauens are as a line of great capitall letters to shew vnto vs Gods glory.
e Or, vaile. The maner was, that the bride and bridegrome should stand vnder a vaile together, and after come forth with great solemnitie, and reioycing of the assembly.

a mightie man to runne his race.

6 His going out is from the ende of the heauen, and his compaſſe is vnto the endes of the ſame, and none is hid from the heate thereof.

f Though the creatures cannot ſerue, yet this ought to be ſufficient to leade vs vnto him.

7 The f Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the ſoule: the teſtimonie of the Lord is ſure, & giueth wiſedome vnto the ſimple.

8 The ſtatutes of the Lord are right, and reioyce the heart: the commandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

g So that all mans inuentions & intentions are lies.

9 The feare of the Lorde is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are g truth: they are righteous h altogether, h Euery one without exception.

10 And more to be i deſired then gold, yea, then much fine gold: ſweeter alſo then honie and the honie combe.

i Except Gods word be eſteemed aboue all worldly things, it is contemned.

11 Moreouer by them is thy ſeruaunt made circumſpect, and in keeping of them there is great k reward.

k For God accepteth our indeuour, though it be farre vnperfect.

12 l Who can vnderſtande his faultes? cleanſe me from ſecret faults.

l Then there is no reward of duetie, but of grace: for where ſinne is, there death is the reward.

13 Keepe thy ſeruant alſo from m preſumptuous ſinnes: let them not reigne ouer mee: ſo ſhal I be vpright, and made cleane from much wickednes.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

a Hereby kings are alſo admoniſhed to call to God in their affaires.

THe a Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the b Name of the God of Iaakob defend thee:

b The vertue, power, and grace of God.

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary, and ſtrengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and c turne thy burnt offerings into aſhes. Selah:

c In token that they are acceptable vnto him.

4 And grant thee accor ding to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpoſe:

5 That we may reioyce in thy d ſaluation, and ſet vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord ſhall performe all thy petitions.

d Granted to the king, in whoſe wealth our felicitie ſtandeth.

6 Now e knowe I that the Lord will helpe his anoynted, and will heare him from his f Sanctuarie by the mighty helpe of his right hand.

e The Church feeleth that God hath heard their petition.

7 Some truſt in chariots, and ſome in horſes: but we will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

f As by the viſible Sanctuarie Gods familiaritie appeared toward his people, ſo by the heauenly is meant his power and maieſtie.

c Dauid did not only obteine life but alſo aſſurance that his poſteritie ſhould reigne for euer.

4 c He aſked life of thee, and thou gaueſt him a long life for euer and euer.

5 His glory is great in thy ſaluation: dignitie and honour haſt thou laid vpon him.

d Thou haſt made him thy bleſſings to others, and a perpetuall example of thy fauour for euer.

6 For thou haſt ſet him as d bleſſings for euer: thou haſt made him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

e Here he deſcribeth the power of Chriſtes kingdom, againſt the enemies thereof.

7 Becauſe the king truſteth in the Lord, and in the mercy of the moſt High, hee ſhall not ſlide.

f This teacheth vs patiently to endure the croſſe till God deſtroy the aduerſarie.

8 e Thine hand ſhall finde out all thine enemies, and thy right hand ſhall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou ſhalt make them like a fierie ouen in time of thine anger: the Lord ſhall deſtroy them in his f wrath, and the fire ſhal deuoure them.

g They layde as it were their nets to make Gods power to giue place to their wicked enterpriſes.

10 Their fruite ſhalt thou deſtroy from the earth, and their ſeede from the children of men.

11 For they g intended euil againſt thee, and imagined miſchiefe, but they ſhall not preuaile.

12 Therefore ſhalt thou put them h apart, and the ſtrings of thy bowe ſhalt thou make ready againſt their faces.

i Mainteine thy Church againſt thine aduerſaries, that we may haue ample occaſion to praiſe thy Name.

PSAL. XXII.

1 Dauid complained becauſe he was brought into ſuch extremities, that he was paſt all hope: but after he had rehearſed the ſorowes and griefes wherewith he was vexed, 10 He couereth himſelfe from the bottomleſſe pit of tentations, and groweth in hope. And here vnder his owne perſon he ſitteth forth the figure of Chriſt, whom he did foreſee by the Spirit of prophecie, that he ſhould marueilouſly and ſtrangely be deiected, and abaſed, before his Father ſhould raiſe and exalt him againe.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

a I put not my trust in any worldly thing.

c Retaine me in the faith of thy promise, that I swarue not on any side.

4 c Shew me thy wayes, O Lorde, and teach me thy pathes.
5 Lead me forth in thy trueth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee doe I trust d all the day.
6 Remember, O Lorde, thy tender mercies, and thy louing kindnesse: for they haue bene for euer.
7 Remember not the e sinnes of my youth, nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindnesse remember thou mee, euen for thy goodnesse sake, O Lord.
8 Gracious and righteous is the Lorde: therefore will hee f teach sinners in the way.
9 Them that bee meeke, will hee guide in iudgement, and teach the humble his way.
10 All the pathes of the Lorde are mercie and trueth vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.
11 For thy h Names sake, O Lorde, bee mercifull vnto mine iniquitie, for it is great.
12 What i man is hee that feareth the Lord? him will he teach the way that he shall k chuse.
13 His soule shall dwell l at ease, and his seed shall inherite the land.
14 The m secret of the Lord is reuealed to them that feare him: & his couenant to giue them vnderstanding.
15 Mine eyes are euer toward the Lorde: for he will bring my feete out of the net.
16 Turne thy face vnto mee, & haue mercy vpon me: for I am desolate and poore.
17 The sorowes of mine heart n are enlarged: draw me out of my troubles.
18 Looke vpon mine affliction & my trauell, and forgiue all my sinnes.
19 Behold mine o enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruel hatred.
20 Keepe my soule, and deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I trust in thee.
21 Let p mine vprightnes and equitie preserue me: for mine hope is in thee.
22 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

f That is, call them to repentance. g He will gouerne and comfort them that are truly humbled for their sinnes.
h And for none other respect.
i Meaning, the number is very small.
k He will direct such with his spirit to follow the right way.
l He shal prosper both in spirituall and corporall things.
m His counsell contained in his word, whereby hee declareth that he is the protector of the faithfull.
n My griefe is increased because of mine enemies cruelty.
o The greater that his afflictions were, and the more that his enemies increased, the more neere felt hee Gods helpe.
p Forasmuch as I haue behaued my selfe vprightly toward mine enemies: let them knowe that thou art the defender of my iust cause.

PSAL. XXVI.

1 David oppressed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for aide from God, & assureth of his integritie toward Saul, desireth God to bee his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. 6 Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to bee in the company of the faithful in the Congregation of God, whence hee was banished by Saul, promising integritie of life, and open prayses and thanksgiuing.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

a He fleeth to God to be the Iudge of his iust cause, seeing there is no equitie among men.
b My very affections and inward motions of the heart.
c He sheweth what stayed him, that hee did not recompense euill for euill.
d He declareth that they cannot walke in simplicitie before God, that delight in the companie of the vngodly.

IVdge me, a O Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath beene also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide.
2 Proue me, O Lord, and trie me: examine my b reines, and mine heart.
3 For thy c louing kindnesse is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy trueth.
4 I haue not d hanted with vaine persons, neither kept company with the dissemblers.
5 I haue hated the assembly of the euill, and haue not companied with the wicked.
6 I will e wash mine hands in innocencie, O Lord, and compasse thine altar,
7 That I may declare with the voice of thanksgiuing, and set forth all thy wonderous works.
8 O Lord, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.
9 f Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloody men:

e I will serue thee with a pure affection, and with the godly that sacrifice vnto thee. f Destroy mee not in the ouerthrow of the wicked.

g Whose cruell hands do execute the malicious deuises of their hearts.
h I am preserued from mine enemies by the power of God, and therefore will prayse him openly.

10 In whose hands is g wickednesse, and their right hand is full of bribes.
11 But I will walke in mine innocencie: redeeme me therefore, and be mercifull vnto me.
12 My foote standeth in h vprightnesse: I will prayse thee, O Lord, in the Congregations.

PSAL. XXVII.

1 Dauid maketh this Psalme being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the prayses and thanksgiuing annexed: 6 Wherein wee may see the constant faith of Dauid against the assaults of all his enemies, 7 And also the end wherefore hee desireth to liue and to bee deliuered, euen ly to worship God in his Congregation.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

a Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers, and that his saluation was surely layd vp in God, he feared not the tyrannie of his enemies.
b That God will deliuer me, and giue my faith the victory.
c The losse of countrey, wife, and all worldly commodities grieue me not in respect of this one thing, that I may not prayse thy name in the midst of the congregation.
d Dauid assured himselfe by the Spirite of prophesie, that hee should ouercome his enemies and serue God in his Tabernacle.
e He groundeth vpon Gods promise, and sheweth that he is most willing to obey his commandement.
f He magnifieth Gods loue towards his, which farre passeth the most tender loue of parents towards their children.
g But either pacifie their wrath, or bridle their rage. h In this present life before I die, as Isa. 38. 11. i Hee exhorteth himselfe to depend on the Lord, seeing he neuer failed in his promises.

THe Lord is my a light and my saluation, whome shall I feare? the Lorde is the strength of my life, of whome shall I bee a-frayd?
2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon mee to eate vp my flesh, they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an hoste pitched against me, mine heart should not bee afrayd: though warre be raysed against me, I will trust in b this.
4 c One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lorde all the dayes of my life, to beholde the beauty of the Lord, and to visite his temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his Tabernacle: in the secret place of his pauilion shall he hide me, and set mee vp vpon a rocke.
6 d And now shall bee lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioy: I will sing and prayse the Lord.
7 Hearken vnto my voice, O Lord, when I cry: haue mercy also vpon mee and heare me.
8 When thou saydest, e Seeke yee my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I will seeke thy face.
9 Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast beene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.
10 f Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet the Lord will gather me vp.
11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a right path, because of mine enemies.
12 Giue mee not vnto the g lust of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against me, & such as speake cruelly.
13 I should haue fainted, except I had beleeued to see the goodnes of the h Lord in the land of the liuing.
14 i Hope in the Lord: be strong, and he shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 Being in great feare and heauines of heart to see God dishonoured by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them, 4 And crieth for vengeance against them: & at length assureth himselfe, that God hath heard his prayer, 9 Vnto whose tuition he commendeth all the faithfull.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

a He counteth himselfe as a dead mā, til God shew his fauour toward him, and grant him his petition.
b He vsed this outward meanes to help his weakenesse of his faith: for in the first place was the Arke, & there God promised to shew the tokens of his fauour.
c Destroy not the good with the bad.
d He thus prayeth in respect of Gods glory, and not for his owne cause, being assured that God would punish the persecuters of his Church.
e Let them bee vtterly destroied.

VNto thee, O Lorde, doe I crie: O my strength, be not deafe toward me, least, if thou answere me not, I be like them that goe downe into the pit.
2 Heare the voice of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, whē I hold vp mine hands toward thine b holy Oracle.
3 c Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.
4 d Reward them according to their deedes, and according to the wickednesse of their inuentions: recompense them after the worke of their handes: render them their reward.
5 For they regard not the workes of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore e breake them downe, and build them not vp.
6 f Blessed be the Lord, for he hath heard the voyce of my petitions.
7 The Lord is my strength, & my shield: mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my song will I prayse him.
8 The Lord is their strength, & he is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.
9 Saue thy people, & blesse thine inheritance: feed them also, & exalt them for euer.

f Because hee felt the assurance of Gods helpe in his heart, his mouth was opened to sing his prayses. g Meaning, his souldiers, who were as meanes, by whom God declared his power.

PSAL. XXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world, (which for the most part thinke there is no God) 3 As the least to feare him for the thunders and tempests, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threateneth sinners, yet is he alwayes mercifull to his, & moueth them thereby to prayse his Name.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

a He exhorteth the proud tyrants to humble themselues vnder Gods hand, and not to be inferiour to brute beasts and dumbe creatures.
b The thunderclaps that are heard out of the cloudes ought to make the wicked to tremble for feare of Gods anger.
c That is, the thunderbolt breaketh the most strong trees, and shall men thinke their power to be able to resist God? d Called also Hermon.

GIue vnto the Lord, ye sonnes of the mightie: giue vnto the Lord glory & strength.
2 Giue vnto the Lord glory due vnto his Name: worship the Lorde in the glorious Sanctuary.
3 The b voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder: the Lord is vpon the great waters.
4 The voyce of the Lord is mighty: the voyce of the Lord is glorious.
5 The c voice of the Lorde breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.
6 He maketh them also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also & d Sirion like a young Unicorne.
7 The voyce of the Lorde diuideth the e It causeth the lightnings to shoote and glide. f In places most desolate, where as seemeth there is no presence of God.

g For feare maketh them to cast their calues. h Maketh the trees bare, or pierceth the most secret places. i Though the wicked are nothing mooued with these sights, yet the faithfull prayse God. k To moderate the rage of the tempest and water, that they destroy not all.

e flames of fire.

8 The voyce of the Lord maketh the wildernesse to tremble: the Lorde maketh the wildernesse of f Kadesh to tremble.

9 The voyce of the Lorde maketh the hindes to g calue, and h discouereth the forests: therefore in his i Temple doeth euery man speake of his glory.

10 The Lord sitteth vpon the k flood, and the Lord doeth remaine King for euer.

11 The Lord shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lord shall blesse his people with peace.

PSAL. XXX.

1 When Dauid was deliuered from great danger, hee rendred thanks to God, exhorting others to doe the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then seuere and rigorous towards his children. 7 And also that the fall from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. 8 This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to prayse God for euer.

2. Sam. 7. 2. Deut. 20. 5.

a After that Absalom had polluted it with most filthy fornicatiõ. b He condemneth them of great ingratitude, which doe not prayse God for his benefites. c Restored from the rebellion of Absalom. d Meaning, that he escaped death most narrowly. e The word signifieth them that haue receiued mercie, and shew mercy liberally vnto others. f Before his tabernacle.

Psal. 145. 8. Ier. 5. 3. 2. cor. 4. 17.

g I put too much confidence in my quiet state, as Ier. 31. 18. 2. chron. 32. 24, 25.

h I thought thou hadst established me in Zion most surely. i After that thou hadst withdrawen thine helpe, I felt my misery. k Dauid meaneth that the dead are not profitable to the Congregation of the Lord heare in earth: therefore he would liue to prayse his Name, which is the end of mans creation. l Because thou hast preserued me, that my tongue should prayse thee, I will not bee vnmindfull of my duetie.

A Psalme or song of the a dedication of the b house of Dauid.

I Will magnifie thee, O Lorde: b for thou hast exalted mee, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou hast c restored me.

3 O Lorde, thou hast brought vp my d soule out of the graue, thou hast reuiued me from them that goe downe into the pit.

4 Sing prayses vnto the Lord, yee e his Saints, and giue thankes f before the remembrance of his Holinesse.

5 g For he endureth but a while in his anger: but in his fauour is life: weeping may abide at euening, but ioy commeth in the morning.

6 And in my h prosperitie I sayd, I shall neuer be mooued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnesse haddest made my k mountaine to stande strong: but thou diddest hide thy face, and I l was troubled.

8 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lorde, and prayed vnto my Lord.

9 What profite is there in my blood, when I goe downe to the pit? shall the dust k giue thankes vnto thee? or shall it declare thy trueth?

10 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercy vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioy: thou hast loosed my sacke and girded me with gladnesse.

12 Therefore shall my tongue prayse thee and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue thankes vnto thee for euer.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 Dauid deliuered from some great danger, first reherseth what meditation hee had by the praysing of faith, when death was before his eies, his enemy being ready to take him. 15 Then he affirmeth that the succor of God is alwayes ready to those that feare him. 20 Finally, he exhorteth all the faithfull to trust in God, and to loue him, because he preserueth and strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

I N thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy a righteousnesse.

2 Bowe downe thine eare to me: make haste to deliuer me: be vnto mee a strong rocke, and an house of defence to saue me.

3 For thou art my rock and my fortresse: therefore for thy Names sake direct me and guide me.

4 Plucke mee out of the b net, that they haue laied priuily for mee: for thou art my strength.

5 Into thine c hand I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

6 I haue hated them that giue themselues to deceitfull vanities: for I d trust in the Lord.

7 I will be glad and reioice in thy mercy: for thou hast seene my trouble: thou hast knowen my soule in aduersities,

8 And thou hast not shut me vp in e hand of the enemie, but hast set my feete at f large.

9 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine g eye, my soule and my belly are consumed with griefe.

10 For my life is wasted with heauinesse, and my yeeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my paine, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a h reproch among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, i who seeing me in the streete, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am like a broken vessell.

13 For I haue heard the railing of k great men: feare was on euery side, while they conspired together against me, and consulted to take my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, l Thou art my God.

15 My m times are in thine hand: deliuer mee from the hande of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make thy face to shine vpon thy seruant, and saue me through thy mercy.

17 Let me not be confounded, O Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked bee put to confusion, & n to silence in the graue.

18 Let the lying lippes bee made dumbe which cruelly, proudly, and spitefully speake against the righteous.

19 How great is thy goodnesse, which thou o hast layd vp for them, that feare thee, and done to them that trust in thee, euen before the sonnes of men!

Psal. 71. 1.

a For then God declareth himself iust, when he preserueth his according as hee hath promised. b Preserue me from the craftie counsels and subtill practises of mine enemies. c He desireth God not onely to take care for him in this life, but that his soule may be saued after this life. d This affection ought to be in all Godschildren, to hate whatsoeuer thing is not grounded vpon a sure trust in God, as deceitfull and vaine. e Largenesse signifieth comfort, as straitnesse, sorowe and perill. f Meaning, that his sorowe and torment had continued a great while. g Mine enemies had drawen all men to their part against me, euen my chiefe friends. h They were afraide to shewe me any token of friendship. i They that were in authoritie, condemned me as a wicked doer. k I had this testimonie of conscience, that thou wouldest defend mine innocencie. l Whatsoeuer changes come, thou gouernest them by thy prouidence. m Let death destroy them, to the intent that they may hurte no more. n Gods mercy are alwaies layd vp in store for his children, albeitat all times they doe not enioy them,

o That is, in a place where they shall haue thy comfort, and be hid safely frō the enemies pride.

p Meaning, there was no citie so strong to preserue him, as the defence of Gods fauour.

q And so by my rashnesse and infidelitie deserued to haue bene forsaken. ‖ Or, yee that feele his mercies.

r Be constant in your vocation, and God will confirme you with heauenly strength.

20 Thou doest hide them ‡ o priuily in thy presence from the pride of men: thou keepest them secretly in thy tabernacle from the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the Lord: for he hath shewed his marueilous kindnesse toward mee in a p strong citie.

22 Though I said in mine q haste, I am cast out of thy sight, yet thou heardest the voyce of my prayer, when I cryed vnto thee.

23 Loue ye the Lord all his ‖ Saints: for the Lord preserueth the faithful, and rewardeth abundantly the proud doer.

24 All ye that trust in the Lord, be r strong, and he shall stablish your heart.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 Dauid punished with grieuous sicknesse for his sinnes, counteth them blessed, to whom God doth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his sinnes and obteined pardon, 6 Hee exhorteth the wicked men to liue godly, 11 And the good to reioyce.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid to giue a instruction.

BLessed is he whose wickednesse is b forgiuen, and whose sinne is couered.

2 Blessed is the man, vnto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquitie, and in whose spirite there is no guile.

3 When I held my c tongue, my bones consumed, or when I d roared all the day.

4 (For thine hand is heauie vpon mee, day and night: and my moysture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah.)

5 Then I e acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hid I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I will confesse against my selfe my wickednesse vnto the Lord, and thou forgauest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

6 Therefore shall euery one that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a f time when thou mayest be found: surely in the flood of great waters they shal not come neere him.

7 Thou art my secret place: thou preseruest me from trouble: thou compassest me about with ioyfull deliuerance. Selah.

8 I will b instruct thee, and teach thee in the way, that thou shalt goe, and I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Bee not like an horse, or like a mule, which vnderstand not: whose g mouthes thou doest binde with bit and bridle, least they come neere thee.

10 Many sorrowes shall come to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compasse him.

11 Be glad ye righteous, and k reioyce in the Lord, and bee ioyfull all yee, that are vpright in heart.

a Concerning the free remission of sinnes, which is the chiefest point of our faith.

b To be iustified by faith, is to haue our sinnes freely remitted, and to be reputed iust, Rom. 4. 6.

c Betweene hope and despaire.

d Neither by silence nor crying found I ease: signifying, that before the sinner be reconciled to God, he feeleth a perpetuall torment.

e He sheweth ‡ as Gods mercie is the onely cause of forgiuenes of sinnes, so the means thereof are repentance and confession, which proceede of faith.

f When necessity causeth him to seeke to thee for helpe, Isa. 55. 6.

g To wit, the waters and great dangers. h Dauid promiseth to make the rest of Gods children partakers of the benefites, which hee felt, and that he will diligently looke and take care to direct them in the way of saluation. i If men can rule brute beastes, thinke they, that God will not bridle and tame their rage? k Hee sheweth, that peace and ioy of conscience in the holy Ghost is the fruit of faith.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 He exhorteth good men to praise God, for that he hath not onely created all things, and by his prouidence gouerneth the same, but also is faithfull in his promises. 10 Hee vnderstandeth mans heart, and scatereth the counsell of the wicked, 16 So that no mā can be preserued by any creature or mans strēgth: but they, that put their confidence in his mercy, shall be preserued from all aduersities.

REioice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it a becometh vpright men to be thankfull.

2 Praise the Lord vp harpe: sing vnto him with viole, and b instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a new song: sing cheerfully with a loud voyce.

4 For the c word of the d Lord is righteous: and all his e works are faithfull.

5 He f loueth righteousnes & iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnes of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heauens made, and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 Hee g gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and layeth vp the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all them that dwel in the world, feare him.

9 For hee spake, and it was done: hee commanded, and it ‖ stood.

10 The Lord breaketh the h counsell of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the deuices of the people.

11 The counsell of the Lord shall stande for euer, & the thoughts of his heart throughout all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose i God is the Lord: euen the people, that he hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord k looketh downe from heauen, and beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all them that dwel in the earth.

15 He l fashioneth their hearts euery one, and vnderstandeth all their workes.

16 The m King is not saued by the multitude of an hoste, neither is the mighty man deliuered by great strength.

17 A horse is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliuer any by his great strength.

18 Beholde, n the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, and vpon them, that trust in his mercy, 19 To deliuer their soules from death, and to preserue them in famine.

20 o Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shield.

21 Surely our heart shall reioyce in him, because we trusted in his holy Name.

22 Let thy mercy, O Lorde, bee vpon vs, as we trust in thee.

a It is the duetie of the godly to set foorth the prayses of God for his mercy and power shewed toward them.

b To sing on instruments was a part of the ceremoniall seruice of the Temple, which doeth no more appertaine vnto vs, then the sacrifices, censings and lights.

c That is, counsel or commandement in gouerning the world.

d That is, the effect & execution.

e Howsoeuer the world iudgeth of Gods workes, yet he doth all things according to iustice and mercy.

f By the creation of the heauens and beautifull ornament, with the gathering also of the waters, he setteth foorth the power of God, that all creatures might feare him.

‖ Or, was created.

g No counsell can preuaile against God, but he deserueth it, and it shall haue euill successe.

h He sheweth that all our felicitie standeth in this, that the Lord is our God. i He prooueth that all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence, and not by fortune. k Therefore he knoweth their wicked enterprises. l If Kings and the mighty of the world cannot be saued by worldly meanes, but onely by Gods prouidence, what haue others to trust in, ‡ haue not like meanes in God sheweth that toward his of his mercie, which man by no meanes is able to compasse. n Thus hee speaketh in the name of the whole Church, which onely depend on Gods prouidence.

his example to trust in God, to feare and serue him: 14 Who defendeth the godly with his Angels, 15 and vtterly destroyeth the wicked in their sinnes.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, when he changed his behauiour before Abimelech, who drone him away, and he departed.

I Will a alway giue thankes vnto the Lord: his praise shalbe in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shall glory in the Lorde: the b humble shall heare it, and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with me, and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my c feare.

5 They d shall looke vnto him, and run to him: and their faces shall not be ashamed, saying,

6 This poore man cried, and the Lorde heard him, and saued him out of all his troubles.

7 The e Angel of the Lorde pitcheth round about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.

8 Taste ye f see, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord, ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

10 The g lyons doe lacke, and suffer hunger, but they which seeke the Lorde, shall want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken vnto me: I will teach you the h feare of the Lord.

12 * What man is hee that desireth life, and loueth long dayes for to i see good?

13 Keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Eschewe euill, and doe good: seeke peace, and follow after it.

15 The eies of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their crie.

16 But the k face of the Lorde is against them that doe euill, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lord is neere vnto them that are of a l contrite heart, and will saue such as bee afflicted in spirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of them all.

20 m He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the * wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lorde * redeemeth the soules of his seruaunts: and none that trust in him, shall perish.

a He promiseth never to become vnmindefull of Gods great benefit for his deliuerance.

b They that are beaten downe with the experience of their owne euils, c Which I conceiued for ‡ dangers wherein I was.

d They shall be bolde to flee to thee for succour, when they shall see thy mercies toward me.

e Though Gods power be sufficient to gouerne vs, yet for mans infirmitie he appointed his Angels to watch ouer vs.

f The godly by their patient obedience profit more then they, which rauine and spoile.

g If they abide the last triall.

h That is, the true religion and worship of God. 1. Pet. 3. 10.

i Seeing all men naturally desire felicitie, he wondereth why they cast themselues willingly into miserie.

k The anger of God doeth not onely destroy the wicked, but also aboliſheth their name for euer.

l When they seeme to be swallowed vp with afflictions, then God is at hand to deliuer them. m And as Christ saith, all the haires of his head. n Their wicked enterprises shall turne to their owne destruction. o For when they seeme to be ouercome with great dangers and death it selfe, then God sheweth himselfe their redeemer.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemie to Dauid, all that had any authority vnder him, to flatter their king (as is the course of the world) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whom he prayeth God to plead 2 and to auenge his cause, 8 that they may be taken in their nets and snares, which they layde for him, that his innocencie may be declared, 27 and that the innocent, which taketh part with him, may reioyce and praise the Name of the Lorde, that thus deliuereth his seruant. 28 And so he promiseth to speake forth the iustice of the Lorde, and to magnifie his name all the dayes of his life.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

PLeade thou my a cause, O Lorde, with them that striue with mee: fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 b Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for my helpe.

3 Bring out also the speare, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say vnto my c soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them bee confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the wind, and let the Angell of the Lord d scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke and slipperie: and let the Angell of the Lorde persecute them.

7 For e without cause they haue hid the pit and their net for mee: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon f him at vnwares, and let his net that hee hath layde priuily, take him: let him fall into g the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shall be ioyfull in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my h bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him that is too strong for him: yea, the poore, and him that is in miserie, from him that spoileth him?

11 i Cruell witnesses did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me euill for good, to k haue spoiled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke: I humbled my soule with fasting: and my l prayer was turned vpon my bosome.

14 I behaued my selfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mourning as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine m aduersity they reioyced, and gathered themselues together: the abiects assembled themselues against me, and I knew not: they tare * me and ceased not,

16 With the false scoffers at * bankets, gnashing their teeth against me.

16 Lord, how long wilt thou behold this? deliuer my soule from their tumult, euen my desolate soule from the lions.

18 So will I giue thee thankes in a great congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, a He desireth God to vndertake his cause against them that did persecute him and slander him.

b Albeit God can with his breath destroy all his enemies, yet the holy Ghost attributeth vnto him these outward weapons, to assure vs of his present power.

c Assure me against these tentations that thou art the authour of my saluation.

d Smite them with the spirit of giddinesse, that their enterprises may be fooliſh, and they receiue iust reward.

e Shewing, that we may not call God to be a reuenger, but onely for his glory, and when our cause is iust.

f When he promiseth to him. selfe peace.

g Which he prepared against the children of God.

h He meditateth his deliuerance onely to God, praising him therefore both in soule and body.

i That would not suffer me to purge my selfe.

k To haue taken from mee all comfort, and brought mee into despaire.

l I prayed for them with inward affection, as I would haue done for my life: or, I declared mine affection, with bowing downe mine head. m When they saw me ready to slip, and as one that had halted for infirmitie. n With theirs railing words. o The word signifieth cakes: meaning, that the proud courtiers at their dainty feasts, scoffe, raile, and conspire his death.

p In token of contempt and mocking.

‖ Or, clefts of the earth: meaning himselfe & others as their misery.

p They reioyced as though they had now seene Dauid ouerthrowen.

r It is the iustice of God to giue to the oppressors affliction and torment, and to the oppressed ayd and relefe, 2. Thess. 1. 6.

s Because wee haue that which we sought for, seeing he is destroyed.

t That is, at once, were they neuer so many or mightie.

u This prayer shall alwayes bee verified against them that persecute the faithfull.

x That at least fauor my right, though they be not able to helpe me.

y He exhorteth the Church to praise God for the deliuerance of his seruants, and for the destruction of his aduersaries.

vniustly reioyce ouer mee, neither let them p winke with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speake not as friendes: but they imagine deceitfull wordes against the ‖ quiet of the land.

21 And they gaped on mee with their mouthes, saying, Aha, aha, s our eye hath seene.

22 Thou hast seene it, O Lord: keepe not silence: be not farre from me, O Lord.

23 Arise and wake to my iudgement, euen to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

24 Iudge me, O Lord my God, according t to thy u righteousnesse, and let them not reioyce ouer me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, s O our soule reioyce: neither let them say, We haue deuoured him.

26 Let them bee confounded, and put to shame x together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed u with confusion & shame, that lift vp themselues against me.

27 But let them be ioyfull and glad, x that loue my righteousnesse: yea, let them say alway, Let the Lord be magnified, which loueth the y prosperitie of his seruant.

28 And my tongue shall vtter thy righteousnesse, and thy praise euery day.

PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grieuously vexed by the wicked, doeth complaine of their malicious wickednesse. 6 Then he returneth to consider the vnspeakable goodnesse of God towards all creatures: 9 But specially towardes his children, that by the faith thereof hee may bee comforted and assured of his deliuerance by this ordinarie course of Gods worke, 13 who in the end destroyeth the wicked and saueth the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, the seruant of the Lord.

a I see euidently by his deedes, that sinne pusheth forward the reprobate from wickednesse to wickednesse, albeit he go about to couer his impietie.

b Though all other detest his vile sinne, yet he himselfe seeth it not.

c The reprobate mocke at wholesome doctrine, and put not difference betweene good and euill.

d By describing at large the nature of the reprobate, hee admonisheth the godly to beware of these vices.

e Though wickednesse seemeth to ouerflow all the world yet by thine heauenly prouidence thou gouernest heauen and earth.

‡ Ebr. the mountaines of God: for whatsoeuer is excellent, is thus called.

f The depth of thy prouidence gouerneth all things, and disposeth them, albeit the wicked seeme to ouerwhelme the world.

WIckednesse sayth to the wicked man, a euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he b flattereth himselfe in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is found woorthy to be hated.

3 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and c deceit: hee hath left off to vnderstand and to do good.

4 Hee d imagineth mischiefe vpon his bed: hee setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doth not abhorre euill.

5 Thy e mercy, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, & thy faithfulnes vnto the clouds.

6 Thy righteousnesse is like the ‡ mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great f deepe: thou, Lord, dost saue man & beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercie, O God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shalbe s satisfied with the fatnes of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuer of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

10 Extend thy louing kindnesse vnto them that h know thee, and thy righteousnesse vnto them that are vpright in heart.

11 Let not the i foote of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked moue me.

12 k There they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

g Onely Gods children haue enough of all things, both concerning this life and the life to come.

h He sheweth who are Gods children, to wit, they that know him & leade their liues vprightly.

i Let not the proud aduance himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked driue me away.

k That is, in their pride, wherein they flatter themselues.

PSAL. XXXVII.

1 This Psalme conteineth exhortation and consolation for the weake, that are grieued at the prosperitie of the wicked, & the affliction of the godly. 7 For how prosperously soeuer the wicked do liue for the time, hee doeth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the ende they are destroyed as his enemies, 11 and how miserably that the righteous seemeth to liue in the world, yet his ende is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, his is deliuered from the wicked, and preserued.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

FRet not a thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for b euill doers.

2 For they shall soone be b cut downe like grasse, and shall wither as the greene herbe.

3 c Trust thou in the Lord & do good: d dwel in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.

4 And delight thy selfe in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine hearts desire.

5 d Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousnesse as the light, and thy e iudgement as the noone day.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lord, & hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him f which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

8 Cease from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe g also to do euill.

9 For euil doers shalbe cut off, ‡ they that wait vpon h Lord, they shal inherite the land.

10 k Therefore yet a little while, and the wicked shal not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and he shall not be found.

11 But l meeke men shall possesse the earth, and shal haue their delight in the multitude of peace.

12 i The wicked practiseth against the iust, a He admonisheth vs neither to vexe our selues for the prosperous estate of the wicked, neither to desire to be like them to make our state the better.

b For Gods iudgment cutteth downe their state in a moment.

c To trust in God, and to do according to his will, are sure tokens that his prouidence will neuer faile vs.

d Be not led by thine owne wisedome, but obey God, and he will finish his worke in thee.

e As the hope of the daylight caseth vs not to be offended with the darkenesse of the night: so ought wee patiently to trust that God will cleare our cause, and to restore vs to our right.

f When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth to the flesh that he fauoureth their doings, Iob. 21. 7, &c.

g Meaning, except he moderate his affections, he shall be led to do as they do.

h He correcteth the impatiencie of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulnesse of Gods time be come. Matth. 5. 5.

i The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shal not preuaile against them, but fall on their owne necks, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while bewaile their sinnes, and offer vp their teares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

iust, and gnasheth his teeth against him.

13 But the Lord shal laugh him to scorne: for he seeth that his day is comming.

14 The wicked haue drawen their sword, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and needy, and to slay such as be of vpright conuersation.

15 But their swords shall enter into their owne heart, and their bowes shalbe broken.

16 k A small thing vnto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked shall be broken: but the Lord vpholdeth the iust men.

18 The Lord l knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shalbe perpetuall.

19 They shall not bee confounded in the perillous time, and in the dayes of famine they shall haue m ynough.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shalbe consumed as the n fat of Lambes: euen with the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth and paieth not againe: but the righteous is merciful, and o giueth.

22 For such as be blessed of God, shall inherit the land, & they that bee cursed of him, shalbe cut off.

23 p The pathes of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his way.

24 Though he q fall, he shall not bee cast off: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene yong, and am olde: yet I sawe neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his r seed begging bread.

26 But hee is euer merciful and lendeth, and his seed enioyeth the blessing.

27 Flee from euil and do good, and dwel for euer.

28 For the Lorde loueth iudgement, and forsaketh not his saints: they shall be preserued for euermore: but the seed of the wicked shalbe cut off.

29 The righteous men shall inherite the land, and dwell therein for euer.

30 The s mouth of the righteous will speake of wisdome, and his tongue wil talke of iudgement.

31 For the law of his God is in his heart, and his steps shal not slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 But the Lord will not leaue him in his hande, nor condemne him, when hee is t iudged.

34 Wait thou on the Lord, and keepe his way, and hee shall exalt thee, that thou shalt inherit the land: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt see.

35 I haue seene the wicked strong, and spreading himselfe like a greene bay tree.

36 Yet he u passed away, and lo, he was gone, and I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 Marke the vpright man, and behold the iust: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressors shall be destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shalbe cut off.

39 But the x saluation of the righteous men shall bee of the Lorde: hee shall be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shal helpe them, and deliuer them: hee shall deliuer them from the wicked, and shall saue them, because they trust in him.

k For they are dayly fed as with Manna from heauen, and haue sufficient, when the wicked haue neuer ynough, but euer hunger.

l God knoweth what dangers hang ouer his, and by what meanes to deliuer them.

m For God will giue them contented minds, and that which shalbe necessary.

n They shall vanish away suddenly: for they are fed for the day of slaughter.

o God so furnisheth him with his blessing, that he is able to helpe others.

p God prospereth the faithfull, because they walke in his wayes with an vpright conscience.

q When God doeth exercise his saith with diuers tentations.

r Though the iust man die, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posteritie, and though God suffer some iust man to lacke temporal benefits, yet he recompenseth him with spiritual treasures.

s They shal continually be preserued vnder Gods wings, and haue at least inward rest.

t These three points are required of the faithfull, that their talke be godly, that Gods Law be in their heart, and that their life be vpright.

u For though it be sometime so expedient both for Gods glory and their saluation, yet hee will approue their cause, and reuenge their wrong.

x So that the prosperitie of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vanisheth away in a moment.

y He exhorteth the faithfull to marke diligently the examples both of Gods mercies, and also of his iudgements.

z He sheweth that the patient hope of the godly is neuer in vaine, but in the end hath good successe, though for a time God proue them by sundry tentations.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

1 Dauid lying sicke of some grieuous disease, acknowledgeth himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 5 He vttereth the greatnesse of his griefe by many words and circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forsaken of his friends, euill intreated of his enemies. 22 But in the ende with firme confidence hee commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedy helpe at his hand.

A Psalme of Dauid for a remembrance.

O Lord, rebuke mee not in thine b anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thine c arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

3 There is nothing sound in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones, because of my d sinne.

4 For e mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weighty burden they are too heauy for me.

5 My wounds are putrified, and corrupt because of my f foolishnesse.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I goe g mourning all the day.

7 For my reines are full of burning, and there is nothing sound in my flesh.

8 I am weakened and sore broken: I h roare for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lorde, I powre my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart i panteth: my strength faileth mee, and the light of mine eyes, turn k they are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends stand aloofe from my plague, and my l kinsmen stand farre off.

12 They also, that seeke after my life, lay snares, and they that go about to do me euil, talke wicked things, and imagine deceit continually.

13 But I as m a deafe man heard not, and am as a dumbe man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.

15 For on thee, O Lord, do I wait: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I sayd, Heare me, lest they reioyce a To put himselfe and others in minde of Gods chastisement for sinne.

b Hee desireth not to be exempted from Gods rod, but that he would so moderate his hand, that he might be able to beare it.

c The sicknesse, wherewith thou hast visited me.

d Dauid acknowledgeth God to be iust in his punishments, because his sinnes had deserued much more.

e He confesseth his sinnes, Gods iustice, and maketh prayer his refuge.

f That rather gaue place to mine owne lusts, then to the will of God.

g Or, blockt, as one that is disfigured and consumed with sickenesse.

h This example warneth vs neuer to despaire, be the torment neuer so great: but alwayes to pray vnto God with sure trust for deliuerance.

i Ebryonnath about, or, is stricken & fro: meaning, that he was destitute of all helpe and counsell.

k My sight faileth me for very sorow.

l Partly for feare, and partly for pride they denied all duetie and friendship.

m For I can haue no audience before men, and therefore patiently wait for the helpe of God.

l That is, if they see that thou succourest me not in time, they will mocke and triumph, as though thou hadst forsaken me.
m I am without hope to recouer my strength.
n In my greatest misery they most reioyce.
o He had rather haue the hatred of all the world, then to faile in any part of his duetie to Godward. p Which art the author of my saluation: and this declareth that hee prayed with sure hope of deliuerance.

ouer mee: for l when my foote slippeth, they extoll themselues against me.
17 Surely I am ready to m halt, and my sorow is euer before me.
18 When I declare my paine, and am sory for my sinne, 19 Then mine n enemies are alive, and are mightie, and they that hate mee wrongfully are many.
20 They also that reward euill for good, are mine aduersaries, because I followe o goodnesse.
21 Forsake me not, O Lord, be not thou farre from me, my God.
22 Haste thee to helpe mee, O my Lord, my p saluation.

PSAL. XXXIX.

1 Dauid vttereth with what great griefe & bitternesse of minde hee was driuen to these outragious complaints of his infirmities. 2 For hee confesseth that when hee had determined silence, hee brast forth yet into words that he would not, through the greatnesse of his griefe. 4 Then hee rehearseth certaine requests which taste of the infirmitie of man, 8 and mixeth with them many prayers: but all doe shewe a minde wonderfully troubled, that it may plainely appeare howe he did striue mightily against death and desperation.

¶ To the excellent musician a Jeduthun. A Psalme of Dauid.

I Thought, b I will take heed to my wayes, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my sight.
2 I was dumme and spake nothing: I kept silence euen from good, c and my sorow was more stirred.
3 Mine heart was hot within mee, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and d I spake with my tongue, saying,
4 Lord, let me know mine ende, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let mee know how long I haue to liue.
5 Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an handbreadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best state is altogether e vanitie. Selah.
6 Doubtlesse man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.
7 And now Lord, what wait I for? mine hope is euen in thee.
8 Deliuer me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the f foolish.
9 I should haue bene dum, and not haue opened my mouth, because g thou didst it.
10 Take thy plague away from mee: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.
11 When thou with rebukes doest chastise man for iniquitie, thou as a moth h makest his i beautie to consume: surely euery man is vanitie. Selah.
12 Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my cry: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, and a iourner as all my fathers.
13 Stay thine anger from me, that I may recouer my strength: k before I goe hence, and be not.

a This was one of the chiefe singers, 1. Chron. 16, 41.
b Albeit hee had appointed with himselfe patiently to haue taried Gods leasure, yet the vehemencie of his paine caused him to breake his purpose.
c Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to haue kept silence, yet his zeale caused him to chaige his minde.
d He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatnesse of his sorowes and the shortnesse of his life.
e Yet Dauid offended in that that he reasoned with God, as though that he were too seuere toward his weake creature. f Make me not a mocking stock to the wicked, or wrap mee not vp with the wicked, when they are put to shame. g Seeing my troubles came of thy prouidence, I ought to haue endured them patiently. h Though thine open plagues light not euermore vpō them, yet thy secret curse cōtinually freeteth them. i The word signifieth all that he desireth, as health, force, strength, beautie, and in whatsoeuer he hath delight, so that the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world. k For his sorow caused him to thinke that God would destroy him vtterly: whereby we see howe hard it is for the very Saintes to keepe a measure in their words, when death and despaire assaile them.

PSAL. XL.

1 Dauid deliuered from great danger, doth magnifie and praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, & commendeth his prouidence towards all mankinde. 5 Then doeth hee promise to giue himselfe wholy to Gods seruice, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped. 14 Afterward he giueth thanks and praiseth God, and hauing complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for ayd and succour.

¶ To him p excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

I Waited a patiently for the Lord, and hee inclined vnto me, and heard my cry.
2 He brought me also out of the b horrible pit, out of the mirie clay, and set my feet vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.
3 And he hath put in my mouth c a new song of praise vnto our God: many shall see it and feare, and shall trust in the Lord.
4 Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, & regardeth d not the proud, nor such as turne aside to lies.
5 e O Lord my God, thou hast made thy woonderfull works so many, that none can come in order to thee thy thoughts toward vs: I would declare, and speake of them, but they are moe then I am able to expresse.
6 Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire: (for f mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offering and sinne offering hast thou not required.
7 g Then said I, Loe, I come: for in the roll of the booke it is written of me,
8 I desired to doe thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.
9 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the h great Congregation: loe, I will not refraine my lips: O Lord, thou knowest.
10 I haue not hidde thy righteousnesse within mine heart, but I haue declared thy i trueth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercie and thy trueth from the great Congregation.
11 Withdraw not thou thy tender mercy from me, O Lord: let thy mercie and thy trueth alway preserue me.
12 For innumerable troubles haue compassed mee: my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are moe in number a Though God deferred his help, yet he patiently abode, till he was heard.

b He hath deliuered me from most great dangers.
c That is, a speciall occasion to praise him: for Gods benefits are so many occasions for vs to praise his name.
d To follow their example, which he must needs do that trusteth not only in the Lord.
e Dauid goeth from one kinde of Gods fauor, to the contemplation of his prouidence ouer all, & confesseth that his counsels towards vs are farre aboue our capacities: we cannot so much as tell them in order.
f Thou hast opened mine eares to vnderstand the spiritual meaning of the sacrifices: and heere Dauid esteemeth the ceremonies of the lawe nothing in respect of the spirituall seruice. g When thou hadst opened mine eares and heart, I was ready to obey thee, being assured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this end. h In the Church assembled in the Sanctuarie. i Dauid heere numbreth three degrees of our saluation: Gods mercy, whereby he pitieth vs: his righteousnesse, which signifieth his continuall protection: and his trueth, whereby appeareth his constant fauour, so that hereof procedeth our saluation.

then

k As touching the iudgement of the flesh, I was vtterly destitute of all counsell: yet faith inwardly mooued mine heart to pray.
l He desireth that Gods mercie may contend for him against the rage of his enemies.
m Let the same shame and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me.

them the hatred of mine head: therefore mine heart hath k failed me.
13 Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer me: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.
14 Let them be l confounded and put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backward and put to rebuke that desire mine hurt.
15 Let them be m destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto mee, Aha, aha.
16 Let all them that seeke thee, reioyce, & be glad in thee: & let them that loue thy saluation, say alway, n The Lord be praised.
17 Though I be poore & needy, the Lord thinketh on mee: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no tarying.

n As the faithfull alwayes praise God for his benefites: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL. XLI.

1 Dauid being grieuously afflicted, blesseth them, that pitie his case, 9 And complaineth of the treason of his owne friends & familiars, as came to passe in Iudas, Iohn 13.18. After hee feeling the great mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 Giueth most heartie thankes to God.

℣ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

BLessed is the that o iudgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.
2 The Lord will keepe him, and preserue him aliue: he shall be blessed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.
3 The Lord will strengthen him vpon the p bed of sorow: thou hast turned all his q bed in his sicknesse.
4 Therefore I said, Lord, haue mercy vpon mee: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.
5 Mine enemies r speake euill of mee, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?
6 And if he come to see me, hee speaketh s lyes, but his heart heapeth iniquitie within him, & when he commeth forth, he telleth it.
7 All they that hate mee, whisper together against mee: euen against me doe they imagine mine hurt.
8 t A mischiefe is light vpon him, and he that lyeth, shall no more rise.
9 Yea, my u familiar friend, whome I trusted, which did eate of my bread, v hath lifted vp the heele against me.
10 Therefore, O Lord, haue mercie vpon me, and raise me vp: so I shall reward them.
11 By this I know we that thou fauourest me, because mine enemie doeth not triumph against me.
12 And as for mee, thou vpholdest mee w in mine integritie, and doest set mee before o Not condemning him as accursed, whom God doeth visite, knowing that there are diuers causes why God layeth his hand vpon vs: yea, and afterward he restoreth vs.

p When for sorow and griefe of minde he casteth himselfe vpon his bed.
q Thou hast restored him in his sicke bed and sent him comfort.
r That is, curse me, and cannot haue their cruell hate quenched, but with my shamefull death.
s For pretending to comfort me, he conspireth my death in his heart, and braggeth thereof.
t The enemies thought by his sharpe punishments that God was become his mortall enemie.
u Heb. The man of my peace.
v As Dauid felt his falshood, and as it was chiefly accomplished in Christ, Iohn 13.18. so shall his members continually procure the same.
w Meaning, either in prosperitie of life, or in the true feare of God against all temptations.

thy x face for euer.
13 Blessed bee the Lorde God of Israel world without end. y So be it, euen so be it.

x By this repetition he stirreth vp the faithfull to praise God.
y Shewing the euident signes of thy fatherly prouidence.

PSAL. XLII.

1 The Prophet grieuously complayneth, that being letted by his persecutours, he could not be present in the congregation of Gods people, protesting that although hee was separate in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward affectioned. 7 And last of all he sheweth, that hee was not so sore ouercome with these sorowes and thoughts, 8 But that hee continually put his confidence in the Lord.

℣ To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, z committed to the sonnes of Korah.

AS the hart panteth for the riuers of water, so a panteth my soule after thee, O God.
2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?
3 b My teares haue bene my meate day and night, while they dayly say vnto mee, Where is thy God?
4 When I remembred c these things, I powred out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the house of God with the voyce of singing, and prayse, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.
5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and vnquiet within mee? d wayte on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his presence.
6 My God, my soule is cast downe within me, e because I remember thee from the land of Iorden, and Hermonim, and from the Mount Mizar.
7 One f deepe calleth another deepe by the noyse of the water spoutes: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.
8 The Lorde g will graunt his louing kindnes in the day, and in the night shall I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.
9 I will say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten me? Why goe I mourning, when the enemie oppresseth me?
10 My h bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproch me, saying dayly vnto me, Where is thy God?
11 i Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within mee? wayte on God: for I will yet giue him thankes: he is my present helpe, and my God.

z As a treasure to be kept of them, which were of the number of the Leuites.
a By these similitudes of thirst and panting he sheweth his feruent desire to serue God in his Temple.
b As others take pleasure in eating and drinking, so he was altogether giuen to weeping.
c That is, how I led the people to serue thee in thy Tabernacle, and now seeing my contrary estate, I die for sorowe.
d Though he suffered grieuous assaults of the flesh to cast him into despaire, yet his faith grounded on Gods accustomed mercies, gaineth the victorie.
e That is, when I remember thee in this land of my banishment among the mountaines.
f Afflictions came so thicke vpon me, that I felt my selfe as ouerwhelmed: whereby hee sheweth there is no ende of our miserie, till God bee pacified, and send remedie.
g He assureth himselfe of Gods helpe in time to come.
h That is, I am most grieuously tormented.
i This repetition doth declare that Dauid did not ouercome at once: to teach vs to be constant, forasmuch as God will certainely deliuer his.

PSAL. XLIII.

1 He prayeth to bee deliuered from them which conspire against him, that he might ioyfully praise God in his holy congregation.

JUdge me, O God, and defende my cause against the vnmercifull people: deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put mee away? why goe I so mourning, when the enemie oppresseth mee?

3 Sende thy light and thy trueth: let them lead me: let them bring me vnto thine holy Mountaine and to thy Tabernacles.

4 Then will I go vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the harpe will I giue thankes vnto thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within mee? waite on God: for I will yet giue him thankes, he is my present helpe, and my God.

a He desireth God to vndertake his cause against the enemies, but chiefly that he would restore him to the Tabernacle.
b That is, the cruell company of mine enemies.
c To wit, thy fauour, which appeareth by the performance of thy promises.
d He promiseth to offer a solemne sacrifice of thanksgiuing in token of his great deliuerance. e Whereby hee admonisheth the faithfull not to relent, but constantly to rest on the Lord, though their troubles be long and great.

PSAL. XLIIII.

1 The faithfull remember the great mercy of God toward his people. 9 After they complaine, because they feele it no more. 17 Also they alledge the couenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they shew what grieuous things they suffred. 23 Finally they pray vnto God not to contemne their affliction, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

WE haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue told vs the workes, that thou hast done in their dayes, in the old time:

2 How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thine hand, and planted them: how thou hast destroyed the people, and caused them to grow.

3 For they inherited not the land by their owne sworde, neither did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hande, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadest fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: send help vnto Iaakob.

5 Through thee haue we thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy name haue we troden downe them that rose vp against vs.

6 For I do not trust in my bowe, neither can my sworde saue me.

7 But thou hast saued vs from our aduersaries, and hast put them to confusion that hate vs.

8 Therefore will wee praise God continually, and will confesse thy name for euer. Selah.

9 But now thou art farre off, and puttest vs to confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest vs to turne backe from the aduersarie, and they, which hate vs, spoyle for themselues.

11 Thou giuest vs as sheepe to be eaten, and doest scatter vs among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people without gaine, and doest not increase their price.

13 Thou makest vs a reproch to our neighbours, a iest and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.

14 Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, and a nodding of the head among the people.

15 My confusion is dayly before mee, and the shame of my face hath couered mee, 16 For the voyce of the slanderer and reuiler, for the enemie and auenger.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe wee not forget thee, neither deale wee falsely concerning thy couenant.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy paths, 19 Albeit thou hast smitten vs downe into the place of Dragons, and couered vs with the shadow of death.

20 If wee haue forgotten the name of our God, and holden vp our handes to a strange God, 21 Shall not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

22 Surely for thy sake are wee slaine continually, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.

23 Vp, why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not farre off for euer.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? and forgettest our miserie and our affliction?

25 For our soule is beaten downe vnto the dust: our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.

26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeeme vs for thy mercies sake.

a This Psalme seemeth to haue bene made by some excellent Prophet for the vse of the people, when the Church was in extreme miserie, either at the returne from Babylon, or vnder Antiochus, or in such like affliction.
b That is, the Canaanites.
c To wit, our fathers.
d Of Canaan.
e That is, our fathers.
f Gods free mercie and loue is the onely fountaine and beginning of the Church, Deut. 4. 37.
g Because thou art our king, therefore deliuer thy people from their miserie.
h Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, they apply that to themselues, which before they did attribute to their fathers.
i As they confessed before, that their strength came of God, so now they acknowledge that this affliction came by his iust iudgement.
k Knowing God to be authour of this calamitie, they murmure not, but seeke remedy at his hands, who wounded them.
l As slaues which are sold for a low price, neither looketh thou for him that offereth most, but takest the first chapman.
m I dare not lift vp mine head for shame.
n Meaning, the proude and cruell tyrant.
o They boast not of their vertues, but declare that they rest vpon God in the middes of their afflictions: who punished not now their sinnes, but by hard afflictions called them to the consideration of the heauenly ioyes.
p They shew that they honoured God aright, because they trusted in him alone.
q They take God to witnesse, that they were vpright to himward.
r The faithfull make this their comfort, that the wicked punish them not for their sinnes, but for Gods cause, Matth. 5. 10. 1. Pet. 4. 14.
s There is no hope of recouerie, except thou put to thine hand, and raise vs vp.
t Which is the onely and sufficient ransome to deliuer both bodie and soule from all kind of slauery and miserie.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The maiestie of Salomon, his honour, strength, beautie, riches and power are praised, & also his mariage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman is blessed. 10 If that woman renounce her people, & the loue of her countrey, & giue her self wholy to her husband. Vnder the which figure the wonderful maiestie & increase of the kingdome of Christ, & the Church his spouse now taken of the Gentiles is described.

To him that excelleth on Shoshannim a song of loue to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

MIne heart will vtter foorth a good matter: I will intreat in my workes of the King: my tongue is as the penne of a swift writer.

2 Thou art faire then the children of men: grace is powred in thy lippes, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

a This was a certaine tune or an instrument.
b Of that perfit loue that ought to be betweene the husband and the wife.
c Salomons beautie & eloquence to win fauor with is here described.

3 Gird thy sword vpon thy thigh, O most mighty, to wit, thy worship and thy glory.

4 And prosper with thy glory: d ride vpon the word of trueth and of meekenesse and of righteousnesse: so thy right hande shall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrowes are sharpe to pierce the heart of the kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.

6 Thy e throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the scepter of thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousnes.

7 Thou louest righteousnes, and hatest wickednes, because God, even thy God hath f anointed thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrhe and aloes, and Cassia, when thou comest out of the ivorie palaces, g where they have made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thine honourable wives: vpon thy right hand did stand the h Queene in a vesture of golde of Ophir.

10 i Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine eare: forget also thine own people and thy fathers house.

11 So shall the king have pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reverence thou him.

12 And the k daughter of ‖ Tyrus with the rich of the people shall do homage before thy face with presents.

13 The Kings daughter is all glorious l within: her clothing is of imbroidered gold.

14 She shalbe brought vnto the King in raiment of needle worke: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall bee brought vnto thee.

15 With ioy and gladnesse shall they bee brought, and shall enter into the kings palace.

16 In stead of thy Fathers shall thy m children bee; thou shalt make them princes n throughout all the earth.

17 I will make thy o name to be remembred through all generations: therefore shall p people give thanks vnto thee world without end.

d He alludeth to them that ride in chariots in their tryumphs, shewing that the quiet state of a kingdome standeth in trueth, meekenesse and iustice, not in worldly pompe and vanitie.

e Vnder this figure of this kingdome of iustice is set forth the everlasting kingdom of Christ.

f Hath established thy kingdome as the figure of Christ, which is the peace and ioy of the Church.

g In the which palace the people made thee ioyfull to see them giue thanks & reioyce for thee.

h Though he had many kings daughters among his wives, yet he loued Pharaohs daughter best.

i Vnder the figure of Pharaohs daughter, he sheweth that the Church must cast vp all carnall affections to obey Christ onely.

k He signifieth that diuers of them that be rich shalbe benefactors to the Church, albeit they giue not perfect obedience to the Gospel. ‖ Or, Tyre. l There is nothing fained nor hypocritical, but she is glorious both within and without: and howbeit the Church hath not at all times this outward glory, the fault is to be imputed onely to their owne ingratitude. m They shall have greater graces then their fathers. n Hee signifieth the great compasse of Christes kingdome, which shalbe sufficient to enrich all his members.

o This must onely be referred to Christ, and not to Salomon.

PSAL. XLVII.

2 Whereby the Prophet commending this great benefite, doeth exhort the faithfull to give themselves wholy into the hand of God, declaring nothing but that vnder his protection they shall bee safe against all the assaults of their enemies, because this is his delight to asswage the rage of the wicked, when they are most fierce against the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Alamoth. A song committed to the sonnes of Korah.

GOd is our ‖ hope and strength, and helpe in b troubles, ready to be found.

2 Therefore will not we c feare, though the earth be moved, and though the Mountaines fall into the mids of the sea.

3 Though the waters thereof d rage & be troubled, and the mountaines shake at the surges of the same, Selah.

4 Yet there is a e River, whose streames shall make glad the citie of God: euen the Sanctuarie of the Tabernacles of the most High.

5 God is in the mids of it: therefore shall it not be moved: God shal help it f very early.

6 When the nations raged, and the kingdoms were moved, God ‡ thundred, and the earth melted.

7 The Lorde of hostes is g with vs: the God of Iaakob is our refuge. Selah.

8 Come, and behold the workes of the Lord, h what desolations he hath made in the earth.

9 He maketh warres to cease vnto the ends of the world: he breaketh the bow and cutteth the speare, and burneth the chariots with fire.

10 Be i still and knowe that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hosts is with vs: k the God of Iaakob is our refuge. Selah.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

ALl people a clap your hands, sing loude vnto God with a voyce of ioy.

2 For the Lord is high, & terrible: a great King over all the earth.

3 He hath b subdued the people vnder vs, and the nations vnder our feete.

4 He hath chosen c our inheritance for vs: euen the glorie of Iaakob whom he loued. Selah.

5 God is gone vp with triumph, even the Lord, with the d sound of the trumpet.

6 Sing prayses to God, sing prayses: sing prayses vnto our King, sing prayses.

7 For God is the king of all the earth: sing prayses e very one that hath e understanding.

a Here is figured Christ, vnto whom all his should giue willing obedience, and who would shew himselfe terrible to the wicked.

b He hath made the Iewes, who were the keepers of the law and Prophets, schoolemasters to the Gentiles, f they should with all other nations to enioy a most glorious inheritance. d Hee doeth allude vnto the trumpets that were blowen at solemne feasts: but he doth further signifie the triumph of Christ and his glorious ascension into the heauens. e He requireth that vnderstanding be ioyned with singing, least the Name of God be prophaned with vaine crying.

f He prayseth Gods highnes, for ỹ he ioyneth the great Princes of the world (whom he calleth shields) to the fellowship of his Church.

8 God reigneth ouer the Heathen: God sitteth vpon his holy throne.

9 The princes of the people are gathered vnto the people of the God of Abraham: for the shields of the world belong to God: her f is greatly to be exalted.

PSAL. XLVIII.

1 A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the hand of many Kings is mentioned, for the which, thanks are giuen to God, and the state of that citie is prayed, that hath God so presently at all times ready to defend them. This Psalme seemeth to be made in the times of Ahaz, Iosaphat, Asa or Ezekiah: for in their times chiefly was the citie by forren Princes assaulted.

¶ A song or Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

GReat is the Lord, and greatly to be prayſed in the b Citie of our God, euen vpon his holy Mountaine.

2 Mount Zion, lying Northward, is faire in situation: it is the ioy of the whole earth, and the citie of the great King.

3 In the palaces thereof God is knowen for a d refuge.

4 For loe, the kings were e gathered and went together.

5 (When they saw f it, they marueiled: they were astonied, and suddenly driuen backe.

The enemies were afraid at the sight of the citie.

f That is, of Cilicia, or of the Sea called Mediterraneum. h To wit, of our fathers, so haue we prooued it, or, God hath performed his promise. i In all places where thy Name shalbe heard of men thal praise thee, when they heare of thy marueilous workes. k Let Ierusalem and the cities of Iudea reioyce for thy iust iudgements against thine enemies. l For in this outward defence and strength, Gods blessings did also appeare: but the chiefe is to be referred to Gods fauour and secret defence, who neuer leaueth his.

PSAL. XLIX.

1 The holy Ghost calleth all men to the consideration of mans life, 7 Shewing them not to be most blessed, that are most wealthy and therfore not to be feared: but contrariwise he lifteth vp our mindes to consider how all things are ruled by Gods prouidence: 14 Who at the iudgeth these wordly misers to euerlasting torments, 15 So doeth he preserue his, and, will reward them in the day of the resurrection, 2 Thes. 1.6.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

HEare a this, all ye people: giue eare, all ye that dwell in the world,

2 As well low as hie, both rich and poore.

3 My mouth shal speake of wisedom, and the meditation of my heart is of knowledge.

4 I will encline mine eare to a parable, and vtter my graue matter vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore should b I feare in the euill dayes, when iniquitie shall compasse me about, as at mine heeles?

6 They trust in their c goods, and boast themselues in the multitude of their riches.

7 Yet a man can by no meanes redeeme his brother: nor cannot giue his ransome to God,

8 (So d precious is the redemption of their soules, e and the continuance for euer)

9 That he may liue still for euer, and not see the graue.

10 For he seeth that wise men f die, and also that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leaue their riches for g others.

11 Yet they thinke their houses, and their habitations shall continue for euer, euen from generation to generation, & h call their lands by their names.

12 But man shal not continue in honour: he is like the i beasts that die.

1 When Dauid was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan for his great offences, he did not onely acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his naturall corruption and iniquitie, but also left a memoriall thereof to his posterity. 7 Therefore first he desireth God to forgiue his sinnes. 10 And to renew in him his holy Spirit, 13 With promise that he will not be vnmindful of those great graces. 18 Finally, fearing least God would punish the whole Church for his fault, he requireth that he would rather increase his graces toward the same.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, whē the Prophet Nathan a came vnto him, after he had gone in to Bath-sheba.

HAue mercy vpon me, O God, b according to thy louing kindnes: according to the multitude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.

2 Wash mee c throughly from mine iniquitie, and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I d know mine iniquities, and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee, against thee only haue I sinned, and done euill in thy sight, that thou mayest be iust when thou e speakest, and pure when thou iudgest.

5 Behold, I was borne in iniquity, and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.

6 Behold, thou f louest truth in the inward affections: therefore hast thou taught me wisedome in the secret of mine heart.

7 Purge me with g hyssope, and I shall be cleane: wash me, and I shall bee whiter then snow.

8 Make me to heare h ioy and gladnes, that the i bones, which thou hast broken, may reioyce.

9 Hide thy face from my sinnes, and put away all mine iniquities.

10 k Create in me a cleane heart, O God, a To reproue him because he had committed so horrible sinnes, and lien in the same without repentance more then a whole yeere.

b As his sinnes were manifold and great, so he requireth that God would giue him the feeling of his excellent and abundant mercies.

c My sinnes sticke so fast in me, that I haue need of some singular kind of washing.

d My conscience accuseth me, so that I can haue no rest, till I be reconciled.

e When thou giuest sentence against sinners, they must needes confesse thee to bee iust, and themselues sinners. f Here confesseth that God, who loueth pureness of heart, may iustly destroy man, who of nature is a sinner, much more him whom he had instructed in his heauenly wisedome. Louis. 14.6. g He meaneth Gods comfortable mercies toward repentant sinners. h By the bones, he vnderstandeth all the strength of soule and body, which by cares and mourning are consumed. i Here confesseth that when Gods Spirit is colde in vs, to haue it againe renued is as a new creation, and renew a right spirit within me.

and

11 Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thine holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the ioy of thy saluation, and stablish me with thy [k] free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy [l] wayes vnto the wicked, and sinners shall be conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer mee from [m] blood, O God, which art the God of my saluation, and my tongue shall sing ioyfully of thy righteousnesse.

15 [n] Open thou my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I would giue it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.

17 The sacrifices of God are a [o] contrite spirite: a contrite & a broken heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

18 Be fauourable vnto [p] Sion for thy good pleasure: build the wals of Ierusalem.

19 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifices of [q] righteousnes, euen the burnt offring and oblation: then shall they offer calues vpon thine altar.

k Which may assure me that I am drawen out of the slaurry of sinne.

l He promiseth to endeuour that others by his example may turne to God.

m From the murder of Vriah, and the others that were slaine with him, 2. Sam. 11. 17.

n By giuing me occasion to praise thee, when thou shalt forgiue my sinnes.

o Which is a wounding of the heart, proceeding of faith, which seeketh vnto God for mercy.

p Be prayeth for the whole Church, because through his sinne it was in danger of Gods iudgement.

q That is, iust and lawfull, applied to their right end, which is the exercise of faith and repentance.

1 Dauid describeth the arrogant tyranny of his aduersary Doeg: who by false surmises caused Abimelech with the rest of the Priests to be slain. 5 Dauid propheseth his destruction. 6 And encourageth the faithfull to put their confidence in God, whose iudgements are most sharpe against his aduersaries. 9 And finally he rendreth thanks to God for his deliuerance. In this Psalme is liuely set forth the kingdome of Antichrist.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction, When Doeg the Edomite came and shewed Saul, and sayd to him, Dauid is come to the house of Abimelech.

WHy boastest thou thy selfe in thy wickednesse, O [a] man of power? the louing kindnesse of God endureth dayly.

2 Thy tongue imagineth [b] mischiefe, & is like a sharpe rasor, that cutteth deceitfully.

3 Thou louest euill more then good, and lies, more then to speake the [‡] trueth. Selah.

4 Thou louest all wordes that may destroy, O deceitfull tongue.

5 So shal God [c] destroy thee for euer: he shall take thee and plucke thee out of thy tabernacle, and [d] roote thee out of the land of the liuing. Selah.

6 The [e] righteous also shall see it, [f] and feare, and shall laugh at him, saying,

7 Behold the man that tooke not God for his strength, but trusted vnto the multitude of his riches, & put his strength [‖] in his malice.

a O Doeg, which hast credite with the tyrant Saul, and hast power to murther the Saints of God.

b Thy malice moueth thee by crastie flatteries and lies to accuse and destroy the innocents.

‡ Ebr. righteousnesse.

c Though God forbeare for a time, yet at length he will recompense thy falsehood.

d Albeit thou seeme to be neuer so sure setled.

e For the eyes of the reprobate are shut vp at Gods iudgements.

f With ioyfull reuerence, seeing that he taketh their part against the wicked. Or, in his substance,

8 But I shalbe like a [g] greene olme tree in the house of God: for I trusted in the mercy of God for euer and euer.

9 I will alway prayse thee, for that thou hast done [h] this, & I will [i] hope in thy Name, because it is good before thy Saints.

g He reioyceth to haue a place among the seruants of God, that he may grow in the knowledge of godlinesse.

h Executed this vengeance.

¶ To him that excelleth on [a] Mahalath. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction.

THe foole hath sayd in his heart, There is [b] no God, they haue corrupted and done abominable wickednesse: there is none that doeth good.

2 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and [c] seeke God.

3 [*] Euery one is gone backe: they are altogether corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Do not the [d] workers of iniquity know that they eat vp my people as they eat bread? they call not vpon God.

5 There they were afraid for feare, where no [e] feare was: for God hath scattered the [f] bones of him that besieged thee: thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath cast them off.

6 Oh giue saluation vnto Israel out of Sion: when God turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iaakob shal reioyce, and Israel shalbe glad.

a Which was an instrument or kind of note.

d Dauid pronounceth Gods vengeance against cruel gouernours, who hauing charge to defend and preserue Gods people, doe most cruelly deuoure them.

e When they thought there was none occasion to feare, the sudden vengeance of God lighted vpon them.

f Be the enemies power neuer so great, nor the danger so fearefull, yet God deliuereth his in due time.

1 Dauid brought into great danger by the treason of the Ziphims; 5 Calleth vpon the Name of God to destroy his enemies, 6 Promising sacrifice and free offrings for so great deliuerance.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction. When the Ziphims came and sayd vnto Saul, [*] Is not Dauid hid among vs?

1. Sam. 23. 9.

SAue me, O God, [a] by thy Name, and by thy power iudge me.

2 O God, heare my prayer: hearken vnto the words of my mouth.

3 For [b] strangers are risen vp against me, and [c] tyrants seeke my soule: they haue not set God before them. Selah.

4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is [d] with them that vphold my soule.

5 He shall reward euill vnto mine enemies: O cut them off in thy [e] trueth.

6 Then I will sacrifice [f] freely vnto thee: I will prayse thy Name, O Lord, because it is good.

a He declareth that when all meanes do faile, God will deliuer, euen as it were by miracle, them that call vnto him with an vpright conscience.

b To wit, the Ziphims.

c Saul and his armie, which were like cruel beastes, and could not bee satisfied, but by his death.

d Be they neuer so fewe, as he was with Ionathan.

e According to thy faithfull promise for my defence.

1 Dauid being in great heauinesse and distresse complaineth of the cruelties of Saul, 13 And of the falsehood of his familiar acquaintance, 17 Vttering most ardent affections to moue the Lord to pity him. 22 After being assured of deliuerance, he setteth forth the grace of God as though he had already obtained his request.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction.

h The earnestnesse of his prayer declareth the vehemencie of his griefe, inso much as he is compelled to burst out into cries.

HEare a my prayer, O God, and hide not thy selfe from my supplication.

2 Hearken vnto me, and answere me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noyse,

3 For the b voyce of the enemie, and for the vexation of the wicked, because they haue brought iniquitie vpon mee, and furiously hate me.

4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen vpon me.

5 Feare and trembling are come vpon me, and an horrible feare hath c couered me.

6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a doue: then would I d flie away and rest.

7 Behold, I would take my flight farre off, and lodge in the wildernesse. Selah.

8 Hee would make haste for my deliuerance e from the stormie wind and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lorde, and f diuide their tongues: for I haue seene cruelties and strife in the citie.

10 Day and night they goe about it vpon the walles thereof: both iniquitie and mischiefe are in the midst of it.

11 Wickednes is in the midst thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streetes.

12 Surely mine g enemie did not defame me: for I could haue borne it: neither did mine aduersarie exalt himselfe against mee: for I would haue hid me from him.

13 But it was thou, O man, euen my h companion, my guid and my familiar:

14 Which deliest in consulting together, and went into the house of God as companions.

15 Let death seaze vpon them: let them goe downe quicke into the graue: for wickednes is in their dwellings, euen in the midst of them.

16 But I will call vnto God, and the Lord will saue me.

17 Euening and morning, and at noone will I pray, i and make a noyse, and he will heare my voyce.

18 Hee hath deliuered my soule in peace from the battell, that was against mee: for k many were with me.

19 God shall heare and afflict them, euen he that reigneth of olde: Selah. because they l haue no changes, therefore they feare not God.

20 He stretch his hand vpon such, as be at peace with him, and he brake his couenant.

21 The wordes of his mouth were softer then butter, yet warre was in his heart: his words were more gentle then oyle, yet they were swords.

22 Cast thy burden vpon the Lord, and he shall nourish thee: hee will not suffer the righteous to fall for m euer.

23 And thou, O God, shalt bring them downe into the pit of corruption: the bloodie and deceitfull men shall not liue halfe their dayes: but I will trust in thee.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid on Michtam, concerning the a dumbe doue in a farre countrey, when the Philistims tooke him in Gath.

l Mine enemies would daily swallowe me vp: for many fight against me, O thou most high.

3 When I was afraid, I trusted in thee.

4 I will reioyce in God, because of his b worde: I trust in God, and will not feare what flesh can doe vnto me.

5 Mine owne c words grieue me daily: all their thoughts are against me to doe me hurt.

6 d They gather together, e keepe themselues close: they marke my steppes, because they waite for my soule.

7 f Shall they thinke they shall escape by iniquitie? O God, cast their people downe in thine anger.

8 Thou hast counted my wandrings: put my g teares into thy bottell: are they not in thy register?

9 When I crie, then mine enemies shall turne backe: this I know, for God is with me.

10 I will reioyce in God, because of his worde: in the Lorde will I reioyce because of his worde.

11 In God doe I trust: I will not be afraid what man can doe vnto me.

6 God hath spoken in his g holines: therefore I will reioyce: I shall diuide Shechem, and measure the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead shalbe mine, and Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shalbe the h strength of mine head: i Iudah is my lawgiuer.

8 Moab shall be my k washpot: ouer Edom wil I cast out my shoe: l Palestina shew thy selfe ioyfull for me.

9 Who will leade mee into the m strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

10 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst cast vs off, and didst not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

11 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

12 Through God we shall doe valiantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

f In making me king, thou hast performed thy promise, which seemed to haue lost the force.

g It is so certain, as if it were spoken by an oracle, that I shall possesse these places which Saul had left to his children.

h For it was strong and well peopled.

i Dauid meaneth that in this tribe the kingdom shall be established, Gen.49.10.

k In most vile subiection.

l For thou wilt dissemble, and faine as though thou weerest glad.

m Hee was assured that God would giue him the strong cities of his enemies, wherein they thought themselues sure.

PSAL. LXI.

1 Whether that he were in danger of the Ammonites, or being pursued of Absalom, here he craueth to be heard, and deliuered, 7 And confirmed in his kingdome. 8 He promiseth perpetuall praises.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid.

Heare my cry, O God: giue eare vnto my prayer.

2 From a the endes of the earth will I cry vnto thee: when mine heart is oppressed, bring mee vpon the rocke that is b higher then I.

3 For thou hast bene my hope, and a strong tower against the enemie.

4 I will dwell in thy Tabernacle for euer, and my trust shall be vnder the couering of thy wings. Selah.

5 For thou, O God, c hast heard my desires: thou hast giuen an heritage vnto those that feare thy Name.

6 Thou shalt giue the king a d long life: his yeeres shalbe as many ages.

7 Hee shall dwell before God for euer: prepare mercie and e faithfulnesse, that they may preserue him.

8 So will I alway sing praise vnto thy Name in performing daily my vowes.

a From the place, where I was banished, being driuen out of the citie and Temple by my sonne Absalom.

b Vnto the which without thy help I cannot attaine.

c There is nothing that doeth more strengthen our faith, then the remembrance of Gods succour in times past.

d This chiefly is referred to Christ who liueth eternally, not onely in himselfe, but also in his members.

e For the stabilitie of my kingdome standeth in thy mercy and truth.

PSAL. LXII.

This Psalme partly containeth meditations, whereby Dauid encourageth himself to trust in God, against the assaults of temptations. And because our minds are easily drawen from God by the allurements of the world, he sharply reproueth this vanitie, to the intent he might cleaue fast to the Lord.

To the excellent Musician a Ieduthun. A Psalme of Dauid.

Yet a my soule keepeth silence vnto God: of him commeth my saluation.

1.Chron.16.41.

a Though Satan tempted him to murmure against God, yet he bridleth his affections, and resting vpon Gods promise, beareth his crosse patiently.

b It appeareth by the oft repetition of this word, that the Prophet abode manifold tentations, but by resting on God and by patience he ouercame them all. c He meaneth himselfe, being the man whom God had appointed to the kingdome. d Though ye seeme to be in honour, yet God will suddenly destroy you. e Dauid was greatly mooued with these troubles: therefore he stirreth vp himselfe to trust in God. f These vehement and often repetitions were necessary to strengthen his faith against the horrible assaults of Satan. g He admonisheth vs of our wicked nature, which rather hide our sorrowe, and bite on the bridle, then vtter our griefe to God to obteine remedy. h Giue your selues wholly to God by putting away all things that are contrary to his Law. i He hath plainely borne witnesse of his power, so that none needeth to doubt thereof. k So that the wicked shall seeke thy power, and the godly thy mercy.

2 b Yet her is my strength and my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not much be moued.

3 Howe long will yee imagine mischiefe against a c man? ye shalbe all slaine: yee shall be as a bowen wall, or as a d wall shaken.

4 Yet they consult to cast him downe from his dignitie: their delight is in lies, they blesse with their mouthes, but curse with their hearts. Selah.

5 c Yet my soule keepe thou silence vnto God: for mine hope is in him.

6 Yet is he my strength, and my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not bee moued.

7 In God is my saluation & my f glorie, the rocke of my strength: in God is my trust.

8 Trust in him alway, ye people: powre out your hearts before him, for God is our hope. Selah.

9 Yet the children of men are vanitie, the chiefe men are lyes: to lay them vpon a balance they are altogether lighter then vanitie.

10 Trust not in oppression nor in robberie: b be not vaine: if riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

11 God spake i once or twise, I haue heard it, that power belongeth vnto God, 12 And to thee, O Lord, mercy: for thou k rewardest euery one according to his worke.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 Dauid after hee had bene in great danger by Saul in the desert of Ziph, made this Psalme, 3 Wherein he giueth thanks to God for his wonderfull deliuerance, in whose mercies he trusted, euen in the midst of his miseries, 9 Prophesying the destruction of Gods enemies. 11 And consequently of happinesse to all them that trust in the Lord.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid. When he was in the a wildernesse of Iudah.

a To wit, of Ziph, 1. Sam. 23. 14.

O God, thou art my God, early will I seeke thee: my soule b thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a barren and drie land without water.

b Though hee was both hungry and in great distresse, yet hee made God his sufficiencie, and aboue all meate and drinke.

2 Thus c I behold thee as in the Sanctuary, when I behold thy power & thy glory.

3 For thy louing kindnes is better then life: therefore my lips shall praise thee.

c In this miserie I exercise my selfe in the contemplation of thy power and glory, as if I were in thy Sanctuary.

4 Thus will I magnifie thee all my life, and lift vp mine hands in thy Name.

5 My soule shalbe satisfied, as with d marrow and fatnesse, and my mouth shall praise thee with ioyfull lips,

6 When I remember thee on my bed, and when I thinke vpon thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast bene my helper, therefore vnder the shadowe of thy wings will I reioyce.

d The remembrance of thy fauour is more sweete vnto me then all the pleasures and dainties of the world.

8 My soule e cleaueth vnto thee: for thy right hand vpholdeth me.

e Hee assureth himselfe by the Spirit of God to haue the gift of constancie.

9 Therefore they that seeke my soule to destroy it, they shall go into the lowest parts of the earth.

10 f They shall cast him downe with the edge of the sword, and they shall be a portion for foxes.

f He propheseth of the destruction of Saul, and them that take his part, whose bodies shall not be buried, but be deuoured with wild beasts.

11 But the king shall reioyce in God, and all that g sweare by him shall reioyce in him: for the mouth of them that speake lies, shalbe stopped.

g All that sweare by God aright, or professe him, shall reioyce in this worthy King.

PSAL. LXIIII.

1 Dauid prayeth against the furie and false reports of his enemies. 7 He declareth their punishment and destruction, 10 To the comfort of the iust, and the glory of God.

¶ The hun that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

a In that he calleth to God with his voice, it is a signe that his prayer was vehement, and that his life was in danger.

HEare my a voice, O God, in my prayer: preserue my life from feare of the enemie.

2 Hide me from the b conspiracie of the wicked, and from the c rage of the workers of iniquitie.

b That is, from their secret malice.

c To wit, their outward violence.

3 Which haue whet their tongue like a sworde, and shot for their arrowes d bitter words:

d False reports and slanders.

4 To shoot at the vpright in secret: they shoote at him suddenly, and e feare not.

e To be without feare of God, and reuerence of man is a signe of reprobation.

5 They f encourage themselues in a wicked purpose: they commune together to lay snares priuily, and say, Who shall see them?

f The more that the wicked see Gods children in miserie, the more bold and impudent are they in oppressing them.

6 They haue sought out iniquities, and haue accomplished that which they sought out, euen euery one g his secret thoughes, and the depth of his heart.

g There is no way so secret and subtile to doe hurt, which they inuented not for his destruction.

7 But God will shoote an arrow at them suddenly: their strokes shalbe at once,

8 They shall cause their owne tongue to fall vpon them; and whosoeuer shal see them, shall h flee away.

h To see Gods heauy iudgements against them, and how he hath caught them in their owne snares.

9 And all men shal feare, and declare the worke of God, and they shall vnderstande, what he hath wrought.

10 But the righteous i shall be glad in the Lord, and trust in him: and all that are vpright of heart, shall reioyce.

i When they shall consider that he will be fauourable to them, as hee was to his seruant Dauid.

PSAL. LXV.

1 A praise and thanksgiuing vnto God by the faithfull, who are signified by Zion, 4 For the chusing, preseruation and gouernance of them, 9 And for the plenteous blessings powred forth vpon all the earth, but specially toward his Church.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme or song of Dauid.

a Thou giuest daily new occasion to thy Church to praise thee,

O God, a praise waiteth for thee in Zion, & vnto thee shall the vow be performed.

2 Because thou hearest the prayer, vnto thee shall b all flesh come.

b Not onely the Iewes, but also the Gentiles in the kingdome of Christ.

a He imputeth it to his sinnes, and to the sinnes of the people, that God, who was accustomed to assist them, withdraweth his succour from them.

d Thou wilt declare thy selfe to be the preserver of thy Church, in destroying thine enemies, as thou didst in the red sea.

e As of all barbarous nations and farre off.

f He sheweth that there is no part nor creature in the world, which is not governed by Gods power and providence.

‡ Ebr. the going forth of the morning and of the evening.

g To wit, with raine.

h That is, Shiloah, or, the raine.

i Thou hast appointed the earth to bring foorth food to mans use.

3 Wicked deeds a haue preuailed against mee: but thou wilt bee mercifull vnto our transgressions.

4 Blessed is he, whom thou chusest, and causest to come to thee: hee shall dwell in thy courtes, and wee shall bee satisfied with the pleasures of thine House, euen of thine holy Temple.

5 O God of our saluation, thou wilt b answere vs with fearefull signes in thy righteousnesse, O thou the hope of all the endes of the earth, and of them that are farre off in the c sea.

6 He establisheth the mountaines by his power: and is girded about with strength.

7 He appeaseth the d noise of the seas, and the noise of the waues thereof, and the tumults of the people.

8 They also that dwell in the vttermost parts of the earth, shalbe afraid of thy signes: thou shalt make e the East and the West to reioyce.

9 Thou f visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou makest it very rich: the g River of God is full of water: thou preparest them corne: for so thou appointest h it.

10 Thou i waterest abundantly the furrowes thereof: thou causest the raine to descend into the valleys thereof: thou makest it soft with showres, & blessest the bud thereof.

11 Thou crownest the yeere with thy goodnesse, and thy steps dyop fatnesse.

12 They dyop vpon the pastures of the wildernesse: and the hilles shalbe compassed with gladnesse.

13 The pastures are clad with sheepe: the valleys also shalbe couered with corne: therefore they shout for ioy, k and sing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 He prouoketh all men to praise the Lord, and to consider his works. 6 He setteth forth the power of God to affray the rebels. 10 and sheweth how God hath deliuered Israel from great bondage and afflictions. 13 He promiseth to giue sacrifice, 16 and prouoketh all men to heare what God hath done for him, and to praise his Name.

To him that excelleth. A song or Psalme.

REioyce in God, a all ye inhabitants of the earth.

2 Sing foorth the glory of his Name: make his praise glorious.

3 Say vnto God, How terrible art thou in thy workes! through the greatnesse of thy power shall thine enemies be b in subiection vnto thee.

4 All the world shall worship thee, & sing vnto thee, euen sing of thy Name. Selah.

5 c Come and behold the works of God: he is terrible in his doing toward d the sonnes of men.

6 He hath turned the sea into dry land: they passed thorow the riuer on foote: there did we reioyce in him.

7 He ruleth the world with his power: his eyes behold the nations: the rebellious shall not e exalt themselues. Selah.

8 Praise our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard.

9 Which f holdeth our soules in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip.

10 For thou, O God, hast proued vs, thou hast tried vs as siluer is tried.

11 Thou hast brought vs into the g snare, and laid a strait chaine vpon our loines.

12 Thou hast caused men to ride ouer our heads: wee went into fire and into water, but thou broughtest vs out into a wealthie place.

13 I will goe in thine h house with burnt offrings, and will pay thee my vowes, 14 Which my lips haue promised, and my mouth hath spoken in mine affliction.

15 I will offer vnto thee the burnt offrings of fatte rammes with incense: I will prepare bullocks and goats. Selah.

16 i Come and hearken, all ye that feare God, and I will tell you what he hath done to my soule.

17 I called vnto him with my mouth, and he was exalted with my tongue.

18 k If I regarde wickednesse in mine heart, the Lord will not heare me.

19 But God hath heard me, and considered the voice of my prayer.

20 Praised be God, which hath not put backe my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

a He prouoketh the slouthfull dulnes of man, who is cold in the consideration of Gods works.

b He prophesieth that all nations shall come to the knowledge of God, who then was onely known in Iudea.

c As the faithfull shall obey God willingly, so the infidels for feare shall dissemble themselues to be subiect.

d His prouidence is wonderfull in maintaining their estate.

e He proueth that God will extend his grace also to the Gentiles, because he punisheth among them such as will not obey his calling.

f He signifieth some speciall benefit, that God hath shewed to his Church of the Iewes, in deliuering them from some great danger: whereof, or of the like he promiseth that the Gentiles shalbe partakers.

g The condition of the Church is here described, which is to be led by Gods prouidence into troubles, to be subiect vnder tyrants, and to enter into manifold dangers.

h The duety of the faithfull is here described, which are neuer vnmindfull to render God praise for his benefites.

i It is not enough to haue receiued God's benefits, and to be mindefull thereof, but also we are bound to make others to profite thereby, and praise God.

k If I delight in wickednesse, God will not heare me: but if I confesse it, he will receiue me.

PSAL. LXVII.

1 A prayer of the Church to obteine the fauour of God, and to bee lightened with his countenance, 3 to the ende that his way and iudgements may bee knowen thorowout the earth. 7 And finally is declared the kingdome of God, which should bee vniuersally erected at the comming of Christ.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme or song.

GOd bee mercifull vnto vs, and blesse vs, and a cause his face to shine among vs, (Selah)

2 That b they may know thy way vpon earth, and thy sauing health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

4 c Let the people bee glad and reioyce: for thou shalt iudge the people righteously, and gouerne the nations vpon the earth. Selah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

6 Then shall d the earth bring foorth her increase, a That is, mouue our hearts with his holy Spirit, that wee may feele his fauour toward vs.

b That both Iewes and Gentiles may know Gods couenant made with them.

c By these oft repetitions, he sheweth that the people can neuer reioyce sufficiently, and giue thankes for the great benefites that they shall receiue vnder the kingdome of Christ.

d Hee sheweth that where God gouerneth, there shall be abundance of all other things.

increase, and God, euen our God shall blesse vs.

7 God shall blesse vs, and all the endes of the earth [e] shall feare him.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 In this Psalme Dauid setteth forth as in a glasse the wonderfull mercies of God toward his people: 5 Who by all meanes and most strange sorts declared himselfe to them. 15 And therfore Gods Church by reason of his promises, graces and victories doth excell without comparison all worldly things. 34 Hee exhorteth therefore all men to praise God for euer.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme or song of Dauid.

GOD [a] will arise, and his enemies shall be scattered: they also that hate him, shal flee before him.

2 As the smoke vanisheth, so shalt thou driue them away: and as waxe melteth before the fire, so shall the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 [b] But the righteous shall be glad & reioyce before God: yea, they shal leape for ioy.

4 Sing vnto God, and sing praises vnto his name: exalt him, that rideth vpon the heauens, in his Name [c] Iah, and reioyce before him.

5 He is a Father of the fatherlesse, and a Iudge of the widowes, euen God in his holy habitation.

6 God [d] maketh the solitarie to dwell in families, and deliuereth them that were prisoners in the stocks: but the rebellious shall dwell in a [e] dry land.

7 [f] O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people: when thou wentest thorow the wildernesse, (Selah)

8 The earth shooke, and the heauens dropped at the presence of this God: euen Sinai was moued at the presence of God, euen the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, sendest a gracious rain vpon thine inheritance, and thou didst refresh it when it was wearie.

10 Thy congregation dwelled therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy [g] goodnesse prepared it for the poore.

11 The Lord gaue matter to the [h] women to tell of the great armie.

12 Kings of the armies did flee: they did flee, and [i] she that remained in the house, diuided the spoile.

13 Though ye haue lien among [k] pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a Doue that is couered with siluer, and whose feathers are like yellow gold.

14 [l] When the Almighty scattered kings in it, it was white as the snow in Zalmon.

15 [m] The mountaine of God is like the mountain of Bashan: it is an high mountain, as mount Bashan.

16 [n] Why leape ye, ye high mountaines? as for this Mountaine, God delighteth to dwell in it: yea, the Lord will dwell in it for euer.

17 The Charets of God are twentie thousand thousand Angels, and the Lorde is among them, as in the Sanctuarie of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone vp on high: thou hast led captiuitie captiue, & receiued gifts for men: yea, euen the rebellious hast thou led, that the Lord God might dwell there.

19 Praised be the Lord, euen the God of our saluation, which ladeth vs daily with benefits, Selah.

20 This is our God, euen the God that saueth vs: and to the Lorde God belong the [p] issues of death.

21 Surely God will wound the head of his enemies, and the hairie pate of him that walketh in his sinnes.

22 The Lord hath sayd, I will bring my people againe from [q] Bashan: I will bring them againe from the depths of the sea:

23 That thy foote may be dipped in blood, and the tongue of thy dogges in the blood of the enemies, euen in [r] it.

24 They haue seene, O God, thy [s] goings, the goings of my God, and my King, which are in the Sanctuary.

25 The [t] singers went before, the players of instruments after: in the middes were the mayds playing with timbrels.

26 Praise ye God in the assemblies, & the Lord, ye that are of the fountaine [u] of Israel.

27 There was [x] little Beniamin with their [y] ruler, and the princes of Iudah with their assembly, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy God hath appointed thy strength: stablish, O God, that, which thou hast wrought in vs.

29 [z] Out of thy temple vpon Ierusalem: and kings shall bring presents vnto thee.

30 Destroy the company of the speare-men, and multitude of the mighty bulles with the calues of the people, that [a] treade vnder feete pieces of siluer: scatter the people that delight in warre.

31 Then shall the princes come out [b] of Egypt: Ethiopia shall haste to stretch her hands vnto God.

32 Sing vnto God, O ye kingdomes of the earth: sing praise vnto the Lord, (Selah)

33 To him that rideth vpon the most hie heauens, which were from the beginning: behold, he will send out by his [c] voice a mighty sound.

34 Ascribe the power to God: for his ma-

[a] The Prophet sheweth that albeit God suffreth the wicked tyrants to oppresse his Church for a time, yet at length he will be reuenged of them.

[b] He sheweth that when God declareth his power against the wicked, that it is for the commoditie and saluation of his Church, which praise him therefore.

[c] Iah and Iehouah are the names of God, which doe signifie his essence and maiestie incomprehensible, so that hereby is declared, that all idols are but vanitie, and that the God of Israel is the onely true God.

[d] He giueth children to them that be childlesse, and increaseth their families.

[e] Which is barren of Gods blessings, which before they had abused.

[f] He teacheth that Gods fauor peculiarly belongeth to his Church, as appeareth by their wonderfull deliuerance out of Egypt. [g] God blessed the land of Canaan because he had chosen that place for his Church. [h] The fashion then was, that women sang songs after the victorie, as Miriam, Deborah, Iudith and others. [i] The pray was so great, that not onely the souldiers, but women also had part thereof. [k] Though God suffer his Church for a time to lie in blacke darknesse, yet hee will restore it and make it most shining and white. [l] In the land of Canaan, where his Church was. [m] Zion the Church of God doeth excell all worldly things, not in pompe and outward shew, but by the inward grace of God, which there remaineth, because of his dwelling there.

[n] Why boast ye of your strength and beautie against this mountaine of God?

[o] As God ouercame the enemies of his Church, tooke them prisoners, and made them tributaries: so Christ, which is God manifested in flesh, subdued Satan and sinne vnder vs, & gaue vnto his Church most liberall gifts of his spirit, Eph. 4.8.

[p] In most extreme dangers God hath infinite wayes to deliuer his.

[q] As he deliuered his Church once from Og of Bashan, & other tyrants, and from the dangers of the red sea, so will he still do as oft as necessitie requireth.

[r] That is, in the blood of that great slaughter, where dogges shall lap blood.

[s] That is, how thou, which art chiefe King, goest out with thy people to warre, and giuest them the victorie.

[t] He describeth the order of the people, when they went to the Temple to giue thankes for the victory.

[u] Which come of the Patriarke Iaakob.

[x] Beniamin is called little, because he was the yongest sonne of Iaakob.

[y] Who was some chiefe ruler of the tribe.

[z] Declare out of thine holy palace thy power for the defence of thy Church Ierusalem.

[a] Hee desireth that the pride of the mighty may be destroyed, which accustomed to garnish their shooes with siluer: and therefore for their glittering pompe, thought themselues aboue all men.

[b] He prophesieth that the Gentiles shall come to the true knowledge and worship of God.

[c] By his terrible thunders he will make himselfe to be knowen the God of all the world.

lesty is vpon Israel, and his strength is in the clouds.

35 O God, thou art d terrible out of thine holy places: the God of Israel is hee that giueth strength and power vnto the people: praised be God.

d In shewing fearefull iudgements against thine enemies, for the saluation of thy people.

e He alludeth to the Tabernacle which was diuided into three parts.

PSAL. LXIX.

1 The complaints, prayers, feruent zeale & great anguish of Dauid is set forth as a figure of Christ and all his members: 21 The malicious cruelties of the enemies, 22 and their punishments also, 26 where Iudas and such traitours are accursed. 30 He gathereth courage in his affliction, and offereth praises vnto God, 32 which are more acceptable then all sacrifices: wherevnto all the afflicted may take comfort. 35 Finally hee doth prouoke all creatures to praise, prophesying of the kingdome of Christ, and the preseruation of the Church, where all the faithfull, 37 and their seed shall dwell for euer.

a Of Shoshannim, reade Psal. 45.

b Dauid signifieth by the waters, in what great dangers he was, out of the which God did deliuer him.

c No firmity or stablenesse to settle my feet.

d Though his senses failed him, yet his faith was constant and incouraged him still to pray.

e Condemning me guiltlesse.

f They iudged me poore innocent as a thiefe, and gaue my goods to others, as though I had stollen them.

g Though I be guiltie to theeward, yet am I innocent toward them.

h Let not mine euill intreatie of the enemies be an occasion, that the faithfull fall from thee.

i When I saw thine enemies pretend thy Name onely in mouth, & in their life denie the same, thine holy spirit thrust me forward, to reproue them, and defend thy glory.

k My zeale moued to lament, and pray for my saluation.

l The more hee sought to winne them to God, the more they were against him, both poore and rich.

m Knowing that albeit I suffer nowe trouble, yet thou hast a time, wherein thou hast appointed my deliuerance.

To him that excelleth vpon a Shoshannim. A Psalme of Dauid.

SAue me, O God: for the b waters are entred euen to my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe mire, where no c stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is dry: mine d eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

4 They that hate mee without a cause, are moe then the haires of my head: they that would destroy mee, and are mine enemies e falsly, are mightie, so that I restored that which I f tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my g foolishnes, and my faults are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, be ashamed for h mee: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers sonnes.

9 i For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I k wept, and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that l sate in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an m acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the trueth of thy saluation.

14 Deliuer me out of the mire, that I sinke not: let mee be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the n deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood drowne mee, neither let the deepe swallow mee vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare mee, O Lorde, for thy louing kindnesse is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And o hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare me.

18 Draw neere vnto my soule, & redeeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast knowen my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine p aduersaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauinesse, and q I looked for some to haue pity on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

21 For they gaue me gall in my meat, and in my thirst they gaue me vineger to drinke.

22 Let their r table be a snare before them, and their prosperitie their ruine.

23 Let their eyes bee blinded, that they see not: and make their s loynes alway to tremble.

24 Powre out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull displeasure take them.

25 t Let their habitation be void, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him, whome thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorow of them, whom thou hast wounded.

PSAL. LXX.

1 He prayeth to bee right speedily deliuered, 2 He desireth the shame of his enemies, 4 and the ioyfull comfort of all those that seeke the Lord.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid to put in [a] remembrance.

O God, [b] haste thee to deliuer me: make haste to helpe me, O Lord.

2 Let them bee [c] confounded and put to shame, that seeke my soule: let them bee turned backeward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

3 Let them be turned backe for a reward of their [d] shame, which sayd, Aha, aha.

4 But let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee, and let all that loue thy saluation, say alwayes, God be praised.

5 Now I am [e] poore & needy: O God, make haste to me: thou art mine helper, and my deliuerer: O Lord, make no tarying.

a Which might put him in remembrance of his deliuerance. Psal. 40. 13.

b He teacheth vs to be earnest in prayer, though God seeme to stay: for at his time he will heare vs.

c He was assured that the more they raged, the neerer they were to destruction, and he the neerer to his deliuerance.

d Hereby wee are taught not to mocke at others in their misery, lest the same fall on our owne neckes.

e Because hee had felt Gods helpe before, hee groundeth on experience, and boldly seeketh vnto him for succour.

PSAL. LXXI.

1 He prayeth in faith, established by the word of the promise, 5 and confirmed by the worke of God from his youth, 10 He complaineth of the cruelsie of his enemies, 17 and desireth God to continue his graces toward him, 22 promising to bee mindfull and thankefull for the same.

Psal. 31. 1.

IN [a] thee, O Lord, I trust: let mee neuer be ashamed.

2 Rescue me and deliuer me in thy [b] righteousnesse: encline thine eare vnto mee, and saue me.

3 Bee thou my strong rocke, whereunto I may alway resort: thou [c] hast giuen commaundement to saue mee: for thou art my rocke, and my fortresse.

4 Deliuer mee, O my God, out of the hand [d] of the wicked: out of the hand of the euill and cruell man.

5 For thou art mine hope, O Lord God, euen my [e] trust from my youth.

6 Vpon thee haue I beene stayed from the wombe: thou art hee that tooke me out of my mothers bowels: my praise shalbe alwayes of thee.

7 I am become as it were [f] a monster vnto many: but thou art my sure trust.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, and with thy glory euery day.

9 Cast me not off in the time of age: forsake me not when my strength faileth.

10 For mine enemies speake of mee, and they that lay waite for my soule, take their counsell together, 11 Saying, [g] God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.

12 Goe not farre from me, O God: [h] my God, haste thee to helpe me.

13 Let them be confounded and consumed that are against my soule: let them be couered with reproofe and confusion, that seeke mine hurt.

14 But I will wait continually, and will praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall dayly rehearse thy righteousnesse, and thy saluation: [k] for I know not the number.

16 I will go [l] forward in the strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousnesse, euen of thine onely.

17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth euen vntill now: therefore will I tell of thy wondrous workes, 18 [m] Yea, euen vnto mine olde age and gray head, O God: forsake me not, vntill I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, & thy power to all them that shall come.

19 And thy [n] righteousnesse, O God, I will exalt on hie: for thou hast done great things: [o] O God, who is like vnto thee!

20 Which hast shewed mee great troubles and [p] aduersities, but thou wilt returne and reuiue me, & wilt come againe, and take me vp from the depth of the earth.

21 Thou wilt increase mine honour, and returne and comfort me.

22 Therefore will I praise thee for thy [q] faithfulnesse, O God, vpon instrument and viole: vnto thee will I sing vpon the harpe, O holy one of Israel.

23 My lips will reioyce when I sing vnto thee, and my [r] soule, which thou hast deliuered.

24 My tongue also shal talke of thy righteousnes dayly: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seeke mine hurt.

d Hereby wee are taught not to mocke at others in their misery, lest the same fall on our owne neckes.

e Because hee had felt Gods helpe before, hee groundeth on experience, and boldly seeketh vnto him for succour.

f All the world wondereth at me because of my miseries, as well they in authoritie, as the common people: yet being assured of thy fauour I remained stedfast.

g Thou that diddest helpe me in my youth, when I had more strength, helpe me now so much the more in mine olde age & weakenesse.

h Thus the wicked both blaspheme God, and triumph against his Saints, as though he had forsaken them, if he suffer them to fall into their hands.

i In calling him his God, hee putteth backe the false reports of the aduersaries that sayd, God had forsaken him.

k Because thy benefits toward me are innumerable, I cannot but continually meditate and rehearse them.

l I will remaine stedfast, being vpholden with the power of God.

m He desireth that as he hath begun, he would so continue his benefits, that his liberalitie may haue perfect praise.

n Thy iust performance of thy promise.

q Hee confesseth that his long tariance was well recompensed, when his promise.

r For there is no true praising of God, except it come from the heart: and therefore he promiseth to delight in nothing, but wherein God may be glorified.

PSAL. LXXII.

1 He prayeth for the prosperous estate of the kingdome of Salomon, who was the figure of Christ, 4 vnder whom shalbe righteousnesse, peace and felicity, 10 vnto whom all kings and nations shall doe homage, 17 whose name and power shall endure for euer, and in whom all nations shalbe blessed.

¶ A Psalme [a] of Salomon.

GIue thy [b] iudgements to the king, O God, and thy righteousnes to the kings [c] sonne.

2 Then shall he iudge thy people in righteousnesse, and thy poore with equitie.

3 The [d] mountaines and the hilles shall bring peace to the people by iustice.

4 Hee shall [e] iudge the poore of the people: hee shall saue the children of the needie, and shall subdue the oppressour.

5 They shall [f] feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth, from generation to generation.

a Composed by Dauid as touching the reigne of his sonne Salomon.

b Endue the king with the spirit of wisedome and iustice that hee reigne not as do the worldlyty-rants.

c To wit, to his posteritie.

d When iustice reigneth, euen the places most barren shall be enriched with thy blessings.

e Hee sheweth wherefore the sword is committed to kings: to wit, to defend the innocent, and suppresse the wicked.

f The people shall imbrace the true religion, when thou giuest a king, that ruleth according to thy word.

g As this is true in all godly Kings, so is it chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heauenly dew maketh his Church euer to flourish.

h That is, from the red sea, to the sea called Syriacum, and from Euphrates forward: meaning, that Christes kingdome should be large and vniuersall.

i Of Cilicia and of all other countreys beyond the sea, which he meaneth by the yles.

k That is, of Arabia that rich countrey, whereof Sheba was a part bordering vpon Ethiopia.

l Though tyrants passe not to shed blood, yet this godly King shall preserue his subiects from all kinde of wrong.

m God will both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him.

n Vnder such a King shall be most great plentie both of fruit, and also of the increase of mankinde.

o They shal pray to God for his continuance, and know that God doeth prosper them for his sake.

p Hee confesseth that except God miraculously preserue his people, that neither the King nor the kingdome can continue.

q Concerning his sonne Salomon.

6 Yee shall come r downe like the raine vpon the mowen grasse, and as the showers that water the earth.

7 In his dayes shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace shall be so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall bee also from s sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the endes of the land.

9 They that dwel in the wildernes, shal kneele before him, and his enemies shal licke the dust.

10 The Kings of t Tarshish and of the yles shal bring presents: the kings u of Sheba and Seba shall bring gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shall worship him: all nations shall serue him.

12 For he shall deliuer the poore when he crieth: the needy also, and him that hath no helper.

13 Yee shall be mercifull to the poore and needie, and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 Ye shall redeeme their soules from deceit and violence, and x deare shal their blood be in his sight.

15 Yea, hee shall liue, and vnto him shall they giue of the y golde of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and dayly blesse him.

16 An handfull of corne shall bee sowen in the earth, euen in the toppe of the z Mountaines, and the a fruit thereof shall shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shall flourish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.

17 His name shall bee for euer: his name shall endure as long as the Sunne: all nations shall blesse b him, and bee blessed in him.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Israel, which onely doeth c wonderous things.

19 And blessed be his glorious Name for euer: and let all the earth be filled with his glory. So be it, euen so be it.

HERE END THE d prayers of Dauid the sonne of Ishai.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperitie of the vngodly, 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: 16 but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers prouidence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 Foreseeing as the wicked vanish away, 24 And the godly enter into life euerlasting: 28 In hope whereof, he resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

¶ A Psalme committed to Asaph.

e As it were betweene hope and despaire he bursteth foorth into this affection, being assured that God would continue his fauour toward such as were godly in deede, and not hypocrites.

YEt f God is good to Israel: euen to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my steps had wel nere slipt.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are g no bandes in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

6 h Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them, and cruelitie couereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnesse: they haue more then heart can wish.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

9 They i set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh thorow the earth.

10 Therefore his k people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they l say, how doth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most hie?

12 Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

13 Certainely I haue cleansed my heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

14 For daily haue I bene punished, and chastened euery morning.

15 If I say, m I will iudge thus, beholde the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painefull for me, 17 Until I went into the n Sanctuary of God: then vnderstood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slipperie places, & castest them downe into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and o horribly consumed, 20 As a dreame when one awaketh? O Lord, when p thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despised.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reines:

22 So foolish was I and ignorant: I was a q beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway r with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsell, and afterward receiue me to glory.

25 Whom haue I in s heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth, and mine heart also: but God t is the strength of mine heart, and my u portion for euer:

27 For lo, they that withdraw themselues from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that x go a whoring from thee.

b The wicked in this life liue at pleasure, and are not drawen to death like prisoners: that is, by sicknesse, which is deaths messenger.

c They glory in their pride, as some do in their chaines: and in cruelnie, as some do in apparell.

d Or, they passe the desires of the heart.

d They blaspheme God & feare not his power, and raile vpon men, because they esteeme themselues aboue all others.

e Not only the reprobate, but also the people of God often times fall backe, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are ouerwhelmed with sorrowes, thinking that God considereth not aright the state of the godly.

f Thus the flesh mocketh euen the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate, and the prosperitie of the wicked.

g If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy prouidence, seeing thou dispossest all things most wisely, and preseruest thy children in their greatest dangers.

h Vntill I entred into thy schoole, and learned by thy worde and holy spirit, that thou orderest all things most wisely & iustly.

i By thy fearefull iudgement.

k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heauenly scitchie, wee contemne all their vaine pompe.

l For the more that man goeth about by his owne reason to seeke out Gods iudgements, the more doeth hee declare himselfe a beast.

m By faith I was assured that thy prouidence did watch alwayes ouer me to preserue me.

n He sought neither help nor comfort of any saue of God onely.

o He teacheth vs to denie our selues, to haue God our whole sufficiencie, and onely contentment.

p That is, forsake thee to seeke others.

28 As for me, it is good for me q to draw neere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

q Though all the worlde shrinke from God, yet hee promiseth to trust in him, and to magnifie his workes.

1 The faithfull complaine of the destruction of the Church and true religion, 3 Vnder the name of Zion, and the Temple destroyed: 11 And trusting in the might and free mercies of God, 20 By his couenant, 21 They require helpe and succour for the glory of Gods holy Name, for the saluation of his poore afflicted seruants, 23 And the confusion of his proud enemies.

¶ A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

O God, a why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled against the sheepe of thy pasture?

2 Thinke vpon thy Congregation, which thou hast possessed of olde, and on the b rod of thine inheritance which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift vp thy‖ strokes, that thou mayest for euer destroy euery enemie that doth euill in the Sanctuary.

4 Thine aduersaries roare in the midst of c thy Congregation, and d set vp their banners for signes.

5 He that e lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was renowned, as one, that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But nowe they breake downe the carued worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast thy Sanctuary into the fire, and rased it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their f hearts, Let vs destroy them altogether: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signes: there is not one Prophet more, nor any with vs that knoweth g how long.

10 O God, how long shall the aduersary reproch thee? shall the enemie blaspheme thy Name for euer?

11 Why withdrawest thou thy hande, euen thy right hande? h draw it out of thy bosome, and consume them.

12 Euen God is my king of old, working saluation i in the mids of the earth.

13 Thou didest deuide the sea by thy power: thou brakest the heades of the k dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of l Leuiathan in peeces, and gauest him to be l meate for the people in wildernes.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine and riuer: thou driedst vp mightie riuers.

16 The m day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light & the sun.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemie hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Giue not the soule of thy n turtle dout vnto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poore for euer.

20 Consider thy couenant: for o the darke places of the earth are ful of the habitations of the cruell.

21 Oh let not the oppressed returne ashamed, but let the poore and needie praise thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: maintaine thine owne cause: remember thy dayly reproch by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: for the tumult of them, that rise against thee, ‖ ascendeth continually.

c Which were the people of God.

d By the testimonie and law, he meaneth the law written, which they were commanded to teach their children, Deut. 6.7.

e He sheweth wherein the children should be like their fathers, that is, in maintaining God's pure religion.

f He sheweth wherein the vse of this doctrine standeth: in faith, in the meditation of Gods benefits, and in obedience.

g Though these fathers were the seede of Abraham and the chosen people, yet he sheweth by their rebellion, provocation, falshood and hypocrisie, that the children ought not to followe their examples.

h By Ephraim he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth that they were vnfaithfull to God, and by their multitude and authoritie had corupt all others.

i He prooveth that not onely the posteritie, but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God, Exod. 14.21. Exod. 14.24. Exod. 17.6. numb. 20.11. Psalm. 105.41. 1.Cor. 10.4. wisd. 11.4.

5 Howe hee established a [d] testimonie in Iaakob, and ordeined a Lawe in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children:

6 That the [e] posteritie might know it, & the children which should be borne, should stand vp, and declare it to their children:

7 That they might [f] set their hope on God, and not forget the works of God, but keepe his commandements:

8 And not to be as their [g] fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithfull vnto God.

9 The children of [h] Ephraim being armed, and shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battell.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, but refused to walke in his law, 11 And forgate his acts, and his wonderfull works that he had shewed them.

12 He did marueilous things in the sight of their [i] fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.

13 * He diuided the sea, and led them thorow: hee made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 * In the day time also hee ledde them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 * He claue the rocks in the wildernesse, & gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 * He brought floods also out of the stony rocke, so that hee made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they [k] sinned still against him, and prouoked the Highest in the wildernesse, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in [l] requiring meat for their lust.

19 * They spake against God also, saying, Can God [m] prepare a table in the wildernesse?

20 * Beholde, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lorde heard and was angry, and the * fire was kindled in Iaakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel, 22 Because they beleeued not in God, and [n] trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the * clouds aboue, and had opened the doores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheat of heauen.

25 * Man did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meat enough.

26 He caused the [p] East winde to passe in the heauen, and through his power her brought in the South winde.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered foule as the sand of the sea.

28 And hee made it fall in the middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat and were well filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their [q] lust, but the meat was yet in their mouthes, 31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and slew [r] the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they [s] sinned still, and beleeued not his wonderous works.

33 Therefore their dayes did he consume in vanitie, and their yeeres hastily.

34 And when hee [t] slewe them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God earely.

35 And they remembred that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their [u] heart was not vpright with him: neither were they faithfull in his couenant.

38 Yet hee being mercifull [x] forgaue their iniquitie, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his anger, and did not stirre vp all his wrath.

39 For hee remembred that they were flesh: yea, a wind that passeth and commeth not againe.

40 Howe oft did they prouoke him in the wildernesse? and grieue him in the desert?

41 Yea, they [y] returned, and tempted God, and [z] limited the holy one of Israel.

42 They [a] remembred not his hande, nor the day when hee deliuered them from the enemie,

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan, 44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drinke.

45 He sent [b] a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, and frogges, which destroyed them.

46 Hee [c] gaue also their fruites vnto the caterpiller, and their labour vnto the grashopper.

47 Hee destroyed their vines with haile, and their wilde figtrees with the hailestone.

48 He gaue their cattell also to the haile, and their flocks to the thunder bolts.

49 He cast vpon them the fiercenesse of his anger, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the sending out of [d] euill angels.

50 He made a way to his anger: he spared p God vsed the meanes of the winde to teach them, that all elements were at his commandement, and that no distance of place could let his working.

q Such is the nature of concupiscence, that the more it hath, the more it lusteth.

r Though other were not spared, yet chiefly they suffered, which trusted in their strength against God.

s Thus sinne by continuance, maketh men insensible, so that by no plagues they can be amended.

t Such was their hypocrisie, that they sought vnto God for feare of punishment, though in their heart they loued him not.

u What soeuer commeth not from the pure fountaine of the heart, is hypocrisie.

x Because hee would euer haue some remnant of a Church to praise his name in earth, he suffered not their sinnes to ouercome his mercy.

y That is, they tempted him oft times.

z As they all do that measure the power of God by their capacitie.

a The forgetfulnesse of Gods benefites is the root of rebellion and all vice.

b This word signifieth a confused mixture of flies and venemous wormes. Some take it for all sortes of Serpents: some for all wilde beastes.

c Hee repeateth not here all the miracles that God did in Egypt, but certaine which might bee sufficient to conuince the people of malice and ingratitude.

d So called, either of the effect, that is, of punishing the wicked, or else because they were wicked spirits, whom God permitted to vexe men.

l Then to require more then is necessarie, and to separate Gods power from his will, is to tempt God. Numb. 11.1.

m Thus when we giue place to sinne, we are moued to doubt of Gods power, except he will alwaye be ready to serue our lust. Exod. 17.16. numb. 20.11. psal. 105.41. 1.cor. 10.4. Numb. 11.1.

n That is, in his Fatherly prouidence, whereby he careth for his, and prouideth sufficiently.

o So that they had that, which was necessarie and sufficient: but their lust made them to couet that which they knewe God had denied them. Job. 6.31. 1.cor. 10.3.

not their soule from death, but gaue their life to the pestilence, 51 And smote all the first borne in Egypt, euen the e beginning of their strength in the tabernacles of f Ham.

52 But he made his people to goe out like sheepe, and led them in the wildernesse like a flocke.

53 Yea, hee caried them out safely, and they g feared not, and the Sea couered their enemies.

54 And hee brought them vnto the borders of his h Sanctuary: euen to this Mountaine, which his right hand purchased.

55 * Hee cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, & kept not his testimonies, 57 But turned backe and dealt i faithlesly like their fathers: they turned like a deceitfull bow.

58 And they k prouoked him to anger with their high places, and mooued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard this and was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel,

60 So that hee l forsooke the habitation of Shilo, euen the Tabernacle where hee dwelt among men, 61 And deliuered his * power into captiuitie, and his beautie into the enemies hand.

62 And hee gaue vp his people to the sword, and was angry with his inheritance.

63 The fire * deuoured their chosen men, and their mayds were not * praised.

64 Their Priests fell by the sword, and their p widowes lamented not.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of sleepe, and as a strong man that after his q wine crieth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a perpetuall shame.

67 Yet he refused the tabernacle of r Ioseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Iudah, and mount Zion which he loued.

69 And hee s built his Sanctuarie as an high palace, like the earth, which he stablished for euer.

70 He chose Dauid also his seruant, and tooke him from the sheepefolds.

71 Euen from behinde the ewes with yong brought hee him to feede his people in Iaakob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So t he fed them according to the simplicitie of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

PSAL. LXXIX.

1 The Israelites complaine to God for the great calamitie and oppression that they suffered by Gods enemies, 8 and confessing their sinnes, flee to Gods mercies with full hope of deliuerance, 10 because their calamities were ioyned with the contempt of his Name, 13 for the which they promise to bee thankefull.

¶ A Psalme committed to Asaph.

O God, a the Heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Ierusalem heapes of stones.

2 The b dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to bee meate vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy Saints vnto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood haue they shed like waters round about Ierusalem, and there was none to c bury them.

4 We are a reproch to our d neighbours, euen a scorne and derision vnto them that are round about vs.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou bee angry, for euer? shall thy iealousie e burne like fire?

6 * Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee, and vpon the kingdoms that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For they haue deuoured Iaakob, and made his dwelling place desolate.

8 Remember not against vs the f former iniquities, but s make haste, and let thy tender mercies preuent vs: for we are in great miserie.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our h saluation, for the glory of thy Name, and deliuer vs, and be merciull vnto our sinnes for thy Names sake.

10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let him bee knowen among the heathen in our sight by the vengeance of the blood of thy seruants that is shed.

11 Let the sighing of the i prisoners come before thee: according to thy mightie arme preserue k the children of death, 12 And render to our neighbours seuen fold into their bosome their reproch, wherewith they haue reproched thee, O Lord.

13 So wee thy people, and sheepe of thy pasture shall praise thee for euer: and from generation to generation l we will set forth thy praise.

a The people cry vnto God against the barbarous tyrannie of the Babylonians, who spoyled Gods inheritance, polluted his Temple, destroyed his religion, and murthered his people.

b The Prophet sheweth to what extremities God suffereth sometime his Church to fall, to exercise their faith before he set to his hand to deliuer them.

c Their friends and kinsfolkes durst not bury them for feare of the enemies.

d Whereof some came of Abraham, but were degenerate; and others were open enemies to thy religion, but they both laughed at our miseries.

e Wilt thou vtterly consume vs for our sinnes, before thou take vs to mercie? Ier. 10. 25.

f Which we and our fathers haue committed.

g And stay not till we haue recompensed for our sinnes.

h Seeing wee haue none other Sauiour, neither can wee helpe our selues, and also by our saluation thy Name shalbe praised, therefore, O Lord, helpe vs.

i Who though in respect of God they were iustly punished for their sinnes, yet in consideration of their cause, were vniustly murthered.

k Which were captiues among their enemies, and could looke for nothing but death.

l We ought to desire no benefite of God, but on this condition to praise his Name, Isa 43. 21.

g That is, they had none occasion to feare, for almuch as God destroyed their enemies, and deliuered them safely.

h Meaning Canaan, which God had consecrate to himselfe, and appointed to his people. Iosh. 11. 6. and 13. 6.

i Nothing more displeaseth God in the children, then when they continue in that wickednes, which their fathers had begun.

k By serving God otherwise then he had appointed.

l For their ingratitude he suffered the Philistims to take the Arke, which was the signe of his presence, from among them.

m The Arke is called his power and beautie, because thereby he defended his people, & beautifully appeared vnto them.

n They were suddenly destroyed, 2. Sam. 4. 10.

o They had no marriage songs: that is, they were not married.

p Either they were slaine before, or taken prisoners of their enemies, and so were forbidden.

q Because they were drunken in their sinnes, they iudged Gods patience to be a slumbring, as though he were drunken: therefore he answering their beastly iudgement, saith, hee will awake and take sudden vengeance.

r Shewing that he spared not altogether the Israelites, though he punished their enemies.

s By building the Temple and establishing the kingdome, hee declareth that the signes of his fauour were among them.

a This Psalme was made as a prayer to desire God to be mercifull to the ten tribes, c Ioyne thy whole people and all thy tribes together againe.

d The faithfull feare Gods anger, when they perceiue that their prayers are not forthwith heard.
e Our neighbours haue continuall strife and warre against vs.
f Because that repentance onely commeth of God, they most instantly and oft times call to God for it, as a meane whereby they shalbe saued.

2 Before Ephraim and Beniamin and Manasseh stirre vp thy strength, and come to helpe vs.
3 c Turne vs againe, O God, and cause thy face to shine that we may be saued.
4 O Lord God of hostes, how long wilt thou bee d angry against the prayer of thy people?
5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of teares, & giuen them teares to drinke with great measure.
6 Thou hast made vs a e strife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among themselues.
7 f Turne vs againe, O God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saued.
8 Thou hast brought a ‡ vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.
9 Thou madest roome for it, and diddest cause it to take roote, and it filled the land.
10 The mountaines were couered with the shadowe of it, and the boughes thereof were like the ‡ goodly cedars.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the way, haue plucked her?
13 The wilde i boze out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wilde beasts of the field haue eaten it vp.
14 Returne wee beseech thee, O God of hostes: k looke downe l from heauen and beholde and visite this vine, 15 And the vineyard, that thy right hand hath planted, and the yong vine, which thou madest l strong for thy selfe.
16 It is burnt with fire, and cut downe: and they perish at the m rebuke of thy countenance.
17 Let thine hand bee vpon the n man of thy right hand, and vpon the sonne of man, who thou madest strong for thine owne selfe.

19 Turne vs againe, O Lord God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shalbe saued.

PSAL. LXXXI.

1 An exhortation to praise God both in heart and voyce for his benefits, 8 and to worship him only. 11 God condemneth their ingratitude, 12 and sheweth what great benefites they haue lost through their owne malice.

a An instrument of musik brought from Geth.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Gittith. A Psalme committed to Asaph.

SIng b ioyfully vnto God our strength: sing loud vnto the God of Iaakob.
2 Take the song, and bring forth the timbrell, the pleasant harpe with the viole.
3 Blow the trumpet in the c new moone, euen in the time appointed, at our feast day.
4 For this is a statute for Israel, and a Law of the God of Iaakob.
5 We set this in d Joseph for a testimonie, when hee came out of the land of Egypt, where I heard a language, that e I vnderstood not.
6 I haue withdrawen his shoulder from the burden, and his hands haue left the f pots.
7 Thou calledst in affliction, and I deliuered thee, and g answered thee in the secret of the thunder: I proued thee at the waters of ‖ Meribah. Selah.
8 h Heare, O my people, and I will protest vnto thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken vnto me, 9 And wilt haue no strange god in thee, neither worship any strange god,
10 (For I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt) i open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.
11 But my people would not heare my voyce, and Israel would none of me.
12 So I gaue them vp vnto the hardnesse of their heart, and they haue walked in their owne counsels.
13 k Oh that my people had hearkened vnto me, and Israel had walked in my wayes!
14 I would soone haue humbled their enemies, and turned mine hand l against their aduersaries.
15 The haters of the Lord should haue bene subiect vnto him, & their time m should haue endured for euer.
16 And God would haue fed them with the n fat of wheate, and with hony out of the rocke would I haue sufficed thee.

b It seemeth that this Psalme was appointed for solemne feasts and assemblies of the people, to whom for a time these ceremonies were ordained, but now vnder the Gospel are abolished.
c Vnder this feast he comprehendeth all other solemne dayes.
d That is, in Israel: for Iosephs family was counted the chiefe before that Iudah was preferred.
e God speaketh in the person of the people, because he was their leader.
f If they were neuer able to giue sufficient thanks to God for this deliuerance from corporall bondage, how much more are we indebted to him for our spirituall deliuerance from the tyrannie of Satan and sinne?
g By a strange and wonderfull fashion.

‖ Or, contention, Exod. 17. 7. h He condemneth all assemblies, where the people are not attentiue to heare Gods voyce, and to giue obedience to the same. i God accuseth their incredulitie, because they opened not their mouthes to receiue Gods benefits in such abundance as he powreth them out. k God by his word calleth all, but his secret election appointeth who shall beare with fruit. l If their sinnes had not letted. m If the Israelites had not broken couenant with God, hee would haue giuen them victory against their enemies. n That is, with most fine wheate and abundance of hony.

1 The people of Iſrael pray vnto the Lord to deliuer them from their enemies both at home and farre off, which imagined nothing but their deſtruction. 9 And they deſire that all ſuch wicked people may, according as God was accuſtomed, bee ſtriken with the ſtormie tempeſt of Gods wrath, 18 That they may know that the Lord is moſt high vpon the earth.

A ſong or Pſalme committed to Aſaph.

b Hee calleth them Gods enemies, which are enemies to his Church.
c The elect of God are his ſecret ones: for he hideth them in the ſecret of his tabernacle, and preſerueth them from all dangers.

i But will from time to time increaſe his bleſſings toward his more and more.

PSAL. LXXXV.

1 Becauſe God withdrew not his rodde from his Church after their returne from Babylon, firſt they put him in minde of their deliuerence, to the intent that hee ſhould not leaue the worke of his grace vnperfite. 5 Next they complaine of their long afflicti-

stition: 8 And shortly they reioyce in hope of felicitie promised. 9 For their deliuerance was a figure of Christs kingdome, vnder the which should be perfect felicitie.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

a They confesse that Gods free mercie was the cause of their deliuerance, because he loued the land which he had chosen.

LORD, thou hast bene a fauourable vnto thy land: thou hast brought againe the captiuitie of Iaakob.

2 Thou hast forgiuen the iniquitie of thy people, and b couered all their sinnes. Selah.

3 Thou hast withdrawen all thine anger, and hast turned backe from the c fiercenesse of thy wrath.

b Thou hast buried them that they shall not come into iudgement.

4 Turne vs, O God of our saluation, and release thine anger towards vs.

5 Wilt thou be angry with vs d for euer? and wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generation to another?

c Not onely in withdrawing thy rod, but in forgiuing our sinnes, and in touching our hearts to confesse them.

6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs, that thy people may reioyce in thee?

7 Shew vs thy mercie, O LORDE, and graunt vs thy a saluation.

d As in times past they had felt Gods mercies: so now being oppressed by the long continuance of euils, they pray vnto God, that according to his nature he would be mercifull vnto them.

8 I will hearken what the LORD God will say: for hee will speake a peace vnto his people, and to his Saintes, that they turne not againe vnto folly.

9 Surely his saluation is neere to them that feare him, that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercie and truth shall meete: righteousnesse and peace shall kisse one another.

11 a Truth shall budde out of the earth, and righteousnesse shall looke downe from heauen.

12 Yea, the LORD shall giue good things, and our land shall giue her increase.

13 b Righteousnesse shall goe before him, and shall set her steps in the way.

e He confesseth that our saluation commeth onely of Gods mercie. f Hee will send all prosperitie to his Church, when hee hath sufficiently corrected them. Also by his punishments the faithfull shall learne to beware that they returne not to like offences. g Though for a time God thus exerciseth them with his rods, yet vnder the kingdome of Christ they should haue peace and ioy. h Iustice shall then flourish and haue free course and passage in euery place.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

1 Dauid sore afflicted and forsaken of all, prayeth feruently for deliuerance: sometimes rehearsing his miseries, 5 Sometimes, the mercies receiued, 11 Desiring also to be instructed of the Lorde, that hee may feare him and glorifie his Name. 14 Hee complaineth also of his aduersaries, and requireth to be deliuered from them.

¶ A prayer of Dauid.

a Dauid perfecuted of Saul, thus prayed, leauing the fame to the Church as a monument, how to seeke refuge against their miseries.

INCline a thine eare, O LORD, and heare me: for I am poore and needie.

2 Preserue thou my soule, for I am b mercifull: my God, saue thou thy seruant, that trusteth in thee.

3 Be mercifull vnto me, O LORD: for I c cry vpon thee continually.

4 Reioyce the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee, O LORD, doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou, LORD, art good & d mercifull, b I am not enemie to them, but pitie them, though they be cruel toward me. c Which was a sure token that he beleeued that God would deliuer him. d He doeth confesse that God is good to all, but only mercifull to poore sinners.

and of great kindnesse vnto all them, that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare, LORD, vnto my prayer, and e a hearken to the voyce of my supplication.

e By crying, and calling continually, hee sheweth how wee may not bee wearie, though God graunt not foorthwith our request, but that we must earnestly and often call vpon him.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou heerest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like thee, O LORD, and there a is none that can doe like thy workes.

f He condemneth all idoles, forasmuch as they can doe no workes to declare that they are gods.

9 All nations, whom thou hast made, shall come, and a worshippe before thee, O LORD, and shall glorifie thy Name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 a Teach mee thy way, O LORD, and I will walke in thy truth: knit mine heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy Name.

g This proueth that Dauid prayed in the Name of Christ the Messias, of whose kingdome hee doeth here prophecie.

12 I will praise thee, O LORDE my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorifie thy Name for euer.

13 For great is thy mercie toward mee, and thou hast deliuered my soule from a the lowest graue.

h He confesseth himselfe ignorant til God hath taught him, and his heart variable and separate from God, till God ioyne it to him, and confirme it in his obedience. i That is, from most great danger of death: out of the which none, but onely the mightie hande of God, could deliuer him. k He sheweth that there can be no moderation nor equitie, where proud tyrants reigne, and that the lacke of Gods feare is as a priuiledge to all vice and crueltie. l He boasteth not of his owne vertues, but confesseth that God of his free goodnesse hath euer bene mercifull vnto him, and giuen him power against his enemies, as to one of his owne houshold.

14 O God, the proude are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men haue a sought my soule, and haue not set thee before them.

15 But thou, O LORDE, art a pitifull God and mercifull, slowe to anger, and great in kindnesse and truth.

16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercy vpon mee: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and saue the a sonne of thy handmayd.

17 Shewe a token of thy goodnesse toward me, that they which hate me, may see it, and be ashamed, because thou, O LORDE, hast holpen me and comforted me.

PSAL. LXXXVII.

1 The holy Ghost prouideth that the condition of the Church, which was in miserie after the captiuitie of Babylon, should bee restored to great excellencie. 4 So that there should be nothing more comfortable, than to bee numbred among the members thereof.

¶ A Psalme or song committed to the sonnes of Korah.

a God did chuse that place among the hilles to establish Ierusalem and his Temple.

GOd laid his a foundations among the holy mountaines.

2 The LORDE loueth the gates of Zion aboue all the habitations of Iaakob.

3 b Glorious things are spoken of thee, O citie of God. Selah.

4 I will make mention of a Rahab and Babel among them that know me: beholde Palestina & Tyrus with Ethiopia, c There is he borne.

b Though thy glorious estate doe not yet appeare, yet waite with patience, and God will accomplish his promise. c That is, Egypt and these other countreys shall come to the knowledge of God. d It shall be sayd of him, that is regenerate and come to the Church, that he is a one that was borne in the Church.

5 And e Out of all quarters they shall come into the Church, and be counted as citizens.

5 And of Zion it shalbe said, e Many are borne in her: and he, even the most High shal stablish her.

6 The Lord shal count, when he writeth the people, Ye was borne there. Selah.

7 As well the singers as the players on instruments shall praise thee: all my springs are in thee.

f When he calleth by his word them into the Church, whome he had elected and written in his booke. g The Prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the Church.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

1 A grieuous complaint of the faithfull sore afflicted by sickenesse, persecutions, and aduersities, 7 Being as it were left of God without any consolation: 13 Yet he calleth on God by faith, and striueth against desperation, 18 complaining himselfe to be forsaken of all earthly helpe.

1.King.4.31. psal.30.3. ¶ A long or Psalme of e Heman the Ezrahite to giue instruction, committed to the sones of Mozah for him that excelleth vpon a Halath e Leannoth.

a That is, to humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalme was sung. b Though many crie in their sorowes, yet they crie not earnestly to God for remedie as he did: whom he confessed to be the authour of his saluation.

O Lord God of my saluation, I crie day and night b before thee.

2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence: cyclyne thine eare vnto my crie.

3 For my soule is filled with euils, and my life d draweth nere to the grane.

4 I am counted among them that goe downe vnto the pit, and am as a man without strength:

5 e Free among the dead, like the slaine lying in the grane, whom thou remembrest no more, and they are cut off from thine d hand.

6 Thou hast layed me in the lowest pit, in darkenesse, and in the deepe.

7 Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou hast vexed me with all thy e waues. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine f acquaintance farre from me, and made me to be abhorred of them: g I am shut vp, and can not get foorth.

9 h Mine eye is sore wnill through mine affliction: Lord, I call daily vpon thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.

10 Wilt thou shewe i a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy louing kindenesse be declared in the grane? or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonderous workes bee knowen in the darke? and thy righteousnesse in the land k of oblivion?

13 But vnto thee haue I cried, O Lord, and earely shall my prayer come before thee.

14 Lord, why doest thou reiect my soule, and hidest thy face from me?

f He attributeth the losse and displeasure of his friends to Gods prouidence, whereby hee partly punisheth and partly trieth his.

15 I am afflicted, and at the poynt of death: l from my youth I suffer thy terrors, g I see none ende of my sorowes. h Mine eyes and face declare my sorowes. i Hee sheweth that the time is more conuenient for God to helpe, when men call vnto him in their dangers, then to tarie till they be dead, and then raise them vp againe. k That is, in the grane, where onely the body lieth without all sense and remembrance. l I am euer in great dangers and sorowes, as though my life should vtterly be cut off euery moment.

doubting of my life.

16 Thine indignations goe ouer me, and thy feare hath cut me off.

17 They came round about me daily like water, and compassed me together.

18 Thy louers and friendes hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance ‡ hid themselues. ‡ Ebr. were in darkenesse.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

1 With many wordes doeth the Prophet praise the goodnesse of God, 23 for his testimonies and couenant, that he had made betweene him & his elect by Iesu Christ the sonne of Dauid: 38 Then doeth hee complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally hee prayeth to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortnesse of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promise.

¶ A Psalme to giue instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will a sing the mercies of the Lord for euer: with my mouth will I declare thy trueth from generation to generation.

2 For I b sayd, Mercy shalbe set vp for euer: thy trueth shalt thou c stablish in the very heauens.

3 d I haue made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne to Dauid my seruant,

4 Thy seede wil I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

5 O Lord, euen the e heauens shal praise thy wonderous worke: yea, thy trueth in the f Congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equall to the Lorde in the heauen? and who is like the Lord among the g sonnes of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assembly of the h Saints, and to be reuerenced about all that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which are a mightie Lorde, and thy trueth is about thee.

9 i Thou rulest the raging of y sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slaine: Thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: k Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 l Righteousnesse and equity are the stablishment

a Though the horrible confusion of things might cause them to despaire of Gods fauour: yet the manifolde examples of his mercies cause them to trust in God, though to mans iudgement they saw none occasion. b As hee that surely beleeued in heart. c As thine inuisible heauen is not subiect to any alteration and change: so shall the trueth of thy promise be vnchangeable. d The Prophet sheweth what was the promise of God, whereon he grounded his faith. e The Angels shall prayse thy power and faithfulnesse in deliuering thy Church. f That is, in the heauens.

g Meaning, the Angels. h If the Angels tremble before Gods maiestie and infinite iustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church, dare set himselfe against God? i For as he deliuered the Church by the red Sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will hee eftsoones deliuer it, when the dangers bee great. k Tabor is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, and Hermon Eastward: so the Prophet signifieth that all partes and places of the world shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church. l For hereby he iudgeth the world, and sheweth himselfe a mercifull Father and faithfull protector vnto his.

m Feeling in their conscience that God is their father.
n They shall be preserued by thy fatherly prouidence.
o In that they are preserued and continue, they ought to giue the praise and glory onely to thee.
p In that that our king hath power to defend vs, it is the gift of God.
q To Samuel and to others, to assure that Dauid was thy chosen one.
r Whom I haue both chosen and giuen him strength to execute his office, as verse 22.
s Though there shall be euermore enemies against Gods kingdome, yet he promiseth to ouercome them.
t I wil mercifully performe my promises to him, notwithstanding his infirmities and offences.
u His power, glory & estate.
x He shall enioy the land round about.
y His excellent dignitie shall appeare herein, that he shalbe named the sonne of God, and the first borne, wherein he is a figure of Christ.
z Though for the sinnes of the people the state of this kingdome blishment of thy throne: mercie and trueth goe before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people, that can m reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy n countenance, O Lord.
16 They shall reioyce continualy in thy Name, and in thy righteousnesse shall they exalt themselues.
17 For thou art o glory of their strength, and by thy fauour our horne shalbe exalted.
18 For our p shield appertaineth to the Lord, and our king to the holy one of Israel.
19 Thou spakest then in a vision vnto thine Holy one, and saydest, I haue layed helpe vpon one that is q mightie: I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.
20 I haue found Dauid my seruaunt: with mine holy oyle haue I anointed him.
21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with him, and mine arme shall strengthen him.
22 The enemie shall not oppresse him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.
23 But I will s destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.
24 My trueth also and my t mercy shalbe with him, and in my Name shall his u horne be exalted.
25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the x floods.
26 He shall cry vnto me, Thou art my y Father, my God and the rocke of my saluation.
27 Also I will make him my first borne, higher then the kings of the earth.
28 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore, and my couenant shall stand fast with him.
29 His seede also will I make to endure z for euer, & his throne as the dates of heauen.
30 But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:
31 a If they breake my statutes, & keepe not my commandements:
32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, & their iniquitie with strokes.
33 a Yet my louing kindnes will I not take from him, neither will I falsifie my trueth.
34 My couenant will I not breake, nor b alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.
35 I haue sworne once by mine holinesse, ‡ that c will not faile Dauid, saying, 36 His seede shall endure for euer, and his throne shalbe as the sunne before me.
37 He shall be established for euermore as the moone, and as a faithfull c witnesse in the heauen. Selah.
38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angry with thine Anointed.
39 Thou hast d broken the couenant of thy seruant, and prophaned his e crowne, casting it on the ground.
40 Thou hast broken downe all his walles: thou hast laid his fortresses in ruine.
41 All that goe by the way spoyle him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.
42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.
43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battell.
44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.
45 The dayes of his f youth hast thou shortened, and couered him with shame. Selah.
46 g Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for euer? shal thy wrath burne like fire?
47 Remember h of what time I am: wherefore shouldest thou create in vaine all the children of men?
48 What man liueth, and shall not see death? shall hee deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.
49 Lorde, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?
50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I beare in my i bosome of all the mightie people.
51 For k thine enemies haue reproched thee, O Lord, because they haue reproched the l footsteps of thine Anointed.
52 Praised be the Lord for euermore. So be it, euen so be it.

z Though for the sinnes of the people the state of this kingdome decayed: yet God reserued still a roote, till he had accomplished this promise in Christ. 2. Sam. 7. 14. a Though the faithfull answere not in all poynts to their profession, yet God will not breake his couenant with them. b For God in promising hath respect to his mercy, and not to mans power in performing. ‡ Ebr. If I lie vnto Dauid: which is a maner of oth. c As long as the Sunne and the Moone endure, they shall be witnesses to me of this promise. d Because of the horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God, as though he saw not the performance of his promise. And thus discharging his griefe vnto God, he resisteth doubt and impatiencie.

e By this hee meaneth the horrible dissipation and renting of the kingdome, which was vnder Ieroboam: or els by the spirit of prophesie, Ethan speaketh of those great miseries, which came soone afterward to passe at the captiuitie of Babylon.
f He sheweth that the kingdome fell before it came to perfection, or was ripe.
g The Prophet in ioyning prayer with his complaint, sheweth that his faith neuer failed.
h Seeing mans life is short, and thou hast created man to bestow thy benefits vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.
i He meaneth, that Gods enemies did not onely slander him behind his backe: but also mocked him to his face, and as it were cast their iniurie in his bosome. k So hee calleth them that persecute the Church. l They laugh at vs, which patiently wait for the comming of thy Christ.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses in his prayer setteth before vs the eternall fauour of God toward vs, 3 who are neither admonished by the breuitie of their life, 7 nor by his plagues to be thankefull, 12 therefore Moses prayeth God to turne their hearts and continue his mercies towards them, and their posteritie for euer.

¶ A prayer of Moses the a man of God.

LOrd, thou hast bene our b habitation from generation to generation.
2 Before the c mountaines were made, and before thou hadst formed the earth, and the world, euen from euerlasting to euerlasting thou art our God.
3 Thou d turnest man to destruction: againe thou sayest, Returne, ye sonnes of Adam.
4 e For a thousand yeres in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.
5 Thou hast ouerflowed them: they are as a sleepe: in the morning they are growen like the graste:

a Thus the Scripture vseth to call the Prophets.
b Thou hast bene as an house and defence vnto vs in all our troubles and trauels now this foure hundred yeeres.
c Thou hast chosen vs to be thy people before the foundations of the world were laid.
d Moses by lamenting the frailtie and shortnesse of mans life, moueth God to pitie.
e Though man thinke his life long, which is in deede most short, yea, though it were a thousand yeeres: yet in Gods sight it is as nothing, and as the watch that lasteth but three houres.
f Thou takest them away suddenly as with a flood.

6 In the morning it flourisheth & groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.

7 For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our dayes are past in thine anger: wee haue [h] spent our yeeres as a thought.

10 The time of our life is threescore yeres and tenne, and if they be of strength, [i] fourescore yeeres: yet their strength is but labour and sorrow: for it is cut off quickly, and wee flee away.

11 [k] Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy feare is thine anger.

12 Teach vs so to number our dayes, that wee may apply our hearts vnto [l] wisedome.

13 Returne (O Lord, [m] howe long?) and be [‖] pacified toward thy seruants.

14 Fill vs with thy mercy in the morning: so shall we reioyce and be glad all our dayes.

15 Comfort vs according to the dayes that thou hast afflicted vs, and according to the yeeres that we haue seene euill.

16 [n] Let thy worke bee seene toward thy seruants, & thy glory vpon their [o] children.

17 And let the [p] beauty of the Lord our God bee vpon vs, & [q] direct thou the worke of our handes vpon vs, euen direct the worke of our handes.

g Thou calleth vs by thy rods to consider the shortnesse of our life, and for our sinnes, thou abridgest our dayes.

h Our dayes are not onely short, but miserable, forasmuch as our sinnes dayly prouoke thy wrath.

i Meaning according to the common state of life.

k If mans life for the breuitie be miserable, much more if thy wrath lie vpon it, as they which feare thee, onely know.

l Which is, by considering the shortnesse of our life, and by meditating the heauenly ioyes.

m Meaning, wilt thou be angry?

‖ Or, take comfort in thy seruants.

n Euen thy mercy, which is thy chiefest worke.

o As Gods promises apperteined alwel to their posteritie, as to them, so Moses prayeth for the posteritie.

p Meaning, that it was obserued, when hee ceased to doe good to his Church.

q For except thou guide vs with thine holy Spirite, our enterprises can haue no good successe.

PSAL. XCI.

1 Here is described in what assurance hee liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, and committeth himselfe wholly to his protection in all temptations. 14 A promise of God to those that loue him, knowe him, and trust in him, to deliuer them, and giue them immortall glory.

WHo [r] dwelleth in the [s] secret of the most High, shall abide in the shadowe of the Almighty.

2 [t] I will say vnto the Lord, O mine hope, and my fortresse: he is my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely hee will deliuer thee from the [u] snare of the hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.

4 Hee will couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt bee sure vnder his feathers: his [v] truth shalbe thy shield and buckler.

5 [w] Thou shalt not bee afraid of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flieth by day:

6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darkenes: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone day.

7 A thousand shal fal at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come neere thee.

8 Doubtlesse with thine [x] eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou hast sayd, The Lord is mine hope: thou hast set the most High for thy refuge.

10 There shall none euil come vnto thee, neither shall any plague come neere thy tabernacle.

11 [y] For hee shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall beare thee in their handes, that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

13 Thou shalt walke vpon the lyon and aspe: the [z] yong lyon and the dragon shalt thou treade vnder thy feete.

14 [a] Because he hath loued me, therefore will I deliuer him: I will exalt him because he hath knowen my Name.

15 Hee shall call vpon mee, and I will heare him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliuer him, and glorifie him.

16 [b] With long life will I satisfie him, and shewe him my saluation.

r He that maketh God his defence and trust, shall perceiue his protection to be a most sure safegard.

s Being assured of this protection, he prayeth vnto the Lord.

t That is, Gods helpe is most ready for vs whether Satan assaile vs secretly, which he calleth a snare: or openly, which is here meant by the pestilence.

u That is, his faithfull keeping of promise to helpe thee in thy necessitie.

v The care that God hath ouer his is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers.

w The godly shall haue some experience of Gods iudgements against the wicked euen in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day, when all things shall bee reuealed.

x God hath not appointed euery man one Angel, but many to bee ministers of his prouidence to keepe his and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walke in without tempting God.

y Thou shalt not onely be preserued from all euil, but ouercome it whether it be secret or open.

z To assure the faithfull of Gods protection, he bringeth in God to confirme the same.

a For hee is contented with that life, that God giueth: for by death the shortnesse of this life is recompensed with immortalitie.

PSAL. XCII.

1 This Psalme was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre vp the people to acknowledge God, and to prayse him in his workes: the Prophet reioyceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodly, when hee is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish. 12 In the ende is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

A Psalme or song for the [a] Sabbath day.

IT is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most High,

2 To declare thy louing kindnes in the [b] morning, and thy truth in the night,

3 Vpon an [c] instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viole, with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy [d] workes, and I will reioyce in the workes of thine handes.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An [e] vnwise man knoweth it not, and a foole doeth not vnderstand this,

7 (When the wicked grow as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednes doe flourish) that they shalbe destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art most High for euermore.

9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord: for loe, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shalbe destroyed.

a Which teacheth that the vse of the Sabbath standeth in praising God, and not onely in ceasing from worke.

b For Gods mercy and fidelity in his promises toward his, binde them to praise him continually, both day and night.

c These instruments were then permitted, but in Christes coming abolished.

d He sheweth what is the vse of the Sabbath day: to wit, to meditate Gods workes.

e That is, the wicked consider not Gods workes, nor his iudgements against them, and therefore most swiftly perishe.

f Thy iudgements are most constant against the wicked, and passe our reach.

10 But

g Thou wilt strengthen them with all power, and blesse them with all felicitie.
h Though the faithfull seeme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet they shall grow againe and flourish in the Church of God, as the cedars doe in mount Lebanon.
i The children of God shall haue a power aboue nature, and their age shall bring fourth most fresh fruits.

10 g But thou shalt exalt mine horne, like the Unicornes, and I shall be anointed with fresh oyle.
11 Mine eye also shal see my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shall heare my wish against the wicked, that rise vp against me.
12 The righteous shall h flourish like a palme tree, and shall growe like a Cedar in Lebanon.
13 Such as bee planted in the house of the Lorde, shall flourish in the courts of our God.
14 They shall still bring fourth fruite in their i age: they shalbe fat and flourishing, 15 To declare that the Lorde my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

1 He praiseth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beateth downe all people which list them vp against his Maiestie, 5 And prouoketh to consider his promises.

a As God by his power and wisedome hath made and gouerneth the world: so must the same be our defence against all enemies & dangers.
b Wherein thou sittest and gouernest the world.
c Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.

THe Lorde a reigneth, and is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power: the world also shall be stablished, that it cannot be moued.
2 Thy b throne is established of olde: thou art from euerlasting.
3 c The floods haue lifted vp, O Lorde: the floods haue lifted vp their voyce: the floods lift vp their waues.
4 The waues of the sea are marueilous through the noyse of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mighty.
5 Thy d testimonies are very sure: holines becommeth thine house, O Lord, for euer.

d Besides Gods power and wisedome in creating, and gouerning, his great mercy also appeareth in that he hath giuen his people his word and couenant.

PSAL. XCIIII.

1 He praieth vnto God against the violence and arrogancie of tyrants, 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 Then doth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himselfe, and did see in others, & by the ruine of the wicked, 23 Whom the Lord will destroy.

e Whose office it is to take vengeance on the wicked.
f Shew by effect that thou the Iudge of the world to punish the wicked.
g That is, bragge of their cruelty and oppression: or, esteeme themselues aboue all other.
h Seeing the Church was then so sore oppressed, it ought not to seeme strange to vs, if wee see it so now, and therefore wee must call to God to take our cause in hand.
i Hee sheweth that they are desperate in malice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gaue themselues wholy to doe wickedly.

O Lord God e the auenger, O God, the auenger, shew thy selfe f clearly.
2 Exalt thy selfe, O iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proud.
3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, howe long shall the wicked g triumph?
4 They prate and speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vaunt themselues.
5 They h smite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.
6 They slay the widowe and the stranger, and murther the fatherlesse.
7 i Yet they say, The Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Iaakob regard it.
8 Vnderstand ye vnwise among the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wise?
9 He that k planted the eare, shall hee not heare? or he that formed the eye, shall hee not see?
10 Or hee that chastiseth the l nations, shall hee not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not know?
11 The Lorde knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.
12 Blessed is the man, whom thou m chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, 13 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.
14 Surely the Lord will not caste his people, neither will he forsake his n heritance.
15 For o iudgement shall returne to iustice, and all the vpright in heart shall follow after it.
16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquitie?
17 If the Lorde had not p holpen mee, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.
18 When I sayd, q My foote slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me.
19 In the multitude of my r thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my soule.
20 Hath the throne of iniquity s felowship with thee, which forgeth wrong for a lawe?
21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.
22 But the Lorde is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.
23 And hee will recompense them their wickednes, and t destroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lorde our God shall destroy them.

e That is, the reuenger of the wicked.
f Shew thy power.
g Whereof appeareth in his sanctuarie.
h As by experience we see it is onely done by God, declaring the Gentiles.
i He sheweth that it is impossible but God should heare, see, and vnderstand their wickednes.
k If God punish whole nations for their sinnes, it is meere follie for any one man, or els a fewe to thinke that God will spare them.
l God hath care ouer his, and chastiseth them for their wealth, that they should not perish for euer with the wicked.
m God will restore the state and gouernment of things to their right vse, and then the godly shall follow him cheerefully.
n He complaineth of them, which would not helpe him to resist the enemies: yet was assured that Gods helpe would not faile.
o When I thought there was no way but death. p In my trouble and distresse I euer found thy present helpe. q Though the wicked Iudges pretend iustice in oppressing thy Church, yet they haue not that authoritie of God. r It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most, when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

PSAL. XCV.

1 An earnest exhortation to praise God, 4 for the gouernment of the world, and the election of his Church. 8 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the olde fathers, that tempted God in the wildernes: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.

a He sheweth that Gods seruice standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the sacrifice of praise and thankesgiuing.
b Euen the Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idoles, which mans braine inuenteth.
c All things are gouerned by his prouidence.
d By these three wordes he signifieth one thing, meaning, that they must wholly giue themselues to serue God.

COme, let vs reioyce vnto the Lorde: let vs sing a aloud vnto the rocke of our saluation.
2 Let vs come before his face with praise: let vs sing loud vnto him with Psalmes.
3 For the Lorde is a great God, and a great king aboue all b gods.
4 In whose hand are the deepe places of the earth, and the c heights of the mountains are his:
5 To whom the Sea belongeth: for hee made it, and his hands formed the dry land.
6 Come, let vs d worship and fall downe,

and

and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his [e] hand: to day, if ye will heare his voyce,

8 [f] Harden not your heart, as in Meribah, and as in the day of Massah in the wildernesse.

9 Where your fathers [g] tempted me, proued me, though they had seene my worke.

10 Forty yeeres haue I contended with this generation, and said, They are a people that erre in heart, for they haue not knowen my wayes.

11 Wherefore I sware in my wrath, saying, Surely they shal not enter into my [h] rest.

[f] Or, in strife: whereof the place was so called. [g] Or, tentation, reade Exodus 17.7. Exo. 17.2. num. 14.22. g They were without iudgement & reason, h That is, into the land of Canaan, where he promised them rest.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation both to the Iewes & Gentiles to prayse God for his mercy. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdome of Christ.

SIng [a] vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and prayse his Name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is [b] great and much to be praised: he is to be feared aboue all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord [c] made the heauens.

6 [d] Strength and glory are before him: power and beautie are in his Sanctuary.

7 Giue vnto the Lorde, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lorde glory and [e] power.

8 Giue vnto the Lorde the glorie of his Name: bring [f] an offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious sanctuarie: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the [g] nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shalbe stable, and not moue, and he shall iudge the people [h] in righteousnesse.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyful, and all that is in it: let all the [i] trees of the wood then reioyce

13 Before the Lord: for he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousnesse, and the people in his truth.

a The Prophet sheweth that the time shall come, that all nations shall haue occasion to praise the Lord for the reuealing of his Gospel. b Seeing he will reueile himselfe to all nations contrary to their owne expectation, they ought all to worship him contrary to their owne imaginations, and onely as he hath appointed. [e] Or, vanities. c Then the idols, or what soeuer made not the heauens, are not God. d God cannot be knowen, but by his strength and glory: the signes whereof appeare in his sanctuarie. e As by experience ye see that it is onely due vnto him. f By offering vp your selues wholy vnto God, declare that you worship him onely. g Hee prophesieth that the Gentiles shall bee partakers with the Iewes of Gods promise. h He shall regenerate them anewe with his Spirite, and restore them to the image of God. i If the insensible creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malediction and sinne.

PSAL. XCVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the comming of the kingdom of Christ, 7 dreadfull to the rebels and idolaters, 8 and ioyfull to the iust, whom he exhorteth to innocencie, 12 to reioycing and thinke of sinning.

THe [a] Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the [b] multitude of the yles be glad.

2 [c] Clouds and darknesse are round about him: righteousnesse and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.

4 His lightenings gaue light vnto the world: the earth saw it, and was [d] afraid.

5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the presence of the Lorde, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens declare his righteousnesse, and all the people see his glory.

7 [e] Confounded bee all they that serue grauen images, & that glory in idoles: worship him [f] all ye gods.

8 Sion heard of it, and was glad: and the [g] daughters of Iudah reioyced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou Lorde art most high aboue all the earth: thou art much exalted aboue all gods.

10 Ye that [h] loue the Lord, hate euill: he preserueth the soules of his Saints: he will deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

11 [i] Light is sowen for the righteous, and ioy for the vpright in heart.

12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and giue thanks for his holy [k] remembrance.

a He sheweth that where God reigneth, there is all felicitie and spirituall ioy. b For the Gospel shall not be onely preached in Iudea, but thorow all yles and countries. c He is thus described to keepe his enemies in feare, which commonly contemne Gods power. d This feare bringeth not the wicked to true obedience, but maketh them to run away from God. e He signifieth that Gods iudgements are in a readinesse to destroy the idolaters. f Let all that which is esteemed in the world, fall downe before him. g The Iewes shall haue occasion to reioice, that the Gentiles are made partakers with them of Gods fauour. h He requireth two things of his children: the one that they detest vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance. i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sowen and layed vp in store for them. k Be mindefull of his benefits, and onely trust in his defence.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercie, and fidelitie in his promise by Christ, 10 by whom he hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

A Psalme

SIng [a] vnto the Lord a new song: for hee hath done marueilous things: [b] his right hand, and his holy [b] arme haue gotten him the victory.

2 The Lord declared his [c] saluation: his righteousnesse hath hee reuealed in the sight of the nations.

3 Hee hath [d] remembred his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing yee loude vnto the Lord: crie out and reioyce, and sing praises.

5 Sing praise to the Lord vpon the harp, euen vpon the harpe with a singing voice.

6 With [e] shalmes and sound of trumpets sing loud before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is, the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountaines reioyce together

9 Before the Lorde: for hee is come to iudge the earth: with righteousnesse shall he iudge the world, and the people with equity.

a That is, some song newly made in token of their wonderful deliuerance by Christ, Isa. 59.16. b He preserueth his Church miraculously. c For the deliuerance of his Church. d God was moued by none other meanes to gather his church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but because he would performe his promise. e By this repetition and earnest exhortation to giue praises with instruments, and also of the dumbe creatures, hee signifieth that the world is neuer able to praise God sufficiently for their deliuerance.

PSAL.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the prayer, equitie & excellencie of the kingdome of God by Christ ouer the Iewes and Gentiles, 5 and prouoketh them to magnifie the same, & to serue the Lord, 6 following the example of the ancient fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.

a When God deliuereth his Church, all the enemies shall haue cause to tremble. Exod. 25. 22.

THe Lord reigneth, let the a people tremble: he sitteth betweene the b Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and hee is hie aboue all the people.

3 They shal a praise thy great and fearefull Name (for it is holy.)

4 And the Kings power, that loueth iudgement: for thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement and iustice in Iaakob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, & fall downe before his c footstoole: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priestes, d and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 He spake vnto them in the cloudie pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Law that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though thou diddst take vengeance for a their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, & fall downe before his holy Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holy.

b Vnder these three hee comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whome God made his promise. c For the more liberally that God dealeth with his people, the more doth he punish them that abuse his benefits.

PSAL. C.

1 Hee exhorteth all to serue the Lord, 3 who hath chosen vs, and preserued vs: 4 and to enter in to his assemblies to praise his name.

A Psalme of praise.

a He prophesieth that Gods benefit in calling the Gentiles, shall be so great, that they shall haue wonderfull occasion, to praise his mercy and reioyce.

SIng ye loud vnto the Lord, al the earth.

2 Serue the Lord with gladnesse: come before him with ioyfulnesse.

3 Know yee that euen the Lord is God: he hath a made vs, and not we our selues: we are his people, & the sheepe of his pasture.

4 b Enter into his gates with praise, & into his courts with reioycing: praise him, and blesse his Name.

5 For the Lord is good: his mercie is c euerlasting, and his trueth is from generation to generation.

b He chiefly meaneth, touching the spirituall regeneration, whereby we are his sheep and people. c He sheweth that God will not be worshipped, but by that meanes which he hath appointed. d He declareth that wee ought neuer to bee weary in praying him, seeing his mercies toward vs last for euer.

PSAL. CI.

1 Dauid describeth what gouernment hee will obserue in his house and kingdom. 5 He will punish and correct, by rooting foorth the wicked, 6 & cherishing the godly persons.

A Psalme of Dauid.

a Dauid considereth what maner of king he would be, when God should place him in the throne, promising openly, that he would be merciful and iust.

I Will a sing mercy and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 I will doe wisely in the perfect way b till thou comest to me: I will walke in the vprightnesse of mine heart in the midst of mine house.

3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate a the worke of them that fall away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.

4 A froward heart shal depart from me: I will know none euill.

5 Him that priuily d slandereth his neighbour, will I destroy: him that hath a proud looke and hie heart, I cannot suffer.

6 Mine eies shalbe vnto the e faithfull of the land, that they may dwel with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serue me.

7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: he that telleth lies, shall not remaine in my sight.

8 f Betimes will I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I may cut off all g workers of iniquitie from the citie of the Lord.

b Though as yet thou deferrest to place me in the kingly dignitie, yet will I giue my selfe to wisedome and vprightnesse, being a priuate man.

c He sheweth that magistrates doe not their duelies, except they be enemies to all vice.

d In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about kings, he declareth that he will punish all. e He sheweth what is the true vse of the sworde: to punish the wicked, and so maintaine the good.

f Magistrates must immediately punish vice, lest it grow to further inconuenience: and if heathen Magistrates are bound to doe this, how much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God?

PSAL. CII.

1 It sheweth that this prayer was appointed to the faithfull to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon. 16 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18 Whereof followeth the praise of God to bee published vnto all posterities. 22 The conuersion of the Gentiles, 28 and the stablishis of the Church.

A prayer a of the afflicted, when hee shall be in distresse, and powre foorth his meditation before the Lord.

a Whereby is signified, that albeit we be in neuer so great miseries, yet ther is euer place left for prayer.

O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my b crie come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.

3 For my daies are c consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an hearth.

4 Mine heart is smitten, and withereth like grasse, because I forgate d to eate my bread.

5 For the voice of my groning my bones no cleaue to my skinne.

6 I am like a e pelicane of the wilderness: I am like an owle of the deserts.

7 I watch and am as a sparrowe alone vpon the house top.

8 Mine enemies reuile mee dayly, and they that rage against me, haue f swome against me.

9 Surely I haue g eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping, 10 Because of thine h indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou, O Lord, doest i remaine for euer, b Hee declareth that in our prayes we must liuely feele that which we desire, and stedfastly beleeue to obteine.

c These excessiue kindes of speech shew how much the affliction of the Church ought to wound the hearts of the godly.

d My sorrowes were so great, that I passed not for mine ordinary food.

e Euer mourning and solitary, casting out fearefull cries.

f Haue conspired to take my refection.

g I haue not risen out of my mourning

h He sheweth that the afflictions did not only thus moue him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displeasure.

i Howsoeuer wee be fraile: yet thy promise is sure, and the remembrance thereof shall confirme vs for euer.

euer, k That is, the ſententie yeeres, which by ſ Prophet Ieremie thou diddeſt appoint, Iere 29.12.

l The more that the Church is in miſerie and deſolation, the more ought the faithfull to loue and pitie it, m That is, when he ſhal haue drawen his Church out of the darkeneſſe of death.

n The deliuerãce of the Church is a moſt excellent benefit, & therefore he compareth it to a new creation: for in their baniſhment the body of the Church ſeemed to haue bin dead, which by deliuerance was as it were created anew.

o Who now in their baniſhment could looke for nothing but death.

p He ſheweth that Gods name is neuer more praiſed then when religion flouriſheth, and the Church increaſeth: which thing is chiefly accompliſhed vnder the kingdome of Chriſt.

q The Church lament that they ſee not the time of Chriſt, which was promiſed, but haue but few yeres and ſhort dayes.

r If heauen and earth periſh, much more man ſhall periſh: but the Church by reaſon of Gods promiſe endureth for euer.

ſ Seeing thou haſt choſen the Church out of the world, and ioyned it to thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art euerlaſting.

euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

13 Thou wilt ariſe, and haue mercy vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the [k] appointed time is come.

14 For thy ſeruants delight in the [l] ſtones thereof, and haue pitie on the duſt thereof.

15 Then the heathen ſhall feare the Name of the Lorde, and all the kings of the earth his glory,

16 When the Lorde ſhall build vp Zion, and ſhall appeare [m] in his glory, 17 And ſhall turne vnto the prayer of the deſolate, and not deſpiſe their prayer.

18 This ſhall bee written for the generation to come: and the people which ſhall bee [n] created, ſhall praiſe the Lord.

19 For hee hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth,

20 That hee might heare the mourning of the priſoner, and deliuer the [o] children of death:

21 That they may declare [p] name of the Lord in Zion, and his praiſe in Ieruſalem, 22 When the people ſhalbe gathered [q] together, & the kingdomes to ſerue the Lord.

23 Hee [r] abated my ſtrength in the way, and ſhortened my dayes.

24 And I ſayde, O my God, take me not away in the midſt of my dayes: thy yeeres endure from generation to generation.

25 Thou haſt aforetime layde the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the worke of thine hands.

26 [ſ] They ſhall periſh, but thou ſhalt endure: euen they all ſhall waxe olde as doeth a garment: as a veſture ſhalt thou change them, and they ſhalbe changed.

27 But thou art the ſame, and thy yeeres ſhall not faile.

28 The children of thy ſeruaunts ſhall continue, and their ſeede ſhall ſtand faſt in thy ſight.

PSAL. CIII.

1 He prouoketh all to praiſe the Lord, which hath pardoned his ſinnes, deliuered him from deſtruction, & giuen him ſufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he ſheweth like a moſt tender father towards his children. 14 The frailtie of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praiſe the Lord.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

MY ſoule, [a] praiſe thou the Lord, and all that is within me, praiſe his holy name.

2 My ſoule, praiſe thou the Lord, & forget not all his benefits.

3 Which [b] forgiueth all thine iniquitie, and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which redeemeth thy life from the [c] graue, and crowneth thee with mercie and compaſſions.

5 Which ſatisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy [d] youth is renued like the eagles.

6 The Lorde executeth righteouſneſſe and iudgement to all that are oppreſſed.

7 He made his waies knowen vnto [e] Moſes, & his works vnto the children of Iſrael.

8 The Lord is full of compaſſion & mercie, ſlow to anger, and of great kindneſſe.

9 He will not alway [f] chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 He hath not [g] dealt with vs after our ſinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, ſo great is his mercie toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as [h] the Eaſt is from the Weſt: ſo farre hath hee remoued our ſinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compaſſion on his children, ſo hath the Lorde compaſſion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembreth that we are but duſt.

15 The dayes of [i] man are as graſſe: as a flower of the field, ſo flouriſheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof ſhall knowe it no more.

17 But the louing kindneſſe of the Lorde endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him, and his [k] righteouſneſſe vpon children children, 18 Vnto them that keepe his [l] couenant, and thinke vpon his commaundements to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 Praiſe the Lord, ye [m] his Angels, that excell in ſtrength, that doe his commaundement in obeying the voyce of his word.

21 Praiſe the Lorde, all ye his hoſts, ye his ſeruants that do his pleaſure.

22 Praiſe the Lord, all ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my ſoule, praiſe thou the Lord.

a He wakeneth his dulneſſe to praiſe God, ſhewing that both vnderſtanding and affections, mind and heart are too little to ſet foorth his praiſe.

b This is the beginning and chiefeſt of all benefits, remiſſion of ſinne.

c For before that we haue remiſſion of our ſinnes, wee are as dead men in the graue.

d As the eagle, when her beake ouergroweth, ſucketh blood, and ſo is renued in ſtrength, euen ſo God miraculouſly giueth ſtrength to his Church aboue all mans expectation.

e As to his chiefe miniſter, and next to his people.

f He ſheweth firſt his ſeuere iudgement, but ſo ſoone as the ſinner is humbled, he receiueth him to mercy.

g We haue proued by continuall experience, that his mercie hath euer preuailed againſt our offences.

h As great as the world is, ſo full is it of ſignes of Gods mercies toward his faithful, when he hath removed their ſinnes.

i He declareth that man hath nothing in himſelfe to moue God to mercie, but onely the confeſſion of his infirmitie and miſerie.

k His iuſt and faithfull keeping of his promiſe.

l To whome he giueth grace to feare him, and to obey his word.

m In that that we, which naturally are ſlowe to praiſe God, exhort the Angels which willingly doe it, wee ſtirre vp our ſelues to conſider our duetie, and awake out of our ſluggiſhneſſe.

PSAL. CIIII.

1 An excellent Pſalme to praiſe God for the creation of the world, and the gouernance of the ſame by his maruelous prouidence, 35 wherein the Prophet prayeth againſt the wicked, who are occaſions that God diminiſheth his bleſſings.

MY ſoule, praiſe thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art [a] clothed with glory and honour.

2 Which couereth himſelfe with light as with a garment, and ſpreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

a The Prophet ſheweth that we needs not to enter into the heauẽs to ſeeke God, forasmuch as all the order of nature, with the propriety and placing of the elements, are moſt liuely mirrours to ſee his maieſtie in.

3 Which laieth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 Which [b] maketh the spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

5 He set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shall neuer mout.

6 Thou coueredst it with the [c] deepe, as with a garment: the [d] waters would stand aboue the mountaines.

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder they haste away.

8 And the mountaines ascend, and the valleys descend to the place which thou hast stablished for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bound, which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer the earth.

10 Hee sendeth the [e] springs into the valleys, which run betweene the mountaines.

11 They shal giue drinke to all the [f] beasts of the field, and the wilde asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these [g] springs shall the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 Hee watereth the mountaines from his [h] chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruit of thy works.

14 Hee causeth grasse to grow for the cattell, and herbe for the vse of [i] man, that hee may bring forth bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengthneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, euen the cedars of Lebanon, which hee hath planted, 17 That the birds may make their nests there: the storke dwelleth in the firre trees.

18 The high mountaines are for the [k] goats: the rocks are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the [l] moone for certaine seasons: [m] the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, and it is night, wherein all the beastes of the forrest creepe forth.

21 The lions roare after their pray, and seeke their meat [n] at God.

22 When the sunne riseth, they retire, and couch in their dennes.

23 [o] Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the euening.

24 O Lorde, howe manifolde are thy workes! in wisedome hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.

26 There goe the ships, yea, that [p] Leuiathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 All these wait vpon thee, that thou mayest giue them food in due season.

28 Thou giuest it to them, and they gather it: thou openest thine hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou [q] hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they die, and returne to their dust.

30 Againe, if thou [r] send forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renuest the face of the earth.

31 Glorie bee the Lorde for euer: let the Lord reioyce in his works.

32 Hee looketh on the earth and it trembleth: hee toucheth the mountaines, and they [s] smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lorde all my life: I will praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my words bee acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners bee [t] consumed out of the earth, and the wicked till there bee no more: O my soule, praise thou the Lorde. Praise ye the Lord.

---

[a] As the Prophet here sheweth that all visible powers are ready to serue God: so the Apostle to the Heb. 1.7 beholdeth in this glasse, how the very Angels also are obedient to his commandement.

[b] If by thy power thou did'est not bridle the rage of the waters, it were not possible but the whole world should be destroyed.

[c] If God prouide for [d] very beasts, much more will hee extend his prouident care to man.

[d] There is no part of the world so barren where most euident signes of Gods blessings appeare not.

[e] From [f] clouds.

[f] He describeth Gods prouident care ouer man, who doeth not only prouide necessary things for him, as herbs and other meate but also things to reioyce, and comfort him, as wine and oyle, or ointments.

[g] Or, doues, roes, and such like.

[h] As to separate the night from the day, and to note dayes, moneths and yeres.

[i] That is, by his course, either far or nere, it noteth summer, winter, and other seasons.

[k] That is, the onely finde meate according to Gods prouidence, who careth euen for the brute beasts.

[l] To wit, when the day springeth: for the light is as it were a shield to defend man against the tyrannie and fiercenesse of beasts.

[m] Hee confesseth that no tonge is able to expresse Gods workes, not minde to comprehend them.

[n] Or, whale.

[o] God is a most nourishing Father, who prouideth for all creatures their dayly food.

[p] As by thy presence all things haue life: so, if thou withdraw thy blessings, they all perish.

[q] As the death of creatures sheweth that we are nothing of our selues so their generation declareth that we receiue all things of our Creator.

[r] Gods mercifull face giueth strength to the earth, but his seuere countenance burneth the mountaines.

[s] Who infect the world, and so cause God that he cannot reioyce in his works.

[t] That is, the King of Egypt and the King of Gerar, Gen. 12. 17. and 20. 3.

[u] Forasmuch as the Israelites were exempted from the common condemnation of the world, and were elected to bee Gods people, the Prophet willeth them to shew themselues mindfull by thankesgiuing.

[b] By the strength and face, he meaneth the Arke where God declared his power and his presence.

[c] Which hee hath wrought in the deliuerance of his people.

[d] Because his power was thereby as liuely declared, as if hee should haue declared it by mouth.

[e] The promise which God made to Abraham to be his God, and the God of his seede after him, hee renued and repeated it againe to his seed after him.

[f] He sheweth that they should not enjoy the land of Canaan by any other meanes, but by reason of his couenant made with their fathers, [g] That is, in the Arke.

[h] Those whome I haue sanctified to be my people.

PSAL. CV.

1 He praiseth the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people of the world chosen a peculiar people to himselfe, and hauing chosen them, neuer ceaseth to do them good, euen for his promises sake.

PRaise the Lord, and call vpon his name: [a] declare his works among the people.

2 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of all his wondrous works.

3 Reioyce in his holy name: let the heart of them that seeke the Lord, reioyce.

4 Seeke the Lorde and his [b] strength: seeke his face continually.

5 Remember his [c] marueilous works, that hee hath done, his wonders and the [d] iudgements of his mouth.

6 Yee seede of Abraham his seruant, yee children of Iaakob, which are his elect.

7 Hee is the Lorde our God: his iudgements are throwout all the earth.

8 Hee hath alway remembred his couenant and promise, that hee made to a thousand generations,

9 Euen that which he [e] made with Abraham, and his othe vnto Izhak:

10 And since hath confirmed it to Iaakob for a law, and to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, 11 Saying, [f] Vnto thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

12 Albeit they were fewe in number, yea, very few, and strangers in the land,

13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people,

14 Yet suffered hee no man to doe them wrong, but reproued [g] Kings for their sakes,

15 Touch not mine [h] anoynted, and doe

my i Prophets no harme.

16 Moreouer he called a famine vpon the land, and vtterly brake the k staffe of bread.

17 But he sent a man before them: Ioseph was sold for a slaue.

18 They held his feete in the stocks, and he was layd in yrons, 19 Vntil l his appointed time came, and the counsel of the Lord had tried him.

20 The King sent and loosed him: euen the ruler of the people deliuered him.

21 Hee made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance, 22 That hee should binde his m Princes vnto his will, and teache his Ancients wisdome.

23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And hee increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressours.

25 n Hee turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his seruants.

26 Then sent hee Moses his seruant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the lande of Ham.

28 Hee sent darkenes and made it darke: and they were not o disobedient vnto his commission.

29 p Hee turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.

30 q Their land brought forth frogs, euen in their Kings chambers.

31 Hee r spake, and there came swarmes of flies and lice in all their quarters.

32 Hee gaue them s haile for raine, and flames of fire in their land.

33 Hee smote their vines also and their figge trees, t brake downe the trees in their coastes.

34 u He spake, and the grashoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable,

35 And did eate vp all the grasse in their lande, and deuoured the fruite of their ground.

36 x Hee smote also all the first borne in their lande, euen the beginning of all their strength.

37 Hee brought them forth also with siluer and golde, and there was y none feeble among their tribes.

38 Egypt was z glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.

39 He spred a cloud to be a couering, and fire to giue light in the night.

40 They a asked, and he brought quailes, and he filled them with the bread of heauen.

41 He opened the rocks, and the waters flowed out, and ranne in the dry places like a riuer.

42 For he remembred his holy b promise to Abraham his seruant,

43 And he brought forth his people with ioy, and his chosen with gladnesse,

44 And gaue them the lands of the heathen, and they tooke the labours of the people in possession, 45 That they might c keepe his statutes, and obserue his lawes. Praise ye the Lord.

i Meaning the old fathers, to whom God shewed himselfe plainely, and who were letters forth of his word.

k Either by sending scarcitie, or by taking away the strength and nourishment thereof.

l So long he suffered aduersitie, as God had appointed, and till he had tried sufficiently his patience.

m That the very princes of the countrey should be at Iosephs commandement and learne wisedome at him.

n So it is in God, either to moue the hearts of the wicked to loue or to hate Gods children.

o Meaning, Moses and Aaron. Exod.7.20.

Exod.8.6.

p So that this vermine came not by fortune, but as God had appointed, and his Prophet Moses spake.

q It was strange to see raine in Egypt, much more it was scarefull to see haile.

r He sheweth that all creatures are armed against man, when God is his enemie: as at his commandement the grashoppers destroyed the land. Exod.12.29.

s When their enemies felt Gods plagues, his children by his prouidence were exempted.

t For Gods plagues caused them rather to depart with the Israelites then with their liues.

u Not for necessitie, but for satisfying of their lust.

a Which he confirmeth to the posteritie, in whom after a sort the dead liue and enioy the promises.

y When the Egyptians lamented, and were destroyed.

z This is the end, why God preserueth his Church, because they should worship, and cal vpon him in this world.

PSAL. CVI.

1 The people dispersed vnder Antiochus do magnifie the goodnesse of God among the iust and repentant: 4 Desiring to be brought again into the land by Gods mercifull visitation. 8 And after the manifolde marueiles of God wrought in their deliuerance forth of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people rehearsed, 47 they doe pray and desire to be gathered from among the heathen, to the intent they may praise the Name of the God of Israel.

C Praise ye the Lord.

PRaise a ye the Lord, because he is good, for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Who can expresse the noble acts of the Lord, or shew forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that b keepe iudgment, and do righteousnesse at all times.

4 Remember me, O Lord, with the c fauour of thy people: visit mee with thy saluation,

5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioy of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.

6 We haue d sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquity, & done wickedly.

7 Our fathers vnderstood not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembred they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.

8 Neuertheles, he e saued them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be knowen.

9 And he rebuked the red sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the deepe, as in the wildernesse.

10 And he saued them from the aduersaries hand, & deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.

11 f And the waters couered their oppressours: not one of them was left.

12 Then g beleeued they his wordes, and sang praise vnto him.

13 But incontinently they forgate his works: they waited not for his h counsell, 14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wildernesse, and tempted God in the desert.

15 Then hee gaue them their desire: but he sent i leannesse into their soule.

16 They enuied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and k swallowed vp Dathan, and couered the company of Abiram.

a The Prophet exhorteth the people to praise God for his benefits past, that thereby their mindes may be strengthened against all present troubles and despaire.

b He sheweth, that it is not enough to praise God with mouth, except the whole heart agree thereunto, and all our life be therevnto framed.

c Let the good will that thou beareſt to thy people, extend vnto mee, that thereby I may be receiued into the number of thine.

d By earnest confession, aswell of their owne, as of their fathers sinnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promise would pitie them.

e The inestimable goodnesse of God appeareth in this, that he would change the order of nature rather then his people should not be deliuered, although they were wicked. Exod.14.27.

f The woonderfull works of God caused them to beleeue for a time, and to praise him.

g They would preuent his wisedome and prouidence.

h The abundance that God gaue them profited not, but made them pine away, because God curied it.

i By the greatnesse of the punishment the hainous offence may bee considered: for they that rise against Gods ministers, rebell against him.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their [k] glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Sauiour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the lande of Ham, and fearefull things by the red sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had [l] not Moses his chosen stoode in the breach before him to turne away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that [m] pleasant land, and beleeued not his word, 25 But murmured in their tentes, and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore [n] he lifted vp his hand against them, to destroy them in the wildernesse, 27 And to destroy their seede among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreys.

28 They ioyned themselues also vnto [o] Baal-peor, and did eate the offerings of the [p] dead.

29 Thus they [q] prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But [r] Phinehas stoode vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was stayed.

31 [s] And it was imputed vnto him for righteousnesse from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angred him also at the waters of [t] Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his spirit, so that he spake vnaduisedly with his lips.

34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes, 36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their [u] sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils, 38 And shed innocent blood, euē the blood of their sonnes, & of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they stained with their owne workes, and went a [x] whoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hande of the heathen: and they that hated them, were Lords ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many a time did hee deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.

44 Yet he saw when they were in affliction, and he heard their cry.

45 And hee remembred his couenant toward them, and [a] repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, and [a] gather vs from among the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy praise.

48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

a Gather thy Church, which is dispersed, and giue vs constancie vnder the crosse, that with one consent we may all praise thee, PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, and gathered vnto him, to giue thanks 9 for this mercifull prouidence of God, gouerning all things at his good pleasure, 20 sending good and euill, prosperitie & aduersitie to bring men vnto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous therein reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouthes stopped.

PRaise [a] the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Let them, [b] which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shew howe hee hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour,

3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the [c] South.

4 When they wandered in the desert and wildernesse out of the way, and found no city to dwell in,

5 [c] Both hungry and thirstie, their soule fainted in them.

6 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuered them from their distresse,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull works before the sonnes of men.

9 For he satisfied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungry soule with goodnesse.

10 Such, [d] that dwell in darknesse and in the shadow of death, being bound in misery and yron,

11 Because they [d] rebelled against the words of the Lord, and despised the counsell of the most High,

12 When hee humbled their heart with heauinesse, then they fell downe, and there was no helper.

13 Then they [e] cried vnto the Lorde in their trouble, and hee deliuered them from their distresse.

a This notable sentence was in the beginning vsed, as the foot or tenour of the song, which was often times repeated.

b As this was true in the Iewes, so is there none of Gods elect, that feele not his helpe in their necessitie.

‖ Or, from the sea; meaning the red sea, which is on the South part of the land.

c He sheweth that there is none affliction so grieuous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, and also exhorteth them, that are deliuered, to be mindfull of so great a benefit.

d Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his expresse commandement: also k He sheweth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glory, when in stead of him they worship any creature, much more wood, stone, metall, or calues.

l If Moses by his intercession had not obtained Gods fauour against their rebellions, m That is, Canaan, which was as it were an earnest peny of the heauenly inheritance.

n That is, he sware. Sometime also it meaneth, to punish.

o Which was the idole of the Moabites.

p Sacrifices offered to the dead idoles.

q Signifying, that whatsoeuer man inuenteth of himselfe to serue God by, is detestable and prouoketh his anger.

r When al other neglected Gods glory, he in his zeale killed the adulterers, and preuented Gods wrath.

Num. 25.12.

s This acte declared his liuely faith, and for his faith sake, was accepted.

Rom. 4.10.13. Psal. 95.8.

t If so notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment, though others prouoked him to sinne, howe much more shall they bee subiect to Gods iudgement, which cause Gods children to sinne? u Hee sheweth howe monstrous a thing idolatrie is, which can winne vs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods word cannot obtaine most smal things. x Then true chastitie is to cleaue wholly and onely vnto God.

y The Prophet sheweth that neither by menaces nor promises we can come to God, except we be altogether newly reformed, and that his mercy ouercouer and hide our malice.

z Not that God is changeable in himselfe, but that then he seemeth to vs to repent, when he altereth his punishment, and forgiueth vs.

e He sheweth that the cause why God doeth punish vs extremely, is because we can be brought vnto him by none other meanes.

f When there seemeth to mans iudgement no recouery, but all things are brought to desparre, then God chiefly sheweth his mightie power.

g They that haue no feare of God, by his sharp rods are brought to call vpon him, & so finde mercie.

h By healing them he declareth his good wil toward them.

i Meaning, their diseases, which had almost brought them to the graue and corruption.

k Praise & confession of Gods benefites are the true sacrifices of the godly.

l He sheweth by the sea, what care God hath ouer man, for in that that he deliuereth them from the great dangers of the sea, he deliuereth them, as it were from a thousand deaths.

m Their feare and danger is so great.

n When their arte and meanes faile them, they are compelled to confesse that only Gods prouidence doth preserue them.

o Though before euery drop seemeth to fight one against another: yet at his commandement they are as still, as though they were frosen.

p This great benefit ought not onely to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places and assemblies. [Or, saltmeate.

q For the loue that hee beareth to his Church, hee changeth the order of nature for their commoditie.

r Continuall increase and yerely.

s As God oy his prouidence doth exalt men, so doth he also humble them by afflictions to know themselues.

14 Hee brought them out of darkenesse, and out of the shadowe of death, and brake their bands asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lorde his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For hee hath broken the f gates of brasse, and brast the barres of yron asunder.

17 g Fooles by reason of their transgression, & because of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their soule abhorreth all meate, and they are brought to deaths doore.

19 Then they crie vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuereth them from their distresse.

20 h Hee sendeth his worde and healeth them, and deliuereth them from their i graues.

21 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men, 22 And let them offer sacrifices of k praise, and declare his works with reioycing.

23 They that goe downe to the l sea in ships, and occupie by the great waters, 24 They see the workes of the Lord, and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For he commaundeth and raiseth the stormie winde, and it lifteth vp the waues therof.

26 They mount vp to the heauen, and descend to y deepe, so that their soule m melteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their n cunning is gone.

28 Then they cry vnto the Lorde in their trouble, and hee bringeth them out of their distresse.

29 He turneth the storme to calme, so that the waues therof are still.

30 When they are o quieted, they are glad, and he bringeth them vnto the hauen, where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the p Congregation of the people, and prayse him in the assembly of the Elders.

33 Hee turneth the floodes into a wildernesse, and the springs of waters into drinesse, 34 And a fruitfull land into ‖ barrennesse for the wickednes of them that dwel therin.

35 Againe he q turneth the wildernesse into pooles of water, and the drie land into water springs.

36 And there he placeth the hungrie, and they build a citie to dwell in,

37 And sow the fields, & plant vine yards, which bring forth fruitfull r increase.

38 For he blesseth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and hee diminisheth not their cattell.

39 s Againe men are diminished, and brought low by oppression, mill, and sorow.

40 He poureth t contempt vpon princes, and causeth them to erre in desert places out of the way.

41 Yet he raiseth vp the poore out of miserie, and maketh him families like a flocke of sheepe.

42 The u righteous shal see it, & reioyce, and all iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

43 Who is wise, that hee may obserue these things? for they shall vnderstand the louing kindnesse of the Lord.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalme is compsed of two other Psalmes before, the seuen & fiftieth and the sixtieth. The matter here contained is, 1 That Dauid giueth himself with heart and voyce to prayse the Lord. 7 And assureth himselfe of the promise of God concerning his kingdom ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone will in the ende cast downe our enemies.

A song or Psalme of Dauid.

O God, mine heart is a prepared, so is ‖ my tongue: I will sing and giue prayse.

2 Awake viole and harpe: I will awake early.

3 I will prayse thee, O Lord, among the b people, and I wil sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great aboue the heauens, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

5 c Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glory bee vpon all the earth,

6 That thy beloued may bee deliuered: d helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his e holines, therefore I will reioyce, I shall diuide Sichem, and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shall be mine, & Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iuda is my lawgiuer.

9 f Moab shall be my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will lead me into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 g Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst forsaken vs, and didst not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shall doe valiantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

t For their wickednes & tyranny he causeth y people & subiects to contemne them.

u They, whose faith is lightened by Gods spirit, shal reioice to see Gods iudgements against y wicked and vngodly.

a This earnest affection declareth that he is free from hypocrisie, and that sluggishnes staieth him not. [Or, my glory, because it chiefly setteth forth the glory of God.

b He prophesieth of the calling of the Gentiles: for except they were called, they could not heare the goodnesse of God.

c Let all the world see thy iudgements, in that that thou art God ouer all, and so confesse that thou art glorious.

d When God by his benefites maketh vs partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth vs to be earnest in prayer, to desire him to continue and finish his graces.

e As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he shew himselfe constant and holy in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subiect vnto me.

f From the first verse of this Psalme vnto the last, reade the exposition in the 60. Psalme, and fift verse.

PSAL. CIX.

1 Dauid being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them he speaketh of Iudas the traytour vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Then doeth hee promise to giue praises vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HOlde not thy tongue, O God of my a praise.
2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceite are opened vpon mee: they haue spoken to mee with a lying tongue.
3 They compassed mee about also with woordes of hatred, and fought against mee without a cause.
4 For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, b but I gaue my selfe to prayer.
5 And they haue rewarded mee euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.
6 c Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.
7 When hee shall be iudged, let him bee condemned, and let his d prayer bee turned into sinne.
8 Let his dayes be fewe, and let another take his e charge.
9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.
10 Let his children bee vagabonds and beg and seeke bread, comming out of their places destroyed.
11 Let f the extortioner catch all that hee hath, and let the stranger spoyle his labour.
12 Let there be none to extend mercy vnto him: neither let there bee any to shewe mercy vpon his fatherlesse children.
13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, and in the generation following let their name bee put out.
14 g Let the iniquitie of his fathers bee had in remembrance with the Lorde: and let not the sinne of his mother bee done away.
15 But let them alway be before the Lord, that hee may cut off their memorial from the earth.
16 Because h he remembred not to shewe mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorowfull hearted, to slay him.
17 As he loued cursing, i so shall it come vnto him, and as he loued not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.
18 As hee clothed himselfe with cursing like a raiment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.
19 Let it bee vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, where with hee shall alway be girded.
20 Let this be the reward of mine aduersarie k from the Lorde, and of them, that speake euill against my soule.
21 But thou, O Lorde my God, deale with me according vnto thy l Name: deliuer me, (for thy mercy is good) 22 Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded within me.
23 I depart like the shadowe that declineth, and am shaken off as the m grashopper.
24 My knees are weake through fasting, and my flesh n hath lost all fatnesse.
25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon mee, shaked their heads.
26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: o saue me according to thy mercie.
27 And they shall knowe, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.
28 Though they p curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shall arise and bee confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.
29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them couer themselues with their confusion, as with a cloke.
30 I will giue thankes vnto the Lorde greatly with my q mouth, and praise him among the multitude.
31 For hee will stande at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them that would r condemne his soule.

a Though all the world condemne me, yet thou wilt approue mine innocencie, and that is a sufficient prayse to me.
b To declare that I had none other refuge, but thee in whom my conscience was at rest.
c Whether it were Doeg or Saul, or some familiar friend, that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of priuate affection, but moued by Gods spirit, that God would take vengeance vpon him.
d As to the elect all things turne to their profite: so to the reprobate, euen those things that are good, turne to their damnation.
e This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Acts 1.20.
f He declareth that the curse of God lieth vpon the extortioners: who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawfull gotten goods are by Gods iust iudgement depriued of all.
g Thus punisheth the Lord to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.
h He sheweth that God accustometh to plague them after a strange sort, that shewe themselues cruell toward other.
i Thus giueth the Lorde to euery man the thing, wherein hee delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their lustes and reprobate mindes.
k For being destitute of mans helpe, hee fully trusted in the Lorde, that hee would deliuer him.
l As thou art named mercifull, gracious and long suffering, so shewe thy selfe in effect.
m Meaning, that he hath no stay nor assurance in this world.
n For hunger, that came of sorowe, he was leane, and his naturall moisture failed him.
o The more grieuous that Satan assailed him, the more earnest, and instant was he in prayer.
p They shall gaine nothing by cursing me.
q Not onely in confessing it secretly in my selfe, but also in declaring it before all the Congregation.
r Hereby hee sheweth that he had not to doe with them, that were of litle power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

PSAL. CX.

1 Dauid propheseith of the power and euerlasting kingdome giuen to Christ, 4 And of his Priesthood, which should put an ende to the Priesthood of Leui.

A Psalme of Dauid.

THe a Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hande, vntill I make thine enemies thy footestoole.
2 The Lorde shall send the rodde of thy power out of b Zion: bee thou ruler in the middes of thine enemies.
3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling c thine armie in holy beautie: thy youth of thy wombe shall bee as the morning dewe.
4 The Lord sware, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of d Melchi-zedek.
5 The Lord that is at thy right hand, shal wound kings in the day of his wrath.
6 He shall bee iudge among the heathen: he shal fill all with dead bodies, and smite the e head ouer great countreys.
7 Hee shall f drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

a Iesus Christ in the two and twentie of Mat. verse 44 giueth the interpretation hereof, and sheweth that this cannot properly be applied vnto Dauid, but to himselfe.
b And thence it shall stretch through all the world: and this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his word.
c By thy word thy people shall bee assembled into thy Church, whose increase shall bee so abundant and wonderfull, as the droppes of the dewe.
d As Melchizedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any King, saue onely in Christ, Hebrewes 7.27.
e No power shall be able to resist him.
f Vnder this similitude of a captaine, that is so greedie to destroy his enemies, that hee will not scarce drinke by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

PSAL. CXI.

1 He giueth thankes to the Lorde for his mercifull workes toward his Church. 10 And declareth wherein true wisdome and right knowledge consisteth.

Praise

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

I Will [a] prayse the Lorde with my whole heart in the assembly and Congregation of the iust.

2 The workes of the Lord are [b] great, and ought to be sought out of all them that loue them.

3 His worke is beautifull and glorious, and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 He hath made his wonderfull works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is mercifull and full of compassion.

5 Hee hath giuen [c] a portion vnto them that feare him: he will euer be mindful of his couenant.

6 He hath shewed to his people the power of his workes in giuing vnto them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The [d] workes of his handes are trueth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are stablished for euer and euer, and are done in trueth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commanded his couenant for euer: holy and fearefull is his Name.

10 [e] The beginning of wisedome is the feare of the Lord: al they that obserue them haue good vnderstanding: his prayse endureth for euer.

a The Prophet declareth that he will prayse God both priuately and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himselfe wholy and onely vnto God.

b He sheweth that Gods works are a sufficient cause wherefore we should prayse him, but chiefly his benefits toward his Church.

c God hath giuen to his people all that was necessarie for them, and will do still euen for his couenants sake: and in this sense the Hebrew word is taken, Pro. 30.8 and 31.15. ‖ Or, pray, and sinde.

d As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth he declare himselfe iust and true in the gouernment of the same.

e They onely are wise that feare God, and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his word.

f To wit, his commandements, as verse 7.

PSAL. CXII.

1 How prayseth the felicitie of them that feare God, 10 And condemneth the cursed state of the contemners of God.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

BLessed is the man that [a] feareth the Lord, and delighteth greatly in his commandements.

2 His seed shalbe mightie vpon earth, the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.

3 [b] Riches & treasures shalbe in his house, and his righteousnes endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the [c] righteous ariseth light in darkenes: he is mercifull and full of compassion and righteous.

5 A good man is mercifull and [d] lendeth, & will measure his affaires by iudgement.

6 Surely he shall neuer be mooued: but the righteous shall be had in euerlasting remembrance.

7 He will not be afraid of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, and beleeueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore he wil not feare, vntill he see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 Hee hath [e] distributed and giuen to the poore: his [f] horne shall be exalted with glory.

10 The wicked shall see it and bee angry: he shall gnash with his teeth, and consume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

a He meaneth that reuerent feare which is in the children of God, which causeth them to delite onely in the word of God.

b The godly shal haue abundance & contentment, because their heart is satisfied in God onely.

c The faithful in all their aduersities know that all shal goe wel with them: for God will be mercifull and iust.

d He sheweth what is the fruite of mercie: to lend freely & not for gaine, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to helpe where need requireth and not to bestow all on himselfe.

e The godly pinch not niggardly but distribute liberally, as the necessitie of the poore requireth & as his power is able.

f His power and prosperous estate, should not earnestly extoll his name?

e By preferring the poore to high honour, and giuing the barren children, hee sheweth that God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinarie meanes, but also by miracles.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to prayse the Lord for his prouidence, 7 In that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRaise, O ye seruants of the Lord, [a] prayse the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord, from henceforth and for euer.

3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high aboue all [b] nations, and his glory aboue the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lorde our God, that hath his dwelling on high,

6 Who abaseth himselfe to behold things in the heauen and in the earth!

7 Hee raiseth the needie out of the dust, and liftteth vp the [c] poore out of the dung,

8 That he may set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to dwell with a familie, and a ioyfull mother of children. Prayse ye the Lord.

a By this often repetition, he stirreth vp our colde dulnesse to prayse God, seeing his works are so wonderfull, and that we are created for the same cause.

b If Gods glory shine through all the world, and therefore of all ought to be praysed, what great condemnation were it to his people, among whom chiefly it shineth, if they

g The blessing of God vpon his children shall cause the wicked to die for enuie.

PSAL. CXIIII.

1 How the Israelites were deliuered forth of Egypt & the wonderfull miracles that God wrought at that time. Which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercy toward his Church, who whē the course of nature faileth, preserueth his miraculously.

WHen [a] Israel went out of Egypt, and the house of Iaakob from the [b] barbarous people,

2 Iudah was [b] his sanctification, and Israel his dominion.

3 The Sea saw it and fled: Iorden was turned backe.

4 The mountaines leaped like rammes, and the hils as lambes.

5 What ayled thee, O Sea, that thou fleddest? O Iorden, why wast thou turned backe?

6 Yee mountaines, why leaped ye like rammes, and ye hils as lambes?

7 The [d] earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Iaacob:

8 Which [e] turneth the rocke into waterpooles, & the flint into a fountaine of water.

Exod. 13.3.

a That is, from them that were of a strange language.

b The whole people were witnesses of his holy maiestie, in adopting them, and of his mighty power in deliuering them.

c Seeing that these dead creatures felt Gods power, and after a sort saw it, much more his people ought to consider it and glorifie him for the same.

d Ought then his people to be insensible, when they see his power and maiestie?

e That is, caused miraculously water to come out of the rocke in most abunddance, Exod. 17.6.

PSAL. CXV.

1 A prayer of the faithful oppressed by idolatrous tyrants, against who they desire that God would succour them, 9 Trusting most constantly that God will preserue them in this their need, seeing that he hath adopted and receiued them to his seruice, 18 Promising finally that they will not be vnmindfull of so great a benefite, if it would please God to heare their prayer, and deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

a Because God promised to deliuer them, not for their sakes, but for his name, Isa. 48.11. therefore they ground their prayer vpon this promise.

b When the wicked see that God accomplisheth not his promise, as they imagine, they thinke there is no God.

c No impediments can let his worke, but he vseth euen the impediments to serue his will.

d Seeing that neither the matter nor the forme can commend the idoles, it followeth that there is nothing why they should be esteemed.

e He sheweth what great vanitie it is to aske helpe of them, which not onely haue no helpe in them, but lacke sense and reason.

f As much without sense, as blockes and stones.

g For they were appointed by God, as instructers and teachers of faith and religion for others to follow. h That is, he will continue his graces toward his people. i And therefore doeth still gouerne and continue all things therein. k And they declare enough his sufficiencie, so that the world serueth him nothing, but to shewe his fatherly care toward men. l Though the dead set foorth Gods glory, yet be meaneth here, that they prayse him not in his Chuch and Congregation,

NOt a vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glory, for thy louing mercie, and for thy truethes sake.

2 Wherefore shal b the Heathen say, Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in heauen: he doeth whatsoeuer he c will.

4 Their idoles are d siluer and gold, euen the worke of mens hands.

5 They haue a mouth and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

6 They haue eares and heare not: they haue nostes and smell not.

7 They haue e hands & touch not: they haue feete, and walke not: neither make they a sound with their throat.

8 They that make them are f like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for he is their helpe and shield.

10 g O house of Aaron, trust yee in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.

11 Yee that feare the Lorde, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper and their shield.

12 The Lord hath bene mindful of vs: he will blesse, he h will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He wil blesse them that feare the Lord, both small and great.

14 The Lorde will encrease his graces toward you, euen toward you and toward your children.

15 Ye are blessed of the Lord, which i made the heauen and the earth.

16 The k heauens, euen the heauens are the Lordes: but yee hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men.

17 The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that l goe downe into the place of silence.

18 But wee will prayse the Lorde from henceforth and for euer. Prayse yee the Lord.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 Dauid being in great danger of Saul in the desert of Maon perceiuing the great and inestimable loue of God toward him, magnifieth such great mercies. 13 And protesteth that he will be thankefull for the same.

a He granteth that no pleasure is so great, as to feele Gods helpe in our necessitie, neither that any thing more stirreth vp our loue toward him.

b That is, in conuenient time to seeke helpe, which was when hee was in distresse.

I a Loue the Lord, because he hath heard my voyce and my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him b in my dayes.

3 When the snares of death compassed me, and the griefes of the graue caught me: when I found trouble and sorow,

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseech thee, O Lord deliuer my soule.

5 The Lord is c mercifull and righteous, and our God is full of compassion.

6 The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserie and he saued me.

7 Returne vnto thy rest O d my soule: for the Lord hath bene beneficiall vnto thee,

8 Because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling.

9 I shall e walke before the Lorde in the land of the liuing.

10 f I beleeued, therefore did I speake: for I was sore troubled.

11 I sayd in my feare, Al men are lyars.

12 What shall I render vnto the Lorde for all his benefites toward me?

13 I will g take the cup of saluation, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

14 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lord, euen now in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the h death of his Saints.

16 Behold, Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmaid: thou hast broken my bonds.

17 I wil offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, and will call vpon the Name of the Lorde.

18 I wil pay my i vowes vnto the Lord, euen now in the presence of all his people, 19 In the courts of the Lords house, euen in the mids of thee, O Ierusalem. Prayse ye the Lord.

c He sheweth forth the fruite of his loue in calling vpon him, confessing him to be iust and merciful, and to helpe them that are destitute of ayde and counsell.

d Which was vnquieted before, now rest vpon the Lord: for he hath bene beneficial towards thee.

e The Lord will preserue me, and saue my life.

f I felt all these things, and therefore was mooued by faith to confesse them, 2. Cor. 4. 13.

g In my great distresse I thought God would not regard man, which is but lyes and vanitie, yet I ouercame this tentation, and felt the contrary. h In the Lawe they vsed to make a banker, when they gaue solemne thankes to God, and to take the cup and drinke in signe of thankesgiuing. i I receiue that God hath a care ouer his, so that he both dispoleth their death, and taketh an account. k I will thanke him for his benefites: for that is a iust payment, to confesse that we owe all to God.

PSAL. CXVII.

1 He exhorteth the Gentiles to prayse God, because hee hath accomplished as well to them as to the Iewes the promise of life euerlasting by Iesus Christ

A Ll a nations, prayse ye the Lord: all yee people, prayse him.

2 For his louing kindenesse is great toward vs, and the a trueth of the Lorde endureth for euer. Prayse ye the Lord.

Rom. 15. 11.

a That is, the most certaine and continuall testimonies of his Fatherly grace.

PSAL. CXVIII.

1 Dauid reioiced of Saul and of the people, at the time appointed obtained the kingdom. 4 For the which he biddeth all them that feare the Lorde, to be thankefull. And vnder his person in all this was Christ liuely set forth, who should bee of his people reioiced.

PRaise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let Israel now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Let them that feare the Lord, now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lord in b trouble, and a Because God by creating Dauid King, shewed his mercy toward his afflicted Church, the Prophet doeth not onely himselfe thanke God, but exhoreth all the people to do the same. b We are here taught, that the more that troubles oppresse vs the more ought we to be instant in prayer.

the Lord heard me, and set me at large.

6 The Lord is with me: therefore I will not feare what c man can doe vnto me.

7 The Lord is with me among them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence d in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.

10 All nations haue compassed mee: but in the name of the Lorde shall I destroy them.

11 They haue compassed mee, yea, they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

12 They came about mee like bees, but they were quenched as a fire of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

13 e Thou hast thrust sore at mee, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.

14 The Lorde is my strength and f song: for he hath bene my deliverance.

15 The g voice of ioy and deliverance shall be in the Tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lorde hath done valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lorde is exalted: h the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shall not die, but live, and declare the workes of the Lord.

18 The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not delivered me to death.

19 Open ye vnto me the i gates of righteousnes, that I may go into them, and praise the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lorde: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast bene my deliverance.

22 * The stone, which the builders k refused, is the head of the corner.

23 This was the Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

24 This is the l day, which the Lord hath made: let vs reioyce and be glad in it.

25 m O Lord, I pray thee, saue now: O Lord I pray thee, now giue prosperitie.

26 Blessed bee hee, that commeth in the Name of the Lord: n wee haue blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

27 The Lord is mighty, and hath given vs o light: binde the sacrifice with cordes vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee, even my God: therefore I will exalt thee.

29 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

c Being exalted to this estate, he assured himselfe to haue man euer to be his enemie: yet he doubted not, but God would maintaine him, because he had placed him.

d He sheweth that he had trusted in vaine, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue bene preferred to the kingdome, and therefore he put his trust in God, and obteyned.

e Hee noteth Saul his chiefe enemie.

f In that he was deliuered, it came not of himselfe, nor of the power of man, but onely of Gods fauour: therefore he will praise him.

g He promiseth both to render graces himselfe, and to cause others to doe the same, because that in his person the Church was restored.

h So that all that are both farre and neere, may see his mighty power.

i He willeth the doores of the Tabernacle to be opened that hee may declare his thankefull mind. Isa. 28, 16. matth. 21.42. acts 4.11. rom. 9.33. 1. pet. 2.6,7.

k Though Saul and the chiefe powers refused me to be king, yet God hath preferred me aboue them all. l Wherin God hath shewed chiefly his mercy in appointing mee king, and deliuering his Church. m The people pray for the prosperity of Dauids kingdome, who was the figure of Christ. n Which are the Priestes, and haue the charge thereof, as Num. 6.23. o Because he had restored vs from darkenesse to light wee will offer sacrifices and prayses vnto him.

PSAL. CXIX.

The Prophets exhorteth the children of God to frame their liues according to his holy word. 123 Also he sheweth wherein the true seruice of God standeth: that is, when wee frame our liues according to his word, and not after our owne fantasies.

ALEPH.

BLessed are a those that are vpright in their way, and walke in the Law of the Lord.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and seeke him with their whole heart.

3 Surely they worke b none iniquitie, but walke in his wayes.

4 Thou hast commaunded to keepe thy precepts diligently.

5 c Oh that my wayes were directed to keepe thy statutes!

6 Then should I not bee confounded, when I haue respect to all thy commaundements.

7 I will praise thee with an vpright d heart, when I shall learne the e iudgements of thy righteousnesse.

8 I will keepe thy statutes: forsake mee not f ouer long.

a Here they are not called blessed which thinke themselues wise in their owne iudgement, nor which imagine to themselues a certaine holines, but they whose conuersation is without hypocrisie.

b For they are ruled by Gods spirit, and imbrace no doctrine but his.

c Dauid acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reforme it, that his life may be conformable to Gods word. d For true religion standeth in seruing God without hypocrisie. e That is, thy precepts, which containe perfect righteousnes. f He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmity in time, BETH.

9 Wherewith shall a g young man redresse his way? in taking heed thereto according to thy word.

10 With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandements.

11 I haue h hid thy promise in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach mee thy statutes.

13 With my lippes haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.

14 I haue had as great i delight in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy wayes.

16 I will delight in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

a Because youth is most giuen to licentiousnesse, he chiefly warneth them to frame their liues betime to Gods word.

b If Gods word be grauen in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him dayly more and more therein.

c The Prophet doeth not boast of his vertues, but setteth foorth an example for others to follow Gods word and leaue worldly vanities.

GIMEL.

17 Be beneficiall vnto thy seruant, that I may k liue and keepe thy word.

18 Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of thy Law.

19 I am a l stranger vpon earth: hide not thy commandements from me.

20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy iudgements alway.

21 Thou m hast destroyed the proud: cursed are they that doe erre from thy commaundements.

a He sheweth that we ought not to desire to liue, but to serue God, and that we cannot serue him aright, except hee open our eyes and mindes.

b Seing mans life in this world is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide? c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy trueth.

22 Remoue from me shame & contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

d When the powers of the world gaue false sentence against me, thy word was a guide and counseller to teach me what to doe, and to comfort me.

23 d Princes also did sit, & speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.

24 Also thy testimonies are my delight, and my counsellers.

DALETH.

a That is, it is almost brought to the graue, and without thy word I cannot liue.

25 My soule cleaueth to the a dust: quicken me according to thy word.

b I haue confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.

26 I haue b declared my wayes, & thou heardest me: teach me thy statutes.

27 Make mee to vnderstand the way of thy precepts, & I will meditate in thy wonderous workes.

c If God did not maintaine vs by his word, our life would drop away like water.

28 My soule melteth for heauines: raise me vp according vnto thy c word.

d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my mind may be purged from vanitie, and taught to obey thy will.

29 Take from me the d way of lying, and graunt me graciously thy Law.

30 I haue chosen the way of trueth, & thy iudgements haue I layd before me.

31 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord: confound me not.

e By this hee sheweth that we can neither chuse good, cleaue to Gods word, nor run forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

32 I will run the way of thy commaundements, when thou e shalt inlarge mine heart.

HE.

a He sheweth that he cannot follow on the end, except God teach him oft times, and lead him forward.

33 Teach a me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keepe it vnto the end.

34 Giue me vnderstanding, & I will keep thy Law: yea, I will keepe it with my whole b heart.

b Not onely in outward conuersation, but also with inward affection.

35 Direct me in the path of thy commaundements: for therein is my delight.

36 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to c couetousnesse.

c Hereby meaning all other vices, because that couetousnes is the roote of all euill.

37 Turne away mine d eyes from regarding vanitie, and quicken me in thy way.

38 Stablish thy promise to thy seruaunt, because he feareth thee.

39 Take away e my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.

40 Behold, I desire thy commaundements: f quicken me in thy righteousnesse.

d Meaning, all his senses. e Let me not fall to thy dishonor, but let mine heart stil delight in thy gracious word. f Giue me strength to continue in thy word euer to the end.

VAV.

a He sheweth that Gods mercie and loue is the first cause of our saluation.

41 And let thy a louing kindnesse come vnto me, O Lord, & thy saluation according to thy promise.

42 So shall I b make answere vnto my blaspheemers: for I trust in thy word.

b By trusting in Gods word, he asserteth himselfe to be able to confute the slanders of his aduersaries.

43 And take not the worde of trueth vtterly out of my mouth: for I waite for thy iudgements.

44 So shall I alway keepe thy lawe for euer and euer.

45 And I will c walke at liberty: for I seeke thy precepts.

c They that simply walke after Gods word, haue no lets to entangle them, whereas they that doe contrary, are euer in pets and snares.

46 I will speake also of thy testimonies before d kings, and will not be ashamed.

d He sheweth that the children of God ought not to suffer their fathers glory to be obscured by the vaine pompe of Princes.

47 And my delight shall bee in thy commaundements, which I haue loued.

48 Mine handes also will I lift vp vnto thy commaundements, which I haue loued, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

ZAIN.

a Though hee feele Gods hande still to lie vpon him, yet he resteth on his promise and comforteth himselfe therein.

49 Remember a the promise made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused mee to trust, 50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promise hath quickened me.

b Meaning the wicked, which contemne Gods word, and tread his religiō vnder foote.

51 The b proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Law.

52 I remembred thy c iudgements of old, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.

c That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy selfe to be iudge of y world.

53 d Feare is come vpon mee for the wicked, that forsake thy Law.

54 Thy statutes haue bene my songs in the house of my e pilgrimage.

d That is, a vehement zeale to thy glory, and indignation against the wicked e In the course of this life and sorrowfull exile.

55 I haue remembred thy Name, O Lord, in the f night, and haue kept thy Law.

f Euen when other sleepe.

56 g This I had because I kept thy precepts.

g That is, all these benefites.

CHETH.

a I am perswaded that to keepe thy law is an heritage and great gaine for me.

57 O Lord, that art my a portion, I haue determined to keepe thy words.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be mercifull vnto me according to thy promise.

b He sheweth that none can embrace the word of God, except he consider his owne imperfections & waies.

59 I haue considered my b waies, & turned my feete into thy testimonies.

60 I made haste, & delayed not to keepe thy commandements.

c They haue gone about to draw me into their company.

61 The bands of the wicked haue c robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight will I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

d Not onely in mutuall consent, but also with ayd and succour.

63 I am d companion of all them y feare thee, and keepe thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lorde, is full of thy mercy: e teach me thy statutes.

e For the knowledge of Gods worde is a singular token of his fauour.

TETH.

a Hauing proued by experience that God was true in his promise he desireth that he would increase in him knowledge and iudgement.

65 O Lorde, thou hast dealt a graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy word.

66 Teach me good iudgement & knowledge: for I haue beleeued thy commaundements.

67 Before I was b afflicted, I went astray: but now I keepe thy word.

b So Ieremie saith that before the Lord touched him, he was like a calfe vntamed: so that the vse of Gods rods is to call vs home to God.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.

69 The proud haue imagined a lie against me: but I will keepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

c Their heart is indurate and hardened, puffed vp with prosperitie and vaine estimation of themselues.

70 c Their heart is as greaſe: but my delight is in thy law.

71 It is d good for me that I haue bene afflicted, that I may learne thy ſtatutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thouſands of gold and ſiluer.

d Hee confeſſeth that before that hee was chaſtened, he was rebellious, as a man by nature is.

IOD.

a Becauſe God leaueth not his worke, that he hath begun, he deſireth a newe grace, that is, that he would continue his mercies.

b When God ſheweth his grace toward any, he teſtifieth to others, that he faileth not them that truſt in him. Ebr. in truth.

c He declareth that when he felt not Gods mercies, he was as dead.

d That is, be comforted by mine example.

73 Thine handes haue a made mee and faſhioned me: giue me vnderſtanding therefore, that I may learne thy commaundements.

74 So they that b feare thee, ſeeing me, ſhall reioyce, becauſe I haue truſted in thy word.

75 I know, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou haſt afflicted mee c iuſtly.

76 I pray thee that thy mercie may comfort mee according to thy promiſe vnto thy ſeruant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I may d liue: for thy Lawe is my delight.

78 Let the proude be aſhamed: for they haue dealt wickedly, and falſely with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let ſuch as feare thee a turne vnto me, and they that a know thy teſtimonies.

80 Let mine heart be vpright in thy ſtatutes, that I be not aſhamed.

e Hee ſheweth that there can bee no true feare of God without the knowledge of his word.

CAPH.

a Though my ſtrength faile me, yet my ſoule groneth and fighteth, reſting ſtill in thy word.

b Like a skinne, bottle or bladder that is parched in the ſmoke.

c How long wilt thou afflict thy ſeruant?

d They haue not onely oppreſſed me violently, but alſo craftily conſpired againſt me, and deſtroy ſuch as vniuſtly perſecute them.

81 My ſoule a fainteth for thy ſaluation: yet I waite for thy word.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy promiſe, ſaying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am like a b bottle in the ſmoke: yet doe I not forget thy ſtatutes.

84 Howe many are the a dayes of thy ſeruant? c When wilt thou execute iudgement on them that perſecute me?

85 The proud haue d digged pits for me, which is not after thy law.

86 All thy commandements are true: they perſecute me falſly: a helpe me.

87 They had almoſt conſumed me vpon the earth: but I forſooke not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindneſſe: ſo ſhall I keepe the teſtimonie of thy mouth.

e He aſſureth himſelfe, that God will deliuer his, and deſtroy ſuch as vniuſtly perſecute them. f Finding no helpe in earth, he lifteth vp his eyes to heauen.

LAMED.

a Becauſe none ſhould eſteeme Gods word, according to the changes of things in this world, he ſheweth that it abideth in heauen, and therefore is immutable. b Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that eſtate, wherein thou haſt created them, much more thy trueth remaineth conſtant and vnchangeable, 89 O Lord, thy word endureth for euer in a heauen.

90 Thy trueth is from generation to generation: thou haſt layd the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.

91 They b continue euen to this day by thine Ordinances: for all are thy ſeruants.

92 Except thy lawe had bene my delite, a I ſhould now haue periſhed in mine affliction.

93 I will neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou haſt quickned me.

94 I am a thine, ſaue mee: for I haue ſought thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for mee to deſtroy mee: but I will conſider thy teſtimonies.

96 I a haue ſeene an end of al perfection: but thy commaundement is exceeding large.

in earth, but it hath an ende: onely Gods worde laſteth for euer.

MEM.

a He ſheweth that we cannot loue Gods word, except we exerciſe our ſelues therein and practiſe it.

b Whoſoeuer doeth ſubmit himſelfe onely to Gods word, ſhall not onely be ſafe againſt the practiſes of his enemies, but alſo learne more wiſedome, then they that profeſſe it, and are men of experience.

c So then of our ſelues we can doe nothing, but when God doeth inwardly inſtruct vs with his Spirit, we feele his grace is ſweeter then hony.

97 Oh how loue I thy lawe! a it is my meditation continually.

98 By thy commandementes thou haſt made me wiſer then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

99 I haue had more b vnderſtanding then all my teachers: for thy teſtimonies are my meditation.

100 I vnderſtood more then the ancient, becauſe I kept thy precepts.

101 I haue refrained my feete from euery euill way, that I might keepe thy word.

102 I haue not declined from thy iudgements: for a thou didſt teach me.

103 How ſweete are thy promiſes vnto my mouth! yea, more then honie vnto my mouth.

104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderſtanding: therefore I hate all the waies of falſhood.

NVN.

a Of our ſelues we are but darkneſſe, and cannot ſee, except we bee lightened with Gods word.

b So all the faithful ought to bind themſelues to God by a ſolemne oth and promiſe to ſtire vp their zeale to imbrace Gods word.

c That is, my prayers & thankſgiuing, which ſacrifice Hoſea calleth the calues of the lips, Chap. 14 verſ. 3.

d That is, I am in continuall danger of my life. e I eſteemed no worldly things, but made thy word mine inheritance.

105 Thy worde is a a lanterne vnto my feete, and a light vnto my path.

106 I haue b ſworne and will performe it, that I will keepe thy righteous iudgements.

107 I am very ſore afflicted: O Lorde, quicken me according to thy word.

108 O Lord, I beſeech thee, accept the a free offerings of my mouth, and teach mee thy iudgements.

109 My a ſoule is continually in mine hand: yet doe I not forget thy Law.

110 The wicked haue layde a ſnare for me: but I ſwarued not from thy precepts.

111 Thy teſtimonies haue I taken as an a heritage for euer: for they are the ioy of mine heart.

112 I haue applyed mine heart to fulfill thy ſtatutes alway, euen vnto the end.

SAMECH

a Whoſoeuer will imbrace Gods word aright, muſt abhorre all fantaſies and imaginations both of himſelfe and of other. b And hinder me not to keepe the Law of the Lord, 113 I hate a vaine inuentions: but thy law doe I loue.

114 Thou art my refuge and ſhield, and I truſt in thy word.

115 b Away from mee, ye wicked: for I will keepe the commandements of my God.

116 Stablish

e He desireth Gods continuall assistance least he should faint in this race, which he had begunne.

116 Stablish me according to thy promise, that I may liue, and disappoint me not of mine hope.

117 e Stay thou me, and I shall be safe, & I will delight continually in thy statutes.

d The craftie practises of them that contemne thy law, shall be brought to nought.

118 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for their d deceit is vaine.

e Which infected thy people, as drosse doeth the mettall.

119 Thou hast taken away al the wicked of the earth like e drosse: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

120 My flesh f trembleth for feare of thee, and I am afraid of thy iudgements.

f Thy iudgements do not onely teach me obedience, but cause mee to feare, considering mine owne weakenesse, which feare causeth repentance.

AIN.

a Put thy selfe betweene mine enemies and me, as if thou were my pledge.

121 I haue executed iudgement and iustice: leaue me not to mine oppressours.

122 a Answere for thy seruant in that, which is good, and let not the proude oppresse me.

b He boasteth not that he is Gods seruant, but hereby putteth God in mind that as he made him his by his grace, so he would continue his fauour toward him.

123 Mine eyes haue failed in waiting for thy saluation, and for thy iust promise.

124 Deale with thy b seruant according to thy mercie, and teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy seruant: graunt me therefore vnderstanding, that I may knowe thy testimonies.

c The Prophet sheweth that when the wicked haue brought all things to confusion, and Gods word to vtter contempt, then it is Gods time to help & lend remedy.

126 It is c time for thee, Lord, to worke: for they haue destroyed thy Law.

127 Therefore loue I thy cõmandements aboue gold, yea, aboue much fine gold.

d That is, whatsoeuer dissenteth from the puritie of thy word.

128 Therefore I esteeme all thy precepts most iust, and hate all false d wayes.

PE.

a Conteyning high and secret mysteries, so that I am moued with admiration and reuerence.

b The simple idiots that submit themselues to God, haue their eyes opened, and their mindes illuminated so soone as they beginne to reade Gods word.

129 Thy testimonies are a wonderfull: therefore doth my soule keepe them.

130 The entrance into thy b words sheweth light, and giueth vnderstanding to the simple.

c My zeale toward thy word was so great.

131 I opened my mouth and c panted, because I loued thy commandements.

132 Looke vpon me and be merciful vnto me, as thou vsest to doe vnto those that loue thy Name.

133 Direct my steps in thy word, and let none iniquitie haue dominion ouer me.

134 Deliuer me from the oppression of men, and I will keepe thy precepts.

135 Shewe the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant, and teach me thy statutes.

d Hee sheweth what ought to be the zeale of Gods children, when they see his word contemned.

136 Mine eyes gush d out with riuers of water, because they keepe not thy Law.

TSADDI.

a We cannot confesse God to be righteous, except we liue vprightly and truely as he hath commanded. Psal. 69. 9. rom. 2. 17.

137 Righteous art thou, O Lord, and iust are thy iudgements.

138 Thou hast commanded a iustice by thy testimonies and trueth especially.

b Gold hath needs to bee fined, but thy word is perfection it selfe.

139 b My zeale hath euen consumed me, because mine enemies haue forgotten thy words.

140 Thy worde is proued b most pure, and thy seruant loueth it.

141 I am small and despised: yet doe I not forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousnesse is an euerlasting righteousnesse, and thy Law is trueth.

143 Trouble and anguish are come vpon mee: yet are thy commandements my delight.

144 The righteousnesse of thy testimonies is euerlasting: graunt me vnderstanding, and I shall d liue.

KOPH.

145 I haue c cryed with my whole heart: heare mee, O Lorde, and I will keepe thy statutes.

146 I called vpon thee: saue me, and I will keepe thy testimonies.

147 I preuented the morning light, and cryed: for I waited on thy word.

148 Mine eyes preuented the night watches to meditate in thy word.

149 Heare my voyce according to thy louing kindenes: O Lord, quicken me according to thy iudgement.

150 They draw neere, that follow after e malice and are farre from thy Law.

151 Thou art neere, O Lord: for all thy commandements are true.

152 I haue knowen long since d by thy testimonies, that thou hast established them for euer.

d His faith is grounded vpon Gods worde, that hee would euer be at hand when his children be oppressed.

RESH.

153 Behold mine affliction, and deliuer me: for I haue not forgotten thy Law.

154 Pleade my cause, and deliuer mee: quicken me according vnto thy a word.

155 Saluation is farre from the wicked, because they keepe not thy statutes.

156 Great are thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken me according to thy b iudgements.

157 My persecuters and mine oppressors are many, yet doe I not swarue from thy testimonies.

158 I sawe the transgressours and was c grieued, because they kept not thy word.

159 Consider, O Lord, how I d loue thy precepts: quicken mee according to thy louing kindnesse.

160 The e beginning of thy worde is trueth, and all the iudgements of thy righteousnesse endure for euer.

a For without Gods promise there is no hope of deliuerance.

b According to thy promise made in the law, which because the wicked lacke, they can haue no hope of saluation.

c My zeale consumed me when I saw their malice and contempt of thy glory.

d It is a sure signe of our adoption, when we loue the law of God.

e Since thou first promisedst, euen to the end all thy sayings are true.

SCHIN.

a The threatnings and persecutions of princes could not cause me to shrinke to confesse thee, whom I more feare then men.

b That is, often & sundry times.

161 Princes haue a persecuted mee without cause, but mine heart stood in awe of thy wordes.

162 I reioyce at thy worde, as one that findeth a great spoyle.

163 I hate falshood and abhorre it, but thy Law doe I loue.

164 b Seuen times a day doe I praise thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

165 They

e For their conscience assureth them, that they please thee, wherias they that loue not thee, haue the contrary.

165 They, e that loue thy Law, shal haue great prosperitie, and they shall haue none hurt.

166 Lord, I haue d trusted in thy saluation, and haue done thy commandements.

167 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: for I loue them exceedingly.

d He sheweth that we must first haue faith, before we can worke and please God.

168 I haue kept thy precepts & thy testimonies: e for all my wayes are before thee.

e I had no respect of men, but set thee alwaies before mine eyes, as the iudge of my doings.

TAV.

a As thou hast promised to be the schoolmaster vnto all them that depend vpon thee.

169 Let my complaint come before thee, O Lord, and giue me vnderstanding, a according vnto thy word.

170 Let my supplication come before thee, and deliuer mee according to thy promise.

b The word signifieth to powre foorth continually.

171 My lips shall b speake prayse, when thou hast c taught me thy statutes.

c All his prayer and desire is, to profite in the word of God.

172 My tongue shall intreate of thy word: for all thy commandements are righteous.

d That is, thy prouident care ouer me, and wherewith thou wilt iudge mine enemies.

173 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy precepts.

174 I haue longed for thy saluation, O Lord, and thy Law is my delite.

175 Let my soule liue, and it shall prayse thee, and thy d iudgements shall helpe mee.

e Being chased to and fro by mine enemies, and hauing no place to rest in.

176 I haue e gone astray like a lost sheep: seeke thy seruant, for I doe not forget thy commandements.

PSAL. CXX.

1 The prayer of Dauid being vexed by the false reports of Sauls flatterers. 5 And therefore he lamenteth his long abode among those infidels. 7 Who were giuen to all kinde of wickednesse and contention.

a That is, of lifting vp the tune and rising in singing.

b Albeit the children of God ought to reioyce when they suffer for righteousnes sake, yet it is a great griefe to the flesh to heare euill for well doing.

c Hee assured himselfe y God would turne their craft to their owne destruction.

A song of a degrees.

I Called vnto the Lord in my b trouble, & he heard me.

2 Deliuer my soule, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitfull tongue.

3 What doth thy c deceitfull tongue bring vnto thee? or what doeth it availe thee?

4 It is as the d sharpe arrowes of a mightie man, and as the coles of iuniper.

5 Alo is to mee that I remaine in e Mesech, and dwell in the tents of f Kedar.

6 My soule hath too long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

7 I seeke g peace, and when I speake thereof, they are bent to warre.

d He sheweth that there is nothing so sharpe to pearce, nor so hot to set on fire as a slanderous tongue. e These were people of Arabia, which came of Iaphet, Gen. 10.2. f That is, of the Ishmaelites. g He declareth what he meaneth by Mesech and Kedar: to wit, the Israelites which had degenerate from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithfull.

PSAL. CXXI.

1 This Psalme teacheth that the faithfull ought onely to looke for helpe at God, 7 Who onely doth maintaine, preserue and prosper his Church.

A song of degrees.

I Will lift mine eyes ‖ vnto the mountaines, from whence mine helpe shall come.

‖ Or, about the mountaines; meaning, that there is nothing so high in the world,

2 Mine helpe commeth from the Lorde, which hath made the a heauen and the earth.

3 He will not suffer thy foote to slip: for he that keepeth thee, will not b slumber.

wherein hee can trust, but onely in God.

4 Beholde, hee that keepeth Israel, will neither slumber nor sleepe.

a He accuseth mans ingratitude, which cannot depend on Gods power.

5 The Lorde is thy keeper: the Lorde is thy shadow at thy right hand.

6 The Sunne shall not c smite thee by day, nor the Moone by night.

b He sheweth that Gods prouidence not onely watcheth ouer his Church in generall, but also ouer euer member thereof.

7 The Lord shall preserue thee from all euill: he shall keepe thy soule.

c Neither heate nor coulde, nor any incommoditie shalbe able to destroy Gods Church: albeit for a time they may molest it.

8 The Lorde shall preserue thy d going out, and thy comming in from henceforth and for euer.

d Whatsoeuer thou doest enterprise, shall haue good successe.

PSAL. CXXII.

1 Dauid reioiceth in the name of the faithfull, that God hath accomplished his promise, and placed his Arke in Zion. 5 For the which he giueth thanks, 8 And prayeth for the prosperitie of the Church.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

I a Reioyced, when they said to me, Wee will goe into the house of the Lord.

1. Chron. 29.9.

a Hee reioyceth that God had appointed a place, where the Arke should still remaine.

2 Our b feete shall stand in thy gates, O Ierusalem.

b Which were wont to wander to and fro as the Arke removed.

3 Ierusalem is builded as a citie, that is c compact together in it selfe:

c By the artificiall ioyning and beautie of the houses, he meaneth the concord and loue that was betweene the citizens.

4 Whereunto the d Tribes, euen the Tribes of the Lorde goe vp, according to the testimonie to Israel, to prayse the Name of the Lord.

d All the tribes

5 For there are thrones set for iudgment, euen the thrones of the house of e Dauid.

e In whose house God placed the throne of Iustice, & made it according to Gods couenant shall come and pray there.

6 Pray for the peace of Ierusalem: let them prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy f walles, and prosperitie within thy palaces.

f The fauour of God prosper thee both within and without.

8 For my g brethren and neighbours sakes I wil wish thee now prosperitie, g Not onely for mine owne sake, but for all the faithfull.

9 Because of the house of the Lorde our God, I will procure thy wealth.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted either in Babylon, or vnder Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

A song of degrees.

I Lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heauens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of a seruants looke vnto the hande of their masters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hande of her mistresse: so our eyes waite vpon the Lorde our God, vntill he haue mercy vpon vs.

a He compareth the condition of the godly to seruants that are destitute of all helpe, assuring that when all other helpes faile, God is euer at hand and like himselfe, 3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lorde, haue mercie vpon vs: for wee haue [b] suffered too much contempt.

b He declareth that when the faithfull are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions and scornings of the wicked, there is alway helpe aboue, if with hungry desires they call for it.

4 Our soule is filled too full of the mocking of the wealthy, and of the despitefulnesse of the proude.

PSAL. CXXIIII.

1 The people of God escaping a great perill, doe acknowledge themselues to be deliuered, not by their owne force, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatnes of the peril, 6 And praise the Name of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

a He sheweth that God was ready to help at neede, and that there was none other way to be saued, but by his onely meanes.

IF the Lord had not [a] bene on our side (may Israel now say)

2 If the Lord had not beene on our side, when men rose vp against vs,

3 They had then swalowed vs vp [b] quick, when their wrath was kindled against vs:

b So vnable were we to resist.

4 Then the [c] waters had drowned vs, and the streame had gone ouer our soule:

c He vseth most proper similitudes to expresse the great danger, that the Church was in, and out of the which God miraculously deliuered them.

5 Then had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.

6 Praysed be the Lorde, which hath not giuen vs, as a praye vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a bird out of the [d] snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

d For the wicked did not onely furiously rage against the faithfull, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

8 Our help is in the Name of the Lord, which hath made heauen and earth.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 He describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions, 4 And desireth their wealth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

A song of degrees.

a Though the world be subiect to mutations, yet the people of God shall stand sure, and be defended by Gods prouidence.

THey that trust in the Lorde, shall bee as mount Zion, which cannot be [a] remoued, but remaineth for euer.

2 As the mountaines are about Jerusalem: so is the Lorde about his people from henceforth, and for euer.

b Though God suffer his to be vnder the crosse, lest they should imbrace wickednesse, yet this crosse shall not so rest vpon the, that it should driue them from hope.

3 For the [b] rod of the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hand vnto wickednes.

4 Doe well, O Lord, vnto those that bee good and true in their hearts.

c He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites and such as haue no zeale of the truth.

5 [c] But these that turne aside by their crooked wayes, them shall the Lord lead with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shalbe vpon Israel.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 This Psalme was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderfull after the sundrie yeares of captiuitie foretolden by Ieremie, Chap. 25. 12. and 29. 10.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

WHen the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, we were like them that [a] dreame.

a Their deliuerance was as a thing incredible, and therefore tooke away all excuse of ingratitude.

2 Then was our mouth [b] filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioye: then said they among the [c] heathen, The Lorde hath done great things for them.

b He sheweth how the godly ought to reioice, whē God gathereth his Church or deliuereth it.

3 The Lord hath done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

4 O Lorde, bring againe our captiuitie, as the [d] riuers in the South.

c If the infidels confesse Gods wonderfull worke, the faithfull can neuer shew themselues sufficiently thankefull.

5 They that sowe in teares, shall reape in ioy.

6 They went weeping and caried [e] precious seede: but they shall returne with ioye bringing their sheaues.

d It is no more impossible to God to deliuer his people, then to cause the riuers to runne in the wilderne and baren places. e That is, seed which was scarce and deare: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promise to returne, had their desire.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both domestical and politicall standeth by Gods meere prouidence & blessing. 3 And that to haue children well nurtured, is an especial grace and gift of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of Salomon.

a That is, gouerne, and dispose all things pertaining to the familie.

EExcept the Lorde [a] build the house, they labour in vaine that builde it: except the Lord keepe the [b] citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

b The publique estate of the common wealth.

2 It is in vaine for [c] you to rise early, and to lie downe late, and eate the bread [d] of sorowe: but he will surely giue [e] rest to his beloued.

c Which watch and warde, and are also Magistrates, and rulers of the citie.

1 The faithfull grounding on Gods promiſe made vnto Dauid, deſire that he would eſtabliſh the ſame, both as touching his poſterity and the building of the Temple, to pray there as was foreſpoken, Deu. 12. 5.

1 He exhorteth the Leuites, watching in the Temple to praise the Lord,

¶ A song of degrees.

BEholde, praise yee the LORD, all yee a seruants of the LORD, yee that by night stand in the house of the LORD.

2 Lift vp your b hands to the Sanctuarie, and praise the LORD.

3 The LORDE that hath c made heauen and earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

a Ye that are Leuites, and chiefly appointed to this office. b For their charge was not onely to keepe the temple, but to pray there and to giue God thankes. c And therefore hath all power, blesse thee with his fatherly loue declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 He exhorteth all the faithfull, of what estate seuer they be, to praise God for his marueilous works, 12 and especially for his graces towards his people, wherein he hath declared his maiestie, 15 to the confusion of all idolaters, and their idoles.

¶ Praise ye the LORD.

PRaise the Name of the LORDE: yee seruants of the LORDE, praise him.

2 Yee that stand in the a house of the LORD, and in the b courts of the house of our God,

3 Praise yee the LORDE: for the LORDE is good: sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

4 For the LORD hath c chosen Iaakob to himselfe, and Israel for his chefe treasure.

5 For I know that the LORD is great, & that our LORD is aboue all gods.

6 Whatsoeuer pleaseth the LORD, that d did he in heauen and in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.

7 He bringeth vp the clouds from the endes of the earth, and maketh the * lightnings with the raine: he draweth foorth the wind out of his treasures.

8 * Hee smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

9 Hee hath sent tokens & wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

10 * Hee smote many nations, and slew mighty Kings:

11 As Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 And c gaue their lande for an inheritance, euen an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy name, O LORD, endureth for euer: O LORD, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the LORD will f iudge his people, and be pacified towards his seruants.

15 The s idoles of the heathen are siluer and gold, euen the worke of mens hands.

17 They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the LORD, ye house of Israel: praise the LORD, ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the LORD, ye house of Leui: ye that feare the LORD, praise the LORD.

21 Praised be the LORD out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the LORD.

a Ye Leuites that are in his Sanctuarie. b Meaning, the people: for the people and Leuites had their courtes, which were places of the Temple separate. c That is, hath freely loued the posterirtie of Abraham. d He ioyneth Gods power with his will, to the intent that we should not separate them: and hereby he willeth Gods people to depend on his power, which he confirmeth by examples. Iere. 10.13. Exod. 12.29. Num. 21.24, 34. e Hee sheweth what fruite the godly conceiue of Gods power, whereby they see how he destroieth his enemies, and deliuereth his people. f That is, gouern and defend his people. g By shewing what punishment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, he warneth his people to beware § like offence, seeing that idoles haue neither power nor life, and that their deliuerance came not by idols, but by the mightie power of God, read Psal. 115. verse 4.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1 A most earnest exhortation to giue thanks vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things, which standeth in confessing that he giueth vs all of his meere liberalitie.

PRaise ye the LORD, because he is good: for a his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Praise yee the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for euer.

3 Praise yee the Lord of lordes: for his mercy endureth for euer:

4 Which only doth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for euer:

5 Which by his wisedome made the heauens: for his mercy endureth for euer:

6 Which hath stretched out the earth vpon the waters: for his b mercy endureth for euer:

7 Which made great lights: for his mercy endureth for euer:

8 As the sunne to rule the day: for his mercy endureth for euer:

9 The moone and the starres to gouerne the night: for his mercy endureth for euer:

10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne: (for his mercy endureth for euer)

11 And c brought out Israel from among them (for his mercy endureth for euer)

12 With a mighty hande and d stretched out arme: (for his mercy endureth for euer)

13 Which deuided the red Sea into two parts: for his mercy endureth for euer:

14 And made Israel to passe thorow the middes of it: for his mercy endureth for euer:

15 And ouerthrewe Pharaoh and his hoste in the red Sea: for his mercy endureth for euer:

16 Which led his people thorow the e wildernes: for his mercy endureth for euer:

17 Which smote great Kings: for his mercy endureth for euer:

18 And slewe f mighty Kings: for his mercy endureth for euer:

a By this repetition he sheweth that the least of Gods benefites binde vs to thankesgiuing: but chiefly his mercy, which is principally declared towards his Church. b This was a common kinde of thankesgiuing, which the whole people vsed, when they had receiued any benefite of God, as 2. Chron. 7. 6. and 20. 21: meaning, that God was not onely mercifull to their fathers, but also continued the same to their posteritie. c Gods mercifull prouidence toward man appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that he deliuered his Church from the thraldome of their enemies. d In doing such a worke as was neuer done before, nor that any other could doe. e Where for the space of fortie yeeres he shewed infinite and most strange wonders. f Declaring thereby that no power, nor authoritie, was to deare vnto him, as the loue of his Church.

g In our great affliction & slaue-ry, when we loo-ked for nothing lesse then to haue had any succour.

h Seeing ỹ God prouideth, euen for ỹ beasts much more hath he care ouer his.

i Seeing that all ages haue had most plaine te-stimonies of Gods benefits, 19 As Sihon king of the Amorites: for his mercie endureth for euer:

20 And Og the king of Bashan: for his mercy endureth for euer:
21 And gaue their land for an heritage: for his mercie endureth for euer:
22 Euen an heritage vnto Israel his ser-uant: for his mercie endureth for euer:
23 Which remembred vs in our a base e-state: for his mercie endureth for euer:
24 And hath redeemed vs from our oppres-sours: for his mercie endureth for euer:
25 Which giueth food to all b flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer.
26 c Praise ye the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.

1 The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decay, liued in great anguish and sorow of heart: the which griefe the Chaldeans did so litle pitie, 3 that they rather encreased the same dayly with taunts, reproches and blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who prouoked the Babylonians against them, 8 and moued by the Spirit of God, prophesie the destruction of Babylon, where they were bandied so cruelly.

a That is, we abode a long time: & albeit that the countrey was plea-sant, yet could not stay our teares, nor turne vs from the true seruice of our God.

3 Then they that led vs captiues, c required of vs songs and mirth, when we had hanged vp our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Sion.
4 Howe shall we sing, said we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?
5 d If I forget thee, O Ierusalem, let my right hand forget to play.
6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Ierusalem to my e chiefe ioy.
7 Remember the children of f Edom, O Lord, in the g day of Ierusalem, which said, Raze it, raze it to the foundation thereof.

sorow of the Church is most grieuous vnto them, and is such as they can not but remember and lament. e The decay of Gods religion in their countrey was so grieuous, that no ioy could make them glad, except it were restored. f According as Ezekiel 25.13. & Ier.49.7. verse prophesied: and Obadiah verse 10. sheweth that the Edomites, which came of Esau, conspired with the Babylonians against their brethren & kinsefolke. g When thou didst visit Ierusalem. h He alludeth to Esaies prophesie, chap. 13. and 16. verse, promising good successe to Cyrus and Darius, whom ambition moued to fight against Babylon: but God vsed them as his rods to punish his enemies.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

1 Dauid with great courage praiseth the good-nesse of God toward him, the which is so great, 4 that it is knowen to forraine princes, who shal praise the Lord together with him. 6 And he is assured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

I Will praise thee with my whole heart: euen before the a gods will I praise thee.
2 I will worship towarde thine holy b Temple, and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindnesse and for thy trueth: for thou hast magnified thy Name aboue all things by thy word.
3 When I called, then thou heardest me, and hast c encreased strength in my soule.
4 All the d Kings of the earth shal praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard the words of thy mouth.
5 And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord is great.
6 For the Lord is hie: yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the proude her knoweth e afarre off.
7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet wilt thou reuiue me: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.
8 The Lord will f perfourme his worke to-ward me: O Lord, thy mercie endureth for euer: forsake not the works of thine hands.

a Euen in the presence of An-gels, and of them that haue autho-rity among men.

b Both ỹ Tem-ple & ceremonial seruice at Christs comming were a-bolished: so that now God will be worshipped only in spirit & truth, Iohn 4.23.

c Thou hast strengthened me against mine out-ward and inward enemies.

d All the world shal confesse that thou hast won-derfully preser-ued me, and per-formed thy pro-mise. e Distance of place can not hinder God to shewe mercie to his, and to iudge the wicked though they thinke that he is farre off. f Though mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord which hath begun this worke in me, will continue his grace to the end.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

1 Dauid to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not. 13 Which he confirmeth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemie to all them that con-temne God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, thou hast tried me, & knowen me.
2 Thou knowest my a sitting and my rising: thou vnderstandest my thought afarre off.
3 Thou b compassest my paths, and my lying downe, and art acquainted with all my wayes.
4 For there is not a word in my c tongue, but loe, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.
5 Thou holdest me strait behinde and be-fore, and layest thine d hand vpon me.
6 Thy knowledge is too wonderfull for me: it is so hie that I cannot attaine vnto it.
7 Whither shall I go from thy e Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?
8 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I lie downe in hell, thou art there.
9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the vttermost part of the sea:
10 Yet thither shall thine f hand lead me, and thy right hand hold me.
11 If I say, Yet the darkenesse shall hide me, euen the night shalbe light about me.
12 Yea, the darkenesse hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: the darkenesse and light are both alike.

a He confesseth that neither our actions, thoughts or any part of our life can be hid from God, though he seeme to be farre off.

b So ỹ they are euidently known to thee.

c Thou knowest my meaning be-fore I speake.

d Thou so guid-dest me with thine hand, that I can turne no way but where thou appointest me.

e From thy power and knowledge?

f Thy power doeth so fast

holde me, that I can escape by no meanes from thee. g Though darkenesse be an hinderance to mans sight, yet is it such as well as the light.

h Thou hast made me in all parts, and therefore must needs know me.
i Considering thy wonderfull worke in forming me, I can not but praise thee, and feare thy mightie power.
k That is, in my mothers wombe: which he compareth to the inward parts of the earth.
l Seeing that thou diddest know me before I was composed of either flesh or bone, much more now must thou know me when thou hast fashioned me.
m How ought we to esteeme the excellent declaration of thy wisedome in the creation of man!

13 For thou hast h possessed my reines: thou hast covered mee in my mothers wombe.
14 I will praise thee, for I am i fearefully and wonderfully made: marueilous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it well.
15 My bones are not hidde from thee, though I was made in a secret place, and fashioned k beneath in the earth.
16 Thine eyes did see mee, when I was without forme: l for in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were fashioned, when there was none of them before.
17 Howe m deare therefore are thy thoughts vnto me, O God! how great is the summe of them!
18 If I should count them, they are moe then the sand: when I awake, n I am still with thee.
19 Oh that thou wouldest slay, O God, the wicked and bloodie men, to whome I say, Depart ye from me:
20 Which speake wickedly of thee, and being thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.
21 Doe not I o hate them, O Lorde, that hate thee? and doe not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp against thee?
22 I hate them with an vnfeined hatred, as they were mine vtter enemies.
23 Trie mee, O God, and knowe mine heart: proue me and know my thoughts, 24 And consider if there be any p way of wickednesse in me, and leade me in the q way for euer.

n I continually see newe occasions to meditate thy wisedome and to praise thee. o He teacheth vs boldly to contemne all the hatred of the wicked, and friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serue God sincerely. p Or any heinous way or rebellious meaning, that though he were subiect to sinne, yet was hee not giuen to wickednesse, and to prouoke God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy fauour toward me to the end.

PSAL. CXL.

1 Dauid complaineth of the cruelties, falshood and iniuries of his enemies. 8 Against the which he prayeth vnto the Lord, and assureth himselfe of his helpe and succour. 12 Wherefore he prouoketh the iust to praise the Lord, and to assure themselues of his tuition.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

a Which persecuteth me of malice & without cause.
b That is, by their false cauillations and lies they kindle the hatred of the wicked against me.
c He sheweth what weapons the wicked vse, when power and force faile them.

DEliuer me, O Lord, from the euill man: preserue me from the a cruell man:
2 Which imagine euill things in their b heart, and make warre continually.
3 They haue c sharpened their tongues like a serpent: c adders poison is vnder their lippes. Selah.
4 Keepe d me, O Lord, from the handes of the wicked: preserue me from the cruell man, which purposeth to ouerthrow my steps to fall.
5 The proud haue layde a snare for mee, and spread a net with cordes in my path way, and set grennes for me. Selah.
6 Therefore I sayd vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, O Lord, the voice of my prayers,
7 O Lord God the strength of my saluation, thou e hast covered mine head in the day of battell.
8 Let not the wicked haue his desire, O Lorde: f performe not his wicked thought, lest they be proud. Selah.
9 As for g the chiefe of them, that compasse mee about, let the mischiefe of their owne lips come vpon them.
10 Let coales fall vpon them: let h him cast them into the fire, and into the deepe pits that they rise not.
11 For the backebiter shall not be established vpon the earth: euill shall i hunt the cruell man to destruction.
12 I know that the Lord will auenge the afflicted, and iudge the poore.
13 Surely the righteous shall praise thy Name, & the iust shall k dwel in thy presence.

d He declareth what is the remedie of the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.
e He calleth to God with liuely faith, being assured of his mercies, because he had beforetime prooued, that God helped him euer in his dangers.
f For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrow the counsels and enterprises of the wicked.
g It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul.

h To wit, God: for Dauid saw that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them. i Gods plague shall light vpon him in such sort, that he shall not escape. k That is, shall be defended and preserued by thy fatherly prouidence and care.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 Dauid being grieuously persecuted vnder Saul, easily fleeth vnto God to haue succour. 3 desiring him to bridle his affections, that he may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

A Psalme of Dauid.

OLord, I a call vpon thee: hast thee vnto me: heare my voyce, when I crie vnto thee.
2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and the b lifting vp of mine hands as an euening sacrifice.
3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the c doore of my lips.
4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked works with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not eate of their d delicates.
5 Let the righteous smite me: for that is a benefite: and let e him reproue me, and it shall be a precious oyle, that shall not breake mine head: for within a while I shall euen f pray in their miseries.
6 When their iudges shalbe cast downe in stonie places, they shall heare my words, for they are sweete.
7 Our bones lie scattered at the g graues mouth, as he that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.
8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: leaue not my soule destitute.
9 Keepe mee from the snare, which they haue layde for me, and from the grennes of the workers of iniquitie.
10 Let the wicked fall into h his nets i together, whiles I escape.

a He sheweth that there is none other refuge in our necessities, but onely to flee vnto God for comfort of soule.
b He meaneth his earnest zeale and gesture, which he vsed in prayer alluding to the sacrifices, which were by Gods commandement offered in the old law.
c Hee desireth God to keepe his thoughts and wayes either from thinking or executing vengeance.
d Let not their prosperitie allure me to be wicked as they are.
e He could abide all corrections, that came of a louing heart.
f By patience I shall see the wicked so sharpely handled, that I shall for pitie pray for them. g The people which followed their wicked rulers in persecuting the Prophet, shal repent and turne to God, when they see their wicked rulers punished. h Here appeareth that Dauid was miraculously deliuered out of many deaths, as 2. Cor. 1. 9, 10
i In Gods nets, whereby hee catcheth the wicked in their owne malice. k So that none of them escape.

PSAL. CXLII.

1 The Prophet neither astonied with feare, nor carried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul: but with a quiet minde directed his earnest prayer to God, who did preserue him.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction, and a prayer when he was in the cane.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I prayed vnto the Lord.

2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 Though my spirit was in perplexitie in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily layde a snare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would knowe me: all refuge failed me, and none cared for my soule.

5 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lorde, and said, Thou art mine [b] hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Hearken vnto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of [a] prison, that I may praise thy Name: then shall the righteous [c] come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

a Dauids patience and instant prayer to God condemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles either dispaire and murmure against God, or else seeke to others, then to God to haue redresse in their miseries.

‡ Ebr. was folden or wrapped in me meaning, as a thing that would haue none issue.

‖ Or, soughs for my soule.

b Though all meanes failed him, yet he knewe that God would neuer forsake him.

c For he was on all sides beset with his enemies, as though hee had beene in a most straite prison. d Either to reioyce at my wonderfull deliuerance, or to set a crowne vpon my head.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 An earnest prayer for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgement. 8 He desireth to be restored to grace, 10 To be gouerned by his holy spirit, that he may spend the remnant of his life in the true feare and seruice of God.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare my prayer, O Lorde, and hearken vnto my supplication: answere me in thy [a] trueth and in thy [a] righteousnesse.

2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy [c] sight shall none that liueth be iustified.)

3 For the enemie hath persecuted my soule: hee hath smitten my life downe to the earth: he hath layd me in the darkenes, as they that haue bene dead [d] long agoe.

4 And my spirite was in perplexitie in me, and mine [e] heart within me was amased.

5 Yet doe I remember the time [f] past: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I doe meditate in the workes of thine hands.

6 I stretch foorth mine hand vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirstie land. Selah.

7 Heare me speedily, O Lord, for my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, els I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Let me heare thy louing kindnes in the [g] morning, for in thee is my trust: [h] shew me the way that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer me, O Lorde, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.

10 [h] Teach mee to [i] doe thy will: for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit leade mee vnto the land of righteousnes.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousnes bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercy [k] slay mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppresse my soule: for I am thy [l] seruant.

a That is, as thou hast promised to be faithfull in thy promise to all that trust in thee.

b That is, according to thy free goodnes, whereby thou defendest thine.

c He knew that his afflictions were Gods messengers to call him to repentance for his sinnes, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in Gods sight all men are sinners.

d Hee acknowledgeth that God is the onely and true physition to heale him: and that he is able to raise him to life, though he were dead long ago, and turned to ashes.

e So that onely by faith, and by the grace of Gods spirit he was vpholden.

f To wit, thy great benefits of olde, and the manifold examples of thy fauour toward thine.

g That is, speedily and in due season.

h Let thine holy spirit counsell me how to come foorth of these great cares and troubles.

i I hid my selfe vnder the shadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power.

k He confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will commeth by the spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his worde, giueth vnderstanding by his spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him.

l That is, iustly and aright: for so soone as we decline from Gods will, we fall into errour.

m Which shall bee a signe of thy fatherly kindnesse toward me.

n Resigning my selfe wholly vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

PSAL. CXLIIII.

1 He prayseth the Lord with great affection and humilitie for his kingdome restored, & for his victories obteined, 5 demanding help and the destruction of the wicked, 9 promising to acknowledge the same with songs of prayses, 15 and declareth wherein the felicitie of any people consisteth.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

BLessed be the Lorde my strength, which [a] teacheth my hands to fight, and my fingers to battel.

2 He is my goodnes and my fortresse, my tower, and [b] my deliuerer, my shield, and in him I trust, which subdueth my [a] people vnder me.

3 Lorde, what is man that thou [c] regardest him! or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon him!

4 Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are like a shadow that vanisheth.

5 [d] Bowe thine heauens, O Lorde, and come downe: touch the mountaines, and they shall smoke.

6 [e] Cast forth the lightening and scatter them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send thine hand from aboue: deliuer mee, and take me out of the great [f] waters, and from the hand of strangers,

8 Whose mouth talketh vanitie: & their right hand is a right hand of falshood.

9 I will sing a [g] newe song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a viole, and an instrument of ten strings.

10 It is hee that giueth deliuerance vnto a Who of a poore shepheard hath made me a valiant warriour and mighty conquerour.

‡ Ebr. my doctrines vnto me: for the Prophet can not satisfie himselfe with any words.

b He confesseth that neither by his owne authoritie, power, nor policie, his kingdome was quiet, but by the secret grace of God.

c To giue vnto God iust prayse, is to confesse our selues to be vnworthy of so excellent benefits, and that he beholdeth them vpon vs of his free mercie.

d Hee desireth God to continue his graces, and to sende helpe for the present necessitie.

e By these maner of speaches hee sheweth that all the lets in the world cannot hinder Gods power, which he apprehendeth by faith.

f That is, deliuer mee from the tumult of them that should bee my people, but are corrupt in their iudgement and enterprises, as though they were strangers.

g For though they shake handes, yet they keepe not promise.

h That is, a rare and excellent song, as thy great benefits deserue.

i Though wicked kings bee called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isai. 45.1. for al-much as he vseth them to execute his iudgements: yet Dauid because of Gods promise, and they that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections, but set foorth Gods glory.

k He desireth God to continue his benefits toward his people, counting the procreation of children & their good education among the chiefest of Gods benefits. l That the very corners of our houses may be full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings. m Hee attributeth not onely the great commodities, but euen the least also to Gods fauour. n And if God giue not to al his children al these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

Kings, and rescueth Dauid his seruant from the hurtfull sword.

11 Rescue mee, and deliuer mee from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falshood:

12 That our k sonnes may be as the plants growing vp in their youth, and our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our l corners may be full, and abounding with diuers sorts, and that our sheepe may bring forth thousands and tenne thousand in our streetes:

14 That our m oxen may be strong to labour: that there be none inuasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our streetes.

15 Blessed are the people, that be n so, yea, blessed are y people, whose God is the Lord.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalme was composed, when the kingdom of Dauid flourished. 1 Wherein he discribeth the wonderful prouidence of God, aswell in gouerning man, as in preseruing all the rest of his creatures. 17 He prayseth God for his iustice and mercie, 18 But specially for his louing kindnes toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which he promiseth to prayse him for euer.

A Psalme of Dauid of prayse.

O My God, and King, a I will extoll thee, and will blesse thy Name for euer and euer.

2 I will blesse thee dayly, and prayse thy Name for euer and euer.

3 b Great is the Lorde, and most worthy to be prayed, and his greatnesse is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall prayse thy works vnto c generation, and declare thy power.

5 I will meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maiestie, and thy wonderful works,

6 And they shall speake of the power of thy d fearefull actes, and I will declare thy greatnes.

7 They shal breake out into the mention of thy great goodnes, and shall sing aloude of thy righteousnes.

8 e The Lord is gracious and e merciful, slow to anger, and of great mercie.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes prayse thee, O Lord, and thy Saints blesse thee.

a He sheweth what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable vnto God: euen praise and thanksgiuing, and seeing that God still continueth his benefits towards vs, we ought neuer to be weary in prayfing him for the same.

b Hereby he declareth that all power is subiect vnto God, and that no worldly promotion ought to obscure Gods glory.

c For almuch as the end of mans creation, and of his preseruation in this life, is to prayse God, therefore hee requireth that not onely we our selues doe this, but cause all other to doe the same. d Of thy terrible iudgements against the wicked. Exod. 34.6. e He describeth after what sort God sheweth himselfe to all his creatures, though our sinnes haue prouoked his vengeance against all: to wit, mercifull, not onely in pardoning the sinnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feele the sweet comfort of the same.

11 f They shewe the glory of thy kingdome, and speake of thy power, 12 To cause his power to be knowen to the sonnes of men, & the glorious renowme of his kingdome.

13 Thy* kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord vpholdeth al* that fal, and lifteth vp all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of i all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lorde is k righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his works.

18 The Lorde is neere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in l truth.

19 He will fulfill the m desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and will saue them.

20 The Lorde preserueth all them that loue him: but he will destroy all the wicked.

21 My mouth shall speake the prayse of the Lorde, and all* flesh shall blesse his holy Name for euer and euer.

f The prayse of thy glory appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obscure the same by their silence, yet the faithfull are euer mindfull of the same.

g He sheweth that all things are out of order, but onely where God reigneth. Dan. 7.14. Luke 1.33.

h Who being in miserie and affliction, would faint and fall away, if God did not vphold them, and therefore they ought to reuerence him, that reigneth in heauen, and suffer themselues to bee gouerned by him. i To wit, aswell of man as of beast. k He prayseth God, not onely for that he is beneficiall to all his creatures, but also in that that he iustly punisheth the wicked, and mercifully examineth his by the crosse, giuing them strength and deliuering them. l Which onely appertaineth to the faithfull: and this vertue is contrary to infidelitie, doubting, impaciencie, and murmuring. m For they will aske or wish for nothing, but accordiag to his will, 1. Iohn 5.14. n That is, all men shall be bound to prayse him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 Dauid declareth his great zeale that he hath to prayse God, 3 and teacheth not to trust in man, but only in God almighty, 7 which deliuereth the afflicted, 9 defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherles and the widowes, 10 and reigneth for euer.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRayse thou the Lord, O my* soule.

2 I will prayse the Lorde during my life: as long as I haue any being, I wil sing vnto my God.

3 Put not your trust in b princes, nor in the sonne of man, for there is none helpe in him.

4 His breath departeth, and he returneth to his earth: then his c thoughtes perish.

5 Blessed is he, that hath the God of Iaakob for his helpe, whose hope is the Lorde his God.

6 Which made d heauen and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth his fidelitie for euer.

7 Which executeth iustice c for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lord looseth the prisoners.

8 The Lorde giueth sight to the blinde: the Lord raiseth vp the crooked: the Lorde a He stirreth vp himselfe and all his affections to prayse God.

b That God may haue the whole prayse: wherein he forbiddeth all vaine confidence, shewing that of nature we are more inclined to put our trust in creatures, then in God the Creator.

c As their vaine opinions, whereby they flattered themselues, and so imagined wicked enterprises.

d Hee incourageth the godly to trust onely in the Lorde, both for that his power is able to deliuer them from all danger, and for his promise sake his will is most readie to doe it. e Whole faith and patience for a while he tryeth, but at length hee punisheth the aduersaries, that he may be knowen to be Iudge of the world.

f Though he visite them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment and such like, yet his fatherly loue & pitie neuer faileth them, yea, rather to his these are destitute of worldly meanes & succour. h Hee assureth the Church that God reigneth for euer for the preseruation of the same.

loueth the righteous.

9 The Lord keepeth the a strangers: he releeueth the fatherlesse and widowe: but he ouerthroweth the way of the wicked.

10 The Lord shal b reigne for euer: O Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation. Prayse ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet prayseth the bountie, wisedome, power, iustice, and prouidence of God vpon all his creatures, 2 But specially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion, 19 Declaring his word and iudgement so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

PRayse ye the Lorde, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a a pleasant thing, and prayse is comely.

2 The Lord doth build vp b Ierusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are c broken in heart, and bindeth vp their sores.

4 He b counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lorde, and great is his power: his wisedome is infinite.

6 The Lorde releeueth the meeke, and abaseth the wicked to the c ground.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with praise: sing vpon the harpe vnto our God,

8 Which f coureth the heauen with cloudes, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines:

9 Which giueth to beastes their foode, and to yong rauens that c crie.

10 He hath not pleasure in the b strength of an horse, neither delighteth hee in the legges of man.

11 But the Lord delighteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.

12 Prayse the Lord, O Ierusalem: praise thy God, O Sion.

13 For hee hath made the barres of thy gates c strong, and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the e floure of wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his a commandement vpon earth, and his worde runneth very f swiftly.

16 He giueth snowe like woall, and scatereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who can abide the cold thereof?

18 Hee sendeth his worde and melteth them: he causeth his winde to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He sheweth his a worde vnto Iacob, his statutes and his iudgments vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with euery nation, neither haue they a knowen his iudgements. Prayse ye the Lord.

a He sheweth wherin we ought to exercise our selues cõtinually, and to take our pastime to wit, in praysing God. b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it can not be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seeme as it were for a time to be cut off. c With affliction, or sorow for sinne. b Though it seeme to man incredible that God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed yet nothing can be too hard to him, that can number and name all the starres. e For the more high that f wicked clime, the greater is their fall in the ende. f He sheweth by the examples of Gods mightie power, goodnesse and wisedome, that wee can neuer want most iust occasion to prayse God. g For their crying is as it were a confession of their needs, which cannot be relieued, but by God onely: then if God shew himselfe mindfull of the most contemptible soules, can he suffer them to die with famine, who be hath assured of life euerlasting? h Though to vse lawfull meanes is both profitable and pleaseth God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraude God of his honour. i He doth not only furnish his Church with al things necessarie, but preserueth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force, Ebr. fat. k His secret working is in all creatures is as a cõmandement to keepe them in order, and to giue them mouing and force. l For immediatly and without resisting, all things obey him.

be hath left to his Church, as a most precious treasure. of this difference is Gods free mercie, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluation: and his iust iudgement, whereby hee hath appointed the reprobate to eternall damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to prayse the Lord in heauen and earth and all places, 14 Specially his Church, for the power that he hath giuen to the same after that he had chosen them & ioyned them vnto him.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRaise yee the Lorde from the heauen: praise ye him in the hie places.

2 Praise yee him, all yee a his Angels: praise him all his armie.

3 Prayse yee him, b sunne and moone: praise ye him all bright starres.

4 Praise ye him, c heauens of heauens, and d waters, that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praise the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 And he hath established them for euer and euer: he hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.

7 Praise ye the Lord from the earth, yee a dragons and all depths:

8 f Fire and haile, snowe and vapours, stormie wind, which execute his word:

9 Mountaines and all hilles, fruitfull trees and all cedars:

10 Beasts and al cattell, creeping things and feathered foules:

11 g Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the world:

12 Yong men and maidens, also old men and children:

13 Let them praise the name of the Lord: for his name onely is to be exalted, and his praise aboue the earth and the heauens.

14 For he hath exalted the b horne of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, euen for the i children of Israel, a people that is neere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

a Because they are members of the same body, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teach vs to doe our duetie. b In that Gods glorie shineth in these insensible creatures, this their beautie is as a continuall prasing of God. c Not that there are diuers heauens: but because of the spheres & of the situation of the fixed starres and planets, he comprehendeth by this word the whole heauen. d That is, the raine which is in the middle region of the aire, which he here comprehendeth vnder the name of the heauens. e Meaning, the great and monstrous fishes, as whales and such like. f Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance. g For the greater gifts that any hath receiued, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same: but neither hie nor low condition or degree can bee exempted from this duetie. h That is, the dignitie, power and glory of his Church. i By reason of his couenant made with Abraham.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to prayse the Lord for his victorie and conquest, that he giueth his Saints against all mans power.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

SIng ye vnto the Lorde a new song: let his prayse be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

a For his new and manifold benefites bestowed on his Church.

b In that that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore Psal. 95.7 they were called the sheepe of Gods hands. c For God as he is the Creator of the soule and body, so will he that both two serue him, and that his people be continually subiect vnto him as to their most lawfull King. d He alludeth to that continuall rest and quietnesse, which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them. e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries. f Not onely the people, but the Kings that were their enemies, should bee destroyed. g Hereby God bindeth the hands and minds of all his to enterprise no further then he appointeth.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that [b] made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their [c] King.

3 Let them praise his name with the flute: let them sing prayses vnto him with the timbrell and harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: hee will make the meeke glorious by deliuerance.

5 Let the Saints be ioyfull with glory: let them sing lowde vpon their [d] beddes.

6 Let the high Actes of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sworde in their handes,

7 [e] To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and corrections among the people:

8 To binde [f] their kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron,

9 That they may execute vpon them the iudgement that is written: this honour shalbe to all his Saints. Prayse ye the LORD.

PSAL. CL.

An exhortation to prayse the Lorde without ceasse by all maner of wayes, for all his mightes and wonderfull workes.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRaise ye God in his [a] Sanctuarie: praise ye him in the [b] firmament of his power.

2 Praise yee him in his mightie Actes: prayse yee him according to his excellent greatnesse.

3 Praise yee him in the sounde of the [c] trumpet: praise yee him vpon the viole and the harpe.

4 Prayse ye him with timbrell and flute: prayse yee him with virginalles and organs.

5 Prayse yee him with sounding cymbals: prayse yee him with high sounding cymbals.

6 Let euery thing that hath [d] breath praise the Lord. Prayse ye the LORD.

a That is, in the heauen.

b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament, which in Ebrew is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, wherein the mightie worke of God shineth.

c Exhorting the people onely to reioyce in praysing God, he maketh mention of those instruments, which by Gods commandement were appointed in the olde Lawe, but vnder Christ the vse thereof is abolished in the Church. d He sheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this duetie, and much more Gods children, who ought neuer to cease to prayse him, till they bee gathered into that kingdome, which hee hath prepared for his, where they shall sing euerlasting prayse.

The * Prouerbes of Salomon.

* This word Prouerbe, or parable, signifieth a graue and notable sentence, worthy to be kept in memorie: and sometime taketh the euill part for a mocke, or scoffe,

THE ARGVMENT.

THe wonderfull loue of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set foorth in these briefe sentences, which partly conteyne doctrine, and partly manners, and also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first Chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, and deepe mysteries, to allure the heartes of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most precious iewell to the Church of those three thousand parables mentioned, 1. King. 4. 32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vse of the word of God, 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his worde. 10 We may not consent to the inticings of sinners. 20 Wisedome complaineth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

THe Parables of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel,

2 To know wisdome, [a] and instruction, to vnderstand the wordes [b] of knowledge,

3 To receiue [c] instruction to doe wisely, by [d] iustice and iudgement and equitie,

4 To giue vnto the [e] simple sharpenesse of witte, and to the childe knowledge and discretion.

5 A wise man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of [f] vnderstanding shall attaine vnto wise counsels,

6 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation, the wordes of the wise, and their darke sayings.

7 ¶ [g] The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisedome and instruction.

8 My sonne, heare thy [a] fathers instruction, and forsake not thy [b] mothers teaching.

9 For they shall be [c] a comely ornament vnto thine head, [d] as chaines for thy necke.

10 ¶ My sonne, if [e] sinners doe intise thee, consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with vs, wee will lay waite for [f] blood, and lie priuily for the innocent without cause:

12 We will swallow them vp aliue like a [g] graue euen whole, as those that goe downe into the pit:

13 We shall finde all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoyle:

a That is, what we ought to know and folow, and what we ought to refuse. b Meaning, the word of God, wherein is [h] only true knowledge. c To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise. d By liuing iustly, and rendring to euery man that which appertaineth vnto him. e To such as haue not discretion to rule themselues. f As he sheweth that these parables, conteining the effect of religion as touching maners and doctrine, do appertaine to the simple people: so doth he declare, that the same are also necessarie for them that are wise and learned.

Psal. 111. 10. eccles. 1. 16.

g He speaketh this in the Name of God, which is the vniuersall Father of all creatures, or in the Name of the pastour of the Church, who is as a father.

h That is, of the Church, wherein the faithfull are begotten by the incorruptible seede of Gods word.

Ebr. Increase of grace. i To wit, the wicked, which haue not the feare of God. k He speaketh not onely of the shedding of blood with hand, but of all craftie practises which tend to the detriment of our neighbour. l As the graue is neuer satisfied, so the auarice of the wicked and their cruelties hath none ende.

14 Cast

m He sheweth whereby the wicked are allured to ioyne together, because they haue euery one part of the spoyle of the innocent.
n That is, haue nothing at all to do with them.
o He sheweth that there is no cause to moue these wicked to spoyle the innocent, but their auarice & crueltie.
p Whereby hee concludeth that the couetous man is a murtherer.
q This wisedom is the eternall word of God.
r So that none can pretend ignorance.
s Wisedome reprooueth three kinds of men: the foolish or simple, which erre of ignorance, and the mockers, that cannot suffer to be taught, & the fooles which are drowned in worldly lusts & hate the knowledge of godlinesse.
t That is, spoken according to our capacitie, signifying that the wicked which mocke and iest at Gods word, shal haue the iust reward of their mocking.
u That is, your destruction, which thing you feared.
x Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne griefe.
y Shewing that without faith and obedience wee can not call vpon God aright.
z They shal feele what commoditie their wicked life shall giue them.
a That is, the prosperitie and sensualitie wherein they delight.

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we will all haue one m purse:
15 My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: restraine thy foote from their n path.
16 For their feete run to euill, and make haste to shed blood.
17 Certainly as without cause the net is spred before the eyes of all that hath wing:
18 So they lay wait for blood, and lie priuily for o their liues.
19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine: he would take away the p life of the owners thereof.
20 ¶ q Wisedome crieth without: she vttereth her voice in the r streets, 21 She calleth in the hie streete, among the preate in the entrings of the gates, and vttereth her words in the citie, saying,
22 How long ye s foolish, how long will yee loue foolishnes? and the scorneful take their pleasure in scorning? and the fooles hate knowledge?
23 Turne you at my correction: loe, I will powre out my mind vnto you, and make you vnderstand my words.
24 Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, and none would regard:
25 But yee haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction:
26 I will also t laugh at your destruction, and mocke when your feare commeth:
27 When u your feare commeth like sudden desolation, & your destruction shal come, like a whirlewind: when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you.
28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not answere: they shall seeke me early, but they shall not x find me, 29 Because they hated knowledge, & did not chuse the feare of the Lord:
30 They would none of my counsell, but y despised all my correction.
31 Therefore shall they eate of the z fruit of their owne way, and bee filled with their owne deuises.
32 For a ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperity of fooles destroyeth them.
33 But he that obeyeth mee, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

CHAP. II.

1 Wisedom exhorteth to obey her. 5 She teacheth the feare of God. 6 She is giuen of God. 10 She preserueth from wickednesse.

a That is, keepe thē in thine heart
b If thou giue thy selfe to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisie.

MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my words, and a hide my commandements within thee,
2 And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wisedome, and encline b thine heart to vnderstanding,
3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, c and criest for vnderstanding:
4 If thou seekest her as siluer, & searchest for her as for d treasures,
5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, & find the e knowledge of God.
6 For the LORD giueth wisedome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.
7 He f preserueth the state of the righteous, he is a shield to them that walke vprightly,
8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudgement: and he preserueth the way of his Saints)
9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnes, and iudgement, and equitie, and euery good path.
10 ¶ When wisedome entreth into thine heart, and knowledge delighteth thy soule, 11 Then shall g counsell preserue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee, 12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, & from the mā that speaketh froward things, 13 And from them that leaue the h wayes of righteousnesse, to walke in the wayes of darknesse:
14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delite i in the frowardnesse of the wicked, 15 Whose waies are crooked, and they are lewd in their paths.
16 And it shal deliuer thee frō the strange k woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her words, 17 Which forsaketh the l guide of her youth, & forgetteth the m couenant of her God.
18 Surely her n house tendeth to death, and her paths vnto o the dead.
19 All they that goe vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they hold of the wayes of life.
20 Therefore walke thou in p way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.
21 For the iust shal dwel in the q land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.
22 But the wicked shalbe cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

c Meaning, that we must seeke the knowledge of God with care and diligence.
d Shewing that no labour must be spared.
e This (saith he) is the true wise.
f The worde of God shall teach thee and counsell thee how to goe, which is the only light, to follow their owne fantasies which are darknesse.
g That is, the word of God, which is the only h When they see any giuen to euill as they are.
i Meaning, that wisedom, which is the worde of God, shall preserue vs from all vices: naming this vice of whoredome and vnto man a most prone.
k That is, her husband, which is her head and guide to gouerne her, from whom shee ought not to depart, but remaine in his l Which is the promise made in mariage.
m Her acquaintance with her familiars, and them that haunt her.
n To them that are dead in body and soule.
o They shall enioy the temporall and spirituall promises of God, as the wicked shall be voyd of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The word of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 23 To them that follow the word of God, all things shall succeede well.

MY sonne, forget not thou my lawe, but let thine heart a keepe my commandements.
2 For they shall increase the length of thy b dayes and the yeres of life, and thy prosperitie.
3 Let not c mercy and trueth forsake thee: bind them on thy d necke, and write them vpon the table of thine e heart.

Deut. 8. 1. & 30. 16.
a Long life is the blessing God, which he giueth to his so farre foorth as it is expedient for them.
b By mercy and trueth he meaneth the commandements of the first and second Table: or else the mercy and faithfulnesse that we ought to vse toward our neighbours.
c Keepe them as a most precious iewel.
d Haue them euer in remembrance.

4 So shalt thou find fauour & good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust in the Lord w all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisedom.

6 In al thy waies acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.

7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord and depart from euil.

8 So health shall be vnto thy * nauell, and marow vnto thy bones.

9 Honor the Lord with thy riches, and with the first fruites of thine increase.

10 So shall thy barnes bee filled with abundance, and thy presses shall † burst with new wine.

11 ¶ My sonne refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieued with his correction.

12 For the Lord correcteth him, whom he loueth, euen as the father doeth the childe in whom he delighteth.

13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisedom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.

14 For the marchandise thereof, is better then the marchandise of siluer, and the gaine thereof is better then gold.

15 It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

16 Length of dayes is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and glory.

17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperitie.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.

19 The Lorde by wisdome hath layd the foundation of the earth, and hath stablished the heauens through vnderstanding.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken vp, & the cloudes drop downe the deaw.

21 My sonne let not these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisedome and counsell.

22 So they shall be life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy ‖ necke.

23 Then shalt thou walke safely by thy way: and thy foote shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest thou shalt not bee afrayd, and when thou liest downe, thy sleepe shal be sweete.

25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked, when it commeth.

26 For the Lord shalbe thy assurance, and shall preserue thy foote from taking.

27 ¶ Withhold not the good from = the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to doe it.

28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go and come againe, & to morrow will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

29 ¶ Intend none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth * without feare by thee.

30 ¶ Striue not with a man causeles, when he hath done thee no harme.

31 ¶ Bee not o enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.

32 For the froward is abomination vnto the Lord: but his p secret is with the righteous.

33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.

34 Surely the scornefull q he scorneth, but he giueth grace vnto the humble.

35 The wise shal inherit glory: but fooles dishonor, though they be exalted.

CHAP. III I.

1 Wisedome and her fruites ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the word of God, the heart, eyes, and course of life, must be guided.

HEare, O yee children, the instruction of a father, and giue care to learne vnderstanding.

2 For I doe giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my Law.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and b deare in the sight of my mother,

4 When c he taught me, & said vnto me, Let thine heart hold fast my wordes: keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisedom, get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the wordes of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, & she shall keepe thee: loue her, and she shall preserue thee.

7 d Wisedom is the beginning: get wisedome therefore: and about all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, & she shal exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honour, if thou imbrace her.

9 She shal giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, she shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

10 ¶ Heare, my sonne, and receiue my words, & the yeeres of thy life shall be many.

11 I haue taught thee in the way of wisedome, and led thee in the paths of righteousnesse.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not be ‖ straite, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take hold of instruction, & leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euil men.

15 Auoid it, and go not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

16 For they cannot sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth, except they cause some to fall.

17 For they eat the bread of wickednes, and drinke the wine of violence.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that ‖ shineth more and more vnto the perfect day.

e By this part he comprehendeth the whole body, as by health he meaneth all the benifites promised in the Law, Exod. 23. 25. Deut. 26. 2. and by this they acknowledged that God was the giuer of all things, and that they were ready to bestow all at his commandement.

f For to the faithfull distributer, God giueth in great abundance. Hos. 12. 5. verse. 3. 19.

g Meaning, that he that seeketh wisedom, that is, suffreth himselfe to be gouerned by the word of God, shall haue all prosperitie both corporall and spirituall.

h Which bringeth forth such fruite that they that eate thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in Paradise.

k Hereby he sheweth that this wisedom, whereof he speaketh is euerlasting, because it was before all creatures, & that all things, euen the whole world were made by it.

For, thrust, read Chap. 1. 9.

l For when God destroyeth the wicked, he will saue his, as he did Lot in Sodome.

m Not onely from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keepe it from them, which haue need of the vse thereof.

n that is, putteth his trust in thee.

o Desire not to be like vnto him.

p That is, his couenant & fatherly affectiō which is hid and secret from the world.

q He will shew by his plagues that their scorne shal turn to their own destruction. as Chap. 1. 26.

a He speaketh this in the person of a preacher and minister which is as a father vnto the people, read Chap. 1. 8.

b In Hebrew, it is Onely: for though she had three others, as 1. Chro. 35. yet, so tenderly she loued Salomon, that he was vnto her, as her onely sonne.

c Meaning, Dauid his father.

d He sheweth that we must first begin at Gods word, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of the world, which make it their last studie, or else care not for it at all.

e Salomon declareth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids protestation.

f Thou shalt walke at liberty without offence.

g Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper and naturall to the wicked, then to sleepe, eate or drinke.

h Gotten by wicked meanes and cruel oppression.

i Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be ioyned to their head in the heauens.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkneſſe: they know not wherein they ſhall fall.

20 ¶ My ſonne hearken vnto my words, incline thine eare vnto my ſayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the mids of thine heart.

22 For they are life vnto thoſe that finde them, and health vnto all their [k] fleſh.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout commeth [l] life.

24 Put away frō thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes behold the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.

26 [m] Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remoue thy foote from euill.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden, 9 And prodigalitie, 15 Hee willeth a man to liue on his labours, and to helpe others, 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednes.

MY ſonne, hearken vnto my wiſedome, and incline thine eare vnto my [†] knowledge,

2 That thou mayeſt regard counſel, and thy lips obſerue knowledge.

3 For the lips [a] of a ſtrange woman drop as an honie combe, & her mouth is more ſoft then [b] oyle.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and ſharpe as a two edged ſword.

5 Her [c] feete go downe to death, and her ſteps take hold on hell.

6 She weigheth not the way of life: her paths are [d] moueable: thou canſt not know them.

7 Heare yee mee now therefore, O children, and depart not from the wordes of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, & come not neere the doore of her houſe,

9 Leſt thou giue thine [e] honour vnto others, and thy yeeres to the cruell:

10 Leſt the ſtranger ſhould be filled with thy ſtrength, & thy [f] labours be in the houſe of a ſtranger,

11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou haſt conſumed thy fleſh and thy body)

12 And ſay, How haue I hated inſtruction, and mine heart deſpiſed correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that inſtructed me!

14 I was almoſt brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation & aſſembly.

15 ¶ Drinke the water of [h] thy ciſterne, and of the riuers out of the middes of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountains flow foorth, and the riuers of waters in the ſtreetes.

17 But let them be thine, euen [i] thine owne, and not the ſtrangers with thee.

18 Let thy [k] fountaine bee bleſſed, and reioyce with the wife of thy [l] youth.

19 Let her be as the louing hinde and pleaſant roe: let her breaſts ſatisfie thee at all times, and delite in her loue continually.

20 For why ſhouldeſt thou [†] delite, my ſonne, in a ſtrange woman, or imbrace the boſome of a ſtranger?

21 For the wayes of man are before the [m] eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.

22 His owne iniquities ſhal take the wicked himſelfe, and he ſhall be holden with the cords of his owne ſinne.

23 Hee ſhall [n] die for fault of inſtruction, and ſhall go aſtray through his great folly.

CHAP. VI.

1 Inſtruction for ſuerties. 6 The ſlothfull & ſluggiſh is ſtirred to worke. 12 He deſcribeth the nature of the wicked, 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obſerue the word of God, 24 To flee adultery.

MY ſonne, if thou be ſurety for thy neighbour, and haſt ſtricken handes with the ſtranger,

2 Thou art [a] ſnared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the words of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this now, my ſonne, and deliuer thy ſelfe: ſeeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, goe and humble thy ſelfe, and ſolicite thy friendes.

4 Giue no ſleepe to thine eyes, nor ſlumber to thine eye lids.

5 Deliuer thy ſelfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a birde from the hand of the fouler.

6 ¶ Goe to [b] the pismire, O ſluggard: behold her wayes, and be wiſe.

7 For ſhee hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meate in the ſummer, & gathereth her food in harueſt.

9 How long wilt thou ſleepe, O ſluggard? when wilt thou ariſe out of thy ſleepe?

10 [o] Yet a little ſleepe, a little ſlumber, [c] a little folding of the hands to ſleepe.

11 Therefore thy pouerty commeth as one that [d] trauelleth by the way, and thy neceſſitie like [e] an armed man.

12 The vnthrifty man [f] and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He maketh a ſigne with his eyes: hee [‡] ſignifieth with his feete: hee [g] inſtructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and raiſeth vp contentions.

15 Therefore ſhall his deſtruction come ſpeedily: he ſhalbe deſtroyed ſuddenly without recouery.

16 ¶ Theſe ſixe things doeth the Lord hate: yea, his ſoule abhorreth ſeuen:

17 The hautie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that ſhed innocent blood,

---

[k] That is, they ſhal haue health of body: vnder the which all other bleſſings promiſed in the law are contained.

[l] For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, ſo is the whole courſe of mans life.

[m] Keepe a meaſure in all thy doings.

[†] Or, vnderſtanding.

[a] That is, an harlot which giueth her ſelfe to another then to her husband.

[b] By oyle and honie he meaneth flattering and craftie inticements.

[c] All her doings lead to deſtruction.

[d] She hath euer new meanes to allure to wickednesſe.

[e] That is, thy ſtrength and goods to her that will haue no pitie vpon thee: as is read of Samſon, and the prodigall ſonne.

[f] The goods gotten by thy trauel.

[g] Although I was faithfully inſtructed in the trueth, yet had I almoſt fallen to vtter ſhame and deſtruction, notwithſtanding my good bringing vp in the aſſembly of the godly.

[h] He teacheth vs ſobrietie, exhorting vs to liue of our own labours, and to be beneficiall to the godly that want.

[i] Diſtribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reſerue them for thy ſelfe, thy family, and them that are of the houſehold of faith.

[k] Thy children which ſhall come of thee in great abundance, ſhewing that God bleſſeth marriage, and curſeth whoredome.

[l] Which thou didſt marrie in thy youth.

[†] Or, goe aſtray with a ſtranger?

[m] He declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward converſation, that he ſhal not eſcape the iudgements of God.

[n] Becauſe he will not giue care to be admoniſhed.

[a] He forbiddeth vs not to become ſurety one for an other, according to the rule of charity, but that we conſider for whom and after what ſort, ſo that the creditor may not be defrauded.

[b] If the word of God cannot inſtruct thee, yet learne at the little piſmire to labour for thy ſelfe, and not to burden others. Chap. 24. 33.

[c] He expreſſeth liuely the nature of the ſluggards, which though they ſleepe neuer ſo long, yet haue neuer ynough, but euer ſeeke occaſions thereunto.

[d] That is, ſuddenly, and when thou looked not for it.

[e] It ſhall come in ſuch ſort as thou art not able to reſiſt it.

[f] He ſheweth to what inconuenience the idle perſons & ſluggards come, by calling them vnthrifty, or the men of Belial, and ſlanderous, & ſo forth.

[g] Thus all his geſture teacheth to wickednesſe.

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, h feete that bee swift in running to mischiefe, 19 A false witnes that speaketh lies, and him that raiseth vp contentions among brethren.

20 ¶ My sonne, keepe thy fathers commaundement, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Binde them alway vpon thine ‖ heart, and tie them about thy necke.

22 It shall leade thee, when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, & when thou wakest it shall talke with thee.

23 For the k commandement is a lantern, and instruction a light: and l corrections for instruction are the way of life, 24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beauty in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her m eye lids.

26 For because of the whorish woman, a man is brought to a morsel of bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 n Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man goe vpon coales, ‡ his feete not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shall not be innocent, whosoever toucheth her.

30 Men doe not o despise a theefe, when he stealeth, to satisfie his p soule, because hee is hungry.

31 But if he be found, he shal restore seuen fold, or he shall giue all the substance of his house.

32 But he that committeth adultery with a woman, he q is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shall find r a wound & dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34 For iealousie is the rage of a man: therefore hee will not s spare in the day of vengeance.

35 He cannot beare the sight of any ransome: neither will hee consent, though thou augment the gifts.

h Meaning, the raging affections which carry a man away in such sort that he cannot tell what he doeth.

‖ Or, neighbours,

i Reade Chap. 3.3.

k By the commandement he meaneth the word of God: and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

l And reprehensions when the word is preached bring vs to life.

m With her wanton lookes and gesture.

n Meaning, that she will neuer cease till shee haue brought thee to beggery, and then seeke thy destruction.

o He approueth not theft, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredom, forasmuch as theft might be redeemed: but adultery was a perpetuall infamie, and death by the Law of God.

p Meaning, for very necessitie

q That is, death appointed by the Law.

r He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death that hath abused his wife, and so concludeth, that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth any ransome for the adultery.

CHAP. VII.

1 An exhortation to wisdome and to the words of God, 5 Which will preserue vs from the harlot, 6 Whose manners are described.

MY sonne, keepe my words, and hide my commandements with thee.

2 Keepe my commaundements, and thou shalt liue, and mine instruction as the a apple of thine eyes.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Say vnto wisedome, Thou art my sister: & call vnderstanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smooth in her words.

6 ¶ b As I was in the windowe of mine house, I looked through my window,

7 And I sawe among the fooles, and considered among the children a yong man destitute of vnderstanding,

8 Who passed through the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the euening, when the night began to be c blacke and darke.

10 And behold, there met him a woman with an harlots ‖ behauiour, and ‖ subtill in heart.

11 (She d is babbling and lowd: whose feete cannot abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in the streets, and lieth in waite at euery corner)

13 So she caught him and kissed him, and ‡ with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I haue e peace offerings: this f day haue I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

16 I haue decked my bed with ornaments, ‖ carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntil the morning: let vs take our pleasure in dalliance.

19 For mine husband is not at home: he is gone a iourney farre off, 20 He hath taken ‡ with him a bag of siluer, & will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft she caused him to yeeld, and with her flattering lips she entised him.

22 And hee followed her straightwaies, as an g oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and h as a foole to the stocks for correction,

23 Till a dart strike thorow his liuer, as a bird hasteth to the snare, not knowing that ‡ he is in danger.

24 ¶ Heare me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes: wander thou not in her pathes.

26 For she hath caused many to fal down wounded, and the i strong men are all slaine by her.

27 Her house is the way k vnto the graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

b Salomon vseth this parable to declare their folly, that suffer themselues to be abused by harlots.

c He sheweth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afrayd to be seene, and also their owne consciences did accuse them, which caused them to seeke the night to couer their filthinesse,

‖ Or, garment.

‖ Or, bid.

d He describeth certaine conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

‡ Ebr. She strengthened her face.

e Because that in peace offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that shee hath meate at home to make good cheare with: or els shee would vse some cloke of holinesse, till she had gotten him in her snares.

f Which declareth that harlots outwardly will seeme holy and religious: both because they may the better deceiue others, and also thinking by obseruing of ceremonies and offerings to make satisfaction for their sinnes.

‖ Or, carued worke. ‡ Ebr. in his hand.

g Which thinking he goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to his owne destruction.

h Which goeth cheerefully, not knowing that he shall be chastised.

‡ Ebr. it is for his life.

i Neither wit nor strength can deliuer them that fall into the hands of the harlot. Chap. 2.18.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Wisedome declareth her excellencie, 11 Riches, 15 Power, 22 Eternitie. 32 She exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

DOeth a not wisedom cry? and vnderstanding vtter her voyce?

2 She standeth in the top of the high places by the way in the place of the paths.

Chap. 1.20.

a Salomon declareth that man is cause of his owne perdition, & that he can pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God calleth to all men by his word, and by his works, to follow vertue and to flee from vice.

b Where the people did most resort, and which was the place of iustice.

3 She cryeth beſides b the gates before the citie at the entrie of the doores,

4 O men, I call vnto you, and vtter my voyce to the children of men.

5 O ye fooliſh men, vnderſtand wiſdome, and ye O fooles, be wiſe in heart.

6 Giue eare, for I will ſpeake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes ſhall teach things that be right.

7 For my mouth ſhal ſpeake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednesse.

8 All the words of my mouth are righteous: there is no leawdnesse, nor frowardnesse in them.

c Meaning that the word of God is easie vnto all that haue a desire vnto it, & which are not blinded by the prince of this world.

9 They are all c plaine to him that will vnderſtand, and ſtreight to them that would find knowledge.

d That is, except a man haue wiſedome, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudēt, nor good counſeller.

10 Receiue mine inſtruction, and not ſiluer, and knowledge rather then fine golde.

11 For wiſedome is better then precious ſtones: and all pleaſures are not to be compared vnto her.

e So that he that doeth not hate euill feareth not God.

12 I wiſedome dwell with d prudence, and I finde forth knowledge and counſels.

f Whereby he declareth that honours, dignitie or riches come not of mans wiſedome or induſtrie, but by the prouidence of God.

13 The feare of the Lord is to hate e euill, as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a mouth that ſpeaketh lewde things, I doe hate.

g That is, ſtudie the word of God diligently, and with a deſire to profite.

14 I haue counſell and wiſedome: I am vnderſtanding, and I haue ſtrength.

15 By mee Kings f reigne, and princes decree iuſtice.

16 By mee princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the ſpiritual treaſures & heauenly riches.

17 I loue them that loue mee: and they that ſeeke me e early, ſhall find me.

18 Riches and honour are with me: h euen durable riches and righteouſneſſe.

19 My fruite is better then golde, euen then fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine ſiluer.

20 I cauſe to walke in the way of righteouſneſſe, and in the middes of the pathes of i iudgement.

i For there can be no true iuſtice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wiſedome.

21 That I may cauſe them that loue me, to inherite ſubſtance, and I will fill their treaſures.

22 The Lord hath poſſeſſed me in the beginning of his way: I was k before his works of olde.

k He declareth hereby the diuinitie and eternitie of this wiſedome, which he magnifieth and prayſeth through this booke, meaning thereby the eternall Sonne of God Ieſus Chriſt our Sauiour whō S. Iohn calleth the word that was in the beginning, Iohn 1.1.

23 I was ſet vp from euerlaſting, from the beginning, and before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were ſetled: and before the hils, was I begotten.

26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the duſt in the world.

l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is meant by this worde Wiſedome, who was before all time, and euer preſent with the Father.

27 When he prepared the heauens, I was l there, when he ſet the compaſſe vpon the deepe,

28 When hee eſtabliſhed the cloudes aboue, when hee confirmed the fountaines of the deepe,

29 When hee gaue his decree to the ſea, that the waters ſhould not paſſe his commandement, when he appointed the foundations of the earth,

30 Then was I with him as m a nourither, and I was dayly his delight reioycing alway before him, 31 And tooke my n ſolace in the compaſſe of o his earth: and my delight is with the children of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto mee: for bleſſed are they that keepe my wayes.

33 Heare inſtruction, and be ye wiſe, and refuſe it not: bleſſed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendance at the poſts of my doores.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and ſhall obteine fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that ſinneth againſt me, hurteth his owne ſoule: & al that hate me, loue death.

m Some reade a chiefe worker ſignifying that this wiſedome, euen Chriſt Ieſus was equall with God his Father, and created, preſerueth, and ſtill worketh with him, as Ioh. 5.17.

n Whereby is declared that the worke of the creation was no paine, but a ſolace vnto the wiſdome of God, of God in whome for loue ſake the Diuine Wiſedome tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnſpeakeable treaſures: and this is that ſolace and paſtime whereof is here ſpoken.

o By earth he meaneth man, which is the worke

CHAP. IX.

2 Wiſedome calleth all to her feaſt. 7 The ſcorner will not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of the harlot.

WIldome hath built her a houſe, and hewen out her b ſeuen pillars.

a Chriſt hath prepared him a Church.

2 She hath killed her victualles, drawen her wine, and c prepared her table.

b That is, many chiefe Prayers and principall parts of his Church, as were the Patriarkes, Prophets, Apoſtles, Paſtors and Doctors.

3 She hath ſent forth her d maydens, and cryeth vpon the higheſt places of the citie, ſaying, c He compareth wiſedome with great princes that keepe open houſe for all that come.

4 Who ſo is e ſimple, let him come hither, and to him that is deſtitute of wiſedome, ſhee ſaith, d Meaning, true preachers, which are not infected with mans wiſedome.

5 Come, and eate of my f meate, & drinke of the wine that I haue drawen.

e Hee that knoweth his owne ignorance, and is voyde of malice.

6 Forſake your way, ye fooliſh, & yee ſhall liue: & walke in the way of vnderſtanding.

f By the meate and drinke, is meant the word of God and the miniſtration of the Sacraments, whereby God nourißeth his ſeruants in his houſe, which is the Church.

7 He that reproueth a ſcorner, purchaſeth to himſelfe ſhame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth himſelfe a blot.

g For the wicked will contemne him and labour to defame him.

8 Rebuke not a g ſcorner, leſt he hate thee: but rebuke a wiſe man, and hee will loue thee.

h Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Chriſt calleth dogges and ſwine: or he ſpeaketh this in compariſon, not that the wicked ſhould not be rebuked, but hee ſheweth their malice, and the ſmall hope of profite.

9 Giue admonition to the wiſe, and he will be the wiſer: teach a righteous man, and he will increaſe in learning.

i He ſheweth what true vnderſtanding is, to knowe the will of God in this worde, which is meant by holy things.

10 The beginning of wiſedome is the feare of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things, is i vnderſtanding.

k Thou ſhalt haue the chiefe profite and commoditie thereof.

11 For thy dayes ſhall bee multiplied by mee, and the yeeres of thy life ſhall bee augmented.

12 If thou be wiſe, thou ſhalt be wiſe for k thy ſelfe, and if thou bee a ſcorner, thou along alone shalt suffer.

13 ¶ A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.

14 But the seteth at ꝑ dooze of her house, on a seate in the ꝑ places of the citie,

15 To call them that passe by the way, that goe right on their way, saying,

16 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisedome, she saith also,

17 Stolen waters are sweete, and hid bread is pleasant.

18 But hee knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her guests are in the depth of hell.

1 By the foolish woman, some vnderstand the wicked preachers, who counterfaite the word of God, as appeareth verse 16. which were the word of the true preachers, as verse 4. but their doctrine is but as stolen waters: meaning that they are but mans traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the word of God: and therefore they themselues boast thereof.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter & al that followe vnto the thirtieth the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, whom he calleth parables, to followe vertue, and flee vice: and sheweth also what profite commeth of wisedome, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

A Wise * sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauinesse to his mother.

2 The treasures of a wickednesse ꝓfite nothing: but righteousnesse deliuereth from death.

3 The Lord will b not famish the soule of the righteous: but hee casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A ‖ slouthfull hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 Hee that gathereth in sommer, is the sonne of wisedome: but hee that sleepeth in harueſt, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of c the wicked.

7 The memorial of the iust shalbe blessed: but the name of the wicked shall d rotte.

8 The wise in heart will receiue commandements: but the foolish in ‡talke shall be beaten.

9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh ‖ boldely: but he that peruerteth his wayes, shall be knowen.

10 He that e winketh with the eye, worketh sorow, and he that is f foolish in talke shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wellspring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: g but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding, wisedome is found, and h a rod shall be for the backe of him that is destitute of wisedome.

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his i strong citie, but the feare of the needy is their ponerty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regarded instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, & he that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many wordes there cannot want iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as siluer siluer: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe k feede many: but fooles shall die for want of wisedome.

22 The blessing of the Lorde, it maketh rich, and he doth adde l no sorowes with it.

23 It is as a pastime for a foole to doe wickedly: but wisedome is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will grant the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlewinde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerlasting foundation.

26 As vineger is to the teeth, & as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothfull to them that m send him.

27 The feare of the Lorde increaseth the dates: but the yeeres of the wicked n shalbe diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shalbe gladnesse: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lorde is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall bee for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall o neuer bee remooued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitful in wisedome: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

CHAP. XI.

FAlse p balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfite q weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride commeth, then commeth r shame: but with the lowly is wisedome.

3 The vprightnesse of the iust shall guide them, but the frowardnesse of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 * Riches auaile not in the day of wrath: but righteousnes deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousnesse of the vpright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteousnesse of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their owne wickednesse.

7 * When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vniust shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his s stead.

9 An t hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shal be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie

i For they speake trueth and edifie many by exhortations, admonition and counsel.
k Meaning, that all worldly things bring care, and sorow, whereas they that feele the blessings of God, haue none.
l Hee is but a trouble & griefe to him that feteth him about any businesse.
m The time of their prosperitie shall be short because of their great fall though they seeme to liue long.

citie reioyceth, and when the wicked perish, there is ioy.

11 By the blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is ouerthrowen by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisedome: but a man of vnderstanding will keepe silence.

13 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discouereth a secret: but he that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsell is, the people fall: but where many counsellers are, there is health.

15 Hee shall be sore vexed, that is suretie for a stranger, and hee that hateth suretiship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman attaineth honor, and the strong men attaine riches.

17 Hee that is mercifull, rewardeth his owne soule: but he that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruel.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull work: but he that soweth righteousnes, shall receiue a sure reward.

19 As righteousnes leadeth to life, so hee that followeth euil, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lorde: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delight.

21 Though hand ioyne in hande, the wicked shall not be vnpunished: but the seede of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a iewell of gold in a swines snoute: so is a faire woman, which lacketh discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked is indignation.

24 There is that scattereth, and is more increased: but he that sparеth more then is right, surely commeth to pouerty.

25 The liberall person shall haue plenty: and he that watereth, shall also haue raine.

26 Hee that withholdeth the corne, the people wil curse him: but blessing shalbe vpon the head of him that selleth corne.

27 He that seeketh good things, getteth fauour: but he that seeketh euil, it shall come to him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shal fal: but the righteous shall flourish as a leafe.

29 Hee that troubleth his owne house, shall inherite the winde, and the foole shalbe seruant to the wise in heart.

30 The fruite of the righteous is as a tree of life, and he that winneth soules, is wise.

31 Beholde, the righteous shalbe recompensed in the earth: how much more the wicked and the sinner?

CHAP. XII.

HE that loueth instruction, loueth knowledge: but hee that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauor of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginations will he condemne.

3 A man cannot bee established by wickednes: but the root of the righteous shall not be moued.

4 A ✠ vertuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitfull.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous shall deliuer them.

7 God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shalbe commended for his wisdome: but the froward of heart shall be despised.

9 Hee that is despised, and is his owne seruant, is better then hee that boasteth himselfe and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but hee that followeth the idle, is destitute of vnderstanding.

12 The wicked desireth the nette of euils: but the root of the righteous giueth fruite.

13 The euil man is snared by the wickednes of his lips, but the iust shall come out of aduersitie.

14 A man shall bee satiate with good things by the fruite of his mouth, and the recompense of a mans hands shal God giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is right in his owne eyes: but hee that heareth counsell, is wise.

16 A foole in a day shall bee knowen by his anger: but hee that couereth shame is wise.

17 Hee that speaketh trueth, will shewe righteousnesse: but a false witnesse vseth deceite.

18 There is that speaketh words like the prickings of a swoorde: but the tongue of wise men is health.

19 The lip of truth shall bee stable for euer: but a lying tongue varieth inconstantly.

20 Deceite is in the heart of them that imagine euil: but to the counsellers of peace shall be ioy.

21 There shal none iniquitie come to the iust: but the wicked are full of euil.

22 The lying lips are an abomination to the Lorde: but they that deale truely are his delight.

23 A wise man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of the fooles publisheth foolishnes.

24 The hand of the diligent shall beare rule: but the idle shalbe vnder tribute.

25 Heauinesse in the heart of man doeth bring it downe: but a good woorde reioyceth it.

27 The deceitfull man roasteth not that he ‖ tooke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteousnes, and in that path way there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wise sonne will obey the instruction of his father: but a scorner wil heare no rebuke.

2 A man shall eate good things by the fruit of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shall suffer violence.

3 Hee that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but hee that openeth his lippes, destruction shalbe to him.

4 The sluggard ᵇ lusteth, but his soule hath nought: but the soules of the diligent shall haue plenty.

5 A righteous man hateth lying words: but the wicked causeth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnes preserueth the vpright of ‖ life: but wickednes ouerthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man will giue his riches for the ransome of his life: but the poore ᶜ cannot heare the reproch.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth: but the candle of the wicked shalbe put out.

10 Onely by pride ᵈ doth man make contention: but with the well aduised is wisedome.

11 The ᵉ riches of vanitie shall diminish: but he that gathereth with the ᶠ hand, shall increase them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the desire commeth, it is as a tree of life.

13 ᵍ He that despiseth ʰ the word, he shal be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandement, he shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the wellspring of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the disobedient is hard.

16 Euery wise man wil worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abroad folly.

17 ⁱ A wicked messenger falleth ᵏ into euill: but a faithfull ambassadour is preseruation.

18 Powerte and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but hee that regarded correction, shalbe honoured.

19 A desire accomplished delighteth the soule: but it is an abomination to fooles to depart from euill.

20 ˡ He that walketh with the wise, shall be wise: but a companion of fooles shall bee ᵐ afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God will recompense good.

22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the ⁿ riches of the sinner is layd vp for the iust.

23 Much food is in the field of the ᵖ poore: but the neede is destroyed without discretion.

24 ᵠ Hee that spareth his rodde, hateth his sonne: but he that loueth him, chasteneth him betime.

25 The righteous eateth to the contentation of his mind: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

CHAP. XIIII.

A Wise woman ʳ buildeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.

2 ˢ Hee that walketh in his ᵗ righteousnesse, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his wayes, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the ᵘ rod of pride: but the lippes of the wise preserue them.

4 Where none ˣ oxen are, there the crib is empty: but much increase commeth by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithfull witnesse will not lie: but a false record will speake lies.

6 A scorner ʸ seeketh wisedome, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that will vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisedome of the prudent is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnes of the fooles is deceit.

9 The foole maketh a mocke ᶻ of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the ᵃ bitternesse of his soule, and the stranger shall not meddle with his ioy.

11 The house of the wicked shall bee destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 ᵇ There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the waies of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowfull, ᶜ and the ende of that mirth is heauinesse.

14 The heart that declineth, ᵈ shall be satisfied with his owne wayes: but a good man shall depart from him.

15 The foolish will beleeue euery thing: but the prudent will consider his steps.

16 A wise man feareth, ᵉ departeth from euill: but a foole rageth and is carelesse.

17 Hee that is hastie to anger, committeth folly, and a ᶠ subtile body is hated.

18 The foolish doe inherite folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The euill shall bow before the good, ᵍ the wicked ʰ at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the riche are many.

21 The sinner despiseth his neighbour: but hee that hath mercy on the poore, is blessed.

22 Doe not they erre that imagine euill? but to them that thinke on good things, shall be mercy and truth.

23 In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lips bringeth onely want.

24 The crowne of the wise is their riches, a That is, taketh paine to profite her family and to doe that which concerneth her duetie in her house, Iob 12.4.

b That is, in vprightnesse of heart and without hypocrisie.

c His proude tongue shall cause him to be punished.

d By the oxe is meant labour, and by the crib the barne: meaning, without labour there is no profite.

e For the maintenance of his owne ambition, and not for Gods glory, as Simon Magus.

f Doeth not know the grieuousnes thereof, nor Gods iudgements against the same.

g As a mans conscience is witnesse of his owne griefe: so another cannot feele the ioy and comfort which a man feeleth in himselfe. Chap. 16.25.

h He theweth that the allurement vnto sinne seemeth sweete, but the ende thereof is destruction.

i Hee that forsaketh God, shall be punished, and made weary of his sinnes wherein he delighted.

k If this come not duely to passe, wee must consider that it is because of our sinnes, which let Gods working.

a Although hee get much by vnlawfull meanes, yet will he not spend it vpon himselfe.

b He that vseth his tongue to Gods glory, and the profite of his neighbour, God shall blesse him.

b He euer desireth, but taketh no paines to get any thing.

and the follie of fooles is foolishnesse.

25 A faithfull witnesse deliuereth soules: but a deceiuer speaketh lies.

26 In the feare of the Lord is an assured strength, and his children shall haue hope.

27 The feare of the Lord is as a welspring of life, to auoyd the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of the [i] people is the honour of a king, and for the want of people commeth the destruction of the prince.

29 He that is slowe to wrath, is of great wildome: but he that is of an hastie minde, exalteth follie.

30 A sound heart is the life of the [j] flesh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.

31 [k] He that oppresseth the poore, reproacheth him that made him: but hee honoureth him that hath mercie on the poore.

32 The wicked shall be cast away for his malice: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 [l] Wisedome resteth in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, and is knowen [m] in the mids of fooles.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, [n] but sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a king is in a wise seruant: but his wrath shalbe toward him that is lewd.

CHAP. XV.

A [a] Soft answere putteth away wrath: but grieuous words stirre vp anger.

2 The tongue of the wise vseth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fooles [b] babbleth out foolishnesse.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euery place beholde the euill and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnesse thereof is the breaking of the minde.

5 A foole despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is [c] trouble.

7 The lips of the wise do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doth not so.

8 The [d] sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but hee loueth him that followeth righteousnesse.

10 Instruction is euil to him that [e] forsaketh the way, and he that hateth correction, shall die.

11 [f] Hell and destruction are before the Lord: howe much more the hearts of the sonnes of men?

12 A scorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither will he go vnto the wise.

13 [g] A ioyfull heart maketh a cheerefull countenance: but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is heauy.

14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnes.

15 All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good [h] conscience is a continuall feast.

16 [i] Better is a litle with the feare of the Lord, then great treasure and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of greene hearbes where loue is, then a stalled oxe and hatred therewith.

18 [k] An angry man stirreth vp strife: but he that is slow to wrath, appeaseth strife.

19 The way of a slouthfull man is as an hedge of [l] thornes: but the way of the righteous is plaine.

20 [m] A wise sonne reioyceth the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Foolishnesse is ioy to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vprightly.

22 Without counsell thoughts come to nought: but [n] in the multitude of counsellers there is stedfastnes.

23 A ioy commeth to a man by the answer of his mouth: and howe good is a word [o] in due season?

24 The way of life is on high to the prudent, to auoyd from hell beneath.

25 The Lord wil destroy the house of the proud men: but hee will stablish the borders of the widowe.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are abomination to the Lorde: but the pure haue [p] pleasant words.

27 He that is greedy of gayne, troubleth his owne house: but hee that hateth gifts, shall liue.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answere: but the wicked mans mouth babbleth euill things.

29 The Lord is farre off from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes reioyceth the heart, [q] a good name maketh the bones fat.

31 The eare that heareneth to the [r] correction of life, shall lodge among the wise.

32 Hee that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but hee that obeyeth correction, getteth vnderstanding.

33 The feare of the Lord is the instruction of wisedome: and before honour goeth [s] humility.

CHAP. XVI.

THe [a] preparations of the heart are in man: but the answere of the tongue is of the Lord.

2 All the wayes of a man are [b] cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.

3 [c] Commit thy workes vnto the Lorde, and thy thoughts shall be directed.

4 The Lord hath made all things for his owne sake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of [d] euill.

5 All that are proud in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: though hand ioyne in hand, he shall not be vnpunished.

6 By [e] mercy and truth iniquitie shall bee forgiuen, and by the feare of the Lorde they depart from euill.

7 When the wayes of a man please the Lord, he will make also his enemies at peace with him.

a Because their owne conscience accuseth them. b The state of the common weale is often times changed.

THe wicked a flee when none pursueth: but the righteous are bolde as a lion.
2 For the transgression of the land b there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding and knowledge, a realme likewise endureth long.
3 A poore man, if he oppresse the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueth no foode.
4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keepe the Lawe, set themselues against them.
5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgement: but they that seeke the LORD, vnderstand all things.
Chap.19.1. 6 *Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnesse, then hee that perverteth his wayes, though he be rich.
7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.
e For God will take away the wicked vsurer, and giue his goods to him that shall bestow them well. d Because it is not of faith, which is grounded of Gods word, or Law, which the wicked contemne. e And iudge that he is not wise, Chap.29.2. f He is knowen by his doings to be wicked. g Which standeth in awe of God and is afraid to offend him. h For he can neuer be satisfied, but euer oppresseth and spoileth. i None shall be able to deliuer him.
8 He that increaseth his riches by vsurie and interest, gathereth c them for him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.
9 Hee that turneth away his eare from hearing the Lawe, euen his prayer shall be d abominable.
10 Hee that causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit, and the vpright shall inherit good things.
11 The rich man is wise in his owne conceit: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can try e him.
12 *When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man f is tried.
13 He that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but hee that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.
14 Blessed is the man that g feareth alway: but hee that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.
15 As a roaring lion, and an hungrie beare, so is h a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.
16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth couetousnesse, shall prolong his dayes.
17 A man that doeth violence against the bloud of a person, shall flee vnto the graue, and they shall not i stay him.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, o spreadeth a net for his steps. o He that giueth care to the flatterer, is in danger as the bird is before the fouler.
6 In the transgression of an euill man is his p snare: but the righteous doeth sing and reioyce. p He is euer ready to fal into the snare that he laieth for others.
7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.
8 Scornefull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.
9 If a wise man contend with a *foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest. c He can beare no admonition, in what sort soeuer it is spoken.
10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule, f He that feareth man more then God, falleth into a snare and is destroyed.

25 The feare of man bringeth a f snare: but hee that trusteth in the LORD, shall be exalted.

g He needeth not to flatter the ruler: for what God hath appointed, that shall come to him.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceite, and yet are not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation, whose eyes are hautie, and their eye lids are lifted vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their iawes as knives to eate vp the afflicted out of the earth, ᵍ the poore from among men.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: shee eateth and ᵏ wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

k She hath her desires, and after counterfaiteth as though she were an honest woman.

21 For three things the earth is mooued: yea, for foure it cannot sustaine it selfe:

22 For ˡ a seruant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meate, l These cõmonly abuse the state whereunto they are called.

23 For the hatefull woman, when shee is married, and for a handmaid that is ᵐ heire to her mistresse.

m Which is maried to her master, after the death of her mistresse.

24 These bee foure small things in the earth, yet they are ⁿ wise and full of wisedome:

n They containe great doctrine and wisedome.

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meate in summer:

26 The conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The grashopper hath no king, yet goe they forth all by bands:

28 The spider taketh holde ° with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

o If man be not able to compasse these common things by his wisdome, we cannot attribute wisdom to man, but folly.

29 There be three things that order wel their going, yea, foure are comely in going,

Ecclesiastes, or the Preacher.

THE ARGVMENT.

SAlomon, as a Preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceiueable vanities of this world, that men should not be addicted to any thing vnder the Sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heauenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God, and shall enioy his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, saue in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heauenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

2 All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wisedome is but follie and griefe.

a Solomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assembleth the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to passe their life in this transitory world.

THe wordes of the a Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalem.
2 b Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.
3 What remaineth vnto man in all his c trauell, which he suffereth vnder the sunne?
4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth for d euer.
5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and draweth to his place, where he riseth.
6 The e wind goeth toward the South, and compasseth towarde the North: the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuites.
7 *All the riuers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers goe vnto the place f whence they returne and goe.
8 All things are full of labour: man cannot vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.
9 What is it that hath bene? that that shalbe: and what is it that hath bene done? that which shalbe done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.
10 Is there any thing, whereof one may b Hee condemneth the opinions of all men that set felicitie in any thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanitie and nothing. c Salomon doeth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing vnder the heauen, nor in any creature, forasmuch as all things are transitorie. d One man dieth after another, & the earth remaineth longest, euen to the last day, which yet is subiect to corruption.

e By the sunne, wind and riuers, he sheweth that the greatest labour and longest hath an ende, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world. *Eccles. 40.11.
f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veines thereof, the which powre out springs and riuers into the Sea againe. g He speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

say,

h He prooueth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this world by labour and studie, he chiefly should haue obtained it, because he had gifts and aydes of God thereunto aboue all other.

i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sin, to humble man, and to teach him to depend onely vpon God.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goe otherwise then they doe: neither can he number the faultes that are committed, much lesse remedy them. l That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body & minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

say, Behold this, it is new? It hath bene already in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of the former, neither shall there bee a remembrance of the latter that shal be, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ [b] I the Preacher haue bene king ouer Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and find out wisdome by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this sore trauel hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, [i] to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the works that are done vnder the sunne: and behold, all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is [k] crooked, can none make streight: and that which faileth can not be numbred.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excell in wisdome all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisedome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wisdome and knowledge, [l] madnesse and foolishnesse: I knewe also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisedome is much [m] griefe: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorow.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 15 The wise & the foole haue both one end, touching the bodily death.

I Said in mine heart, Goe to now, I will prooue [a] thee with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioy, What is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart ‡ to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in [b] wisedome, and to take hold of follie, till I might see where is that goodnesse of the children of men, which they ‡ enioy vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue planted me vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens ‡ : orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruit.

6 I haue made me cesternes of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maides, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beeues and sheepe aboue all that were before mee in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto me also siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of Kings and Prouinces: I haue prouided me men singers and women singers, and the [d] delights of the sonnes of men: as a woman ‡ taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and increased aboue all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisedome [e] remained with me.

10 And whatsoeuer mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrewe not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my [g] portion of all my trauell.

11 Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauell that I had laboured to doe: and behold, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirite: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold [h] wisdome, and madnesse and folly: (for who is the man that I will come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I sawe that there is profite in wisedome, more then in follie: as the light is more excellent then darknesse.

14 [*] For the wise mans [i] eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darknesse: yet I knowe also that the same [k] condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the foole: why therefore doe I then labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall be no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole [l] for euer: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten. And [m] how dieth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall bee after me.

19 And who knoweth whether hee shall bee wise or foolish? yet shall hee haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauelled, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart [n] abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauell is in wisedome, and in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauelled therein, shall he * giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauell and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauelled vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorrowes, and his

g This was the fruite of all my labour, a certaine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse.

his trauaile griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profite to man, but that he eate and drinke, and p delight his soule with the profite of his labour: I saw also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eate, and who could haste to q outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdome, and knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner hee giueth paine to gather, & to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, and veration of the spirit.

p When man hath all laboured, he can get no more then foode and refreshing, yet he confesseth also that this commeth of Gods blessing, as Chap.3.13.

q Meaning, to pleasures.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The works of God are perfite, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

TO all things there is an a appointed time, and a time to euery purpole vnder the heauen.

2 A time to be borne, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to builde.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rende, and a time to sewe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profite hath he that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seene the trauaile that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men b to humble them thereby.

11 Hee hath made euery thing beautifull in his time: also hee hath set the c world in their heart, yet cannot man finde out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour: this is the d gift of God.

14 I knowe that whatsoeuer God shall doe, it shall be for e euer: to it can no man adde, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath beene? that is nowe: and that that shall be, hath nowe beene: for God f requireth that which is past.

16 And moreouer I haue seene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust and the wicked: for time is g there for euery purpole and for euery worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had h purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselues as beastes.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are euen as one i condition vnto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man aboue the beast: for all is vanitie.

20 All goe to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who k knoweth whether the spirite of man ascend vpward, and the spirite of the beast descend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should l reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

a He speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes: first to declare that there is nothing in this worlde perpetual: next to teach vs not to be grieued if we haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither enioy them so long as we would wish.

b Reade Chap. 1.13.

c God hath giuen man a desire and affection to seeke out the things of this world, and to labour therein.

d Reade Chap. 2.24 and these places declare that wee should do all things with sobrietie, and in the feare of God, forasmuch as he giueth not his gifts to the intent that they should be abused.

e That is, man shall neuer bee able to let Gods worke, but as he hath determined, so it shall come to passe.

f God onely causeth that which is past to returne.

g Meaning, with God, howsoeuer man neglect his duetie.

h And made them pure in their first creation.

i Man is not able by his reason and iudgement to put difference betweene man and beast, as touching those things whereunto both are subiect: for the eye cannot iudge otherwise of a man being dead, then of a beast, which is dead: yet by the word of God and faith we easily know the diuersitie, as verse 21.

k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleeueth herein.

l By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap.2.24. and 3.13,22. and 5.17. and 8.15. hee declareth that man by reason can comprehende nothing better in this life, then to vse the gifts of God soberly and comfortably: for to know further is a speciall gift of God reueiled by his Spirit.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Mans labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans societie is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore, and wise, is to bee preferred to an olde king, that is a foole.

SO I turned, and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: and loe, the strength is of the hand of them that oppresse them, and none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praysed the a dead which now are dead, aboue the liuing, which are yet aliue,

3 And I count him b better then them both, which hath not yet beene: for hee hath not seene the euil works which are wrought vnder the sunne.

4 Also I beheld all trauaile, and all c perfection of workes, that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbour: this also is vanitie and veration of spirite.

5 The foole folderh his hands, and d eateth vp his owne flesh.

6 Better is an handful with quietnesse, then two handfuls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7 Againe I returned, and saw vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a seconde, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet there is none ende of all his trauaile, neither can his eye bee satisfied with riches: neither doeth hee thinke, For whome doe I trauaile and defraude my soule

a He maketh here another discourse with himselfe concerning the tyrannie of them that oppressed the poore.

b Because they are no more subiect to these oppressions.

c He speaketh according to the iudgement of the flesh, which cannot abide to feele, or see troubles.

d The more perfit that the worke is, the more is it enuied of the wicked.

e For idlenesse he is compelled to destroy himselfe.

soule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, and this is an euill trauaile.

9 [f] Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellowe: but woe vnto him that is alone: for hee falleth, and there is not a seconde to lift him vp.

11 And if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heate: but to one howe should there be heate?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefolde scoard is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise child, then an olde and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the [h] prison hee commeth forth to reigne: when as hee that is [i] borne in his kingdome is made poore.

15 I beheld all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, [k] with the seconde childe, which shall stand vp in his place.

16 There is none [l] end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirite.

17 Take heede to thy [m] foote when thou entrest into the house of God, and be more neere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of [n] fooles: for they knowe not that they doe euill.

f Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither helpe himselfe nor others, he sheweth that men ought to liue in mutuall societie, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

g By this proverbe he declareth how necessarie it is, that men should liue in societie.

h That is, from a poore and base estate, or out of trouble, and prison, as Ioseph did, Gen. 41. 14.

i Meaning, that is borne a king.

k Which follow and flatter the kings sone, or him that shall succede: to enter into credit with them in hope of gaine.

l They neuer cease by all meanes to creepe into fauour: but when they obteine not their greedie desires, they thinke themselues abused, as other haue bene in time past, and so care no more for him.

m That is, with what affection thou commest to heare the word of God.

n Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to please God by ceremonies, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The couetous can neuer haue ynough. 11 The labourers sleepe is sweete. 14 Man when he dieth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, and with a contented mind is the gift of God.

BE not [a] rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart bee hastie to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be [b] fewe.

2 For as a dreame commeth by the multitude of businesse: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of words.

3 [c] When thou hast vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he delighteth not in fooles: pay therefore that thou hast vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldest not vowe, then that thou shouldest vowe and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy [d] flesh to sinne: neither say before the [e] Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God bee angry by thy voyce, and destroy the worke of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities, are also many wordes: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou seest the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, bee not astonied at the matter: for hee that is [f] higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the [g] abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King [h] also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and hee that loueth riches, shall be without the fruite thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eate them: and what good commeth to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The sleepe of him that trauaileth, is sweete, whether he eate little or much: but the [i] saciety of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 There is an euill sickenesse that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches [k] reserued to the owners thereof for their euill.

13 And these riches perish by euill trauaile, and he begetteth a sonne, and in his [l] hand is nothing.

14 As hee came foorth of his mothers belly, he shall returne naked to goe as he came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euill sickenesse, that in all points as he came, so shall he goe, and what profite hath he that he hath trauailed for the [m] winde?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in [n] darkenesse with much griefe, and in his sorow and anger.

17 Behold then what I haue seene good, that it is comely [o] to eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein hee trauaileth vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to euery man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to enioy his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his [p] life, because God answereth to the ioy of his heart.

a Either in vowing or in praying: meaning, that we should vse all reuerence to Godward.

b He beareth thee not for thy many words sake or often repetitions, but considereth thy faith and feruent minde. Deut. 23. 21.

c He speaketh of vowes, which are approoued by Gods word, and serue to his glory.

d Cause not thy selfe to sinne by vowing rashly: as they doe which make a vowe to liue vnmaried, and such like.

e That is, before Gods messenger, when hee shall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance should be a iust excuse.

f Meaning, that God will redresse these things, and therefore we must depend vpon him.

g The reuenues of the earth are to be preferred aboue all things, which appertaine to this life.

h Kings & princes cannot maintein their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage.

i That is, his great abundance of riches, or the surfeting, which commeth by his great feeding.

k When couetous men heape vp riches, which turne to their destruction.

l He doeth not enioy his fathers riches. Iob 1. 21. wisd. 7. 6.

m Meaning, in vaine, and without profite.

n In affliction and griefe of minde.

o Reade Chap. 3. 22.

p He will take no great thought for the pains that he hath endured in time past.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

THere is an euill, which I saw vnder the sunne, and it is much among men.

2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and hee wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but [a] GOD giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a strange man shall eate it vp: this is vanitie, and this a He sheweth that it is the plague of God when the rich man hath not a liberall heart to vse his riches.

this is an euill sickenesse.

3 If a man begat a hundreth children, and liue many yeeres, and the dayes of his yeeres be multiplied, and his soule be not [b] satisfied with good things, and he be not [c] buried, I say that an vntimely fruite is better then he.

4 For [d] hee commeth into vanitie, and goeth into darkenes: and his name shall be couered with darkenes.

5 Also he hath not seene the Sunne, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeeres twise tolde, and had seene no good, shall not all goe to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the [e] soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more then the foole? what hath the poore that [f] knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The [g] sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lustes: this also is vanity, and vexation of spirit.

10 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is now named: & it is knowen that it is man: and he cannot striue with him that is [h] stronger then he.

b If he can neuer haue enough.
c As we see oftentimes, that the couetous man either falleth into crimes that deserue death, or is murthered, or drowned, or hangeth himselfe, or such like, and so lacketh the honor of burial, which is the last office of humanitie,
d Meaning the vntimely fruite whose life did neither profite nor hurt any.
e His desire and affection.
f that knoweth to vse his goods well in the iudgement of men. g To be content with that which God hath giuen, is better then to follow the desires that neuer can be satisfied. h Meaning God, who will make him to feele that he is mortall.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoyde the contrary.

SUrely there be many things that increase vanitie: and what auaileth it man?

2 For who knoweth what is [a] good for man in the life and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seeing he maketh them as a [b] shadow? For who can shew vnto man, what shall be after him vnder the Sunne?

3 [a] A good name is better then a good ointment, and the day of [b] death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to go to the house of [c] mourning, then to goe to the house of feasting, because this is the ende of all men: and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of fooles is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wise man, then that a man should heare the song of fooles.

8 For like the noyse of the [d] thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foole: this also is vanity.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wise man [e] madde: and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The [f] end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

a There is no state wherein man can liue to haue perfect quietnesse in this life, Iob 14.2. Psal. 144.4. Prou. 22.1.
b He speaketh thus after the iudgement of the flesh, which thinketh death to be the end of all euils: or else, because that this corporall death is the entring into life euerlasting.
c Where wee may see the hand of God, & learne to examine our liues.
d Which crackle for a while and profite nothing.
e A man that is esteemed wise when he falleth to oppression, becommeth like a beast. f He noteth their lightnes which enterprise a thing, and suddenly leaue it off againe.

11 Be not thou of an hastie spirite to bee angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of fooles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou doest not enquire [a] wisely of this thing.

13 Wisedome is good with an [b] inheritance, and excellent to them that see the Sunne.

14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdome, and in the shadowe of siluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdome giueth life to the possessours thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make [c] straight that which he hath made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, and in the day of affliction [d] consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should finde [e] nothing after him.

17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a iust man that perisheth in his [f] iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Bee not thou iust [a] ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouer wise: wherefore shouldest thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked [a] ouermuch, neither bee thou foolish: wherefore shouldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay holde on [a] this: but yet withdraw not thine hande from [b] that: for hee that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisedome shall strengthen the wise man more then ten mighty princes that are in the citie.

22 [a] Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine [a] heart also to all the wordes that men speake, lest thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For often times also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast [b] cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisedome: I thought, I will bee wise, but it went farre from mee.

26 It is farre off, what may it bee? and it is a profound deepenesse, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to knowe and to enquire and to search wisedome, and reason, and to knowe the wickednes of folly, and the foolishnes of madnesse,

28 And I finde more bitter then death, the woman whose heart is as nets & snares, and her hands, as bands: hee that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Beholde, saith the preacher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to [a] finde the account:

30 And yet my soule seeketh but I finde it not: I haue found one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

g Murmure not against God when he sendeth aduersities for mans sinnes.
h He answereth to them that esteeme not wisedome, except riches be ioyned therewith, shewing that both are the gifts of God, but that wisedome is farre more excellent, and may be without riches.
Chap. 1. 15.
i Consider wherefore God doeth send it, and what may comfort thee.
k That man should be able to controll nothing in his workes.
l Meaning, that cruell tyrants put the godly to death, and let the wicked go free.
m Boast not too much of thine owne iustice and wisedome.
n Tary not long when thou art admonished to come out of the way of wickednesse.
o To wit, on the admonitions that goe before.
p Consider what desolation and destruction shall come, if thou doe not obey them. 1. King. 8. 46. 2. Chron. 6. 36. Prou. 20. 9. 1. Iohn 1. 8.
q Credite them not, neither cast for them.
Or, before all of others.
r Meaning, wisedome.
s That is, to come to a conclusion.

31 Onely

c And so are cause of their own destruction.

31 Only lo, this haue I found, that God hath made man righteous: but they haue sought many c inventions.

CHAP. VIII.

1 To obey Princes and Magistrates. 17 The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

a That is, doth get him fauour and prosperitie.
b Whereas before he was proud and arrogant, he shall become humble and meeke.
c That is, that thou obey the King, and keepe the othe that thou hast made for the same cause. d Withdraw not thy selfe lightly from the obedience of thy prince.
e That is, when time is to obey, and how farre he should obey.
f Man of himselfe is miserable, and therefore ought to doe nothing to increase the same, but to worke all things by wisedome and counsell.
g Man hath no power to saue his owne life, and therefore must not rashly cast himselfe into danger.
h As commeth oft times to tyrannes and wicked rulers.
i That is, others as wicked as they.
k They that feared God, and worshipped him according as he had appointed.
l Where iustice is beleeued, there sinne reioyceth.
m Which are punished as though they were wicked, as Chap. 7. 17.
n Reade Chap. 3. 22.

WHo is as the wise man? & who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisedome of a man doeth make his a face to shine: and the b strength of his face shall be changed.

2 I admonish thee to take heede to the c mouth of the king, and to the matter of the othe of God.

3 d Haste not to go foorth of his sight: stande not in an euill thing: for he will doe whatsoeuer pleaseth him.

4 Where the worde of the king is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 Hee that keepeth the commandement, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall know the e time and iudgement.

6 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the f misery of man is great vpon him.

7 For hee knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 Man is not lord ouer the spirit to retaine the spirit: neither hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessours thereof.

9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke which is wrought vnder the Sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne h hurt.

10 And like wise I saw the wicked buried, and i they returned, and they that came from the holy k place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euill worke is not l executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

12 Though a sinner do euill an hundreth times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it shalbe well with the that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes: he shall be like a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon the earth, that there bee righteous men to whom it commeth according to the m workes of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it commeth according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I praysed ioy: for there is no goodnesse to man vnder the Sunne, saue n to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the Sunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisedome, and to beholde the busynesse that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 Then I beheld the whole worke of God, that man cannot finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the Sunne: for the which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to know it, he cannot finde it.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man know whom God loueth or hateth. 13 No man knoweth his ende 16 Wisedome excelleth strength.

I Haue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their workes are in the hande of God: and no man knoweth either loue or a hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as hee that feareth an othe.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the Sunne, that there is one b condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnesse is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whosoeuer is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for a c liuing dog, then to a dead lion.

5 For the liuing know that they shal die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Also their loue, and their hatred, and their enuie is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the Sunne.

7 Go, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God now d accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy garments be e white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 f Reioyce with the wife whom thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the Sunne all the dayes of thy vanity: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy trauell wherein thou labourest vnder the Sunne.

10 All that thine hand shall finde to doe, do it with all thy power: for there is neither worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisedome in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and I saw vnder the Sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and g chance commeth to them all.

a Meaning, what things he ought to chuse or refuse: or man knoweth not by these outward things, that is, by prosperity or aduersitie, whom God doth fauour or hate: for he sendeth them as well to the wicked as to the godly.
b In outward things, as riches, and pouerty, sickenesse and health, there is no difference betweene the godly and the wicked; but the difference is, that the godly are assured by faith of Gods fauour & affiance.
c He noteth the Epicures and carnall men, which made their belly their God, and had no pleasure but in this life, wishing rather to be an abiect, and vile person in this life, then a man of authority, and so to die, which is meant by the dog and lyon.
d They flatter themselues to be in Gods fauour, because they haue all things in abundance.
e Reioyce, be merrie, and spare for no cost, thus speake the wicked belly gods. ‡ Ebr. regard the gift. Chap. 5. 18. f Thus the worldlings lay to proue that all things are lawful for them, & attribute that to chance and fortune, which is done by the prouidence of God, 12 For neither doth man know his time, but as the fishes which are taken in an euill net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisedome vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me:

14 A little citie and few men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and he deliuered the citie by his wisedome: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisedome then strength: yet the wisedome of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of the wise are more heard in quietnesse, then the crie of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisedome then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisedome. 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot be charmed. 16 Of foolish kings, and drunken princes, 17 And of good kings and princes.

DEad flies cause to stinke, & putrifie the ointment of the Apothecarie: so doth a little follie him that is in estimation for wisdome, and for glory.

2 The heart of a [a] wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he [b] telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the [c] spirit of him that ruleth [d] rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentlenesse pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euill that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an [e] errour that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folly is set in great excellency, and the [f] rich sit in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, & princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 [g] He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 He that remoueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, hee must then put to more [i] strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisedome.

11 If the serpent bite, when hee is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lippes of a foole deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the wordes of his mouth is foolishnesse, and the latter ende of his mouth is wicked madnesse.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shall be: and who can tell him what shalbe after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the [k] citie.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a [l] childe, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the sonne [m] of nobles, and thy princes eate in time, for strength and not for drunkennesse.

18 By slouthfulnes the roofe of the house goeth to decay, and by the idlenesse of the handes, the house dropperth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing: but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bedde chamber: for the [n] foule of the heauen shall carry the voyce, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods prouidence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will iudge all.

CAst thy bread vpon the [a] waters: for after many dayes thou shalt finde it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what euill shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the [b] clouds be full, they will powre forth raine vpon the earth: and if the [c] tree fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shalbe.

4 He that obserueth the [d] winde, shall not sowe, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with childe: so thou knowest not the workes of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the euening let not thine handes [e] rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or [f] that, or whether both shal be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he shall remember the dayes of [g] darknesse, because they are many, all that commeth is vanitie.

9 [h] Reioyce, O young man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the waies of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take away [i] griefe out of thine heart, and cause euill [k] to depart from thy flesh: for childehood and youth are vanitie.

a That is, without wisedome and counsell.
i Are giuen to their lusts and pleasures.
k Meaning, when he is noble for vertue and wisedome and wise and with the gifts of God.
l Thou canst not worke euill so secretly, but it shall be knowen.
a That is, be liberall to the poore, & though it seem to be as a thing ventured on the sea, yet it shall bring thee profit.
b As the clouds that are full, powre out raine, so the rich that haue abundance must distribute it liberally.
c He exhorteth to be liberall, while we liue: for after, there is no power.
d He that feareth inconueniences, when necessitie requireth, shall neuer doe his duetie.
e Be not wearie of well doing.
f That is, which of thy works are most agreeable to God.
g That is, of affliction and trouble.
h He deriderh them that set their delight in worldly pleasures, as though God would not call them to an account.
i To wit, anger, & enuy.
k Meaning, carnall lusts, whereunto youth is giuen.

a So that he doth all things well & iustly, whereas the foole doth the contrary.
b By his doings he bewrayeth himselfe.
c If thy superior be angrie with thee, be thou discreet, and not moued.
d Meaning, that it is an euill thing when they that are in authoritie, faile, and doe not their duetie.
e They that are rich in wisedome and vertue. Psal.7.16. prou. 26.27. eccles. 27. 26.
f Without wisedom, whatsoeuer a man taketh in hand, turneth to his owne hurt, g The ignorance and beastlinesse of the wicked is such, that they know not common things, and yet will they discusse hie matters.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 11 Wisedome is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandements.

Remember

REmember nowe thy Creato in the dayes of thy youth, whiles the euill dayes come not, nor the yeeres approch wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the [a] cloudes returne after the raine.

3 When the [b] keepers of the house shall tremble, and the [c] strong men shall bowe themselues, and the [d] grinders shall cease, because they are fewe, and they ware darke that [e] looke out by the windowes:

4 And the [f] doores shall be shut without by the base sound of the [g] grinding, and her shall rise vp at the voyce of the [h] bird: and all the [i] daughters of singing shalbe abased.

5 Also they shall bee afraid of the [k] high thing, and feare shall be in the [l] way, and the almond tree shall [m] flourish, and the [n] grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners go about in the street.

6 Whiles the [o] siluer coard is not loosened, nor the golden [p] ewer broken, nor the [q] pitcher broken at the [r] well, nor the [s] wheele broken at the [t] cisterne:

7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the [u] spirite returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, sayeth the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more hee taught the people knowledge, and caused them to heare, & searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant words, & an vpright writing, euen the words of trueth.

11 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nayles [x] fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are giuen by one [y] pastour.

12 And of other things besides these, my sonne, take thou heede: for there is none ende in making many [z] bookes, and much reading is a wearinesse of the flesh.

13 Let vs heare the end of al: Feare God and keepe his commandements: for this is the whole duetie of man.

14 For God wil bring euery worke vnto iudgement, with euery secret thing, whether it be good or euill.

a Before thou come to a continuall misery: for when the clouds remaine after the raine, mans griefe is increased.
b The hands which keepe the body.
c The legges.
d The teeth.
e The eyes.
f The lippes, or mouth.
g When the chawes shall scarse open and not be able to chewe any more.
h Hee shall not be able to sleepe.
i That is, the winde pipes, or the eares shall be deafe, and not able to heare singing.
k To climbe high, because of that weakenesse, or they stoope downe, as though they were afrayd lest any thing should hit them.
l They shall tremble as they goe, as though they were afrayd.
m Their head shall be as white as the blossoms of an almond tree.
n They shall be able to beare nothing.
o Meaning, the marrow of the backe bone and the sinewes.
p The litle skin that coutreth the braine, which is in colour like golde.
q That is, the veines.
r Meaning, the liuer.
s Which is the head.
t That is, the heart out of the which the head draweth the power of life.
u The soule incontinently goeth either to ioy, or torment, and sleepeth not as the wicked imagine.
x Which are well applyed by the ministers, whom he calleth masters.
y That is, by God.
z These things cannot be comprehended in bookes, or learned by studie, but God must instruct thy heart that thou mayest onely know that wisedome is the true felicitie, and the way thereunto is to feare God.

‡ Ebr. a song of songs: so called, because it is the chiefest of those 1005. which Salomon made, as is mentioned, 1. King. 4. 32.

An ‡ excellent song which was Salomons.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this song Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and king of peace, and the faithfull soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste, and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegroome toward the bride, and his great & excellent benefites wherewith he doeth inrich her of his pure bountie and grace without any of her deserunigs. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more & more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar talke and mystiall communication of the spirituall loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 5 The deuise of all enemies that persecute the Church.

a This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithfull soule inflamed with the desire of Christ, whom she loueth.
b The feeling of thy great benefits.
c They that are pure in heart and conuersation.
d Christ, except they be drawen.
e Meaning the secret ioy that is not knowen to the world.

THE [a] kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Because of the [b] fauour of thy good ointments, thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the [c] virgins loue thee.

3 [d] Draw me: we will runne after thee: the King hath brought mee into his [e] chambers: wee will reioice and be glad in thee: we will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous do loue thee.

The faithfull confesse that they can not come to Christ, except they be drawen.

4 I am [f] blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tents of [g] Kedar, and as the [h] curtaines of Salomon.

5 Regard ye me not because I am [i] black, for the [k] sunne hath looked vpon me. The [l] sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: But I [m] kept not mine owne vine.

6 Shew me, [n] O thou, whom my soule loueth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I [o] be as one that turneth aside to the flockes of [p] thy companions?

f The Church confesseth her spots and sinne, but hath confidence in the fauour of Christ.
g Kedar was Ismaels sonne, of whom came the Arabians that dwelt in tents.
h Which within were all set with precious stones and iewels.
i Consider not the Church by the outward appearance.
k The corruption of nature through sinne, and affliction.
l Mine owne brethren, which should haue most fauoured me.
m She confesseth her owne negligence.
n The spouse feeling her fault fleeth to her husband only for succour.
o Whom thou hast called to the dignitie of pastours, and they set foorth their owne dreames in stead of thy doctrine.

p Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant, to goe to the pastours to learne.

q For thy spirituall beautie and excellencie, there was no worldly treasure to be compared vnto thee.

r The Church reioyceth that she is admitted to the company of Christ.

s He shalbe most deare vnto me.

t Christ accepteth his Church, and commendeth her beautie.

u That is, the heart of the faithfull wherein Christ dwelleth by his spirit.

7 p If thou know not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and feede thy kiddes by the tents of the shepheards.

8 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the q charets of Pharaoh.

9 Thy cheekes are comely with rowes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.

10 Wee will make thee borders of golde with studdes of siluer.

11 r Whiles the king was at his repast, my spikenard gaue the smell thereof.

12 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betweene my s breasts.

13 My welbeloued is as a cluster of Camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.

14 My loue, behold, thou art t faire: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doues.

15 My welbeloued, behold, thou art faire and pleasant: also our u bed is greene:

16 The beames of our house are cedars, our rafters are of firre.

CHAP. II.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadow of Christ. 8 She heareth his voice. 14 She is compared to the doue, 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

I Am the rose of the field, and the lilie of the valleis.

2 Like a lilie among the thornes, so is my a loue among the daughters.

3 b Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadow had I delite, and sate downe: and his fruit was sweete vnto my mouth.

4 He brought mee into the wine seller, and loue was his banner ouer me.

5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.

6 His left hand is vnder mine head, and his right hand doth imbrace me.

7 c I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hindes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill she please.

8 d It is the voyce of my welbeloued: behold, hee commeth leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hilles.

9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong hart: loe, hee e standeth behinde our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing himselfe through the f grates.

10 My welbeloued spake and sayde vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, and come thy way.

11 For behold, g winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.

12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The figge tree hath brought forth her yong figges: and the vines with their small grapes haue cast a sauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

14 My doue, that art in the h holes of the rocke, in the secret places of the stayres, shew me thy sight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweete, and thy sight comely.

15 Take vs the foxes, the little i foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines haue small grapes.

16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies.

17 Vntill the day breake, and the shadowes flee away: returne my welbeloued, and be like a k roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bether.

a Thus Christ preferreth his Church aboue all other things.

b The spouse testifieth her great desire toward her husband, but her strength faileth her, and therefore she desireth to be comforted, and felt it.

c Christ chargeth them which haue to do in the Church, as it were by a solemne othe that they trouble not the quietnesse thereof.

d This is spoken of Christ, who tooke vpon him our nature to come to helpe his Church.

e Forasmuch as his diuinitie was hid vnder the cloke of our flesh.

f So that we can not haue full knowledge of him in this life.

g That is, sinne and errour is driuen backe by the comming of Christ, which is here described by spring time, when all things flourish.

h Thou that art ashamed of thy sinnes, come and shew thy selfe vnto me.

i Suppresse the heretikes while they are yong, that is, when they beginne to shew their malice, and destroy the vine of the Lord.

k The Church desireth Christ to bee most readie to helpe her in all dangers.

CHAP. III.

1 The Church desireth to be ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wildernesse.

IN my bed by a night I sought him that my soule loued: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise therefore now, and go about in the citie, by the streetes and by the open places, and will b seeke him that my soule loueth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The c watchmen that went about the citie, found me: to whom I sayde, Saw you not him whom my soule loueth?

4 When I had past a little from them, then I found him whom my soule loued: I tooke hold on him and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that conceiued me.

5 d I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hindes of the fielde, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue vntill shee please.

6 Who is shee that commeth vp out of the e wildernesse like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrre and incense, and with all the f spices of the merchant?

7 Behold his g bed which is Salomons: threescore strong men are round about it, of the valiant men of Israel.

8 They al handle the sword, and are expert in warre, euery one hath his sword vpon his thigh for the feare by night.

9 King Salomon made himselfe a palace of the trees of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of siluer, and the pauement thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whose middes was paued with the loue of the daughters of Ierusalem.

11 Come forth, yee h daughters of Zion, and behold the King Salomon with the i crowne, where with his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

a The Church by night, that is, in troubles, seeketh to Christ, but is not incontinently heard.

b Shewing that although we be not heard at the first, yet we must still continue in prayer till we feele comfort.

c Which declareth that we must seeke vnto all, of whom we hope to haue any succour.

d Reade Chap. 2.7.

e This is referred to the Church of Israel, which was led by the wildernesse fortie yeeres.

f Heb. powder.

g By the bed is meant the Temple, which Salomon made.

h He alludeth to the watch, which kept the Temple.

Or, chaire.

i All ye that are of the number of the faithfull.

k Christ becomeman, was crowned by the loue of God with the glorious crowne of diuinitie.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The prayses of the Church. 7 She is without blemish in his sight. 9 The loue of Christ towards her.

BEhold, thou art faire, my loue: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doues: among thy locks a thine haire is a Because Christ delighteth in his Church, he commendeth all that is in her.

b He hath respect to the multitude of the faithfull, which are many in number.

like the b flocke of goats, which looke downe from the mountaine of Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe in good order, which goe vp from the washing: which every one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a threed of scarlet, and thy talke is comely: thy temples are within thy lockes, as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy necke is as the towre of Dauid built for defence: a thousand shieldes hang therein, and all the targets of the strong men.

c Wherein are knowledge, and zeale, two precious iewels,

5 Thy two c breastes are as two yong roes that are twinnes, feeding among the lilies.

6 Untill the day breake, & the shadowes flee away, I will goe into the mountaine of myrrhe and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

d Christ promiseth his Church to call his faithfull from all the corners of the world.

8 d Come with mee from Lebanon, my spouse, euen with mee from Lebanon, and looke from the toppe of Amanah, from the toppe of Shenir and Hermon, from the dennes of the lions and from the mountaines of the leopards.

e Christ calleth his Church sister, in respect that he had taken the flesh of man.

9 My e sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine f eyes, and with a chaine of thy necke.

f In that he made his Church beautifull and rich, he loued his gifts in her.

10 My sister, my spouse, how faire is thy loue? howe much better is thy loue then wine? and the sauour of thine ointments then all spices?

g Because of thy confession and thankesgiuing.

11 Thy g lippes, my spouse, drop as honie combes: honie and milke are vnder thy tongue, and the sauour of thy garments is as the sauour of Lebanon.

h The Church confesseth that al her glory and beautie commeth of Christ, who is the true fountain of all grace.

12 My sister my spouse is as a garden inclosed, as a spring shut vp, and a fountaine sealed vp.

13 Thy plants are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweete fruites, as camphire, spikenard, i She desireth Christ to comfort her, and to powre the graces of his Spirit vpon her, which Spirit is meant by the North and South winde.

14 Euen spikenard and saffron, calamus, and cinamon, with all the trees of incense, myrrhe and aloes, with all the chiefe spices.

15 h O fountaine of the gardens, O well of liuing waters, and the springs of Lebanon.

16 Arise, O i North, and come O South, and blow on my garden that the spices therof may flow out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eate his pleasant fruit.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voyce. 3 She confesseth her nakednesse. 10 Shee praiseth Christ her husband.

a The garden figurifieth the kingdome of Christ, where he prepareth the banket for his elect.

b The spouse saith that she is troubled with the cares of worldly things, which is ment by sleeping.

1 I Am come into my a garden, my sister, my spouse: I gathered my myrrhe with my spice: I ate mine hony combe with mine honie: I dranke my wine with my milke: eate, O friendes, drinke, and make you merrie, O welbeloued.

2 b I sleepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto me, my sister, my loue, my doue, my vndefiled: for mine head is full of dewe, and my lockes with the drops of the c night.

c Declaring the long patience of the Lord toward sinners.

3 I haue put off my d coate, howe shall I put it on? I haue washed my feete, howe shall I defile them?

d The spouse confesseth her nakednesse, and that of her selfe she hath nothing: or seeing that she is once made cleane, she promiseth not to defile her selfe againe.

4 My welbeloued put in his hande by the hole of the doore, and ‡ mine heart was affectioned toward him.

‡ Hebr. my bowels were moued to, wards him.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did drop downe myrrhe, and my e fingers pure myrrhe vpon the handles of the barre.

e The spouse which should be annointed of Christ, shall not finde him if she thinke to annoynt him with her good workes.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone and past: mine heart was gone when hee did speake: I sought him, but I could not find him: I called him, but he answered me not.

f These are the false teachers, which wound the conscience with their traditions.

7 The f watchmen that went about the citie, found me: they smote me and wounded me: the watchmen of the walles tooke away my vaile from me.

g She asketh of them which are godly (forasmuch as the lawe and saluation should come out of Zion & Ierusalem) that they would direct her to Christ.

8 I charge you, g O daughters of Ierusalem, if yee finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sicke of loue.

h Thus say they of Ierusalem.

9 h O the fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another louer, that thou dost so charge vs?

i She describeth Christ to be of perfect beautie and comelinesse,

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chiefest often thousand.

‡ Hebr. Tsahsh.

11 His i head is as fine gold, his locks curled, and blacke as a raven.

k Hearing of the excellencie of Christ, the faithfull desire to know how to finde him.

12 His eyes are like doues vpon the riuers of waters, which are washed with milke, and remaine by the vessels.

13 His cheekes are as a bed of spices, and as sweete flowres, and his lippes like lilies dropping downe pure myrrhe.

14 His handes as rings of golde set with the k chrysolite, his belly like white yuorie couered with Saphires.

15 His legges are as pillars of marble set vpon sockets of fine golde: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is as sweete things, and he is wholly delectable: this is my welbeloued, and this is my louer, O daughters of Ierusalem.

17 l O the fairest among women, whither is thy welbeloued gone? whither is thy welbeloued turned aside, that wee may seeke him with thee?

CHAP. VI.

1 The Church assureth her selfe of the loue of Christ. 3 The prayse of the Church. 4 She is but one and vndefiled.

a That is, is conuersant here in earth among men.

MY welbeloued is gone downe into his a garden to the beds of spices, to feede in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

b Which was a faire and strong citie, 1. King. 14. 17.

2 I am my welbeloueds, and my welbeloued is mine, who feedeth among the lilies.

3 Thou art beautifull, my loue, as b Tirzah, comely as Ierusalem, terrible as an armie with banners.

c This declareth the exceeding loue of Christ toward his Church.

4 c Turne away thine eyes from me: for they ouercome me: thine heart is like a flocke of goates, which looke downe from Gilead.

5 Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe, which go vp from the washing, which euery one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

6 Thy temples are within thy locks as a piece of a pomegranate.
7 There are [d] threescore Queenes and fourescore concubines, and of the damsels without number.
8 But my doue is alone, & my vndefiled, she is the onely daughter of her mother, and she is deare to her that bare her: the daughters haue seene her and counted her blessed:
euen the Queenes and the concubines, and they haue praysed her.
9 [e] Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, faire as the moone, pure as the sunne, terrible as an armie with banners?
10 I went downe to [f] the garden of nuts, to see the fruits of the valley, to see if the vine budded, & if the pomegranates flourished.
11 [g] I knew not, my soule set me [h] as the chariets of my noble people.
12 Returne, returne, O [i] Shulamite, returne: returne that we may behold thee.
What shall you see in the Shulamite, but as the company of an armie?

d Meaning, that the gifts are infinite which Christ giueth to his Church: or that his faithfull are many in number.
e He sheweth the beginning of the Church was small, but that it grew vp to a great multitude.
f He went down into the Synagogue to see what fruites came of the Law and the Prophets.
g I found nothing but rebellion.
h I ran as swift as the nobles of my people in their chariets.
i O ye people of Ierusalem: for Ierusalem was called Shalem, which signifieth peace.

CHAP. VII.

1 The beautie of the Church in all her members. 10 She is assured of Christs loue toward her.

a He describeth the comely beauty of the Church in euery part, which is to be vnderstood spiritually.
b Read Chap. 4. 5

HOwe beautifull are thy [a] goings with shooes, O princes daughter! the ioynts of thy thighes are like iewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workeman.
2 Thy nauill is as a round cup that want-eth not licour: thy belly is as an heape of wheate compassed about with lilies.
3 [b] Thy two breasts are as two young roes that are twinnes.
4 Thy necke is like a tower of Iuorie:
thine eyes are like the fish pooles in Heshbon by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Libanon, that looketh toward Damascus.
5 Thine head vpon thee is as skarlet, and the bush of thine head like purple: the king is tied [c] in the ‖ rafters.
6 How faire art thou, and how pleasant art thou, O my loue, in pleasures!
7 This thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breasts like clusters.
8 I said, I will go vp into the palme tree,
I will take hold of her boughes: thy breasts shall now be like the clusters of the vine: and the sauour of thy nose like apples, 9 And the roofe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth streight to my welbelo-ued, and causeth the lips of the ancient to speake.
10 [d] I am my welbeloueds, and his desire is toward me.
11 Come, my welbeloued, let vs go forth into the field: let vs remaine in the villages.
12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs see if the vine flourish, whether it hath budded the smal grape, or whether the pomegranates flourish: there will I giue thee my loue.
13 The mandrakes haue giuen a smell, and in our gates are all sweete things, new and olde: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

c He delighteth to come neere thee, & to be in thy company. ‖ Or, galleries.
d This the spouse speaketh.
e If the people that are called to Christ bring forth any fruite,

CHAP. VIII.

1 The Church will be taught by Christ. 3 She is vpholden by him. 6 The vehement loue where with Christ loueth her. 11 She is the vine that bringeth forth fruit to the spirituall Salomon, which is Iesus Christ.

O [a] that thou were as my brother that sucked the breasts of my mother: I would find thee without, I would kisse thee, then they should not dispise ‖ thee.
2 I will lead thee & bring thee into my mothers house: there thou shalt teach me: and I will cause thee to drinke spiced wine, and new wine of the pomegranate.
3 [b] His left hand shalbe vnder mine head, and his right hand shall imbrace me.
4 [c] I charge you, O daughters of Ieru-salem, that you stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill she please.
5 Who is this that commeth vp out of the wildernesse, leaning vpon her welbelo-ued? I raised thee vp vnder an apple tree:
there thy mother conceiued thee: there she conceiued that bare thee.
6 [d] Set me as a seale on thine heart, & as a signet vpon thine arme: for loue is strong as death: iealousie is cruel as the graue: the coales thereof are fierie coales, & a vehement flame.
7 Much water cannot quench loue, neither can the floods drowne it: If a man should giue all the substance of his house for loue, they would greatly contemne it.
8 [e] We haue a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister when she shall be spoken for?
9 [f] If she be a wall, we will build vpon her a siluer palace: and if she be a doore, we will keepe her in with boards of Cedar.
10 [g] I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers: then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.
11 [h] Salomon had a vine in Baal-hamon:
hee gaue the vineyard vnto keepers: euery one bringeth for the fruit thereof a thousand pieces of siluer.
12 But my vineyard which is mine, is before me: to thee, O Salomon, appertaineth a thousand pieces of siluer, and two hundreth to them that keepe the fruit thereof.
13 O thou that dwellest in the [i] gardens, the companions hearken vnto thy voyce:
cause me to heare it.
14 O my welbeloued, [k] flee away, and be like vnto the Roe, or to the yong Hart vp-on the mountaines of spices.

Isaiah.

THE ARGVMENT.

GOD according to his promise, Deut. 18. 15 that he would neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall reuelation, but also to interprete and declare the Lawe, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the vsiticie and profite of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Law they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondly, to the promises and threatnings of the Law: and thirdly, to the couenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauiour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: nor for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safegard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearely intreated it then Moses, and set forth more liuely Iesus Christ, in whome this couenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as hee saw that the disease of the people required. He declareth also many notable prophesies which hee had receiued of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office and his kingdom. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vnion with the Iewes. Which are most principall points contained in this booke, and a gathering of his Sermons that he preached. Which after certaine daies that they had stood vpon the Temple doore (for the maner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes, that the people might the better marke it, as Ha. 8. 1. and Habbak. 2. 2.) the Priests tooke it downe and reserued as among their registers: and so by Gods prouidence these bookes were preserued as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, he was of the Kings stocke (for Amos his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeres, from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in law he was (as the Ebrewes write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come, as though they were now past, because of the certaintie therof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reuealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

2 Isaiah reprooueth the Iewes of their ingratitude and stubbornesse, that neither for benefits nor punishment would amend. 11 Hee sheweth why their sacrifices are reiected, and wherein Gods true seruice standeth. 24 He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem, 25 and of the restitution thereof.

a That is, a reuelation, or prophesie, which was one of the two meanes, whereby God declared himselfe to his seruants in old time, as Numb. 12. 6 and therefore the Prophets were called Seers, 1. Sam. 9. 9.

b Isaiah was chiefly sent to Iudah and Ierusalem, but not onely for in this booke are prophesies concerning other nations also.

a THe vision of Isaiah, the sonne of Amoz, which he sawe b concerning Iudah and Ierusalem in the dayes of c Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Iudah.

2 Heare, O d heauens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath sayd, I haue nourished and brought vp e children, but they haue rebelled against me.

3 The f oxe knoweth his owner, and the asse his masters crib, but Israel hath not knowen: my people hath not vnderstood.

4 Ah, sinfull nation, a people laden with iniquitie: a seede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lord: they haue prouoked the h holy one of Israel to anger: they are gone backward.

5 Wherefore should ye be i smitten any more? for ye fall away more and more: the whole k head is sicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

6 From the l sole of the foot vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but wounds and swelling, and sores full of corruption: they haue not bene wrapped, m nor bound vp nor mollified with oyle.

7 Your lande is waste: your cities are burnt with fire: strangers deuoure your land in your presence, and it is desolate like the ouerthrow n of strangers.

8 And the daughter of o Zion shall remaine like a cottage in a vineyarde, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lord of hostes p had reserued vnto vs, euen a small remnant: wee should haue bene q as Sodome, and should haue bene like vnto Gomorah.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O r princes of Sodome: hearken vnto the Lawe of our God, O people of Gomorah.

11 What haue I to doe with the multitude of your sacrifices, saith the Lord? I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and of the fat of fed beasts: and I s desire not the blood of bullocks, nor of lambes, nor of goates.

12 When ye come to appeare before mee, who required this of your hands to treade in my courts?

13 Bring no more oblations t in vaine: incense is an abomination vnto me: I cannot suffer your newe moones, nor Sabbaths, nor solemne dayes (it is iniquitie) nor solemne assemblies.

c Called also Azariah, 2. King. 15. 1. of these Kings, read 2. Kings, from chap. 14. vnto chap. 21. and 2. Chro. from chap. 25. vnto chap. 33.

d Because men were obstinate and insensible, hee calleth to the dumme creatures, which were more prompt to obey Gods worde, as Deut. 32. 1.

e Hee declareth his great mercie toward the Iewes, forasmuch as he chose them aboue all other nations to be his people and children, as Deut. 10. 15.

f The most brutish and dull beasts do more acknowledge their duety toward their masters, then my people do toward mee, of whom they haue receiued benefits without comparison.

g They were not onely wicked, as were their fathers, but vtterly corrupt, and by their euil example infected others.

h That is, him that sanctifieth Israel.

i What auaileth it to seeke to amend you by punishment, seeing the more I correct you, the more ye rebell?

k By naming the chiefe parts of the body he signifieth, that there was no part of the whole body of the Iewes free from his rods.

l Euery part of the body, as well the least as the chiefest was plagued.

m Their plagues were so grieuous that they were incurable, & yet they would not repent.

n Meaning, of them that dwel farre off, which because they looke not for aduantage of that which remaineth, destroy all before them.

o That is, Ierusalem.

p Because that he will euer haue a Church to call vpon his Name.

q That is, all destroyed.

r Ye that for your vices deserued all to be destroyed as they of Sodom, saue that God of his mercy reserued a litle number, Lam. 3. 22.

s Although God commanded these sacrifices for a time, as aydes and exercises of their faith: yet because the people had not faith nor repentance, God detesteth them. Psal. 50. 13. Iere. 6. 20. Amos 5. 21. Mic. 6. 7.

t Without faith and repentance.

u Your ſacrifices offred in the new moones and feaſtes: he condemneth hereby hypocrites, which thinke to pleaſe God with ceremonies, and they themſelues are voyde of faith and mercy.

x He ſheweth that where men be giuen to auarice, deceite, crueltie and extortion, which is ment by blood, there God will ſhew his anger, and not accept them, though they ſeeme neuer ſo holy, as Chap. 59. 3.

y By this outward waſhing, he meaneth the ſpirituall: exhorting the Iewes to repent and amend their liues.

z This kind of reaſoning by the ſecond table the Scriptures vſe in many places againſt the hypocrites, who pretend moſt holines and religion in worde, but when their charitie and loue toward their brethren ſhould appeare, they declare that they haue neither faith nor religion.

14 My ſoule hateth your [u] newe moones and your appointed feaſtes: they are a burden vnto me: I am weary to beare them.

15 And when you ſhall ſtretch out your handes, I will hide mine eyes from you: and though ye make many prayers, I will not heare: for your handes are full [x] of blood.

16 [y] Waſh you, make you cleane: take away the euill of your workes from before mine eyes: ceaſe to doe euill.

17 Learne to [z] do well: ſeeke iudgement, relieue the oppreſſed: iudge the fatherleſſe and defend the widow.

18 Come now, [z] let vs reaſon together, ſaith the Lorde: though your ſinnes were as crimſin, they ſhall bee made [b] white as ſnowe: though they were redde like ſcarlet, they ſhall be as wooll.

19 If ye [c] conſent and obey, ye ſhall eate the good things of the land.

20 But if ye refuſe and be rebellious, ye ſhall bee deuoured with the ſwoorde: for the mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken it.

21 Howe is the [d] faithfull citie become an harlot? It was full of iudgement, and iuſtice lodged therein, but nowe [e] they are murtherers.

22 Thy [f] ſiluer is become droſſe: thy wine is mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious & companions of [g] theeues: euery one loueth giftes, and followeth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherleſſe, neither doeth the widowes cauſe come before them.

24 Therefore ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, the [h] mightie one of Iſrael, Ah, I will [i] eaſe me of mine aduerſaries, and auenge me of mine enemies.

25 Then I will turne mine hande vpon thee, and burne out thy droſſe, til it [k] be pure, and take away all thy tinne.

26 [l] And I will reſtore thy iudges as at the firſt, and thy counſellers as at the beginning: afterward ſhalt thou be called a citie of righteouſneſſe, and a faithfull citie.

27 Zion ſhall be redeemed in iudgement, and they that returne in, [m] iuſtice.

28 And the [n] deſtruction of the tranſgreſſours and of the ſinners ſhall bee together: and they that forſake the Lord, ſhall be conſumed.

29 For they ſhall bee confounded for the [o] okes, which ye haue deſired, and yee ſhall bee aſhamed of the gardens, that yee haue choſen.

30 For ye ſhall be as an oke, whoſe leafe fadeth: and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the ſtrong ſhall be as [p] towe, and the maker thereof, as a ſparke: and they ſhal both burne together, and none ſhall quench them.

your confidence, ſhall be conſumed as eaſily, as a [p] piece of towe.

CHAP. II.

2 The Church ſhall be reſtored by Chriſt, and the Gentiles called. 6 The puniſhment of the rebellious, and obſtinate.

THe word that Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſaw vpon Iudah and Ieruſalem.

2 [a] It [a] ſhall be in the laſt dayes, that the mountaine of the houſe of the Lorde ſhall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and [b] ſhalbe exalted aboue the hils, and all nations ſhall [c] flowe vnto it.

3 And many people ſhal go, & ſay, Come, and let vs goe vp to [d] the mountaine of the Lorde, to the houſe of the God of Iaakob, and he will teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes: [e] for the [f] Lawe ſhall goe forth of Zion, and the worde of the Lord from [g] Ieruſalem,

4 And hee [h] ſhall iudge among the nations, and [i] rebuke many people: they ſhall [k] breake their ſwordes alſo into mattockes, and their ſpeares into ſithes: nation ſhal not lift vp a ſword againſt nation, neither ſhall they learne [l] to fight any more.

5 O houſe of Iaakob, come yee, and let vs [l] walke in the light of the Lord.

6 Surely thou [m] haſt forſaken thy people, the houſe of Iaakob, becauſe they are [n] full of the Eaſt maners, and are ſorcerers as the Philiſtims, [o] and abound with ſtrange children.

7 Their land alſo was full of [p] ſiluer and golde, and there was none end of their treaſures: and their land was full of horſes, and their charets were infinite.

8 Their land alſo was full of idoles: they worſhipped the worke of their owne hands, Micah 4.2.

e Meaning, the whole doctrine of Saluation.

f This was accompliſhed, when the Goſpell was firſt preached in Ieruſalem, and from thence went through all the world.

g The Lorde, which is Chriſt, ſhall haue all power giuen him.

h That they may acknowledge their ſinnes and turne to him.

i Hee ſheweth the fruite of the peace, which the Goſpell ſhould bring, to wit, that men ſhould doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies.

k Hee ſpeaketh not againſt the vſe of weapons and lawfull warre, but ſheweth how the hearts of the godly ſhall bee affected one towarde another: which peace and loue doeth beginne and growe in this life, but ſhall be perfited, when we are ioyned with our head Chriſt Ieſus.

l Seeing the Gentiles will be ſo ready, make you haſte and ſhewe them the way to worſhip God.

m The Prophet ſeeing the ſmall hope, that the Iewes would conuert, complayneth to God, as though he had vtterly forſaken them for their ſinnes.

n Full of the corruptions that reigned chiefly in the Eaſt parte.

o They altogether giue themſelues to the faſhions of other nations.

ſ Meaning, as ſoone as God ſhal begin to execute his iudgements.

t By high trees and mountaines are meant them that are proud, and loftie, and think themſelues moſt ſtrong in this world.

x They ſhal caſt them into moſt vile and filthie places, when they perceiue that they are not able to helpe them. y Caſt off your vaine confidence of man, whoſe life is ſo fraile, that if his noſe bee ſtopped, he is dead, and conſider that ye haue doe with God, which their owne fingers haue made.

9 And a man bowed himſelfe, and a man q humbled himſelfe: therefore ſ ſpare them not.

10 Enter into the rocke, and hide thee in the duſt from before the feare of the Lorde, and from the glory of his maieſtie.

11 The hie looke of man ſhalbe humbled, and the loftineſſe of men ſhall be abaſed, and the Lord onely ſhalbe exalted in ſ that day.

12 For the day of the Lorde of hoſtes is vpon all the proude and hautie, and vpon all that is exalted: and it ſhall be made lowe.

13 Euen vpon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are hie and exalted, and vpon all the okes of Baſhan,

14 And vpon all the high t mountaines, and vpon all the hilles that are lifted vp,

15 And vpon euery high tower, and vpon euery ſtrong wall,

16 And vpon all t the ſhips of Tarſhiſh, and vpon all the pleaſant pictures.

17 And the hautineſſe of men ſhall bee brought lowe, and the loftineſſe of men ſhall be abaſed, and the Lorde ſhall onely be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles will he vtterly deſtroy.

19 Then they ſhall goe u into the holes of the rockes, and into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lorde, and from the glory of his maieſtie, when hee ſhall ariſe to deſtroy the earth.

20 At that day ſhall man caſt away his ſiluer idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made themſelues to worſhip them) x to the moules, and to the backs,

21 To goe into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes, from before the feare of the Lorde, and from the glory of his maieſtie, when he ſhall riſe to deſtroy the earth.

22 Ceaſe you from the man whoſe y breath is in his noſtrels: for wherein is hee to bee eſteemed?

CHAP. III.

1 For the ſinne of the people God will take away the wiſe men, and giue them fooliſh princes. 14 The couetouſneſſe of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

FOr loe, the Lorde God of hoſtes will take away from Ieruſalem and from Iudah the ſtay a and the ſtrength: euen all the ſtay of bread, and all the ſtay of water,

2 The ſtrong man, & the man of warre, b the iudge and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captaine of fifte, and the honourable, and the counſeller, and the cunning artificer, and c the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint d children to be their princes, and babes ſhall rule ouer them.

5 The people ſhall be e oppreſſed one of another, and euery one by his neighbour: the children ſhall preſume againſt the ancient, and the vile againſt the honourable.

6 When euery one ſhall f take hold of his brother of the houſe of his father, and ſay, Thou haſt clothing: thou ſhalt bee our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand:

7 In that day he ſhall ſweare, ſaying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no bread in mine houſe, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtleſſe Ieruſalem is fallen, & Iudah is fallen downe, becauſe their tongue and workes are againſt the Lorde, to prouoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The g tryall of their countenance teſtifieth againſt them, yea, they declare their ſinnes, as Sodom, they hide them not. Woe be vnto their ſoules: for they haue rewarded euill vnto themſelues.

10 h Say ye, Surely it ſhall be well with the iuſt: for they ſhall eate the fruite of their workes.

11 Woe be to the wicked, it ſhall be euill with him: for the reward of his handes ſhall be giuen him.

12 i Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them: O my people, they that leade thee, cauſe thee to erre, and deſtroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord ſtandeth vp to pleade, yea, he ſtandeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord ſhall enter into iudgement with the k Ancients of his people and the princes thereof: for yee haue eaten vp the vineyarde: the ſpoyle of the poore is in your houſes.

15 What haue ye to doe, that yee beate my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poore, ſaith the Lord, euen the Lorde of hoſtes?

16 The Lorde alſo ſayeth, l Becauſe the daughters of Zion are hautie, and walke with m ſtretched out necks, and with n wandering eyes, walking and o minſing as they goe, and making a p tinkeling with their feete, 17 Therefore ſhal q Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lord ſhall diſcouer their ſecret parts.

18 In that day ſhall the Lord take away the ornament of the ſlippers, and the calles, and the round tires,

19 The ſweete boxes, and the bracelets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the ſlops, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earings,

21 The rings, and the mufflers,

22 The coſtly apparell and the vailes, and the wimples and the criſping pinnes,

23 And the glaſſes, and the fine linnen, a Becauſe they truſted in their abundance and proſperitie, he ſheweth that they ſhould be taken from them. b The temporall gouernour and the miniſter. c By theſe he meaneth that God would take away euery thing that was in any eſtimation, & wherein they had any occaſion to vaune themſelues. d Not onely in age, but in wit, maners, knowledge and ſtrength. e For lacke of good regiment and order.

f He ſheweth that this plague ſhalbe ſo horrible, that contrarie to the common maner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none ſhall be found able or willing to be their gouernour.

g Feare ſhall rather cauſe him to forſweare himſelfe, then to take ſuch a dangerous charge vpon him.

h When God ſhall examine their deedes, whereupon they now ſet an impudent face, he ſhall finde the marke of their impietie in their forehead.

i Be ye that are godly aſſured that God will defend you in the middes of theſe troubles.

k Becauſe the wicked people were more addict to their princes, then to the commandements of God he ſheweth that he would giue them ſuch princes, by whom they ſhould haue no helpe, but that ſhould be manifeſt tokens of his wrath, becauſe they ſhould be fooles and effeminate.

l Meaning, that the rulers and gouernours had deſtroyed his Church, and not preſerued it according to their duetie. m That is, ye ſhewe all crueltie againſt them. n He menaceth the people, becauſe of the arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue themſelues to all wantonneſſe and diſſolution. o Which declared their pride, p As a ſigne, that they were not chaſte. q Which ſhewed their wantonneſſe. r They delited then in ſlippers that did creake, or had little plates ſowed vpon them, which tinkled as they went.

and

f In rehearsing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnesse and vanitie of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree.

and the hoops, and the flimmes.

24 And in stead of sweete sauour there shal be stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, and in stead of dressing of the haire baldnes, & in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sackcloth, and burning in stead of beautie.

25 Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.

26 Then shall her gates mourne and lament, and she being desolate shal sit vpon the ground.

t Meaning, that God will not onely punish the women, but their husbands, which haue suffered this dissolutnesse, and also the common weale, which hath not remedied it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The small remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The graces of God vpon them that remaine.

a When God shall execute this vengeance, there shall not be one man found to be the head to many women, and they, contrary to womanly shamefastnesse, shall seeke vnto men, and offer themselues to any condition.

b Be thou our husband, and let vs be called thy wiues.

c For so they thought it, to be without an head and husband.

d He comforteth the Church in this desolation, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces shall bee as plentifull toward the faithfull, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Chap. 45.8. Some by the budde of the Lorde, meane Christ. e He alludeth to the booke of life, whereof read Exodus. 32.32. meaning Gods secrete counsell, wherein his elect are predestinate to life euerlasting. f That is, the cruelties, extortion, auarice, and all wickednes. g When things shall be redressed that were amisse. h He alludeth to the pillar of the cloud Exod. 13.21. meaning, that Gods fauour and protection should appeare in euery place. i The faithfull are called the glory of God, because of his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them. k God promiseth to bee the defence of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

AND in that day shal a seuen women take holde of one man, saying, Wee will eate our owne breade, and wee will weare our owne garments: onely b let vs be called by thy name, and take away our c reproch.

2 In that day shall the d bud of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruite of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then he that shalbe left in Zion, and he that shall remaine in Ierusalem shall be called holy, and euery one shall bee e written among the liuing in Ierusalem,

4 When the Lord shal wash the filthines of the daughters of Zion, and purge the f bloud of Ierusalem out of the midst thereof by the spirite of g iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the h Lorde shall create vpon euery place of mount Zion, & vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the i glory shall be a defence,

6 And a couering shal be for a shadow in the day for the heate, & a place of refuge, and a couert for the storme k and for the raine.

CHAP. V.

1 Vnder the similitude of the vine, he discribeth the state of the people. 8 Of their auarice. 11 Their drunkennesse. 13 Of their captiuitie.

a The Prophet by this song doeth set before the peoples eyes their ingratitude and Gods mercy.

NOw will a I sing to my b beloued a song of my beloued to his vineyard. My beloued had a vineyarde in a very fruitfull hill,

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, d and he built a tower in the midst thereof, & made a winepresse therein: then he looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought e forth wilde grapes.

3 Now therefore, O inhabitants of Ierusalem, and men of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, f betweene me and my vineyard.

4 What could I haue done any more to my vineyarde, that I haue not done vnto it? why haue I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wilde grapes?

5 And now will I tell you what I will doe to my vineyard: I g will take away the hedge thereof, and it shal be eaten vp: I wil breake the wall thereof, and it shal be troden downe:

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not bee cut, nor digged, but briers and thornes shall grow vp: I will also commaund the clouds that they raine no raine vpon it.

7 ¶ Surely the vineyarde of the Lord of hostes is the house of Israel, and the men of Iudah are his pleasaunt plant, and he looked for h iudgement, but behold oppression: for righteousnes, but behold i a crying.

8 Wo vnto them that ioyne house to house, and lay field to field, till there be no k place, that ye may be placed by your selues in the midst of the earth.

9 This is in mine l eares, saieth the Lorde of hostes. Surely many houses shall be desolate, euen great, and faire without inhabitant.

10 For ten acres of vines shal yeeld one m bath, and the seed of an e homer shall yeeld on e ephah.

11 ¶ Wo vnto them that n rise vp early to follow drunkennes, and to them that continue vntill o night, till the wine do inflame them.

12 And the harpe, and viole, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feasts: but they regard not the p worke of the Lorde, neither consider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people q is gone into captiuitie, because they had r no knowledge, and the glory thereof are men famished, and the multitude thereof is dryed vp with thirst.

14 Therefore s hel hath enlarged it selfe, & hath opened his mouth without measure, and their glory, & their multitude, and their pompe, and he that reioyceth among them, shall descend into it.

15 And man shal be brought downe, and man shal be humbled, euen the eyes of the proud shall be humbled.

16 And the Lord of hostes shal be exalted in iudgement, & the holy God shall be sanctified in iustice.

b That is, to God. Iere. 2.21. matth. 21.33. c Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most plentifull and abundant.

d He spared no deligence nor cost.

e In the seuenth verse he declareth what they were.

f He maketh them iudges in their owne cause, forasmuch as it was euident that they were the cause of their owne ruine.

g I will take no more care for it.

h Iudgement and righteousnes are true fruites of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruell oppressours there is no religion.

i Of them that are oppressed.

k To wit, for the poore to dwell in.

l I haue heard the complaint, and cry of the poore.

m Which containeth about ten pottels: so that euery acre should but yeeld one pottle.

n Which containeth an hundredth pottels.

o An ephah containeth ten pottels, and is in dry things as much as Bath is in liquors.

p That spare no paine nor diligence to follow their lustes.

q Which are neuer weary of their rioting and exceſſiue pleasures: but vse all meanes to prouoke to the same. r They regard not the prouident care of God ouer them, nor for what end hee hath created them. s That is, shall certainely go: for so the Prophets vse to speake, as though the thing which shal come to passe, were done already. t Because they would not obey the word of God. u Meaning, the grane shal swallow vp them that shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction, it shall neuer be satiate.

x God comforteth the poore lambes of his Church, which haue bene strangers in other countreys, promising that they should dwell in those places against, whereof they had bene deprived by the fat and cruel tyrants.

y Which vse all allurements, occasions, and excuses to harden their conscience in sinne.

z He sheweth what are the words of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgments, 2. Per. 3. 4.

a Which are not ashamed of sinne, nor care for honestie, but are growen to a desperate impietie.

b Which are contemners of all doctrine and admonition.

c Which are neuer weary, but shewe their strength, & brag in gluttonie and drunkennesse.

d Both they and their posteritie, so that nothing shal be left.

e He sheweth that God had so soone punished this people, that the dumme creatures, if they had bene so plagued, would haue bene more sensible, and therefore his plagues must continue, til they begin to feele them.

17 Then shall x the lambes feed after their maner, and the straungers shall eate the desolate places of the fat.

18 ¶ Wo vnto them that draw iniquitie with y cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as with cart ropes:

19 Which say, a Let him make speede: let him hasten his worke that we may see it: and let the counsell of the holy one of Israel drawe neere and come, that wee may know it.

20 Woe vnto them that speake good of euill, a and euill of good, which put darknesse for light, and light for darknes, that put bitter for sweete, and sweete for sowre.

21 Wo vnto them that are b wise in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight.

22 Woe vnto them that are c mighty to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke:

23 Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousnesse of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire deuoureth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their d roote shall be as rottennesse, and their bud shall rise vp like dust, because they haue cast off the Lawe of the Lord of hostes, and contemned the word of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lorde kindled against his people, & hee hath stretched out his e hand vpon them, & hath smitten them that the mountaines did tremble: and their carkeises were torne in the midst of the streetes, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And hee will lift vp a signe f vnto the nations a farre, & will hisse vnto them from the end of the earth: and beholde, they shal come hastily with speede,

27 None shal s faint nor fall among them: none shall slumber nor sleepe, neither shall the girdle of his loynes bee loosed, nor h the latchet of his shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrowes shalbe sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse hoofes shall bee thought like flint, and his wheeles like a whirlewind.

29 His roaring shall be like a lion, and he shal roare like lions whelps: they shal i roare and lay hold of the pray: they shall take it away, and none shall deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shall roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if k they looke vnto the earth, beholde darknesse, and sorowe, and the light shall bee darkened in their l skie.

CHAP. VI.

1 Isaiah sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine maiestie. 9 Hee sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant reserued.

IN the yeere of the death of king Vzziah, I saw also the Lord sitting vpon an b high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower c partes thereof filled the Temple.

2 The d Seraphims stood vpon it: euery one had sixe wings: with twaine he couered his e face, and with twaine hee couered his f feet, and with twaine he did s flie.

3 And one cried to another & said, h Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hostes: the whole i world is full of his glorie.

4 And the k lentels of the doore cheekes moued at the voyce of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I said, l Wo is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lips, and I dwel in the mids of a people of polluted lips: for mine eyes haue seene the King and Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto mee with an hote cole in his hand, which hee had taken from the m altar with the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, and sayde, Loe, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquitie shall be taken away, and thy n sinne shall be purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lorde, saying, Whom shall I send? and who shall goe for vs? Then I sayd, Here am I, send me.

9 And he sayd, Go, and say vnto this people, o Ye shall heare in deed, but ye shall not vnderstand: ye shal plainly see, and not perceiue.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, make their eares heauy, and shut their eyes, least they see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, & vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and he heale them.

11 Then sayd I, Lord, p how long? And he answered, Until the cities bee wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be vtterly desolate, 12 And the Lorde haue remooued men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the mids of the land.

a God sheweth not himselfe to man in his maiestie, but according as mans capacitie is able to comprehend him: that is, by visible signes, as Iohn Baptist saw the holy Ghost in the forme of a doue.

b As a iudge ready to giue sentence.

c Of his garment, or of his throne.

d They were Angels, so called because they were of a fierie colour, to signifie that they burne in the loue of God, or were light as fire to execute his will.

e Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightenesse of Gods glory.

f Whereby was declared that man was not able to see the brightnes of God in them.

g Which thing declareth the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute Gods commaundement.

h This ofte repetition signifieth, that the holy Angels cannot satisfie themselues in praysing God, to teach vs that in all our liues wee should giue our selues to the continuall prayse of God.

i His glory doeth not onely appeare in the heauens, but through all the worlde, and therefore all creatures are bound to prayse him.

k Which things were to confirme the Prophet that it was not the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindnesse that should come vpon the Iewes.

l Hee speaketh this for two causes: the one, because he that was a mortall creature, and therefore had more neede to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not: and the other, because the more neere that man approcheth to God, the more doeth he know his owne sinne and corruption.

m Of the burne offerings, where the fire neuer went out.

n This declareth that man cannot render true obedience to God, til he haue purged vs.

o Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God will not immediately take away his word, but he will cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learn thereby to obey his will, and be saued: hereby hee exhorteth the ministers to do their duetie, and answereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their own malice their heart is hardened, Matth. 13. 14. Acts 28. 26. Rom. 11. 8.

p As hee was mooued with the zeale of Gods glory, so was he touched with a charitable affection toward the people.

13 But

q Meaning, the tenth part: or as some write, it was reuciled to Isaiah for the confirmation of his prophesie, that ten kings should come before their captiuitie, as were frō Vzziah to Zedekiah. r For the fewnesse they shal seeme to be eaten vp: yet they shall after flourish as a tree, which in winter loseth his leaues, and seemeth to be dead, yet in somtime is fresh and greene.

13 But yet in it shall be a tenth, and shal returne, and shall be eaten vp as an elme, or as an oke, which haue a substance in them, when they cast their leaues: so the holy seede shall be the substance thereof.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ierusalem besieged. 4 Isaiah comforteth the King. 14 Christ is promised.

2.King.16.5. [Or, Syria.

AND in the dayes of a Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, The sonne of Vzziah King of Iudah, Rezin the King of Aram c came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remeliah King of Israel, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but he could not ouercome it.

2 And it was tolde the house of b Dauid, saying, Aram is ioyned with c Ephraim: therefore his heart was d mooued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are mooued by the wind.

3 ¶ Then said the Lord vnto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz (thou and e Shear-Iashub thy sonne) at the ende of the conduite of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers field,

4 And say vnto him, Take heed, and bee still: feare not, neither bee faint hearted for the two tailes of these smoking f firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remeliahs sonne:

5 Because Aram hath take wicked counsell against thee, and Ephraim, and Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs go vp, against Iudah, and let vs waken them vp, & make a breach therein for vs, and set a king in the middes thereof, euen the sonne of g Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aaron is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: & within fiue and h threescore yeeres Ephraim shall be destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, & the head of Samaria is Remeliahs sonne. If ye beleeue not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske i a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, either in the depth beneath, or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not aske, neither will I k tempt the Lord.

13 Then hee sayde, Heare you now, O house of Dauid, Is it a small thing for you to grieue l men, that yee will also grieue my God?

14 Therefore the Lorde m himselfe will giue you a signe. Behold, the virgine shall conceiue and beare a sonne, and she shall call his name n Emmanuel.

15 o Butter and honie shal he eate, till he haue knowledge to refuse the euil, & to chuse the good.

16 For afore the o child shall haue knowledge to refuse the euil, & to chuse the good, the land that thou abhorrest, shal be forsaken of both her kings.

17 The Lord shall bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house (the dayes that haue not come from the day that p Ephraim departed from Iudah) euen the king of q Assur.

18 And in that day that the Lord hisse for the r flie that is at the vttermost part of the floods of Egypt, and for the Bee which is in the land of Assur,

19 And they shall come and shall light all in the desolate valleys, & in the holes of the rockes, and vpon al thornie places, and vpon all bushie s places.

20 In that day shall the Lorde shaue with a rasor that is hired, euen by the beyond the river by the king of Assur, the head and the haire of the t feete, and it shall consume the beard.

21 And in the same day shal a man o nourish a yong kowe, and two sheepe.

22 And for the abomdance of milke that they shal giue, he shal eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left within the land.

23 And at p same day euery place, wherein shalbe a thousand vines, shal be at a thousand pieces of siluer: so it shalbe for the briers and for the thornes.

24 With arrowes and with y bowe shall one come hither: because all the land shall be briers and thornes.

25 But on z all p mountaines, which shal be digged with the mattocke, there shall not come thither the feare of briers and thornes: but they shalbe for p sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheepe.

i For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed and thou preserued. k Not to beleeue Gods worde without signe, is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ayde and helpe of our infirmitie, is to rebell against him. l You thinke you haue to doe with men, when ye contemne Gods messengers: but it is God, against whome you bend your selues.

m Forasmuch as thou art vnworthy, the Lord for his owne promise sake will giue a signe, which shall be, that Christ the Sauiour of his Church and the effect of all signes and miracles shall be reuciled.

[Or, God with vs, which name can agree to none, but to him that is both God and man.

n Meaning, that Christ is not onely God but man also, because he shall be nourished as other men, vntil the age of discretion.

o Not meaning Christ, but any child: for before a childe can come to the yeeres of discretion, the Kings of Samaria and Syria shall be destroyed.

p Since the time that the twelue tribes rebelled vnder Roboam.

q In whom thou hast put thy trust.

r Meaning, the Egyptians: for by reason the countrey is hote and moyst, it is full of flies, as Assyria is full of Bees.

s Signifying, that no place shall be free from them. t That is, that which is from the belley downeward: meaning that he would destroy both great and small. u He that before had a great number of cattel, shall be content with one kowe and two sheepe. x The number of men shall be so small, that a fewe beasts shall be able to nourish all abundantly. y As they that go to seeke wilde beasts among the bushes. z The mountaines contrarie to their woont, shall be tilled by such as shall flee to them for succour.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The captiuitie of Israel and Iudah by the Assyrians. 6 The infidelitie of the Iewes. 9 The destruction of the Assyrians. 14 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked. 19 The word of God must be inquired at.

MOreouer, the Lord sayd vnto me, Take thee a a great roll, and write in it b with a mans pen, Make speed to the spoyle: haste to the pray.

a That thou mayest write in great letters, to the intent it may be more easily read. b Meaning, after the common fashion: because all men might reade it.

e Because the thing was of great importance, hetooke these two witnesses, which were of credite with the people, when he set this vp vpon the dore of the Temple, albeit Vriah was a flattering hypocrite, 2. King. 16, 11.

d Meaning, to his wife, and this was done in a vision.

‖Or, make speed to the spoyle: haste to the praie.

e Before any child be able to speake.

f That is, the armie of Assyria.

g Which was a fountaine at the foote of mount Zion, out of the which ran a small riuer through the citie: meaning, that they of Iudah distrusting their owne power, which was small, desired such power and riches as they saw in Syria and Israel.

h That is, the Assyrians, which dwel beyond Euphrates.

i It shalbe readie to drowne them.

k He speaketh this to Messiah or Christ, in whom the faithfull were comforted, and who would not suffer his Church to be destroyed vtterly.

2 Then I spoke vnto me ᵉ faithfull witnesses to record, Vriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Ieberechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the ᵈ Prophetesse, which conceiued, and bare a sonne. Then sayd the Lord to me, Call his name, ‖Maher shalalhash-baz.

4 For before ᵉ the child shal haue knowledge to crie, My father and my mother, ᶠ he shal take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoyle of Samaria, before the king of Assur.

5 ¶ And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of ᵍ Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Now therefore behold, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of ʰ the River mighty and great, euen the King of Assur with all his glory, and he shall come vp vpon all their riuers, and go ouer all their bankes,

8 And shall breake into Iudah, and shall ouerflow and passe through, and shall come vp to the necke, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O ʰ Immanu-el.

9 Gather together on heapes, O yee ˡ people, and yee shall bee broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shall be broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shalbe broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shall be brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me in taking ᵐ of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say yee not, A ⁿ confederacie to all them, to whom this people layth a confederacie, neither feare you ᵉ their feare, nor bee afrayd of them.

13 ᵖ Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, & let him be your dread,

14 And he shall be as a ᵠ Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare, and as a net to the inhabitants of Ieruslalem.

15 And many among them shal stumble, and shall fall and shall be broken and shal be snared and shalbe taken.

16 ʳ Binde vp the testimonie: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will wait vpon the Lord that hath hid his face from the house of Iacob, and I will looke for him.

18 Behold, I and the ˢ children whom the Lord hath giuen me, are as signes & as wonders in Israel, ᵗ by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shal say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirite of diuination, & at the soothsayers, which whisper and murmure, ᵘ Should not a people enquire at their Gods? from the ˣ liuing to the dead?

20 To the ʸ Law, and to the testimonie, if they speak not according to this word: it is because there is no ᶻ light in them.

21 Then hee that is afflicted and famished, shall go to and fro in ᵃ it: and when he shall be hunger, hee shall ruen fret himselfe, ᵇ and curse his king and his gods, and shall looke vpward.

22 And when he shall looke to the earth, behold trouble, and ᶜ darknesse, vexation and anguish, and he is driuen to darknesse.

ˡ To wit, ye that are enemies to the Church, as the Assyrians, Egyptians, Syrians, &c. ᵐ To encourage me that I should not shrinke for the infidelitie of this people, and so neglect mine office. ⁿ Consent not yee that are godly, to the league and friendship that this people seeke with strangers & idolaters. ᵒ Meaning, that they should not feare the thing that they feared, which haue no hope in God. ᵖ In putting your trust only in him, in calling vpon him in aduersitie, patiently looking for his helpe, and fearing to doe any thing contrary to his will. ᵠ He will defend you which are his elect, & reiect all the rest, which is meant of Christ, against whom the Iewes should stumble and fall, Luk. 2. 34. Rom. 9. 33. 1. Pet. 2. 7, 8. ʳ Though all forsake me, yet yee that are mine, keepe my worde sure sealed in your hearts.

ˢ Meaning them that were willing to heare & obey the word of God, whom the world hated, as though they were monsters and not worthy to liue.

ᵗ This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come vnto them, but by the wil of the Lord.

ᵘ Answere the wicked thus, Should not Gods people seeke succour only at him?

ˣ That is, Will they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, & seeke helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan? ʸ Seeke remedy in the worde of God where his will is declared. ᶻ They haue no knowledge, but are blind leaders of the blind. ᵃ That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grieuously offended God. ᵇ In whom afore they put their trust. ᶜ They shall thinke that heauen and earth and al creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles. 6 A prophesie of Christ. 14 The destruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

YEt ᵃ the darknes shall not be according to the affliction, ᵇ that it had when at the first hee touched lightly the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, nor afterward when hee was more grieuous by the way of the sea beyond Iorden in Galile of ᶜ the Gentiles.

2 The people that ᵈ walked in darknes, haue seen a great ᵉ light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the ᵉ light shined.

3 Thou hast ᶠ multiplied the nation, and not increased their ioy: they haue reioyced before thee according to the ioy in harueste, and as men reioyce when they deuide a spoyle.

4 For ᵍ the yoke of their burden, and the staffe of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressour hast thou broken as in the day of Midian.

ᵇ Wherewith Israel was punished, first by Tiglath-pileser, which was a light scourge in respect of that which they suffered afterward by Shalmaneser, who caried the Israelites away captiues.

ᶜ Whereas the Iewes and Gentiles dwelt together by reason of those twenty cities which Salomon gaue to Hiram. ᵈ Which were captiue in Babylon: and the Prophet speaketh of that thing, which should come to passe threescore yeeres after, as though it were now done. ᵉ Meaning, the comfort of their deliuerance. ᶠ This captiuitie and deliuerance were figures of our captiuitie by sinne, and of our deliuerance by Christ through the preaching of the Gospell, Matth. 4. 15, 16. ᵍ Their number was greater when they went into captiuitie, then when they returned, but their ioy was greater at their returne, Hag. 2. 10. ʰ Thou gauest them perfite ioy, by deliuering them, and by destroying the tyrants that had kept them in cruell bondage, as thou didst deliuer them by Gideon from the Midianites, Iudg. 7. 22, k The author of eternitie, and by whom the Church and euery member thereof shalbe preserued for euer, and haue immortall life.

l His singular loue and care for his elect.

m This is another prophesie against them of Samaria, which were mockers & contemners of Gods promises and menaces.

n We were but weake, when the enemie ouercame vs, but we will make our selues so strong, that we will neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatnings.

o Rezin king of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slaine by the Assyrians, after whose death, Aram, that is, the Syrians were against Israel, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistims.

p Wickednes, as a bellowes kindleth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his obstinate enemies.

q Though there were no forreine enemie, yet they shall destroy one another.

with noyse, and with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shall be with burning, and deuouring of fire.

6 For vnto vs a childe is borne, and vnto vs a Sonne is giuen: and the gouernement is vpon his shoulder, and he shall call his Name Wonderfull, Counceller, The mightie God, The euerlasting k Father, The prince of peace.

7 The increase of his gouernement and peace shall haue none ende: he shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, & vpon his kingdome, to order it, & to establish it with iudgement and with iustice from henceforth, euen for euer: l the zeale of the Lorde of hostes will performe this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Iaakob, and it hath lighted vpon m Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, euen Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of the heart,

10 The n brickes are fallen, but we will build it with hewen stones: the wilde figge trees are cut downe, but wee will change them into cedars.

11 Neuertheless, the Lorde will raise vp the aduersaries of o Rezin against him, and ioyne his enemies together.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hosts.

14 Therefore will the Lord cut off frō Israel head & taile, branch and rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them, are deuoured.

FOr a the Lord will have compassion of Iaakob, and will yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger b shall ioyne himself vnto them, and they shall cleave to the house of Iaakob.

2 And the people shall receive them, and bring them to their owne place, & the house of Israel shal possesse them in the land of the Lord, for c servants and handmaides: and they shall take them prisoners, whose captives they were, and have rule over their oppressors.

3 ¶ And in that day when the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorow, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou didst serve,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this proverbe against the King of Babel, & say, How hath the oppressour ceased? and the gold thirstie Babel rested?

5 The Lorde hath broken the rod of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

20 Thou shalt not bee ioyned with them in the graue, because thou hast destroyed thine owne land, and slaine thy people: the seede of the wicked shall not bee renowmed for euer.

21 n Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp, nor possesse the lande, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 ¶ For I will rise vp against them (sayth the Lord of hosts) & will cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the sonne, and the nephew, sayth the Lord:

f The Prophet speaketh this in the person of the Moabites, or as one that felt the great iudgement of God, that should come vpon them.

g Meaning, that it was a citie that euer liued in pleasure, and neuer felt sorow.

h He describeth the miserable dissipations and flight of the Moabites.

i To hide themselues, and their goods there.

k Of them that are slaine.

l So that by no meanes they should escape the hand of God: thus will God punish the enemies of his Church.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

SEnd [a] ye a lambe to the ruler of the world Orom the rocke of the wildernesse, vnto the mountaine [b] of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shalbe as a bird that [c] flyeth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shal be at the foords of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement: [d] make thy shadow as the night in the mid-day: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwel with thee: Moab be thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner [e] shall end: the destroyer shalbe consumed, and the oppressor shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercie shal the throne be prepared, and [f] he shall sit vpon it in stedfastnesse, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and hasting iustice.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab, (he is very proud) euen his pride and his arrogancie, and indignation, but his [g] lyes shall not be so.

7 Therefore shal Moab howle vnto Moab: euery one shall howle: for the foundations of Kir-hareseth shall yee mourne, yet they shall be [h] stricken.

8 For the vineyards of Heshbon are cut downe, and the vine of Sibmah: [i] the Lords of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto [k] Jaazer: they wandred in the wildernesse: her goodly branches stretched out themselues, and went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore will [l] I weepe with the weeping of Jaazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh, I wil make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruites, and vpon thy haruest [m] a shouting is fallen.

10 And gladnesse is taken away, and ioy out of the plentifull fielde: and in the vineyardes shall bee no singing nor shouting for ioy: the treader shall not treade wine in the wineppresses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my [n] bowels shall sound like an harpe for Moab, and mine inwarde parts for Kir-hareth.

12 And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be weary of his hie places, then shall he come to his [o] temple to pray, but hee shall not prevaile.

13 This is the word that the Lorde hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lorde hath spoken, saying, [p] In three yeeres, as the yeeres of an hireling, and the glory of Moab shall bee contemned in all the great multitude, and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

a That is, offer a sacrifice: whereby he desireth their long delay, which would not repent when the Lord called them, shewing them that it is now too late seeing the vengeance of God is vpon them.

b There is no remedie, but you must flee.

c He sheweth what Moab should haue done, when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whom because they would giue no shadow nor comfort they are now left comfortlesse.

d The Assyrians shall oppresse the Israelites, but for a while e Meaning, Christ.

f Their vaine confidence and proud brags shall deceiue them, as Iere. 42.2.

g For all your mourning, yet the citie shalbe destroyed, euen vnto the foundations.

h That is, the Assyrians, and other enemies.

i Meaning, that the countrey of Moab was now destroyed and all the precious things thereof were caried into the borders, yea into other countreys, and ouer the sea.

k He sheweth that their plague was so great, that it would haue mooued any man to lament with them, as Psal. 142.5.

l The enemies are come vpon thee, and spoure for ioy, when they carry thy commodities from thee, as Iere. 48.33.

m For very sorow & copassion.

n They shall vse all meanes to seeke helpe of their idoles and all in vaine: for Chemos their great god shall not bee able to helpe them.

o He appointed a certaine time to punish the enemies in.

p Who will obserue iustly the time, for the which he is hired, and serue no longer, but will euer long for it.

CHAP. XVII.

A prophesie of the destruction of Damascus, and Ephraim. 7 Calamitie moueth to repentance.

THE [a] burthen of [b] Damascus. Beholde, Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shall be a ruinous heape.

2 The cities of [c] Aroer shalbe forsaken: they shall be for the flockes: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraid.

3 The munition also shall cease from [d] Ephraim, and the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall be as the [e] glory of the children of Israel, a Reade Chap. 13.1.

b The chiefe citie of Syria.

c It was a countrey of Syria by the riuer Arnon.

d It seemeth that the prophet would comfort the Church in declaring the destruction of these two Kings of Syria, & Israel, when as they had conspired the ouerthrow of Iudah.

e The ten tribes gloried in their multitude, and alliance with other nations: therefore he saith that they shalbe brought downe, and the Syrians also, faith the Lord of hostes.

sayth

4 And in that day the glory of f Iaakob shalbe impouerished, and the fatnesse of his flesh shall be made leane.

5 And it shalbe as when the harueſt man gathereth the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and hee shall bee as hee that gathereth the eares in the valley of g Rephaim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall h be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the toppe of the vpmost boughes, and foure or fiue in the high branches of the fruite thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man looke to his i maker, and his eyes shall looke to the holy one of Israel.

8 And he shall not looke to the altars, the workes of his owne handes, neither shall he looke to those things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day shall the cities of their strength bee as the forsaking of boughs and branches, which k they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall bee desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembred the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange l vine branches:

11 In the day shalt thou make the plant to growe, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seede to flourish: but the harueſt shall be gone in the day m of possession, and there shall be desperate sorowe.

12 ¶ Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sounde like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shall make a sounde like the the noyse of mightie waters.

13 The people shal make a sound like the noyse of many waters: but God shall n rebuke them, and they shall flee farre off, and shall bee chased as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rouling thing before the whirle winde.

14 And loe, in the euening there is o trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoile vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Of the enemies of the Church. 7 and of the vocation of the Gentiles.

OH, the a land shadowing with wings, which is beyonde the riuers of Ethiopia,

2 Sending ambassadours by the sea, euen in vessels of b reedes vpon the waters, saying, c Goe ye swift messengers, to a nation, that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, vnto a terrible d people from their beginning euen hitherto: a nation by little and little euen troden vnder foote, whose land the e floods haue spoyled.

3 All ye the inhabitants of the world and dwellers in the earth, shall see when f he setteth vp a signe in the mountaines, and when he bloweth the trumpe, ye shall heare.

4 For so the Lord saide vnto me, I will g rest and beholde in my tabernacle, as h the heate drying vp the raine, and as a cloud of dewe in the heate of harueſt.

5 For afore the harueſt when the flowre is finished, and the fruite is riping in the flowre, then he shall cut downe the branches with hookes, and shall take away, and cut off the boughes.

6 They shall bee left together vnto the foules of the mountaines, and to the i beasts of the earth: for the foule shall summer vpon it, and euery beast of the earth shall winter vpon it.

7 At that time shal a k present be brought vnto the Lord of hostes, (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little and little euen troden vnder foote, whose lande the riuers haue spoyled) to the place of the Name of the Lorde of hostes, euen the mount Zion.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 18 Of their conuersion to the Lord.

THe a burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lorde b rideth vpon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall be mooued at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the middes of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so euery one shall c fight against his brother, and euery one against his neighbour, citie against citie, and kingdome against kingdome.

3 And the d spirite of Egypt shall faile in the middes of her, and I will destroy their counsell, and they shall seeke at the idoles, and at the sorcerers, and at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the soothsayers.

4 And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruell lordes, and a mighty King shall rule ouer them, saith the Lorde God of hostes.

a He meaneth that part of Ethiopia, which lieth toward the Sea, which was so full of ships, that the sailes (which he compareth to wings) seemed to shadow the sea.

f Meaning, of the ten tribes, which boasted themselues of their nobilitie, prosperity, strength and multitude.

g As the abundance of corne doth not feare the harueſt men that should cut it downe: no more shall the multitude of Israel make the enemies to shrink, whom God shall appoint to destroy them.

h Which valley was plentifull and fertile.

i Because God would haue his couenant stable, he promiseth to reserue some of this people, & to bring them to repentance.

k He sheweth that Gods corrections euer bring forth some fruit, and cause him to turne from their sinnes, and so humble themselues to him.

l As the Canaanites left their cities, when God did place the Israelites there, so the cities of Israel shal no more be able to defend their inhabitants, then bushes, whē God shall send the enemie to plague them, m Which are excellent, and brought out of other countries. n As the Lord threateneth the wicked in his lawe, Leuit. 26.16. o The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the assyrians, which were infinite in number and gathered of many nations. p He addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel. q He compareth the enemies of the Assyrians to a tempest which ruleth ouer night, and in the morning is gone.

b Which in those countries were great: insomuch as they made ships of the for swiftnesse.

c This may be taken that they sent other to cōfort the Iewes, & to promise them helpe against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength, that the Iewes should not trust therein: or that they did solicite the Egyptians, and promised them ayde to go against Iudah.

d To wit, the Iewes, who because of Gods plagues made all other nations afraid of the like, as God threatned Deut. 28.37.

e Meaning, the Assyrians, Chap. 8.7.

f When the Lord prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians.

g I will stay a while from punishing the wicked.

h Which two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruites: whereby he meaneth, that he will seeme to fauour them, and giue them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off.

i Not onely men shall contemne them, but the bruite beasts.

k Meaning, that God will pitie his Church, and receiue that little remnant as an offering vnto himselfe.

a Reade Chap. 13.1.

b Because the Egyptians trusted in the defence of their countrey, in the multitude of their idoles, and in the valiantnes of their men, the Lord sheweth that he will come ouer all their munitions in a swift cloude, and that their idoles shall tremble at his comming, and that mens hearts shall faint.

c As he caused the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kill one another, when they came to destroy the Church of God, 2. Chron. 20, 22. and Chap. 49.26.

d Meaning, their policie, and misdoing.

5 Then

e He sheweth that the sea and Nilus their great riuer, whereby they thought themselues most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send the Assyrians among them, that should keepe them vnder as slaues.

f For Nilus ran into the sea by seuen streames, as though they were so many riuers.

g The Ebrew word is mouth, whereby they meane the spring, out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth.

h The Scriptures vse to describe the destruction of a countrey by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, flesh, fish, and such other things, whereby countreys are enriched.

i Called also Tanes a famous citie vpon Nilus.

k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who perswaded the King that hee was wise, and noble, and that his house was most ancient, and so he flattered himselfe, saying, I am wise. l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and nowe called the great Caira. m The principall vpholders thereof, are the chiefest cause of their destruction. n For the spirite of wisedome hee hath made them drunke & giddie with the spirit of errour. o Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weake. p Considering that through their occasion the Iewes made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall feare lest the like light vpon them. q Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God: by the speech of Canaan, meaning, the language, wherein God was then serued. r Shall renounce their superstitions, and protest to serue God aright. s Meaning of sixe cities, fiue should serue God, and the sixt remaine in their wickednesse, and so of the sixt part, there should be but one lost.

5 Then the waters of the sea shall [a] faile, and the riuer shalbe dried vp, and wasted.

6 And the [e] riuers shall goe farre away: the riuers of defence shall bee emptied and dried vp: the reedes and flagges shall be cut downe.

7 The grasse in the riuer, and at the [g] head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuer, shall wither, and be driuen away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall [h] mourne, and all they that cast angle into the riuer, shall lament, and they that spread their net vpon the waters, shalbe weakened.

9 Moreouer, they that worke in flaxe of diuers sorts, shall bee confounded, and they that weaue nets.

10 For their nets shall be broken, and all they that make ponds, shall bee heauie in heart.

11 Surely the princes of [i] Zoan are fooles: the counsell of the wise counsellers of Pharaoh is become foolish: howe say yee vnto Pharaoh, I [k] am the sonne of the wise? I am the sonne of the ancient kings?

12 Where are nowe thy wise men, that they may tell thee, or may knowe what the Lorde of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The [l] princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of [l] Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen the [m] corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the [n] spirit of errours: and they haue caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall there bee any worke in Egypt, which the head may [o] doe, nor the taile, the branch nor the rush.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like vnto women: for it shall be afraide and feare because of the mouing of the hande of the Lord of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah shall be a feare [p] vnto Egypt: euery one that maketh mention of it, shalbe afraide thereat, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which he hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day shall fiue cities in the lande of Egypt [q] speake the language of Canaan, and shall [r] sweare by the Lorde of hostes: one shall be called the citie of [s] destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord bee in the middes of the lande of Egypt, and [t] a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall be for a signe and for a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry vnto the Lord, because of the oppressors, and hee shall send them [u] a Sauiour and a great man, and shall deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shall be knowen of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall knowe the Lord in that day, and doe [x] sacrifice and oblation, and shall vowe vowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lorde shall smite Egypt, hee shall smite and heale it: for hee shall returne vnto the Lorde, and he shall be entreated of them, and shall heale them.

23 In that day shall there be a path from [y] Egypt to Assur, and Assur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assur: so the Egyptians shall worship with Assur.

24 In that day shall Israel bee the third with Egypt and Assur, euen a blessing in the middes of the land.

25 For the Lorde of hostes shall blesse it, saying, Blessed bee my people Egypt and Assur, the worke of mine handes, and Israel mine inheritance.

t There shalbe euident signes and tokens, that Gods religion is there: which maner of speech is taken of the Patriarks and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place, and full maner how he would be worshipped.

u This declareth that this prophesie should be accomplished in the time of Christ.

x By these ceremonies, he comprehendeth the spirituall seruice vnder Christ.

y By these two nations, which were then chiefe enemies of the Church, hee sheweth that the Gentiles and the Iewes should be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and should bee all one folde vnder Christ their shepheard.

CHAP. XX.

2 The three yeres captiuitie of Egypt & Ethiopia described by the three yeares going naked of Isaiah.

IN the yeere that [a] Tartan came to [b] Ashdod, (when [c] Sargon king of Assur sent him) and had fought against Ashdod, and taken it,

2 At the same time spake the Lorde by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Goe, and loose the [d] sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shooe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked, and barefoot.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Isaiah hath walked naked, and barefoote three yeeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt and Ethiopia:

4 So shall the king of Assur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both young men and old men, naked and barefoote, with their buttockes vncouered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall feare, and bee ashamed of [e] Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt [f] their glory.

6 Then shall the inhabitant of this [g] yle say in that day, Beholde, such is our expectation, whither we fled for helpe to bee deliuered from the king of Assur, and how shall we be deliuered?

a Who was a captaine of Sanherib, 2. Kings 18.17.

d Which signifieth that the Prophet did lament the miserie that hee sawe prepared before the three yeeres, that hee went naked and barefooted.

2 A grieuous vision was shewed vnto mee, The a transgressour against a transgressour, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Goe vp d Elam, besiege Media: I haue caused all the mourning e thereof to cease.

3 Therefore are my f loynes filled with sorowe: sorowes haue taken mee as the sorowes of a woman that trauaileth: I was bowed downe when I heard it, and I was amased when I saw it.

4 Mine heart failed: fearefulnesse troubled me: the night s of my pleasures hath he turned into feare vnto me.

5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch towre: eate, drinke: h arise, ye princes, anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the i Lord said vnto me, Goe, set a watchman, to tell what he seeth.

7 And hee sawe a charet with two horsemen: k a charet of an asse, and a charet of a camell: and he hearkened, and tooke diligent heede.

8 And he cryed, A l lyon: my Lorde, I stand continually vpon the watch towre in the day time, and I am set in my watch euery night:

9 And beholde, this mans charet commeth with two horsemen. And m he answered and sayd, n Babel is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath hee broken vnto the ground.

16 For thus hath the Lorde sayde vnto mee, Yet a yeere t according to the yeeres of an u hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall faile.

17 And the residue of the number of the strong archers of the sonne of x Kedar shall be fewe: for the Lorde God of Israel hath spoken it.

x Which was the name of a people of Arabia: and by the horrible destruction of all these nations, hee teacheth the Iewes that there is no place for refuge or to escape Gods wrath, but onely to remaine in his Church, and to liue in his feare.

THe burden of the a valley of vision. What b ayleth thee nowe that thou art wholly gone vp vnto the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of c noyse, a citie full of hurlie, a ioyous citie: thy slaine men shall not be slaine d with sworde, nor die in battell.

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bowe: they shall be e bound: all that shall be found in thee, shall bee bound together, which haue fled from f farre.

4 Therefore sayd I, Turne away from mee: I will weepe g bitterly: labour not to comfort mee for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexitie by the Lorde God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a h crying vnto the mountaines.

6 ¶ And Elam i bare the quiuer in a mans charet with horsemen, and Kir vncouered the shield.

7 And thy chiefe valleyes were full of charets, and the horsemen set themselues in aray against the gate.

8 And he discouered the k couering of Iudah: and thou diddest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

14 And it was declared in the eares of the Lorde of hoſtes. Surely this iniquitie ſhall not be purged from you, til ye die, ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes.

15 Thus ſaith the Lorde God of hoſtes, Goe, get thee to that q treaſurer, to Shebna, the Steward of the houſe and ſay:

16 What haſt thou to doe here? r whom haſt thou here? that thou ſhouldeſt here hewe thee out a ſepulchre, as hee that heweth out his ſepulchre in an hie place, or that graueth an habitation ſ for himſelfe in a rocke?

21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I ſtrengthen him: thy power alſo will I commit into his hande, and hee ſhall bee a father of the inhabitants of Ieruſalem, and of the houſe of Iudah.

22 And the u key of the houſe of Dauid will I lay vpon his ſhoulder: ſo he ſhall open and no man ſhall ſhut: and hee ſhall ſhut and no man ſhall open.

23 And I will faſten him as a x naile in a ſure place, and he ſhalbe for the throne of glory to his fathers houſe.

24 And they ſhall hang vpon him all the glory of his fathers houſe, euen of the nephewes and poſteritie t all ſmal veſſels from the veſſels of the cups, euen to all the inſtruments of muſike.

25 In that day, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, ſhall the x naile, that is faſtened in the ſure place, depart, and ſhall be hoken, and fall: and the burden that was vpon it, ſhall be cut off: for the Lord hath ſpoken it.

1 A propheſie againſt Tyrus. 17 A promiſe that it ſhall be reſtored.

a Reade chap. 13.1.
b Ye of Cilicia that come thither for merchandiſe.
c Tyrus is deſtroyed by Nebuchad-nezzar.
d By Chittim they meant all the yles and countreis Weſtwarde from Paleſtina.
e All men know of this deſtruction.

THe a burden of Tyrus. Howle, ye ſhips of b Tarſhiſh: for c it is deſtroyed, ſo that there is none houſe: none ſhall come from the land of d Chittim: it is e reuealed vnto them.

2 Be ſtill, ye that dwell in the yles: the merchants of Zidon, and ſuch as paſſe ouer the ſea, haue f replenished thee.

3 The g ſeede of Nilus growing by the abundance of waters, and the harueſt of the riuer was her reuenues, and ſhe was a marte of the nations.

4 Be aſhamed, thou Zidon: for the h ſea hath ſpoken, euen the ſtrength of the ſea, ſaying, I haue not i trauailed, nor brought forth children, neither nouriſhed yong men, nor brought vp virgins.

5 When the fame commeth to the Egyptians, they ſhall be k ſory, concerning the rumor of Tyrus.

6 Goe you ouer to l Tarſhiſh: howle, ye that dwel in the yles.

7 Is not this that your glorious citied her antiquitie is of ancient dayes: her owne feete ſhall lead her a farre off to bee a ſoiourner.

8 Who hath decreed this againſt Tyrus (that m crowneth men) whoſe merchants are princes, whoſe chapmen are the nobles of the world?

9 The Lord of hoſtes hath decreed this, to ſtaine the pride of all glory, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Paſſe through thy land like a flood o daughter of Tarſhiſh: there is no more ſtrength.

11 Hee ſtretched out his hande vpon the ſea: hee ſhooke the kingdomes: the Lorde hath giuen a commaundement concerning the place of marchandiſe, to deſtroy the power thereof.

12 And hee ſaide, Thou ſhalt no more reioyce, when thou art oppreſſed: p O virgine daughter of Zidon, riſe vp, goe ouer vnto Chittim, yet there thou ſhalt haue no reſt.

13 Behold the land of the Caldeans: this was no people: q Aſſhur founded it by the inhabitants of the wildernes: they ſet vp the towers thereof: they raiſed the palaces thereof, and he r brought it to ruine.

14 Howle yee ſhips of Tarſhiſh: for your ſ ſtrength is deſtroyed.

15 And in that day ſhal Tyrus be forgotten ſeuentie yeeres (according to the yeeres of one king) at the ende of t ſeuentie yeeres, ſhall Tyrus u ſing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, and go about the citie (thou harlot that haſt bene forgotten) make ſweete melody, ſing mo ſongs that thou mayeſt be remembred.

17 And at the end of ſeuentie yeeres ſhall the Lorde viſite Tyrus, and he ſhall returne to her x wages, and ſhall commit fornication f Haue haunted thee, and enriched thee.

g Meaning, the corne of Egypt, which was fed by the ouerflowing of Nilus.
h That is, Tyrus, which was the chiefe port of the ſea.
i I haue no people left in me, and am as a barren woman that neuer had child.
k Becauſe theſe two countreys were ioyned in league together.
l Tyrus willeth other marchants, to goe to Cilicia, and to come no more there.
m Who maketh her marchants like Princes.
n Thy ſtrength will no more ſerue thee: therefore flee to other countreys for ſuccour.
o For Tyrus was neuer touched nor afflicted before.
p Becauſe Tyrus was built by them of Zidon.
q The Caldeans which dwelt in tents in the wildernes were gathered by the Aſſyrians into cities.
r The people of the Caldeans deſtroyed the Aſſyrians: wherefore by the Prophet meaneth, that ſeeing the Caldeans were able to ouercome the Aſſyrians, whichwere ſo great a nation, much more ſhal theſe two nations of Caldea & Aſſyria be able to ouerthrow Tyrus.
ſ That is, Tyrus, by whom ye are enriched.
t Tyrus ſhall lie deſtroyed ſeuentie yeres, which he calleth the reigne of one King, or a mans age.
u Shal vſe all craft and ſubtilitie to entiſe men againe to her.
x She ſhall labour by all meanes to recouer her firſt credite, as an harlot when ſhe is long forgotten, ſeeketh by all meanes to entertaine her louers.
y Though ſhe haue bene chaſtiſed of the Lord, yet ſhe ſhall returne to her old wicked practiſes, and for gaine ſhal giue herſelfe to al meanes like an harlot.

with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages shall be * holy vnto the Lord: it shal not be laid vp nor kept in store, but her merchandise shalbe for them that dwell before the Lorde, to eate sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

* He sheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Gospel will call Tyrus to repentance, & turn her heart from auarice and filthy gaine, vnto the true worshipping of God and liberalitie toward his Saints.

CHAP. XXIIII.

A propheſie of the curſe of God for the ſinnes of the people. 13 A remnant reſerued ſhall praiſe the Lord.

a This propheſie is as a concluſion of that, which had bene threatned of the Iewes and other nations, from the 13. Chapter, and therefore by the earth he meaneth thoſe landes which were before named.

BEhold, the Lord maketh the a earth emptie, and he maketh it waſte: he turneth it vpſide downe, and ſcattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there ſhalbe like people, like b prieſt, and like ſeruaunt, like maſter, like mayde, like miſtreſſe, like buier, like ſeller, like lender, like borower, like giuer, like taker to vſurie.

3 The earth ſhal be cleane emptied, and vtterly ſpoyled: for the Lorde hath ſpoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth & fadeth away: the world is feebled and decayed: the pionde people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth alſo c deceiueth, becauſe of the inhabitants thereof: for they tranſgreſſed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlaſting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the d curſe deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are deſolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are * burned vp, and fewe men are left.

7 The wine falleth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, doe mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaſeth: the noiſe of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the harpe ceaſeth.

9 They ſhal not drinke wine with mirth: ſtrong drinke ſhall bee bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The city of e vanitie is broken down: euery houſe is ſhut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in § ſtreets: all ioy is darkened: the f mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the citie is left deſolation, and the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.

13 ¶ Surely thus ſhall it bee in the mids of the earth, among the people, g as the ſhaking of an olme tree, & as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They ſhall lift vp their voyce: they ſhall ſhout for the magnificence of the Lorde: they ſhall reioyce from h the ſea.

15 Wherefore praiſe yee the Lorde in the valleys, euen the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael, in the yles of the ſea.

16 From the vttermoſt part of the earth we haue heard praiſes, euen glory to § i Iuſt, and I ſaide, k My leanneſſe, my leanneſſe, woe is me: the tranſgreſſors haue offended: yea, the tranſgreſſors haue grieuouſly offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the ſnare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that fleeth from the noyſe of the feare, ſhall fall into the pit: and he that commeth vp out of the pit, ſhall be taken in the ſnare: for the l windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth doe ſhake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane diſſolued: the earth is moued exceedingly.

20 The earth ſhall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and ſhall be remooued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof ſhall bee heauie vpon it: ſo that it ſhall fall, and riſe no more.

21 ¶ And in that day ſhall the Lord * viſite the hoſte aboue that is on high, euen the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they ſhall bee gathered together, as the priſoners in the pit: and they ſhall bee ſhut vp in the priſon, and after many dayes ſhall they be * viſited.

23 § p Then the Moone ſhall bee abaſhed, and the Sunne aſhamed, when the Lorde of hoſtes ſhall reigne in mount Zion and in Ieruſalem: and glory ſhall bee before his ancient men.

b Becauſe this was a name of dignitie, it was alſo applied to them which were not of Aarons family, & ſo ſignifieth alſo a man of dignitie, as 2. Sam. 8. 18. & 20. 25. 1. chron. 18. 17. and by theſe words the Prophet ſignifieth an horrible confuſion, where there ſhall be neither religion, order, nor policie, Hoſe. 4. 9.

c That is, rendreth not her fruit for the ſinne of the people, whom the earth deceiued of their nouriture, becauſe they deceiued God of his honour.

d Written in the Law, as Leuit. 26. 14 deut. 28. 16. thus the Prophetes vſed to apply particularly the menaces and promiſes, which are generall in the Law.

e With heate & drought, or elſe, that they were conſumed with the fire of Gods wrath.

f Which as it was without order, ſo nowe ſhould it bee brought to deſolation and confuſion: and this was not onely meant of Ieruſalem, but of all the other wicked cities.

g Becauſe they did not vſe Gods benefits aright, their pleaſures ſhould faile, and they fall to mourning.

h Hee comforteth the faithfull, declaring that in this great deſolation the Lord will aſſemble his Church, which ſhall praiſe his Name, as Chap. 10. 22.

i From the vtmoſt coaſts of the world, where the Goſpel ſhall be preached, as verſe 16.

k Meaning, to God, who will publiſh his Goſpel through all the world.

l I am conſumed with care, conſidering the affliction of the Church, both by forren enemies and domeſtical. Some read, my ſecret, my ſecret, that is, it was reueiled to the Prophet, that the good ſhould be preſerued, and the wicked deſtroyed.

m Meaning, that Gods wrath and vengeance ſhould be ouer and vnder them: ſo that they ſhould not eſcape no more then they did at Noahs flood.

n There is no power ſo high or mighty, but God will viſite him with his rods.

o Not with his rods, as verſe 22. but ſhall bee comforted.

p When God ſhall reſtore his Church, the glory thereof ſhall ſo ſhine, and his miniſters (which are called his ancient men) that the Sunne and the Moone ſhall be darke in compariſon thereof.

CHAP. XXV.

A thankeſgiuing to God in that he ſheweth himſelfe iudge of the worlde, by puniſhing the wicked, and maintaining the godly.

O Lorde, thou * art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praiſe thy Name: for thou haſt done wonderful things, according to the counſels of old, with a ſtable truth.

2 For thou haſt made of a b Citie, an heape, of a ſtrong citie, a ruine: euen the palace c of ſtrangers of a citie, it ſhall neuer be built.

3 Therefore ſhall the d mightie people giue glory vnto thee: the citie of the ſtrong nations ſhall feare thee.

4 For thou haſt bene a ſtrength vnto the poore, euen a ſtrength to the needie in his trouble, a refuge againſt the tempeſt, a ſhadowe againſt the heate: for the blaſt

* Thus the Prophet giueth thankes to God, becauſe he wil bring vnder ſubiection theſe nations by his corrections, and make them of his Church which before were his enemies.

b Not onely of Ieruſalem, but alſo of theſe other cities, which are as all vagabonds may liue without danger, and as it were, at eaſe, as in a palace.

c That is, a place where

d The e The rage of the wicked is furious till God breake the force thereof.

f Meaning, that as the heat is abated by the raine, so shal God bring downe the rage of the wicked.
a As a cloud shadoweth from the heat of the sunne, so shall God assuage the reioycing of the wicked against the godly.
h To wit, in Zion, whereby he meaneth his Church, which shoulde vnder Christ be assembled of the Iewes and the Gentiles, and is here described vnder the figure of a costly banket, as Mat. 22.8.
i Meaning that ignorance and blindnes, whereby we are kept backe from Christ.
k He will take away all occasions of sorow, and fill his with perfect ioy, Reuel. 7.17. and 21.4.
l By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church, m There were two cities of this name one in Iudah, 1 Chro 2.49. and another in the land of Moab, Ierem. 48.1. which seemeth to haue beene a plentifull place of corne, Chap. 10.31.

of the mightie is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noise of the strangers, [e] as the heat in a drie place: he will bring downe the song of the mighty, as [f] the heat in the shadow of a cloud.

6 And in this [h] mountaine shal the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, euen a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine [i] the couering that couereth all people, and the valle that is spread vpon all nations.

8 He will destroy death for euer: and the Lord God will [k] wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Loe, this is our God: wee haue waited for him, and he will saue vs. This is the Lord, wee haue waited for him: we will reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and [l] Moab shalbe trodden vnder him, euen as straw is threshed in [m] Madmenah.

11 And he shal stretch out his hand in the midst of them (as he that swimmeth, stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his handes shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of thy walles shall he bring downe, and lay low, & cast them to the ground, euen vnto the dust.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

a This song was made to comfort the faithful, when their captiuitie shoulde come, assuring them also of their deliuerance, for the which they should sing this song.
b Gods protection and defence shalbe sufficient for vs.
c Hee assureth the godly to returne after the captiuitie to Ierusalem, cannot be changed, when he will deliuer his.

IN that day shall [a] this song be sung in the land of Iudah, Wee haue a strong citie: [b] saluation shall God set for walles and bulwarkes.

2 [c] Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation, which keepeth the truth, may enter in.

3 Thy [d] assured purpose wilt thou preserue perfit peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For hee will bring downe them that dwell on hie: [e] the hie citie hee will abase: euen vnto the ground will he cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote shall treade it downe, euen the feete of the [f] poore, and the steppes of the needie.

7 The way of the iust is righteousnesse: thou wilt make equall the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also we, O Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy [g] iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within me will I seeke thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne [h] righteousnesse.

10 Let mercie [i] be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousnesse: in the land of vnrighteousnesse will he do wickedly, and will not behold the maiestie of the Lord.

11 O Lorde, they will not beholde thine high hand: but they shall see it, and be confounded with [k] the zeale of the people, and the fire of thine [l] enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordaine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, other [m] lords besides thee haue ruled vs, but we will remember thee onely, and thy name.

14 The [n] dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memorie.

15 Thou hast increased the [o] nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious: thou hast enlarged all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they [p] visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe, that draweth neere to the trauaile, is in sorow, and crieth in her paines, so haue we been in thy [q] sight, O Lord.

18 We haue conceiued, we haue borne in paine, as though wee should haue brought forth [r] winde: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of [s] the world fall.

19 [t] Thy dead men shall liue: euen with my body shall they rise. Awake, and sing, yee that dwell in dust: for thy [u] dew is as the dew of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: [x] enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee: hide thy selfe for a very little while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

21 For loe, the Lord commeth out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the d Thou hast decreed so, and thy purpose cannot be changed.

e There is no power so hie, that can let God,
f God will set the poore aside.
g God ouer the power of the wicked.
h We haue constantly abode in the aduersities, wherewith thou hast afflicted vs.
i Meaning, that by afflictions men shall learne to feare God.
k The wicked though God shewe them euidence figues of his grace, shall be neuer the better.
l Through enuie, and indignation against the people.
m The fire and vengeance, wherewith thou dost destroy thine enemies, n The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according vnto thy word.
o Meaning, that the reprobate euen in this life shall haue the beginning of euerlasting death.
p To wit, the company of the faithfull by the calling of the Gentiles.
q That is, the faithfull by thy rods were mooued to pray vnto thee for deliuerance, r To wit, in extreme sorrow.
s Our sorowes had none end, neither did we enioy the comforts that wee looked for.
t The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed, t Hee comforteth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them that euen in death they shall haue life: and that they should most certainely rise to glorye the contrary should come to the wicked, as verse 14.
u As herbs, dead in winter, flourish again by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp to ioy when they feele the dewe of Gods grace.
x He exhorteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions, and to wait vpon Gods worke.

y The earth shal vomit, and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may crie for vengeance against the wicked.

earth shall disclose her y blood, and shall no more hide her slaine.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophesie against the kingdome of Satan, and of the ioy of the Church for their deliuerance.

a At the time appointed.
b That is, by his mightie power, and by his word. He prophesieth here of the destruction of Satan and his kingdome vnder the names of Leuiathan, Aduer and Egypt.
c Meaning of the holie vine, which this vineyard, that is the Church should bring forth as most agreeable to the Lord.
d Therefore he will destroy the kingdome of Satan, because hee loueth his Church for his owne mercies sake, and cannot be angry with it, but without that he may powre his anger vpon the wicked infidels, whom he vexeth by briers and thornes.
e He marueileth that Israel will not come by gentlenesse, except God make them to seeke his rods, & so bring them vnto him.
f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet

IN that a day the Lorde with his sore and great and mightie b sword shal visit Leuiathan, that pearcing serpent, euen Leuiathan, that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyarde c of red wine.

3 I the Lord doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: lest any assaile it, I will keepe it night and day.

4 Anger d is not in me: who would set the briers and the thornes against me in battell? I would goe thorow them, I would burne them together.

5 Or will he e feele my strength, that hee may make peace with mee, and bee at one with me?

6 f Hereafter, Iaakob shall take root: Israel shal flourish and grow, and the world shalbe filled with fruit.

7 Hath hee smitten g him as hee smote those that smote him? or is he slaine according to the slaughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In h measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when her blowing with his rough winde in the day of the East wind.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquitie of Iaakob be purged, and this is all the i fruit, the taking away of his sinne: when he shall make all the stones of the altars, as chalke stones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stand vp.

10 Yet the k defenced citie shall bee desolate, and the habitation shall be forsaken, and left like a wildernesse. There shall the calfe feed, and there shall he lie, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are drie, they shall be broken: the l women come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore hee that made them, shall not haue compassion of them, and hee that formed them, shall haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lorde thresh from the chanell of the m Riuer, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and yee shall bee gathered one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall n great trumpe be o blowen, and they shall come, which perished in the lande of Ashur: and they that were chased into the lande of Egypt, and they shal worship the Lord in the holy mount at Ierusalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkennesse of Israel. 9 The vntowardnesse of them that should learne the word of God. 24 God doeth all things in time and place.

WO to the p crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shall be a fading flowre, which is vpon the head of the q valley of them that bee fat, and are ouercome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lord hath a mightie and r strong host, like a tempest of haile, and a whirlewinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mighty waters that ouerflow, which throw to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be troden vnder foot, euen the crowne and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beautie shall be a fading flowre, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as s the hastie fruit afore summer, which when he that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the t residue of his people,

6 And for a spirit of iudgement to him that sitteth in iudgement, and for u strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But x they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the Priest and the prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filthy vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 y Whom shall hee teach knowledge? and whom shall hee make to vnderstand the things that hee heareth? them that are weined from the milke, and drawen from the breastes.

10 For z precept must bee vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle.

11 For with a stammering b tongue and with a strange language shall he speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whom hee sayd, c This is the a In the time of Cyrus by whom they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

a Meaning the proud kingdome of the Israelites, which were drunken with worldly prosperitie.
b Because the Israelites for the most part dwelt in plentifull valleys, he meaneth hereby the valley of them that had abundance of worldly prosperitie, and were, as it were crowned therewith, as with garlands.
c He seemeth to meane the Assyrians, by whom the ten tribes were caried away.
d Which is not of long continuance, but is soone ripe, and first eaten.
e Signifying, that the faithfull, which put not their trust in any worldly prosperitie, but made God their glory, shall be preserued.
f He will giue counsell to the gouernour, and strength to the captaine, to driue the enemies in at their twise gates.

g Meaning the hypocrites, which were among them, and were altogether corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here meant by drunkennesse and vomiting.
h For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine: but were foolish, and as vnmeet as yong babes.
i They must haue one thing oft times tolde.
k Let one teach what hee can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if he spake in a strange language.
l That is, the Prophet, whom God should send.
m This is the doctrine, wherupon ye ought to stay and rest.

rest:

m Shew to them that are wearie and haue neede of rest, what is the true rest.
o Because they will not receiue the word of God when it is offered, it commeth of their owne malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before, Chap. 6.9.
p They thought they had shifts to auoid Gods iudgements, and that they could escape though all other perished.
q Though the prophets condemned their idoles and vaine trust of falsehood, and vanitie, yet the wicked thought in themselues that they would trust in these things.
r That is, Christ, by whom all the building must be tryed, and vpholden, Psal. 118. 22. Mat. 21. 42. actes 4. 11. rom. 9. 33. 1. pet. 2. 6.
s He shall be quiet, and seeke none other remedies, but be content with Christ.
t In the restitution of his Church, iudgement and iustice shall reigne.
u Gods corrections & afflictions.
x Affliction shall discouer their vaine confidence, which they kept secret to themselues.
y Terrour and destruction shall make you to learne that which exhortations and gentlenesse could not bring you vnto.
z Your affliction shall be so sore that you are not able to endure it.
a When Dauid ouercame the Philistims, 2 Sam. 5. 20. 1. Chron. 14. 11.
b Where Iosh. discomfited fiue kings of the Amorites, Iosh. 10. 12.
c As the plowman hath his appointed time, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lord for his vengeance: for he punisheth sodeinly at one time, and some at another, some after one sort, and some after another, so that his chosen seede is beaten, and tryed, but not broken, as are the wicked.

rest: * giue rest to him that is wearie: and this is the refreshing, but they would not heare.

13 Therefore shall the word of the * Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little, that they may goe and fal backward, and be broken and be snared and be taken.

14 Wherefore heare the word of the Lord, ye scorneful men that rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a y couenant with death, and with hell are wee at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through, it shall not come at vs: for wee haue made q falsehoode our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid,

16 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I will lay in Zion a stone, a * tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. He that beleeueth, s shall not make haste.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and * righteousnesse to the ballance, and the * haile shall sweepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shal ouerflow * the secret place.

18 And your couenant with death shalbe disanulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stande: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through, then shall ye be trode downe by it.

19 When it passeth ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be onely t feare to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

20 For the beddes * straite that it cannot suffice, and the couering narrowe that one cannot wrap himselfe.

21 For the Lorde shall stand as in mount * Perazim: he shall bee wroth as in the valley b of Oibeon, that he may doe his worke, his strange worke and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Nowe therefore bee no mockers, least your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lorde of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken yee, & heare my voyce, hearken ye, and heare my speech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all the day, to sowe? doth he open and breake the clots of his ground?

25 When hee hath made it * plaine, will he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rie in their place?

26 For his God doeth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.

27 For fitches shal not bee thrashed with a thrashing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele bee turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread corne when it is thrashed, bee doth not alway thrash it, neither doeth the wheele of his cart still make a noyse, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.

29 This also commeth from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderfull in counsaile, and excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophesie against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on those that follow the traditions of men.

AY * altar, altar of the citie that Dauid dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere; b let them kill lambes.

2 But I will bring the altar into distresse, and there shall be heauinesse, and sorrow, and it shall be vnto me like * an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou bee humbled, and shalt speake out of the d grounde, and thy speech shall be as out of the dust: thy voyce also shal be out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreouer, the multitude of thy * strangers shall bee like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall bee as chaffe that passeth away, and it shall bee in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt bee visited of the Lorde of hosts with thunder and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirle winde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the * multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall bee as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall bee like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, he e eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is emptie: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and loe, he is drinking, and when hee awaketh, beholde, hee is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations bee that fight against mount Zion.

9 f Stay your selues and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blind: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a and that which thou makest thy vaine trust, shall come at vnawares, euen as a dreame in the night. i Some reade, as if this were a comfort to the Church for the destruction of their enimies.

g That is, hee thinketh that he eateth.
h Muse hereon as long as you list, yet shall ye finde nothing but occasion to be offended: for your Prophets are blinde, and therefore cannot direct you.

spirit of slumber, and hath shut vp your eies: the Prophets, and your chiefe Seers hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can [i] not: for it is sealed.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that cannot reade, saying, Reade this I pray thee. And hee shall say, I can not reade.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people [k] come neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour mee with their lippes, but haue removed their heart farre from me, and their [l] feare toward me was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore beholde, I will againe doe a marueilous worke in this people, euen a marueilous worke, and a wonder: for the wisedome of their wise men shall [m] perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe vnto them that [n] seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lord: for their workes are in darkenesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuices shall it not be esteemed [o] as the potters clay: for shall the worke say of him that made it, Hee made mee not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, Hee had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon shall bee [p] turned into Carmel: and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenes.

19 The meeke in the Lorde shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shal cease, and the scorner shall be consumed: and all that hasted to iniquitie shall be cut off:

21 Which made a man to sinne in the [q] worde, and tooke him in a snare: which reproued them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lorde vnto the house of Iaakob, euen hee that redeemed Abraham, Iaakob shall not nowe bee confounded, neither nowe shall his face be pale.

23 But when hee seeth his children, the worke of mine handes, in the mids of him, they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the holy one of Iaakob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, [r] shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

i Meaning, that it is all alike, either to reade, or not to reade, except God open the heart to vnderstand.

k Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Mat. 15.8.

l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine, and not by my word.

m Meaning, that whereas God is not worshipped according to his word, both magistrates and ministers are but fooles and without vnderstanding.

n This is spoken of them which in heart despised Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.

o For all your craft saith the Lord, you can not be able to escape mine hands, no more then the clay, that is in the potters hands, hath power to deliuer it selfe.

p Shal there not be a change of all things? and Carmel, that is a plentifull place in respect of that it shall be then, may be taken as forelt, as Chap. 32.15. and thus he speaketh to comfort the faithfull.

q They that were about to finde fault with the Prophets wordes, and would not abide admonitions, but would intangle them and bring them into danger.

r Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding and knowledge, man cannot but still erre and murmure against him.

CHAP. XXX.

1 He reproueth the Iewes which in their aduersitie vsed their owne counsell, 2 And sought helpe of the Egyptians, 19 Despising the Prophets. 16 Therefore he sheweth what destruction shall come vpon them, 18 But offereth mercie to the repentant.

WOe to the [a] rebellious children, sayth the Lorde, that take counsell, but not of mee, and [b] couer with a couering, but not by my Spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to go downe into Egypt (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselues with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall bee your shame, and the trust in the shadowe of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his [c] princes were at Zoan, and his Ambassadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They shall bee all ashamed of the people that can not profite them, nor helpe nor doe them good, but shall be a shame and also a reproch.

6 ¶ The [d] burden of the beastes of the South, in a lande of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the yong and olde lyon, the viper, [e] & fiery flying serpent against them that shall beare their riches vpon the shoulders of the coltes, and their treasures vpon the bunches of the camels, to a people that cannot profite.

7 For the Egyptians are banitie, and they shall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto [f] her, Their strength [g] is to sit still.

8 Now goe, and write it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may be for the [h] last day for euer and euer:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not [i] heare the Law of the Lord,

10 Which say vnto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophecie not vnto vs right things: but speake flattering things vnto vs: prophesie [k] errours.

11 Depart out of the way: goe aside out of the Path: cause the holy one of Israel to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus saith the holy One of Israel, Because yee haue cast off this word, and trust in [l] violence and wickednes, and stay thereupon,

13 Therefore this iniquitie shall be vnto you as a breach that falleth, or a swelling in an hie wall, whose breaking commeth suddenly in a moment,

14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potters potte, which is broken without pitie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde [m] a sheard to take fire out of the hearth, or to take waa Who contrary to their promise, take not me for their protectour and contrary to my commandement seeke helpe at strangers.

b They seeke shifts to cloke their doings, and not godly meanes.

c The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in ambassie to seeke helpe, and abode at these cities.

d That is, a heauie sentence or prophesie against the beasts that caried their treasures into Egypt, by the wildernesse, which was South from Iudah: signifying that if the beasties should not be spared, the men should be punished much more grieuously.

e To wit, to Ierusalem.

f And not to come to and fro to seeke helpe.

g That is, this prophesie.

h That it may be a witnes against them for all posterities.

i He sheweth what was the cause of their destruction, and beingeth also all miserie to man: to wit, because they would not heare the word of God, but delited to be flattered and ledde in errour.

k Threaten vs not by the wordes of God, neither bee so rigorous, not talke vnto vs in the Name of the Lorde, as Ier. 11. 21.

l Meaning, in their stubbornesse against God, and the admonitions of his Prophets.

m Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shall be without remedie.

ter

ter out of the pit.

n Oft times by his Prophets he put you in remembrance of this, that you should only depend on him.

15 For thus saith the Lord God, the holy vnt of Israel, In rest and quietnesse shall ye be saued: in quietnes and in confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye haue said, No, but we will flee away vpon o horses. Therefore shall ye flee. Wee will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

o Wee will trust to escape by our horses.

17 A thousande at one shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of fiue shall ye flee, till yee be left as a shippe mast vpon the p top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon an hill.

p Whereas all the trees are cut downe saue two or three to make masts.

18 Yet therefore will the Lord wait, that he may haue q mercy vpon you, and therfore will he be exalted, that he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lorde is the God of r iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.

q He commendeth the great mercies of God, who with patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.

r Not onely in punishing, but in vsing moderation in the same, as Iere. 10.24. and 30.11.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weepe no more: hee will certainely haue mercy vpon thee at the voyce of thy cry: when hee heareth thee, hee will answere thee.

20 And when the Lorde hath giuen you the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine shalbe no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy raine.

21 And thine eares shall heare a worde behinde thee, saying, This is the way, s walke yee in it, when thou turnest to the right hande, and when thou turnest to the left.

s Or, instruct you. t God shal direct all thy wayes, and appoint thee how to goe either hither or thither.

22 And yee shall t pollute the couering of the images of siluer, and the rich ornament of thine images of gold, and cast them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, u Get thee hence.

t Ye shall cast away your idoles which you haue made of golde and siluer, with all that belongeth vnto them, as a most filthy thing, and polluted.

u Shewing, that there can be no time repentance, except both in heart and deede we shewe our selues enemies to idolatry.

23 Then shall hee giue raine vnto thy seede, when thou shalt sowe the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat, and as oyle: in that day shall thy cattell be fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen also and the yong asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane prouender, which is winowed with the shouel, and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euery hie x mountaine, and vpon euery hie hill shall there be riuers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers shall fall.

x By these diuers maners of speech he sheweth that the felicitie of the Church shal be so great, that none is able sufficiently to expresse it.

26 Moreouer, the light of the moone shall be as the light of the y Sunne, and the light of the Sunne shall bee seuen folde, and like the light of seuen dayes in the day that the Lorde shall bynde vp the breache of his people, and heale the stroke of their wound.

y When the Church shalbe restored, the glory thereof shall passe seuen times the brightnesse of the Sunne: for by the Sunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, he sheweth what shall be the glory of the children of God in the kingdome of Christ.

27 Behold, z the Name of the Lord commeth from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauy: his lippes are ful of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

z This threatning is against the Assyrians, the chiefe enemies of the people of God.

28 And his spirite is as a riuer that ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it diuideth asunder, to fanne the nations with the fanne of a vanitie, and there shall bee a bridle to a causе them to erre in the lawes of the people.

a To driue them to nothing, and thus God confoundeth the wicked by that meanes, whereby he cherisheth his.

29 But there shalbe a song vnto you as in the b night, when a solemne feast is kept, and gladnesse of heart, as he that commeth with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lorde, to the mighty one of Israel.

b Yee shall reioyce at the destruction of your enemies, as they that sing for ioy of the solemne feast, which began in the euening.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voyce to be heard, and shall declare the lighting downe of his arme, with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering and tempest, and haile stones.

c Gods plague.

31 For with the voyce of the Lorde shall Ashur bee destroyed, which smote with the c rodde.

d It shall destroy.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shal passe, it shall d cleaue fast, which the Lorde shall lay vpon him with e tabrets & harpes, and with battels, and lifting vp of hands shal he fight against it.

e With ioy and assurance of the victory.

33 For f Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the g King: hee hath made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lorde, like a riuer of brimstone, doeth kindle it.

f Against Babel: meaning the Assyrians and Babylonians.

g Here it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented, Reade 2. King. 23.10.

h So that their estate or degree cannot exempt the wicked.

i By these figurative speeches he declareth the condition of the wicked after this life.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

WOe vnto them that a goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in charets, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they bee very strong: but they looke not vnto the holy one of Israel, nor b seeke vnto the Lord.

a There were two speciall causes, why the Israelites should not ioyne amitie with the Egyptians: first, because the Lord had commanded them neuer to returne thither, Deut. 17. 16. and 28. 68. least they should forget the benefite of their redemption: and secondly, least they should be corrupted with the superstition and idolatry of the Egyptians, and so forsake God, Iere. 2. 18.

b Meaning, that they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly things: for they cannot trust in both.

2 But he yet is c wisest: therefore he will bring euil, and not turne backe his words, but he will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

c And knoweth their crafty enterprises and will bring all to nought.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirite: and when the Lorde shall stretche out his hand, the d helper shall fall, and hee that is holpen shall fall, and they shall altogether faile.

d Meaning, both the Egyptians and the Israelites.

4 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vnto mee, As the lyon or lyons whelpe roareth vpon his pray, against whom if a multitude of shepheardes bee called, hee will not be afrayde at their voyce, neither will humble himselfe at their noyse: so shall

a Hee sheweth the Iewes, that if they would put their trust in him, he is so able that none can resist his power: and so carefull ouer them, as a bird ouer her yong, which euer fleeth about them for their defence: which similitude the Scripture vseth in diuers places, as Deut. 32.11. matth. 23. 37.

f He toucheth their conscience that they might earnestly feele their grieuous sinnes, and so truely repent, forasmuch as nowe they are almost drowned, and past recouery.

g By these fruites your repentance shall bee knowen, as Chap. 2. 18.

h When your repentance appeareth. i This was accomplished soone after when Sancheribs armie was discomfited, & he fled to his castle in Nineueh for succour. k To destroy his enemies, the Lord of hostes come a downe to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birdes that flie, so shall the Lord of hostes defende Ierusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through and preserning it.

6 O ye children of Israel, turne againe in as much as yee are f sunken deepe in rebellion.

7 For in that day euery man shall s cast out his idoles of siluer, & his idoles of golde, which your handes haue made you, euen a sinne.

8 h Then shall Ashur fall by the sword, not of man, neither shall the sworde of man deuoure him, & he shall flee from the sword, and his yong men shall faint.

9 And he shall go for feare to his i tower, and his princes shall bee afraide of the standard, saith the Lord, whose k fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Ierusalem.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernment of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

BEholde, a a King shall reigne in iustice, and the Princes shall rule b in iudgement.

2 And that man shall bee as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a drie place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in c a weary land.

3 The eyes of d the seeing shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstande knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shall bee ready to speake distinctly.

5 A e niggard shall no more be called liberall, nor the churle rich.

6 But the niggard will speake of niggardnesse, and his heart will worke iniquitie, and doe wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make empty the hungrie soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: hee deuiseth wicked counsels, to vndoe the poore with lying wordes, and to speake against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberall man will deuise of liberall things, and hee will continue his liberalitie.

9 ¶ Rise vp, yee women that are at ease: heare my voyce, yee f carelesse daughters: hearken to my wordes.

10 Ye women, that are carelesse, shall be in feare a moue a yeere in dayes: b for the vintage shall faile, and the gathering shall come no more.

11 Yee women, that are at ease, bee astonied: feare, O yee careleste women: put off the clothes: make bare, and girde sackcloth vpon the loynes.

12 Men shall lament for the i teates, even for the pleasant fieldes, and for the fruitfull vine.

13 Vpon the land of my people shal grow thornes and briers: yea, vpon all the houses of ioy in the citie of reioycing.

14 Because the palace shall bee forsaken, and the ‖ noyse of the citie shall bee left: the tower and fortresse shall be dennes for euer, and the delite of wilde asses, and a pasture for flockes, 15 Until the k Spirite be powred vpon vs from aboue, and the wildernesse become a fruitfull field, and the l plenteous field bee counted as a forest.

16 And iudgement shall dwell in the desert, and iustice shall remaine in the fruitfull field.

17 And the worke of iustice shalbe peace, euen the worke of iustice and quietnesse, and assurance for euer.

18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.

19 When it hayleth, it shall fall on the forest, and the m citie shall be set in the lowe place.

20 Blessed are ye that n sow vpon all waters, and o driue thither the feete of the oxe and the asse.

a Meaning, that the affliction should continue long, and when one yere were past, yet they should looke for new plagues.

h God will take from you the meanes and occasions, which made you to contemne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.

i By the teates be meaneth the plentifull fields, whereby men are nourished, as children with the teate: or, the mothers for sorowe and leanenesse, shall lacke milke.

[Or, multitude.

k That is, when the Church shall bee restored: thus the Prophets after they haue vse to comfort the godly, lest they should faint.

l The fielde which is nowe fruitfull, shall be but as a baren forest in comparison of that it shall bee then, as Chapter 27. 19: which shall be fulfilled in Christes time: for then they that were before as the baren wildernesse, being regenerate, shall be fruitfull, and they that had some beginning of godlinesse, shall bring forth fruites in such abundance, that their former life shall seeme but as a wildernesse where no fruites were.

m They shall not neede to build it in high places for feare of the enemie: for God will defende it, and turne away the stormes from hurting of their commodities.

n That is, vpon fat ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance: or in places which before were couered with waters, and now made drie for your vse.

o The fieldes shall be so rancke, that they shall send out their carell to eate vp the first crop, which abundance shall be signes of Gods fauour and loue towards them.

17 Thine eyes ſhall u ſee the King in his glory: they ſhall beholde the lande x farre off.

18 Thine heart y ſhall meditate feare, Where is the ſcribe? Where is the receiuer? Where is hee that counted the towers?

6 The sworde of the Lorde is filled with blood: it is made fatte with the fatte and with the blood of the lambes and the goates, with the fatte of the kidneis of the Rammes: for the Lorde hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the vnicorne shall come downe with them, and the bullocke with the bulles, and their land shall be dronken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatnesse.

8 For it is the day of the Lordes vengeance, and the yeere of recompence for the iudgement of Zion.

9 And the riuers thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall bee burning pitch.

10 It shall not bee quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shall goe vp euermore: it shall bee desolate from generation to generation: none shall passe thorowe it for euer.

11 But the Pelican and the Hedgehogge shall possesse it, and the great Owle, and the Rauen shall dwell in it, and hee shall stretch out vpon it the line of vanitie, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 The nobles thereof shall call to the kingdome, and there shall bee none, and all the princes thereof shall bee as nothing.

13 And it shall bring foorth thornes in the palaces thereof, nettles and thistles in the strong holdes thereof, and it shall be an habitation for dragons, and a court for Ostriches.

14 There shall meete also Zim and Iim, and the Satyre shall crie to his fellowe, and the Shrichowle shall rest there, and shall finde for her selfe a quiet dwelling.

15 There shall the Owle make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather them vnder her shadow: there shall the Vultures also be gathered, euery one with her make.

1 Sanherib sendeth Rabshakeh to besiege Ierusalem. 13 His blasphemies against God.

NOw in the fourteenth yeere of King Hezekiah, Sanherib King of Asshur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

2 And the king of Asshur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoste, and hee stood by the conduit of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

a This historie is rehearsed because it is as a scale and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promises: to wit, that God would suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would send deliuerance.

e Sancheribs chiefe captaine.
f He ſpeaketh this in the perſon of Hezekiah, falſly charging him, that he put his truſt in his wit and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord.
g Satan laboured to pull the godly king from one vaine confidence to another, to wit, from truſt in the Egyptians, whoſe power was weake and would deceiue them, to yeeld himſelfe to the Aſſyrians, and ſo not to hope for any helpe of God.
*Or, turne backe.
h He reprocheth to Hezekiah his ſmall power, which is not able to reſiſt one of Sancheribs leaſt captaines.

4 And g Rabſhakeh layde vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus ſaith the great King, the King of Aſſhur, What confidence is this, wherein thou truſteſt?

5 I ſay, f Surely I haue eloquence, but counſell and ſtrength are for the warre: on whom then doeſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

6 Loe, thou truſteſt in this broken ſtaffe of reede, on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand, and pierce it: ſo is a Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that truſt in him.

7 But if thou ſay to mee, We truſt in the Lorde our GOD, Is not that hee, whoſe hie places and whole altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and ſayd to Judah and to Jeruſalem, Yee ſhall worſhip before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hoſtages to my lord the king of Aſſhur, and I will giue thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy part to ſet riders vpon them.

9 For how canſt thou i deſpiſe any captaine of the h leaſt of my lords ſeruants, and put thy truſt on Egypt for charets and for horſemen?

10 And am I nowe come vp without the Lord to this land to deſtroy it? The Lorde ſaid vnto me, i Go vp againſt this land and deſtroy it.

11 ¶ Then ſaide Eliakim, and Shebna, and Joah vnto Rabſhakeh, k Speak, I pray thee, to thy ſeruaunts in the Aramites language, (for wee vnderſtand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then ſaid Rabſhakeh, Hath my maſter ſent mee to thy maſter, and to thee to ſpeake theſe wordes, and not to the men that ſit on the wall, that they may eat their owne dongue, and drinke their owne l piſſe with you?

13 So Rabſhakeh ſtood, and cried with a loud voyce in the Iewes language, and ſaid, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Aſſhur.

14 Thus ſaith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for hee ſhall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to truſt in the Lord, ſaying, The Lord will ſurely deliuer vs: this citie ſhall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Aſſhur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus ſaith the King of Aſſhur, Make l appointment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne well, 17 Till I come and bring you to a lande like your owne lande, euen a lande of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Leaſt Hezekiah deceiue you, ſaying, The Lord will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his lande out of the hand of the king of Aſſhur?

19 Where is the god of m Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? or howe haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is he among all the gods of theſe lands, that hath deliuered their country out of mine hand, that the Lord ſhould deliuer Jeruſalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they n kept ſilence, and anſwered him not a word: for the kings commandement was, ſaying, Anſwere him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah the ſtewarde of the houſe, and Shebna the chancellor, and Joah the ſonne of Aſaph the Recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and told him the wordes of Rabſhakeh.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Ashur fighting against g Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 Yet heard also men say of Tirhakah, king of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, hee sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shal ye speake to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God h deceiue thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not bee giuen into the hande of the king of Ashur.

11 Beholde thou hast heard what i kings of Ashur haue done to all lands in destroying them, and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my fathers haue destroyed? as k Gozan, and l Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharuaim, Hena and Ivah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers and read it, and he went vp into the house of the Lorde, and Hezekiah spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lorde, saying,

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, which m dwellest betweene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

17 Incline thine eare, O Lorde, & heare: open thine eyes, O Lorde, and see, and heare all the words of Sancherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 Trueth it is, O Lord, that the kings of Ashur haue destroyed all lands, and n their countrey, 19 And haue cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of mans hands, euen wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that n all the kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou only art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto me, concerning Sancherib king of Ashur, 22 This is the word that the Lorde hath spoken against him, The o virgine, p daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: The daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou rayled on, and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted vp thine eies on hie? euen against the r holy One of Israel.

24 By thy seruants hast thou rayled on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my charets I am come vp to the toppe of the mountaines, to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the hie cedars thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and I will goe vp to the heighes of his top and to the forest of his fruitfull places.

25 I haue digged q and dronke the waters, and with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the riuers closed in.

26 Hast thou not heard howe I haue of olde time made it, s and haue formed it long agoe? and should I nowe bring it, that it shoulde bee destroyed, and layde on ruinous heapes, as cities defenced, 27 Whose inhabitants t haue small power, and are afraide and confounded? they are like the grasse of the field and greene herbe, or grasse on the house tops, or corne blasted afore it be growen.

28 But I knowe thy dwelling, and thy u going out, and thy comming in, and thy furie against me.

29 Because thou ragest against mee, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine x hooke in thy nostrels, and my bridle in thy lippes, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou x camest.

30 And this shalbe a y signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eate this yeere such as groweth of it selfe: and the z second yeere, such things as grow without sowing: and in the thirde yeere, sow ye and reape, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And a the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall againe take roote downeward and beare fruit vpward.

32 For out of Jerusalem shall goe a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lorde of hostes shall doe this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, concerning the king of Ashur, hee shall not enter into this citie, nor shoote an arrow there, nor come before it with shielde, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shall returne, and not come into this citie, saith the Lord.

35 For I will defende this citie to saue it for mine owne sake, and for my seruant b Dauids sake.

36 ¶ c Then the Angel of the Lord went out, & smote in the campe of Ashur an hundreth, fourescore and fiue thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 So

q He boasteth of his policie, in that that he can find meanes to nourish his army: and of his power, in that that his army is so great, that it is able to dry vp whole riuers, and to destroy the waters, which the Iewes had closed in.

r Signifying, that God made not his Church to destroy it, but to preserue it, and therefore he saith that he formed it of old, euen in his eternall counsel, which cannot be changed.

Hezekiah is sicke. 5 He is restored to health by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeeres after. 10 Hee geueth thankes for the benefite.

2. King 20.1. 2. chron. 32.24.

IN [a] that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiah sonne of Amoz came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Put thine house in an order, for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah [b] turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 And sayd, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now how I haue walked before thee in trueth, and with a perfect heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,

5 Goe, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus sayth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: beholde, I will adde vnto thy dayes fifteene yeeres.

6 And I wil deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the king of Assur, and this citie: for I will defend this citie.

7 And [c] this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe this thing, that he hath spoken,

8 Beholde, I will bring againe the shadowe of the degrees (whereby it is gone downe in the diall of Ahaz by the [a] sunne) ten degrees backeward: so the sunne returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone downe.

9 [e] The writing of Hezekiah king of Iudah, when he had bene sicke, and was recouered of his sickneſſe.

10 I said in the [f] cutting off of my dayes, I shall goe to the gates of the graue: I am depriued of the residue of my yeeres.

11 I sayd, [g] I shall not see the Lord, euen the Lorde in the land of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is remooued from me, like a shepheards tent: I [h] haue cut off like a weauer, my life: hee will cut me off from the height: from day [i] to night, thou wilt make an end of me.

13 I [k] reckoned to the morning: but hee brake all my bones, like a lyon: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallowe, so did I [l] chatter: I did mourne as a doue: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord, [m] it hath oppressed me, comfort me.

15 What shall I say? [n] for he hath sayde it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walke [o] weakely all my yeeres in the bitternesse of my soule.

16 O Lord, [p] to them that ouerliue them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall bee knowen, that thou causedst me to [q] sleepe, and hast giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, for felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my [r] sinnes behinde thy backe.

18 For [s] the graue cannot confesse thee: death cannot praise thee: they that go downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy trueth.

19 But the liuing, the liuing, he shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the [t] children shall declare thy trueth.

20 The Lord was ready to saue me: therefore we will sing my song, all the dayes of [u] our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then sayde Isaiah, Take a lumpe of drie figges and [x] lay it vpon the boyle, and he shall recouer.

22 Also Hezekiah [y] had sayd, What is the signe, that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord?

a Which was slaine so that God will haue the exercise of his children continuall, that they may learne onely to depend vpon God, and aspire to the heauen.

b For his heart was touched with feare of Gods iudgement, seeing he had appointed him to die so quickely after his deliuerance from so great calamitie, as one vnworthy to remaine in that estate, and also foreseeing the great change that shoulde come in the Church, forasmuch as he left no sonne to reigne after him: for as yet Manasseh was not borne, and when he reigned, wee see what a tyrant he was.

c He doeth not onely promise to prolong his life, but to giue him rest and quietnesse from the Assyrians, who might haue renued their armie to reuenge their former discomfiture.

f He lets this song of his lamentation & thankesgiuing to all posteritie, as a monument of his owne infirmitie and thankfull heart for Gods benefites, as Dauid, Psal. 51.

g At what time it was told mee, that I should die.

h I shall no more praise the Lorde here in his Temple among the faithfull: thus God suffereth his dearest children to want his consolation for a time, that his grace afterward may the more appeare when they feele their owne weaknesse, i By my sinne I haue prouoked God to take my life from me.

k That is, in one day, or shortly.

l Ouer night I thought that I should liue till morning, but my pangs in the night perswaded me the contrary, he sheweth the horrour, that the faithfull haue, when they apprehend Gods iudgement against their sinne.

m I was so oppressed with sorow, that I was not able to vtter my words, but onely to grone and sigh.

n To wit, sorow and griefe both of body and mind.

o God hath declared by his Prophet, that I shall die, and therefore I will yeelde vnto him.

p I shall haue no release, but continuall sorowes whiles I liue.

q They that shall ouerliue the men that are now alive, and all they that are in these yeeres, shall acknowledge this benefite.

r That after that thou hadst condemned me to death, thou restoredst me to life.

s Whereas I thought to haue liued in rest and ease, being deliuered from mine enemie, I had griefe vpon griefe.

t Hee esteemeth more the remission of his sinnes, and Gods fauour, then a thousand liues.

u For as much as God hath placed man in this world to glorifie him, the godly tooke it as a signe of his wrath when their dayes were shortened, either because that they seemed vnworthie for their sinnes to liue longer in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glory, seeing that there are so few in earth, that doe regard it, as Psalme 6.5. and 115.17.

x All posteritie shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their duetie toward their children, shall instruct them in thy graces and mercies toward me.

y Hee sheweth what is the vse of the Congregation and Church: to wit, to giue the Lord thankes for his benefites.

Hezekiah reproued, because hee shewed his treasures vnto the ambassadours of Babylon.

AT [a] the same time, Merodach Baladan, the sonne of Baladan, King

2. King. 20.12.

a This was the first King of Babylon, which ouercame the Assyrians in the tenth yeere of his reigne.

b Partly moued with the greatnes of the miracle, partly because he shewed himselfe enemy to his enemies, but chiefly, because he would ioyne with them whom God fauoured, and haue their helpe, if occasion serued.

c Reade 2. kings 20.13. & 2. chro. 32.25.31.

d He asketh him of the particulars to make him vnderstand the craft of the wicked, which he before being ouercome with their flatterie, and blinded with ambition could not see.

e By the grieuousnesse of the punishment is declared how greatly God detesteth ambition and vainglory.

f That is, officers and seruants.

of Babel, sent b letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had beene sicke, and was recouered.

2 And Hezekiah was c glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer and the golde, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Iſaiah the Prophet vnto king Hezekiah, and sayd vnto him, What sayd these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah sayd, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babel.

4 Then sayd he, What haue d they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Iſaiah sayde to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord of hosts,

6 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue layed vp in store vntill this day, shall be e carried to Babel: nothing shall be left, sayth the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes, that shall proceed out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be f eunuches in the palace of the king of Babel.

8 g Then sayd Hezekiah to Iſaiah, The word of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and he sayd, Yet let there be peace and truth in my dayes.

CHAP. XL.

2 Remission of sinnes by Christ. 3 The comming of Iohn Baptist. 18 The Prophet reproueth the idolaters, and them that trust not in the Lord.

a This is a consolation for the Church, assuring them that they shall be neuer destitute of Prophets, whereby he exhorteth the true ministers of God that then were, and those also that should come after him, to comfort the poore afflicted, and to assure them of their deliuerance both of body and soule.

COmfort a yee, comfort yee my people, saith your God.

2 Speake comfortably to Ierusalem, and cry vnto her, that her b warfare is accomplished, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for she hath receiued of the Lords hand c double for all her sinnes.

3 A d voyce cryeth in the e wildernesse, f Prepare yee the way of the Lord: make straight in the desart a path for our God.

4 Euery valley shall be exalted, and euery mountaine and hill shall bee made lower and the crooked shall bee straight, and the rough places plaine.

b The time of her affliction. c Meaning, sufficient, as Chap. 61.7. and full correction, or double grace, where as shee deserued double punishment. d To wit, of the Prophets. e That is, in Babylon and other places where they were kept in captiuitie and miserie. f Meaning, Cyrus, and Darius which should deliuer Gods people out of captiuitie, and make them a ready way to Iewrie: and this was fully accomplished, when Iohn the Baptist brought tidings of Iesus Christs comming, who was the true deliuerer of his Church from sinne and Satan, Matth. 3.3. g Whatsoeuer may let or hinder this deliuerance, shall be remooued.

5 And the glorie of the Lorde shall bee reuealed, and all h flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lorde hath spoken it.

6 A i voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall I crie? All flesh is grasse, and all the k grace thereof is as the flowre of the field.

7 The grasse withereth, the flowre fadeth, because the l Spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: surely the people is grasse.

8 The grasse withereth, the flowre fadeth: but the m word of our God shall stand for euer.

9 ¶ O Sion, that bringest good tidings, get thee vp into the hie n mountaine: O Ierusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voyce with strength: lift it vp, be not afrayd: say vnto the cities of Iudah, Behold o your God.

10 Behold, the Lord God wil come with power, and p his arme shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his worke before him.

11 Yet shall feede his flocke like a shepheard: he shall gather the lambes with his arme, and cary them in his bosome, and shall guide them with q yong.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his r fist? and counted heauen with the spanne, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure? and weighed the mountaines in a weight, and the hilles in a balance?

13 Who hath instructed the Spirite of the Lorde? or was his s counseller, or taught him?

14 Of whom tooke hee counsell, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of iudgement? or taught him knowledge, and shewed vnto him the way of vnderstanding?

15 Behold, the nations are as a droppe of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the balance: behold, hee taketh away the yles as a little dust.

16 And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as t nothing, and they are counted to him lesse then nothing, and vanitie.

18 To whom then u will ye liken God? or what similitude will yee set vp vnto him?

19 The workeman melteth an image, or the goldsmith maketh it ouer in golde, or the goldsmith maketh siluer plates.

20 Doeth not x the poore chuse out a tree

h This miracle shall be so great that it shall be knowen through all the world.

i The voyce of God, which spake to the Prophet Iſaiah.

k Meaning, all mans wisedome & naturall powers, Iam. 1.10. 1. pet. 1.24.

l The Spirit of God shall discouer the vanitie in all that seeme to haue any excellencie of themselues.

m Though considering the frailtie of mans nature, many of the Iewes should perish and so not be partakers of this deliuerance, yet Gods promise should be fulfilled, and they that remayned should feele the fruite thereof.

n To publish this benefite through all the world.

o He sheweth at one word the perfection of all mans felicitie, which is to haue Gods presence.

p His power shalbe sufficient without helpe of any other, and shall haue all meanes in himselfe to bring his will to passe.

q Hee shall shewe his care and fauour ouer them that are weake and tender. r Declaring that as GOD onely hath all power, so doeth hee vse the same for the defence and maintenance of his Church. s He sheweth Gods infinite wisedome for the same ende and purpose. t He speaketh all this to the intent that they shoulde neither feare man, nor put their trust in any, saue onely in GOD. u Hereby hee armeth them against the idolatrie, wherewith they shoulde bee tempted in Babylon. x Hee sheweth the rage of the idolaters, seeing that the poore that haue not to suffice their owne necessities, will deuaunce themselues to serue their idoles.

that will not rot, for an oblation? hee seeketh also vnto him a cunning workeman, to prepare an image, that shall not bee moued.

21 Know ye nothing? haue ye not heard it? hath it not beene tolde you from the beginning? haue yee not vnderstood it by the [a] foundation of the earth?

22 He sitteth vpon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grashoppers, he stretcheth out the heauens, as a curtaine, and spreadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the Iudges of the earth, as vanitie, 24 As though they were not planted, as though they were not sowen, as though their stocke tooke no roote in the earth: for hee did euen [a] blowe vpon them, and they withered, and the whirlewinde will take them away as stubble.

25 To whom now will ye liken me, that I should be like him, sayth the holy one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on high, and beholde who hath created these things, and bringeth [b] out their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatnesse of his power and mightie strength nothing faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, O Iaakob, and speakest, O Israel, [c] My way is hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God?

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the euerlasting God, the Lorde hath created the [d] ends of the earth? he neither fainteth, nor is wearie: there is no searching of his [e] vnderstanding.

29 But hee giueth strength vnto him that fainteth, and vnto him that hath no strength, he increaseth power.

30 Euen the yong men shall faint, and be wearie, and the yoong men shall stumble and fall.

31 But they that waite vpon the Lorde, shall renew their strength: they shall lift vp the wings as the egles: they shall runne, and not be wearie, and they shall walke and not faint.

y Haue ye not the word of God which plainely condemneth idolatrie?

z Can you not learne by the visible creatures whom God hath made to serue your vse, that you should not serue them nor worship them?

a So that his power appeareth in euery place wheresoeuer we turne our eyes.

b Who hath set in order the infinite number of the starres.

c He rebuketh the Iewes, because they did not rest on the prouidence of God, but thought that he had forsaken them in their troubles.

d And therefore all power is in his hand to deliuer when his time commeth.

e Shewing, that man must patiently abide, and not curiously seeke out the cause of Gods delay in our afflictions.

f They that trust in their owne vertue, and doe not acknowledge that all commeth of God.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Gods mercie in chusing his people. 9 Their idolatrie. 27 Deliuerance promised to Zion.

KEepe [a] silence before mee, O ylands, and let the people [b] renew their strength: let them come neere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgement.

2 Who raised vp [c] iustice from the East, and called him to his foote? and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the kings? hee gaue them as dust to his sworde, and as scattered stubble vnto his bowe.

3 Hee pursued them, [c] passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feete.

a God, as though he pleaded his cause with all nations, requireth silence, that he may be heard in his right.

b That is, gather all their power and supportes.

c Who called Abraham (who was the paterne of idolatrie of the Caldeans to goe to and fro at his commandement, and placed him in the land of Canaan)

4 Who hath wrought and done it? hee that calleth the [d] generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the [e] first, and with the last I am the same.

5 The yles sawe it, and did [f] feare, and the endes of the earth were abashed, drewe neere, and came.

6 Euery man helped his neighbour, and said to his brother, [g] Be strong.

7 So the workeman comforted the founder, and he that smote with the hammer, him that smote by course, saying, It is ready for the sodering, and hee fastened it with nailes that it should not be moued.

8 ¶ But thou, Israel, art my [i] seruant, and thou Iaakob, whom I haue chosen, the seede of Abraham my friend.

9 For I haue taken thee from the endes of the earth, and called thee before the chiefe thereof, and sayd vnto thee, Thou art my seruant: I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afrayde, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, and helpe thee, & will susteine thee with the [h] right hand of my iustice.

11 Beholde, all they that prouoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that striue with thee, shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seeke them, and shalt not [i] finde them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that warre against thee, as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Feare not, thou [k] worme, Iaakob, and yee men of Israel: I will helpe thee, sayeth the Lord and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel.

15 Beholde, I will make thee a roller, and a newe threshing instrument hauing teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountaines, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hilles as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt fanne them, and the winde shall carry them away, and the whirlewinde shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, and shalt glorie in the holy one of Israel.

17 When [l] the poore and the needy seeke water, and there is none, their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them,

18 I will open riuers in the toppes of the hilles, and fountaines in the middes of the valleyes: I will make the wildernesse as a poole of water, and the waste [m] lande as springs of water.

19 I will set in the wildernesse the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrthe tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wildernesse the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

d Who hath created man and maintained his succession.

e Though the world set vp neuer so many gods, yet they diminish nothing of my glory: for I am all one, vnchangeable, which haue euer bene, and shalbe for euer.

f Considering mine excellent workes among my people.

g They assembled themselues, and conspired against me to maintaine their idolatrie.

h He noteth the obstinacie of the idolaters to maintaine their superstitions.

i And therefore oughtest not to pollute thy selfe with the superstition of the Gentiles.

k That is, by the force of my promise, in the performance whereof I wil shew my selfe faithfull and iust.

l Because they shalbe destroyed.

m Thus he calleth them because they were contemned of all the world, and that they considering their owne poore estate, shoulde seeke vnto him for helpe.

n I will make thee able to destroy all thine enemies, be they neuer so mighty: and this chiefly is referred to the kingdome of Christ.

o That is, they that shall bee afflicted in the captiuitie of Babylon.

p God will rather change the order of nature, then they should want any thing, that crie to him by true faith in their miseries: declaring to them hereby that they shall lacke nothing by the way, when they returne from babylon.

That is, hath appointed, and determined that it shall come to passe.

r Hee biddeth the idolaters to proue their religion, and to bring forth their idols, that they may be tried whether they know all things, and can doe all things: which if they cannot doe, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

s So that a man cannot make an idole, but hee must doe that, which God detesteth and abhorreth: for he chuseth his owne deuises, and forsaketh the Lords.

t Meaning, the Chaldeans.

u That is, Cyrus, who shall do all things in my Name, and by my direction: whereby he meaneth, that both their captiuitie, and deliuerance shall be ordered by Gods prouidence and appointment.

20 Therefore let them see and knowe, and let them consider and understand together, that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the holy one of Israel hath created it.

21 r Stand to your cause, saith the Lord: bring foorth your strong reasons, sayeth the King of Iaakob.

22 Let them bring them forth, & let them tell vs what shall come: let them shewe the former things what they be, that wee may consider them, and know the latter ende of them: either declare vs things for to come.

23 Shewe the things that are to come hereafter, that wee may know that you are gods: yea, do good or doe euill, that we may declare it, and beholde it together.

24 Beholde, ye are of no value, and your making is of nought: man hath s chosen an abomination by them.

25 ¶ I haue raised vp t from the North, and he shall come: from the East sunne shall u he call vpon my Name, and shall come vpon x princes as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth mire vnder the foote.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that wee may know? or beforetime, that we may say, Hee is righteous? Surely there is none that sheweth: surely there is none that declareth: surely there is none that heareth y your wordes.

27 I am the first, that sayeth to Zion, Behold, behold z them: and I will giue to Ierusalem a one that shall bring good tidings.

28 But when b I beheld, there was none, and when I enquired of them, there was no counsellour, and when I demanded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Beholde, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde and confusion.

x Both of the Chaldeans and others. y Meaning, that none of the Gentiles gods can worke any of these things. z That is, the Israelites, which returne from the captiuitie. a To wit, a continuall succession of Prophets and ministers. b When I looked whether the idols could doe these things, I found that they had neither wisedome nor power to doe any thing: therefore hee concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in such vanitie.

CHAP. XLII.

a The obedience and humilitie of Christ. 6 Why he was sent into the world. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

a That is, Christ who in respect of his manhood is called here seruant. The Prophets vse to make mention of Christ after that they haue declared any great promise, because he is the foundation whereupon all the promises are made and ratified.

BEholde, a my seruant: b I will stay vpon him: mine elect, in whome my soule c delighteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: he shall bring forth d iudgement to the Gentiles.

2 He shall not e cry, nor lift vp, nor cause his voice to be heard in the streete.

b For I haue committed all my power to him, as to a most faithfull steward. Some reade, I will establish him, to wit, in his office, by giuing him the fulnesse of my Spirit. c He onely is acceptable vnto me, and they that come vnto me by him: for there is no other meanes of reconciliation, Matt. 12.18. Eph. 1.4. d He shall declare himselfe gouernour ouer the Gentiles, and call them by his worde, and rule them by his Spirit. e His comming shall not bee with pompe and noise, as earthly princes.

3 A f bruised reed shal he not breake, and the smoking f flaxe shall he not quench: hee shall bring forth iudgement in b trueth.

4 Hee shall not faile nor bee discouraged till he haue g set iudgement in the earth: and the h yles shall wait for his law.

5 Thus sayeth God the Lorde, (he that created the heauens & spread them abroad: hee that stretched foorth the earth, and the buddes therof: hee that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke therein)

6 I the Lorde haue called thee in i righteousnesse, and will holde k thine hand, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a l conenant of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blinde, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkenesse, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my m glory will I not giue to another, neither my prayse to grauen images.

9 Beholde, the former things are n come to passe, and newe things doe I declare: before they come forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song, and his prayse from the end of the earth: ye that goe downe to the sea, and all that is therein: the yles and the inhabitants therof.

11 Let the wildernesse & the cities therof lift vp their voyce, the townes that o Kedar doeth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rocks sing: let them shout from the toppe of the mountaines, 12 Let them giue glory vnto the Lorde, and declare his prayse in the yles.

13 The Lord shall goe forth as a p gyant: hee shall stirre vp his courage like a man of warre: he shall shout and cry, and shall prayle against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene still and refrained my selfe: now will I cry like a q trauailing woman: I will destroy and deuoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines and hilles, and dry vp all their herbes, and I will make the floods yles, and I will dry vp the pooles.

16 ¶ And I will bring the r blinde by a way that they knew not, and leade them by pathes that they haue not knowen: I will make darkenesse light before them, and crooked things streight. These things will I do vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe: they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 ¶ Heare, ye deafe: and ye blinde, regard, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but my s seruaunt? or f He will not hurt the weake and feeble, but support and comfort them.

g Meaning, the wicke of alampe, or candle, which is almost out, but hee will cherish it and snuffe it, that it may shine brighter.

h Although he fauor the weake, yet will he not spare the wicked, but will iudge them according to trueth and equitie.

i Till hee haue set all things in good order.

k The Gentiles shalbe desirous to receiue his doctrine.

l Meaning, vnto a lawfull and iust vocation.

m To assist and guide thee.

n As him by whom the promise made to all nations in Abraham, shalbe fulfilled.

o I will not suffer my glory to be diminished: which I should do, if I were not faithfull in performing the same, and the idolaters therby would extoll their idoles aboue me.

p As in time past I haue bene true in my promises, so will I be in time to come.

q Meaning, the Arabians, vnder whom he comprehendeth all the people of the East.

r He sheweth the conseruation of his Church. s I will haste to execute my vengeance, which I haue so long deferred, as a woman that desireth to be deliuered when shee is in trauaile. t That is, my poore people, which are in perplexitie and care. u To wit, Israel, which should haue most light, because of my Law.

x The Priest to whom my word is committed, which should not onely heare it himselfe, but cause others to heare it.

y As the priests and prophets that should be lights to others.

z Because they wil not acknowledge this benefit of the Lord, who is ready to deliuer them, he suffereth them to be spoiled of their enemies through their owne fault and incredulitie.

a There shall be none to succour them, or to wil the enemie to restore that, which he hath spoyled.

deafe as my x messenger, that I sent? who is blind as the y perfect, & blind as the Lords seruant.

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepest them not, opening the eares, but he heareth not?

21 The Lorde is willing for his righteousnesse sake that he may magnifie the z law, and exalt it.

22 But this people is a robbed and spoyled, and shall be all snared in dungeons, and they shall be hid in prison houses: they shall be for a praye, and none shal deliuer: a spoile, and none shall say, a Restore.

23 Who among you shall hearken to this, and take heede, and heare for b afterwards?

24 Who gaue Iaakob for a spoyle, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lorde, because we haue sinned against him? for they would not walke in his wayes, neither be obedient vnto his Law.

25 Therefore he hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battell: and it set him on fire round about, and hee knew not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

b Meaning, Gods wrath.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth his people. He promiseth deliuerance to the Iewes. 12 There is no God but one alone.

2 After these threatnings, he promiseth deliuerance to his Church, because he hath regenerate them, adopted them, and called them, b When thou seest dangers and conspiracies on all sides, remember this benefit and the loue of thy God, and it shall encourage thee.

c By water and fire, he meaneth all kinde of troubles and perils.

d I turned Sanheribs power against these countreis, and made them to suffer that affliction which thou shouldest haue

BVt now thus saith the Lord, a that created thee, O Iaakob: and hee that formed thee, O Israel, b Feare not: for I haue redeemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, Thou art mine.

2 When thou passest thorowe the c waters, I will bee with thee, and thorowe the floods, that they bee not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkest thorowe the very fire, thou shalt not bee burnt, neither shall the flame kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lorde thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Sauiour: I gaue d Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, & Seba for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honourable, and I loued thee, therefore wil I giue e man for thee, and people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seede from the f East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Giue: and to the South, Keepe not back: bring my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the ends of the earth.

7 Euery one shalbe called by my g Name: for I created him for my glory, formed him and made him.

8 I will bring forth the blind people, and they shall haue eyes, and the deafe, and they shall haue eares.

9 Let all the nations be gathered h together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this and shew vs former things? let them bring forth their i witnesses, that they may be iustified: or let them k heare, and say, It is trueth.

10 You l are my witnesses, sayeth the Lord, and my m seruant, whom I haue chosen: therefore ye shall know and beleeue me, and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, euen I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Sauiour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, sayeth the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliuer out of mine hand: I will do it, and who shal let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel. For your sake I haue sent to Babel, and n brought it downe: they are all fugitiues, and the Chaldeans cry in o the ships.

15 I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Israel your king.

16 Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in p the sea, and a path in the mightie q waters.

17 Who p bringeth out the r charet and horse, the army and the power lie together, and shall not rise: they are extinct, and quenched as towe.

18 Remember yee not the former things, neither regard the things of olde.

19 Behold, I doe a new thing: now shall it come forth: shall you not know it? I will euen make a way in the s desert, and floods in the wildernesse.

20 The wilde t beasts shall honour mee, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall shew forth my praise.

22 And thou hast not u called vpon mee, O Iaakob, but thou hast x wearied mee, O Israel.

23 Thou y hast not brought me the sheepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured mee with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue with an offering, nor z wearied thee with incense.

done, and so were as the paiment of thy ransome, Chap. 37.9. e I will not spare any man rather then thou shouldest perish: for God more esteemeth one of his faithful, then all the wicked in the world.

f Hee prophesieth of their deliuerance from the captiuitie of Babylon, and so of the calling of the vniuersall Church, alluding to that which is written, Deut. 30.3.

g Meaning, that he could not be vnmindful of them, except he would neglect his owne Name and glory, their deliuerance out of Babylon, should bee more famous then that from Egypt was, Iere. 23.7. hag. 2.10. 2 corinth. 5.17. reuelat. 21.5.

h Signifying, that no power can resist him in doing this miraculous worke, nor all their idoles are able to doe the like, as Chap. 41.22.

i To prooue that the things which are spoken of them, are true.

k Shewing, that the malice of the wicked hindereth them in the knowledge of the trueth, because they will not heare when God speaketh by his word.

t Meaning, that their deliuerance was so famous, that the very beastes shall feele my benefits, and shall acknowledge them: much more men ought to bee thankefull for the same.

u Thou hast not worshipped mee as thou oughtest to haue done.

x Because thou hast not willingly receiued that which I did command thee, thou didst greeue me. Wherby he sheweth that his mercies were the onely cause of their deliuerance, forasmuch as they had deserued the contrary.

z Meaning, in true faith and obedience.

24 Thou boughtest me no sweete [a] sauor with money, neither hast thou made mee drunke with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made me [b] to serue with thy sinnes, and wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, euen I am hee that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy sinnes.

26 Put me in [c] remembrance: let vs bee iudged together: count thou that thou mayst be iustified.

CHAP. XLIIII.

5 The Lord promiseth comfort, and that he will assemble his Church of diuers nations. 9 The vanitie of idoles. 17 The beastlines of Idolaters.

YEt nowe heare, O Iaakob my seruant, and Israel, whom I haue chosen.

2 Thus sayth the Lord that made thee, and formed [a] thee from the wombe: he will helpe thee. Feare not, O Iaakob, my seruant, and thou righteous, [b] whom I haue chosen.

3 For I will powre water vpon the [c] thirstie, and floods vpon the drie ground: I will powre my Spirite vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy buds.

4 And they [d] shall growe as among the grasse, and as the willowes by the riuers of waters.

5 One shall say, I am the Lords: another [e] shalbe called by the name of Iaakob: and another shall subscribe with his hande vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hostes, I am the first, and I am the last, and without me there is no God.

7 And who is like mee, that shall [g] call, and shal declare it, and set [h] it in order before mee, since I appointed the [i] ancient people? and what is at hande, and what things are to come? let them shew vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither be afraide: haue not I told thee of old, and haue declared it? you are euen my witnesses, whether there bee a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, [m] and their delectable things shall no thing profit: and they are their owne witnesses, [n] that they see not nor knowe: therefore they shalbe confounded.

10 Who hath made [o] a god, or molten an image, that is [p] profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all that are of the [q] fellowship thereof shall bee confounded: for the workemen themselues are men: let all them be gathered together, and [r] stand vp, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coles, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an [s] hungred, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretched out a line: he fashioneth it with a red threed, he planeth it, and he purtreyeth it with the compasse, and maketh it after the figure of a man, and according to the beautie of a man that it may remaine in [t] an house.

14 He will hewe him downe cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: hee planteth a firre tree, and the raine doth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof: for he will take thereof and [u] warme himselfe: hee also kindleth it and baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, and worshippeth it: hee maketh it an idole and boweth vnto it.

16 Hee burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe thereof he [x] eateth flesh: he rosteth the roste and is satisfied: also he warmeth himselfe and saith, Aha, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire.

17 And the residue thereof hee maketh a god, euen his idole: he boweth vnto it, and worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and sayeth, Deliuer me: for thou art my God.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnderstoode: [y] for God hath shut their eyes that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand.

19 And none [z] considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor vnderstanding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coales thereof: I haue rosted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I bow to the stocke of a tree?

20 He feedeth [a] of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceiued him, that hee cannot deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

n That is, the idolaters seeing their idoles blinde, must needes be witnesses of their owne blindnesse, and feeling that they are not able to helpe them, must confesse that they haue no power.
o Meaning, that whatsoeuer is made by the hand of man, if it be esteemed as God, is most detestable.
p Whereby appeareth their blasphemie, which call images the bookes of the laitie, seeing that they are not onely here called vnprofitable, but chap. 41. 24 abominable: and Ieremie calleth them the worke of errors, Ierem. 10. 15. Habakkuk, a lying teacher, 2. 18.
q That is, which by any way consent either to the making or worshipping.
r Signifying, that the multitude shall not then sue the idolaters, when God will take vengeance, although they excuse themselues thereby among men.
s He describeth the raging affection of the idolaters, which forget their owne necessities to set foorth their deuotion towarde their idoles.
t To place it in some Temple.
u Hee setteth foorth the obstinacie and malice of the idolaters, which though they see by dayly experience that their idoles are no better then the rest of the matter whereof they are made, yet they refuse the one part, and make a god of the other, as the Papistes make their cake god, and the rest of their idoles.
x That is, hee either maketh a table or trenchers.
y The Prophet giueth heere an answere to all them that wonder how it is possible that any should bee so blinde to commit such abomination, saying, that God hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heartes.
z Hee is abused as one that would eate ashes, thinking to satisfie his hunger.

21 [a] Remember

m By this diuersitie of speech, he meaneth one thing, that is, that the people shall be holy and receiue the true religion of God, as Psalme 87. 5.
f I am alwayes like my selfe, that is, mercifull toward my Church, and most able to maintaine it, as chap. 41. 4. and 48. 12. reuelat. 1. 17. and 22. 13.
g And appoynt them that shall deliuer the Church.
h That is, declare vnto mee, howe I ought to proceede herein.
i God calleth the Israelites ancient, because hee preferred them to all other, in his eternall election.
k Meaning their idoles.
l Reade Chap. 43. 10.
m Whatsoeuer they bestowe vpon their idoles to make them to seeme glorious.

a Shewing that mans heart is moſt inclined to idolatrie, and therefore he warneth his people by theſe examples, that they ſhould not cleaue to any but to the liuing God, when they ſhould be among the idolaters.
b He ſheweth that the worke of the Lord toward his people ſhalbe ſo great, that the inſenſible creatures ſhalbe mooued therewith.
c He armeth them againſt the ſoothſayers of Babylon, which would haue borne them in hand that they knew by the ſtarres that God would not deliuer them, and that Babylon ſhould ſtand.

a Remember theſe (O Iaakob and Iſrael) for thou art my ſeruiant: I haue formed thee: thou art my ſeruant: O Iſrael forget me not.
22 I haue put away thy tranſgreſſions like a cloude, and thy ſinnes as a miſt: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.
23 b Reioyce yee heauens: for the Lorde hath done it: ſhoute, ye lower partes of the earth: breake forth into prayſes, yee mountaines, O foreſt, and euery tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Iaakob, and will be glorified in Iſrael.
24 Thus ſayeth the Lord thy redeemer, and he that founded thee from the wombe, I am the Lord that made all things, that ſpread out the heauens alone, and ſtretched out the earth by my ſelfe.
25 I deſtroy the c tokens of the ſoothſayers, and make them that coniecture, fooles, and turne the wiſe men backewarde, and make their knowledge fooliſhneſſe.
26 C Ye confirmeth the word of his d ſeruiant, and performeth the counſell of his meſſengers, ſaying to Ieruſalem, Thou ſhalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, Ye ſhall be built vp, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof.
27 Ye ſayeth to the e deepe, Be vile, and I will dry vp thy floods.
28 Ye ſayeth to f Cyrus, Thou art my ſhepheard: and he ſhall performe all my deſire: ſaying alſo to Ieruſalem, Thou ſhalt be built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation ſhall be ſurely layd.

d Of Iſaiah and the reſt of his Prophets, which did aſſure the Church of Gods fauour and deliuerance. e Hee ſheweth that Gods worke ſhould be no leſſe notable in this their deliuerance, then when hee brought them out of Egypt through the Sea. f To aſſure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the perſon, by whom it ſhould bee, more then a hundreth yeere before he was borne.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God is iuſt in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

a To aſſure the Iewes of their deliuerance againſt the great tentations that they ſhould abide, he nameth the perſon and the meanes.
b Becauſe Cyrus ſhould execute the office of a deliuerer, God called him his anoynted for a time, but after another ſort, then he called Dauid.
c To guide him in the deliuerance of my people. d I will take away all impediments and lets. e Not that Cyrus did knowe God to worſhip him aright, but he had a certaine particular knowledge, as prophane men may haue of his power, and ſo was compelled to deliuer Gods people. f Not for any thing that is in thee, or for thy worthineſſe.

THus ſayeth the Lorde vnto a Cyrus his b annoynted, whoſe right hand I haue holden c to ſubdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the loines of Kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates ſhall not be ſhut.
2 I will goe before thee and make the d croked ſtraigth: I will breake the braſen doores, and burſt the yron barres.
3 And I will giue thee the treaſures of darkeneſſe, and the things hid in ſecret places, that thou mayeſt e know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Iſrael.
4 For Iaakob my ſeruants f ſake, and Iſrael mine elect, I will euen call thee by thy name, and name thee, though thou haſt not knowen me.
5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God beſide me: I g girded thee though thou haſt not knowen me,
6 That they may know from the riſing of the ſunne and from the Weſt, that there is none beſides me. I am the Lord, and there is none other:
7 I faſhion the h light and create darkeneſſe: I make peace and create euill: I the Lord doe all theſe things.
8 Ye heauens drop downe from aboue, and let the i clouds poppe downe righteouſneſſe: let the earth open, and let ſaluation and iuſtice growe forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue k created him.
9 l Woe bee vnto him that ſtriueth with his maker, the potſherd with the potſherds of the earth: ſhall the clay ſay to him that faſhioneth it, What makeſt thou? or thy worke, m It hath none handes?
10 C Woe vnto him that ſayeth to his father, What haſt thou begotten? or to his mother, What haſt thou brought forth?
11 Thus ſayth the Lord, the Holy one of Iſrael, and his maker, Aske me of n things to come concerning my ſonnes, and concerning the workes of mine handes: commaund you me.
12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whoſe handes haue ſpread out the heauens, I haue euen commanded all their o armie.
13 I haue raiſed p him vp in righteouſneſſe, and I will direct all his wayes: he ſhal build my citie, and he ſhall let goe my captiues, not for q price nor reward, ſayth the Lord of hoſts.
14 Thus ſayth the Lord, The labour r of Egypt, and the marchandiſe of Ethiopia, and of the Sabeans, men of ſtature ſhall come vnto thee, and they ſhalbe ſthine: they ſhall followe thee, and ſhall goe in chaines: they ſhall fall downe before thee, and make ſupplication vnto thee, ſaying, Surely, God is in thee, and there is none other God beſides.
15 Verily thou, O God, t hideſt thy ſelfe, O God, the ſauiour of Iſrael.
16 All they ſhalbe aſhamed and alſo confounded: they ſhall goe in confuſion together, that are the makers of images.
17 But Iſrael ſhall be ſaued in the Lord, with an euerlaſting ſaluation: yee ſhall not be aſhamed nor confounded, world without ende.
18 For thus ſaith the Lord (that created heauen, God himſelfe, that formed the earth, g I haue giuen thee ſtrength, power and authoritie.

h I ſend peace and warre, proſperitie, and aduerſitie, as Amos 3.6.
i He conforteth the Iewes, as if he would ſay, Though when ye looke to the heauens & earth for ſuccour, ye ſee nothing now but ſignes of Gods wrath, yet I will cauſe them to bring forth moſt certaine tokens of your deliuerance, and of the performance of my promiſe, which is meant by righteouſneſſe.
k I haue appointed Cyrus to this vſe and purpoſe.
l Hereby he bridleth their impacience, which is aduerſitie and credible murmure againſt God, and will not tarie his pleaſures willing that man ſhould match with his like, and not contend againſt God.
m That is, it is not perfitely made.
n Inſtead of murmuring, humble your ſelues, and aske what ye will for the conſolation of my children, and you ſhall be ſure of it, as ye are of theſe things which are interrogation, and make it the application of this ſimilitude. o That is, the ſtarres. p To wit, Cyrus, that I may ſhew by him the faithfulneſſe of my promiſe in deliuering my people. q Meaning freely, and without requeſt, or any gracious condition. r Theſe people were tributaries to the Perſians, and ſo king Artaxſhaſhte gaue this money toward the building of the Temple, Ezra. 7. 21. ſ Whereas before they were thine enemies, they ſhall now honour thee, and thou ſhalt rule them: which was accompliſhed in the time of Chriſt. t Hereby he exhorteth the Iewes to patience, though their deliuerance bee deferred for a time: ſhewing that they ſhould not repent their long patience, but the wicked and idolaters ſhall be deſtroyed.

u To wit, of man, but chiefly of his Church.
x As do the false gods, which giue vncertaine answeres.
y Al ye idolaters, which though you seeme to haue neuer so much worldly dignitie, yet in Gods sight you are vile & abiect.
z He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with the eye of faith.
a That is, that the thing which I haue promised, shalbe faithfully performed.
b The knowledge of God, and the true worshipping shalbe through al the world, Rom. 14.11. Phil.2.10. whereby he signifieth that we must not onely serue God in heart, but declare the same also by outward profession.
c Meaning, the faithfull shall seeke and confesse this. d All the contemners of God.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The destruction of Babylon and of their idols.
3 He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of his worke.

a These were the chiefe idoles of Babylon.
b Because they were of gold and siluer, the Medes and Persians caried them away.
c The beasts that caried the idoles, fell downe vnder their burden.
d He deuideth the idoles, which had neither soule nor sense.
e He sheweth the difference betweene the idoles and the true God: for they must bee caried of other, but God himselfe carieth his, as Deut. 32.11. f Seeing I haue begotten you, I will nourish and preserue you for euer. g The people of God seeing their owne calamitie, and the flourishing state of the Babylonians, should bee tempted to thinke that their God was not so mighty as the idoles of their enemies: therefore he describeth the originall of all the idoles, to make them to be abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can be spoken in their commendation, is but to proue them vile, Baruch. 6.25.

h Become wise, meaning that all idolaters are without wit or sense, like mad men.
i That is, Cyrus, which shall come as swift as a bird, and fight against Babylon. k Him by whom I haue appointed to execute that, which I haue determined.
l Which by your incredulitie would let the performance of my promise.
m He sheweth that mans incredulitie cannot abolish the promise of God, Rom. 3.3.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of Babylon, and the cause wherefore.

a Which hast lined in wealth and wantonnesse, and hast not yet bene ouercome by any enemy.
b Thy gouernment shall be taken from thee.
c Thou shalt be brought to most vile seruitude: for to turne the mill was the office of slaues.
d The things wherein she seeketh her greatest pride, shall be made vile, euen from the head to the foote.
e I will vse no humanitie nor pitie toward thee.
f The Israelites shall confesse, that the Lord doeth this for his Churches sake.
g For very shame, and hide thy selfe.
h They abused Gods iudgements, thinking that he punished the Israelites, because he would vtterly cast them off, and therefore in stead of pitying their misery, thou didest increase it.

i So that thy punishment shall be so great as is possible to be imagined.

k Thou didst thinke that thine owne wisedom & policie would have saued thee.

l He derideth their vaine confidence, that put their trust in any thing but in God, condemning also such vaine sciences, which serue to no vse, but to delude y people, & to bring them from depending onely on God.

m They shall vtterly perish, and no part of them remaine.

n They shall flee euery one to that place, which he thought by his speculations to be most sure: but they shall deceiue them.

thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, & for the great abundance of thine enchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse: thou hast sayd, None seeth me. Thy [k] wisedom & thy knowledge, they haue caused thee to rebell, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: desolation shall come vpon thee suddenly, yer thou be ware.

12 Stand now among thine enchanters, and in the multitude of thy soothsayers (with whom thou hast [l] wearied thy selfe from thy youth) if so be thou mayest haue profite, or if so be thou mayest haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the Astrologers, the starre-gazers, and prognosticators stand vp, and saue thee from these things, that shal come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shall burne them: they shal not deliuer their owne liues from the power of [p] flame: there shall be no coales [m] to warme at, nor light to sit by.

15 Thus shal they serue thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, euen the marchants from thy youth: euery one shal wander to his owne [n] quarter: none shall saue thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reproued. 11 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

h He detesteth this hypocrysie which vaunted themselues to be Israelites and were not so in deed.

i Meaning, the fountaine and stocke.

c They make a shew, as though they would haue none other God.

d He sheweth that they could not accuse him in any thing, forasmuch as he had performed whatsoeuer he had promised.

e I haue done for thee more then I promised, that thy stubbornnes and impudencie might haue bene ouercome.

f Hos. thou shouldest be deliuered out of Babylon.

g Will ye not acknowledge this my benefite and declare it vnto others?

HEare ye this, O house of Iaakob, which [h] are called by the name of Israel, & are come out of [i] the waters of Iudah: which sweare by the Name of the Lorde, and make mention of the God of Israell, but not in truth nor in righteousnesse.

2 For they are called of the holy citie, and stay themselues [c] vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared the former things of olde, and they went out of my mouth, and I shewed [d] them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew, that [e] thou art obstinate, & thine necke is an yron sinew, and thy browe braste,

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old: before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldest say, Mine idole hath done them, and my carued image, & my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, and will not ye [f] declare it? I haue shewed thee new things, euen new, & hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardest them not, least thou shouldest say, Behold, I [k] knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest know them, neither yet was thine eare opened of old: for I knewe that thou wouldest grieuously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a [l] transgressour from the wombe.

9 For my Names sake will I defer te my wrath, and for my praise will I refraine it from thee, [m] that I cut thee off.

10 Behold, I haue [n] refined thee, but not as siluer: I haue [o] chosen thee in the [p] fornace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for how should my Name [q] be polluted? [r] surely I will not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Iaakob, and Israel my called, [s] I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath layd the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heauens: when I call them, [t] they stand vp together.

14 All you, assemble your selues, & heare: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loued [u] him: he will doe his will in Babel, and his arme shall be against the Caldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him: I haue brought him, and his way shall prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in [x] secret from the [y] beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there: and now the Lord God and his spirit hath [z] sent me.

17 Thus sayth the Lord thy Redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the Lorde thy God, which teach thee [a] to profite, and lead thee by the way, that thou shouldest goe.

18 Oh that thou hadest hearkened to my commandements: then had thy prosperitie bene as the flood, and thy righteousnesse as the waues of the Sea.

19 Thy seede also had bene as the sand, & the fruit of thy body like the grauel thereof: his [b] name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 [c] Go ye out of Babel: flee ye from the Caldeans, with a voice of ioy tell & declare this: [d] he hath vttered it vnto the end of the earth: say ye, The Lorde hath redeemed his seruant Iaakob.

21 And they [e] were not thirstie: hee led them through the wildernesse: he caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no [f] peace, sayth the Lorde, vnto the wicked.

h Shewing that mans arrogancie is the cause why God doeth not declare all things at once, least they should attribute this knowledge to their owne wisedome.

i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliuerance was as the birth of the Church.

k As it was my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercy that must saue thee.

l For I had respect to thy weakues and infirmity: for in stiffe nect there is some parentelle, but in vs there is nothing but drosse.

m I tooke thee out of the fornace where thou shouldest haue bene consumed.

n God loueth the saluation of his with his owne honour: so that they cannot perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deu. 32.27.

o Reade Chap. 42.1.

p Reade Chap. 41.4.

q To obey me, and to do whatsoeuer I command them.

r Meaning, Cyrus, whom he had chosen to destroy Babylon.

s Since the time that I declared my selfe to your fathers.

t This the Prophet speaketh for himselfe, and to assure them of these things.

u What things shal do thee good.

x That is the prosperous estate of Israel.

y After that he had forewarned them of their captiuitie, and the cause thereof, he sheweth the great ioy that shal come of their deliuerance.

z He sheweth that it shal be as easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt.

a This he speaketh, that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in whom was neither faith nor repentance, as Chap. 57.21.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The Lord exhorteth all nations to beleeue his promises. 6 Christ is the saluation of all that beleeue, and will deliuer them from the tyranny of their enemies.

HEare ye me, O Iles, and hearken, yee people from farre. The Lord hath called a me from the b womb, and made mention of my name from my mothers belly.

2 And hee hath made my mouth like a sharpe c sworde: vnder the shadowe of his hand hath he d hid me, and made me a choisen shaft, and hid me in his quiuer,

3 And sayde vnto me, Thou art my seruante e Israel, for I will be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine & for nought but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

5 And now saieth the Lorde that formed me from the wombe to be his seruant, that I may bring Iaakob againe to him (though Israel be not gathered, yet shal I be glorious in the eies of the Lord: and my God shal be my strength.)

6 And he sayd, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my seruant, to raise vp the tribes of Iaakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my saluation vnto the end of the world.

7 Thus saith the Lorde the redeemer of Israel, & his holy one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a f seruant of rulers, kings shall see, and arise, and princes shal worship, because of g Lord, that is faithfull: and the Holy one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, h In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluation haue I holpen thee: and I will preserue thee, and wil giue thee for a couenant of the people, that thou mayest raise vp the i earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

9 That thou mayest say to the k prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darknes, Shew your selues: they shall feede in the wayes, and their l pastures shall be in al the tops of the hils.

10 They shall not be hungry, neither shal they be thirstie, neither shall the heate smite them, nor the sunne: for he that hath compassion on them, shall leade them, euen to the springes of waters shall he driue them.

11 And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my pathes shall be exalted.

12 Beholde, these shall come from farre: and loe, these from the North, and from the west, and these from the land of m Sinim.

13 Reioyce, O heauens: and be ioyfull, O earth: burst forth into praise, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zion sayd, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her child, and not haue compassion on the sonne of her womb? though they should forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I haue grauen thee vpon the palmes of mine n hands: thy walls are euer in my sight.

17 Thy builders make o haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eyes round about and behold: all these gather themselues together and come to thee: as I liue saith the Lorde, thou shalt surely p put them all vpon thee as a garment and girde thy selfe with them like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shall surely be now narow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that deuoure thee, shall bee farre away.

20 The children of thy barrennes shall say againe in thine eares, The place is straite for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren and desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro? and who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?

22 Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will lift vp mine hand to the q Gentiles, and set vp my standard to the people, and they shall bring thy sonnes in their armes: & thy daughters shall bee caried vpon their shoulders.

23 And kings r shall bee thy nursing fathers, and Queenes shall bee thy nurses: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and licke vp the s dust of thy feete: and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed that waite for me.

24 Shall the praye bee t taken from the mightie? or the iust captiuitie deliuered?

25 But thus sayth the Lorde, u Euen the captiuitie of the mightie shall bee taken away: and the pray of the tyrant shall bee deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will saue thy children,

26 And will feede them that spoyle thee, with x their owne flesh, and they shall bee drunken with their owne blood, as with a This is spoken in the person of Christ, to assure the faithfull that these promises should come to passe: for they were all made in him, and in him should he performed.

b This is meant of the time that Christ should be manifested to the world, as Psal. 2.7

c By the sword and shaft, he signifieth the vertue and efficacie of Christes doctrine.

d God hath taken me on his protection and defence: this chiefly is meant of Christ, and may also be applied to the ministers of his word.

e By Israel is meant Christ, & all the body of the faithfull, as also members and their head.

f Thus Christ in his members complaineth that his labour and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approued of God.

g Though the Iewes refuse my doctrine, yet God will approoue my ministerie, h To declare my Gospel to the Gentiles, Chap. 42.6. acts 13.47. luk. 2.32.

i Meaning the Iewes whom tyrants kept in bondage.

k The benefite of their deliuerance shall be so great, that great and small shal acknowledge it, and reuerence God for it.

l Thus he speaketh of his Church, when he would shew his mercie toward it, 2. Corinth. 6.2.

m Meaning, Christ alone.

n Signifying, that before Christ renew the earth by his word, there is nothing but confusion and disorder.

o To them that are in the prison of sinne and death.

p Being in Christs protection, they shall bee safe against all dangers, and free from the feare of the enemies.

q Meaning that there should be nothing in their way from Babylon, that should hinder or hurt them: but this is accomplished spiritually.

r Meaning, the South countrey, so that Christ shall deliuer his from all the parts of the world.

s Read Chap. 44 23.

t He obiecteth what the faithfull might say in their long affliction, and answereth thereunto to comfort them, with a most proper similitude and full of consolation.

u Because I would not forget thee.

x Meaning, the good order of policie and discipline.

y I haue a continuall care to build thee vp again, and to destroy thine enemies.

z He sheweth what are the ornaments of the Church: to haue many children, which are assembled by the word of God, and gouerned by his Spirit.

a He sheweth that Christ will not onely gather this great number of the Iewes, but also of the Gentiles.

b Meaning, that kings shall be conuerted to the Gospel, and beestow their power and authoritie for the preseruation of the Church.

being ioyned with the Church, they shall humble themselues to Christ their head, and giue him all honour.

c He maketh this an obiection, as though the Caldeans were strong, and had them in iust possession.

d He maketh this an obiection, as though the Caldeans were strong, and had them in iust possession.

e This is the answere to their obiection, that none is stronger then the Lord, neither hath a more iust title vnto them.

f I will cause them to destroy one another, as Iudges 7.22.2. Chron. 20.22. Chap. 19.2.

sweete wine: and all flesh shal know that I the Lord am thy Sauior and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Iaakob.

CHAP. L.

1 The Iewes forsaken for a time. 3 Yet the power of God is not diminished, 5 Christes obedience and victory.

THus sayeth the Lord, Where is that a bill of your mothers diuorcement, b whom I haue cast off? or who is the creditor to who I sold you? Behold, for your iniquities are ye sold, and because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

2 Wherfore c came I, and there was no man? I called, and none answered: is mine hand so shortened, that it cannot helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? Behold, at my rebuke I dry vp the sea: I make the floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heauens with darknesse, and make a sacke their couering.

4 The Lorde GOD hath giuen me a tongue of the learned, that I should know to minister a word in time to him that is b wearie: he will raise me vp in the morning: in the morning hee will waken mine eare to heare as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious: neither turned I backe.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the b smiters, and my cheekes to the nippers: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will helpe me, therfore shall I not bee confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is neere that iustifieth me: who will contend with me? Let vs stand together: who is mine aduersary? let him come neere to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God will helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? loe, they shall waxe old as a garment: the moth shall eate them vp.

10 h Who is among you that feareth the Lorde? let him heare the voyce of his seruant: he that walketh in darknes, and hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and stay vpon his God.

11 Behold, all you kindle a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in the light of your fire, and in the sparkes that yee haue kindled. This shall yee haue of mine hand: ye shall lie downe in sorow.

a Meaning, that hee had not forsaken her, but through her own occasion, as Hos. 2.2.

b Which should declare that I haue cut her off: meaning, that they could shew none.

c Signifying, that he sold them not for any debt or pouerty, but that they sold themselues to sinnes to buy their own lusts & pleasures.

d He came by his Prophets and ministers, but they would not beleeue their doctrine & counsel.

e Am I not as able to helpe you, as I haue holpen your fathers of old, when I dried vp the red sea, and killed the fish in the riuers, and also afterward in Iordan?

f As I did in Egypt in token of my displeasure, Exod. 10.21.

g The Prophet doeth represent here the person and charge of them that are iustly called to the ministery of Gods word.

h To him that is oppressed by affliction and misery.

i As they that are taught, and made meeke by him.

k I did not shrinke from God for any persecution or calamitie. Whereby hee sheweth that the true ministers of God can looke for none other recompense of the wicked but after this sort, and also what is their comfort.

l Shewing that it is a rare thing that any should obey aright Gods true ministers, though they labour to bring them from hel to heauen.

m You haue sought consolation by your owne deuises, and haue refused the light and consolation, which God hath offered: therefore ye shall remaine in sorow, and not be comforted.

CHAP. LI.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahams example. 7 Not to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Ierusalem, 22 And her deliuerance.

HEare me, ye a that follow after righteousnes, & ye that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the b rocke, whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, & he shall make her desert c like Eden, and her wildernes like the garden of the Lord: ioy & gladnesse shall be found therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken ye vnto me, my people, and giue eare vnto mee, O my people: for a d Lawe shall proceede from me, and I will bring forth my iudgment for the light of the people.

5 My e righteousnes is neere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine f armes shal iudge the people: the yles shal wait for me, & shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the a heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my saluation shall bee for euer, and my righteousnesse shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken vnto mee, ye that know righteousnesse, the people in whose heart is my Law. Feare ye not the reproch of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the moth shall eate them vp like a garment, and the worme shall eate them like woll: but my righteousnes shall be for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp, as b in the old time in the generations of the world. Art not thou the same, that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the b dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the sea, euen the waters of the great deep, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lorde shall g returne, and come with ioy vnto Zion, and euerlasting ioy shall be vpon their head: they shal obtaine ioy and gladnes: and sorow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, euen I am he, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou shouldest feare a mortall man, and the sonne of man, which shall bee made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the Lorde thy maker, that hath spread out the heauens, and layed the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue h hasteneth to be loosed, and that he should not dig in the pit, nor that his bread should faile.

15 And I am the Lorde thy God that diuided a He comforteth the Church that they should not be discouraged for their small number.

b That is, to Abraham, of whom ye were begotten, and to Sarah of whom ye were borne.

c As plentifull as Paradise, Gen. 2.3.

d I will rule and gouerne my Church by my word and doctrine.

e The time that I will accomplish my promise.

f My power and strength.

g He encourageth them that are banished, and willeth them to be of good comfort in all things, for he will preserue his Church in the midst of all their dangers.

b He putteth them in remembrance of his great benefit for their deliuerance out of Egypt, that thereby they might learne to trust in him constantly.

i Meaning, Egypt. Psal. 87. 4.

k To wit, Pharaoh, Ezek. 29. 3.

m He comforteth them by the short time of their banishment for in 70. yeeres they were restored, & the greatest Empire of the world destroied.

uided the Sea, when his wanes roared: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

16 And I haue put my wordes in thy [a] mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadowe of mine hande, that I may plant the [b] heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Ierusalem, which hast dronken at the hande of the Lord the [c] cup of his wrath: thou hast dronken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes, whome shee had brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that shee hath brought vp.

19 These two [d] things are come vnto thee: who will lament thee? desolation and destruction, and famine, and the sword: by whom shall I [e] comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, & lie at the head of all the streets as a wild bull in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and dronken, but [f] not with wine.

22 Thus sayth thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I haue taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, euen the dregs of the cup of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that [g] vexe thee: which haue sayd to thy soule, Bow downe, that we may go ouer, and thou hast layd thy body as the ground, and as the streete to them that went ouer.

a Meaning, of Iesiah, and of all true ministers, who are defended by his protection.
b That all things may be restored in heauen and earth, Eph. 1.10.
c Thou hast bin iustly punished & sufficiently, cs Chap. 40.2. and this punishment in the elect is by measure, and according as God giueth grace to beare it: but in the reprobate it is the iust vengeance of God to driue them to an horrible end and madnes, as here. 2 Pet. 2.16.
d Whereof the one is outward, as of the things that come to the body: as warre & famine: and the other is inward, and appertaineth to the mind: that is, to be without comfort: therefore he sayth, How shalt thou be comforted? e But with trouble and feare.

CHAP. LII.

1 A consolation to the people of God. 7 Of the messengers thereof.

ARise, arise: put on thy strength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beauty, O Ierusalem, the holy citie: for henceforth there shall no [a] more come into thee the vncircumcised and the vncleane.

2 Shake thy selfe from the [b] dust: arise and sit downe, O Ierusalem: loose the bands of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter, Zion.

3 For thus sayth the Lord, Ye were sold for [c] nought: therefore shall ye be redeemed without money.

4 For thus sayth the Lorde God, My people went [d] downe aforetime into Egypt to sojourne there, & Asshur [e] oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore what haue I here, sayth the Lorde, that my people is taken away for nought, and they that rule ouer them, make them to howle, sayth the Lorde: and my Name all the day continually is [f] blasphemed?

6 Therefore my people shall knowe my Name: therefore they shall knowe in that day, that I am he that doe speake: behold, it is I.

7 How [g] beautiful vpon the mountaines are the feete of him that declareth and publisheth peace! that declareth good tidings, and publisheth saluation, saying vnto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 [h] The voice of thy watchmen shall bee heard: they shall lift vp their voice, & ſhoute together: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion.

9 O ye desolate places of Ierusalem, be glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people: he hath redeemed Ierusalem.

10 The Lorde hath made [i] bare his holy arme in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the endes of the earth shall see the saluation of our God.

11 [k] Depart, depart ye: goe out from thence, and touch no vncleane thing: go out of the midst of her: be ye cleane, that [l] beare the vessels of the Lord.

12 For ye shall not goe out with [m] haste, nor depart by fleeing away: but the Lorde will goe before you, and the God of Israel will gather you together.

13 Behold, my [n] seruant shall prosper: he shall be exalted and extolled, and bee very high.

14 As many were astonied at thee (his visage was so [o] defourmed of men, and his fourme of the sonnes of men) so [p] shall hee sprinkle many nations: the Kings shall shut their [q] mouthes at him: for that which had not bene told them, shall they see, and that which they had not heard, shal they [r] vnderstand.

f To wit, by the wicked, which thinke that I haue no power to deliuer them.
g Signifying, that the ioy and good tidings of their deliuerance should make their affliction in the meane time more easie: but this is chiefly meant of the spiritual ioy, as Nahum 1.15. rom. 10.15.
h The Prophets which are thy watchmen, shall publish this thy deliuerance: this was begun vnder Zerubbabel, Ezra and Nehemiah, but was accomplished vnder Christ.
i As ready to smite his enemies and to deliuer his people.
k He warneth the faithfull not to pollute themselues with the superstitions of the Babylonians, as Chap. 48.20. 2 Cor. 6.17.
l For the time is at hand, that the Priests and Leuites chiefly (and so by them all the people which shall bee as Leuites in this office) shall carie home the vessels of the Temple, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken away.
m As your fathers did out of Egypt.
n Meaning Christ, by whom our spirituall deliuerance should bee wrought, whereof this was a figure.
o In the corrupt iudgement of man, Christ in his person was not esteemed.
p He shall spread his word through many nations.
q In signe of reuerence, and as being astonished at his excellencie.
r By the preaching of the Gospel.

CHAP. LIII.

1 Of Christ and his kingdome, whose word fewe will beleeue. 6 All men are sinners. 11 Christ is our righteousnesse. 12 And is dead for our sinnes.

WHo [a] will beleeue our report? and to whom is the [b] arme of the Lorde reuealed?

2 But hee shall growe vp before him as a [c] branch, and as a [d] roote out of a dry [e] ground: hee hath neither fourme nor beautie: when wee shall see him, there shalbe no fourme that we should desire him.

a The Prophet sheweth that very fewe shall receiue this their preaching of Christ, and of their deliuerance by him, Iohn 12.38. rom. 10.16.
b Meaning, that none can beleeue, but whose hearts God toucheth with the vertue of his holy Spirit.
c The beginning of Christes kingdom shall be small, and contemptible in the sight of man, but it shal grow wonderfully, and flourish before God.
d Read Chap. 11.1.

e Which was by Gods singular prouidence for the comfort of sinners, Heb. 4.15

f That is, the punishment due to our sinnes: for the which he hath both suffred, and made satisfaction, Matth. 18.17. 1. Pet. 2.24.

g We iudged euil thinking that he was punished for his owne sinnes, and not for ours.

h He was chastised for our reconciliation, 1. Cor. 15.3.

i Meaning, the punishment of our iniquitie, and not the fault it selfe.

k But willingly and patiently obeyed his fathers appointment, Matth. 26 63. Actes 8.32.

l From the crosse, and graue, after that he was condemned.

m Though he died for sinne, yet after his resurrection he shall liue for euer: and this his death is to restore life to his members, Rom. 6.9.

n God the Father deliuered him into the hands of the wicked, & to the powers of the world to doe with him what they would.

o Christ by offering vp himselfe shall giue life to his church, & so cause them to liue with him for euer.

p That is, the fruite and effect of his labour, which is the saluation of his Church.

q Christ shall iustifie by faith through his word, whereas Moses could not iustifie by the Law.

r Because he humbled himselfe, therefore he shalbe exalted to glory, Phil. 2.7,8.

s That is, of all that beleeue in him.

3 He is dispised and reiected of men: he is a man full of sorowes, and hath experience of infirmities: we hid as it were our faces from him: hee was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our infirmities, and caried our sorowes: yet we did iudge him as plagued, and smitten of God, and humbled.

5 But hee was wounded for our transgressions, he was broken for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was vpon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheepe haue gone astray, we haue turned euery one to his owne way, and the Lorde hath laid vpon him the iniquitie of vs all.

7 Yet was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet did he not open his mouth: hee is brought as sheepe to the slaughter, and as a sheepe before her shearer is dumme, so he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was taken out from prison, and from iudgement: and who shal declare his age? for he was cut out of the land of the liuing: for the transgression of my people was he plagued.

9 And he made his graue with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickednesse, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet the Lord would breake him, & make him subiect to infirmities: when hee shall make his soule an offering for sinne, he shall see his seede and shal prolong his dayes, & the will of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

11 He shal see of the trauaile of his soule, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous seruant iustifie many: for he shall beare their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I giue him a portion with the great, and he shall diuide the spoyle with the strong, because hee hath powred out his soule vnto death, and he was counted with the transgressors, and he bare the sinne of many, and prayed for the trespassers.

CHAP. LIIII.

1 Most of the Gentiles shall become the Gospell then of the Iewes. 7 God looketh but for a time, to whom afterward he sheweth mercie.

REioyce, O barren that did not beare: breake forth into ioy and reioyce, thou that trauelest not trauaile with childe: for the desolate hath mo children the the married wife, sayeth the Lord.

2 Enlarge the place of thy tents, and let them spread out the curtaines of thine habitations: spare not, stretch out thy cordes, and make fast thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy seede shall possesse the Gentiles and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not: for thou shalt not bee ashamed, neither shalt thou be confounded: for thou shalt not be put to shame: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproch of thy widowhood any more.

5 For hee that maketh thee, is thine husband (whose Name is the Lorde of hostes) and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel, shal be called the God of the whole world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirite, and as a young wife when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a litle while haue I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment in mine anger, I hid my face from thee for a little season, but with euerlasting mercie haue I had compassion on thee, sayth the Lord thy redeemer.

9 For this is vnto me as the waters of Noah: for as I haue sworne that the waters of Noah should no more goe ouer the earth, so haue I sworne that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountaines shall remoue, and the hils shall fall downe: but my mercy shal not depart from thee, neither shall the couenant of my peace fall away, sayth the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, beholde, I will lay thy stones with the carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with sapphires, 12 And I will make thy windowes of Emeraudes, and thy gates shining stones and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shall bee taught of the Lord, and much peace shall bee to thy children.

14 In righteousnes shalt thou bee established, and bee farre from oppression: for thou shalt not feare it: and from feare, for it shall not come neere thee.

15 Beholde, the enemie shall gather himselfe, but without me: whosoeuer shall gather himselfe in thee, against thee, shall fall.

16 Beholde, I haue created the smith that bloweth the coales in the fire, and him that bringeth foorth an instrument for his worke, and I haue created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and euery tongue, that shall rise against thee in iudgement, thou shalt condemne. This is the heritage of the Lordes seruants, a After that he hath declared the death of Christ, he speaketh to the Church, because it should seeke the fruit of the same, & collect her barren, because that in the captiuitie she was as a widow wont hope to haue any children.

b The Church in this her affliction and captiuitie shall bring forth mo children the when she was at libertie: or this may be spoken by admiration, considering the great number that should come of her. Her deliuerance vnder Cyrus was as her childhood, & therefore this was accomplished, whe she came to her age, which was vnder the Gospel, c Signifying that for a great number of children, that God should giue her, she should seeme to lacke roome to lodge them.

d The afflictions which thou suffredst at the beginning.

e When as thou wast refused for thy sinnes, Chap. 50.1.

f That did regenerate thee by his holy Spirit.

g His glory shall shine through the whole world, which seemed before to be shut vp in Iudea.

h As a wife which wast forsaken in thy youth.

i As sure as the promise that I made to Noah, that the waters should no more ouerflowe the earth.

k Hereby hee declareth the excellent estate of the Church vnder Christ, Or, Iasper, or Pearle.

l By the bearing of his word and inward working of his Spirit.

m In stabilitie and sure estate, in that it shall stand for euer.

n And therefore shall not preuaile.

o Meaning, the domesticall enemies of the Church, as are the hypocrites.

p Signifying hereby that man can doe nothing but so farre as God giueth power: for seeing that al are his creatures, her must needs gouerne and guide them,

and

and their righteousnesse is of mee, sayeth the Lord.

CHAP. LV.

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 Gods counsels are not as mans. 12 The ioy of the faithfull.

HO, every one that a thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and yee that haue b no siluer, come, buy, and eate: come, I say, buy c wine and milke without siluer and without money.

2 Wherefore do ye lay out siluer and not for bread? d and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto mee, and eate that which is good, and let your soule delite in e fatnesse.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me: heare, and your soule shall liue, and I will make an euerlasting couenant with you, euen the f sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Behold, I gaue g him for a witnesse to the people, for a Prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Beholde, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, h and a nation that knew not thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and the holy one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seeke yee the Lorde while he may i be found, call ye vpon him while he is neere.

7 Let the wicked k forsake his wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he will haue mercie vpon him: and to our God, for he is very ready to forgiue.

8 For my l thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your wayes my wayes, saieth the Lord.

9 For as the heauens are higher then the earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughtes about your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine commeth downe and the snow from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring foorth and bud, that it may giue seede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth:

11 So shall my m word be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto mee voyde, but it shall accomplish that which I will, & it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall goe out with ioy, and be led foorth with peace: the n mountaines and the hils shall breake foorth before you into ioy, and all the trees of the field shal clap their hands.

13 For thornes, there shall growe firre trees: for nettls shal growe the myrtle tree, and it shall be to the Lord o for a name, and for an euerlasting p signe that shall not be taken away.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against Shepheards that deuoure their flocke.

THus saith the Lorde, a Keepe iudgment and doe iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come, and my b righteousnesse to be reuealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doth this, and the sonne of man which layeth holde on it: bee that keepeth the c Sabbath and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which d is ioyned vnto the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separated me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the Lorde vnto the Eunuches, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth mee, and take holde of my couenant,

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine e House and within my walles a place and a f name better then of the sonnes and of the daughters: I will giue them an euerlasting name, and that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, and to loue the Name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and embraceth my couenant,

7 Them will I bring also to mine holy mountaine, and make them ioyfull in mine House of prayer: their burnt g offrings and their sacrifices shall bee accepted vpon mine altar: for mine House shalbe called an House of prayer for h all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet will I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye i beastes of the field, come to deuoure, euen all ye beasts of the forest.

10 Their k watchmen are all blind: they haue no knowledge: they are all dumbe dogs: they cannot barke: they lie and sleep and delite in sleeping.

11 And these greedy dogs can neuer haue enough: and these shepheards cannot vnderstande: for they all looke to their owne way, euery one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

12 Come, I will bring wine, and we will fill our selues with strong drinke, and to l morow shalbe as this day, and much more abundant.

a Christ by proposing his graces and gifts to his Church, exempteth the hypocrites which are full with their imagined works, and the Epicures, which are full with their worldly lusts, and so thirst not after these waters.
b Signifying, that Gods benefites cannot be bought for money.
c By waters, wine, milke and bread, he meaneth all things necessarie to the spirituall life, as these are necessarie to this corporall life.
d He reproueth their ingratitude, which refuse those things that God offereth willingly, and in the meane time spend neither cost nor labour to obtaine those which are nothing profitable.
e You shall be fed abundantly.
f The same couenant, which through my mercie I ratified and confirmed to Dauid that it should be eternall. 2. Sam. 7. 13. Psal. 89. 34.
g Meaning, Christ, of whom Dauid was a figure.
h To wit, the Gentiles, which before thou diddest not receiue to be thy people.
i When he offereth himselfe by the preaching of his word.
k Hereby hee sheweth that repentance must be ioyned with faith, and how wee cannot call vpon God aright, except the fruites of our faith appeare.
l Although you are not soone reconciled one to another, and iudge mee by your selues, yet I am most easie to be reconciled, yea, I offer my mercies to you.
m If these small things haue their effect, as dayly experience sheweth, much more shall my promise which I haue made and confirmed, being to iustifie the thing which I haue spoken for your deliuerance.
n Reade Chap. 44. 23. and 49. 13.
o To set forth his glory.
p Of Gods deliuerance, and that he will neuer forsake his Church.
a God sheweth what he requireth of them after that he hath deliuered them: to wit, the works of charity, whereby true faith is declared.
b Which I will declare toward you, and powre into your hearts by my spirit.
c Vnder the Sabbath he comprehendeth the whole seruice of God and true religion.
d Let none thinke himselfe vnmeete to receiue the graces of the Lorde: for the Lord will take away all impediments, and will forsake none which will keepe his true religion and beleeue in him.
e Meaning, in his Church.
f They shall bee called after my people, and be of the same religion: yea, vnder Christ the dignitie of the faithfull shalbe greater then the Iewes were at that time.
g Hereby he meaneth the spirituall seruice of God, to whom the faithfull offer continuall thanksgiuing, yea, themselues and all that they haue as a liuely and acceptable sacrifice.
h Not onely for the Iewes, but for all others, Mat. 21. 13.
i Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. Thus he speaketh to feare the hypocrites, and to assure the faithfull, that when this cometh, they may know that it was told them before.
k He sheweth that this affliction shall come through the fault of the gouernors, prophets, and pastors, whose ignorance, negligence, auarice, and obstinacie prouoked Gods wrath against them.
l We are well yet, and to morow shalbe better: therefore let vs not feare the plagues, before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations, which were made them in the Name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

1 God taketh away the good, that hee should not see the horrible plagues to come. 3 Of the wicked idolaters, 9 And their vaine confidence.

THe righteous perisheth, and no man conſidereth it in heart: and mercifull men are taken away, and no man vnderſtandeth that the righteous is taken away [a] from the euill to come.

2 [b] Peace ſhal come: they ſhal reſt in their beds, euery one that walketh before him.

3 But you [c] witches children, come hither, the ſeede of the adulterer, and of the whore.

4 On whom haue ye ieſted? vpon whom haue yee gaped and thruſt out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, & a falſe ſeed,

5 Inflamed with idoles vnder euery greene tree? and ſacrificing the [d] children in the valleyes vnder the tops of the rockes?

6 Thy portion is in the ſmooth ſtones [e] of the riuer: they, they are thy lot: euen to them haſt thou powred a drinke offering: thou haſt offered a ſacrifice. Should I delite in [f] theſe?

7 Thou haſt made thy bed vpon a very hie mountaine: thou wenteſt vp thither, euen thither wenteſt thou to offer ſacrifice.

8 Behinde the [h] doores alſo and poſtes haſt thou ſet vp thy remembrance: for thou haſt diſcouered thy ſelfe to another then mee, and wenteſt vp, & diddeſt [i] enlarge thy bed, and make a couenant betweene thee & them, and louedſt their bed in euery place where thou ſaweſt it.

9 Thou wenteſt [k] to the King with oyle, and diddeſt increaſe thine ointments and ſend thy meſſengers farre off, and didſt humble thy ſelfe vnto hell.

10 Thou wearieſt thy ſelfe in thy manifolde iourneyes, yet ſaydeſt thou not, [l] There is no hope: thou [m] haſt found life by thine hand, therefore thou waſt not grieued.

11 And whom diddeſt thou reuerence or feare, ſeeing thou haſt [n] lyed vnto mee, and haſt not remembred mee, neither ſet thy minde thereon? is it not becauſe I holde my peace, and that of [o] long time? therefore thou feareſt not me.

12 I will declare thy [p] righteouſnes and thy workes, and they ſhall not profit thee.

13 When thou crieſt, let them that thou haſt gathered together deliuer thee: but the winde ſhall [q] take them all away: vanitie ſhall pull them away: but he that truſteth in me, ſhall inherite the land, and ſhall poſſeſſe mine holy Mountaine.

14 [r] And hee ſhall ſay, Caſt vp, caſt vp: prepare the way: take vp the ſtumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus ſayth hee, that is hie and excellent, hee that inhabiteth the eternitie, whoſe Name is the Holy one, I dwell in the hie and holy place: with him alſo that is of a contrite and humble ſpirit, to reuiue the ſpirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth, [ſ] for the ſpirit ſhould faile before me: and I haue made the breath.

17 For his wicked [t] couetouſneſſe I am angry with him, and haue ſmitten him: I hid mee and was angry, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue ſeene his wayes, & will [x] heale him: I will leade him alſo, and reſtore comfort vnto him, and to thoſe that lament him.

19 I create the [y] fruite of the lippes to be peace: peace vnto them that are [z] far off, and to them that are neere, ſaith the Lord: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging ſea, that can [a] not reſt, whoſe waters caſt vp mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, ſaith my God, to the wicked.

a From the plague that is at hand, and alſo becauſe God wil puniſh the wicked.
b The ſoule of the righteous ſhalbe in ioy, and their body ſhall reſt in the graue vnto the time of the reſurrection, becauſe they walked before the Lord.
c He threatneth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of the Name of Gods people, derided Gods worde and his promiſes: boaſting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but becauſe they were not faithfull and obedient as Abraham was, he calleth them baſtards, and the children of ſorceters, which forſooke God and fled to wicked meanes for ſuccour.
d Reade Leuit. 18.21. 2.King. 23.10.
e Meaning, euery place was polluted with their idolatrie: or euery faire ſtone that they found, they made an idole of it.
f In the ſacrifices which you offering before theſe idoles, thoughte you did ſerue God.
g To wit, thine altars, in an open place like an impudent harlot, that careth not for the ſight of her husband.
h In ſtead of ſetting vp the word of God in the open places on the poſtes and doores to haue it in remembrance, Deuter. 6.9. and 27.1. thou haſt ſet vp ſignes and markes of thine idolatrie in euery place.
i That is, didſt increaſe thine idolatrie more and more.
k Thou diddeſt ſeeke the fauour of the Aſſyrians by gifts & preſents, to helpe thee againſt the Egyptians: and when they failed, thou ſoughteſt to the Babylonians, and more & more diddeſt torment thy ſelfe. l Although thou ſaweſt all thy labours to be in vaine, yet wouldeſt thou neuer acknowledge thy fault and leaue off.
m Hee deſcribeth their vnprofitable diligence, which thought to haue made all ſure, and yet were deceiued.
n Broken promiſe with mee.
o Meaning, that the wicked abuſe Gods lenitie, and grow to further wickednes.
p That is, thy naughtineſſe, idolatries, and impieties: which the wicked call Gods ſeruice: thus he deſcribeth their obſtinacie.
q Meaning, the Aſſyrians and other, whose helpe they looked for.
r God ſhall ſay to Darius and Cyrus.
ſ I will not vſe my power againſt fraile man whoſe life is but a blaſt.
t That is, for the vices and faults of the people, which is meant here by couetouſneſſe.
u Though they were obſtinate, yet I did not withdraw my mercy frō them.
x That is, I frame the ſpeech and wordes of my meſſengers which ſhal bring peace.
y As well to him that is in captiuitie, as to him that remaineth at home.
z Their cruell conſcience doeth euer torment them, and therefore they can neuer haue reſt, Reade Chap. 48.22.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods miniſters, 2 The workes of the hypocrites, 6 The faſt of the faithfull, 13 Of the true Sabbath.

CRy [a] aloude, ſpare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and ſhewe my people their tranſgreſſion, and to the houſe of Iaakob, their ſinnes.

2 Yet they [b] ſeeke mee dayly, and will know my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteouſly, and had not forſaken the ſtatutes of their God: they aſke of me the ordinances of iuſtice: they will draw neere vnto God, ſaying,

3 [c] Wherefore haue we faſted, and thou ſeeſt it not? we haue puniſhed our ſelues, and thou regardeſt it not. Beholde, in the day of your faſt you will ſeeke [d] your will, and requite all your debts.

4 Behold, ye faſt to ſtrife and debate, and to ſmite with the fiſt of [e] wickednes: ye ſhall not faſt as yee doe to day, to make your voyce to be [f] heard aboue.

5 Is it ſuch a faſt that I haue choſen, that a man ſhould afflict his ſoule for a day, and to bow downe his head, as a bull rush, and to lye downe in ſackcloth, and aſhes? wilt thou call this a faſting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the faſting, that I haue choſen a The Lord ſhal ſpeaketh to the Prophet, willing him to vſe all diligence and ſincerite to rebuke the hypocrites.

b They will ſeeme to worſhip me, and haue outward holineſſe.
c Hee ſetteth forth the malice and diſdaine of the hypocrites, which grudge againſt God, if their workes be not accepted.
d This he conuinceth the hypocrites by the ſecond table and by their duetie towarde their neighbour, that they haue neither faith nor religion.

e So long as ye vſe contention and oppreſſion, your faſting and prayer ſhall not be heard.

chosen, to loose the bandes of wickednesse, to take off the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake euery yoke?

f That you leaue off all your extortions.

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, & that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

g For in him thou seest thy selfe as in a glasse.

8 Then shall thy [a] light breake foorth as the morning, and thine health shall growe speedily: thy [b] righteousnesse shall goe before thee, and the glory of the Lorde shall embrace thee.

h That is, the prosperous estate wherewith God will blesse thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shal answere: thou shalt cry, and he shal say, Here I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting foorth of the [c] finger, and wicked speaking:

i The testimonie of thy goodnesse shall appeare before God and man.

10 If thou [d] powre out thy soule to the hungry, and refreshe the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the [m] darkenesse, and thy darkenesse shalbe as the noone day.

k Whereby is meant all maner of iniurie.

l That is, haue compassion on their miseries.

11 And the Lorde shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

m Thine aduersitie shalbe turned into prosperitie.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall builde the olde [n] waste places: thou shalt rayse vp the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the repayrer of the breach, and the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

n Signifying, that of the Iewes should come such as should build againe the ruines of Ierusalem and Iudea: but chiefly this is meant of the spirituall Ierusalem, whose builders were the Apostles.

13 If thou [o] turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, & shalt honour him, not doing thine owne waies, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word, o If thou refraine thy selfe from thy wicked workes.

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lorde, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the hie places of the earth, and feede thee with the heritage of Iaakob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of sinnes. 16 God alone will preserue his Church, though all men faile.

BEhold, [a] the Lords hand is not shortned, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heauie, that it cannot heare.

Numb. 11, 23. chap. 50. 2. Iere. 5. 25.

2 But [b] your iniquities haue separated betweene you and your God, & your sinnes haue hid his face from you, that he will not heare.

a Read cha. 1. 15.

b All men winke at the iniuries and oppressions, and none goe about to remedie them.

3 For your hands are defiled with [c] blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

c According to their wicked deuises, they hurt their neighbours.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man [d] contendeth for truth: they trust in vanitie, and speake vaine things: they conceiue mischiefe, and [e] bring forth iniquitie.

d What soeuer commeth from them, is poison & bringeth death.

e They are profitable to no purpose.

5 They hatch cockatrice [f] egges, and weaue the spiders [g] webbe: he that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

f That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies.

g Gods protection to defend vs.

6 Their webbes shall not be no garment, neither shall they couer themselues with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands.

h We are altogether destitute of counsell, and can finde no ende of our miseries.

7 Their feete run to euil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: whosoeuer goeth therein, shall not know peace.

i We expresse our sorowes by outward signes, some more, some lesse.

9 Therefore is [h] iudgement farre from vs, neither doeth [i] iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it is darkenes: for brightnesse, but we walke in darkenesse.

k This confession is generall to the Church to obteine remission of sinnes, and the Prophets did not exempt themselues from the same.

10 We [k] grope for the wall like the [l] blind, and wee grope as one without eyes: wee stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

l To wit, against our neighbours.

11 Wee roare all like [m] beares, and mourne like doues: wee looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

m There is neither iustice nor vprightnesse among men.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our [n] sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities n The wicked will destroy him.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, conceiuing and vttering out of the heart false [o] matters.

o Meaning, to doe iustice, and to remedie the things that were so farre out of order.

14 Therefore [p] iudgement is turned backeward, and iustice standeth farre off: for trueth is fallen in the streete, and equitie cannot enter.

p That is, his Church: or his arme did helpe it selfe, and did not seeke ayde of any other.

15 Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refraineth from euil, maketh himselfe a prey: and when the Lorn saw it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when hee saw that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. [q] Therefore his arme did [r] saue it, and his righteousnes it selfe did sustaine it.

q Signifying, that God hath all meanes at hand to deliuer his Church, and to punish their enemies.

17 For he put on righteousnes, as an habergion, and an [s] helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

r To wit, your enemies, which dwell in diuers places, and beyond the sea.

18 As to make recompense, as to requite the furie of the aduersaries with a recompense to his enimies: he will fully repay the [t] Ilands.

s Hee sheweth that there shal be great affliction in the Church, but God wil euer deliuer him.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the Sunne: for the enemie shall come like a flood: but the spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

t Whereby he declareth that the true deliuerance from sinne and Satan belongeth to none but to the children of God, whom he iustifieth.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto [u] them that turne from iniquitie in Iaakob, saith the Lord.

u Because the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, he ioyneth the one with the other, and promiseth to giue them both to his Church for euer,

21 And I will make this my Couenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirite, that is vpon thee, and my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, [x] shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy ſeede, nor out of the mouth of the ſeede of thy ſeede, ſayth the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

CHAP. LX.

3 The Gentiles ſhall come to the knowledge of the Goſpel. 8 They ſhall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They ſhall haue abundance, though they ſuffer for a time.

ARiſe, O Ieruſalem: bee bright, for thy [a] light is come, and the glory of the Lord is riſen vpon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenes ſhall couer the [b] earth, and groſſe darkenes the people: but the Lord ſhall ariſe vpon thee, and his glory ſhalbe ſeene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles ſhall walke in [c] thy light, and Kings at the brightneſſe of thy riſing vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and beholde: all [d] theſe are gathered, and come to thee: thy ſonnes ſhall come from farre, and thy daughters ſhall bee nourished at thy ſide.

5 Then thou ſhalt ſee & ſhine: thine heart ſhall be aſtonied and [e] enlarged, becauſe the multitude of the ſea ſhall be conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles ſhall come vnto thee.

6 The [f] multitude of camels ſhall couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah: all they of Sheba ſhall come: they ſhall bring golde and incenſe, and ſhew forth the praiſes of the Lord.

7 All the heepe of [g] Kedar ſhalbe gathered vnto thee: the rammes of Nabaioth ſhal ſerue thee: they ſhall come vp to be accepted vpon mine [h] altar: and I will beautifie the houſe of my glory.

8 Who are theſe I that flee like a cloud, and as the doues to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles ſhall waite for me, and the ſhippes [i] of Tarſhish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy ſonnes from farre, and their ſiluer, and their golde with them, vnto the name of the Lord thy God, and to the holy one of Iſrael, becauſe he hath glorified thee.

10 And the ſonnes of ſtrangers ſhall build vp thy walles, and their [k] kings ſhall miniſter vnto thee: for in my wrath I ſmote thee, but in my mercie I had compaſſion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates ſhall be open continually: neither day nor night ſhall they be ſhut, that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the [l] kingdome, that will not ſerue thee, ſhall perish: and thoſe nations ſhalbe vtterly deſtroyed.

13 The [m] glory of Lebanon ſhal come vnto thee, the firre tree, the elme and the box tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuarie: for I will glorifie the place of my [n] feete.

14 The ſonnes alſo of them that afflicted thee, ſhall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that deſpiſed thee, ſhall fall [o] downe at the ſoles of thy feete: and they ſhall call thee, the citie of the Lord, Sion of the Holy one of Iſrael.

15 Whereas thou haſt bene forſaken and hated, ſo that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glory, and a ioy from generation to generation.

16 Thou ſhalt alſo ſucke the milke of the Gentiles, and ſhalt ſucke the [p] breaſtes of Kings: and thou ſhalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Sauiour, and thy Redeemer, the mightie one of Iaakob.

17 For braſſe will I bring golde, and for iron wil I bring ſiluer, and for wood braſſe, and for ſtones iron. I will alſo make thy gouernement [q] peace, and thine exactours righteouſneſſe.

18 Violence ſhall no more be heard of in thy land, neither deſolation, nor deſtruction within thy borders: but thou ſhalt call [r] ſalvation thy walles, and praiſe, thy gates.

19 Thou ſhalt haue no more ſunne to ſhine by day, neither ſhall the brightneſſe of the [s] moone ſhine vnto thee: for the Lorde ſhalbe thine euerlaſting light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy ſunne ſhal never goe downe, neither ſhal thy moone be hidde: for the Lorde ſhalbe thine euerlaſting light, and the dayes of thy ſorow ſhalbe ended.

21 Thy people alſo ſhall be all righteous, they ſhall poſſeſſe the lande for euer, the [t] graffe of my planting ſhalbe the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one ſhall become as a [x] thouſand, and a ſmall one as a ſtrong nation: I the Lord will haſten it in due time.

CHAP. LXI.

1 Here preacheth that Chriſt ſhall be anoynted, and ſent to preach. 10 The ioy of the ſpirituall.

THe [a] Spirit of the Lord God is [b] vpon me, therefore hath the Lord anoynted me: he hath ſent me to preach good tidings vnto the poore, to binde vp the [c] broken hearted, to preach libertie to the captiues, and to them that are bound, the opening of the priſon,

2 To preach the [d] acceptable yeere of the Lorde, and the day of [e] vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne, a The time of thy proſperitie and felicitie: whereas ſpeaking of Babylon, he commanded her to goe downe, Chap. 47.1.

b Signifying, that all men are in darkeneſſe till God giue them the light of his ſpirit, and that this light ſhineth to none but to thoſe that are in his Church.

c Meaning, that Iudea ſhould be as the morning ſtarre, and that the Gentiles ſhould receiue light of her.

d An infinite number from all countreyes, as Chap. 49.18.

e For ioy: as the heart is drawen in for ſorowe.

f Meaning, that euery one ſhall honour the Lord with that wherewith he is able: ſignifying, that it is no true ſeruing of God, except we offer our ſelues to ſerue his glory, and all that wee haue.

g That is, the Arabians that haue great abundance of cattell.

h Becauſe the altar was a figure of Chriſt, Hebr. 13.10. he ſheweth that nothing can be acceptable to him, which is not offered to him by this altar, who was both the offering and the altar it ſelfe.

i Shewing what great number ſhall come to the Church, and with what great diligence and zeale.

k The Gentiles that are now enemies, ſhall become friends and ſetters foorth of the Church.

l Meaning, Cyrus and his ſucceſſours: but chiefly this is accompliſhed in them that ſerue Chriſt, being conuerted by his Goſpel.

m He ſheweth that God hath giuen all power and authoritie here in earth for the vſe of his Church: and that they which will not ſerue and profit the ſame, ſhall be deſtroyed.

n There is nothing ſo excellent, which ſhall not ſerue the neceſſitie of the Church.

o Signifying, that Gods maieſtie is not included in the temple, which is but the place for his feete, that we may learne to riſe vp to the heauens.

p To worſhippe their head Chriſt by obeying his doctrine.

q Both hie and low ſhalbe ready to helpe and ſuccour thee.

r Thy gouernors ſhall loue thee, & ſeeke thy wealth and proſperitie.

s Meaning, not a temporall felicitie, but a ſpirituall, which is fulfilled in Chriſtes kingdome.

t Signifying, that all worldly meanes ſhall ceaſe, and u The children of the Church ſhould be miraculouſly multiplied.

x Meaning, that the Church ſhall be increaſed, that Chriſt ſhall be all in all, 1 Cor. 15.28. Reuel. 21.22, & 22.5.

---

a He preacheth that Chriſt is anoynted with the Spirit without meaſure, Luke 4.18.

b This appertaineth to all the Prophets and miniſters of God, but chiefely to Chriſt, of whoſe abundant graces euery one receiueth according as it pleaſeth him to diſtribute.

c To them that are liuely touched with the feeling of their ſinnes.

d To preach the acceptable time when it pleaſed God to ſhew his good fauour to man, which S. Paul calleth the fulneſſe of time, Gal. 4.4.

e For when God deliuereth his Church, he puniſheth his enemies.

3 To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zion, and to giue vnto them beautie for ashes, the oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of gladnesse for the spirit of heauinesse, that they might bee called e trees of righteousnesse, the planting of the Lord, that hee might be glorified.

4 And they shall builde the olde waste places, and raise vp the former desolations, and they shall repaire the cities that were desolate and waste thorow many h generations.

5 And the strangers shall i stand & feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plowmen and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named k the Priests of the Lord, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: ye shall eate the l riches of the Gentiles, and shall be crowned with their glory.

7 For your shame you shall receiue m double, and for confusion n they shall reioyce in o their portion: for in their land they shall possesse the p double: euerlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement & hate q robberie for burnt offering, and I will direct their worke in trueth, and will make an euerlasting couenant with them.

9 And their r seed shalbe knowen among the Gentiles, and their buddes among the people. All that see them, shall know them, that they are the seede which the Lord hath blessed.

10 s I will greatly reioyce in the Lorde, and my soule shall bee ioyfull in my God: for hee hath clothed mee with the garments of saluation, and couered me with the robe of righteousnesse: hee hath decked mee like a bridegrome, and as a bride tireth herselfe with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth foorth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sowen in it: so the Lorde God will cause righteousnesse to grow, and praise before all the heathen.

4 Ye shall no more bee sayde vnto thee, t Forsaken, neither shall it be sayd any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called ‖ Hephzi-bah, and thy land ‖ Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee and thy land shall haue an u husband.

5 For as a yong man marrieth a virgine, so shall thy sonnes x marrie thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set y watchmen vpon thy walls, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: z yee that are mindfull of the Lord, keepe not silence,

7 And giue him no rest, till he repaire, and vntill he set vp Ierusalem the a praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath swoorne by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I will no more giue thy corne to bee meate for thine enemies, and surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke it in the courtes of my Sanctuarie.

10 b Goe thorow, goe thorow the gates: prepare you the way for the people: cast vp, cast vp the way, and gather out the stones, and set vp a standerd for the people.

11 Beholde, the Lorde hath proclaimed vnto the ends of the world: c tell the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Sauiour commeth: beholde, his wages is with him, and d his worke is before him.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the Lord, & thou shalt be named, A e citty sought out, & not forsaken.

f Which was the signe of mourning.

p Whereas the Gentiles had dominion ouer the Iewes in times past, now they shal haue double authoritie ouer them, & possesse twise so much.
q I will not receiue their offering, which are extortioners, deceiuers, hypocrites, or that deprive me of my glory.
r That is, of the Church.
s He sheweth what shall be the affection, when they feele their deliuerance.
t Thou shalt no more be contemned as a woman forsaken of her husband.
u Or, my delight in her.
x Or, married.
y That it may be replenished with children.
z Forasmuch as they confesse one faith and religion with thee, they are in the same bond of mariage with thee: and they are called the children of the Church, inasmuch as Christ maketh her plentifull to bring foorth children vnto him.

1 The great desire that the Prophets haue had for Christes comming. 6 The diligence of the Pastours to preach.

a The Prophet sayeth that hee will neuer cease to declare vnto the people the good tidings of their deliuerance.
b Till they haue full deliuerance: and this the Prophet speaketh to incourage all other ministers to the setting foorth of Gods mercies toward his Church.
c Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto.
d Hee shall esteeme thee as deare and precious, as a king doth his crowne.

FOR Zions sake I will not a holde my tongue, and for Ierusalems sake I will not rest, vntill the righteousnesse thereof breake foorth as the b light, and saluation thereof as a burning lampe.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousnesse, and all Kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a newe name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a c crowne of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royall diademe in the hand of thy God.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 God shall destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. 7 Gods benefites towards his Church.

WHo is this that commeth a from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah? he is glorious in his apparell, and walketh in his great strength. b I speake in righteousnesse, and am mightie to saue.

2 c Wherefore is thine apparell red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winepresse?

3 I haue troden the winepresse alone, and of all people there was none with mee: for a This prophesie is against the Idumeans, and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is heere set forth all bloody after that he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe citie of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision, and the kinred of Abraham, claimed to themselues the chiefe religion and hated the true worshippers, Psal. 137. 7.

b God answereth them that asked this question, Who is this? &c. and sayth, Ye see now performed indeed the vengeance which my Prophets threatned, c An other question, to the which the Lord answereth.

I will

d Shewing, that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profit and deliuerance of his Church.

e God sheweth that he hath no neede of mans helpe for the deliuerance of his, and though men refuse to doe their duetie through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himselfe will deliuer his Church, and punish the enemies, reade Chap. 59. 16.

f I will so astonish them, and make them so giddie, that they shall not know which way to goe.

g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benefits in time past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles.

h For I did chuse them to be mine, that they should be holy, and not deceiue mine expectation.

i He bare their afflictions and griefes, as though they had bene his owne.

k Which was a witnesse of Gods presence: and this may be referred to Christ, to whom belongeth the office of saluation.

l That is, the people of Israel being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which hee had bestowed vpon their fathers in time past. m Meaning, Moses. n That is, in Moses, that hee might well gouerne the people: some referre the giuing of the Spirite to the people. o Peaceably and gently, as an horle is led to his pasture. p Hauing declared Gods benefites shewed to their forefathers, he turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces toward them. p Thy great affection which thou bearest toward vs. r Meaning, from the whole body of the Church. f Though Abraham would refuse vs to bee his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our father.

I will treade them in mine anger, and treade them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall bee sprinkled vpon my garments, and I will staine all my rayment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, & the yeere of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vphold: therefore mine owne arme helped me, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I will tread downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will remember the mercies of the Lorde and the prayses of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnesse toward the house of Israel, which he hath giuen them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For he sayd, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so he was their sauiour.

9 In al their troubles he was troubled, and the Angel of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie hee redeemed them, and he bare them and caried them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemie, and he fought against them.

11 Then he remembred the olde time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is hee that brought them vp out of the sea with the shepheard of his sheepe? where is hee that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 Hee led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an euerlasting Name.

13 He led them through the deepe, as an horse in the wildernesse, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so diddest thou lead thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 Looke downe from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holinesse, and of thy glory. Where is thy zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions? they are restrained from me.

16 Doubtlesse thou art our father; though Abraham bee ignorant of vs, and Israel know vs not, yet thou, O Lorde, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is for euer.

17 O Lorde, why hast thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holinesse haue possessed it, but a little while: for our aduersaries haue troden downe thy Sanctuarie.

19 Wee haue beene as they, ouer whom thou neuer bearest rule, and vpon whom thy Name was not called.

t By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs by whom we were gouerned, and so for ingratitude diddest deliuer vs vp to our own concupiscence and didst punish sinne by sinne according to thy iust iudgement.

u Meaning, for thy couenants sake made to Abraham, Izhak and Iakob his seruants. x That is, in respect of the promise which is perpetuall: albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan a thousand and foure hundreth yeere: and thus they lament, to moue God rather to remember his couenant, then to punish their sinnes.

CHAP. LXIIII.

t The Prophet prayeth for the sinnes of the people, 6 Mans righteousnesse is like a filthy cloth.

O That thou wouldest breake the heauens, and come downe, and that the mountaines might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burneth, as the fire causeth the waters to boyle, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou diddest terrible things, which wee looked not for, thou camest downe, and the mountaines melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the worlde they haue not heard nor vnderstoode with the eare, neither hath the eye seene another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou diddest meete him, that reioyced in thee, and did iustly: they remembred thee in thy wayes: beholde, thou art angry, for we haue sinned: yet in them is continuance, and we shall be saued.

6 But we haue all bene as an vncleane thing, and all our righteousnesse is as filthy cloutes, and we all doe fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the wind haue taken vs away.

7 And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that stirreth vp himselfe to take holde of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

8 But nowe, O Lorde, thou art our Father: we are the clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the worke of thine hands.

9 Be not angry, O Lorde, aboue measure, neither remember iniquity for euer: lo, we beseech thee, behold, we are all thy people.

a The Prophet continueth his prayer, desiring God to declare his loue toward his Church by miracles, and mighty power, as he did in mount Sinai.

b Meaning, the raine, haile, fire, thunder, and lightnings.

c Saint Paul vseth the same kinde of admiration, 2. Cor. 2. 9. marueiling at Gods great benefite shewed to his Church by the preaching of the Gospel.

d Thou shewedst fauour toward our fathers when they trusted in thee, and walked after thy commandements.

e They considered thy great mercies.

f That is, in thy mercies, which he calleth the wayes of the Lord.

g Thou wilt haue pitie vpon vs. h Wee are iustly punished and brought into captiuitie, because wee haue prouoked thee to anger, and though we would excuse our selues, yet our righteousnesse and best vertues are before thee as vile cloutes, or, (as some reade) like the menstrous clothes of a woman. i Albeit, O Lord, by thy iust iudgement thou mayest vtterly destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopte vs to be thy children. k For so the flesh iudgeth when God doth not immdiatly send succour.

l Which were dedicated to thy seruice and to call vpon thy Name.
m Wherein we reioyced and worshipped thee.
n That is at the contempt of thine owne glory: though our sinnes haue deserued this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glory thus to be diminished.

10 l Thine holy cities lie wast: Zion is a wildernesse, and Ierusalem a desert.
11 The house of our Sanctuarie and of our glory, m where our fathers praysed thee, is burnt vp with fire, and all our pleasant things are wasted.
12 Wilt thou hold thy selfe still n at these things, O Lord? wilt thou holde thy peace and afflict vs above measure?

CHAP. LXV.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles and the reiection of the Iewes. 13 The ioy of the elect, and the punishment of the wicked.

I Meaning the Gentiles, which knew not God, should seeke after him when he had moued their hearts with his holy spirit, Rom. 10.20.
b He sheweth the cause of the reiection of the Iewes, because they would not obey him for any admonition of his Prophets, by whom he called them continually, and stretched out his hand to draw them.
c He sheweth that to delite in our owne fantasies, is the declining from God and the beginning of all superstition and idolatrie.
d Which were dedicate to Idoles.
e Meaning, their altars, which he thus nameth by contempt.
f To consult with spirits and to coniure deuils, which was forbidden, Deut. 18.11. g Which was contrary to Gods commandement, Leuit. 11.7. deut. 14.8. h He sheweth that hypocrisie is euer ioyned with pride and contempt of others. i Their punishment shall neuer haue ende. k So that the remembrance thereof cannot be forgotten. l Shall bee both punished together, and this declareth howe the children are punished for their fathers faultes: to wit, when the same faultes or like are found in them.

I Haue beene sought of them that a asked not: I was found of them that sought me not: I sayde, Beholde me, beholde me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.
2 I haue b spread out mine handes all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, euen after their owne c imaginations:
3 A people that prouoked me euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in d gardens, and burneth incense vpon e bricks.
4 Which remaine among the f graues, and lodge in the deserts, which eat g swines flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.
5 Which say, h Stand apart, come not neere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath and a fire that i burneth all the day.
6 Behold, it is k written before me: I will not keepe silence, but will render it and recompense it into their bosome.
7 Your iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers (saith the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, and blasphemed me vpon the hilles: therefore will I measure their olde worke into their bosome.
8 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a m blessing is in it, so will I doe for my seruants sake, that I may not destroy them whole.
9 But I will bring a seede out of Iaakob, and out of Iudah, that shall inherite my mountaine: and mine elect shall inherite it, and my seruants shall dwell there.
10 And n Sharon shall be a sheepefolde, and the valley of Achor shall bee a resting place for the cattell of my people, that haue sought me.

11 But yee are they which haue forsaken the Lorde, and forgotten mine holy Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the o multitude, and furnish the drinke offerings vnto the number.
12 Therefore will I p number you to the sworde, and all you shall bow downe to the slaughter, because I called, and yee did not answere: I q spake, and yee heard not, but did euill in my sight, and did chuse that thing which I would not.
13 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, my seruants shall r eate, and yee shall be hungry: beholde, my seruants shall drinke, and yee shall bee thirstie: beholde, my seruants shall reioyce, and yee shall be ashamed.
14 Beholde, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, and yee shall crie for sorowe of heart, and shall howle for vexation of minde.
15 And yee shall leaue your name as a curse vnto my s chosen: for the Lorde God shall slay you, and call his seruants by t an other name.
16 He that shall blesse in the u earth shal blesse himselfe in the true God, and he that sweareth in the earth, shall sweare by the true God: for the former x troubles are forgotten, and shall surely hide themselues from mine eyes.
17 For loe, I will create y newe heauens and a newe earth: and the former shall not be remembred nor come into mind.
18 But bee yee glad and reioyce for euer in the things that I shall create: for behold, I will create Ierusalem as a reioycing, and her people as a ioy, 19 And I will reioyce in Ierusalem, and ioy in my people, and the voyce of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voyce of crying.
20 There shall be no more there a childe of yeeres, nor an olde man that hath z not filled his dayes: for hee that shall be an hundreth yeeres olde, shall die as a young man: but the sinner being a an hundreth yeeres olde shall be accursed.
21 And they shall b build houses and inhabite them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eate the fruite of them.
22 They shall not build, and another inhabite: they shall not plant, and another eate: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shall enioy in old age the worke of their hands.
23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor bring foorth in feare: for they are the seede of the blessed of the Lord, and their budes

o By the multitude and number he meaneth their innumerable idoles of whom they thought they could neuer haue ynough.
p Seeing you cannot number your gods, I will number you with the sword.
q By my prophets whom ye would not obey.
r By these words, Eate and drinke, he meaneth the blessed life of the faithfull, which haue alwayes consolation and full contentment of all things in their God, though sometimes they lacke these corporall things.
s Meaning that he would call the Gentiles, who should abhorre euen the very name of the Iewes for their infidelities sake.
t Then by the name of the Iewes.
u By blessing, and by swearing is meant the praysing of God for his benefits, and the true worshipping of him, which shall not be onely in Iudea, but through all the world.
x I will no more suffer my Church to bee desolate as in times past.
y I will so alter and change the state of my Church, that it shall seeme to dwell in a newe world.
z Meaning, in this wonderfull restauration of the Church, there should be no weakenesse of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all should bee fresh and flourishing: and this is accomplished in the heauenly Ierusalem, when all sinnes shall cease, and the teares shall be wiped away.
a Whereby he sheweth that the infidels and vnrepentant sinners haue no part of this benediction.
b He propoundeth to the faithfull the blessings which are contained in the Law, and so vnder temporall things comprehendeth the spirituall promises.

with them.

24 Yea, before they call, I will answere, and whiles they speake, I will heare.

c Read Chap. 11.6.

25 The c wolfe and the lambe shall feede together, and the lion shall eate strawe like the bullocke: and to the serpent dust shall be his meate. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy mountaine, sayeth the Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands 3 Hee despiseth sacrifices done without mercy and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles. 23 The perpetuall Sabbath. 24 The punishment of the wicked is everlasting.

Act.7.48.49. a My maiestie is so great, that it filleth both heauen and earth, and therfore cannot be included in a Temple like an idole: condemning hereby their vaine confidence, which trusted in the Temple and sacrifices.

THus sayeth the Lorde, a The heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footestoole: where is that house that yee will build vnto mee? and where is that place of my rest?

2 For all these things hath mine hand made, b and all these things haue bene, sayth the Lord: and to him will I looke, euen to him that is poore, and of c a contrite spirite and trembleth at my words.

b Seeing that both the Temple and the things therein with the sacrifices, were made and done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hath no need thereof, and that he can be without them, Psal 50.10.

c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiueth my doctrine with reuerence and feare.

3 Hee that killeth a bullocke, is as if hee d slewe a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if he cut off a dogs necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines bloud: hee that remembreth incense, as if he blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne waies, and their soule delighteth in their abominations.

d Therefore will I e chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none would answere: I spake and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

e To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiueth my doctrine with reuerence and feare.

d Because the Iewes thought themselues holy by offering of their sacrifices,

5 Heare the word of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his f word, Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my names sake, said, Let the Lorde be glorified: but he shall appeare to your ioy, and they shall bee ashamed.

6 g A voyce soundeth from the citie, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lorde, that recompenseth his enemies fully.

7 Before h shee trauelled, shee brought forth: and before her paine came, she was deliuered of a man childe.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seene such things? shall the earth bee brought forth in one i day? or shall a nation be borne at once? for assoone as Sion trauelled, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I k cause to trauell, & not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth and shall be barren, sayeth thy God?

10 Reioyce ye with Ierusalem, & be glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioy with her, all ye that mourne for her,

11 That yee may suck & bee satisfied with the breasts of her consolation: that yee may milke out and bee delighted with the brightnesse of her glory.

12 For thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I will extend l peace ouer her like a flood, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing streame: then shal ye sucke, ye shalbe borne vpon her sides, and bee ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shalbe comforted in Ierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce: and your m bones shall flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shall be knowen among his seruants, and his indignation against his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord will come with fire, and his charets like a whirlewinde, that he may n recompense his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord wil iudge with fire, and with his sworde all flesh, and the slaine of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctifie o themselues, and purifie themselues in the gardens behind one tree in the middes eating o swines flesh, and such abomination, euen the mouse shall be consumed together sayeth the Lord.

18 For I will visite their works, and their imaginations: for it shall come that I will gather all nations and tongues, and they shall come, and see my p glory.

19 And I will set a q signe among them, and will send those that p escape of them, vnto the nations of r Tarshish, s Pul, and t Lud, and to them that draw the u bowe, to x Tubal, and y Iauan, Iles afarre off, that haue not heard my fame, neither haue seene my glorie, & they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your z brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all i This shal paste the capacitie of man to see such a multitude that shall come vp at once, meaning, vnder the preaching of the Gospel, whereof they that came vp out of Babylon, where a figure.

k Declaring hereby, that as by his power and prouidence woman trauelleth, and is deliuered: so hath he power to bring forth his Church at his time appointed.

l That ye may reioyce for all the benefits that God bestoweth vpon his Church.

m I will giue her felicitie and prosperitie in great aboundance.

n Read Chap. 60.16.

o Ye shall be cherished as her dearely beloued children.

p Ye shall haue new strength and new beautie.

q This vengeance God began to execute at the destruction of Babylon, and hath euer continued against the enemies of his Church, and will doe till the last day, which shall be the accomplishment thereof. r Meaning, the hypocrites. s Whereby are meant them that did maliciously transgresse the Lawe, by eating beastes forbidden, euen to the mouse which nature abhorreth.

t The Gentiles shall bee partakers of that glory which before I shewed to the Iewes.

u I will make these that I chuse, that they perish not with the rest of the Infidels, whereby hee alludeth to the marking of the postes of his people, whome he preserued, Exodus 12.7.

x I will scatter the rest of the Iewes which escape destruction into diuers nations.

y That is, Cilicia.

z Meaning Affrica.

a To wit, Lydia, or Asia minor.

b Signifying the Parthians.

c Italie.

d Grecia.

e Meaning, the Apostles, Disciples, & others, which he did first chuse of the Iewes to preach vnto the Gentiles.

f That is, the Gentiles, which by faith shalbe made the children of Abraham as you are.

and in the meane season had neither faith nor repentance, God sheweth that he doeth no lesse detest these ceremonies, then he doeth the sacrifices of the heathen, who offered men, dogs and swine to their idoles, which things were expressly forbidden in the law.

e I will discouer their wickednes and hypocrisie, wherewith they thinke to blind mine eyes, to all the world.

f Hee encourageth the faithfull, by promising to destroy their enemies which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites & hated them that feared God.

g The enemies shall shortly heare a more terrible voyce, euen fire & slaughter, seeing they would not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance.

h Meaning, that the restauration of the Church should be so sudden and contrary to all mens opinion, as when a woman is deliuered before she looke for it, and that without paine in trauell.

g Whereby he meaneth that no necessary meanes shall want when God shall call the Gentiles to the knowledge of the Gospel.

nations, vpon ſ horſes and in charets, and in horſe-litters, and vpon mules, and ſwift beaſts, to Ieruſalem mine holy mountaine, ſayeth the LORD, as the children of Iſrael offer in a cleane veſſel in the houſe of the LORD.

k As he hath declared the felicity that ſhalbe within the Church for the comfort of the godly, ſo doth he ſhew what horrible calamitie ſhal come to the wicked, that are out of the Church. l Meaning, a continuall torment of conſcience, which ſhall euer gnaw them and neuer ſuffer them to bee at reſt, Marke 9.44. m This is the iuſt recompenſe for the wicked, which contemning God and his word, ſhall bee by Gods iuſt iudgement abhorred of all his creatures.

h To wit, of the Gentiles, as he did Luke, Timothie, and Titus firſt, and others after, to preach his word. i Hereby hee ſignifieth the kingdom of Chriſt, wherein his Church ſhall bee renewed: and whereas before there were appointed ſeaſons to ſacrifice, in this there ſhall be one continuall Sabbath, ſo that all times and ſeaſons ſhall be meete.

Ieremiah.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Prophet Ieremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the country of Beniamin, was the ſonne of Hilkiah, whom ſome thinke to be he that found out the booke of the Law, and gaue it to Ioſiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and moſt euident reuelations of prophecie, ſo that by the commandement of the Lord he began very yong to prophecie, that is in the thirteenth yeere of Ioſiah, and continued eighteene yeeres vnder the King, and three moneths vnder Iehoahaz, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeeres, and three moneths vnder Iehoiachin, & vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeeres: vnto the time that they were caried away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboue foure yeeres, beſide the time that he prophecied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares & lamentation the deſtruction of Ieruſalem, and the captiuitie of the people for their idolatry, couetouſnes, ſubtiltie, crueltie, exceſſe, rebellion and contempt of Gods word: and for the conſolation of the Church, reueileth the iuſt time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be conſidered three things. Firſt the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more ſtubburne and obſtinate, when the Prophets doe admoniſh them moſt plainely of their deſtruction. Next how the Prophets and miniſters of God ought not to be diſcouraged in their vocation, though they be perſecuted & rigorouſly handled of the wicked for Gods cauſe. And thirdly though God ſhew his iuſt iudgement againſt the wicked, yet wil he euer ſhew himſelfe a preſeruer of his Church, and when all meanes ſeeme to mans iudgement to bee aboliſhed, then will he declare himſelfe victorious in preſeruing his.

CHAP. I.

1 In what time Ieremiah propheſied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is ſtrengthened of The Lord. 11 The Lord ſheweth him the deſtruction of Ieruſalem. 17 He commandeth him to preach his word without feare.

THe a woordes of Ieremiah the ſonne of Hilkiah one of the Prieſts that were at b Anathoth in the lande of Beniamin.

2 To whome the c woorde of the LORDE came in the dayes of Ioſiah the ſonne of Amon king of Iudah in the thirteenth yeere of his reigne:

3 And alſo in the dayes of Iehoiakim the d ſonne of Ioſiah King of Iudah, vnto the ende of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah the ſonne of Ioſiah king of Iudah, euen vnto the carying away of Ieruſalem captiue in the fift e moneth.

4 Then the woord of the LORD came vnto me, ſaying,

5 Before I f formed thee in the wombe, I knewe thee, and before thou cameſt out of the wombe, I ſanctified thee, and ordeined thee to bee a Prophet vnto the g nations.

6 Then ſayd I, Oh, Lord GOD, behold, I cannot ſpeake, for I am a childe.

7 But the LORDE ſayde vnto me, Say not, I am a childe: for thou ſhalt goe to all that I ſhall ſende thee, and whatſoeuer I commaunde thee, ſhalt thou ſpeake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, ſayeth the LORD.

9 Then the LORD ſtretched out his hand a That is the ſermons and propheſies.

b Which is thought to be he that found the booke of the Law vnder king Ioſiah, 2 King. 22 8.
c This was a citie about 3. miles diſtant from Ieruſalem, and belonged to the prieſts the ſonnes of Aaron, Ioſh. 21. 18.
d This is ſpoken to confirme his vocation and office: foraſmuch as he did not preſume of himſelfe to preach & propheſie, but was called thereunto by God.
e Meaning, the nephew of Ioſiah: for Iehoahaz was his father, who reigned but three moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Ioachin that reigned no longer.
f Of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, who was alſo called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were caried away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar.
g The Scripture vſeth this maner of ſpeach to declare that God hath appointed his miniſters to their offices before they were borne, as Iſaiah 49. 1. galatians 1. 15. h For Ieremiah did not onely propheſie againſt the Iewes, but alſo againſt the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites and other nations. i Conſidering the great iudgements of GOD, which according to his threatnings ſhould come vpon the world, hee was moued with a certaine compaſſion on the one ſide to pitie them that ſhould thus periſh, and on the other ſide by the infirmitie of mans nature, knowing howe hard a thing it was to enterpriſe ſuch a charge, as Iſaiah 6. 11. Exodus. 3. 11 and 4. 1.

and k touched my mouth, and the Lord sayd vnto me, Beholde, I haue put my words in thy mouth.

k Which declareth, that God maketh them meete & assureth them, whom he calleth to set forth his glory: giuing them all meanes necessarie for the same, Exod. 4.12, Isa. 6.7.

10 Beholde, this day haue I set thee ouer the l nations and ouer the kingdomes, to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy and throw downe, to build, and to plant.

l He sheweth, what is the authority of Gods true ministers, which by his word haue power to beate downe whatsoeuer lifteth it selfe vp against God: and to plant and assure the humble and such as giue themselues to the obedience of Gods word, 2. Cor. 10.4. heb. 4.12. and these are the keyes which Christ hath left to loose and binde, Matt. 18.18.

11 After this the word of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying, Ieremiah, what seest thou? And I sayd, I see a m rodde of an almond tree.

m He ioyneth the signe with the word for a more ample confirmation, signifying by the rod of the almond tree, which first buddeth, the hastie comming of the Babylonians against the Iewes.

12 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, Thou hast seene aright: for I wil hasten my word to performe it.

13 Againe the word of the Lorde came vnto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? and I sayd, I see a seething n pot looking out of the North.

n Signifying, that the Caldeans and Assyrians shoulde be as a potte to seethe the Iewes, which boyled in their pleasures and lusts. o Syria and Assyria were Northward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion. p I will giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters, which haue forsaken me for their idoles. q Which declareth that Gods vengeance is prepared against them, which dare not execute their duetie faithfully, either for feare of man, or for any other cause, 1. Cor. 9.16. r Signifying on the one part, that the more that Satan and the world rage against Gods ministers, the more present he will be to helpe them, Ioh. 1.5. hebr. 13.5. and on the other part, that they are vtterly vnmeete to serue God and his Church, which are afraid, and do not resist wickednesse, whatsoeuer danger depend thereon, Isai 50.7. ezek. 3.8.

14 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, Out of the o North shall a plague be spread vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, sayeth the Lorde, and they shall come, and euery one shall set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my p iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken mee, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore trusse vp thy loynes, and arise, and speake vnto them all that I command thee: be not afraid of their faces, lest I q destroy thee before them.

18 For I, beholde, I this day haue made thee a defenced citie, and an r yron pillar, and walles of brasse against the whole land, against the kings of Iudah, and against the princes thereof, against the Priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 For they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, sayeth the Lord.

CHAP. II.

2 God rehearseth his benefits done vnto the Iewes. 8 Against the Priests and false prophets. 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

MOreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe, and crie in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I remember thee, with the a kindnesse of thy youth, and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after mee in the wildernesse b in a land that was not sowen.

a According to that grace and fauour, which I shewed thee from the beginning, when I did first choose thee to be my people, and married thee to my selfe, Ezek. 16.8.

3 Israel was as a thing c hallowed vnto the Lord, and his first fruites: all they d that eate it, shall offend: euill shall come vpon them, sayeth the Lord.

b When I had deliuered thee out of Egypt.

c Chosen aboue all others to serue the Lord onely, and the first offered to the Lord of all other nations.

4 Heare yee the worde of the Lorde, O house of Iaakob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus sayth the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers found in mee, that they are gone e farre from mee, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become f vaine?

d Whosoeuer did challenge this people, or els did annoy them, was punished.

6 For they sayd not, Where is the Lord that brought vs vp out of the lande of Egypt? that led vs thorow the wildernesse, thorow a desert and waste lande, thorow a drie land, and a by the shadow of death, by a land that no man passed thorow, and where no man dwelt?

e That is, fallen to most vile idolatrie.

f Altogether giuen to vanitie, and are become blinde and insensible, as the idols that they serue.

7 And I brought you into a plentifull countrey, to eate the fruit thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when yee entred, yee h defiled my lande, and made mine heritage an abomination.

g Where for lack of all things necessarie for life, ye could looke for nothing euery houre, but present death.

8 The Priests sayd not, i Where is the Lorde? and they that should minister the h lawe, knew me not: the i pastours also offended against mee, and the Prophets prophesied in k Baal, and went after things that did not profit.

h By your idolatrie and wicked maners, Psalm. 78.58. and 106.38.

9 Wherefore I will yet l plead with you, sayeth the Lord, and I will plead with your childrens children.

i They taught not the people to seeke after God.

10 For goe yee to the yles of m Chittim, and behold, and send vnto n Kedar, and take diligent heede, and see whether there be such things.

k As the Scribes, which should haue expounded the Law to the people. l Meaning, the princes and ministers: signifying that all estates were corrupt. m That is, spake vaine things, and brought the people from the true worship of God to serue idoles: for by Baal, which was the chiefe idole of the Moabites are meant all idoles. n Signifying, that he would not as he might, straightway condemne them, but sheweth them by euident example their great ingratitude, that they might be ashamed and repent. o Meaning, the Grecians and Italians. p Vnto Arabia.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their q glory, for that which doeth not r profit.

q That is, God which is their glory, and who maketh them glorious aboue all other people: reuoking the Iewes, that they were lesse diligent to serue the true God, then were the idolaters to honor their vanities. r Meaning, the idoles, which were their destruction, Psal. 106.36.

12 Be ye s heauens be astonied at this: be afrayde, and vtterly confounded, sayeth the Lord.

s Hee sheweth that the insensible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitude, and as it were, tremble for feare of Gods great iudgements against the same.

13 For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken mee t the fountaine t Signifying, that when men forsake Gods word, which is the fountaine of life, they reiect God himselfe, and so fall to their owne inuentions, and vaine confidence, and procure to themselues destruction, Ionah 2.8. zech. 10.2.

of liuing waters, to dig them pits, euen broken pits, that can holde no water.

14 Is Israel a ᵉ seruant, or is he borne in the house? why then is he spoiled?

15 The ᶠ lions roared vpon him and yelled, and they haue made his lande waste: his cities are burnt without ᵍ an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of ʰ Noph and Tahapanes haue ⁱ broken thine head.

17 Hast thou not procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, when hee ᵏ ledde thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou nowe to doe in the way of ˡ Egypt? to drinke the water of Nylus? or what makest thou in the way of Assur? to drinke the water of the ᵐ River?

19 Thine owne wickednesse shall ⁿ correct thee, and thy turnings backe shall reproue thee: knowe therefore and beholde, that it is an euill thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, sayeth the Lord God of hostes.

20 For in olde time I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, and thou saydest, I will no more transgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all hie hils, and vnder all greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, whose ᵒ plants were all naturall: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with ᵖ nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before mee, sayeth the Lorde God.

23 Howe canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I ᵠ followed Baalim? beholde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift ʳ dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes:

24 And as a ˢ wilde ᵗ asse, vsed to the wildernesse, that sniffeth vp the winde by occasion at her pleasure: who can turne her backe? all they that seeke her, will not weary themselues, but will finde her in her ᵘ moneth.

25 Keepe thou thy foote from ˣ barenesse, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saydest desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, and them will I follow.

26 As the ʸ theefe is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets,

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my ᶻ father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten mee: for they haue turned their backe vnto mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? Let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according ᵃ to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

29 Wherefore will ᵇ yee plead with me? yee all haue rebelled against me, sayeth the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your ᶜ owne sword hath deuoured your Prophets like a destroying lion.

31 O generation, take heede to the word of the Lorde: haue I beene as a ᵈ wildernesse vnto Israel? or a lande of darknesse? Wherefore sayeth my people then, We are lordes, ᵉ wee will come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a mayd forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people haue forgotten me, dayes without number.

33 Why dooest thou prepare thy way, to ᶠ seeke amitte? euen therefore will I teach thee, that thy wayes are wickednesse.

34 Also in thy ᵍ wings is founde the blood of the soules of the poore innocents: I haue not founde it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guiltlesse, surely his wrath shall turne from mee: beholde, I will enter with thee into iudgement, because thou sayest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes? for thou shalt bee confounded of Egypt, ʰ as thou art confounded of Assur.

37 For thou shalt goe forth from thence, and thine hands vpon ⁱ thine head, because the Lorde hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper therby.

a Haue I ordered them like seruants, and not like dearely beloued children? Exo.4.22. therefore it is their fault onely, if the enemie spoile them.

b The Babylonians, Caldeans, and Assyrians.

c Not one shall be left to dwell there.

d That is, the Egyptians: for these were two great cities in Egypt.

e Haue grieuously vexed thee at sundry times.

f Shewing, that God would haue still ledde them aright, if they would haue followed him.

g To seeke helpe of man, as though God were not able enough to defend thee, which is to drinke of the puddles, and to leane the fouraine, reade Isa.51.1.

h To wit, Euphrates.

i Meaning, that the wicked are insensible till the punishment for their sinne waken them, as verse 26. Isai. 3.9.

k Hee compareth the idolaters to a wilde asse: for shee can neuer be tamed, nor yet wearied: for as she moneth, she can take her winde at euery occasion.

l That is, when shee is with foale, and therefore the hunters waite their time: so, though thou canst not be turned backe nowe from thine idolatrie, yet when thine iniquitie shall bee at the full, God will meete with thee.

m Hereby he warneth them that they should not goe into strange countreyes to seeke helpe: for they should but spend their labour, and hurt themselues, which is heere meant by the bare foote and thirst, Isa.57.10.

n As a theefe will not acknowledge his fault, till he be taken with the deede, and ready to be punished: so they will not confesse their idolatrie, till the plagues due to the same light vpon them.

o Meaning, that idolaters spoile God of his honour: and whereas he hath taught to call him the father of all flesh, they attribute this title to their idoles.

p Thou thoughtest that thy gods of blockes and stones could haue holpen thee because they were many in number and present in euery place: but nowe let vs see whether either the multitude, or their presence can deliuer thee from my plague, Chap.11.13.

q As though I did you iniurie in punishing you, seeing that your faults are so euident.

r That is, you haue killed your Prophets that exhorted you to repentance, as Zechariah, Isaiah, &c.

s Haue I not giuen them abundance of all things?

t But will trust in our owne power and policie.

u With strangers.

x The Prophets and the faithfull are slaine in euery corner of your countrey.

y For the Assyrians had taken away the tenne tribes out of Israel, and destroyed Iuda euen vnto Ierusalem: and the Egyptians slewe Iosiah, and vexed the Iewes in sundrie sortes.

h He sheweth that the wicked in their miseries will cry vnto God and vse outward prayer, as the godly doe, but because they turne not from their euill, they are not heard, Isa.58.3,4.
i Meaning, the ten tribes.
k And gaue her vnto the hands of the Assyrians.
l The Ebrewe word may either signifie lightnesse and wantonnesse, or noise & bruit.
m Iudah fained for a time that she did returne, as vnder Iosiah and other good Kings, but she was neuer truely touched or wholly reformed, as appeared, when occasion was offered by any wicked prince.
n Israel hath not declared herselfe so wicked as Iudah, which yet hath had more admonitions and examples to call her to repentance.
o Whereas the Israelites were now kept in captiuitie by the Assyrians, to whom hee promiseth mercie, if they will repent.
p There was no way, which thou didst not haunt to seeke after the idoles, and to vse a pilgrimage.

gaine vnto her? shall not this land b be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many louers: yet c turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the bie places, and beholde, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the d Arabian in the wildernesse: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue bene restreined, and the e latter raine came not, and thou hadst a e whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4 Didst thou not still cry f vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keepe his anger for euer? will he reserue it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lord said also vnto mee, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebell g Israel hath done? for shee hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I sayd, when shee had done all this, Turne thou vnto mee: but shee returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saw.

8 When I sawe, howe that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast h her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraid, but she went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the i lightnesse of her whoredome shee hath euen defiled the land: for shee hath committed fornication with stones and stocks.

10 Neuertheless for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto me with m her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto mee, The rebellious Israel hath n iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Goe and cry these words toward o the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast p scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but ye would not obey my voyce, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Sion,

15 And I will giue you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, in those dayes, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The q Arke of the couenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visit it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, r The throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall bee gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thenceforth they shall follow no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shal walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the s North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I said, howe did I take thee for children, and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and sayd, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her t husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 u A voyce was heard vpon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerted their way, and forgotten the Lorde their God.

22 O yee disobedient children, returne and I will heale your rebellions. x Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truely the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our y fathers labour, from our youth, their sheepe and their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 Wee lie downe in our confusion, and our shame couereth vs: z for wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, wee and our fathers from our youth, euen vnto this day, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God.

q This is to be vnderstood of the comming of Christ: for then they shall not seeke the Lord by ceremonies, and all figures shall cease.
r Meaning, the Church, where the Lord will be present to the worlds ende, Matt.28.20.
s Where they are now in captiuitie.
t The Ebrewe word signifieth a friend or companion, and here may be taken for a husband, as it is vsed also, Hose. 3.1.
u Signifying that God whom they had forsaken, would bring their enemies vpon them, who should leade them captiue, and make them to cry and lament.
x This is spoken in the person of Israel to the shame of Iudah, which stayed so long to turne vnto God.
y For their idolatrie, Gods vengeance hath light vpon them and theirs.
z They iustifie not themselues, or say that they would follow their fathers, but condemne their wicked doings, and desire forgiuenesse of the same, as Ezra 9.7. Psal.106.6. Isa.64.6.

p Which keepe the fruites ſo ſtraitly, that nothing can come in nor out: ſo ſhould the Babylonians compaſſe Iudah.

treouſneſſe, and the nations ſhall be bleſſed in him, and ſhall glory in him.

3 For thus ſaith the LORD to the men of Iudah, and to Ieruſalem,

4 Breake vp c your fallow ground, and ſow not among the thornes: be circumciſed to the LORD, and take away the foreſkinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ieruſalem, leſt my wrath come forth like fire, and burne, that none can quench it, becauſe of the wickedneſſe of your inuentions.

5 d Declare in Iudah, and ſhew forth in Ieruſalem, and ſay, Blowe the trumpet in the land: cry, and gather together, and ſay, Aſſemble your ſelues, and let vs goe into ſtrong cities.

6 Set vp the ſtandard in Zion: e prepare to flee, and ſtay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great deſtruction.

7 The f lion is come vp from his denne, and the deſtroyer of the Gentiles is departed, and gone forth of his place to lay thy land waſte, and thy cities ſhall bee deſtroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore gird you with ſackecloth: lament and howle, for the fierce wrath of the LORD is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, ſaith the LORD, the heart of the king ſhall periſh, and the heart of the Princes, and the Prieſts ſhalbe aſtoniſhed, and the g prophets ſhall wonder.

10 Then ſaid I, Ah, Lord God, ſurely thou haſt h deceiued this people, and Ieruſalem, ſaying, Yee ſhall haue peace, and the ſword pearceth vnto the heart.

11 At that time ſhall it be ſaid to this people and to Ieruſalem, A dry i winde in the high places of the wildernes commeth toward the daughter of my people, but neither k to fanne, nor to cleanſe.

12 A mighty winde ſhall come vnto mee from thoſe places. and nowe will I alſo giue ſentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, hee ſhall come vp as the l clouds, and his charets ſhall be as a tempeſt: his horſes are lighter then eagles. m Woe vnto vs, for we are deſtroyed.

14 O Ieruſalem, waſh thine heart from wickednes, that thou mayeſt be ſaued: how long ſhall thy wicked thoughts remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from n Dan, and publiſheth affliction from mount o Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publiſh in Ieruſalem, Beholde, the ſkoutes come from a farre countrey, and cry out againſt the cities of Iudah.

17 They haue compaſſed her about as the watchmen of the p field, becauſe it hath prouoked me to wrath, ſaith the LORD.

18 Thy waies & thine inuentions haue procured thee theſe things, ſuch is thy wickednes: therefore it ſhalbe bitter, therefore it ſhall pearce vnto thine heart.

19 My belly, q my belly, I am pained, euen at the very heart: my heart is troubled within mee: I cannot be ſtill: for my ſoule hath heard the ſound of the trumpet, and the alarme of the battell.

20 Deſtruction vpon deſtruction is cried, for the whole land is waſted: ſuddenly are my r tents deſtroyed, and my curtaines in a moment.

21 How long ſhall I ſee the ſtandard, and heare the ſound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowen mee: they are foolish children, and haue none vnderſtanding: ſ they are wiſe to doe euill, but to doe well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and t voyd: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines, and lo, they trembled, and all the hilles ſhooke.

25 I beheld, and loe, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitfull place was a wildernes, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the preſence of the LORD, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the LORD ſayde, The whole land ſhall be deſolate: yet will I u not make a full ende.

28 Therefore ſhall the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue ſhalbe darkened, becauſe I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole citie ſhall flee, for the noiſe of the horſemen and bowemen: they ſhal goe into thickets, and clime vp vpon the rockes: euery citie ſhall be forſaken, and not a man dwelt therein.

30 And when thou ſhalt bee deſtroyed, what wilt thou doe? Though thou x clotheſt thy ſelfe with ſkarlet, though thou deckeſt thee with ornaments of golde, though thou paintеſt thy face with colours, yet ſhalt thou trimme thy ſelfe in vaine: for thy louers will abhorre thee and ſeeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noyſe as of a woman trauailing, or as one labouring of her firſt childe, euen the voyce of the daughter Zion that ſighеth and ſtretcheth out her hands: y woe is me now: for my ſoule fainteth becauſe of the murtherers.

q He ſheweth that the true miniſters are likely touched with the calamities of the Church, ſo that all the parts of their body feele the griefe of their heart, albeit with zeale to Gods glory they pronounce his iudgements againſt the people.

r Meaning the cities, which were as eaſily caſt downe as a tent.

ſ Their wiſdome and policie tend to their owne deſtruction, and pulleth them from God.

t By theſe maner of ſpeeches hee ſheweth the horrible deſtruction that ſhould come vpon the land, & alſo condemneth the obſtinacie of the people, who repent not at the feare of theſe terrible tidings, ſeeing that the inſenſible creatures are moued therewith as if the order of nature ſhould be changed, Iſa.13.10. and 24.23. ezek. 32.7. ioel 2.31. and 3.15.

u But for his mercies ſake he will reſerue himſelfe a reſidue to be his Church, and to praiſe him in earth, Iſa.2.9.

x Neither thy ceremonies nor rich giftes ſhall deliuer thee.

y As the Prophets were moued to pitie the deſtruction of their people, ſo they dedicate it to the people to moue them to repentance, Iſa.22.4. chap.9.1.

CHAP. V.

1 In Iudah no righteous man found neither among the people nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Iudah is deſtroyed of the Caldeans.

RVnne to and fro by the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem, and beholde nowe, and knowe and inquire in the open places thereof, if yee can finde a man, or if there bee any that executeth iudgement, and seeketh the trueth, and I will spare a it.

2 For though they say, The b Lord liueth, yet doe they sweare falsly.

3 O Lorde, are not thine eyes vpon the c trueth? thou hast d stricken them, but they haue not sorowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receiue correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I sayde, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the iudgement of their God.

5 I will get mee vnto the e great men, and will speake vnto them: for they haue knowen the way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore f a Lion out of the forrest shall slay them, and a wolfe of the wildernesse shall destroy them: a leoparde shall watch ouer their cities: euery one that goeth out thence, shalbe torne in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 How should I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsaken mee, and g sworne by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adulterie, and assembled themselues by companies in the harlots houses.

8 They rose vp in the morning like fed horses: for euery man neyed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shal I not visite for these things, saith the Lord? Shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 h Clime vp vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a full ende, i take away their battlements, for they are not the Lords.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue grieuously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue k denied the Lorde, and sayde, It is not he, neither shall the plague come vpon vs, neither shall we see sword nor famine.

13 And the prophets shalbe as l wind, and the word is m not in them: thus shall it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lorde God of hostes, Because ye speake such words, behold, I will put my words into n thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be as wood, and it shall deuoure them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation vpon you o from farre, O house of Israel, sayeth the Lord, which is a mightie nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither vnderstandest what they say.

16 Whose quiuer is as an p open sepulchre: they are all very strong.

17 And they shall eate thine harnest and thy bread: they shall deuoure thy sonnes, and thy daughters: they shall eate vp thy sheepe and thy bullocks: they shall eate thy vines and thy figge trees: they shall destroy with the sworde thy fenced cities, wherein thou diddest trust.

18 Nevertheless at those dayes, saith the Lord, I will not make a full ende of q you.

19 And when r yee shall say, Wherefore doeth the Lord our God do these things vnto vs? then shalt s thou answere them, Like as yee haue forsaken me and serued strange gods in your land, so shall ye serue strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Iaakob, and publish it in Iudah, saying, 21 Heare now this, O foolish people, and t without vnderstanding, which haue u eyes and see not, which haue eares and heare not.

22 Feare yee not me, sayeth the Lord? or will ye not be afraide at my presence, which haue placed the sand for the x bounds of the sea by the perpetuall decree, that it cannot passe it, and though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not prouaile, though they roare, yet can they not passe ouer it?

23 But this people hath an vnfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they say not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lorde our God, that giueth raine both early and late in due season: hee reserueth vnto vs the appointed weekes of the harueste.

25 Yee your y iniquities haue turned away these things, and your sinnes haue hindred good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked persons, that lay waite as hee that setteth snares: they haue made a pitte to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birdes, so are their houses full of deceite: thereby they are become great and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat and shining: they doe ouerpasse the deedes of the wicked: z they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherlesse: yet they a prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall I not visite for these things, saith the Lord? or shal not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthy thing is committed in the land.

31 The b prophets prophesie lyes, and the priests c receiue gifts in their hands, and my people delight therein. What will yee then doe in the ende thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The comming of the Assyrians and Caldeans. 16 He exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

OYe children of d Beniamin, prepare to flee out of the middes of Ierusalem, and blow the trumpet in e Tekoa: set vp a standart vpon f Beth-haccerem: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great destruction.

a That is, the citie.
b Though they pretend religion and holinesse, yet all is but hypocrisie: for vnder this kinde of swearing is contained the true religion.
c Doest not thou loue vprightnesse and faithfull dealing?
d Thou hast oft times punished them, but all is in vaine, Isa. 9. 13.
e He speaketh this to the reproch of them which should gouerne and teach others, and yet are farther out of the way then the simple people.

f Reade Nehemiah 3. 14.

d I haue intreated her gently, and giuen her abundance of all things.

e She shall be so destroyed, that the sheepe may be fed in her.

f He speaketh this in the person of the Babylonians, which complaine that the time faileth them before they haue brought their enterprises to passe.

g He sheweth the cause why it should be destroyed, and how it commeth of themselues.

h He warneth them to amend by his corrections, and to turne to him by repentance.

i He exhorteth the Babylonians to be diligent to search out all and to leaue none.

k They delight to heare vaine things, and to shut vp their eares to true doctrine.

l As the Lord had giuen him his worde to be as a fire of his indignation to burne the wicked, Chap. 5. 14. so he kindleth it now when he seeth that all remedies are past.

m None shall be spared.

n When the people began to feare Gods iudgements, the false prophets comforted them by flatterings, shewing that God would send peace and not warre.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zion to [d] a beautifull and daintie woman.

3 The pastors with their flockes [e] shall come vnto her: they shall pitch their tentes round about by her, and euery one shall feede in his place.

4 [f] Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs goe vp towarde the South: woe vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the euening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let vs goe vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lorde of hosts said, Hew downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalem: this citie must be visited: all oppression is in the midst of it.

7 As the fountaine casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice: [g] cruelnesse and spoile is continually heard in her before me with sorow and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, O [h] Ierusalem, lest my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israel: turne [i] backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whom shall I speake, and admonish, that they may heare? Beholde, their eares are [k] vncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the worde of the Lorde is vnto them as a reproch: they haue no delite in it,

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am wearie with holding it: [l] I will powre it out vpon the [m] children in the streete, and likewise vpon the assembly of the yong men: for the husband shall euen be taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses with their landes, and wines also shall be turned vnto strangers: for I will stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the lande, saieth the Lord.

13 For from the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto couetousnesse, and from the prophet euen vnto the priest, they all deale falsly.

14 They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, [n] Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither could they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the [*] slaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the wayes and beholde, and aske for [o] the olde way which is the good way, & walke therein, and ye shall finde rest for your soules: but they said, We will not walke therein.

17 Also I set [p] watchmen ouer you, which said, Take heed to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We will not take heede.

18 Heare therefore, yee [q] Gentiles, and thou Congregation knowe, what is among them.

19 Heare, O earth, behold, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruite of their owne imaginations: because they haue not taken heede vnto my wordes, nor to my law, but cast it off.

20 To what purpose bringest thou me [r] incense from Sheba, and sweete calamus from a farre countrey? Your burnt offrings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus saieth the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shall fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people commeth from the [s] North countrey, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bowe and shielde shall they bee weaponed: they are cruell, and will haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses, well appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 Wee haue heard their fame, and our hands [t] ware feeble: sorow is come vpon vs, as the sorow of a woman in trauaile.

25 Goe not forth into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sworo of the enemie and feare is on euery side.

26 O daughter of my people, girde thee with sackcloth, and wallow thy selfe in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning as for thine onely sonne: for the destroyer shall suddenly come vpon vs.

27 I haue set [u] thee for a defence and fortresse among my people, that thou mayest know and trie their wayes.

28 They are all rebellious traitours, walking craftily: they are braste, and yron, they all are destroyers.

29 The [x] bellowes are burnt: the lead is consumed in the fire: the founder melteth in vaine: for the wicked are not taken away.

30 They shall call them reprobate siluer, because the Lord hath reiected them.

q God taketh all the world to witnesse and the insensible creatures, of the ingratitude of the Iewes.

r Reade Isa. 1. 11 and Amos 5. 21.

s From Babylon by Dan, which was North from Ierusalem.

t For feare of the enemie he speaketh this in the person of the Iewes.

u Meaning, Ieremiah, whom God had appointed to trie out the godly from the wicked, as a founder doeth the pure mettall from the drosse.

x All the paine and labour that hath bene taken with them, is lost.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ieremiah is commanded to shew vnto the people the wordes of God, which trusteth in the outward seruice of the Temple. 13 The exile that shall come to the Iewes for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doeth not the Lord chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they should obey his wordes.

The wordes that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Stand in the gate of the Lords House and cry this worde there, and say, Heare the word of the Lord, all ye of Iudah, that enter in at these gates to worship the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, [*] Amende your wayes and your workes, and I will let you dwell in this place.

Chap. 26. 13.

4 Trust

16 them that fall. o Wherein the Patriarches and Prophets walked, directed by the worde of God: signifying, that there is no true way, but that which God prescribeth. p Prophets which should warne you of the daungers that were at hand.

a Beleeue not the false prophets, which say that for the Temples sake, & the sacrifices there, the Lord wil preserue you, and so nourish you in your sinne, and vaine confidence.

b God sheweth on what condition he made his promise to this Temple: that they should be an holy people vnto him, as he would be a faithfull God to them.

c As theeues hid in holes and dennes, thinke themselues safe, so when you are in my Temple, you thinke to be couered with the holinesse therof, and that I cannot see your wickednesse, Matth. 21, 13.

d Because they depended so much on the Temple, which was for his promise, that he would bee present, and defend them where the Arke was: hee sendeth them to Gods iudgements against Shilo, where the Arke had remained about 300. yeeres, and after was taken, the Priests slaine, and the people miserably discomfited, 1. Sam. 4. 11. Chap. 26. 6.

e That is, I neuer ceased to warne you, as Isa. 65. 2. Pro. 1, 23.

4 Trust not in a lying wordes, saying, The Temple of the Lorde, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amend and redresse your wayes and your workes: if you execute iudgement betweene a man and his neighbour,

6 And oppresse not the stranger, the father lesse and the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walke after other gods to your destruction,

7 Then b will I let you dwell in this place in the lande that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.

8 Behold, you trust in lying words, that cannot profite.

9 Will you steale, murder, and commit adulterie, and sweare falsely, and burne incense vnto Baal, and walke after other gods whom ye know not,

10 And come and stand before me in this house, whereupon my Name is called, and say, We are deliuered, though we haue done all these abominations?

11 Is this House become c a denne of theeues, whereupon my Name is called before your eyes? Behold, euen I see it, sayth the Lord.

12 But goe yee nowe vnto my place which was in Shilo, d where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde what I did to it for the wickednesse of my people Israel.

13 Therefore nowe because ye haue done all these workes (sayth the Lord) and I e rose vp early and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye would not heare me, neither when I called, would f ye answere)

14 Therefore will I doe vnto this House, whereupon my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I will cast g you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren, euen the whole seede of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not h pray for this people, neither lift vp crie or prayer for them, neither intreat me, for I will not heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough to make cakes to i the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke mee vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke mee to anger, sayth the Lord, and not themselues to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the field, and vpon the fruite of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For k I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commaunded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will bee your God, and ye shalbe my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commaunded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubburnnesse of their wicked heart, and went backeward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, l rising vp early euery day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me, nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke, and did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these words vnto them, but they m will not heare thee: thou shalt also cry vnto them, but they will not answere thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voyce of the Lorde their God, nor receiueth discipline: trueth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine n haire, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint on the high places: for the Lorde hath reiected and forsaken the generation of his p wrath.

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, sayeth the Lorde: they haue set their abominations in the house, whereupon my Name is called, to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the high place of q Topheth, which is in the valley of Ben-hinnom to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I r commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall burie in Topheth, till there be no more place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall be meate for the foules of the heauen and for the beastes of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 * Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Iudah and from the streetes of Ierusalem, the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegroom

f He sheweth what is the only remedy to redresse our faults: to suffer God to leade vs into the way, and to obey his calling, Isa. 66. 4.

g I will send you into captiuitie as I haue done Ephraim, that is, the ten tribes.

h To assure them that God had determined with himselfe to punish their wickednesse, he sheweth that the prayer of the godly can nothing auaile them, whiles they remaine in their obstinacie against God, and will not vse the meanes that hee vseth to call them to repentance, Chap. 11. 14. and 14. 11.

i That is, they sacrifice to the sunne, moone, and starres, which they called the Queene of heauen, Chap. 44. 17. 2. King. 23. 5.

k Shewing that it was not his chiefe purpose and intent that they should offer sacrifices: but that they should regard wherefore they were ordained: to wit, to be ioyned to the word, as seales & confirmations of remission of sinnes in Christ: for without the word they were vaine and vnprofitable.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord moueth the people to amendment. 10 Hee reprehendeth the lying doctrine and the couetousnesse of the Prophets and Priests.

AT that time, sayeth the Lorde, they shall bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priestes, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their [a] graues.

a The enemie for greedinesse of gaine shall rifle your graues, and lay you before those idoles, which in your life you worshipped, to see if they can helpe you.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne and the moone, and all the hoste of the heauen, whom they haue loued, and whom they haue serued, and whome they haue followed, and whome they haue sought, and whom they haue worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shalbe as dung vpon the earth.

3 And death shalbe desired [b] rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

b because of the afflictions that they shall feele through Gods iudgements.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus sayeth the Lord, Shall they [c] fall & not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

c Is there no hope that they will returne?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetuall rebellion? they haue stablished deceit, and would not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? euery [d] one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

d They are full of hypocrisie, and euery one followeth his owne fantasie without any consideration.

7 Euen the storke in the ayre knoweth her appointed times, and the Turtle, and the crane, and the swallow, obserue the time of their comming, but my people knoweth not the [e] iudgement of the Lord.

e He accuseth them in that that they are more ignorant of Gods iudgements, then these birds are of their appointed seasons, to discerne the colde and heate, as Isa 1.3.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the Law [f] of the Lord is with vs? Loe, certenly in vaine made he it, the penne of the scribes is in vaine.

f The law doth not profit you, neither needed it to haue bene written for ought that you haue learned by it.

9 The [g] wise men are ashamed: they are afrayd and taken: loe, they haue reiected the word of the Lord, and what wisedome is in them?

g They that seeme wise may be ashamed of their ignorance, for all wildome consisteth in Gods words. Isa 56 11. chap. 5 32. and 6.13.

10 Therefore will I giue their wiues vnto others, and their fields to them that shall possesse them: [h] for euery one from the least euen vnto the greatest is giuen to couetousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, euery one dealeth falsely.

h Reade Chap. 6.14.

11 For they haue healed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, [i] Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they haue any shame: therefore shall they fall among the slaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

13 I will surely consume them, sayeth the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leafe shall fade, and the things that I haue giuen them shall depart from them.

14 Why doe wee stay? [k] assemble your selues, and let vs enter into the strong cities, and let vs bee quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water with [l] gall to drinke, because wee haue sinned against the Lord.

15 [m] Wee looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and beholde troubles

16 The neying of his horses was heard from [n] Dan, the whole land trembled at the noyse of the neying of his strong horses: for they are come, and haue deuoured the land with all that is in it, the citie and those that dwell therein.

17 For beholde, I will [o] send serpents, and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, sayeth the Lord.

18 I would haue [p] comforted my selfe against sorow, but mine heart is heauie in me.

19 Beholde, the voyce of the crie of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a farre countrey, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her King in her? Why [q] haue they prouoked me to anger with their grauen images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The [r] haruest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am [s] sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people: I am heauie, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balme [t] at Gilead? is there no Physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recouered?

i He speaketh in the person of the people, who when the enemy commeth, will runne about to hide themselues, and acknowledge that it is Gods hand.

k That is, hath brought vs into extreme afflictions, and thus they shall not attribute this plague to fortune, but to Gods iust iudgement, Chap. 9. 15. and 23.15. Chap. 14.19.

m God threatneth to send the Babylonians among them, who shall vtterly destroy them in such sort as by no meanes they shall escape.

n Read cha. 4.15.

o Thus the Lord speaketh.

p The people wonder that they haue so long time looked for succour in vaine.

q The Prophet speaketh this.

r Meaning, that no mans helpe or meanes could saue them: for in Gilead was precious balme, Chap. 48. 11. or els deriding the vaine confidence of the people, who looked for helpe at their Priests, who should haue bin the Physicians of their soules, and dwelt at Gilead, Hosh. 6.8.

CHAP. IX.

1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought wee only to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

OH that mine head were full of [a] water, and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the slaine of the daughter of my people.

a The Prophet sheweth the great compassion that he had toward this people, seeing that hee could neuer sufficiently lament the destruction that he saw to hang ouer them. Which is a speciall note to discerne the true pastors from the hirelings: Reade Chap. 4.19.

2 Oh, that I had in the wildernes a [b] cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people and goe from them: for they be all [c] adulterers and an assembly of rebels, b Hee sheweth that his were more quietnesse, and greater safetie for him to dwell among the wilde beastes, then among this wicked people, saue that God hath inioyned him this charge. c Vtterly turned from God.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for [d] lies: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceede from euill to worse, and they haue not knowen me, sayeth the Lord.

d To belie and slander their neighbours. e Meaning, that all were corrupt, and none could finde an honest man.

4 [e] Let euery one take heede of his neighbour, and trust you not in any [f] brother: for euery brother will vse deceit, & euery friend will deale deceitfully, f They haue so practised deceit, that they cannot forsake it.

g They had rather forsake God then leaue their wicked trade.

h With the fire of affliction.

Psal.28.3.and 120.4.

i Signifying, that all places about Ierusalem should be destroyed.

k Meaning that they are all without sense and vnderstanding, and that God hath taken his spirit from them.

l He sheweth that the children cannot excuse themselues by their fathers: for both father and child, if they be wicked, shall perish.

m Reade Chap. 8.14.

n Seeing you can not lament your owne sinnes, call for those foolish women, whom of a superstition you haue to lament for the dead, that they by their fained teares may prouoke you to some sorow.

o As though they were weary of vs because of our iniquities, Leuit. 18.28.& 20.22.

p He derideth the superstition of the women, which made an art of mourning, and taught to weepe with fained teares.

q Signifying, that there is no means to deliuer the wicked from Gods iudgements: but when they thinke to be most sure, and most farre off, then are they soonest taken.

5 And euery one will deceiue his friend, and will not speake the truth: for they f haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceiuers: a because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will b melt them, and try them: for what should I els doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue * is as an arrow shot out, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighboure with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth waite for him.

9 Shal I not visit them for these things, sayth the Lord? or shal not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Vpon the i mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wildernesse a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so that none can passe through them: neither can men heare the voice of the flocke: both the foule of the ayre, and the beast are fled away, and gone.

11 And I wil make Ierusalem an heape, & a den of dragons, & I will make the cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is wise to k vnderstand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, euen he shall declare it. Why doeth the land perish, and is burnt vp like a wildernesse, that none passeth through?

13 And the Lord said, Because they haue forsaken my lawe, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voice, neither walked thereafter,

14 But haue walked after the stubbornes of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which l their fathers taught them,

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed this people with wormewood, & giue them waters of gall * to drinke:

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whome neither they nor their fathers haue known, and I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take heed, & call for the m mourning women, that they may come, and send for skilfull women, that they may come,

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares, and our eye lids gushe out of water.

19 For a lamentable noise is heard out of Zion, How are we destroyed, & vtterly confounded! for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings * haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, & p teach your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp into our q windowes, and is entred into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the young men in the streets.

22 Speake, thus sayth the Lorde, The carkeises of men shall lie euen as the dung vpon the field, and as the handfull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the r wise man glory in his wisedome, nor the strong man glory in his strength, neither the rich man glory in his riches.

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that hee vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which f vse mercy, iudgement, and righteousnesse in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visite all them, which are s circumcised with the vncircumcised:

26 Egypt, and Iudah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the vtmost corners of them that dwell in the wildernesse: for all these nations are vncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

r For asmuch as none can saue himselfe by his owne labour or any worldly meanes, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we must in the Lord, and reioyce in him, who only can deliuer vs, 1. Cor 1.31. 2. Cor. 10.17.

s These three points are necessary to know a right: his mercy, wherein consisteth our saluation: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against the wicked: and his iustice, whereby he defendeth and maintaineth the faithful. t Meaning both Iewes and Gentiles, as in the next verse he sheweth the cause, reade Chap. 4 4.

CHAP. X.

1 The ouerthrowers of the starres are not to be feared. 5 The weakenes of idoles, and of the power of God. 21 Their pastors are become brutish beasts.

HEare ye the worde of the Lord that he speaketh vnto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the a signes of heauen, though the heathen be afrayd of such.

3 For the b customes of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe.

4 And another decketh it with * siluer, and with gold: they fasten it with nailes and hammers, that it fall not.

5 The idoles stand vp as the palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they cannot goe: feare them not, for they cannot doe euill, neither can they doe good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lord: c thou art great, and thy name is great in power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O King of nations? for to thee appertaineth the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in al their kingdoms there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the stocke is a * doctrine of vanitie.

a God forbiddeth his people to giue credit or feare the constellations & coniunctions of starres & planets, which haue no power of themselues, but are gouerned by him, & their secret motions and influences are not knowen to man, & therefore there can be no certain iudgement thereof, Deut. 18.9.

b Meaning, not onely in the obseruation of the starres, but their Lawes and ceremonies, whereby they confirme their idolatry, which is forbidden Deut. 12.30.

c The Prophets vse thus plainly & simply to set foorth the vile absurditie of the idolaters, that men might learne to be ashamed of that, whereunto their corrupt nature is most subiect, read Isa. 44.12. d He teacheth the people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hath all power, and therefore ought onely to be feared: and herein he sheweth them not onely the euill that they ought to eschew, but the good which they ought to follow, Reuel. 15 4. e Because the people thought to haue images, was a meane to serue God, & to bring them to y knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errors and ignorance of God: and therfore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, the worke of errors, verse 15. and Hab. 2.18. calleth them the teachers of lies: contrary to that wicked opinion that they are the bookes of the lay people.

* Siluer

f Whereas they found the best gold, shewing that they thought nothing too deare for their idoles: some read Ophir, as 1.King. 9.28.

g This declareth that all that hath bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes when they should be in Caldea among the idolaters, and now with one sentence he instructeth them both how to protest their owne religion against the idolaters, & how to answere them to their shame which should exhort them to idolatry, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memoriall, whereas all the rest of his writing is Ebrew.

h The more that man thinketh to doe any thing well by his owne wisedom, and not as God instructeth him, the more doeth he proove himselfe to be a vile beast.

i By these words, portion and rod, he signifieth their inheritance: meaning that God should be all sufficient for them, and that their felicitie consisted in him alone, and therefore they ought to renounce all other helpes and succours, as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32.9. Psal. 16.5.

k The Prophet willeth the Iewes to prepare themselues to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they should feele the things whereof hee had told them.

l It is my iust plague, and therefore I will take it patiently: whereby hee teacheth the people howe to behaue themselues toward God.

m He sheweth how Ierusalem shall lamente.

n The gouernours and ministers.

o Read Chap. 4.15.

p He speaketh this, because that Nebuchad-nezzar purposed to haue made warre against the Moabites and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedekiahs rebellion, hee turned his power to goe against Ierusalem, Ezek. 21.21, therefore the Prophet sayth, that this was the Lords direction.

9 Siluer plates are brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, for the worke of the workeman, and the handes of the founder: the blue silke, and the purple is their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of trueth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlasting king: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens and the earth, shall perish from the earth, & from vnder these heauens)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the worlde by his wisedome, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 He giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the cloudes to ascend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Euery man is a brast by his owne knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falshood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are banishe, and the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shal perish.

16 The portion of Iaakob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will throw as with a sling the inhabitants of the lande, and will trouble them, and they shall find it so.

19 Wo is me for my destruction, and my grieuous plague: but I thought, Yet it is my sorrow, and I will beare it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cordes are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to spread out my tent any more, and to set vp my curtains.

21 For the Pastors are become beasts, and haue not sought the Lord: therefore haue they none vnderstanding: and all the flocks of their pastures are scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the bruite is come, and a great commotion out of the North countrey to make the cities of Iudah desolate, and a den of dragons.

23 O Lorde, I know, that the way of man is not in himselfe, neither is it in man to walke and to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with iudgement, not in thine anger, least thou bring me to nothing.

25 Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen that know thee not, and vpon the families that cal not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iaakob, and deuoured him & consumed him, and haue made his habitation desolate.

q Considering that God had reuealed vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap. 7.16. hee onely prayeth, that he would punish them with mercie, which Isaiah calleth in measure, Chap. 27.8. measuring his rods by their infirmitie, 1.Cor. 10.13. for here by iudgement is ment not only the punishment, but also the mercifull moderation of the same, as Chap. 30.11.

r Forasmuch as God cannot onely bee knowen and glorified by his mercy, that he vseth toward his Church, but also by his iustice in punishing his enemies, hee prayeth that his glory may fully appeare both in the one and the other, Psal. 79.6.

CHAP. XI.

3 A curse of them that obey not the word of Gods couenant. 10 The people of Iudah following the steps of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lord forbiddeth Ieremiah to pray for them.

THe worde that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and speake vnto the men of Iudah, & to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, Cursed bee the man that obeyeth not the wordes of this couenant,

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron fornace, saying, Obey my voyce, and do according to al their things, which I commaund you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. Then answered I and sayd, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto mee, Cry all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the words of this couenant, and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuertheless they would not obey, nor incline their eare: but euery one walked in the stubbornnes of his wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the words of this couenant, which I commanded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord sayd vnto me, A conspiracie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant which I made with their fathers.

a He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of Gods mercies who freely chose them, made a couenant of eternall felicitie with them, and how he euer performed it on his behalfe, & how they euer shewed themselues rebellious and ingrate toward him, and brake it on their part, and so are subiect to the curse of the Law, Deut. 27.26.

b Thus he speaketh in the person of the people which agreed to the couenant.

c Read Chap. 7.13.

o Let vs destroy the Prophet and his doctrine. Some reade, Let vs corrupt his meate with wood, meaning poyson.
p Thus he spake not for hatred, but being moued with the spirite of God, he desireth the aduancement of Gods glory and the verifying of his word which is by the distruction of his enemies.
q To wit, both the Priests & the rest of the people: for this towne was the Priests, and they dwelt in it, read Chap. 1.1
r Not that they would not abide to heare God named: (for herein they would shew themselues most holy) but because they could not abide to be sharpely reproued and therefore desired to be flattered, Isa. 30.10. and to be maintained in their pleasures, Micah. 2, 11. and not to heare vice condemned, Amos 7.12.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not bee able to escape, and though they crie vnto me, I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, goe, and cry vnto the gods vnto whome they offer incense, but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue yee set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp a crie, or prayer for them: for when they crie vnto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What shoulde my beloued serue in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many? and the holy flesh goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euill, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A greene olive tree, faire, and of goodly fruite: but with noyse and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselues to prouoke me to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I know it, euen then thou shewest me their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, & I knewe not that they had deuised this against me, saying, Let vs destroy the tree with the fruite thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But O Lord of hostes, which iudgest righteously, and tryest the reines and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 Therefore the Lord speaketh thus of the men of Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, Prophesie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will visite them: the young men shall die by the sworde: their sonnes and their daughters shall die by famine.

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, euen the yeere of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prophet maruelleth at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to bee righteous, 7 The Iewes forsaken of the Lord, 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vpon the nations that troubled Iudah.

O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art a righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgments: wherefore doth the way of the wicked b prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgresse?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they growe, and bring foorth fruite: thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their reines.

3 But thou, O Lord, knowest me thou hast seene me, and tryed mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheepe for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 Howe long shall the land mourne, and the hearbes of euery fielde wither, for the wickednesse of them that dwel therein? the beastes are consumed and the birds, because they said, He will not see our last end.

5 If thou hast run with the footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou match thy selfe with horses? and if thou thoughtest thy selfe safe in a peaceable land, what wilt thou doe in the swelling of Iorden?

6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen they haue dealt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleeue thou not, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the dearely beloued of my soule into the handes of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is vnto mee, as a lyon in the forest: it cryeth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.

9 Shall mine heritage bee vnto me as a bird of diuers colours? are not the birdes about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beastes of the field, come to eate her?

10 Many pastours haue destroyed my vineyarde, and trodden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wildernesse.

a The Prophet confesseth God to be iust in all his doings, although man be not able to giue a reason of all his actes.
b This question hath bene alway a great tentation to the godly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his deare children in aduersitie, as Iob. 21.7. psal. 37.1. and 73.3. Hab. 1.3.
c They professe God in mouth, but deny him in heart, which is here meant by the reines, Iis. 29. 13. matth. 15.8.
d The Ebrewe word is, Sanctifie them, meaning, that God would be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giueth prosperitie, that afterward they should the more feele his heauy iudgement when they lacke their riches, which were a signe of his mercy.
e Abusing Gods lenitie and his promises, they flattered themselues as though God would euer be merciful, and not vtterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselues in sinne, till at length the beastes and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubborne rebellion against God.
f Some thinke that God reproueth Ieremiah, in that that hee would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to match with me, that he were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the footemen, meane them of Anathoth, and by the horsemen them of Ierusalem, which should trouble the Prophet worse then his owne countreymen did.

13 [m] They haue sowen wheate, and reped thornes: they were sicke, & had no profite: [n] they were ashamed of [o] your fruites, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine euill [p] neighbours, that touch the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherite, Behold, I will plucke them out of their land, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I [q] will returne, and haue compassion on them, and will bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

16 And if they will learne the [r] wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name (The Lorde liueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Baal) then shall they be built [s] in the midst of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I vtterly plucke vp, and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

a Because this riuer Perath or Euphrates was farre from Ierusalem, it is euident that this was a vision, whereby was signified that the Iewes should passe ouer Euphrates to be captiues in Babylon, and there for length of time should seeme to be rotten, although they were ioyned to the Lord before as a girdle about a man.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I ioyned to me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lorde, that they might be my people: that they might haue a name and prayse, and glory, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this worde, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery [b] bottell shalbe filled with wine, & they shall say vnto thee, Do we not know, that euery bottle shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I wil fill all the inhabitants of this lande, euen the kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, & the Priests, and the Prophetes and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkennesse.

14 And I will [c] dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lord: I will not spare, I will not pitie nor haue compassion, but destroy them.

15 Heare and giue eare, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Giue glory to the Lord your God before he bring [d] darkenesse, and or euer your feete stumble in the darke mountaines, and whiles ye looke for [e] light, hee turne it into the shadowe of death, and make it as darkenesse.

17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall [f] weepe in secret for your pride, & mine eye shall weepe and droppe downe teares, because the Lords flocke is caried away captiue.

18 Say vnto the [g] King & to the Queen, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of [h] the South shall be shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall be caried away captiue: it shalbe wholy caried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the [i] flocke that was giuen thee, euen thy beautifull flocke?

21 What wilt thou say, when he shall visite thee? (for thou hast [k] taught them to be captaines and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorowe take thee as a woman in trauaile?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon mee? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts [l] discouered and thy heeles made bare.

23 Can the blacke Moze change his skinne or the leopard his spots? then may yee also doe good, that are accustomed to doe euill.

24 Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This is thy portion, and the parte of thy measures from mee, saith the Lorde, because thou hast forgotten mee, and trusted in lyes.

26 Therefore I haue also discouered thy skirts vpon thy face, [m] that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue seene thine adulteries, and thy [n] neyings, b Euery one of you shal be filled with spirituall drunkennes, and be without all knowledge to seeke how to helpe your selues,

THe woord of the Lorde that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the p dearth.

2 Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bin b brought to heauinesse vnto the ground, and the crie of Ierusalem goeth vp.

3 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and found no water: they returned with their vessels emptie: they were ashamed and confounded, and c couered their heads.

4 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and couered their heads.

5 Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsooke it, because there was no grasse.

6 And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, and drewe in their winde like d dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

7 f O Lord, though our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israel, the sauiour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a s stranger in the land, as one that passeth by to tarie for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as a h strong man that can not helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

10 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delighted to wander: they haue not refrained their feete, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but hee will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sinnes.

11 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, i Thou shalt not pray to do this people good.

12 When they fast, I will not heare their crie, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the k Prophets say vnto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The prophets prophesie lies in my Name: l I haue not sent them, neither did I commaund them, neither spake I vnto them, but they prophesied vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and vanity, and deceitfulnes of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophesie in my Name, whom I haue not sent, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whō these prophets doe prophesie shall be cast out in the streetes of Ierusalem because of the famine, and the sword, and there shall be none to bury them, both they and their wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednesse vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word vnto them, Let mine eyes drop downe l teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgine daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a sore grieuous plague.

18 For if I goe into the field, beholde the slaine with the sworde: and if I enter into the citie, beholde them that are sicke for hunger also: moreouer, the prophet also and the Priest goe a wandering m into a lande that they know not.

19 Hast thou vtterly reiected n Iudah, or hath thy soule abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten vs, that we cannot be healed? We looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 We o acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednesse, and the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

21 Doe not abhorre vs: for thy Names sake cast not downe the throne of thy glory: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the p vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue showres? is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore we will wait vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord would beare no prayer for the Iewes, 3 but threatneth to destroy them with foure plagues.

THen sayd the Lord vnto mee, a Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet mine affection could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shall we depart? then tell them, Thus sayth the Lorde, * Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine, to the famine: and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I will appoint ouer them foure kindes, saith the Lord, the sword to slay, and the b dogs to teare in pieces, and the foules of the heauen, and the beasts of the earth to deuoure, and to destroy.

4 I wil c scatter them also in al kingdoms

l The false prophets promised peace and assurance, but Ieremiah calleth to teares and repentance for their affliction, which is at hand, as Chap. 9.1. Lam. 1.16. and 2.18.

m Both hie and lowe shalbe led captiues into Babylon.

n Though the Prophet knewe that God had cast off the multitude which were hypocrites and bastard children, yet hee was assured that for his promise sake hee would haue still a Church for the which he praieth.

5 Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem? or who shalbe sorie for thee? or who shall go to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hande against thee, and destroy thee: for I e am weary with repenting.

7 And I will scatter them with the fan in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, and destroyed my people, yet they would not returne from their wayes.

8 Their widowes f are increased by me aboue the sand of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, and against the g assembly of the yong men a destroyer at noone day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them, and the citie suddenly, and h speedily.

9 She that hath borne i seuen, hath bene made weake: her heart hath failed: the sunne hath failen k her, whiles it was day: she hath bene confounded, and ashamed, and the residue of them will I deliuer vnto the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 l Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, and a man that striueth with the whole earth: I haue neither m lent on vsury, nor men haue lent vnto me on vsury: yet euery one doth curse me.

11 The Lord said, n Surely thy remnant shall haue wealth: surely I will cause thine enemy to entreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall the o yron breake the yron, and the wasse that commeth from the North?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I giue to be spoyled without p gaine, and that for all thy sinnes, euen in all thy borders.

14 And I wil make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shal burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visit me, and reuenge me of my q persecuters: take me not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy sake I haue suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found by me, and I did r eate them, and thy word was vnto me the ioy and reioycing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon me, O Lorde God of hosts.

17 I sate not in the assembly of the mockers, neither did I reioyce, but sate alone s because of thy plague: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heauinesse continuall? and my plague desperate and cannot be healed? why art thou vnto me t as a lyar, and as waters that faile?

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou t returne, then will I bring thee againe, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take away the u precious from the vile, thou shalt be x according to my word: let them returne v vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

20 And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brasen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not y preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to saue thee and to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeeme thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

m Which is an occasion of contention and hatred.

n In this perplexitie the Lord comforted me, and sayd that my last dayes should be quiet: and by the enemie hee meaneth beere, Nebuzar-dan the captaine of Nebuchad-nezzar, who gaue Ieremiah the choise either to remaine in his countrey, or to goe whither hee would: or by the enemie he meaneth the Iewes, which should afterward know Ieremias fidelitie, and therefore fauour him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The Lords forbidding Ieremiah to marrie, sheweth him what should be the afflictions vpon Iudah. 13 The captiuitie of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

THe word of the Lord came also vnto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take b thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,

4 They shal die of deadly diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dung vpon the earth, and they shall bee consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carkeises shall bee meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus sayeth the Lord, c Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor bee mooued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, sayeth the Lord, euen mercie and compassion.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, d nor cut themselues, nor make themselues bald for them.

7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they giue them the e cup of consolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting to sitte with them to eate and to drinke.

9 For thus sayeth the Lorde of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your dayes the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegroome and the voyce of the bride.

13 Therefore will I driue you out of this land into a lande that ye knowe not, neither you, nor your fathers, and there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I will shewe you no grace.

14 *Beholde therefore, saith the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more bee saide, The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

15 But, The Lord liueth, that brought vp the children of Israel from the lande of the North, and from all the lands where he had scattred them, & I will bring them again into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.

16 Beholde, saith the Lord, I will send out many fishers, & they shal fish them, & after will I send out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from euery mountaine and from euery hil, and out of the caues of the rockes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my lande, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthy [h] carions and their abominations.

19 O Lorde, thou art my [i] force, and my strength and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shal come vnto thee from the ends of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited [k] lies, and vanitie, wherein there was no profite.

18 Let them be confounded, that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: bring vpon them the day of aduersitie, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Go and stand in the r gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem, 20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, ye kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heede to your soules, and beare no burthen in the s Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem, 22 Neither carry foorth burthens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither do yee any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their necks stiffe and would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuertheles, if ye will heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burthen through the gates of the citie in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, to doe no worke therein,

25 Then shal the Kings and the Princes enter in by the gates of this citie, and shal sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and shal ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both they and their Princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem: and this citie shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shal come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the lande of Beniamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, and from the South, which shall bring burnt offrings and sacrifices, and meate offerings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burthen nor to goe through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then wil I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not bee quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the despisers of his word. 18 The conspiracie of the Iewes against Ieremiah. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

THe word which came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise and goe downe into the potters house, and there shal I shew thee my words.

3 Then went I downe to the potters house, and behold, hee wrought a worke on the wheeles.

4 And the vessell that he made of a clay, was broken in the hand of the potter: so hee returned, and made it another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this potter, saith the Lorde? beholde, as the clay is in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation or against a kingdom to plucke it vp, and to roote it out, and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will b repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it do euil in my sight, and heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to do for them.

11 Speake thou nowe therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, Behold I prepare a plague for you, & purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euery one from his euil way, and make your ways and your workes good.

12 But they said c desperately, Surely we will walke after our owne imaginations, and doe euery man after the stubburnnesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Aske nowe among the heathen, who hath heard such things? the virgine of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which commeth from the rocke of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to vanitie, & their prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the d ancient wayes, to walke in the paths and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate & a perpetuall derision, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and wagge his head.

17 I will scatter them with an East winde before the enemy: I will shewe them the backe, and e not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then said they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Ieremiah: for the Lawe f shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the worde from the Prophete: come, and let vs smite a As the potter hath power ouer the clay to make what pot he will, or to breake them when he hath made them: so haue I power ouer you to do with you as seemeth good to me, Isa. 45.9. wisdom, 15.7. rom. 9.20. 21.

b When the Scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doeth contrary to that which hee hath ordeined in his secret counsell: but when he threatneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatning (which euer containeth a condition in it) taketh no place: and this the Scripture calleth repentance in God, because it so appeareth to mans iudgement.

c As men that had no remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion and to their owne selfe-will.

d As no man that hath thirst, refuseth fresh conduit waters which he hath at home, to goe and seeke waters abroad to quench his thirst: so they ought not to seeke for helpe and succour at strangers, and leaue God, which was present with them.

e That is, the way of trueth, which God had taught by his Lawe, reade Chapter 6.16.

f I will shewe mine anger, and not my fauour toward them.

g This argument the wicked haue euer vsed against the seruants of God, The Church cannot erre: wee are the Church, and therefore whosoeuer speaketh against vs, they ought to die, 1. Kings 22.24. chapter 7.4. and 20.2. malachi 2.4. and thus the false Church persecuteth the true Church, which standeth not in outwarde pompe, and in multitude, but is knowen by the graces of the holy Ghost.

him

him with the [b] tongue, and let vs not giue heede to any of his words.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lorde, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stoode before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore [i] deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sworde, & let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbandes bee put to death, and let their yong men bee slaine by the sworde in the battell.

22 Let the crie bee heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feete.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me tendeth to death: forgiue not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

He propheseth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

THus sayd the Lorde, Goe, and buy an earthen bottell of a potter, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And go forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entry of the [j] East gate: and thou shalt preach there the words, that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare ye the word of the Lord, O [a] Kings of Iudah, & inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whosoeuer heareth, his eares shall [b] tingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken mee, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whome neither they, nor their fathers haue knowen, nor the kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also) with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I [c] commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind)

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that this place shall no more be called [d] Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsel of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sworde before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeises will I giue to be meate for the foules of the heauen, and to the beasts of the field.

8 * And I will make this citie desolate and an hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shalbe astonished and hisse because of all the plagues thereof.

9 * And I will feede them with the flesh of their sonnes and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friende in the siege and straitnesse, where with their enemies, that seeke their liues, shall hold them strait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, euen, so will I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a [a] potters vessell, that cannot bee made whole againe, and they shall bury them in Topheth till there be no place to burie.

12 Thus will I do vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this citie like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the kings of Iudah bee defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the [e] houses vpon whose rookes they haue burnt incense vnto all the hoste of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiah from Topheth, where the Lorde had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this city, and vpon all her townes, al the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their necks, and would not heare my words.

CHAP. XX.

Ieremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. 3 Hee propheseth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the word of God. 9 Hee is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

WHen Pashur, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Ieremiah propheseied these things,

2 Then Pashur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the [a] stockes that were in the high gate of Beniamin which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashur brought Ieremiah out of the stocks. Then said Ieremiah vnto him, the Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but [f] Magor-missabib.

4 For thus sayth the Lorde, Behold, I will make thee to be a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friendes, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall cary them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreouer, I will deliuer al the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the king of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and cary them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that [b] dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt bee buried there, thou and all thy [b] friendes, to whome thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lord thou hast deceiued mee, and I am c deceiued: thou art stronger then I, and hast d preuailed: I am in derision dayly: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out of wrong, and proclaimed e desolation: therefore the worde of the Lorde was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision dayly.

9 Then I sayd, I will not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the railing of many, and feare on euery side. f Declare, sayd they, and wee will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may bee that he is deceiued: so wee shall preuaile against him, and wee shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 g But the Lord is with me like a mightie gyant: therefore my persecuters shall be ouerthrowen, and shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded: for they haue done vnwisely, and their euerlasting shame shal neuer be forgotten.

12 h But, O Lord of hosts, that triest the righteous, and seest the reines & the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for hee hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

14 i Cursed be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man, that shewed my father, saying, A man child is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man bee as the k cities, which the Lord hath ouerturned and repented not: and let him heare the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noontide,

17 Because he hath not slaine mee, euen from the wombe, or that my mother might haue bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetuall l conception.

18 Howe is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorowe, that my dayes should be consumed with shame?

c Herein apeareth the impaciencie which oftentimes ouercommeth the seruants of God, when they see not their labours to profit, and also feele their owne weakenesse, read Chap. 15.18.

d Thou diddest thrust me forth to this worke against my will.

e He sheweth that he did his office in that he reproued the people of their vices, and threatned them with Gods iudgements: but because he was derided and persecuted for this, he was discouraged and thought to haue ceased to preach, saue that Gods spirit did force him thereunto.

f Thus the enemies conferred together to know what they had heard him say, that they might accuse him thereof, reade Ier. 29.21.

g Here he sheweth how his faith did striue against tentation, and sought to the Lord for strength.

CHAP. XXI.

Hee propheseth that Zedekiah shall bee taken, and the citie burned.

THe worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lorde, when king Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashur, the sonne of Malchiah, and Zephaniah, the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, saying,

2 a Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs (for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wonderous workes, that hee may returne vp from vs.

3 Then sayd Ieremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Beholde, I will b turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the King of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, and I wil assemble them into the middes of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hande, and with a mightie arme, euen in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, both man and beast: they shal die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, sayeth the Lord, I wil deliuer Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this city, from the pestilence, from the swoorde, and from the famine, into the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sworde: he shall not spare them, neither haue pity nor compassion.

8 c And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I set before you the d way of life, and the way of death.

9 e He that abideth in this citie, shal die by the sworde, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a f pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie, for euill & not for good, sayeth the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hande of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

11 c And say vnto the house of the king of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

12 O house of Dauid, thus saith the Lord, g Execute iudgement in the morning, and deliuer the oppressed out of the hande of the oppressor, lest my wrath goe out like fire and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your workes.

13 Behold, I come against thee, h O inhabitant of the valley, and rocke of the plaine, sayeth the Lord, which say, Who shall come downe against vs? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will visite you according to the fruite of your workes, sayeth the Lorde, and I wil kindle a fire i in the forest thereof, and it shall deuoure round about it.

2 He exhorteth the king to iudgement and righteousnesse. 9 Why Ierusalem is brought into captiuitie. 11 The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is propheseid.

O King of Iudah, that sittest vpon ᵍ the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, & thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the Lorde, ᵃ Execute yee iudgement and ᵏ righteousnesse, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and vexe not the stranger, the fatherlesse nor the widow: doe no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if yee doe this thing, then shall the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this House, ᵇ and ride vpon chariots, and vpon horses, both he and his seruants and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare these words, I ᵇ sweare by my selfe, saith the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vpon the Kings house of Iudah, Thou art ᶜ Gilead vnto mee & the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wildernesse, & as cities not inhabited,

7 And I wil ᵈ prepare destroiers against thee, euery one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe ᵉ cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 ᶠ And many nations shall passe by this city, and they shal say euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lorde done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shal they answere, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods and serued them.

10 ¶ Weepe not for the dead, and be not mooued for them, but weepe for him ᵍ that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his native countrey.

11 For thus saith the Lorde, as touching ʰ Shallum the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither, 12 But hee shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Woe vnto him that buildeth his house ⁱ vnrighteousnes, and his chambers without equitie: he vseth his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so he will make himselfe large windowes, and seeling with cedar, and paint them with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou closest thy selfe in cedar? did not thy ᵏ father eate and drinke and prosper, when he executed iudgement and iustice?

16 Then hee iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but onely for thy couetousnes, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, euen to do this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, They shall ˡ not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or Ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or Ah, his glory.

19 He shall be buried as an asse ᵐ is buried, euen drawen and cast foorth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 ¶ Go vp to ⁿ Lebanon, & cry: shoute in ᵒ Bashan and cry by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saidest, I will not heare: this hath bene thy maner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wind shall feed all thy pastours, ᵖ and thy louers shall go into captiuitie: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the ᵠ cedars, how beautifull shalt thou bee when sorrowes come vpon thee, as the sorrow of a woman in trauel?

24 As I liue, saith the Lord, though Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to cary thee away, and thy mother that bare thee into another country, where ye were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land, whereunto they desire to returne, they shal not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idole or as a dessel, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, he and his seede, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 ¶ O earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lorde, Write this ʳ man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seed that shal prosper and sit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

p Both thy gouernours & they that should helpe thee, shall vanish away as winde.
q Thou that art built of the faire cedar trees of Lebanon.
r Who was called Iehoiachin or Ieconiah, whom he calleth here Coniah in contempe, who thought his kingdome could neuer depart from him, because hee came of the stocke of Dauid, and therefore, for the promise sake, could not bee taken from his house: but hee abused Gods promise, iustly deprived of the kingdome. s He sheweth that all posterities shalbe witnesses of this iust plague, as though it were registred for perpetuall memory. t Not that he had no children (for after hee begate Salathiel in the captiuitie, Matth. 1, 12.) but that none should reigne after him as King.

1 Against false pastors. 5 A prophesie of the great pastour Iesu Christ.

people, Yee haue scattred my flocke & thrust them out, and haue not visited them: behold, I will visite you for the wickednesse of your workes, saith the Lord.

3 And I wil gather the d remnant of my sheepe out of all countreys, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their folds, and they shal grow and increase.

4 And I will set vp shepeheards ouer them, which shall feede them: and they shall dread no more nor be afraid, neither shal any of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I will raise vnto Dauid a righteous e branch, & a king shall reigne, and prosper, and shall execute iudgement, and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shalbe saued, and f Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name wherby they shall call him, g The Lord our righteousnes.

7 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The f Lorde liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

8 But the Lord liueth, which brought vp and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North countrey and from all countreys where I had scattred them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the h prophetes, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whom wine hath ouercome) for the presence of the Lord, and for his holy words.

10 For the land is full of aduulterers, and because of othes the lande mourneth, i pleasant places of the wilderneſſe are dried vp, and their k course is euill, and their force is not right.

11 For both the prophet and the priest l do wickedly: & their wickednes haue I found in mine l house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherfore their way shal be vnto them as slippery wayes in the darknes: they shalbe driuen foorth and fal therein: for I wil bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnes in the prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the prophetes of Ierusalem k filthines: they commit adulterie and walke in lies: they strengthen also the handes of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are all vnto l me as Sodom, and the inhabitants therof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophetes, Behold, I will feede them with m wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is i wickednes gone foorth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Heare not the words of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne n heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye shal haue peace, and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbornnes of his owne heart, No euil shall come vpon you.

18 For o who hath stood in the counsell of the Lord that hee hath perceiued and heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goeth foorth in his wrath, and a violent whirlewind shal fal downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shal not returne vntil he haue executed, and till hee haue performed the thoughes of his heart: in the latter dayes ye q shall vnderstand it plainly.

21 *I haue not sent these prophetes, saith the Lord, yet they ran: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stoode in my counsell, and r had declared my wordes to my people, then they should haue turned them frō their euil way, and from the wickednesse of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, saith the Lorde, and not a God s farre off?

24 Can any hide himself in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Do not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophets said, that prophesie lies in my Name, saying, I t haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? ‡ Do the prophets delite to prophesie lies, euen prophesying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause u my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tel euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him x tell a dreame, & hee that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: y what is the chaffe to the wheate, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, saith the Lord? and like a hammer that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore behold I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that z steale my word euery one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I wil come against ‖ prophets, saith the Lorde, which haue sweete tongues, and say, a He saith.

32 Behold, I wil come against them that prophesie false dreames, saith the Lord, and doe tel them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the b burden of the Lorde? thou shalt then

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 The vision of the baskets of figs, 5 signifieth that part of the people should be brought againe from captiuitie, 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be cursed away.

THe Lorde shewed mee, and beholde, two [a] baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lorde, after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had caried away captiue Iechoniah, the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, & the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figges, euen like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so euil.

3 Then said the Lord vnto mee, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs: the good figs very good, and the naughtie very naughtie, which cannot be eaten, they are so euil.

4 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lorde, the God of Israel, Like these good figges, so will I know them, that are caried away captiue of Iudah to bee good, whom I haue sent out of this [b] place into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I will set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this land, and I will build them, and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not roote them out,

7 And I will giue them [c] an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shal be my [*] people, and I wil be their God: For they shall returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 [*] And as the naughtie figges which cannot be eaten, they are so euil (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I giue Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this land, and them that dwell [d] in the lande of Egypt:

9 I will euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproch, and for a prouerbe, for a common talk, and for a curse, in al places, where I shall cast them.

27 Therefore ſay thou vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Drinke and be drunken, and ſpew and fall, and riſe no more, becauſe of the ſword, which I will ſend among you.

28 ¶ But if they refuſe to take the cup at thine hand to drinke, then tell them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Ye ſhall certainely drinke.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the [x] citie, where my Name is called vpon, and ſhould you go free? Ye ſhall not go quite: for I will call for a ſworde vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

6 Then will I make this House like d Shiloh, and will make this citie e a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had made an ende of speaking all that the Lord had commaunded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and sayd, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in f name of the Lord, saying, This g House shalbe like Shiloh, and this citie shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the House of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah heard of these things, that came vp from the kings house into the House of the Lord, and sate downe in the entry of the h new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests and the Prophets vnto the princes, and to all the people, saying, ‡ This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands: doe with me as ye thinke good and right.

15 But knowe ye for certaine, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a trueth the Lord hath sent me vnto you to speake all these words in your eares.

16 Then said the princes and all the people vnto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for hee hath spoken to vs in the Name of the Lorde our God.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lorde, one Uriiah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kiriath-iarim, who prophesied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Jehoiakim the king with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the King sought to slay him. But when Uriiah heard it, he was afrayd, and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Jehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, euen Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Uriiah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Jehoiakim the King, who slew him with the sword, and m cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, the same nation wil I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your inchanters, nor your sorcerers, which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the king of Babel.

10 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to goe farre from your lande, and that I should cast you out, and you shoulde perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him, those wil I let remaine stil in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah king of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the king of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the words of the prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, Ye shall not serue the King of Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not f sent them, saith the Lorde, yet they prophesie a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priestes, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your Prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the House of the Lord shal now shortly be f brought againe from Babel, for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the king of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore shoulde this citie be desolate?

18 But if they bee Prophetes, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them intreate the Lorde of hostes, that the vessels which are left in the house of the Lorde, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, go not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke not, when he carried away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah from Ierusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Iudah and Ierusalem.

21 For thus saieth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the House of the Lorde, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, 22 They shall bee brought to Babel, and there they shal be vntil the day that I visite them, saith the Lorde: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

1 The false prophesie of Hananiah. 12 Ieremiah reproueth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

AND that same yeere, in the beginning of the a reigne of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the b fourth yeere, and in the fifth moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the Prophet, which was of c Gibeon, spake to mee in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and sayd,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the king of Babel.

3 ‡ Within two yeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lordes house, that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke away from this place, and carried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, with al them that were caried away captine of Iudah, e went into Babel, saieth the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah sayd vnto the d prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, & in the presence of al the people that stood in the house of the Lord,

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah sayd, So be it: the e Lord so doe, the Lord confirme thy words which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lords house, and all that is caried captiue from Babel, into this place.

7 But heare thou now this word that I will speake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before me and before thee in time past, f prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the worde of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee knowen that the Lord hath truely sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Jeremiah) ſaying, 13 Goe, and tell Hananiah, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lord, Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood, but thou ſhalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, I haue put [h] yoke of yron vpon the necke of all theſe nations, that they may ſerue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they ſhall ſerue him, and I haue giuen him the [i] beaſtes of the fielde alſo.

15 Then ſaid the Prophet Jeremiah vnto the prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lorde hath not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lie.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde, Behold, I wil caſt thee from off the earth: this yeere thou ſhalt die, becauſe thou haſt ſpoken rebelliouſly againſt the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the prophet [k] died the ſame yeere in the ſeuenth moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 Hee propheſieth their returne after ſeuentie yeeres. 16 He propheſieth the deſtruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Jeruſalem. 31 Hee threatneth the prophets that ſeduce the people. 25 The death of Shemaiah is propheſied.

NOwe theſe are the wordes of the [l] booke that Jeremiah the Prophet ſent from Jeruſalem vnto [a] the reſidue of the Elders which were caried away captiues, and to the Prieſtes, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Jeruſalem to Babel:

2 (After that Jeconiah the King, and the [b] Queene, and the Eunuches, the [c] princes of Judah, and of Jeruſalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Jeruſalem)

3 By the hande of Elaſah the ſonne of Shaphan, and Gemariah the ſonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah [d] ſent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) ſaying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hoſts the God of Iſrael ſpoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whom I haue [e] cauſed to be caried away captiues from Jeruſalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houſes to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eate the fruits of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget ſonnes and daughters: and take wiues for your ſonnes, and giue your daughters to husbands, that they may beare ſonnes and daughters, that yee may bee increaſed there, and not diminiſhed.

7 And ſeeke the proſperitie of the citie, whither I haue cauſed you to bee caried away captiues, and [f] pray vnto the Lorde for it: for in the peace thereof ſhall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus ſayth the Lord of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Let not your prophets and your ſoothſayers that be among you, deceiue you, neither giue care to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they propheſie you a lye in my Name: I haue not ſent them, ſayeth the Lord.

10 But thus ſayth the Lorde, That after ſeuenty yeeres bee accompliſhed at Babel, I will viſite you, and performe my good promiſe toward you, and cauſe you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts, that I haue thought towards you, ſayth the Lorde, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an ende, and your hope.

12 Then ſhall you cry vnto mee, and yee ſhall goe and pray vnto me, and I will heare you,

13 And you ſhall ſeeke mee, and finde mee, becauſe yee ſhall ſeeke mee with all [g] your heart,

14 And I will be found of you, ſayth the Lorde, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations, & from all the places, whither I haue caſt you, ſaith the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I cauſed you to be caried away captiue.

15 ¶ Becauſe yee haue ſaide, The Lorde hath rayſed vs vp [i] prophets in Babel,

16 Therefore thus ſayth the Lorde of the king, that ſitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus ſayth the Lord of hoſts, Behold, I will ſende vpon them the [m] ſword, the famine, and the peſtilence, and will make them like vile [n] figges, that cannot be eaten, they are ſo naughty.

18 And I will perſecute them with the ſword, with the famine, and with the peſtilence: and I will make them a terrour to all kingdomes of the earth, and [k] a curſe, and aſtoniſhment and an hiſſing, and a reproch among all the nations whither I haue caſt them,

19 Becauſe they haue not heard my wordes, ſayeth the Lorde, which I ſent vnto them by my ſeruants the Prophets, [l] riſing vp early, and ſending them, but ye would not heare, ſayeth the Lord.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the worde of the Lorde all yee of the captiuitie, whome I haue ſent from Jeruſalem to Babel.
